Great Unrest Caused By Dismissals and Successful Appeals.

STREET MORALITY.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Although the London policeman may not be in actual danger of losing his world wide reputation for civility and good nature, coupled with quick and firm action when required, nevertheless the public is gravely disturbed over the matter of police prosecutions being dismissed, or quashed on appeal if convictions are recorded, more especially in the cases of alleged offences against street morality. The Bow Street police magistrate on Saturday dismissed the fifth case of this kind in little more than a week.

Sir William Joynson Hicks, Home Secretary, has called for a report on the matter and he will confer with Sir William Horwood, Metropolitan Police Commissioner, in connection therewith.

What originally aroused general uneasiness in the public mind was the successful appeals of prominent men of means against convictions on charges of violating street morality. It has been pointed out that an appeal from a conviction by a police magistrate costs from £30 to £300, and this obviously debars a poor person from appealing, although smoldering under what he regards as gross injustice.

BOND SELLERS GIVEN BANQUET

they arrive at camp are given biscuits and milk or bread and milk. They then play in the park until 12.30, when a good hat dinner is served. The dinner consists of the best of stewed meat, vegetables and milk pudding. The children are given all they can eat and then every child must rest one hour. At 3 o'clock they all have a swim in the pool provided by the Kiwanis Club. At five p.m. there is the general round-up, when bread and milk or biscuits and milk are again served and the buses then take them home.

Dr. Cameron, in closing, asked the girls to put forward a special effort to sell the bonds as the Health Association had a big work to do and the Kiwanis Club were helping them to accomplish it.

Attorneys for one of the parties in a recent divorce suit in Hastings, Neb., had to interrupt their client before answering a question put to her. Up to the point of interruption her answer contained 4,800 words with no indication that it was about to be concluded.

INSECT ROMEO IS AN ARDENT WOOER

Lowly Creatures Make Love By Gifts, Perfumes, Songs and Mad Dances.

When a young man gives his best girl a box of candy to show his affection, is he making love as only mankind knows how, or are similar courtships practised by the animals, birds and insects?

Professor Julian Sorell Huxley of Oxford University, has started a vigorous debate among naturalists by telling the British Association for the Advancement of Science that he has seen lowly forms of animal life dance, sing, pose, and give presents, as part of complicated love affairs.

In many ways these courtships are astonishingly like human conduct, writes Elwell Crissey in the September "Popular Science Monthly." Some insects described by Professor Huxley use delicate flower and fruit perfumes to make themselves appealing. Many birds and animals, and even some reptiles, sing love songs to their mates. And dancing is a favorite way among the insects of showing deep affection.

Professor Huxley described how he had watched male hunting spiders go through a series of complicated dances in front of their sweethearts. On approaching his mate, one lover was seen to hump himself up on one side and crouch on the other by doubling his legs. In this ridiculous posture he sidled rapidly around in front of Miss Spider, then suddenly reversed and went the other way. He circled nearer and nearer. At last, apparently won by the demonstration, she rushed toward him. The swain held her off by his forelegs, slowly retreated, and started circling all over again. More than 100 circles were counted before the two joined for a last mad whirl, round and round in one spot.

The web-spinning spider, on the other hand, comes up to the web of his ladylove, much as any modern Romeo might come to the balcony of his Juliet. Instead of strumming a ukulele, though, he strokes a thread of the net, setting up peculiar vibrations which the lady spider recognizes.

One kind of hunting spider entices his mate by offering her a choice fly neatly wrapped in silk. This same instinct of giving presents, which figures so largely in human courtships, appears also in the carnivorous flies, 'empidae.' The male of this species makes a flower bouquet for his love. First he blows up a ball of bubbles from a viscous fluid which he secretes, then he attaches it to his legs, and sticks a flower petal or a little leaf in it.

Butterflies and moths employ perfumery to make themselves attractive to their own kind. The white powder on the wings of the male garden white butterfly smells delicately of balsam or lemon. Some butterflies have even rose perfume.

Jarflies, crickets and grasshoppers send their love calls far and wide loudly fiddling their wings over their legs.

EXPLAINS FRENZY OF HERO WORSHIP

Noted Psychologist Tells Why We Idolize Aviators, Athletes and Movie Stars.

Why did Charles Lindbergh stir two continents to the wildest frenzy of hero worship ever accorded a single human being? Why do we mob motion picture stars, go mad over the first woman channel swimmer and idolize baseball celebrities and boxing champions? Why did hero worship erupt tumultuously at the death of Valentino, while the simultaneous passing of a great educator like Charles W. Eliot attract only meager interest? Why, for that matter, did thousands cluster on the street corners of New York just to watch the passing of a condemned murderess on her way to Sing Sing; and why did other crowds fight their way into the court rooms to catch a glimpse of Ruth Snyder or "Peaches" Browning on the witness stand?

The fundamental explanation is really the same in each case, writes Dr. A. A. Brill, one of America's foremost psychologists, in the September "Popular Science Monthly." Whether we are cheering Lindbergh or gossiping about "Peaches," it is the cave man speaking within us. In these popular obsessions with some personality of the hour, man's primitive self is bursting through the restraints of modern civilization. The violent energies of sex and of beliggerency—the great appetites for pleasure, power and immortality—thus find outlet.

At a boxing match, for example, we are all, for the moment, such unbalanced hero worshippers that we call upon our favorite to kill his opponent; and the group hysteria around us gives social approval to our demands for gore. This is the savage ancestor within us. In tens of thousands of years man's physical structure has not perceptibly altered, but n a few thousand years his mode of living has changed materially. Instead of a jungle cave he now has a cozy fire side, police to protect him, a corner grocery store to furnish food. But he has the same nerves, the same glands, the same muscles and internal organs as the cave man; and he still has the same reserves of energy seeking outlet through them. To-day we can't go around fighting our neighbors, stealing their women and slaughtering animals. But the unchanged savage within us wants to. We find an outlet for these primitive instincts by going to the movies, the football games, the murder trials nad prizefights. By identifying ourselves with the actors in these public spectacles we secure an emotional outlet for our own repressed energies.

In every case of hero worship the fundamental explanation is the identification of ourselves with another who succeeds in doing something we want to do, either consciously or unconsciously. Thus, when Lindbergh, fighting nature alone, flew across the Atlantic, each of us felt vaguely as if we had come through with him, and pulled off a feat of unique courage. In celebrating his success we were figuratively patting ourselves on the back as well; and less fancifully we were glorying because one of us had succeeded.

In Abyssinia, a telephone message must first be written and handed to the operator, who, in turn, shouts it into the transmitter, no one else being permitted to use the instrument.

DISTRICT CHURCHES

Marmora Churches.

MARMORA, Oct. 4. — Harvest thanksgiving services were held in the Anglican parish of Marmora on Sunday, services being as follows:

St. Pauls: Holy communion, 8 a. m., Morning prayer and sermon ,11 a.m.

Holy Trinity: Evensong and sermon, 2.30 p.m.

Deloro hall: Evensong and sermon, 7.30 p.m.

The celebration of Holy Communion was taken by the rector, Rev. A. B. Caldwell, who also assisted at Deloro. The preacher at all services was the Rev. C. E. Clarke, M.A. of Christ church, Belleville.

St. Paul's was profusely decorated for the occasion with beautiful flowers and foliage, and a good variety of vegetables and fruits. At the 11 a. m. service a goodly congregation joined most heartily in the singing of appropriate hymns. The strengthened choir was heard to good effect in the two anthems "While the Earth Remaineth," Maunder), and W. K. E. Vincent's setting of Kipling's Recessional. An impressive sermon was preached by Rev. C. E. Clarke on parts of the 11th and 18th verses of Deut. 8 "Beware lest thou forget. Thou shalt remember." The reverend gentleman having traced Israel's journey from Egypt to the promised land, dwelt on the matter of their forgetfulness and mentioned that easy as it was to forget then, easy is it to forget now. Particularly easy for us to forget in the times when we are comfortable. The erection of war memorials are fingers pointing back to the wonder of Canada in the days of the Great War. The preacher next gave a graphic portrayal of the life of John Newton who in his diary in the days before his conversion wrote such entries as these: "All this I forgot I forgot this." After his conversion and ordination he wrote over the mantelpiece in his study "Thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee." Continuing Mr. Clarke reminded the congregation that their presence was the evidence that they wished to make an act of remembrance of God's goodness. It is so easy, he repeated, to forget in the comfortable surroundings of our modern life. Though Canada has prospered so in the last decade we are less thankful on the whole than our people of 25 years ago. In the world we find people who do not feel the need of another world or of God; so in coming to church we are trying to get away from that lethargy. If any people should remember the goodness of God we should. To come once a year is not enough. He, the preacher, believed that we ought to keep alive in our memories, a sense of the goodness of God, and that is possible by coming once a Sunday, and on bended knee in church, pour out our thanks Concluding words were: "If He gave us what we deserve would He give us much? The finest soul is that that has a capacity for remembrance. A man's memory is the man himself.

Rev. Mr. Clarke also gave a short talk to the teachers and scholars at St. Paul's Sunday school.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

POLICE ARREST BROKER'S STAFF

Raid Office of Toronto Securities Company at London.

BOOKS ARE SEIZED.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 4 (Canadian Press). — The Toronto Securities Company was raided today and the manager and five salesmen taken into custody. The raid on the company's offices was conducted by Provincial, County, and City Police. All documents, books, and other records were taken from the office and taken to the Crown Attorney's office. Details of the company's many transactions are lacking as yet, pending examination of the books and records.

Books Being Searched

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (Canadian Press).—The activities of the Toronto Securities Company here are under investigation by the Ontario Provincial Police. Inspector Stringer, with several auditors, is going over the books of the concern whose offices are in the downtown financial section. The investigation follows upon statements recently made by the Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General, that the business of a number of brokerage concerns in the province would be probed by the department.

LONDON BUILT ON SANDY LAND

Empire Capitals's Site Dangerous, Building Collapse Shows.

CLAY SUB-SOIL.

LONDON, Oct. 4. — United Press. —Great Britain's capital, chief city of a nation said to be founded on solid rock, is built on sand, and this fact has been called to the attention of the public recently by collapse of the Commercial Union Assurance Company's building, in Cornhill, opposite the Royal Exchange, and in the heart of London's Wall Street district.

There was after the building collapsed a large cavity, and the surrounding buildings including the Royal Exchange were in danger of collapse also.

London is built on a cap of sandy loam or gravel over clay, beneath which is chalk. Solid rock is many hundreds of feet down.

Obviously skyscrapers are out of the question. Even as it is, for buildings 80 to 100 feet high, anything from 20 to 50 feet has to be dug out to reach the clay.

The clay-sand bed, however, has the advantage that it has enabled London to build its system of deep-level subway railways, probably the finest in the world. It is the clay under the gravel that has enabled London to develop these subways as no other city has.

Alarmists, viewing the Cornhill disaster, are recalling the old tradition that a city on sand is vainly built and will not stand. They say that such a loose surface as London's, which holds an amount of water that varies, draining off into every hole that is dug must be a little uncertain. It shrinks and expands and moves. And, therefore, these alarmists are asking what would happen to London if it were visited by a great earthquake.

Theoretically, they say, the city is without foundation at all in solid earth. One little shock, they add, would cause the city to fall like a deck of cards.

SINGER'S HOBBY.

of age, Mr. Johnston had no intention of making a profession of his singing, intending merely to use it as a means to help him through university, and for the pleasure of it. He began singing in an Episcopal church choir, and at the age of nineteen went to New York to see what the world's situation was. Arriving there, he found that he had something to sell and a ready market for it.

Since then he has travelled all over the world and in most of its countries, meeting, through the use of his talent, people to whom even the greatest riches cannot bring access. Singing for Queen Marie in Paris; meeting the Presidents of of South American Republic, being entertained at the Canadian Club in Washington by Honorable Vincent Massey and Lady Massey, and Sir Esme Howard and Lady Howard, who knew him when he played in Italy, under the Italian translation of his name, Edoardio De Givanni, is all in the natural course of events.

The great singer is making a particular hobby of encouraging the teaching of music in the schools. There are three types of person—the creator, the performer, and those who can appreciate, if nothing more. One great creator, such as Wagner, in this generation would send it down to posterity, and who knows that such might not be found in Canada, if encouraged. Music is one of the essentials of life. What is a parade without a band, the military march without its music, and even the wedding seems incomplete without music. And music gives a fine remuneration besides the pleasure to the performer. Musicians have their unions, some of them stronger than many a workmen's union, and enforce wage laws in a similar way.

Thus it is the great aim of the former Ontario lad, as he proudly declares himself to be, to interest others in the developing of musical talent in Ontario, if not as creators, then as performers or appreciators.

AT THE CAPITAL.

A musical treat awaits those fortunate enough to visit the Capitol Theatre this week and great credit is due to Manager Douglas Fletcher, and the local victrola dealers, who secured from Sunnyside Beach, Toronto, the musical marvel of the age, the Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola. This wonderful instrument without a doubt is the greatest contribution that science has yet made to the world of music, this being the only instrument that reproduces the entire musical range from the lowest vibrant note of the pipe organ to the shrill tremolo of the piccolo with a true natural tone that is almost uncanny, for one can easily close one's eyes and imagine that the artist or artists were on the stage hidden behind the huge replica of a Credenza model victrola, which is all that is visible to the audience.

Behind the scenes is "the heart" of the instrument, as here the music is taken from an ordinary Victor V.E. process record and amplified many times by means of an electrical system of amplification, using a multiplicity of vacuum tubes operating at extremely high voltages. If the full volume is released, music can and has been heard well over a mile away without impairing the marvellous quality in any way.

While this instrument is installed in the Capitol Theatre only with a view to entertain and to demonstrate the wonderful strides that have been made in recent years by the world's greatest students of musical reproduction, the possibilities of such an instrument, released for commercial purposes, are unlimited. Take, for instance, in public parks. The world music could be brought right to the door of everyone, particularly the poorer classes, who, while the yappreciate good music, unfortunately could not afford to attend the opera or concert even if the Philadelphia Symphony or other artists came to town.

In schools, masses of children could be taught musical appreciation and learn to understand and love good music. One could go on and on. Suffice to say that all the citizens of Peterborough should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the Orthophonic Victrola.

A DISTINCTIVE HOME OF ENGLISH DESIGN

By Warren & McDonnell, Architects

The distinctive effect of this English style home ranks it far above the average house of similar size and prize.

All rooms are of very good size and this fact, augmented by a roomy tiled vestibule, and a hall 8 ft. wide, gives an atmosphere of spaciousness rarely found in modern homes.

The living room is exceptionally pleasant. Notice how the doors and windows have been kept on the room's axis, and not placed in any haphazard fashion.

A pantry, lavishly equipped with built in cabinets, is located between the kitchen and dining room, thus preventing cookery odours penetrating to the latter.

The second floor plan is quite simple, and provides three fine bedrooms having clothes closets, a tiled bathroom, and a linen closet.

To allow for light and driveway purposes a 50 ft. lot would be desirable, for to the 21 ft. by 41 ft. of the house proper, the width of side verandah and terrace must be added.

This home would cost from $7,000 to $8,000.

Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the Architects direct. Address Messrs. Warren & McDonnell, Hamilton, Ontario.

RADIO MORE POPULAR NOW THAN AT ANY PREVIOUS TIME

Season Certain as Broadcasting steadily Improves

DIFFFERENT SETS

Standard Types Assure Purchaser of Splendid Results

From all appearances, radio is in for its biggest season on record. The great improvement in receiving sets and the development of broadcasting on a scale undreamed of a few years ago are the factors that assure the radio industry record-breaking business during the next few months.

Radio has passed through several preliminary phases into the status of a household necessity; a receiving set is no longer a wonderful toy or a luxury only to be enjoyed by the wealthy, but is rather a medium of education and entertainment available to almost every family.

Broadcasting has progressed so surprisingly in the past year or two that every outstanding event is brought into the homes of millions of set-owners all over the continent. The opening of the Peace Bridge by the Prince of Wales, the ceremonies at Ottawa in connection with Canada's Diamond Jubilee, the wonderful swimming marathon at Toronto, the great Tunney-Dempsey fight, to name a few of the big features of recent months, were described "on the air" by a hookup of many stations that carried the details around the world. This business of linking up a lot of broadcasting stations into one unit has revolutionized radio reception inasmuch as it ensures set-owners everywhere a chance to "listen in" on big features. Broadcasting programmes too have improved to a remarkable degree.

The best in music, in vaudeville, in speeches is to be heard through radio. As an example, one of New York's current stage successes is broadcast each week and thus Peterborough sat at home the other night and listened to Eddie Cantor and other stars in "Ziegfield's Follies."

All the famous concert singers, the stars of grand opera, celebrated violinists, such as Spalding and Zimbalist, great pianists, a whole flock of popular orchestras, the flower of vaudeville performers, the best of America's organists, all these are to be heard by the mere turning of a dial. Never has there been such a wealth of talent on the air as is available at the present time.

No wonder radio is becoming more and more popular.

The improvement in receiving sets makes the purchase of a radio a safe proposition. There are many makes on the market, each with distinctive features, but the beauty about the thing is that no matter what type is eventually sought the purchaser is assured of good results and an immense amount of fun and entertainment. Both receiving and broadcasting have been so improved that a customer is taking no chance in purchasing any standard make. He'll get enough out of any of them in a few nights to make him glad he invested in this modern magic that brings the cream of entertainment into his home.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persisent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Madoc and Elzevir Association Holds Annual Gathering.

MADOC, Oct. 4.—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Madoc and Elzevir Sunday school Association was held in Fox's Church, Eldorado, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, with a good attendance.

Nearly all the schools were represented. The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. J. M. White, pastor of Eldorado church, after which George West, President, of the Association took charge. For the children's division Mrs. E. Moore gave a very full and comprehensive report which was heartily commended by those present.

For the Boy's department, there was no report, Mr. Spencer being absent and no report sent in.

The girls' department was formerly under the charge of Mrs. Sexsmith Queensboro, now removed to another district. The report was given by Mrs. Sager. The home department report was given by Mrs. George Huffman.

The missionary department report was splendidly given by Mrs. George Harris, of Hazzards, who urged regular missionary Sundays.

Mrs. J. McCaffrey gave the temperance report and urged definite scientific teaching and the use of the temperance pledge, also that a secretary should be appointed in each Sunday school for the pledge signing.

The teacher training department was given by Mrs. R. Sager, but no training classes are reported.

Mrs. Blair reported for the Adult Bible Classes, only one school reporting no adult class.

A round table conference followed, led by Rev. Mr. Seymour, and dealt very comprehensively and effectively with such subjects as:

How to form and hold adult classes;
The home department go after the shut-ins, the lonely, those who cannot come.
The cradle roll—get all the babies enrolled.
Teacher training.
Missionary literature and books from a circulating library.
Temperance—urge pledge-signing.

The election of officers followed: President, George West, Madoc (re-elected); 1st vice Pres., Mrs. Fred Sager, Queensboro (re-elected); Secretary, Mr. Kinsolus, Hazzards (re-elected); Treasurer, Hart Rollins, Cooper (re-elected); Supt. Children's Dept., Mrs. E. Moore (re-elected); Supt. Boys' Dept., James Keene, Madoc; Supt. Girls' Div., Mrs. Parker, Queensboro; Supt. Missionary Dept., Mrs. G. Harris, Hazzards (re-elected); Supt. Temperance Dept., Mrs. J. McCaffery, Madoc, R.R. No. 2, (re-elected); Supt. Teacher Training, Rev. G. W. Rivers, Madoc; Home Department, Mrs. George Huffman; Supt. Adult Bible Class Dept., Mrs. Blair.

In discussing plans for next year's convention, the Rev. Mr. Rivers gave a very hearty invitation to the Association to meet in Trinity United church, Madoc next year, which on motion of Mr. Rollins, seconded by Mrs. George Harris was accepted.

It was decided to leave the forming of a Teacher Training class to a joint meeting of the superintendants and executive.

The session was then adjourned for supper, which was served in most bountiful style by the ladies of the church in the Sunday school rooms.

The evening session was taken charge of for the devotional exercises by Rev. G. W. Rivers, of Madoc, after which Mr. Rollins acted as chairman. The new officers were introduced and the chairman's address was very brief.

Rev. Mr. Parker, of Queensboro was then called on for an address on "Importance of Home Study," which he did by talking on the standpoint of the importance of the teacher's preparation of the lesson and the teacher's study of each individual pupil.

Music by the choir was well received, after which Rev. Mr. Seymour gave a very earnest talk to all on "The Three Doors—Home, School and Church." The three doors are ajar and no man can shut them. We are to enter in and take possession of the youth of the land, for God and His Service. He said: the home is to anchor the young life; the school is to teach correct religious point of view, to encourage the four-fold growth and to lead to a choice, the Church is for training in worship.

All were much stirred by the enthusiastic appeal and will no doubt go back to their classes to make good in many ways for the benefit of the children under their charge. Treasurer's report followed and report of the Resolutions Committee. Thanks were tendered to Church and Board for the use of the church, also the ladies for the dinner; the choir for the music; the speakers and all who had helped. Sympathy was expressed to Mrs. J. C. Moore and family for the loss of husband and father, who was an earnest Sunday school worker.

The strains of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" followed by the benediction closed the meeting.

CHIEF RECALLS WARNINGS GIVEN

Reminds Citizens That Dangers of Gasoline Have Been Pointed Out.

ALWAYS DANGEROUS.

The following comments on the disastrous gasoline explosion in Toronto are heartily endorsed by Fire Chief Gimblett, and he wishes to reiterate the warnings that he has brought to the attention of the public from time to time. The following article with its warnings, to the mind of the chief, cannot be overemphasized:

In the hope of preventing any repetition of the gasoline disaster which resulted in the wrecking of the home of Charles R. House on Douglas Drive, and the death of three persons on Saturday afternoon, E. P. Heaton, Ontario Fire Marshal, is planning an educational campaign directed at the public in general. At the same time he feels there should not be any necessity for such a campaign in view of the frequent warnings which have been given, and the minor accidents which have resulted from the use of this inflammable liquid. One gallon of gasoline he points out, has substantially the same explosive power as 83 pounds of dynamite, and inquiry has brought out the fact that on Saturday afternoon Mr. House took several gallons to his home.

"Apparently the public mind is so difficult to reach that we must make a special drive against gasoline, a simplified direct campaign that will reach every person in the province," Mr. Heaton said yesterday. "The Rosedale disaster will be a warning. The pity is that the public mind should be so careless towards fire and explosion hazards so terrible an example is necessary to arouse it."

Warning Broadcast.

Mr. Heaton added that tens of thousands of illustrated booklets, dealing with the hazards, were distributed at the Exhibition. Definite paragraphs under the heading "Do You Know?" and referring to gasoline read as follows:

"That where gasoline is used for cleaning purposes it should be kept in a small approved self-closing can?

"That gasoline vapor is three times heavier than air and will float near the ground or drop to the basement like an invisible stream, and and under favorable conditions will ignite from a spark or flame?

"That the number of fires caused by the careless handling of gasoline and coal oil in Ontario last year was 323, and that the loss amounted to $309,286?"

George F. Lewis, Deputy Fire Marshal, in recalling that gasoline was three times heavier than air, pointed out that the fumes would find the lowest portion of a room, and that accordingly favorable conditions in the room would bring about an explosion. Ignition need not necessarily come from a spark or flame as it might be caused by static. Ontario had produced a number of illustrations where gasoline explosions had occurred because rectifying processes had refined the gasoline until it had become exceedingly volatile. Xyol, the name given gasoline, used as a solvent for rubber, would ignite at 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Always Dangerous.

It is always dangerous to use gasoline for cleaning purposes, according to the opinion of expert chemists. They state that when it is used in washing machines in poorly ventilated roms and basements it is nothing short of a miracle that more explosions have not occurred.

Alex. Diggins a manufacturers' agent, who represents two washing machine makers, stated that he would not care to attempt to use gasoline in the machines. As he put it the experiment might go through fifty times without any disastrous effects while the next attempt might might result in tragedy.

"You cannot put it too strongly that motor fuel should not be used for cleaning purposes," stated W. A. P. Schorman consulting engineer for the British American Oil Company, who lives just four houses from the wrecked home. "Motor oil ih highly volatile, and when it is vaporized the volatility is much greater. The room would fill much more quickly with the fuel of the present day than in the past. This is true of nearly all motor fuels used to-day."

Use it Outside.

"A gallon of gasoline, after it is vaporized and mixed with the proper amount of air or oxygen, would produce a force, if confined, about equal to 60 sticks of dynamite" Mr. Schorman added. "Three sticks of dynamite, confined in a bomb, would be sufficient to do about the same damage as was done in the explosion on Saturday. The only safe way, where cleaning has to be done, is for people to do it out of doors, where there is sufficient air to carry away the gas which escapes from the cleaning fluid."

In view of the fact that a great many homes in the city have gasoline in small quantities, Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General, stated the government would do everything in its power in the interests of safety, though the situation was already fully covered by civic bylaws.

The Insurance Act forbids keeping gasoline in a house in any quantity greater than a quart. It must also be safely contained ,or the insurance company disclaims all liability.

TRANSLATION OF BIBLE IS NOW MODERN

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The Old Testament of the King James version of the Bible has been rewritten in modern style by 4 noted students of ancient Hebrew. Clarity of meaning and simplicity of construction has been the guiding principle, although the official text was not changed "as long as it made satisfactory sense."

Dr. J. W. P. Smith, of the University of Chicago, was editor of the work. Those who aided him were Prof. T. J. Meek, University of Toronto; Alex. R. Gordon, United Theological College and McGill University of Montreal; Leroy Waterman, University of Michigan.

The first chapter of Genesis has been rewritten with the aim of simplifying the story of creation. The dialogue between Eve and the serpent has been done in modern conversational style. The Song of Solomon is translated with all the colorful effect of a modern love story.

All Canada Agrees "It's Better because it's Canadian"

"IT'S Better because It's Canadian" . . . a year ago General Motors of Canada gave first utterance to this phrase.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . newspapers and magazines all over Canada took up the theme, impressing on Canadian citizens the pride they should justly feel in the products of their country.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . the phrase has struck home, has become a challenge to the Canadian manufacturer and to the Canadian buyer.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . it is a fact. And because it is a fact . . . because General Motors was inspired to put it into words . . . because Canadian editors added to its impetus . . . because Canadians accepted it . . . and because the standard of Canadian quality proved it true . . .

. . . all Canada has enjoyed a greater measure of prosperity; and General Motors of Canada, with many other Canadian manufacturing organizations, has just completed the most successful year in its history.

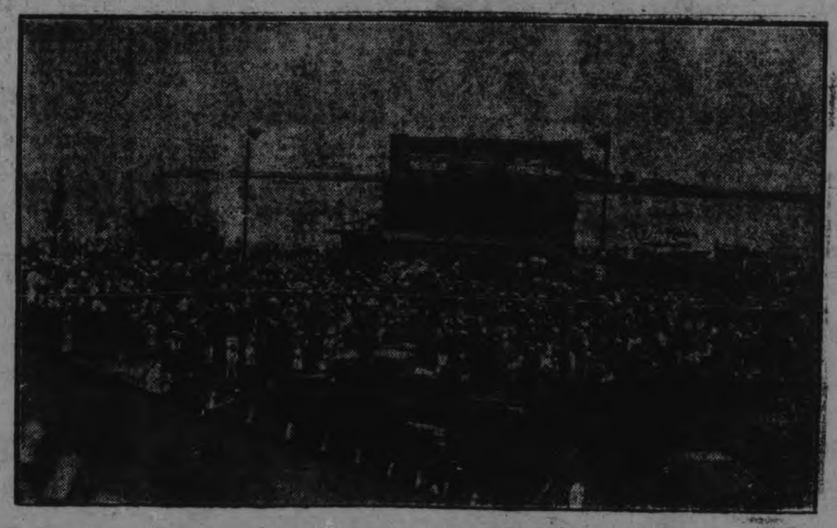
The Musical Marvel of the Age.



Has a Range of Over a Mile.

To the management of Sunnyside Beach must go the credit of presenting the most unusual and unique programme ever offered to a popular resort audience. Through the courtesy of the Victor Talking Machine Company of Canada, Limited, they secured the Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola for several weeks, with concerts twice daily.

At each performance thousands listen to the wonderful music poured forth by the Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola. John McCormack, Fritz Kreisler, Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, Hart House String Quartet and a host of equally world-famous artists seem to be assembled there, and give freely of their encores which the applause of the multitude demands repeatedly. America's foremost Jazz Artists are there, too—Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra, Gene Austin, Frank Crumit, Jack Smith, "The Whispering Baritone," and other popular celebrities, dispensing their toe-tickling melodies or singing the popular up-to-date or old-fashioned melodies so much appreciated by the public. Programmes are handed out at each performance, and the public seems to be whole-heartedly interested in the different selections rendered for their entertainment.

The setting of this instrument is ideal. The crowd can stand or sit comfortably fanned by the cool lake breezes. Placed on a Band Stand facing the board walk and beach, with a background of rippling waters dotted with white-sailed craft and canoes, with only the Heavens for a canopy. When playing at full strength, the instrument possesses a range of over a mile and has been heard by thousands all through High Park and through the Sunnyside District, and by people seated comfortably on their verandahs in the Sunnyside District.

To the audience nothing is apparent but a large cabinet about nine feet high and eight feet wide, the front portion consisting of curtained panels. Inside the cabinet is the instrument itself. The instrument is the Victor creation, which has gone from triumph to triumph throughout Canada and the United States, and represents the latest contribution of science towards musical reproduction. The enormous volume of sound is secured by an ingenious application of the amplifying principle, multiplicity of vacuum tubes.

The instrument plays the regular Victor V.E. Process (Orthophonic) Records, the interpretation of each work being little short of marvellous in clarity and naturalness of tone. Watching the listeners at the beach concerts tells one how true this is. They seem to feel that somewhere behind the cabinet must be hidden the artists themselves. The spontaneous burst of applause at the end of each selection reveals their hidden thoughts.

It is understood that this Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola is to be on exhibition at the Educational Conference, to be held shortly in Toronto.

BREWERY PLANS ARE NEARLY READY

W. L. Doyle Announces Opening of Office in This City.

W. L. Doyle, general manager of the Peterborough Brewing Company, Limited, has returned from Buffalo, where he has spent the past few days in conference with officials of the above corporation. Mr. Doyle reports that Mr. Schultz, the company's architect, is working night and day on the plans and specifications and that they will be complete before the end of the present week. Mr. Doyle brought back with him a beautiful artist's drawing of the plant when completed, and this is at present on display in the Empress Hotel lobby.

Opening An Office.

Temporary offices of the company are being opened at 183 Charlotte street, where the ever-increasing business of this industry will be transacted until the permanent offices are opened in the brewery.

The directors hope that with the plans completed the contract will soon be let and work begun.

A brewery plant second to none in the Province of Ontario is contemplated said Mr. Doyle, and with the opportunity which the site and present building give to the architect, this will prove to be the best plant of its kind in Canada.

Mr. Doyle was very enthusiastic at the co-operation given him by the citizens of Peterborough and surrounding district. Every man approached has "done his bit" to give Peterborough thits excellent industry, he said.

RIFTS IN RANKS OF TWO PARTIES MEETING THIS WEEK WATCHED WITH SATISFACTION BY LIBERALS

Many Conservatives Dissatisfied With Leadership of Baldwin.

TROUBLE EXPECTED.

Ramsay MacDonald Arouses Followers By Denouncing Greyhound Racing.

LONDON, Oct. 4 (United Press).—Political war drums were again being heard throughout Great Britain today. While Labor, at Blackpool, was reviewing all its policies with the keenest eye to the next election, the Tories were getting ready for their conference at Cardiff which opens next Thursday. The latter are not too happy owing to breaches in unity of opinion throughout the party.

While there is much dissatisfaction at Premier Baldwin's leadership and what is called his leaning towards Socialism.

The irrepressible Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, has already flung a challenge into the camp of the Government's critics by declaring that Premier Baldwin is pledged to give the vote to "flappers" at the age of 21, thus making the sexes equal in this respect and that he will go through with it despite the present opposition which, he stated had been started by the London press.

As the opposition to Baldwin keeping his pledge is very strong and persistent it is obvious that the Tory conference will become lively and that the party managers are facing a hard time in preserving the necessary unity.

Meanwhile, Ramsay MacDonald has stirred up his own followers by denouncing greyhound racing, the new popular sport of the masses, as "The evidence of the moral curse of plutocracy, not only affecting the rich, but everybody."

In vigorously denouncing the new sport, Mr. Macdonald said: "If our love for pleasure sacrifices the strong moral rectitude for flashy enticements as was the case with the people of Rome ,then this country will be ruined, as Rome was ruined."

Strangely enough The Daily Herald, Labor's organ, does not print this passage from Mr. Macdonald's speech.

The Liberals are watching the course of these political events with satisfaction, believing that they alone are in a position to improve their representation at the next election. But Sir William Joynson Hicks scorns them, declaring that Lloyd George will be able to put the whole party in a motor coach after the next election if the cab is big enough.

WESTERN MOVE SEEN IN LONDON

Business Invades Areas Formerly Occupied By Fine Homes.

OFFICES AND FLATS.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(United Press).—London's business is moving from the eastern part of the metropolis to the west.

Just as New York's business quarter is gradually occupying a large section of Fifth avenue, despite the stubborn resistance of some residents, so are all the old landmarks of London's social life disappearing under a flood of stores and offices.

This fact was pointed out in the presidential address at Torquay, Cornwall, of A. J. Burrows, delivered before the conference of the Auctioneers' and Estate Agents' Institute.

"In New York," he said, "the problem of housing the business interests has been partly solved by the erection of the skyscrapers. In London this plan is not practicable. The city cannot extend eastward, where the tightly-packed population prevents it, and business firms do not like to move south of the river. The tendency, therefore, is to extend to the west.

"Cavendish Square, ten years ago the home of the then Prime Minister, is already invaded by commerce. In St. James' Square about 50 per cent. of the houses are now devoted to business, as are many houses in Grosvenor Place, skirting the grounds of Buckingham Palace.

"Hanover Square has long been given over to offices and shops. The infiltration is steadily increasing. Banks, insurance and shipping companies are all acquiring premises, and the head office of a tourist agency has migrated westward.

"The hitherto sacred precincts of Park Lane (one-time recognized home of millionaires) now house a building society, and big blocks of flats are being erected."

This westward trend is no new thing. It has been going on for a century and a half without interruption, but at varying rates. Even Holborn, just north of Fleet street, was once a place of fashion, and Gray's inn gardens the favorite lounge. As far back as 1737 an Act was passed for beautifying Red Lion Square, "which had run much to decay." The squares of Bloomsbury survived as mainly residential until far into the nineteenth century. Some have succumbed to the boarding house and the hotels. Others are largely in genteel professional occupation.

The footprints are all one way. Soho and Golden Squares are memories only as places of the "bon ton"; Fitzroy Square, the youngest of them all, never even had its day, for it was so long in building that Fashion turned off before it reached it.

The question is what is to become of the great, thus deprived of respectable and dignified homes? Time was when fashion, hard pressed by the city, simply moved a little farther west. But where can it move in these days? The old hinterland is occupied.

The Chaldeans are believed to have been the first people to use the sun dial as a means of telling time.

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 4.—(Canadian Press.)—The wheat market yesterday closed 1 5-8c. up for October, November and May months and 1 3-8c. for December. The opening flurry of short covering brought no response from Chicago, and there were reports of few export acceptances over the week end and big deliveries at country points, and the market rallied.

A feature of the gossip were private United States estimates of the Canadian wheat crop, one placing the total yield in the three Prairie Provinces at 422,000,000 and the other at 417,000,000 bushels.

On the cash market there was a lacg of export acceptances of wheat over the week end. At the moment Canadian quotations are probably the highest of all exporting countries, and buyers are disposed to sit back and await developments. Cash coarse grains were without outstanding feature.

BRITISH DIVORCE CASES INCREASE

Suppression of Publication of Evidence Believed Cause.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(United Press).—The suppression of reports of divorce cases in the newspapers is regarded as the cause of the alarming increase in British divorce statistics.

More than 500 petitions will be heard during the Michaelmas term beginning on October 12 while by the time the year closes 2,500 cases will have been decided in London.

The total for the whole country will reach 3,500, while in the five years from 1901 to 1905 there were only 563 and between 1921 and 1925 only 2,700.

The necessity for only proving adultery on the part of the man, without cruelty is another cause for the great increase in the number of cases.

MORE WEDDINGS BIRTHS, DEATHS

All Figures For September Show Increase Over Last Year.

MARRIAGES GAIN MOST.

An increase is shown in the number of births in this city for September over the same month a year ago. Last month there were 53 births in the city while in September 1926 there were 49.

There was also a decided increase in the number of marriages for in September 31 couples were united and in the same month last year there were 22 marriages.

The increase in the births and marriages is, however, offset by the increase in the number of deaths which for September numbered 30 for August 23 and for September last year 24.

PRESBYTERY MEETING HELD

their enemies, and to remember that those who have gone out from them in the days of strife were not enemies but brothers in Christ. People have not the proper atmosphere for Christian work, but are worshipping too much at the shrine of matter. A spiritual atmosphere is necessary for the growth and success of the service that God may permit them to render on behalf of the souls of men. The Church lost tremendously in the character and extent of the work and in equipment by the separation, but there are at the present time six hundred and twenty-six ordained ministers on the roll of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Contrary to predictions before the Union, they are as good a class of ministers as before the separation, and they preach the fuller Gospel with no apology for it. They have clung to the faith of their fathers and transmitted it to their children. They were told that they would have no mission fields, but they have the largest ever, relative to the present strength of the Church in Canada and around the world. They were told that most of the young people would rally to the new standards. The Presbyterian people have made the largest contribution per capita, in 1926, that they have ever made. Considering the loss of money and property there is no ground for a note of pessimism, says the speaker. There are on the list five thousand and five ordained elders, with the determination that they will carry on and carry out the things for which the Church exists.

Sunday School Work.

As for the Sunday School work, there are over one hundred thousand young people to-day enrolled in the Sunday schools and Bible classes, and eleven hundred officers and teachers, teaching with a new emphasis on the truths that they hold and are handing down to others. They are determining their extent in the continuance of the Presbyterian doctrine and are not going to let go but hold the land and make a full contribution to the enlightenment of the land and extending the Gospel of the Kingdom. They will make Christ known to others and impart to the rising generation the knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ. The family altar made Christianity what it is around the earth, and the speaker laments the fact that it is being permitted to fade out of existence, along with the Shorter Catechism, to which no other sytem may be compared outside of the Word itself. At one time, in the Old Country, Dr. Grant relates that when a Scripture reading was announced one had to wait for the rustling of pages to cease, but now people do not carry their Bibles, the weapons with which they are to fight life's great battle. The material things of life are emphasized too much, and people forget to build up the things that they may carry with them into the Kingdom of their King and Judge.

Mechanical Side.

Then there is the mechanical side of the work. In any work of that kind, the individual entering into it gets the largest amount of satisfaction out of it. There is a great opportunity for all those who wish the smallest part in the bringing of the Gospel of Salvation through Christ to others. Here statistics were quoted to show the extent of the work done in the mission fields, and comparisons were made for the last few years. In the previous churches in which the speaker has spoken, the officers of the Church are doing everything in their power to put this before the people that they may receive the money they have been asking for that when the call comes from the needy in this and other lands they will be able to answer it.

They should recognize their responsibility to God and to their fellow man, and give heart and soul and mind and strength to serve the King of Kings. Dr. Grant concluded with the prayer, "May God grant it and to His Name be all the glory."

The chairman commented on Dr. Grant's address, his life-long connection with the Church, and voiced the sincere hope that he might long be spared to carry on the work he is doing.

A hymn was given out, and after it was sung, D. A. Thompson of Hastings pronounced the benediction. The members of the Presbytery came to the front of the church for dismissal.

that you have found our Store a pleasant shopping centre in the past. We have tried to make it so, but the handicaps of a small store in a small town are great, and we realize that we could not always offer you the values that were possible in larger cities. For this reason we have co-operated with twenty-one other department stores to buy in quantities that would open to us the better markets. We know that our ability to serve you now is greater than it ever has been, or could have been.

TWO CORN ROASTS NEAR MILLBROOK

Carmel Sunday School and Millbrook C.G.I.T. Enjoy Outings.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 4.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lunn, Second line, Cavan, was the scene of a happy social gathering on Friday evening, over one hundred guests taking part in a corn roast, those present including the teachers, officers and scholars from the Carmel Sunday School, with a number of their friends.

The hospitality of the Lunn homestead is well known, and a jolly time was spent with games, played on the lawn, music and social intercourse, until the corn was ready when a substantial supper was enjoyed.

Mr. Will Lunn is superintendent of the Carmel Sunday School, and Miss Martha Lunn the popular teacher of the Young Men's Organized Bible Class, and both have, for a number of years, given unstinted service to promote the school's welfare.

The bonfire, usually looked upon as an essential feature of a "roast," had to be abandoned and the corn cooked indoors on the kitchen range, owing to the coolness of the atmosphere, but this did not detract any from the general good time enjoyed, and the manner in which the hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the host and hostess for their hospitality gave evidence of the genuine appreciation felt by all.

Mrs. (Dr.) Rae's Bible Class of men from the United Church Sunday School, Millbrook, had charge of the Rally Day service at the Carmel school, by special invitation, on Sunday afternoon.

The Wide Awakes' Group of Canadian Girls in Training held an enjoyable hike and picnic supper at The Grove on Saturday afternoon, the majority of the members being present.

Community games filled in the time happily until the call came to build the bonfires necessary to boil the coffee, fry the bacon and make ready the other items on the supper menu, when healthy appetites did full justice to the fare provided.

A story hour and sing-song, round a blazing camp-fire after the picnic tea had been disposed of, rounded out a most successful outing, the cloudy evening and early darkness, with a few warning drops of rain falling, compelling the girls to make a reluctant start for home.

SHOCKS PICTON PEOPLE

The people of Picton, Ont., have not recovered yet from the shock which followed the arrest of Rev. J. J. Mellor of the Picton United church on a serious charge, preferred by a pretty 18-year-old choir singer, who acted as his private secretary. Rev. Mr. Mellor is shown in the insert and also in an Indian costume which he wore while looking after a girls-in training camp near Picton. The United Church at Picton, the pastorate of which Mr. Mellor held until his resignation which was accepted following his arrest, is shown, together with the parsonage where he lived with his wife and daughter. He was fined $100 and released on suspended sentence, but is being tried on a new charge.

'Y' CANVASSERS REPORT PROGRESS

Meeting With Success in Campaign For New Members.

There was a good representation of membership canvass workers at the supper in the "Y" at 6.30 Friday evening. J. R. Marshall was in the chair and reports were heard from practically all of the teams, showing over one-third of the objective already reached. There were fifty-one renewals and seventeen new members reported and some of the canvassers unable to be present have additional names. There will be another report on Tuesday from 12.15 to 12.45 noon, when lunch will be served.

There seems to be no question but that the objective will be exceeded by Friday, October 7. On that date the new members secured during the campaign are invited to accompany the workers at a supper meeting.

Mr. Marshall made a generous offer of a Parker's fountain pen to the one securing the most new members during the campaign and a Parker pencil for the canvasser securing second highest number as an incentive to the best efforts by all workers.

Installation expenses of a telephone in Tokio and Yokohama is 1500 yen, or nearly $750.

CANADIAN PROGRAM AT LEAGUE SERVICE

Thunderstorm Keeps Attendance at Zion Down on Thursday.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, Oct. 4.—The annual rally service of the Zion League, held on Thursday evening last, did not draw as large a crowd as expected, due to a severe thunder-storm just at the meeting hour. However, in spite of the elements, over forty were present, with the Red Group having a slight margin in points. In the absence of the regular leader, Gladys Petherick, the President, Fred. Barnum, took charge of the program, which was that laid down by the Stratford Summer School for the occasion, as follows:

Scripture—Joshua 1:1-16.
Hymn—"Father in Heaven Who Lovest All."
Scripture in unison—Isaiah 61:1-3.
Prayer—President and conveners of the four departments.
Hymn—"Judge Eternal, Throned in Splendour."
Talk—"God's Grace to Canada," Lindsay Anderson.
Prayer in unison.
Hymn—"Lord, While for All Mankind We Pray."
Scripture in unison—Isaiah 61:4-9.
Talk—"The Contribution of Our New Canadians," Gladys Simpson.
Scripture in unison—Isaiah 42:1-4, and other selected passages.
Hymn—"Land of Our Birth."
Talk—"Canada and World Friendship," Earl Fairman.
Prayer in unison and Scripture—Psalm 122:6-9.
Hymn—"In Christ There is No East or West."
Announcements and offering.
Hymn—"Lead On, O King Eternal."
Benediction—Pastor, Rev. Daniel.

BENSFORT NEWS

BENSFORT, Oct. 4.—On account of the dry weather, the farmers in this vicinity have been prevented from continuing their fall ploughing. Most of them are busily engaged in storing their winter vegetables.

Mr. Thomas Armstrong made a business trip to Peterborough on Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith have left for Toronto after spending their holiday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Thompson have returned home after spending a few days at St. Mary's.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nurse, Velma and Wilfrid motored to Port Hope on Wednesday to attend the fair, Miss Velma remaining to spend the week with friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walters are spending a few days at Bensfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, of Montreal, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher.

Mrs. Stirling Waterman and sons, of Toronto, are visiting Mr. Nelson Nurse.

Mrs. Allan Bell has returned home from Nicholls' Hospital, Peterborough, where she has been ill for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Finnie attended Port Hope fair on Wednesday.

The rally service at Bensfort was well conducted on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Smith gave interesting talks on India. Isobel Dawson gave an interesting reading.

Mrs. Harper, of Otonabee, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tom Nurse.

Mrs. John Buckham and Miss Creebie spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. John Emberson's.

Misses Viola and Velma Nurse attended the rally service at Bailieboro Sunday evening.

BUILDING PASSES HALF MILLION MARK

More Than Double Last Year's Figures For Nine Months.

Building permits in the city of Peterborough have reached the half million mark for the year 1927. In September there was a slight increase shown over the same month of last year. There were 26 permits issued by the City Engineer valued at $16,630. The total for the first nine months of this year amounts to $567,950, while for 1926 it amounted to $224,908.

Then make it a point to see this vast collection of Silk Dresses. Their workmanship alone makes them worthy of much higher pricings. The larger woman will find among these many a chick slenderizing model.

Their Colors are Smart and Serviceable

Black the queen color from a stand of serviceability predominates in this collection. Navy blue, second favorite, is exceedingly conspicuous. Then there are rich jewel colors in profusion. Colors the very young girl will wear becomingly, and colors for the matron.

These Frocks Feature Practical Fabrics

The ease with which they may be kept tidy and smart looking is an important consideration in frocks that are to be subjected to almost constant wear, and these are practical frocks from that standpoint.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

It was odd, Faith reflected, as she moved steadily from one task to another that Monday morning, now Cherry's cheerfully malicious characterization of her—"Faith was born to be a martyr"—destroyed all of her anticipated pleasure in doing the work of a drudge so that Bob's crippled bank account could have a chance to recover.

"Is it true," she asked herself, flushing with shame, "that I wanted to pose before Bob and Cherry as an overworked drudge, just to win his notice and sympathy? Did Cherry really see through me, or am I not quite as bad as that? I do want to help Bob! But—" and in the mirror over the bathroom washstand which she was scrubbing she caught a glimpse of the red tide that swept over neck and cheeks and brow—"I also wanted to be praised for my unselfishness."

As she probed her motives that first hard servantless day, Faith felt as if her soul, so carefully protected by folds of illusion, had been stripped bare, that she saw herself as she really was for the first time in her life.

"Oh, I hate myself!" she moaned. "Cherry was right about me. I have enjoyed being overworked, so that people would say I'm good and unselfish. Cherry is selfish, but she is honest about it. She doesn't try to pose as a saint, in order to be praise. But then—Cherry doesn't need to! She can be as selfish and useless about the house as a Pekingese puppy, but it is Cherry who has always been loved. If she were Bob's wife she would cheerfully let him spend every cent he could earn or borrow or steal, and he'd adore her for doing it! But in return she wouldn't give him a hundredth part of the love I give him. Does he know how I adore him, worship him? And would he care if he knew? Wouldn't it just bore him or embarrass him if I tried to tell him? Cherry wouldn't try to tell him! She'd let him do all the telling! Oh, it's the Cherrys who have the best of it in this world!"

It was a long, bitter, heart-breaking day. And in a fury of self-chastisement Faith made it a backbreaking day as well. She waxed floors that were already glass-like; scrubbed linoleum that was spotless; strained a tendon in her shoulder washing the big living room windows which had been spattered by a recent rain; attacked Cherry's disorderly room with angry vigor; hanging up dresses that had slipped from their hangers to the floor, cleaning her sister's comb and brush, bringing order out of the chaos of Cherry's stuffed dresser drawers. For lunch she had a hard-boiled egg and a rasher of bacon, then, after taking the baby for an airing in her perambulator, she flung herself with feverish intensity into the preparation of dinner. It would be such a dinner as Mrs. Lundy herself would exclaim over! And it would be so economical that she could brag to Bob over the saving— But no, she caught herself up with sickening shame, she couldn't brag to Bob about anything she had done today. How Cherry's golden eyes would sparkle with malicious amusement if she did brag!

Because the day was cool, for mid-September, she made a great pot of savory Mexican chili con carne, of which the family was inordinately fond; concocted a beautiful fruit salad, and then, although she was almost dropping with fatigue, she made a gorgeous blueberry pie, whose glazed, brown crust was as crisp as snowflakes. Then she bathed and dressed, determined to look her best, just to show Cherry that she was not a martyr!

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

An unusual shi...g arrangement is shown on this frock of heavy crepe of Burgundy red.

Never is a very long word, and it is one that I try not to use in discussing possible future trends in fashion. I might say that women will never give up short hair, and that they will never lace in their waists, and that they will never, never consent to fussy styles again. There would be nothing original or astounding in such statements because you hear them every day about you.

But I try to avoid them because some fifteen years from now when long hair is again in fashion, or fussy clothes or hour-glass waistlines, I might look over the things that I am writing now and I could be very much annoyed to think that I had ever thought that such things might come to pass.

There is no tendency now, however in favour of the very small waist and very little reason to think that the present disposition to wear skirts an inch or so longer than we did a year ago is anything more than a flash in the pan. But there is a decided tendency toward clothes that really are fussier, more elaborate than they used to be. A number of the most influential French dressmakers are doing their best to establish the fashion for what they call greater elegance.

Ruffles, flounces, frills, burbelows, shirrings and other fussy trimmings are to be found among the new clothes. The frock in the sketch shows a shirring arrangement that has been much admired. At first sight it does seem fussy. It lacks the simplicity that we have learned to admire. But it shows an elaboration that is characteristic of many of the new French creations.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE INK WELL

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

Uncle Wiggily stood on the platform of the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School on the first day after the long vacation and looked into the faces of the animal boys and girls. He also looked at the six Wogglejig children, starting with Mazie, who was white, and ending with Bumple, who was green. Boppy and Um, the little wooden man and woman who had unscrambled their Wogglejigs and put them together properly, as I told you in the story last night, had gone back to their Bungleump home, near Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Well, my dears," began the rabbit gentleman who had started to tell a story when he was interrupted (as I related to you yesterday) by what sounded like a lot of sticks falling on the school steps, "I will tell you what happened to me while I was at my shell cottage on the seashore. As I said, it was in the middle of a dark and stormy night when, all of a sudden, there was a noise at my door." Once more all the animal boys and girls were holding to the edges of their seats and Uncle Wiggily went on:

"Slowly the door was pushed open and—"

Dumple, the little red Wogglejig boy, raised his front paw and when the Lady Mouse Teacher looked at him he said: "I know what came in the front door. It was—"

"Dumple, how can you know what came in when you weren't there?" asked his sister Mazie, who was light blue. "You know we went to the mountains on our vacation," she added, "while Uncle Wiggily was at the shore. You couldn't know what happened."

"Of course he couldn't!" chimed in Wumple, who was yellow. "Let Uncle Wiggily finish his story."

"Indeed you must, my dear Wogglejigs," squeaked the Lady Mouse Teacher. "It is easy to see you have never been at school before," she went on, and this was true for the Wogglejigs had not long lived near Uncle Wiggily. "So please keep quiet, my dears. After Uncle Wiggily finishes his story we shall have some lessons."

"I hope he makes it a good, long story," bleated Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, and all the children laughed. Uncle Wiggily smiled and said to Dumple:

"I don't believe you can even dream of what opened my door that dark and dreary midnight when I was all alone in my shell cottage and the Sea Lion had been roaring around and I was—"

Just then Dazie, the dark blue Wogglejig girl, gave a loud cry and said: "Now you stop, Dumple."

"What is Dumple doing?" asked Miss Mouse.

"He keeps lifting my head up off my neck peg and turning it around," complained Dazie. You see the Wogglejigs, being made of wooden balls, pegs and egg-shaped pieces, could take themselves, or each other apart and be put together again without suffering any harm.

"Dumple, you must not take off Dazie's head," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Well, she keeps moving it in front of me so I can't see you tell the story," answered Dumple. "I like to look at you."

"Well, you must all keep quiet or else Uncle Wiggily can't tell the story," squeaked the Lady Mouse. Then the rabbit gentleman said:

"I think I had better write this story out on a piece of paper so you can read it to the children. That will be better than having me tell it. Just a moment and I will write the story about the dark and stormy night and the Sea Lion."

Uncle Wiggily sat at the teacher's desk and he was just dipping his pen in the inkwell when, all of a sudden, something fell in the black stuff, splashing it all over Uncle Wiggily's white shirt.

"Oh, what a dreadful accident!" screamed the Lady Mouse. "What splashed into the inkwell, Uncle Wiggily?" The rabbit gentleman, wiping the ink from his eyes and pink nose, held up a Wogglejig leg.

"Whose is this?" he asked solemnly.

"It's mine, if you please," answered Dumple, the red boy Wogglejig. "But I didn't mean to splash you. My foot got asleep, sitting still here so long, and I was jiggling it when my leg flew off and splashed in the inkwell. I'm sorry."

"I am sorry, too," said Uncle Wiggily, "as much on your account as mine, Dumple, for your red leg is all black."

"Oh! Oh! Oh!" sighed all the other Wogglejigs. Dumple did not know what to do and Mr. Longears had just finished wiping the last of the ink off his pink nose when, all of a sudden, the door of the schoolroom began slowly to open. The Lady Mouse screamed and caught hold of Mr. Longears.

WHO WROTE THIS ?

Answers to yesterday's questions: 1, Robert Burton; 2, Ralph Waldo Emerson; 3, Shakespeare; 4, John Milton; 5, Thomas Kempis; 6, George Herbert; 7, Alexander Pope; 8, George Canning.

Should Charles E. Hughes be nominated and elected to the Presidency, the White House would have as its next mistress a woman who finds many things more interesting than social leadership. Mrs. Hughes' interests are educational, religious and domestic. She is essentially a college woman, is a connoisseur in old engravings and has a taste for music.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1927

Benefic aspects rule today, according to astrology, which reads the planetary influences as favorable to dwellers on the planet Earth.

This should be a most auspicious day for new partnership or new business associations.

There is a rule most lucky for business development or expansion and women should be as lucky as men.

Educational enterprises are subject to stimulating and encouraging directions of the stars that promise fine attainments for students.

The public mind now should take on a more serious point of view than it has sustained in recent years. Many cities will benefit.

This is read as unpropitious for romance as the trend of thought will be more material and practical than idealistic.

It is not a lucky wedding day in the sense that romance may be submerged in pecuniary aspirations.

Theatres which are to flourish in the coming winter may not be favorably aspected today when wise actors will wait for a better rule of the stars.

Mexico is under rather a sinister sway once more and while the business outlook will be better, international difficulties are presaged.

After the first week in December unusually severe storms may be expected in many parts of the East and ocean voyaging will be perilous.

For Christmas time this year the seers prophesy great activity in many lines of business, especially in the iron and steel industry.

New interest in armaments is presaged for the end of the year when wholesale loss of life is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is haev the augury of much prosperity in business matters in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be extraordinarily clever. The subjects of this sign are usually brilliant in conversation.

SOCIAL GROUP HOLDS DANCE

Millbrook West-end Residents Meet at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd

MILLBROOK PERSONALS

MILLBROOK, Oct. 3.—A pleasant social event took place on Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kidd were host and hostess to about forty-five of their friends at the west end of the village.

Music and dancing furnished the chief entertainment, the large room on the ground floor at the east side of the building being utilized for this purpose, and Messrs. L. W. Hutchison, J. McIvor, and H. Hunter being among those who provided music with violin, guitar, and mouth-organ; a victrola was also in use.

About midnight a fowl supper was served, roast ducks and chickens with hot potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, cake and coffee, completing a satisfying bill of fare.

The previous week the social gathering took the form of a weiner roast, and a pumpkin pie social is now in prospect. The group of 'west enders' proposes having these happy occasions of fortnightly occurrence during the fall and winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McMillan, of Cobourg, were guests of ex-Warden A. J. and Mrs. Henderson over night on Thursday.

Major A. V. Thorne, Messrs. E. C. Richards, W. White, Senior, and Wilf White, Junior, attended the 13th Battalion reunion dinner at Bowmanville on Saturday.

The many friends of Mrs. D. A. Henry are glad to see that she is able to be around again after her recent serious operation at Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital.

British climbers are full of admiration for the remarkable feat of Miss Sheila Macdonald, a 22-year-old London girl, who has won the distinction of being the first woman to climb Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa. This is only the fifth time that the summit has been reached. The highest of the two peaks of Kilimanjaro, which is in British Tanganyika, is 19,231 feet. Miss Macdonald is a tall, well-built girl, who is an adept in many outdoor sports. She started mountaineering in Scotland and Switzerland when she was only twelve.

Glenna Collett Shines in Qualifying Round

U.S. CHAMPION LEADING IN LADIES' OPEN

Ada Mackenzie Off With 83, One More Than Virginia Van Wie.

MISS PAYSON SECOND

LAMBTON GOLF CLUB, Oct. 4.—Scores wilted, as did score cards, when a cold rain swept over the Lambton course yesterday afternoon and practically put an end to the chances of qualifying of any in the last third of the field in the Canadian Ladies' open golf championship. With her gaily hit 77 secured in the early morning sunshine, Miss Glenna Collett is an easy leader by three strokes, of one of the greatest fields in the history of the championship. Miss Collett was hitting the ball down the course with amazing skill and accuracy. Her card compared to par as follows:

Par out—43455534—38
Par in—54355553—40
—70

Miss Collet:—
Out . . .534465344—38
In . . .443664444—39
—78

The youthful American girl was hitting at her ball with much vigor, and a powerful shoulder which swept into the end of her strokes like a hammer.

Many times she slammed the ball over 230 yards from the tee and the course was by no means fast yesterday.

On the long holes Miss Collett seemed to be in a particularly mauling mood. At the 510 yard tenth Glenna notched a fine 4 by belting a high mashie shot to the flag, but her real run of birdies started at the 15th just after she had tallied a pair of 6's at the previous holes, having encountered a trap and the young river which flows through so many holes at Lambton.

Topping her drive at the 420-yard 15th, Miss Collett smashed up a brassie and followed with an uphill mashie shot which she cut hard. The ball faded perfectly and lined up close to the flag. Tapped with firm follow through, her putt never deviated from the line. A drive, hit with unusual "click" for a steel shaft and an iron which faded but not too far, earned a beautiful four at the 17th which is among the trees.

Swinging long and easily, Miss Helen Payson of Portland, Maine, was second of the early starters with an 80. She was out in 38, but struck a run of 5's on the home nine and needed 42. Miss Payson is remarkable on her short shots and for these she takes an unusually short grip of the shaft, sometimes below the leather and hits low and firmly.

Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago who stands very upright to all her shots, was very steady but could not manage to make any long putts disappear. She had an 82. Miss Van Wie hits so easily at her ball that the long distance of her drive is almost inexplicable.

Sixes at the 9th, 14th, and 16th kept Mrs. W. G. Fraser of Ottawa out of the seventies and boosed her total to 93, while Mrs. E. W Whittington of Toronto encountered a flower bed at the 13h hole and ran her total to 7 giving her a 46 home after she had blazed out in 38 for an 84.

An eight on the 7th and a seven on the 9th was the cause of Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown going out in 46. A fine home-coming nine of 39 gave her a goodly 85.

As steady as ever, but not quite as brilliant, Miss Ada Mackenzie, the ladies' closed champion, walked around in 83. She was hitting the ball pretty safely but the scores would not come readily.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, the metropolitan champion, used up nine strokes on the 16th hole and required a 90.

Harmon Leads By 104 In Billiards Play

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(Canadian Press.)— Charles Harmon, of New York, challenger for the United States' pocket billiards championship, led the title-holder, James Mature, Denver, Colo., by 104 points to 86 at the end of the first block of play yesterday. The first to reach 1,000 points will be the winner of the title and a purse of $1,000. Harmon had a high run of 45 and Mature 37.

FIRST GAME IN SENIOR FINALS ON WEDNESDAY

Hamilton Oskies and the Petes Clash For Ontario Title.

A REAL BATTLE.

Hamilton Crew Come Here With a Great Reputation.

The Hamilton Oskies qualified for the Senior O.B.A.A. finals by defeating Windsor on Saturday and the Western Ontario champions are now to clash with the Petes for the provincial title, the first game to be played here on Wednesday and the second in Hamilton on Saturday.

It should be a great series.

The Hamilton team who, after winning the Hamilton City championship defeated Niagara Falls, the Niagara Peninsula champs and now have put Windsor away after the Em-Gees had beaten the strong Galt team, are a well balanced aggregation of experienced ball players. They have the reputation of being especially strong on the attack and they will unquestionably prove the strongest opposition the Petes have encountered this season. The Oskies roster includes such well known performers as Gibb, Huskie Reid, Languay and other players who are as famous in football as on the diamond. They are well fortified in every position and expect their hitting ability to clean up the series for them.

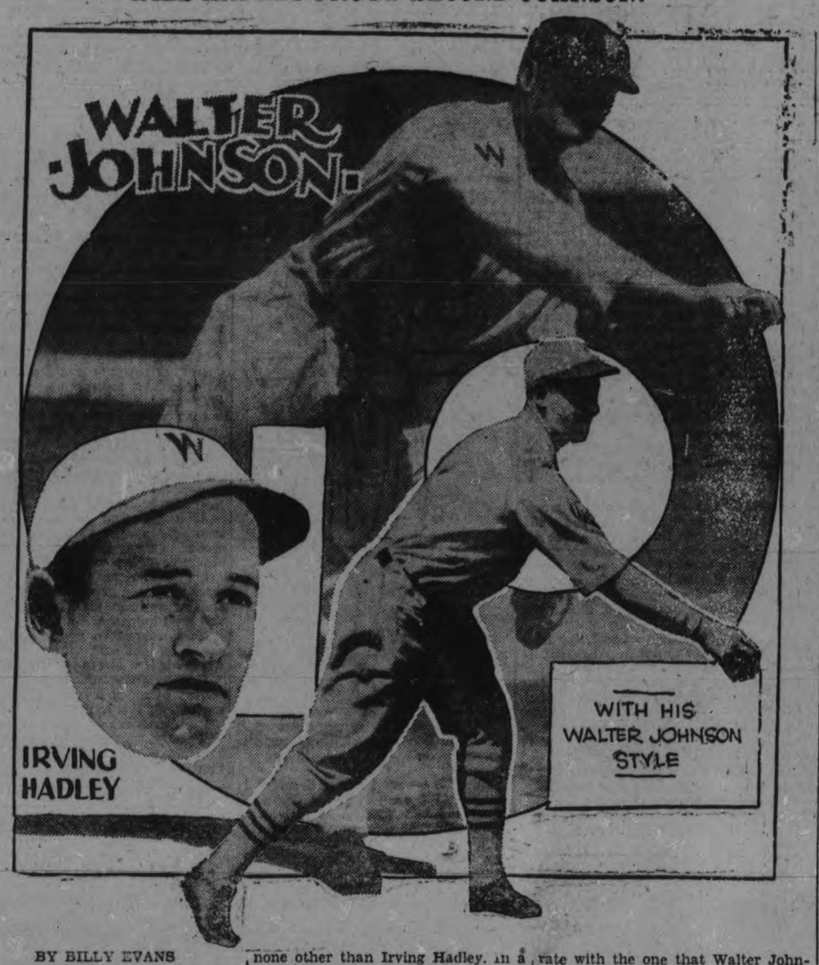
The Petes, however, in the finals for the first time since 1920, are full of fight and determination and the record of the visitors is not worrying them any. The Swanston talent are in good shape. Both Heckman and Hardill are ready to go the route and in the Petes' camp there is supreme confidence that either one of these sterling twirlers will give the Oskie hitters something to think over.

The game here on Wednesday should be by long odds the most exciting of the season and in spite of being a mid-week fixture will attract a huge crowd. Fans from all over the district will be here to see the final fought out and a real old time rally of Eastern Ontario ball enthusiasts can be expected.

Local fandom is wildly excited over the Petes' chances of bringing home the first senior baseball championship in the city's history and the homesters will have plenty of support when they take the field on Wednesday.

Babe Ruth took part in his first World's Series in 1915, when he was on the pitching staff of the Boston Red Sox.

WILL HADLEY PROVE SECOND JOHNSON?



BY BILLY EVANS

A second Walter Johnson. Those are strong words, mate, but Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington club and Manager Stanley Harris, have such hopes for Pitcher Irving Hadley.

If Hadley were about two inches taller, he could pass as a brother of the great Walter. There is a striking facial resemblance and, except for being shorter, Hadley is built along the same physical proportions as Johnson, broad shoulders, small waistline, shapely as well a strong legs and long arms.

Walter Johnson didn't cost the Washington club a cent. Neither did Hadley. So financially as well as physically there is much in common between the two. I am told that Papa Hadley, knowing Clark Griffith, asked that his son be given a big league trial after finishing his college career.

When Hadley reported to Washington, it didn't take him long to make it apparent that he was an excellent prospect. Manager Harris at once turned him over to Walter Johnson for schooling in the art of pitching. Walter changed his delivery which was rather jerky to a smooth and easy style. So as you watch Hadley in action, he at once reminds you of Johnson.

Sent to the Southern League for experience Hadley made rapid progress. Last season with the Birmingham club he won 14 games while losing only seven, for a third place club. Washington scouts who looked the former collegian over pronounced him ready.

When I struck Tampa, training quarters of the Nationals this spring, looking over a half hundred players in action for the familiar face of Walter Johnson, I saw him off to one side of the field working with a youngster. That chap proved to be none other than Irving Hadley, in a sense he's a protege of Johnson.

Among his teammates, Hadley is known as "Bumps", but the opposition never subjects him to such treatment. The nickname came about in a peculiar manner. In the spring, Hadley suffered an attack of mumps, a disease common to children, but he had been immune as a kid. He had many marks to show for it, bumps, so to speak.

Nick Altrock gave him the sobriquet of "Bumps" and it will probably stick to him through his entire career. Nick, who enjoys a joke, even if it is at his expense, dropped into Hadley's room one day while he was confined to bed and after having a good laugh, said:

"You look funnier than me, you're full of bumps, just as if you had been stepping into Johnson's fast one."

Four or five other players in the room joined in the laugh and that day the nickname of "Bumps" was coined for Hadley.

While Hadley's fast ball doesn't rate with the one that Walter Johnson turned loose when he broke into the big show, he had plenty of speed. To this, add a good curve of two species, one a slow-breaking slant, the other fast and deceptive. At present he is working on a change of pace and doing nicely.

Hadley should win 15 games for Washington this year, possibly 18. The first figure is a high mark for a first-year performer, but Hadley is almost sure to reach it, with 10 already to his credit. Not only can Hadley pitch but he can also bat. He takes a mean cut at the ball and is always dangerous. He believes in swinging, on the old theory you can't make basehits with the bat on your shoulders.

Keep your eye on Irving "Bumps" Hadley for he is destined to have a long and successful career in baseball, even if he doesn't reach the mark Walter Johnson has already set, 20 years of continuous service with the same club.

PIRATES APPEAR TO HAVE EDGE ON YANKEES IN CATCHING STAFF

PITTSBURGH, Pa., October 4 (Canadian Press). — With the peppery and aggressive Earl Smith slated to take the bulk of the World Series behind the bat, the Pirates are expected by most critics to have an edge over the Yankees in the World's Series catching.

Smith not only has a better defensive record than either of the Yankee regulars, Pat Collins and Grabowski, but he is regarded as a more dangerous threat at bat.

Earl's fiery spirit cost the Pirates his services for a month of the league campaign, during which he was suspended and fined $500 for attacking Dave Bancroft, manager of the Braves.

Smith has always been talkative and aggressive. "Oil" got much of his baseball education in the John McGraw school. The players credit him with getting the "goats" of Bucky Harris and Goose Goslin in the 1925 Series, which the Pirates won from the Senators.

Johnny Gooch, Smith's alternate, is a capable receiver ,but he lacks Smith's experience.

Collins, a heavy hitter and steady backstop, has done the bulk of Yankee work ,but Pat's slowness afoot is a handicap. Grabowski and Bengough, who has seen comparatively little action since breaking an arm over a year ago, are younger and more aggressive. Benny may see considerable Series service, as a matter of fact, although the other two have done most of the regular season work.

The catchers' comparison, based on latest unofficial averages:

	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	Fielding P.C.	P.C.
Collins. . . .	91	250	37	67	8	3	7	0	.268	.975
Bengough . . .	30	83	66	20	3	3	0	0	.241	.585

ALL SAINTS' A. A. IS PROGRESSING

Reports at Annual Meeting Show Association in Good Shape.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the All Saints' Athletic Association was held on Friday, September 30, with a good turnout of both active and honorary members.

A review of the activities of the Association for the past year revealed the success of the club. The treasurer's report showed an appreciable credit balance while the secretary's report showed a marked increase in the membership. The social functions were also commented on in the social leader's report. Various other activities of the club were enumerated by the leaders. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—G. Gimblett, Jr.
Vice-President—G. Beauclerc.
Secretary—W. Beavis.
Treasurer—H. Lundy.
Chaplain—G. Young.
Social Leader—C. Lewington.
Athletic Leader—J. Hope.
Chairman of property committee—L. Dyer.
Cheer Leader—A. Sanderson.

Following the election the Rev. W. Fuller of Fredericton, N.B., a former All Saints' boy, was heartily welcomed to the club and was made an honorary member.

The meeting was concluded with refreshments and an address by the rector, in which he requested the presence of all members of the Association at an address to be given in the church on October 6, by Sir John Taylor Smith.

PROSPECTS FOR FAIR WEATHER ON OPENING DAY

Assured Opening Game Will Be Struggle Between Two Aces.

LANDIS ON FIELD

Smith of Pirates and Collins for the Yanks as Catchers.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., October 4 (Associated Press).—If there is anything in the weather omen, it seems that the Pirates may have the edge on the Yankees in their battle for starting on Wednesday. The swashbuckling National Leaguers captured the World's Series of 1925 in the mud and mist of Forbes Field, and it appeared yesterday, as a steady rain turned this battleground into a quagmire, that the elements again were casting favourable signs towards the Corsairs. But the prospect for the opening day is for brighter and fairer weather.

Yesterday was dark and gloomy as the rival clans gathered for baseball's classic and the game's white-haired overlord, Commissioner Landis, arrived to give the scene a preliminary survey. However, there was anything but a dark and gloomy touch to the spirits of the walloping Yankees who reached the scene of the conflict yesterday morning, or the attitude of the Pirates re-assembled again after their great fight for the National League pennant.

Will Be Struggle.

The opening game, it seems assured, will be a struggle between two right-hand pitching aces of the contending clubs. Remy (Ray) Kremer, the California comet, for the Bucs, and Waite Charles Hoyt, the Brooklyn undertaker, for the Yankees. Smith of the Pirates and Collins of the Yankees will be the opposing catchers in the opener.

Donie Bush, scrappy little Pirate chief, has committed himself definitely to Kremer as first choice, with Vic Aldridge, the Hoosier schoolmaster, slated for the second game assignment. Miller Huggins, conceding some poundage to Bush in this battle of midget master minds, probably will start Hoyt, but he declined to commit himself definitely yesterday beyond saying that the first game would see either Hoyt or Wiley Moore, the Oklahoma "sinker-ball" artist, on the mound. Huggins will make a positive selection after today's work-out.

Hoyt Warming Up.

Hoyt, however, warmed up yesterday during the brief drill the Yankees had around noon at Forbes Field before the rain chased them to shelter. He has been the mainstay of the Yankee corps this season, and ranks with Kremer among the foremost right-handed flingers in the game.

The Yankees, led by the irrepressible Babe Ruth and Bustin' Lou Gehrig, were bubbling over with good spirits on their arrival, when a big crowd greeted them as well as at the field later.

Fresh from establishing his new Major League record of 60 home runs the Babe is keen to knock over a few more records in the series. He took a few healthy wallops at the ball yesterday that indicated he won't have much difficulty finding the Forbes range ,even though the Pirate club, to minimize the outfield target, has built its extra stands above and beyond the fences instead of encroaching, as in the past, on any of the field's playing space. The home club frankly admitted it was actuated by a desire to make it just as difficult as possible for the Yanks to break up any ball game with long-distance shots. Special permission to close the adjoining street was obtained to put up these extra stands.

First Yank on Field.

Ruth, attired in an odd uniform that included grey pants and a white shirt, was the first Yankee on the field, and even the most rabid Pittsburgh partisan in the handful of onlookers could not repress a cheer at the sight of the big Bam.

There may be no intense desire among the Pirate followers to see the Babe break loose on a home run splurge, but if the big fellow gets the range he will also get a cheer. St. Louis fans did not let home town sentiment interfere with their display of emotion last fall when Ruth went on a rampage. It is not likely Pittsburgh crowds will be less prone to pay tribute to baseball's one and only Bambino.

Always Dramatic Figure.

Ruth, always the dramatic, was the bug of most comment as the clans gathered from far and near for what seems likely to be as colourful a series as any in recent years. The famous Waner boys, Paul and Lloyd, are a source of keen interest because of the big part they played in bringing the Pirate craft into the pennant port. There are almost as many wagers, as a matter of fact, on whether the Waners will outhit Ruth and Gehrig, as there are on the the teams.

The Yanks have been and seem likely to remain slight favourites in betting circles, at least until the first game. But in spite of the tremendous threat in the Yankee big guns in the way they bombarded all the American League opposition, the idea persists that the Pirates, with speed and pitching as well as an effective punch to count on, will give their rivals a sensational fight.

The Yankees were disappointed not to have had a more extended work-out yesterday, but the Pirates were just as well satisfied the rain kept them idle. On top of their terrific pennant campaign, the Bucs feel the need of a few days of relaxation and rest. They don't need practice.

With field boxes encroaching on the usual playing space back of the foul lines, especially in left field, where the temporary seats are within four feet of the white marker, the rival strategists gave close scrutiny to the changed conditions yesterday. Manager Bush and Captain Traynor, after a survey, stayed to get a peek at the Yankees, while Manager Huggins and Arthur Fletcher, New York coach, went over the playing ground's new angles.

Build Up Bleachers.

Workmen disregarded the downpour of rain to rush work on the temporary bleachers, built up from the centre and rightfield fences. These stands accommodate about 4,000 persons, the additional field boxes, seating around 1,500 more, lift the field's total seating capacity up to 43,000 ,as compared with the capacity of nearly 65,000 at the Yankee Stadium.

Would Shatter Records.

Should the Series go up to seven or even six, games, World's Series records for attendance and gate receipts seem certain to be shattered. The seven game series last fall between the Yankees and Cardinals—whose home grounds, Sportsman's Park, seats less than Forbes Field—established the present record attendance of 328,501 ,and receipts of $1,207,864.

Should the Series go the limit, it would be possible for the attendance to exceed 360,000 and the receipts to be around $1,500,000, still short of Tex Rickard's expensive boxing spectacles, but a mark unheard of in baseball history.

DRUNK, HE CARRIES AWAY REFRIGERATOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—From the tall corn country of Iowa came Buck Ashwood the other day, bent on looking up an old friend and having a rip-roaring time. But Buck did a little two-fisted drinking before he started to find his friend, so when he came to the house and found no one there, he was not pleased.

Just for revenge, Buck carried out the sewing machine and set it in an alley two blocks away. Then he went back and took the ice box, ice, food and all and put them beside the sewing machine. Arrested, Buck later pleaded intoxication. He was sentenced to return the articles from the police station to which they had been taken. He did it single-handed, though the distance was twice as far.

PRINCE OF WALES WON SOCCER GAME

They Defeated Queen Mary One Goal to Nothing in a Good Game.

The return league fixture in the local soccer schedule took place last evening at the King Edward Park between the Prince of Wales and Queen Mary Schools, when the former gained the verdict by one goal to nothing.

First Half.

Both teams showed many changes in positions which made the tactics more scientific throughout. In this respect the winners were definite in their play and always played their allotted position when hard-pressed. Exchanges were even in the early part of the struggle, with the respective goals going under a bombardment from different raids. On one occasion the Prince of Wales forwards outwitted the opposing defence to get into goal where George Jay elbowed the ball through the uprights. He spoiled a good chance to score for his infringement. Queen Mary replied with renewed vigour but found a solid defence that punted clear every time. Half time arrived. Prince of Wales 0; Queen Mary 0.

Second Half.

On resuming play it was very noticeable to watch the winners demonstrate excellent half back play that prevented the opposing forwards from making progress thereby giving their forwards ample time to test Mowry from every range. The goal keeper pulled off some clever saves when hard pressed. Another time he saved a positive count after his defence failed to punt clear from the foot of "Frenchie." Two flag-kicks made play interesting around the losers goal for a while when Jay picked up a loose ball from the corner kick; he dribbled his way inside the full backs to test Mowry, who did not get a chance to clear the ball as "Frenchie" jumped upon it to register the win. From that time until the finish both teams demonstrated that they had a full understanding of the code. Prince of Wales 1. Queen Mary 0.

POTATOES ARE ONLY SLIGHTLY STARCHY

When starches are discussed, the potato is always referred to before any other starchy food. The other principal sources of starch in the diet are found in the various grains, and flour produced from them. These grains are from three to four times more starchy than the so-called Irish potato, but the common thought is to place potatoes the highest on the list. Those who are trying to reduce always eliminate potatoes first from their diet and then eat enough bread daily to keep up their poundage and wonder why they do not lose weight.

The average size potato contains only from 14% to 20% starch, and the peculiar arrangement of its cells makes it more easily digestible than the starch of grains. Here is another tuber taken from its wild state on the slopes of the Andes, in South America, brought to Virginia and then to Ireland, and cultivated into the large tuber which is now used so universally as a part of the everyday food of all civilized races. Its common use today is no doubt due to several reasons. It may be made into many palate-pleasing dishes and mixtures. It is also comparatively cheap in price and lends itself easily to commercial handling. It fills up well, and can be easily eaten without mastication even by babies or old folks.

In addition to these reasons the potato may be also of great value for its nourishing qualities if used properly with other staple foods in the right amount and combinations. Although it is a hearty food, rich in food value, it is too often added to a large meal containing an over-abundance of rich food, and in this way over-burdens digestion and interferes with the digestibility of the other foods. If you wish to enjoy and benefit by a meal containing potatoes, make this food the principal article at that meal and use only such foods with it as the succulent non-starchy vegetables, both in the cooked and uncooked form. Do not spoil its digestibility by frying, but cook it by boiling or baking. The skin should never be removed, but always eaten whether boiled or baked, as this covering contains some of the most vital organic salts, of great value as blood and tissue builders. Do not use any other kind of starchy food at the same meal, such as bread, puddings, or cakes, or you will be creating a mixture of foods incompatible with each other. If you are especially fond of potatoes, try a simple meal occasionally of such combinations as these:

Whole baked potato, raw celery, salad of lettuce and cucumbers.

Boiled potato, cooked spinach, string beans, and raw celery.

Season these vegetables and the potatoes as desired with butter and salt after cooking.

Caution: Do not use tomatoes or any kind of stewed or raw fruit with these combinations.

Rule for Potato Combination: Use potatoes only in combination with raw and cooked non-starchy vegetables.

Questions and Answers.

Question: Mrs. J. G. G. writes: "I have a year and a half old baby, who has constant colds. I have had him on a general baby's diet under the care of a child specialist. What kind of diet would you advise?"

Answer: It is apparent the child specialist does not have your child on a correct diet or he would not be having constant colds. Stop using all milk modifiers and give your baby nothing but pure certified Holstein cow's milk with the addition of one or two teaspoonfuls of orange juice before each feeding. Your baby, at his age, should use about eight ounces at a feeding, taking this quantity at four hour periods, making only four times daily.

Question: F. H. C. asks: "What are the advantages of drinking buttermilk? Is it fattening?"

Answer: Buttermilk provides an excellent protein and if relished is easily digested. It contains a good proportion of nourishment but can hardly be called fattening unless it is used in large quantities and in addition to other foods. On an exclusive buttermilk diet of three quarts a day it is possible for the one who is overweight to gradually lose from a half to one pound daily of fatty tissue, meanwhile keeping the necessary muscular and bony structure of the body well-nourished.

Question: Thank You writes: "I am troubled with sour stomach. It usually stays sour from one meal to the next. Please tell me, if I take the fruit juice fast will I have strength enough to keep driving a small truck?"

Answer: You should be able to take a fruit fast for at least a week or two while doing your regular work. At the end of this time your stomach acidity will be greatly reduced. Then live on the diet I recommend in each Saturday's article.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

A BOUQUET.

I picked my mother a bouquet
(Remember "boo, not bow," to say)
And Mother really thought it was
The funniest bouquet, because
It had a hollyhock, a rose,
And dahlias, one or two of those,
A nice nasturtium, and a red,
Red clover from the clover bed.

A black-eyed susan I put in,
A white, white daisy, tall and thin,
Flow'rs from our garden, and our shelves,
And some that, well, just grew themselves.

Yes, every color you can think
About I had—both red and pink,
And blue and yellow and the rest,
The ones that looked the prettiest.

I took my mother that bouquet
(Remember "boo," not "bow" to say)
And Mother laughed, and said, "My dear,
It seems that everything is here."
I said, "Of course; for when they knew
That I was bringing this to you,
I couldn't bring you only some,
For every flow'r asked to come."

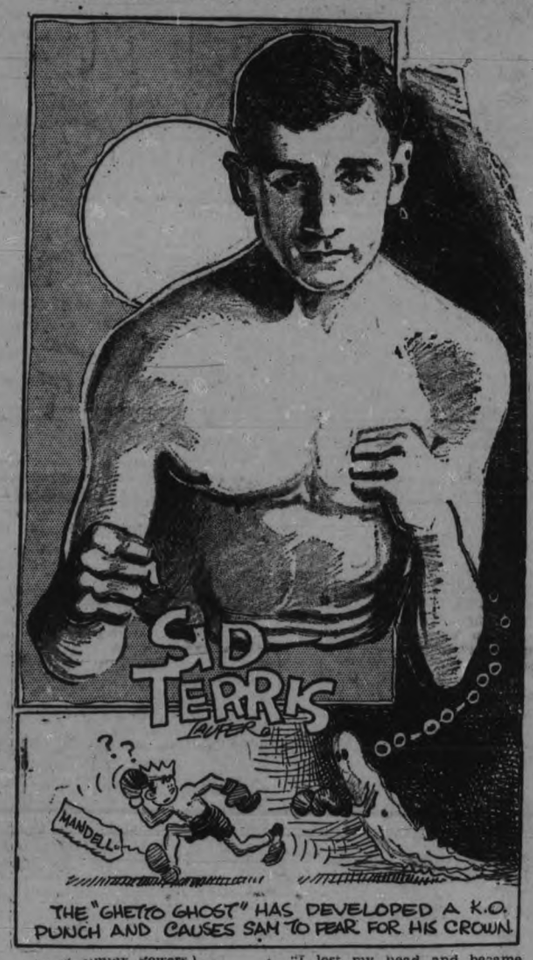
TERRIS WANTS CHANCE AT MANDELL



(By Sammy Powers.)

NEW YORK, October 4. — There is a certain young Jewish lad who is quite likely in the course of a couple of months to be pitted against a certain Italian chappie for the lightweight championship of the world.

Referring of course, to Sid Terris and Sammy Mandell, the parties respectively of the first and second parts.

Now there is an old axiom in boxing: 'A slugger once, a slugger always." And by the same token, the identical rule holds true with respect to the tap, dance and skip-away feather duster.

There are current only two notable exceptions to the rule. One is Mike McTigue. The other is Sid Terris.

Old Mike's change is remarkable in that it did not come upon him until an advanced age. Terris is more fortunate. He has altered his style while still in his prime with many useful ring years ahead of him.

Not that he has discarded all his clever footwork or speed. He still gallops around as fast as ever and lives up to his nickname, "Ghost of the Ghetto." But now he is stalking, crafty, shifty killer, who lunges out with rapier-like lefts and rights, manoeuvres his prey into position, and then—wham, over goes the bone crushing finish.

"I lost my head and became a puncher," says Sid. "In my recent bout with Ruby Goldstein he clipped me one and down I went.

"It was only the first round. There I lay blinking on the canvas. I could hear the crowd roar, the referee count, see the lights blazing down mercilessly and my opponent standing up—the conqueror.

"Suddenly something snapped. My well planned battle faded. I rose and whaled away, slashing wildly recklessly. I was fortunate in finding the range and down went Ruby—for keeps.

"That was a thrill I'll never forget. It is still vivid in my mind. From that time on I really got a kick, a pleasure, out of fighting."

There is little doubt that Terris is a comer—and a game one. For a while there was a whisper of his ability to take it when Eddie Wagner knocked him out three years ago. But later bouts with Billy Wallace, Ruby Goldstein, Jimmy Goodrich and Phil McGraw are proof of his red badge of courage.

The champion, Mandell, is doing all he can to dodge him. Now pressure is being brought on the national commission to force a show down.

When it comes you'll see Terris, the puncher, not Terris the feather-duster, in there whanging away.

RAIN HINDERS YANK WORKOUTS

Ruth and Gehrig Sink Two Homers Into Right Bleachers.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., October 4 (Associated Press). — Rain washed out the range-finding of the Yankee artillery yesterday shortly after it went into action at Forbes Field. The Huggins clouting circus twins, Ruth and Gehrig, sank two long home runs each into the reaches of the right field stands. Meusel and Lazzeri tried to drop the ball into the temporary bleachers erected in the street back of the left field fence. The Babe remarked later that the Yanks ought to batter all the fences, and said it was a good hitting field.

Centrefield is called middlefield in Pittsburgh, and Babe Ruth, noticing that the score board was lettered "M. F." instead of "C.F." called out to Traynor, the Pirates' star third baseman sitting in the stand. "Say, Pie, where is centrefield in this park?" Pie grinned and replied,' 'Over in leftfield, Babe."

Ought to Win.

Art Fletcher, the old Phillies manager, and now a Yankee coach, declared the talk that the Yanks can't hit curve ball pitching is all "bunk." The New Yorkers have looked over curves all season, said Fletcher.

The only real curve ball pitcher on the Pirate squad is Aldridge, and his curve is not as sharp as that of Flint Rhem of the Cardinals. And what did the Yankees do to Rhem last year? Forced him out of the box in four innings. The Yanks ought to win. They have the punch."

Moore On Display.

Wiley Moore and his old sinker ball were on display at Forbes Field yesterday. Moore worked out with Collins, and the "sinker" had the Yank catcher digging in the dirt as the ball broke low. Hoyt says that Moore will be the pitching star of the Series, and though the Pirates may be low ball hitters ,they won't touch Moore's delivery.

Cut Down Field.

The first and third basemen won't have many long runs for foul balls. Temporary boxes encroach far into foul territory so that the fleet Traynor and Jumping Joe Dugan will see many foul balls drop safe that they otherwise could catch in their hip pockets.

Temporary field boxes in deep left field run within four feet of the foul line and balls hit past third base may prove troublesome to Barnhart and Meusel when they carom.

Manager Huggins and Coach Fletcher gave this matter long consideration yesterday, and when the Yanks get in some fielding work-outs today, Meusel will study carom shots.

Centre Attack on Twins.

The Pirate pitchers will centre their attack on the busting twins, believing that if they can reduce the potency of Ruth and Gehrig 50 per cent., the rest of the Yankee offensive will fade out.

Curve Balls.

Curve balls and more curve balls—hooks ,the players call them—will be the Yanks' portion in this Series. The New Yorkers probably won't see a left-hander start a game although Cvengros always caused the Yanks some trouble when he pitched for the Chicago White Sox.

National Leaguers say that the Pirates are poison to left-handers. Bucky Harris did not start a southpaw against the Pittsburghers two years ago, but Miller Huggins says the Pirates will see some real southpaw work when Herb Pennock gets into action. It looks like Hoyt and Moore here, with Pennock to open on Friday at the Yankee Stadium. Shocker and his spitball probably will go in on Saturday.

400 in Press Box.

The four hundred visiting newspaper men will be accommodated in a press box that is three feet below "sea level," seats in a trench that has been dug 80 feet behind the catcher will enable the scribes to report the game from the ground up.

Successful Operation.

Buster Gehrig flung his cap high in the air and did a dance yesterday when he received a telegram that his mother had successfully undergone an operation for goitre. Lou, as well as the other Yankees, had felt much concern over Mrs. Gehrig, herself an ardent fan, and the players shared the first baseman's joy at the good news.

Landis on Ground.

Commissioner Judge Landis came into town with his trick hat, pre-serving his usual neutrality on the outcome of the Series, and venturing some observations on the excellence of his golf game.

The Judge will go over the rules and conduct of the games with Umpires Quigley, Moran, Nallin, and Ormsby to-day. Quigley is expected to be chosen as the umpire-in-chief for the day.

Soccer Notes

Next Saturday's Phelan Charity Cup semi-final is between the Masseys and the Thistle at King Edward Park. Kick-off at three o'clock. There has been no official referee appointed, but the executive await the services of any volunteer for that capacity.

In the scohol game at King Edward Park, last evening, the sons of former players took part in the encounter, George Gay, Joe Gatfield, Gordon Hardie and J. Stewart.

No less than 117 soccer teams in the United States are entered in the cup championships which are taking place just now. Fall River is the champion across the line.

In the Canadian team that travelled throughout New Zealand, out of the eighteen players who so ably represented the country, eleven received their education and football training in Canada, the other seven being residents of the country for many years. They won 20 games out of 23 played, losing two and drawing one. Canada scored 116 goals against 16. The crowds varied from 3,000 in the smaller centres to 23,000 in the test matches. New Zealand lost money in the tour, but they are not worrying over the financial issue, but they consider the visit of Canada to Moari land has done much to foster and promote the Association game.

In Toronto last Saturday there were 63 Public school games—126 teams altogether, with no less than eleven players to a team, thereby making 1,386 boys participating in the game. In the city we have five schools interested in the code, with 55 school boys enjoying the relaxation.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"BEAU GESTE," WITH RONALD COLMAN.

"Beau Geste," on its second presentation in the city, had a good audience at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. The big picture, with its elements of romance, mystery and thrills, its unusual setting in the midst of the Sahara Desert, and the human interest injected by the love, "surpassing the love of women," of three brothers of the Geste family, has a great drawing power and is well worth seeing.

Ronald Colman has the stellar role as "Beau" Geste, elder brother of a trio of boys who are childhood and boyhood playmates and chums. When suspicion falls on one, as the supposed thief of a very valuable jewel, the great "Blue Water" gem that belongs to the family, all go away from their English home to join the mysterious Foreign Legion that fights for France in the desert spaces of Africa.

At Fort Zinderneuf, the outpost of the Sahara, the big scenes are staged. Here the Arabs attack the fort and the Legionaires beat them back time and again. Here is Noah Beery, appearing in one of the most dramatic roles of his career as the brutal commander, Lejaune, whose ferocity excites fear in his men, but whose bravery to the end wins the reluctant admiration of his audiences. It is Lajaune who sets dead men in the openings of the battlements, to deceive the Arabs as to the strength of the defending force, and the two brothers, "Beau" and John Geste, aid him to the last minute. When death overtakes the elder brother, the third boy, coming from another fort with reinforcements, gives him the strange Viking funeral that has been promised him from long ago days of childish play and the corpse and fort alike go up in smoke. Another fraternal sacrifice follows and Digby alone survives to reach England and find the real culprit in the beloved "Aunt Pat," played by Alice Joyce, while Mary Brian has the role of the young ingenue fiancee of Digby, Isobel.

It is a strong and unforgettable picture, done with superb artistry in its photographing and with splendid effect in its casting. The theme is a Quixotic one of vain sacrifice for an idea, a far-fetched but interesting intertwining of human motives, loves and fears.

The Auditorium Orthophonic Victrola which will be an added attraction all this week for the Capitol programmes excited much favorable comment last night, the beautiful, loud music getting an exceptionally favorable reception from the delighted hearers.

—Jeanette.

AT THE REGENT.

Just before her lamented death, the late Gene Stratton-Porter finished "The Magic Garden," and this story has been made into a photoplay by F.B.O. which may now be seen at the Regent Theatre, where it is showing to the delight of the innumerable readers of this beloved writer. This story had not been published until recently when it first appeared as a serial in McCall's magazine, and now, coincident with the release of the picture it is being given to the public in book form. Those who have read the stories of the popular authoress, beginning with the now immortal "Freckles," have shown a deep interest in the filming of three of her most successful books, namely "The Girl of the Limberlost," "The Keeper of the Bees," and "Laddie," just recently released. The absorbing and thoroughly human character of "The Magic Garden" have been brought to the screen in a vivid and colorful fashion against a background of enchanting beauty. The masterful direction is credited to J. Leo Meehan, son-in-law of the late authoress, who is also responsible for the adaptation. The continuity was written by Chas. Kerr.

BOTH TEAMS ARE AT FULL STRENGTH

Hamilton Oskies Likely To Use Bert Gibb Against the Petes.

Both the Hamilton Oskies and the Petes will be at full strength for tomorrow's senior final clash at James Stevenson Park. The invaders played against Windsor minus the services of Languay, one of ther outfield stars, who was in Montreal with the Tigers, but he will be in the line-up to-morrow.

It is expected that Bert Gibb, the Oskies' best twirler, who incidentally is a star footballer and has just been elected captain of the Tigers, will be Manager George Tuck's pitching selection to-morrow, although Lefty Hayton, the southpaw, who worked only one inning on Saturday, is ready for the assignment. Manager Max Swanston has Al Heckman and Jeff Hardill to call upon and both are in shape for the big series.

The game gets under way at 3 o'clock and the teams will line-up about as follows:

Hamilton—Runions, l.f.; Sullivan, 2b.; Languay, r.f.; Broadbent, s.s.; Scott, 3b.; Pilgrim, c.f.; Elford, 1b.; Boyd, c.; Gibb, p.; Hayton, p.; Reid, p.

Peterborough—Rose, 2b.; Johnston, 3b.; Swanston, c.; Heckman, p., or Hardill, p.; Ash, r.f.; Harrison, 1b.; Jim Hall, l.f.; Jack Hall, c.f.; Holyman, s.s.; Batten, utility.

Waner Brothers Pay Call On Babe Ruth

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4 (Canadian Press). — Babe Ruth, a distinguished visitor to Pittsburgh for the World Series, had two interesting callers yesterday. Paul and Lloyd Waner, start outfielders of the Pirates, sent up their cards to the big Bam at the hotel where the Yanks are making their headquarters.

The Waner brothers, who are much smaller than their baseball performances would suggest, seemed even more diminutive when they looked up to greet the huge Ruth.

The picture struck the home run getter at once. "Why, they are just kids," he said, as he blinked his amazement. "If I was that little I'd be afraid of getting hurt."

All Favorites Lose At Paris Jockey Club

PARIS, October 4 (Associated Press). — Seven million dollars for one dollar would have been the reward of any race track bettor at St. Clover yesterday who was fortunate enough to pick the winner in six races and to parlay his initial bet.

All the favourites lost. A horse at six to one was the closest winner. Winkfield, a negro jockey from Kentucky, was the only American to win a race. There were at least ten horses in each race, and the fourth race had 24 starters. The odds on the races were 6 to 1, 8 to 1, 10 to 1, 15 to 1, 20 to 1, and 40 to 1. The tota for one dollar luckily placed would have been $6,720,000.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE.

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan — slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the Garden City tennis tournament. A poetical, queerly spiritual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living, that Mary might be a lady. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary's impish brother, Robert, gets her acquainted with Wally Mason, a young man who has watched the matches. Wally thinks Mary's goddess walk is due to tennis; but Mary, who habitually pretends to talk to her dead mother, knows who set her feet on mountain tops!

Life pounces on you, Mary, while you are unaware, and when you awake, lo, you have a strange bedfellow.

"Not me! Not with me it won't! I shall be ever ahead—fleet. I shall be quicksilver. Life is never quicksilver. Life is sodden. I will walk the mountain tops with the clouds. I will, mother!"

Life was simple now. So much more than it had ever been. Mary resolved to walk the high places, and her steadfast soul assured her that she could. Alone and free, swinging easily with no encumbrances. Life was simple now. There had been a time when she was weighted down to earth. The sodden mass of her mother, from whom life had been drained. It had hurt Mary's insides. Now she called it her Soul. Thus. With the large S. Before that it had been her insides. "My insides hurt, mother, when you come home tired with the lines on your face." There had been so many lines. Mary learned to watch for the new ones. She had learned to sit on mother's lap and smooth them out. Their ugliness repelled her. She had cried, "They're ugly, mother."

"Baby!"

Soft little fingers pressing them out. But they wouldn't leave. A thin network of furrows on forehead, and about the pale eyes, and the parenthesis about the mouth worming in more and more deeply.

"I'm just tired, Baby. Mother's not ill. Just tired."

"You're always tired, mother. Baby wants to play," and young David bundling her unceremoniously away and sitting her in a corner with the tennis balls that rolled about so merrily. Tennis balls and mother, irrevocably bound together. Mother sewed them. Hundreds of them. Boxes of tennis balls stacked high in the living room, and beneath the desk, and behind the clothes tree in the hall. "I can't go, sweetheart. You go. You go and take Davie. Mother has to sew."

Tennis balls and mother. Tennis balls and Mary, but with what a difference. The sunlight and freedom of the courts for Mary, with the balls already sewn. "Mother sewed her life away that I might have my heritage of sunshine, and I shall take all of it, oh, all of it!"

What are you going to do with life, Mary?

"I shall fashion it and shape it to suit my ends. Life will be as wax in my hands, and I will wrench from it the key of the sluices that will pour gold into my lap, gold enough in payment for mother. That is what I am going to do with life."

And the flood of ghostly moonlight promised her silver, too, those nights when Mary mused upon her destiny which was to be molded by her own firm, tanned fingers.

That was the lilt of Mary's walk. All that, you see. And what Wally Mason read into the elastic tread was tennis. Well, tennis for those who couldn't see behind the sea-green eyes, and the red-gold hair that swung against her cheeks as she walked, and the firm little red mouth. Tennis for those who trod the earth.

"Very kind of you to walk home with us, Mr. Mason." Young Bob, beaming. "Very kind of you indeed."

Wally grinned and tousled the little chap's head.

"My head seems to have a sort of fascination for you, eh, Mr. Mason?" asked Bob, looking up at his new friend.

"Well, yes," said Wally. "I think I'd call it that. A sort of fascination. Fact is, Robert," and he looked across Bob's head at Mary, "fact is, that all—uh—most red heads do have a fascination for me. Would you attribute it to the fact that mine own shock is so nondescript?" And he waited anxiously for young Robert's reply to that. "Would you attribute it to that?"

"I should think that would be highly probable, Mr. Mason."

"Oh, Bob, you funny infant!" The mists seemed to gently eddy in Mary's eyes. "How mother would have loved you, young Robert!"

Dusk had sifted down, had settled gently on tree and walk when they stopped before the small green cottage at the end of the street. "This is home," said Robert. "Good-bye, Mr. Mason." They shook hands gravely. "I hope Mary will ask you to come again."

"Oh, Robert!"

"He does want to come, Mary. I know he does!"

"I do, young Bob. I want to come again more than anything else on earth."

"I should like to come again and talk to you—"

"Funny," thought Bob, "that Mr. Mason talks to me and looks at Mary!" He said good-bye again and begged Mr. Mason to excuse him, but he hadn't seen his cat since early that afternoon, and he thought he'd better find out if everything had gone well while he was away.

Mary and Wally Mason were left alone.—There was nothing more beautiful in the world, Wally knew, than Mary's head against the background of the high green hedge.

"Miss Mary?"

"Yes, Mr. Mason?" Her eyes were so sweet when they looked at a fellow with that swimming green sea mistiness. "I should like to come again and talk to you—" It was good to look down into her eyes and know that their frankness was equaled in his.

"I should like to have you—"

"Say Wally!" he pleaded, looking very boyish. A lock of the nondescript hair fell across his forehead, and he brushed it impatiently away. It obstructed the view of her eyes.

"Why—" A faint flush glowed beneath the firm tan of her cheeks. "Why—of course, Wally." And there wasn't a hint of coquettry in the smile she gave him.

Now the words rushed forth. Almost like Robert, thought Mary, and warmed to this very long, thin young man with the nondescript shock of hair and the very eager blue eyes. He had just come to Garden City. He was a reporter on the Daily Herald. He boarded at the Garden City House. He was alone. He was lonely. He had discovered some lovely walks. They could read. Did she like poetry? Rupert Brooks? No, really, she did? What a find! Then they would—? Oh, Lord! What a fortunate break to have been given the tennis tournament assignment! Oh, Lord! Life was rich! Life was good! And he left with the mental picture of the gold of Mary's head and the green of her eyes and the misty way in which they looked at one.

As for Mary, yes, Life was good, she thought.

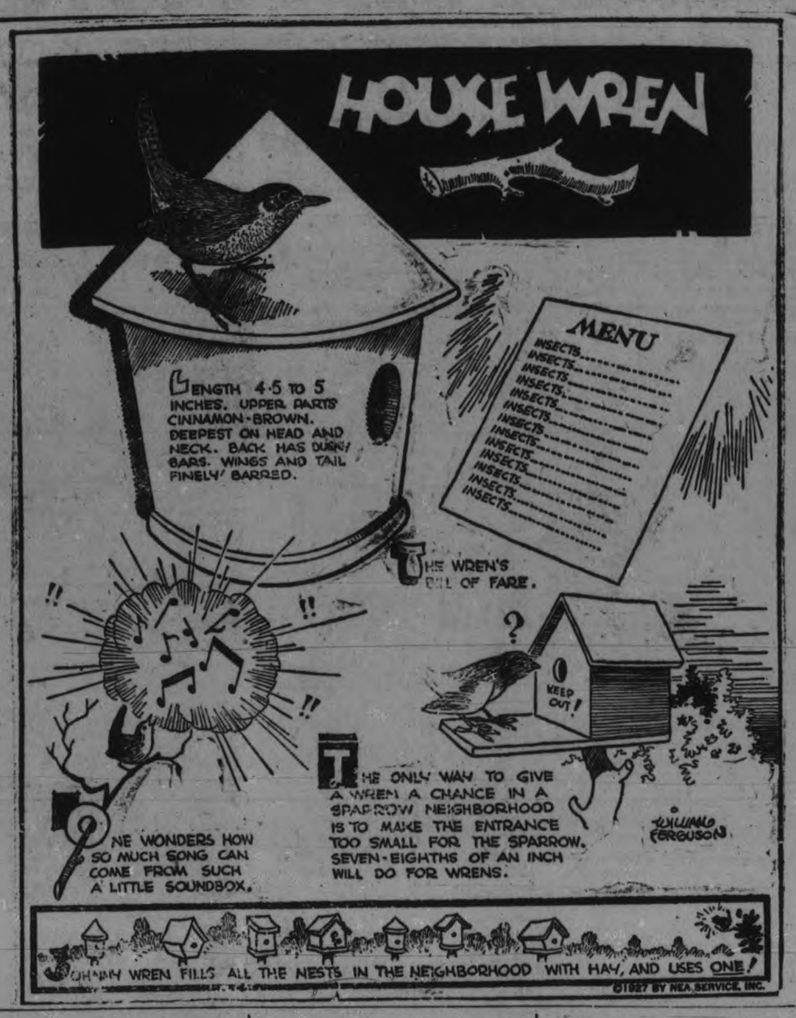
Feathered Facts And Fancies



IS JOHNSTON THROUGH YET?

Some of League Magnates Wonder What Is Up His Sleeve.

RESIGNATION SUDDEN.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(United Press).—When Ban Johnson, celebrated as one of baseball's greatest fighters in his younger days, meekly submitted to the dictum of the Amhad had more intimate experience with the belligerent spirit of their president, were puzzled when, after a stormy session in a New York hotel, Johnson sent for them and erican League Club owners that he was not in physical condition to handle the presidency of the league and resigned, veteran baseball writers who had been with him through other stormy days wagged their heads.

"Ban is not through," was their opinion.

Some of the club owners also, who handed over his resignation. Just a few minutes before he had stormed that he never would quit the job.

The sudden manner in which Johnson capitulated caused them to wonder—what's he up to now?

Johnson, as he put it at that time, hasn't his "house in order" and he is still serving as president during a period necessary to get his house in order but there have been signs of activity in other lines.

Rumors are being heard of an organization of a third major league. At various times since the Federal League blew up there have been bluff moves made toward the formation of an outlaw league to buck the National and American Leagues but the magnates laughed with a feeling of security that what could not be done in the past couldn't be done now.

But there is a slightly different complexion to the situation now. If Ban Johnson is interested in the organization of another league it will not be a sucker venture. Ban is old and all that but he will go down with his boots on.

The majority of the club owners were not owners at the time Johnson organized the American League and put it over after one of the hardest battle of his career. The National League said it couldn't be done but today that American League is quite a league.

It is easy enough to take a map and outline a third league, the magnates argue, but it is a different matter to build parks of the size that are necessary in this day and it is a much different matter to get the players for a new league.

Perhaps the magnates in the organized circuits feel there is enough loyalty among their players to make impossible a serious epidemic of contract jumping but they shouldn't be so sure. As they themselves make the business end of the game primary and the sport of secondary importance, so are the players out after all the money they can get and they can't be blamed for it when they are engaged in what is nothing more than a big business.

The players as a whole are not satisfied as has been indicated by several attempts to organize a union. Those efforts failed through the lack of leadership. Many of the highest ranking players were willing to join a brotherhood or a fraternity but none would risk his job by coming out as a leader.

Johnson is so independently wealthy that he was able to resign with the stipulation that payments on his long term contract should cease when he left office. The magnates were willing to pay him in full on his contract and that payment would have amounted to several hundred thousand dollars. Johnson also could find plenty of financial backing from other sources.

There are some spots like Washington, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati that are represented by only one club and that might support two clubs. There also are cities like Montreal, Baltimore and Kansas City that might support a major league team.

But the big problem, as pointed out above, is securing players and playing field.

It also has been reported that Johnson wants to buy an American Association Club. It is quite certain that he will be connected with baseball in some way as long as he lives. Perhaps he would be content to retire and become a minor league magnate and that he is whispering about another league to annoy his annoyers.

It is significant that Clarke Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, is looking at the Baltimore club. He is said to be willing to buy the franchise with Walter Johnson who would become the manager of the club. Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore club, lost heart in the game when his son died several years ago and is said to be willing to sell.

Ownership of the Baltimore club would not only give Washington a handy farm but would keep any other interests from gaining possession of the park and some very good players.

The Prince of Wales and his younger brother, Prince George, hold equal claim to the honor of being the best dancers in the r yal family. The Duke of York excels at tennis, while Prince Henry is easily the best cricketer.

TWO MEN HURT WHEN BOAT BURNS

One Man Thinks He was Blown From Craft By Blast.

In the gasoline explosion on the launch at Rye's boat house on Saturday, two of the men were rather badly burned and one, it is said, who was in the boat could not tell whether he jumped or was blown out, but the probability is that the latter was the cause.

It is reported that the loss of the boat is in the neighborhood of eight thousand dollars.

WORLD'S SERIES FACTS.

Contenders, New York Yankees, champions of the American League, and Pittsburgh Pirates, champions of the National League.

Schedule: First two games at Forbes' Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 5 and 6, and next three at Yankees' Stadium, New York, Oct. 7, 8 and 9. The last two at Forbes' Field, Oct. 10 and 11. All games scheduled at 1.30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, except the Sunday game at New York, which starts at 2.01 p.m., because of a state law.

In the event of a postponement, because of the weather, the teams remain in either city to play all the allotted games.

Crowd figures: Capacity of Forbes' Field, forty-two thousand; Yankee Stadium, sixty-five thousand. If seven games are played the probable total attendance, based on the capacity crowds, will be about three hundred and eighty thousand, and the total receipts about fourteen hundred thousand dollars.

World series' records, 328,051, and $1,207,854, set in the 1926 series between the Yankees and the Cardinals.

Managers: Owen (Donie) Bush, of the Pirates, first year; Miller Huggins, Yankees, tenth year.

Probable opening battery, Kremer and Smith, for the Pirates; Hoyt and Collins for the Yankees.

Umpires: Mallin and Ormisby, American League; Quigley and Moran, National League.

CHANG'S FORCES TO MAKE STAND

Will Oppose Shansi Nationalists Near Hankow Pass.

WERE OUTFLANKED.

PEKING, October 4 (Canadian Press). — The march on Peking from the north-west continues. The cavalry attached to Yen Hsi Shan's Shansi Province army was reported to-day to be approaching the city of Suanhwafu, which has been evacuated by Marshal Chang Tso Lin's Mukdenites. Tso Lin's Manchurians to-day were preparing to make a resolute stand in the vicinity of the Hankow Pass. Their withdrawal from Kalgan, it is stated, was due to the flank attack by the Shansi Province troops, who are now definitely known to be pro-Nationalist in their threat against Peking.

RIVAL UNIONS MAKE TROUBLE

International Carpenters Demand Dismissal of Canadian Men.

WANT, RAISE, TOO.

TORONTO, October 4 (Canadian Press).—Local carpenters affiliated with the American Federation of Labor have threatened to go out on strike unless the General Contractors' Association of Toronto employs only international union members instead of, as at present, members of the Amalgamated Carpenters' Union, a purely Canadian organization. A strike by the United Carpenters' Union may take effect to-morrow, it is stated. The union claims that a general strike of the building trades in Toronto will follow.

Besides demanding abrogation of the agreement between the General Contractors' Association and the Amalgamated Carpenters, the United Carpenters want an increase of ten cents an hour.

GERMAN PLANE LEAVES FOR U.S.

Junkers Seaplane, Commanded By Losse, Heads For Azores.

MAY HAVE LADY ABOARD.

NORDERNEY, German, Oct. 4. — (Canadian Press).—A new German attempt to span the Atlantic Ocean by air began to-day with the departure of D-1230, three-motored Junkers hydro airplane, for the United States by way of the Azores.

The plane, in command of Frederick Losse, one of the crew of the Junkers plane Bremen during the unsuccessful trans-Atlantic attempt in August, took off at 4.46 p.m. after a start of about 150 yards, and headed in a westerly direction with the Azores as its destination. The greatest secrecy surrounded the final preparations for the hop-off, and it was impossible to learn whether Lily Dillenz, Viennese actress, was on board as has been reported.

WOMEN MEET IN STRATFORD

Heavy Business Agenda For National Council of Women.

QUESTIONS OF INTEREST.

STRATFORD, Ont., October 4. — With a heavy business agenda before them, upwards of a hundred members of the National Council of Women to-day opened their annual convention, which will continue for four days here. Subjects of Dominion wide interest, such as the appointment of women to the Senate of Canada will be considered. Greetings were voiced by the various provincial vice-presidents at the first session to-day. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor D. R. Marshall, and Mrs. C. L. Walsh, President of the local Council of Women.

Northern Bakeries Leads Active Toronto Market

TORONTO, Ont., October 4 (Canadian Press). — Northern Bakeries was the active and strong leader of this morning's session of the Toronto Stock Exchange, when most stocks other than the unlisted oils firmed somewhat, Bakeries sold up 2½ at 41½. Brazilian made another record high at 209, easing to 207, fractionally higher than yesterday. Brompton gained more than two points at 47⅛ and Walker's a full point at 57½. British-American Oil eased a quarter at 32¼ and Imperial was fractionally lower at 59½. International Nickel in heavy dealings lost half a point at 68⅞.

Prices Go Higher Despite Pressure

NEW YORK, October 4. Canadian Press. — Selling pressure increased in to-day's stock market, but prices continued to forge ahead under the buying of powerful speculative forces. New leaders were quickly brought forth when ever old favorites showed signs of wavering. More than 30 issues were elevated to new high levels for the year or longer, several of the gains running from 5 to 11 points. A wave of selling swept across America around mid-day, forcing recessions of one to three points in some of the leaders, but the offerings were readily absorbed, and the market was headed upward again in the early afternoon under the leadership of such issues as American Telephone, General Electric, International Harvester, and United States Steel Common.

In the absence of any business or trade news of consequence the rise was generally attributed to the relatively easy position of the money market. Call money continued to rule steady around four per cent., but time money and commercial paper market displayed an easier undertone.

Laval Fluctuates Over Wide Range

TORONTO, Ont., October 4 (Canadian Press). — The lid was taken off Laval Quebec this morning, and in a boiling market on the Standard Mining Exchange it soared to 75, opening at 70. When a turnover of more than half a million shares had been rolled up, Laval was at 54 at noon, twenty-one below the high and still thirteen points higher than yesterday's close. The turnover of the session was about a million and three-quarters. Movements were contradictory, one of the losers being Amulet with a drop of twenty-one at 652. Dome slumped nearly a dollar at 10.05, and Barry Hollinger lost 3½ at 94.

Wheat and Corn Gain Because Of Bad Weather

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (Canadian Press).—Both wheat and corn prices developed strength today after downturns at the start. Unfavorable weather for threshing in Canada, together with assertions that much corn is yet susceptible to frost damage, acted as the main bullish factors. Starting at ⅝c off to a shade up, wheat scored gains all around. Corn opened ¼c to 1c down and later showed a general advance. Corn opened ¼c to 1c down and later showed a general advance. Oats were firmer. Provisions likewise tended upward.

Opening prices were: Wheat, December 130⅝, March 133⅛. Corn, December 93½, March 96⅝. Oats, December 48¼, March 50⅛.

Seeing New York by air is cheaper than by taxi. The same route covered by an airplane at a cost of $5 will run up a taxicab bill of $6.10, it is reported.

Not money, but men is what he wants, says Padre Harry B. Ellison, one of the chief missionaries of the Toc H movement, touring Canada in the interests of the organization. The name of the movement, already firmly established in Great Britain, in Australia ,in South Africa and other parts of the world, is an abbreviation of Talbot House, a famous institution in Poperinghe, near Ypres during the war. He is one of the best known personalities in Great Britain and is affectionately known by many thrqughout the British Empire as "Uncle Harry."

CATTLE FEED FISH

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 4.—An excellent bit of co-operation is being practiced on a farm near Fremont by a herd of cows and a school of fish. The cattle wade into a pond to rid themselves of flies. The flies perch on their nearly submerged backs and the fish jump out of the water and catch them.

KINGSTON MAN ELECTED HEAD AT CONVENTION

N. Y. Mills Chosen Governor for Ontario-Quebec District of Kiwanis Club.

WORK REVIEWED

Decided by Assembly to Hold 1928 Convention at Kingston.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press.)—N. Y. Mills, of Kingston, was elected yesterday district governor for the Ontario-Quebec District of Kiwanis, for 1928, succeeding W. B. Cockburn, of Toronto. The ninth annual convention of the district in session in the Masonic Temple here also decided to hold the 1928 convention in Kingston. A resolution passed at the last session changed the name of this district to the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime District. This was a move in respect to the ardent and enthusiastic clubs which exist in Yarmouth N.S., Sydney, N.S. and St. John, N.B. The new Lieutenant-Governors for the ensuing year are as follows: Eastern Division William S. McLennan, of Montreal, by acclamation; Central Division, Andy Gaul, of Hamilton, elected over John I. Allen, of Peterborough; Western Division, Jack Waddell, of Brantford, elected over A. Willard, of Galt; Northern Division, William Lewis, Barrie, who was elected when Smythe Carter, secretary-treasurer for this year, withdrew his name from nomination. Arthur R. Ford, of London, was proposed as representative of the district on the International Board. His name will go before the International nomination conference at Seattle. The alternative for position is Isaac McNab, of Peterborough. In the election for district governor there were three nominees, Mr. Mills and Lieutenant Governors S. F. Dadson, of Hull, and F. E. Harvey of Windsor.

Ask For New Ruling.

Among the resolutions carried was one asking the Governor for a ruling as to the correct way to toast the King. This is a request from individual clubs whose members feel as things are at present there are altogether too many ways of fulfilling this most important of toasts. Another resolution amalgamates the classification and membership committees and another resolution makes the vocational and placement committee a standing one in this district. Both are in accordance with recommendations of international headquarters. The convention thanked international headquarters for the Canadian diamond Jubilee edition of the magazine.

Work Reviewed.

H. Stovell, of Hamilton, bringing in his report on work among underprivileged children declared that only 19 clubs of 24 in the district had responded to request for information.

However, from the 19 clubs which had received the request they were taken care of 1,600 of such children last year. They had maintained 14 summer camps, had taken out 500 memberships in the Y.M.C.A. for the boys and had found employment for 50 of the 1,600 children. He thought that gave a fair indication of the work being done. On his recommendation a resolution was passed approving the formation of a committee under privileged children to be a standing committee in district.

Winners of the inter-club relations contest were given by the chairman, G. R. Wallace of West Toronto. They are: Cornwall, in the Eastern, Brantford in the Western, Owen Sound in the Northern and Belleville in the central district. London had established what was believed to be a record between August 9 and August 19. They had made six visits to neighboring clubs, on each occasion taking a fairly large percentage of membership with them.

The convention concluded last night with a social evening.

32 NEW MEMBERS REPORTED FOR 'Y'

Canvassers Also Have Secured 202 Renewal Pledges.

At the luncheon in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday, there were reported one hundred and two renewals of memberships and thirty-two new members secured, making a total of one hundred and thirty-four out of an objective of one hundred and eighty set for this Friday.

It is expected that thirty renewals and twenty new members, at least, will be forthcoming by that time, which, with the renewals to come from the rural class in the near future will boost it over the top.

A complete dining service, including a six-course chicken dinner, is provided by the Colonial Air Transport Company in planes flying between New York and Boston. The food is taken aboard already cooked. It is planned to extend this service to a New York-Chicago run.

Vanzetti's Sister Stops Over At Paris

CHERBOURG, France, October 5 (Associated Press). — Luigia Vanzetti, sister of Bartelomeo Vanzetti, who was executed in Massachusetts, arrived here yesterday bearing the ashes of her brother.

The "funeral package," as the French police described the urn containing the ashes of the executed man, was placed in a special car and sealed.

Miss Vanzetti ,on the ground of intense fatigue, pleaded with the authorities to be allowed to go to Paris, and permission was granted with the provisional condition that she remain in the suburbs of the capital, and leave for Italy within 72 hours of her arrival there.

RUSH TO AID OF COAL BARGE

Wireless Message Reports the Theodore Palmer in Distress and Sinking.

POSITION UNKNOWN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. — (Canadian Press). — Coastguard patrol boats scurried yesterday toward Barnegat light, where wireless messages reported the coal barge Theodore Palmer in distress and sinking. The exact position of the barge was not known. Its plight was revealed by a radio message that the hold of the vessel was filling rapidly and that the barge was sinking fast.

The Theodore Palmer is believed to have left Newport News, Va., for New London, Conn., under tow of the tug A. L. Walker. The distress message said that four members of the barge crew had been taken aboard the tug.

Onufry Osadchak Remanded For Week

MOOSE JAW, Sask., October 5 (Canadian Press). — Alex Oshuk alias Onufry Osadchuk, charged with the murder of Dr. W. M. Brown, well-known and popular physician, appeared in the City Police Court yesterday, and was remanded for seven days at the request of the Acting Chief of Police. Walter Mills, K.C., appeared for the accused.

In a statement to the police, which Oshuk voluntarily made, the accused stated that he went to Dr. Brown's office some time prior to the actual shooting, but then turned away from the door of the inner room and went outside and stood in the corridor of the building. A few minutes later, he says, he was seized with the impulse that he must do something, and going to the office door he opened it. Dr. Brown was seated at his desk facing the door ,and Oshuk says he pointed the gun, and said:

"You ruined my eyes and got my money, and this is coming to you!"

90 SCHOLARS FROM COUNTY IN COLLEGIATE

Three Others From Neighboring Counties in Total Attendance of 648.

541 CHILDREN INOCULATED

Recent Campaign Against Diphtheria Very Successful in Opinion of School Doctor.

That ninety-three of the pupils registered at the Collegiate Institute this year are from outside the City of Peterborough was the information conveyed to the Board of Education by H. R. H. Kenner the principal, at last night's meeting. As most of these are in the first form and will remain next year, while others are added, the members of the Board are satisfied that their estimate of 100 county pupils, made when the costs of the addition to the Collegiate were being estimated, was very conservative.

Of the outside pupils, ninety are residents of Peterborough County, two of Northumberland, and one of of Victoria.

The total attendance in the Collegiate is 648, the largest in the history of the school. Of these 437 are in the main building, in 13 class rooms, and 211 in the six class rooms of the Commercial department.

Dr. A. W. McPherson's report as School Medical Officer, was not presented in time to be read at the meeting, but dealt mainly with the recent campaign for the inoculation of pre-school age children against diphtheria. Five hundred and forty-one were given their first inoculation, and the second will be given three weeks after the first. The figures for the different schools are Prince of Wales 86, Central 81; Queen Mary, 77; King Edward, 127; Queen Alexandra, 95, and King George, 75. This is a large percentage of the children of pre-school age who will enter the public schools.

Dr. McPherson also stated that he had discussed with Bishop O'Brien and the School Board, the matter of doing the same work for the children of the Separate school supporters, and that it would be brought up at the next meeting of that board. A number of children coming from both boards have been inoculated privately already.

Toronto School Health Officials Doubt Inoculation In Peterborough

Peterborough's School Board is apparently in the backwoods state of progress. At least, that is the opinion of Toronto School health authorities. Dr. A. W. McPherson, School Health Officer for the Public Schools of this city, has twice recently heard from former residents of the city who are living in Toronto and whose children were inoculated here against diphtheria. School doctors and nurses there refused to believe it possible that this had been done in schools outside of Toronto and seemed convinced that the parents were mistaken in their claims.

KIWANIS CLUB WINS HONORS AT CONVENTION

Gets High Places in Various Inter-Club Contests For Year.

MILLS IS GOVERNOR.

Kingston Selected as Place For District Convention Next Year.

LONDON, Oct. 5. — Peterborough Kiwanis Club won several honors at the convention of the Ontario-Quebec district which closed here on Tuesday night. First place in the efficiency contest, entitling the club to a trophy, second place in the inter-club visiting contest, and a high position in the attendance contest were among the distinctions gained. President Isaac P. McNabb was unanimously elected alternate to Arthur B. Ford of London as the choice of the convention to represent the district on the international board, probably as vice president. John R. Heron, chairman of the district publicity committee, was congratulated on his annual report, acclaimed by international and district officers as the best presented at the convention. Second place in the club exhibit was given the Peterborough club.

The stunt was produced under direction of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., and E. Vernon Morphet, and the cast included Isaac McNabb, Joseph John, Harry Boyle, Charles Elliott, John Heron, John Turner, Herbert McCannan, John Allen, Rev. J. D. Paterson.

Next year's district convention will be held at Kingston, and it is expected that every member of Peterborough club will attend, this being

Post Office Continue Experimental Flights

OTTAWA, Ont., October 5 (Canadian Press). — The experimental air flights which the Post Office Department has been conducting will be continued for at least another week, it was learned here last night. A new flight will be attempted on Friday when a seaplane will bring mails from Quebec to Ottawa. As usual mails will be brought by plane from Rimouski to Quebec City.

From the Empress of France and from Quebec, mails for the Capital will be taken by a second aircraft. Two private companies will undertake this new feature of the experimental work.

The postal authorities here are still non-committal as to the probable success of permanent air mail routes.

NO CONTRACT; POWER STOPS

Hydro Will Cut Off Others in the Rural Districts.

FRIDAY FINAL DAY.

For some months the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario has given the rural users of light and power time to sign new contracts, but many have not done so. The first step in disconnecting the service was made in the Township of Smith today, when the power was cut off from a house on Wolsley Street. Others had been given until Friday to sign up their contracts or they will find themselves without light. It is the policy of the Commission to discontinue the service as soon as possible to all who have not signed the new contracts.

PILOT LOOSE ATTEMPTS HOP ACROSS OCEAN

Junkers Plane Takes Off For the U. S. By Way of Azores.

STOP AT LISBON.

Woman Passenger Smuggled Aboard Shortly Before Start.

NORDERNEY, Germany, Oct. 5.—(Associated Press).—German aviators set out at 4.46 yesterday afternoon to retrieve their previous defeat in an attempt to make a westward passage across the Atlantic by air. The Junkers hydro-airplane D-1230 took off from this place for the United States, by way of the Azores. A stop will be made at Lisbon, thence to the Azores, where the plane will be refueled for the long span to Harbor Grace, Nfld. The American port of destination has not been announced.

The D-1230 is in command of Frederick Loose, who was on the "Bremen" when she made her unsuccessful trans-Atlantic attempt in August.

Only picked German air navigators are in charge of the expedition and the machine, which is a low wing Junkers model G-24 with pontoons has been thoroughly groomed for the flight. Great secrecy was maintained at the aerodrome, correspondents being barred from the field. They were even threatened with arrest for "violating domestic peace." Only the airmen's wives and families were permitted near the shore when the crew were taken out to the plane.

Smuggled Aboard:

A woman passenger was smuggled aboard shortly before the D-1230 took off. She is Mrs. Lilli Dillenz, a Viennese actress and daughter of the painter Carl Hollitzer. She is a real mystery passenger, and no explanation was given of her presence aboard or whether she will complete the overseas trip.

Those backing the flight declared that the venture was not undertaken in the nature of a sporting event, but for the purpose of testing the motors of this type of plane and available routes. The machine is a 12-passenger plane, the cabin of which has been converted into a fuel storage compartment. It carries a complete receiving and sending wireless set and scientific equipment.

Rolf Starke, a skilled pilot, is also aboard, and the men have been instructed not to force the flight at any stage, as no record is being sought, but merely a practical demonstration of the feasibility and safety of ocean air navigation. Two sacks of mail, which were originally put aboard the "Europe" and "Bremen" for the United States, were taken on the D-1230.

The Junkers works announce that they are the exclusive backers of the flight.

At Amsterdam.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Oct. 5. — (Associated Press).—The Junkers plane D-1230, which hopped off from Norderney, Germany, at 4.40 yesterday afternoon, landed here last evening. It will proceed for Lisbon at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Police Make Arrests Of Spanish Rebels

HONDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, October 5 (Associated Press). — The Spanish conspiracy against the Primo De Rivera Government had ramifications throughout the country, particularly in Bilbao and Barcelona, according to uncensored advices from Spain.

A general strike was to be declared on October 10, the date set for the opening of the so-called National Assembly, and disturbances were planned.

The police continue to make arrests. The labour federations, as well as sections of the Free Syndicate, have refused appointments to the National Assembly membership.

DATES SET FOR ROSENEATH FAIR

Agricultural Exhibition to be Held on October 13th and 14th.

GOOD PRIZE LIST

ROSENEATH, Oct. 5.—Roseneath Fair dates are set for October 13 and 14 and plans are being made to make this Agricultural Fair the best of the season. The strongest committees possible, consisting of men who know the needs of their particular branches, are appointed and they work for months drawing up prize lists that will be to the greatest advantage of the farming community. The prize list has been revised entirely and several items which had become out of date have been eliminated and new items are added.

Pride of place among the new features on the Fair ground must be given to the new horse stable situated on the south-west corner and will be reserved entirely for the care and shelter for the race horses.

A huge section of the grounds is devoted to the animal exhibits, while the shed is allotted for fruit and vegetables. The hall will be crowded with fine arts, domestic, etc.

The prizes are made large enough to attract the people from a large area in order that competition may be keen and those viewing the exhibits may see the best that the surrounding community produces.

The exhibitors who fail to take prizes and the farmers who don't exhibit see what the stock and produce is like and take steps to find out why it is good and make their own as good.

The president, Mr. F. J. Slade, and his assistants, are not sparing either time or labor to make this year's Fair the most successful in all the years that Roseneath has undertaken such an enterprise.

AUGUST FIRE LOSS HEAVIER THIS YEAR

Ontario Fire Marshal's Report Shows Decrease for Eight Months.

The Ontario Fire Marshal's report for the month of August shows an increase this year over August of 1926, in the number of fires and the loss caused by them.

There is an increase also in the number of fires for the first eight months of this year over the corresponding months last year, but the loss for these months shows a decrease.

The following are the statistics for the month:

August, 1927, had 840 fires, as compared to 799 in August, 1926, showing 41 of an increase, with an increased loss of $25,204.

The loss for eight months of January to August of 1927 shows a decrease of $724,302 from the same kind in 1926, while there was an increase of 74 in the number of fires.

The four leading classes of risks for these months show an increase and number of fires of 36 and in the loss an increase of $233,838; in dwellings a decrease of 10 and in loss $9,016; in stores a decrease of 54 with decreased loss of $936,173; and in factories 9 less and the loss $535,934 less.

The large fires in August were the Hyman Tannery, London, estimated at $250,000: lumber in yard at Biscotasing, $103,487; at Toronto the Allan Manufacturing Co. and others, 103-107 Simcoe street, $103,646.

Barn fires, as always in August, were exceptionally heavy, numbering 125, with an aggregate loss of $335,059.

HIS HORSE KNEW.

NEW YORK. — Hailed by Mounted Patrolman Kelley because he violated a traffic regulation, W. S. Gother stopepd his car and listened to a reprimand. Just as he was about to drive on the patrolman's horse snorted. Kelley looking for the reason found a case of liquor in the car.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Oct. 4 (By the Canadian Press).—As a result of the slackness of the salmon fishing season, a Prince Rupert Products Company, operating a reduction plant at Tuck's Inlet, has decided to go into the dogfish oil and meal business in order to keep the plant in operation.

BELIEVE THAT PREMIER WILL CHANGE MIND

Winnipeg Confident Ferguson Will Be New Leader of Conservatives.

FIRST DELEGATE ARRIVES.

Several Important Meetings Scheduled in Preparation For Convention.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—As the time for electing Provincial delegates to the Conservative convention draws near, the feeling is growing in Winnipeg that Hon. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, will be chosen. News has leaked through the city that pressure of the strongest kind is being brought to bear on the Ontario Premier. There is every reason to believe that it will be renewed when Mr. Ferguson reaches Winnipeg for the convention, and prominent local Conservatives express themselves as being unable to see how he will resist it.

Election Certain.

It is certain that his name will be proposed and that he will be given a chance to accept or refuse. Should he consent to nomination, and there is a growing feeling that he will, notwithstanding recent statements by Mr. Ferguson that he is not going to be a candidate, then, many Winnipeg Conservatives say, his election would be certain. They even go the length of venturing the opinion that Hon. Hugh Guthrie, present leader, as well as others whose names have been mentioned in connection with the leadership, would withdraw from the contest.

First Delegate.

Mrs. Annie Downey, Oshawa, Ont., is the first delegate to arrive from east or west. A prominent worker in the Conservative cause in Ontario, Mrs. Downey left for Portage La Prairie, where she will be the guest of friends for a few days.

Mrs. Downey was wearing the official convention badge for delegates. The badge is of royal blue silk, and bears the words in gold letters, "National Conservative convention, 1927." These badges have been mailed to delegates in all parts of the Dominion.

Meetings At Winnipeg.

Preparatory to the opening of the National Conservative convention here on October 10, several important meetings are scheduled for this week.

General A. D. McRae, chairman of the organization Committee, who arrived here Sunday, spent a busy day Monday conferring with local and provincial committee members and representatives of the national committee.

The first important meeting is expected to be held to-morrow, when the national committee, with General McRae presiding, will hold its first session here. Other meetings are scheduled for later in the week.

Greatest Convention.

"The convention will be the greatest the Conservative party has ever held," declared W. G. Clysdale, organizer in the province of Ontario, and secretary of the Ontario Conservative Association, who arrived here Monday night. He said there would be more than 2,000 Conservatives from Ontario alone, of which 1,000 will be accredited delegates. The big trek from Ontario will start October 7, when four special trains will convey delegates and their friends to Winnipeg.

Mr. Clysdale expressed himself as confident that with the convention a new and successful era would dawn for the Conservative party.

250 Women.

Women delegates to the convention, representing various provincial associations throughout the Dominion, will number 250, it is stated, while 34 out of 43 privy councillors will attend and of the 50 Conservative senators, 45 have arranged to be present.

Three Names Mentioned

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press).—Three names were prominently mentioned here yesterday for temporary chairmanship of the Conservative National Convention, which opens in Winnipeg on October 10. Those mentioned are Sir George Perley, member of Parliament for Argenteuil; Sir James Aikins, Winnipeg, and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, provisional leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Federal House.

Members of the Ontario advance guard of delegates which arrived here yesterday, suggested the name of a fourth candidate might be submitted. Their preference was J. R. McNicol, president of the Ontario Conservative Association, and a member of the national committee. The temporary chairmanship is in the main honorary, but in the current of convention events is regarded as one of the three major honors which the gathering will bestow.

Tariff Questions

One of the outstanding questions that will receive the attention of the convention, the tariff, was up for discussion at a meeting of the provincial executive of the party yesterday evening. It is regarded as highly probable that as an outcome of last night's deliberations, a resolution will go forward to the convention endorsing the principle of moderate tariff, with a gradual reduction of the implements of production.

Opening World Series Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press).—World series guessing gave way to-day to solid facts as the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Yankees went out to say it with baseball bats and curves.

The opening of the series found the Yankees seven to five favorites and every one satisfied but a large number of fans and Herby Pennock. Many of the cheer leaders during the regular championship season had no definite and certain plans for getting in the park to-day, and the star Yankee left hander was limping about with a bruised knee.

A dense fog hung over the city as dawn broke. The local government forecaster, however, said to-day gave all indications of being one of the fairest of fair October days, with the likelihood that as soon as the fog cleared the sun would appear to warm the atmosphere and gladden the hearts of fandom.

In spite of previous experience in the baseball classic, the city capitulated early in a record-breaking rush of excited fans to the scene of action.

On the surface the Pirates and Yankees calmly prepared to give their partisans something to cheer about, but the players, veterans and youngsters alike had caught the contagion of the moment and were just as excited as the customers.

By noon the sun was doing its full duty in driving the early fog to cover and there was no sign of rain.

There was a bit of repartee between the contesting managers as they came on the field. The pilots both small but aggressive, walked to the bench together.

"Well, Hug, it's old stuff, but I hope the best team wins," grinned Donie Buss.

"Go on," replied Miller Huggins, "you know we'll trim you anyway."

The Batting Order.

Pittsburgh—L. Waner, cf; Barnhart, lf; P. Waner, rf; Wright, ss; Traynor, 3b; Grantham, 2b; Harris, 1b; Smith, c; Kremer, p.

New York—Combs, cf; Koenig, ss; Ruth, rf; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, lf; Lazzeri, 2b; Dugan, 3b; Collins, c; Hoyt, p.

Umpires—Ernest Quigley, National, at plate; Dick Nallin, American, first base; Charles Moran, National, second; Emmett Ormsby, American, third.

OPENS FOR PIRATES.

Ray Kremer

First Innings.

Yankees—Combs strolled out from the Yankee dugout swinging two bats and the crowd howled when Kremer walked to the box. Kremer threw up a few balls to Smith and then nodded to Quigley that he was ready. The ball was thrown out from a field box and play was started. Combs hit a long fly to Barnhart, who caught the ball near the score board. Combs hit the first ball pitched. Koenig struck out. Ruth singled sharply to right. Smith threw down to first but Ruth got back to the bag. Ruth scored on Gehrig's three-base hit. It was a short fly and P. Waner overran it. Waner took Meusel's long fly. One run, two hits, no errors.

Pirates—Hoyt warmed up a little as the Yankees took the field, and the home folks gave L. Waner a big cheer when he came to the plate. L. Waner was hit by a pitched ball which struck him on the shirt. Barnhart lined out to Ruth. P. Waner doubled to right, L. Waner going to third. The crowd was frantic. P. Waner hit the first ball pitched. L. Waner scored on Wright's sacrifice fly to Combs, P. Waner going to third on the catch. Traynor flied out to Ruth, who made a fine running catch. One run, one hit, no errors.

Second Innings.

Yankees—Lazzeri sent up a high foul to Traynor. Dugan sent up a high one to Grantham. Collins walked, the fourth ball being low. Grantham threw out Hoyt at first. This was the first assist of the game. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—Grantham got a base on balls. Harris hit into a double play. Lazzeri took Harris' grounder, touched Grantham, and then threw out Harris at first. Smith went out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Innings.

Yankees — Grantham fumbled Koenig's grounder and the batter was safe on first. Ruth singled into right, Koenig going to third. It was Ruth's second hit. Gehrig got a base on balls, the fourth being wide, and the bases were filled. Koenig scored when Meusel got a base on balls. The bases were still filled. Ruth scored when Lazzeri forced Meusel, Wright to Grantham. Gehrig scored on a double steal. Lazzeri went to third when Smith let Traynor's throw go through him. There was no stolen base, only an error for the catcher. Dugan lined out to Barnhart. Three runs, one hit, two errors.

Pirates—Kremer got a two-base hit to right on the ground rules. L. Waner flied out to Meusel. Meusel dropped Barnhart's fly, but Kremer held second. Kremer scored on P. Waner's single to centre, Barnhart halting at second. It was waner's second hit. Wright forced P. Waner, Lazzeri to Koenig, Barnhart going to third. Traynor forced Wright, Koenig to Lazzeri. One run, two hits, one error.

Fourth Innings.

Yankees—Collins sent up a high fly to L. Waner. Hoyt flied out to P. Waner. Barnhart took Combs' line smash after a long run. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—Grantham went out to Gehrig unassisted. Koenig threw out Harris at first, Gehrig saving Koenig from a wild throw by a nice catch. Smith sent up a high fly to Collins, who took the ball in front of the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Yankees.—Koenig got a two-base hit to right. Grantham took Ruth's grounder and beat the Babe to the bag, Koenig going to third. It was no sacrifice. Koenig scored on Gehrig's sacrifice fly to P. Waner. Meusel sent up a high fly to Wright. One run, one hit, no errors.

Pirates—Kremer fanned. L. Waner doubled along the left field foul line and scored on Barnhart's sharp single past Koenig. P. Waner's grounder bounced off Hoyt's glove and it went to Lazzeri, who juggled the ball. The official scored favors a hit. Barnhart went to second. Wright flied to Combs, Barnhart going to third on the catch. It was a sacrifice fly for Wright. Combs made a fine catch of Traynor's short fly. 1 run, 3 hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Yankees. — Lazzeri tried to bunt and the crowd gave him the laugh as he fouled the ball. Lazzeri got a two-base hit to the left field fence. Traynor went over to talk to Kremer and Manager Bush took Kremer out of the box, calling in Miljus to take up the pitching burden for the Pirates. Kremer showed lack of control of his fast curves. Miljus warmed up in the box and Dugan went to bat. Dugan sacrificed, Smith to Grantham, Lazzeri going to third. Collins walked, the fourth pitch being outside. Hoyt hit into a double play, Wright to Grantham to Harris. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Pirates.—Gehrig took Grantham's hot grounder and touched first. Harris sent up a high one which Ruth captured. The Bame came in fast and took Smith's hoist. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

Yankees.—Combs fanned, going after a low curve. Koenig went out, Harris to Miljus. Ruth singled sharply over second base for his third hit. Miljus tried to pick Ruth off first. Ruth was caught off first. The play was Miljus to Harris to Wright to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pirates.—Miljus was a strike-out victim, going after a sweeping curve for the third strike. Waner tried to

REBEL LEADERS ARE EXECUTED BY GOVERNMENT

General Serrano and Thirteen of Followers Pay Supreme Penalty.

MUTINEERS DISARMED.

Calles and Obregon Prepare Plans For Crushing of Revolt.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5 (A.P.).—The iron hand of Calles has already fallen upon the alleged instigators of the military revolt. Less than 24 hours after the uprising started in Mexico City, General Francisco Serrano, candidate for the presidency, former war minister and once close friend of General Obregon, declared to be the main leader in the rebellion was executed. Thirteen of his most prominent followers also paid the supreme penalty.

With the mutiny of three companies of the 20 garrisons in Mexico City at midnight Sunday and reports of threatened rising in various parts of the Republic, President Calles and General Obregon, whose aspirations for another term in the presidential chair are believed to have brought about the widespread movement of revolt, immediately prepared plans for crushing the rebellion. General Obregon declared that he would withdraw his candidacy, if necessary, and take the field against the anti-Calles forces.

Overcame by Troops

Loyal troops, aided by aeroplanes, were sent immediately in pursuit of the mutineers, who had proceeded in the direction of Puebla. How well they succeeded in their task is indicated by an official bulletin issued yesterday morning. The bulletin gives no details regarding the capture and execution of these men, but states briefly:

"General Francisco Serrano, one of the leaders in the uprising, was captured in the State of Morelos, together with a group of his companions, by loyal troops commanded by General Juan Dominguez. They were summarily court-martialed and executed."

The names of those executed together with Serrano were given out as follows:

General Carlos V. Vidal, governor of the State of Chiapas; Generals Miguel and Daniel Peralta; Rafael Escobar, attorney and prominent political leader and supporter of General Arnulfo Gobez in the present presidential campaign; Alonzo Capetilli; Auguste Pena; Antonio Jauregui; Ernesto Noriega Mendez; Octavio Almada; Jose Villa Arce; Attorney Otilio Gonzales; Enrique Monteverde and former General Carlos V. Ariza.

The revolt of the Torreon garrison, which was admitted Monday by President Calles, proved a sanguinary affair. There was a short sharp battle between the loyal troops and the rebellious officers and soldiers which ended in victory for the government.

Officers Executed

Lieutenant Colonel Augusto Manzanilla, in command of the sixteenth battalion of the Torreon garrison and all the officers of his staff were executed. The mutineers in the rank and file were disarmed. On this affair an official bulletin stated:

"The sixteenth battalion garrisoning Torreon attempted to rise against the government, but was forced to submission by loyal troops, according to a report from General Jose San Martin, military commandant at Torreon. The uprising was crushed by force of arms and the mutineers disarmed after a combat.

"Lieut.-Col. Augusto Manzanilla and all the officers of the sixteenth battalion were executed after their connection in the attempted revolt had been established.

"The general situation in the Laguna district is satisfactory. Quiet prevails and adhesions to the government have been received.

(Signed) "General Jose Alvarez, Chief of the Presidential Staff."

The government declares that the mutineers who deserted the Mexican City garrison numbered only 800. Federal scout aeroplanes located them near Texcoco yesterday morning, whereupon 2,500 federals were dispatched to that place from Mexico City to give battle. Federal aeroplanes meanwhile were preparing to bomb the rebels out of their positions.

Directs Campaign

President Calles is personally directing the military campaign from Chapultepec Castle, where Secretary of War Amaro and General Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff, together with the highest army officers, are his active aides.

Congressmen Soto y Gama, the Agrarian leader has issued a statement that thousands of armed agrarians throughout the republic are ready to take the field on the side of the government against the rebels. The president has received messages from most of the towns and villages in the federal district declaring their loyalty.

WOMEN INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Hydro Electric Company Truck Hurdles Street Curb at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 5 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Norman Massey of Wadena, Sask., and Mrs. George H. Benner of Weyburn, Sask., were struck and seriously injured yesterday when a truck owned by the Winnipeg Hydro Electric Company hurdled the curb on Portage Avenue.

The women were pinned against the wall of the post office building. A number of other pedestrians were sent scurrying before the onrushing vehicle.

Percy Hunter, driver of the truck, declared he had parked his car in front of the post office and on his return started the car. Without warning the truck plunged across the sidewalk, the two elderly women being directly in its path.

Both women had recently arrived here from a holiday trip to Toronto and were remaining here for a day before leaving for home.

Mrs. Massey suffered from a bruised hip and a lacerated left leg. Mrs. Benner sustained a fracture to the right thigh, possible internal injuries and shock. Both, however, were reported to be in fair condition after medical aid.

Child Recovering From Poison Dose

FREDERICTON, N.S., Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press).—Joyce, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Lyons, of Fredericton, is reported yesterday to be recovering from poisoning resulting from the swallowing of strychnine tablets Monday evening. The child swallowed three tablets which belonged to her mother who was taking them for heart trouble.

WOMEN'S CLUBS MEET AT QUEBEC

Nearly Three Hundred Members Attending Third Annual Convention.

QUEBEC, Que., October 5 (Canadian Press). — Nearly three hundred members of the Quebec Women's Clubs invaded Quebec yesterday to begin their third annual convention which will last for three days. The organization consists in the main of farmers' wives and helpers and the object of the clubs is to promote, by lectures and gatherings, a greater love of the rural and agricultural life. The convention is taking place at the Parliament Buildings.

Several members of similar organizations in Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan are present at the congress, which was officially opened yesterday morning with the welcome by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Narcisse Perodeau. In the name of Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture, the members were welcomed by Antonio Grenier, Deputy-Minister. Alphonse Desilets, director of the Domestic Economy Service of the Department, presided.

CUSTOMS POST CHANGES HANDS

James Daly, Collector at Campbellford, Retires on Pension.

IN SERVICE 29 YEARS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 5.— With the coming of the end of the month of September, James Daly completed twenty-nine years' service as customs officer for the town of Campbellford. Without any pomp or superfluous ceremony, the customs office changed hands and the man who had for twenty-nine years given such excellent and satisfactory service was placed on the list of superannuation.

Previous to his association with the customs, Mr. Daly was for twenty years in the service of the Grand Trunk Railway both as trainman and telegraph operator. He was agent at various small places, but the loneliness was too much for the young man and he decided to make a move for either better or worse.

During his forty-nine years' service with the railway and the government, Mr. Daly claims that he has not lost one day's work. He left the railway on Saturday, June 2, 1898 and his duties in the customs office began on Monday, June 4th, 1898. Mr. Daly has held this office during all the various changes of government and can recall when the affairs of the town were vastly different from the present day conditions. For the past three years he has had an assistant, but expresses the opinion that there will be but one man in charge of affairs for some time yet. To date there has been no appointment made, but Mr. Ferguson of Bowmanville is temporarily in charge.

Mr. Daly is a man of sixty-five years and resides in a very attractive home on the east side of North Front Street. From his verandah he commands a beautiful view of the Trent River screened by the pines on the front of his property. Regarding his hobbies and pastimes, Mr. Daly states that he will not seek a position elsewhere, but will devote his leisure moments to his gardens which are extensive. He has a fondness for reading but his failing eyesight will not permit him any great amount of such entertainment.

Since no appointment has been made for the office here, the retiring officer was unable to express his wishes for the success of his successor but he was most desirous that such an expression should be made known in some suitable manner.

OBITUARY

BRUCE RICHARD SANDERSON

The death occurred on Sunday of Bruce Richard Sanderson, aged three years and nine months, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanderson, 28 Braidwood avenue.

The funeral took place on Monday at two o'clock.

ARTHUR ROBERTSON.

NORWOOD, October 5. — Word was received last week of the death of Mr. Arthur Robertson of Dryburg, Michigan.

Deceased, who was born in Norwood, was the eldest brother of Mr. Fred Robertson of town, who has the sympathy of the community in his bereavement.

ROBERT PATTERSON.

NORWOOD, October 5. — Norwood friends learned with regret last week of the death of Mr. Robert Patterson of Tweed. Although Mr. Patterson had been in very poor health for the past year, his death came very suddenly. Deceased, who was a highly respected citizen of the village for some years, was a brother of Mrs. J. Calder and Mr. Adam Patterson of town.

DR. GERALD McCARTNEY.

BETHANY, Oct. 5.—The news of the death by accidental drowning of Dr. Gerald McCartney, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCartney, at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, while duck shooting with a friend, was received in the village on Saturday, October 1. It was a great shock, not only to the immediate family, but to the whole village and surrounding community.

It was only two weeks ago Monday that he returned to the west after a pleasant three weeks' visit with his parents and friends here in the village.

Dr. McCartney, or "Jerry" as he was more commonly known to his friends, was born in the village and received his public school education here.

Two years ago he graduated from the Toronto University in medicine and went to the West to practice. This was his first visit home and he told his friends here on leaving that he intended paying several days' visit with a friend, Dr. Taylor, at Moose Jaw, with the intention of going duck shooting. Both young men lost their lives.

The bodies have been recovered and it was expected that the remains of Dr. McCarthy would arrive at Manvers' Station on the noon train C.P.R., Wednesday, October 5th. A private service has been arranged for at the family residence, Main street, at one o'clock and a public service in St. Paul's church of which the deceased was a member. At two o'clock interment to take place in St. Mary's cemetery, Manvers.

The whole community mourns with the sorrowing family over the sudden ending of such a bright and promising young life.

MRS. JOHN McFADDEN.

On Monday Sept. 26th Lillie Reid, the wife of Mr. John McFadden, passed away at the home of her brother, Mr. Bruce Reid, Haultain, Burleigh township, the family homestead. For the past few years Mr. and Mrs. McFadden have resided in Douro township, coming to Haultain some months ago. Mrs. McFadden was at that time in failing health and in spite of all that skill and tender care could avail, grew steadily worse.

The funeral took place the following Wednesday and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The service, held at Mr. Reid's, was conducted by Rev. J. W. Ogden, of Apsley, who in a brief address spoke of the high esteem in which the deceased was held for her loving disposition and kindly helpfulness. The loss will be keenly felt by all who knew her. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The burial took place at Warsaw.

Mrs. McFadden, who died at the comparatively early age of 45 years, leaves to mourn her loss her husband, a son, Howard and a daughter, Adeline, one brother, Bruce Reid, and two sisters, Mrs. Mallory, Belleville, Ont., and Miss Reid of Rochester, N.Y.

Among the many relatives and friends attending the funeral were: Mrs. Mallory, Belleville; Miss Jean Robertson, Indian River; Mr. and Mrs. Calder, Warsaw; Evan and Gordon Calder, Warsaw; Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Spence, Norwood; Mr. and Mrs. Bolton, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Dunford, Lakefield; Mrs. Brotherson, Peterborough; Mrs. Ezra McFadden, Apsley; Mr. Elgin and Miss Elgin; Mr. George Barr, Warsaw; Mr. E. N. McDonald; Mrs. Geo. Matthews, Lakefield; Mrs. R. Coones; Mr. and Mrs. Percy McFadden; Mrs. Esau Tucker, Lindsay; Mr. John Mann, Toronto; Mr. Lorne Northey, Lakefield; Mr. Andrew Batten; Mr. Z. Tucker, Apsley; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lean, Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown, Mr. R. Knox, Miss Knox, Apsley, Mr. H. Reid, Mrs. J. W. Ogden.

The bearers were Messrs. Gordon and Albert Reid, W. McCauley, Cecil Shewin, H. Long and Oliver Church.

MISS JENNIE WINSLOW.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 5. — There passed away in the late afternoon of Thursday, Sept. 29, a life long and highly respected resident of Millbrook and Cavan, in the person of Miss Jennie Winslow.

Born on the Fallis Line, deceased was the third daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Blaney Winslow, the other three sisters being: Mrs. William Tate of Toronto; Mrs. Albert Benson of Regina, Sask.; and Mrs. Louisa Fallis of Grasie, Ont.

Mr. Winslow was twice married, and of his second family the surviving members are: Fred of Cavan; Marvin of Peterborough; Percy of Garden Hill; George of Winnipeg; Miss Clara of Peterborough; Miss Eva of Toronto; Mrs. Lou Wedlock, of Toronto, and Mrs. E. Stewart of Regina, Sask.

In the course of her business career as a milliner, Miss Winslow took a position out of town for a time, but for several years past had successfully carried on business here, and had returned from her summer vacation just a few weeks since, prepared to continue for the season. Ill-health, however, made it impossible for her to give personal attention to her business interests, acute heart trouble with other complications causing severe suffering, and finally bringing about her demise.

Besides the immediate relatives already mentioned, there is a large family connection in Millbrook and the surrounding countryside, and by her connections, in a business way, with the public generally, Miss Winslow had made for herself a wide circle of friends. In religion deceased was an Anglican and in politics a staunch Conservative.

The funeral took place on Saturday, a private service being held at her late home conducted by the rector, Rev. Canon Allen who also had charge of the public service at Saint Thomas' church, which immediately followed. The pall-bearers were Messrs. H. A. Fallis, G. Fowler, W. Payne, L. H. Winslow, J. Bingham and A. J. Fallis.

There were many beautiful floral tributes laid in loving memory upon the casket, and these were carried from the church by Messrs. H. Tate, A. J. Henderson, F. Winslow, Lawrence Winslow and Rupert Winslow. Interment was in the Fourth Line cemetery.

Among those from outside points who attended the funeral wer: Mr. and Mrs. J. McMillan, Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. W. Payne, Lindsay; Miss Mabel Sootheran, Lindsay; Miss M. Peel, Peterborough; Mr. J. Bingham, Peterborough ;Mrs. Hunter, London; Mrs. Halliday and Mrs. Harrington, Toronto; Mrs. Tate, Toronto; Mrs. L. Fallis of Grasie.

OLD MASTERS

A song to the oak, the brave old oak,
Who hath ruled in the greenwood long;
Here's health and renown to his broad green crown,
And his fifty arms so strong.
There's fear in his frown when the sun goes down,
And the fire in the west fades out;
And he showeth his might on a wild midnight,
When the storm through his branches shout.

BELLEVILLE MAN IS BADLY INJURED

Little Hope For Recovery of Withrow Reid—Aged Woman Hurt.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 5.—Withrow Reir, agent for the Manufacturers' Life Assurance Company, in this city, is lying in Kingston General Hospital with little or no hope of recovery, the result of an automobile accident on the Sydenham-Kingston Highway late Saturday afternoon. His arm was broken in five places and had to be amputated, and gangrene has set in, causing septic blood poisoning. He was also injured internally and badly cut and bruised.

Mrs. C. Howard, an aged woman of Thurlow Township, had her right arm broken when she was thrown from a buggy when the latter was struck by a truck, the property of Clarence Martin, a farmer, who was returning home from a fair. Mr. Howard and a child in the buggy escaped with slight injuries.

PIG SKIN PETERS COMING.

(By Special Arrangement with the Toronto Daily Star.)

The Toronto Daily Star is sending Pig-Skin Peters down to the Kiwanis Exhibition. He will be there Wednesday afternoon and evening. It has not yet been decided whether he will enter the musical contest or the baby show but in any event the public will be glad to see him.

The readers of the Toronto Star are familiar with Pig-Skin and his many achievements and they will undoubtedly be only too glad to meet him in person at the Armouries next week Wednesday.

You will have no difficulty in recognizing him by his portrait above. Bring the picture with you and you will be sure to know him when you see him.

It certainly speaks well for the exhibition when such a distinguished visitor is coming from out of town.

EXTRA TEACHER WILL BE HIRED

Millbrook School Board Feels Staff Not Large Enough.

SEVENTY PUPILS NOW

MILLBROOK, Oct. 5.—The school board held a business meeting on Friday evening and decided, after considerable discussion, that it would be in the best interests of the Continuation school to engage a third teacher this term.

The attendance at the school is larger than last year, and while not up to the seventy-five pupils usually regarded as the quota for a three-teacher school, yet the sixty-nine or seventy who are at present enrolled are too many for a staff of two teachers to cover the work fully and satisfactorily.

With three teachers it will be possible to do some Fourth Form work, and local pupils who have been going out of town may be able to take up the requisite subjects at home. For a time there were three teachers in the Continuation school but for the past two years the principal and assistant principal have done the work.

Burden Too Heavy; Mother Takes Poison

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(United Press).—Helen Ignace Iwinski of Brooklyn has carried her cross for many years.

She did not flinch when her first born proved mentally deficient. She went stolidly ahead when his brother came—and was deaf and dumb, and when 10 years ago, a third child, a daughter came into the Iwinski household and soon developed into an incurable invalid, she set herself to the task of protecting her unfortunate offspring from the world.

But as years went on the burden became heavier and heavier.

Finally came the last bit of weight which upset her mental balance.

It came when Joseph, the 16-year-old boy, who was her first and whom she loved despite his dull wit, came home from school crying over the jibes which had been aimed at him by his more fortunate companions.

Hit wit was not so dull but that he could understand.

She could carry her burden no longer.

So yesterday she mixed a potent poison and gave Joseph a beaker of it. He writhed a few moments and died.

Then she took the same portion herself.

Hours later she too died—leaving a husband, a deaf and dumb son and an invalid daughter behind her.

In one section of the Mississippi flood area, railroads were forced to work gangs of men with hose to wash off deep layers of mud deposited on top of loads of coal when the waters receded.

Buckwheat Cakes

Are Autumn Favorites

And Mother knows they're lightest and most easily made with Aunt Jemima

They all feel hungry when they learn that Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Cakes are being made. They love the buckwheat aroma. They revel in the buckwheat taste. Garnish with bacon or fresh sausage, or serve with syrup, or brown sugar. What could be more inviting for breakfast these cool mornings.

Mother's happy, too, because Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour is easiest to use. She mixes equal parts of the flour and milk (water will do if she hasn't milk). Stirs to a smooth batter and pours on a moderately hot griddle or frying pan.* In a moment—delicious buckwheat cakes, light and digestible, with the real buckwheat flavor that everybody likes.

No other buckwheat cakes can be so light and digestible. No others are so easy to make.

Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour is made with the same famous recipe as the Pancake Flour with the right amount of Buckwheat Flour added. Get both from your grocer and have variety.

Waffles and Muffins, too

You can make delicious waffles in a jiffy with Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour.

Cook them either at the table or in the kitchen.

Muffins take no longer.

Recipes for pancakes, waffles, and muffins on the package.

*Note: Use a thick, cast iron or aluminum griddle when making pancakes as a thin frying pan of steel conducts the heat too rapidly for the best results. Cook with a moderate rather than a hot fire.

A European Tour

(By F. E. Kerr, B.A., Peterborough)

Early in the year, Mr. George H. King, the former organist of Trinity Church, wrote to me and asked me if I would join a party that he was organizing to make a tour through parts of England, Scotland, Holland, Belgium, and France. The tour had certain features that appealed to me very much. The itinerary was satisfactory because it aimed to give good general impressions of the various countries visited the cost was much less than that of most tours; the time required was not wearisome, as people can become very tired of sightseeing. Then, also, I believe in going with a party organized under the direction of some of the firms that specialize in conducting tours. We went under the auspices of the Pitman Tours Limited.

We sailed from Montreal in the forenoon of July first on the steamship Letitia. The Montcalm sailed out just ahead of us. The two boats kept about the same distance apart down the river. The scenery along the St. Lawrence is very beautiful. A short time before dark, we passed under the Canadian National Railway bridge and all were interested in this great marvel of Canadian engineering. Quebec was passed and soon it was dark. Most of the people retired early as many of them had not had much sleep on the train the previous night.

After midnight an extraordinary episode happened. A French Canadian, who was being taken unwillingly across the ocean, jumped off the Montcalm, intending to swim ashore. He found the water very cold and the currents swifter than he had anticipated. He began to wail for help. The Montcalm, not seemingly aware that a passenger was overboard, sailed on and the burden of rescuing the unfortunate man fell to our vessel. This incident delayed us about two hours, as it is no easy matter to stop an ocean liner, lower a lifeboat and rescue a man. We never saw the Montcalm again until the two met in the Irish Sea.

The boats took the more northerly route through the Strait of Belle Isle. The icebergs were plentiful, and to make matters worse, a fog settled down. Fog horns were blown continually. We had better success than the Montcalm as we got through without mishap. The fog continued after we left the straits and delayed our progress very much.

Most people scarcely realize that the time required to sail down the river, through the gulf, and through the straits is about three days. The St. Lawrence is one of the great rivers of the world.

The ocean had on its best behavior and the sail across was most delightful. Everything was done on the boat to add to the pleasure of the passengers. There were two classes of passengers on board—cabin and tourist. The gates were never closed, however, and there was considerable comingling. Dances, masquerades, games, concerts, tournaments of various kinds were all part of the programme. Nobody was sick and everything was so pleasant. The passengers were all of a good class and very companionable. An orchestra played each day at lunch and dinner, and two excellent lady soloists sang alternately. We all agreed that life on board a ship under such conditions was a real pleasure.

One thing that interests passengers is the daily change of time. As a boat journeys eastward, the clocks are turned on about forty minutes a day depending on the speed of the vessel. On the return voyage they are turned back daily. In going over, the night is thus continually shortened, while in returning it is correspondingly lengthened.

As land is approached, the gulls become more numerous and various sea animals, as the propoise and others, make their appearance. The first land we sighted was Malin Head, near where the Lusitania was sunk. A few hours later, passengers for Belfast were put on a tender and taken ashore. The next morning a pilot came on board to guide our vessel up the Mersey. We got some idea of New Brighton and Birkenhead on the one side of the river and of Liverpool on the other. Boats of all sizes and of various nationalities were in evidence everywhere. Many of our passengers were put off here by means of a tender.

The Irish Sea was much rougher than the ocean, but it did not disturb our sailing. Ailsa Craig came in sight as a sort of prelude to what we were to see on the Clyde. It is a huge rock and island about 1,100 feet high and two miles around. A legend says that an Irish giant tried to throw this rock at a Scottish one but it fell short.

Perhaps I should here mention that our guide came on board at Liverpool. He was a Dutchman who could speak English, French, Dutch, and German with wonderful fluency. He remained with us until our party broke up in Paris. His duties were varied enough. He arranged the accommodation at the different hotels; looked after all matters of transportation by train, boat, charabanc, motor 'bus, etc.; saw that we had meals on the trains when necessary, and I might say that we always sat at the first table; got us through the customs so that our baggage was seldom opened; and took care of our personal comforts in every way. When we arrived at a station, we just followed him like chickens after a hen and it was always such a comfort to find that sufficient compartments had always been reserved ahead of time. We never had any anxiety about the hotel or travelling arrangements. It is in these matters that parties under suitable conducors have a great advantage over private individuals. They see much more and do it without worry or annoyance. I might remark that local guides were frequently employed, too, and were usually very satisfactory.

Nothing impressed me more overseas than the sail up the Clyde River to Glasgow on a clear summer evening with the sun hidden behind the masses of rock at times, then reappearing above.

The days are long in summer and the twilight lasts until after ten o'clock. We think a sail up the Otonabee in the evening very beautiful, and so it is, but it lacks the rugged grandeur and picturesqueness of the country along the Clyde. On the left side is Argyleshire, noted as the home of the Campbells. In many ways it is like the Laurentian Highlands. Rocks rise up in all manner of shapes. Sometimes one single rock will stand out prominently; generally they seem continuous in ridges. One old Scot on the boat remarked to several of us that we had nothing like that in America. I asked him if he had ever seen the Rockies. He said that he had, but he declared that these Scottish Highlands surpassed the Rockies. The latter are often bare but the former are covered with some form of herbage. Coarse, scrubby evergreens, grass, heather, moss, all contribute to make these uplands singularly beautiful. Argylshire is noted for its cattle and sheep. Sometimes nearly a million of the latter feed upon these hillsides. On the way up the river is the famous Rock of Dunbarton, rising abruptly 280 feet above the water. It is a double-peaked eminence, crowned by a picturesque castle, now of no great importance, but at one time it was the guardian of the river. It is renowned in Scottish history. Here Sir William Wallace was betrayed to the English and imprisoned by Edward I. before he was taken to London to be executed. Many people from Glasgow and other cities have summer homes along the Clyde River. One of the more pretentious of these belongs to Sir Harry Lauder. On our right-hand side going up was Ayrshire. It presented quite a contrast to the more rugged Argylshire. The land sloped rapidly to the river in many places, but it was usually more level and fertile. The chief industry along the Clyde is ship-building and we saw many ships in process of construction.

We disembarked at Glasgow. I do not feel competent to discuss it because we saw actually little of this, the second largest city in the British Isles. I saw more people on the streets here that seemed to be feeling the pinch of poverty than I saw in any other city on the tour. Business conditions have not been good there since the war, but are improving.

To go from Glasgow to Ayr was a short run on a British railway. The trains in the British Isles are very satisfactory. They start exactly on time. Owing to the excellent road-bed they travel very rapidly but very smoothly. There are no jars such as we too often have. Third-class coaches seem quite as good as our first-class ones. The cars and locomotives are much smaller than ours. One thing that pleased me very much was the fact that the locomotives are painted. The color was usually a shade of green and it added much to their tidy appearance.

Ayr is noted for its associations with Robert Burns. The "Tam o' Shanter Inn" is still doing business and attracts tourists because of its fame rather than its good looks. About two miles from Ayr, at Alloway, is the Burns cottage where the poet was born. It is a low, thatched, one-story building. The right-hand side, as shown in most pictures, was actually the stable, and still contains a few relics of farm implements. Burns certainly had a most humble birthplace. The rooms were exceedingly plain and ordinary. The bedrooms scarcely deserved the name. They were just recesses in the wall. When one stepped out of bed, he stepped into the general living-room. A few articles of old-fashioned furniture now help to releive the bareness of the house. Not far from the cottage is a beautiful park containing a very fine monument in honor of Burns. Down the hill a little farther is the famous Brig o' Doon. It is quite evident that luxury is not needed to produce genius.

Our next great delight was a trip on Lock Lomond. The lakes of Scotland nestle in amongst the barren hills in this locality, called the Trossachs, a word which means barren hills or moors. These lakes and hills have been the sites of many of the exploits of Scottish history. Here occurred many of the scenes described in Sir Walter Scott's and R. L. Stevenson's writings. Near Loch Lomond the MacGregors defeated the Colquhouns in the Vale of Sorrow. Here Rob Roy, one of the MacGregors, had his adventures as an outlaw, and the locality of his cave is still pointed out. A conveyance of the nature of a tally-ho carried us from Loch Lomond to Loch Katrine. The whole scenery is wonderfully beautiful. Loch Katrine is especially famous because it contains Ellen's Isle, the hiding-place of the outlaw Douglas. Here is where James FitzJames (James V.), sought refuge for the night. The island is small and covered with a thick woods. There is an indescribable charm in being on the very ground of so many Scottish adventures. Lochs Venachar and Achray are connected with Loch Katrine. Near here Roderick Dhu had his fight with James FitzJames, the king. The surface of the land explains many of the Scottish characteristics. It was easy to defy the government because there were so many hiding-places and so the temptation of the poverty-stricken Highlanders to rob the wealthier Lowlanders was almost irresistible. In these glens and vales the families lived to themselves and were suspicious of strangers. It is no wonder that they became clannish. The freedom of the hills gave the people that independence of spirit and thought so that they were never easily conquered. Geography must always be associated with history. From Loch Katrine we travelled by tally-ho to Aberfoyle. Here it was in the manse, still in existence, that Scott wrote "The Lady of the Lake."

From Aberfoyle we went by train to Edinburgh. On the way we passed Stirling Castle and Wallace's Monument, and crossed the remarkable Forth Bridge. Edinburgh pleased us greatly. It is the very centre of the history, education, legislation, and romance of Scotland. How could we help but be thrilled when we stood on the exact spot where Jimmy Geddes threw the three-legged stool at the head of the clergyman who was trying to conduct, by order of Charles I., an episcopal service in St. Giles' Presbyterian church? This was the church or cathedral where John Knox preached and denounced with vehemence the faith and seeming inconsistencies of Mary, Queen of Scots. On Castle Rock, 443 feet high, is built Edinburgh Castle. The view from it is grand. The stronghold was almost impregnable a few centuries ago. The last time it was besieged successfully was in the reign of Edward II. when the resourceful Scots climbed the rocks and retook it from the English. It was in this castle that James VI., son of Mary, Queen of Scots, was born. We were in the room and looked out of the window where she lowered her son by means of a rope and basket to friends below in order that he might be baptized as a Roman Catholic. John Knox's house on High Street is still a great resort for tourists. Near here our company had the pleasure of seeing the Queen, who was out on a shopping expedition like anyone else. We sang the chorus of "The Maple Leaf Forever" and received a smile of recognition. The incident was commented upon in the Edinburgh papers the next day. Princess Street, named after two sons of George III., deserves to be called one of the beautiful streets of the world. On one side are good stores; on the other side is a beautiful park. One novelty that attracted our attention was a clock made of flowers; it was keeping time but I do not understand its mechanism. Scott's magnificent monument also stands along Princess Street. Strange to say, the chief industry of Edinburgh is brewing, which seems a sort of anti-climax to a beautiful story.

From Edinburgh we travelled by rail to London. On the way we saw, a distance off, the stately Durham and York Cathedrals.

To describe London seems an impossible task. All a person can do is to give a few general impressions. London is the greatest city in the world. It is the heart or centre of the greatest empire the world has ever seen. It contains more Irishmen than Dublin, more Scotchmen than Edinburgh, and more Jews than Jerusalem. It is a province covered with houses. In Paris I went up into the Eiffel Tower, over 900 feet high, and from there got a view of the city as a whole. There is no such point of vantage in London. London is greater than two cities of the size of Paris. An adequate idea of its great size cannot be imagined. The crowds and the continual flow of all sorts of conveyances are the first things that impress the stranger. Yet everything seems so orderly. There seems to be no unseemly rush. I saw no accidents in London but I saw several in Paris. English people impress me as being steady, reliable, and cool-headed. There is a peculiar sensation of strength and stability about the city which is difficult to explain. Those of our company who shopped in London had excellent satisfaction. The goods were very satisfactory, the prices quite fair, and the service left nothing to be desired. These conditions did not prevail to the same extent in the cities on the continent.

English streets have a peculiar fashion of curving and winding about in different directions. They frequently change their names too. This makes a stranger timid about finding his way about. One American told me that he got lost just half a block from his hotel. He was on his honeymoon and that may partly explain his confusion. The dense traffic above ground is relieved by underground railways and the so-called tubes. The latter are tunnels, deep down, through which electric trains travel at terrific speed. These will get you to your destination rapidly, but the best way to see the city is from the upper deck of a tram-car or 'bus.

We were taken to St. Paul's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey. These and others we visited, as, Ste. Gudule in Belgium, Notre Dame and Magdalen in Paris, impress one as being so dingy and gloomy. Our churches are bright but these are not. Each one has something distinctive about it. St. Paul's is noted for its wonderful dome. Westminster Abbey was for centuries the national burying-ground. The kings are not now being buried there. To appreciate this wonderful building a person must know his history. In one section are statues of great legislators, as Gladstone, Disraeli, Peel, and others; in another, the poets are honored; in a third, great musicians as Handel and others receive their just tributes. One could not enumerate all the things of interest. The chair in which the kings are crowned occupies a hidden corner. The whole atmosphere is filled with the history and traditions of England. Joined to it, but not actually part of it, is the famous building where Simon de Montfort held the first English parliament. The thing that impressed me most about Notre Dame Cathedral was the beautiful windows. The colors were most exquisite. During the war these were taken out, the various parts were numbered and packed away for safe keeping. The Cathedral of Ste. Gudule has probably the most beautiful interior. The Church of the Magdalen has no windows in the walls but light is admitted through the roof. In Paris the Church of the Sacred Heart is still in process of building. It is in Byzantine style and is a marvellous structure. Here is a chapel designed by a Mr. Marshall of Brandon and paid for by Canadian contributions. The church was commenced forty years ago and we were told will require about twenty more to complete. I often wondered how these cathedrals were seated. The seats are plain, ordinary chairs that can be readily removed if occasion requires it.

A visit to London is not complete unless one inspects the Tower. It has its own records, too. Here, Crammer, Ridley, Latimer, Strafford and Land were executed. Here, Sir Walter Raleigh wrote his History of the World, and was executed after twelve years' imprisonment. His wife pleaded for his head so it is buried in one place and his body in another. The spot in the yard where Anne Boleyn, Katharine Howard, Lady Jane Gray, and Guilford Dudley were beheaded is marked by a plate. Anne Boleyn had the distinction of being beheaded by a sword instead of by the axe. Here is the secret staircase where the two princes were thrown down centuries ago. In the Tower are the crown jewels, beautiful beyond description. Old styles of armor and weapons, and instruments of torture are to be seen also. It is the best place to go to get grim reminders of the tyranny of former days.

From London we made an excursion to Kenilworth and Warwick castles. The former is a ruin but enough of it remains to give us an idea of the splendor that was there when Queen Elizabeth visited the Earl of Leicester. Warwick Castle is still occupied and is one of the beautiful scenes of England. The thing that impressed me most was not the tapestries, the beautiful inlaid tables, the wonderfully wrought chests, the paintings, or the old armor. It was the wonderful foliage. The grass of England has a deeper tone than ours it just seems to have more greenness, the trees, likewise, are a rich green. Peacocks wander around the grounds of this castle and their brilliant plumage harmonizes so well with the beauty around that they seem to add charm to the scene.

We also visited Stratford-on-Avon where Shakespeare was born and lived. Here also is the cottage of Anne Hathaway, Shakespeare's wife. Near by is the church where the two are buried. They lived amidst beautiful surroundings. The Avon River and the country around are so beautiful.

Incidentally, before leaving London, we saw the Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York. At The Hague we saw the Queen of Holland, so that we saw more royalty than most tourists have an opportunity to see.

We regretted to leave London as we felt we had seen only a small part of all that there was to see. I should have mentioned that we saw the beautiful parks and gardens of Hampton Court and had a view of Windsor Castle. We went by train to Harwich, crossed the North Sea, and disembarked the next morning at the Hock of Holland. From there we went to The Hague.

The Hague is a delightful city. It has all the best features of Holland without an undue prominence of water and unsavory odors. It is built on the site of a former densely wooded hunting park, and there are still some of the most beautiful drives through parks and woods. The buildings are all in good taste. They are not as showy as those of Paris but they are substantial and handsome. We were right royally received by the children. They cheered us as we passed along. We had no reception as cordial elsewhere. We did not at all wonder that the peace conferences should have been held at The Hague; the city seemed so naturally adapted for such meetings.

Amsterdam, which I understand was originally Amstel Dam, is built along the Amstel River. It is a great commercial city and very typical of Holland. In it are seventy canals and about five hundred bridges. There are roadways alongside of the canals, and in that respect it differs from Venice. There are a few streets, however, where the buildings go down to the water's edge. Some streets in the old part of the city are not more than three feet wide. Hooks are placed near the roofs of the houses for the purpose of hauling up furniture, as the stairs inside are usually steep and probably narrow. Mirrors are frequently seen at the sides of the doors. They enable the householder to know who is at the door before opening it. The chief buildings in Amsterdam are of a commercial nature. The Exchange building is one of the chief of these. The Jews number about one-seventh of the whole population of over 700,000. They largely control the diamond-cutting industry, which is of great importance in this city. One of the things that left a deep impression on my mind here was the very beautiful chimes which rang out the hours and quarters of an hour. I sat at my window at the hotel and listened to them with delight.

One of the most delightful experiences we had was a trip by boat on one of the canals from Amsterdam to the Island of Marken in the Zuider Zee. This gave us a most excellent opportunity to see the rural life. The canal itself was below sea-level yet it was higher than the land at either side. This land was eighteen feet below sea-level and very flat. The excellent black and white Holstein cattle were seen everywhere. The fields are rather small and the fences are just ditches filled with water that is often stagnant and ill-smelling. These conditions are typical of Holland and probably pertain to no other country in the world. The matter of fences is interesting in Europe. In Scotland there are many stone fences. In England beautifully and artistically trimmed hedges prevail, while in the country around Paris there seemed to be few fences at all. It was very interesting in Holland to see farmers load their hay on rafts and drag them on the water around to their barns. I wondered where the cow stables were but soon discovered when we were taken to a farmhouse in a small Dutch village. The house, barn, stable, and driving-shed are all under one roof. The people occupy the rooms in the first flat. Above this are the lofts for holding hay. Adjoining the rooms is the stable with the cheese presses. All was very clean, but the cows do not need stabling in summer. I did feel dubious about winter conditions. We were taken into the Dutch Reformed Church of the village. It would correspond to a Presbyterian or a United Church here. It was bright, tidy, and attractive. What chiefly drew my attention were the old-fashioned collection bags similar to those used here in many churches years ago. These had particularly long handles, and what was still more surprising each had a small bell attached to the bottom. I could only conjecture what the purpose of this might be. It was evidently not intended to be simply an ornament.

Dutchmen dress in a similar fashion to us usually, but in rural communities and outlying districts the old-fashioned apparel is still to be seen. The men wear dark or violet shirts or high-buttoned jackets, black baggy trousers like bloomers, long black stockings, and the clumsy and noisy wooden shoes. The women wear a kind of nightcap or sunbonnet with embroidered edges drawn tightly over the head and ears. Beneath this on each side of the face hangs a solitary curl. The skirt, or rather skirts, for they wear several, are very full and give an impression of stoutness. Boys and girls are dressed alike until they are six years of age. At sixteen the girls "bob" their hair at the back but retain the two curls mentioned above. Holland impresses a person with its thrift and frugality.

Brussels is a beautiful city. One of the first places we visited was a sort of armoury called the National Rifle Ranges used by the Germans as a prison during the war. In the yard is a tablet showing the exact spot where Edith Cavell was shot. The German commander at Brussels had given an order that she must be shot for giving assistance to the British. He heard that his order was likely to be countermanded by the German government and so he hastened to carry out his sentence. When the firing squad was lined up, one soldier refused to shoot and was immediately shot dead by the officer in charge. Edith Cavell is buried in England.

Wiertz's picture galley was a most interesting place. Wiertz was considered a madman in his own time, but would probably be described as eccentric to-day. His pictures aim to portray the evils of drink and immorality. Many of the faces are horrible indeed but wonderfully painted. One canvas must have been about thirty feet high and fifteen feet wide. In one corner is the picture of a dog so life-like that many of us actually thought it was a stuffed model.

The Palais de Justice (Palac of Justice) in Brussels, we were informed, is the largest building in Europe. It is massive and covers ten acres of ground It rises 300 feet above the third floor and took twenty years to build. During the war it accommodated 5,000 German soldiers with their horses. The Germans robbed it of its beautiful brass fittings in order to make munitions of war.

It was in Brussels where Lord Byron composed part or all of the poem, "Childe Harold," of which the poem, "Waterloo," in our readers, is a selection. Here also Victor Hugo wrote his renowned novel, "Les Miserables." The houses that these authors occupied have plaques to commemorate them.

It is strange how certain things impress a person. I do not recollect seeing a book-store in Brussels. Fruit-stores were very scarce also, but beer parlors were there in abundance. They are large halls provided with tables and chairs for the convenience of patrons. When the accommodation is not sufficient, tables are placed on the sidewalks and even on the streets. It was quite difficult to get water to drink in Belgium; we took soft drinks. Not only does one pay for the cost of the drink, he must in addition pay a government tax and give the waiter a tip. All of these were marked on the slip handed to the thirsty individual. Another strange feature of the continental hotels was that no soap was provided. There are no baggage cars on the trains. Each person must look after his own and it is piled on racks above him in the compartment. Our guide saw that ours was put on and off trains and so saved us much inconvenience.

We all liked Ostend very much. It is a wonderful summer resort with a long and excellent bathing beach and numerous summer hotels. Many ladies bought a great deal of lace here as it was both cheap and good.

From Ostend we had an excursion to Zeebrugge to see the Mole so memorable for the attack made upon it by the British on the night of the twenty-second of April, 1918. It is a long cement breakwater that protects the harbor and the entrance of the canal from the force of the waves. Remnants of the German cannon are still on it. The hull of the sunken ship, Theris, is still to be seen at the entrance of the canal when the tide is out. The ingenuity and daring of the British in planning such a scheme to bottle up the German submarines excites the highest admiration.

From Ostend we went to Arras. Arras still has many ruins due to the war. One church that we saw was almost demolished. It was interesting to us to eat our dinner in what was Von Kluck's headquarters during the early part of the war. Most of the areas over which the men fought now present no evidence of a war. Cities that were injured have been rebuilt, but a few places are left to act as reminders and to give visitors some small idea of the devastation that accompanies warfare.

"Why, Doris, this dessert tastes like fresh wild raspberries"

"YES, Bob remarked the same thing the other evening at dinner and he's getting to be quite an enthusiast for McLaren's 'Invincible' Jelly since he learned the secret of its distinctive flavor."

In the conversation that followed, Bob smilingly admitted his conversion to delicious, healthful desserts that contain the actual juices of choice, fresh fruits and have the tender, quivering texture that instantly identifies them as McLaren's "Invincible" Jellies.

Bob was interested—as most husbands will be—in knowing that Muskoka wild raspberries supply the juice that flavor "Invincible" Raspberry Jelly. That the actual juices of selected, fresh strawberries, cherries, currants, grapes and pineapples account for the natural, "fruity" flavor of other McLaren's "Invincible" dessert jellies—and that repeated tests assure uniform high quality. WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1927.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The Peterborough Kiwanis Club is to be congratulated upon its success in winning the efficiency contest in the Ontario-Quebec district of Kiwanis International.

The award means that the Peterborough club during the past year has been the most active and useful organization among the thirty-four district clubs.

That is a distinction upon which the officers and members are to be felicitated; at the same time the entire community should be congratulated, inasmuch as the city has benefitted by the various activities for which the local club has been awarded the efficiency trophy.

The Peterborough Kiwanians have been consistent in their efforts on behalf of the community, for their success in winning the contest was preceded by the capturing of second place in the same competition in 1926.

THE QUESTION OF CONVENTIONS.

The Dominion conference of the Anglican Young People's Association is to be held here later in the month, and delegates to the number of 250 or 300 will be in attendance.

The bringing of such gatherings to Peterborough is of considerable benefit, not only because of the money spent by delegates during their sojourn here, but because the city secures a certain amount of advertising.

The commercial value to a community of conventions is being more and more recognized, and many centres have organizations formed for the purpose of going out after such gatherings, the capture of important conventions being regarded as excellent business.

It is essential, of course, that having been induced to come, delegates should be given a chance to form a favourable impression of the convention city, and this leads up to the duty of entertaining visitors and giving them an opportunity to see the city's best features.

The community that hopes to establish a sound record as a desirable location for conventions must consider that aspect of the case.

A reputation for hospitality cannot be established without a certain amount of expense.

A HOPEFUL SIGN.

The fact that 541 children have been given the first stage of innoculation against diphtheria in response to Dr. A. W. McPherson's appeal is most gratifying, especially in view of the fact that many other children were innoculated by their family doctors.

The immunization of so many of those most likely to be attacked by diphtheria is an important step toward keeping that disease in check in Peterborough, but even more satisfactory perhaps is the evidence offered of an awakening on the part of the community to the desirability of making use of the safeguards that medical science has provided.

It is evident that old prejudices fostered by ignorance are disappearing in the face of undeniable proof of controlling infectious diseases.

This is a development that must be heartening to health authorities, who have been hampered hitherto in their efforts to protect the public because of the indifference of many citizens and the active opposition of a minority.

The fine response to the recent call is a sign that the people generally are being successfully educated along health lines.

WILL MR. FERGUSON GO?

As the Conservative national convention draws near the name of Premier G. Howard Ferguson comes more and more into prominence in connection with the leadership.

That the Ontario Premier could carry the convention few people doubt.

The issue just now seems to be whether or not he will be forced to accept the Federal leadership in spite of his oft-repeated assertion that he is not a candidate for the position.

It is possible that the pressure from the convention will be too strong to be resisted.

Mr. Ferguson declares that he does not want to leave the Provincial arena, and The Examiner believes that he is quite sincere in that statement.

The Premier likes the Ontario field of service; he is enthusiastically interested in education particularly, and believes that there is a real opportunity for him in that department and elsewhere to do useful work for the people of Ontario, and when he says that he prefers to remain in the realm of Provincial affairs rather than to take over Federal duties, he is not posing—he means it.

And, incidentally, many Ontario people—and not all of them Conservatives—would be sorry to see Mr. Ferguson depart from a service in which they believe his presence is of much value to this Province.

JAIL FOR CRAZY DRIVERS.

The sentencing of the high constable of Drayton to one month's imprisonment for being intoxicated while in charge of a motor car indicates a realization on the part of magistrates that no exceptions can be made to the law which demands that the man who drives an automobile must be strictly sober.

Present-day conditions on the highway demand that motorists have all their wits about them when they essay to drive a car. A driver does not need to be intoxicated to be a menace, but the man who essays to drive a car when intoxicated or when he has just had a "drink or two," ought to be locked up for more than a month, even if he is fortunate enough not to have met with an accident. The policy of imprisonment without alternative for offenders guilty of this crime which is now being rigorously carried out by magistrates all over the Province will soon have its effect, and before long this class of offender will be reduced to very small proportions.

As stated above, however, a driver does not need to be intoxicated to be a menace to public safety. There are still large numbers of drivers on the streets and highways, who never imbibe alcoholic liquors, who are nothing short of potential murderers. Their offence is known as reckless driving. In a short walk the pedestrian can witness numerous instances of reckless driving and see many hairbreadth escapes from serious accident. The police, of course, can't be everywhere, but all he requires to do to capture these offenders is to stand for five minutes at any given point. So far charges of reckless driving have only been laid when such driving has resulted in an accident. Examples ought to be made also of reckless drivers who are lucky enough not to meet with accidents. A dozen such could be picked up in half an hour on any street or highway, and as prevention is better than cure in this as in other matters, these motor-maniacs should be curbed.—Port Hope Times.

THE RENAISSANCE OF EUROPE.

"Europe has come back. Considering the chaos of even five years ago the achievement is notable. But Europe has done more than come back. It has gone forward—to new economic goals, new industrial records. An uprush of business vitally floods the continent, sweeps traditions aside, channels new courses and threatens to upset the trade balance of the world. The post-war decade will be known in history as the industrial renaissance of Europe. It may be set down as established that Europe is stronger industrially today than it has ever been before. In spite of the devastation of territory and industrial plant, in spite of staggering losses in men and materials, the factories, mines and mills of Europe are actually producing more today than they did before the war."

This statement from Mr. Evans Clark, a well-known newspaper correspondent and economist, will come somewhat of a surprise to a large number of people on this side of the ocean who were of the opinion that a big part of Europe was still on the verge of chaos and her trade languishing in the doldrums. The picture painted by Mr. Clark shows a new Europe risen from the ashes of war—and a Europe whose chief concern is no longer the balance of power but the balance and stability of trade. An ever-present concern for industry now dominates the attention of every European nation. With a singleness of purpose unprecedented in the Old World its peoples have turned to a new God—financial security and have deliberately taken the whole structure of their business and remodelled it nearer to modern requirements. Economics has succeeded diplomacy and politics as Europe's chief concern and the balance of trade has become the new balance of power.

European currency which five years ago was in a state of chaos has been stabilized in every nation; iron and steel factories, shipyards, heavy machinery plants, chemical works and textile mills created to meet a war demand are now working overtime in the belated trade revival; neutral nations thrown on their own resources during the conflict have learned to supply their own requirements and a fervor conceived of nationalism and necessity goes far to prove the often quoted contention that an immense renaissance of trade is the inevitable aftermath of international conflict. The patriotism that flamed during the war could neither be satiated with victory nor subdued by defeat and has now been transfered from the awful drama of the trenches to the whirring wheels of the factory and the mill.

Just a glance at some of the chief nations of Europe will show that facts warrant Mr. Clark's optimistic contentions. Most notable of all is France. Before the war France was agricultural and individualistic to the core. While still a great agricultural country, industry now holds the centre of the stage. The industrialization of France has been pursued with a vigor and singleness of purpose that is rivalled only by Germany. Its results measured by the increased volume of good produced since the war exceeds that of every other nation, including Germany and the United States. Her northern centres of coal and textiles devastated by war have been reconstructed, the new industrial resources of Alsace and Lorraine have been developed to the limit. France now tops every other nation in the world in the volume of her iron and steel exports. Before the war France was a poor fifth in these lines. Exports in almost every line of manufactures have increased enormously over pre-war days, while imports have declined. Figures show that she exports about twice as much a year as she did in the pre-war period. Her re-birth has been more remarkable than that following the Franco-Prussian debacle and is the most dramatic feature of post-war Europe.

Like France, Germany has been engaged in a prodigious after-war effort at industrial recovery. In the past few years she has put her industries on a solid financial basis, revaluing assets to establish sound balance sheets; has made sensational strides towards a position of economic independence in spite of losses of immense coal and iron resources, and has led the world in the systematic co-ordination of her machinery of production and distribution by the closest liaison between industry and the state. After a drastic industrial housecleaning her industries are at a productive level 10 per cent. above pre-war and with a capacity both in physical plant and in efficiency of technique far in excess of 1913.

In the case of Great Britain the self-sufficiency of the continent has brought keener competition in marketing her products, especially her coal and textiles. Capital and labor have not united to the same degree as they have in other countries, combination has been less marked and she seems to hesitate to depart on new industrial methods. But the weaknesses of a giant are always more talked of than those of a dwarf. Britain has immeasurable strength in reserve and even the current indices of economic vitality show no serious general ebb. Her coal production this year will be only five per cent. less than the average of six pre-war years, while her 1927 output of steel promises to be more than 50 per cent. above the average of 1909-1913. In spite of all the talk of Britain's declining trade, her share of the total exports of the world is only one-half of one per cent. less than it was before the war. Not only with the big three, but in practically all European countries, there has been reborn activity directed to self-sufficiency, large scale production and operations at a level above the pre-war period.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Peterborough is suffering from baseball madness today. And the World's Series is not entirely to blame for that condition.

When Mr. Ferguson became Provincial leader he carried the convention. This time it looks as if the convention might carry Mr. Ferguson.

Pikskin Peters will attend the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition next week, which practically makes it unanimous.

It is going to cost money to be polite over the Atlantic telephone.

Dr. De Lury of the Dominion Observatory forecasts a continuance of warm weather for some time. Cheers off stage from the coal men.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press). — Extreme dullness marked the export trade in Canadian grain here yesterday, there being practically no demand from any source.

The only business of importance transacted in the local market was a sale of a load of Tough No. 3 Canadian Western barley at 9¼c per bushel over the October option, c.i.f. Montreal.

Owing to the further strength displayed in the future oat market at Winnipeg, spot prices for all grades of cash oats here were advances 3 to 5 cents per bushel. Ontario No. 2 white were offered at 67c, No 3 white at 66c ,and No. 4 white at 65c per bushel. Argentine corn was 1 cent per bushel lower at $1.03 to $1.04.

The undertone to the Spring wheat flour market was firmer but there was no change in prices. The local and export demand was quiet. The market for Winter wheat flour was without any new feature to note, prices being steady with a small business passing.

Prices for all grades of millfeed were well maintained under a good demand. The inquiry for standard grades of rolled oats was quiet but values ruled steady.

A moderate amount of business was done in baled hay for export account and prices were firm.

The undertone to the market for strictly fresh extra eggs was stronger and prices were marked up 2 cents per dozen. This was attributed to the continued scarcity of supplies and the good demand. The tone of the market for other grades was steady and the trade was active. The receipts were 724 cases.

A feature of the butter trade yesterday was the advance of one cent per pound announced by jobbers and now they are selling finest creamery butter at 41c per pound in solid packages, and at 42c per pound in one pound blocks. The wholesale market showed no change and the trade was quiet. The receipts were 482 packages.

The export trade in cheese was quiet, but the local demand was fair and the tone of the market was about steady. The receipts were 10,083 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press).—Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ¾ to 1¼ net higher; with corn ⅛ to ½c off; oats ⅛ to ⅜ up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20c.

Snow falls and rain were reported to be constantly interfering with the progress of Canadian threshers and curtailing to a serious extent the time available for the main movement of Canadian wheat before the close of lake navigation. Besides, fears were expressed that the unfavorable weather prevailing would result in an unusual percentage of Canadian wheat being of tough grade.

Advices of country marketings of wheat in Canada indicated a decided falling off as to volume and attracted further notice to current decreased private estimates of wheat yield as compared with Canadian official figures. Meanwhile, trade reviews from abroad said Western Europe would be obliged to import wheat steadily owing to poor quality of home-grown crops. New export business of North American wheat yesterday was small, but clearances continued liberal.

Forecasts of lower temperatures and rain, with probable snow in places gave considerable strength at times to the corn market. Besides, receipts were the smallest in some time. Selling increased on the upturns in price, though, and gains were wiped out at the last. Oats were firm but dull.

Provisions tended higher, influenced by a decrease of more than 39,000,000 pounds September decrease of Western stocks of lard.

CHICAGO CATTLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press). — Cattle 12,000, in-between grades and low killing classes weak to 25c lower; westerns mostly steady; quality considered, calves weak to 50c lower; she stock draggy; in spots 25c lower; good bulls for shipping purposes steady; other kinds weak to 15c lower; stockers and feeders of good quality, all weights in strong demand at a range of price from 8.75 to 10.50.

Hogs 20,000; majority butchers 250 to 325 pounds sold early at steady to 10c lower prices; top 11.90; bulk good and choice 160 to 200 pound averages 11.00 to 11.60; 210 to 240 pound weights 11.40 to 11.80; few butchers 250 to 350 pounds 10.90 to 11.60; most packing sows 9.85 to 10.10; light weights 10.25 to 10.40; bulk pigs 9.00 to 9.75; best strong weights 10.00 to 10.25; shippers took 4,000; estimated holdover 10,000.

Sheep 22,000; fat lambs fairly active, strong; bulk natives 13.50 to 13.75; best to shippers 14.00; 110 to 130 pound buck lambs 11.00 to 12.00; good rangers 13.50; fat ewes strong; bulk 5.75 to 6.50; top 6.75; feeding lambs strong; light weights 14.00; bulk 13.00 to 13.50.

A Thought For To-day

GET THIS ONE

Incessantly the tumbling stream winds its way out of the mountains. Quietly the hidden spring in the hillside leaks into a brook and by and by becomes a rushing river, eventually ending in a lake or an ocean.

The small shell that holds the acorn in time turns out to be the sturdy, strong oak.

An important position is the result of starting in a small way, doing the little details carefully and well, and then being prepared to accept the greater responsibilities.

Until you are willing and capable, until you do the little things and do them well, you will not be trusted with the more important duties.

The natural evolution of progress toward a higher position is all answered by how well you are doing the details where you are.

If you are not dependable where you are, do not expect promotion.

Shut off your HERMETITE oven and go to church

—when you return the roast will be done

"HOW can I go to church and cook dinner at the same time?" the housewife of old used to say. "It simply can't be done."

But what couldn't be done a few years ago is done by thousands of Canadian women today. With roast and vegetables baking in McClary's Hermetite Oven you can attend to your other activities, feeling perfectly confident that the whole meal will be deliciously cooked.

The reason is "stored heat". McClary's Hermetite is doubly insulated. The walls are packed with heat-proof material and surrounded by dead air space—the best insulation known to science. You have only to close the door to make the oven almost hermetically tight. The heat is thus retained inside the oven long after the current is turned off. Your foods go on baking without using up a bit more electricity.

You'll be as charmed with the other time and money-saving features of McClary's Electric Range as you are with the Hermetite Oven. You'll be delighted with its all-white, porcelain enameled finish—its great economy—its famous Speediron Elements.

Made in the very style and size you require, and sold at a price you can afford.

SPEEDIRON

McClary's Speediron Element is the greatest electric range improvement of modern times. Unlike old-fashioned elements, the coils of the Speediron are protected. If coils burn out after long service you simply lift the element out and have coils replaced easily and quickly—at the cost of a few cents. The only renewable, reparable protected element on the market.

TESTED by RESULTS

Every day in our mill Quaker Flour is tested by results. We bake with it under actual home conditions, in our home baking kitchen, with ordinary kitchen utensils. Bread, cakes, pastry, are subjected to the most severe examination for texture, lightness, flavor, color. The flour must pass this test daily before it can bear the Quaker name. It is the test for results. And only results count.

Successful home bakers have supreme confidence in Quaker Flour. They know it can be depended upon, absolutely. They take no chances with flour. That's why they use Quaker Flour. It always bakes the same, because it always is the same.

Selected wheat and over fifty years' milling experience with the finest equipment give Quaker Flour its assured and uniform quality.

LEGION BOOTH SHOWS PROFIT

Efforts Made By Campbellford Branch at Fair Very Successful.

TWO NEW MEMBERS.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 5. — The meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Legion held in their rooms in the armouries last night, was short but very business like.

Two new applications were submitted and accepted, and the usual fee accompanied them. The new members are George P. Phillips and H. N. Martin.

In connection with the Legion booth at the fair, Pat Morgan presented his report showing a profit of forty-six dollars and fifty eight cents.

After his report had been submitted to the officers of the Legion, Comrade Morgan moved a vote of thanks to the other members of the committee, who had assisted himself and the Legion during the day. He also contained in his motion that the branch express their gratitude to A. C. Connor and sons who had given them the use of the lumber and material for the booth free of charge. This motion was immediately followed by another from Major J. M. Bygott, president of the club, expressing the appreciation of the Legion for the assistance given by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Morgan. These ladies very generously gave of their services as assistants in the booth.

An account rendered by George Morrion for painting signs for the booth, was ordered paid five dollars. Notice for the next meeting will appear later.

Home Service

One of the most satisfactory chapters in the history of the Bank of Toronto is the educational program carried on from year to year to induce systematic saving and banking practice among women and children.

The Bank of Toronto handles thousands of accounts for the managers of the home—mothers—and also provides a special service to children who are saving their pennies, and thus learning the proper handling and value of money.

Special women's departments are maintained at many branches; and our managers everywhere are always glad to welcome women and children as depositors.

DISTRICT CHURCHES

BETHANY CIRCUIT.

BETHANY, Oct. 5.—The anniversary services in connection with the United church here, scheduled for October 9 and 10, have been put back for a week on account of the Rev. Archer Wallace who is to be the reacher, being unable to be present on that date, so the dates will be the 16 and 17 of October and the preparation are going steadily forward to make this anniversary one of the outstanding events of the season.

Anniversary services were held on the Franklin appointment of the United church here on Sunday, Rev. E. Rowland of Omemee being in charge of the services while the choir of the United Church, Bethany, were present to lead in the service of song.

Mr. A. H. Monk supplied the pulpit work of the Pontypool United church circuit on Sunday. Owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Boomhour, on his vacation.

A meeting of the young people of the United church is called for Wednesday evening, October 5, to reorganize and commence their winter's work in the Young People's League.

Communion services were held in St. Paul's church on Sunday morning with the rector, Rev. Mr. Fierheller, in charge.

MEYERSBURG UNITED CHURCH

The Meyersburg anniversary services were well attended both at morning and at night.

At the morning service, Rev. Mr. Sexsmith, M.A., of Sidney, gave a very wonderful representation of "The Task of the Country Church."

In the evening Mr. Sexsmith dwelt upon "Institutions that save us from calamity."

In the beginning, he brought to view, the different ways in which the human race has demoralized.

He touched upon various scientific discoveries of the nineteenth century and contrasted with these results human every-day problems, which science has not yet been able to solve.

In portraying the depths to which the world falls at times, Mr. Sexsmith vividly pictured some of the tortures of war. He sketched the mistakes which countries such as Italy and Russia have made and wondered whether people know enough to profit by experience.

After reviewing the disastrous side of human nature, Mr. Sexsmith said, "Now, what will save us from calamity."

Firstly, he mentioned the home, enlarging on the thought that love of kin is a very strong tie and one which lasts forever. So, in our homes we should lay the foundation for the future, so that later though the family should be scattered the members would be united in bonds of love.

Another thing which must be practised more is unselfishness.

Mr. Sexsmith said that young men and women now are growing up without the prophetic vision or the pioneer's determination of their ancestors. They are growing selfish and self-centred in their lust for pleasure.

If these simple virtues are practised daily in the homes, and the ideals molded together and cemented by family love, the future will be safe.

In both anniversary services the Meyersburg choir did credit to themselves and their church by their musical contributions.

FALLIS LINE CHURCH.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 5.—Fallis Line church observed its anniversary services on Sunday, Rev. George Campbell, of Camborne, preaching in the afternoon at 2.30, and in the evening at 7 o'clock.

The altar was banked with fall flowers, and large congregations gathered for both services, the capacity of the church being taxed at night.

Members of the choir from the United church, Millbrook, provided the music, the selections in the afternoon including an anthem, "I Hear a Voice", with duet by Mrs. G. W. and Miss Marjorie Sayles; and a duet, "If Christ Abide with Me," by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston.

Rev. Mr. Campbell spoke on the theme "Worship", from the text Psalm 96:8, "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name; bring an offering, and come into His courts", giving special emphasis to the fact that true worship calls for praise, and that the element of self-sacrifice cannot be left out.

"'Bring', the Psalmist says, not 'send' your offering—implying personal attendance at worship, with giving a real part of our devotions as prayer; and while we cannot buy spiritual blessings for there are no auction sales in the Kingdom realm, yet a claim of first importance is expressed in the text, 'Give unto the Lord.'"

"Attendance on the services of the Lord's house on His day is a good beginning for each week; listening in to a sermon on the radio means that the personal element is lacking, and the influence of the Holy Spirit on a group is altogether lost. Break down the inclination to loaf and stay at home on Sunday, and realize the fellowship of Christians which is a glorious possibility when they 'forsake not the assembling of themselves together on the Lord's day.' The half-hearted living of Christians today is sapping the life of the church; there is always music in consecration, and self-denial will bring a song of gladness to the heart."

The evening service at Millbrook was withdrawn on account of Fallis Line anniversary, and will be again next Sunday, October 9, when Zion appointment observes its anniversary occasion.

Messrs. Nathaniel Belch and Wilfrid Fallis were the ushers on Sunday.

CARMEL UNITED CHURCH

MILLBROOK, Oct. 5.—The members of the Men's Organized Bible Class from the United Church Sunday school had charge of the special Rally Day service at the Carmel appointment on Sunday afternoon, the president, L. W. Smith, taking the chair, and a choir of over twenty voices leading the singing, and contributing two numbers during the period of worship.

Mr. J. H. George read the Scripture lesson, and gave a brief talk, a number of the members reading the reefrences as they were called for. Rev. Joseph Wilks, and Mr. J. H. Anderson delivered addresses, emphasizing the need of taking Christ as guide in order to have a successful life.

The musical selections included a cornet solo by G. E. Burnham, and a song, "Working Together", by three little girls, Bryer Edmunds, Mary Burnham, and Myrtle Nattress.

Mrs. (Dr.) Rae is the teacher of the class which has over thirty members, the attendance being uniformly good even during the vacation months.

This was the first occasion when the men's class has taken full charge of service out of town, but there will in all probability be other times when it will give practical assistance at the appointments connected with the local circuit.

The Carmel church was completely filled for the service on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Fred Hard led in the opening prayer, and Miss Ella Elson presided at the organ.

TROUSSEAU TEA

Miss Jean Erskine Entertains Friends at Lakefield.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 5.—Miss Jean Erskine, whose marriage took place on Saturday, entertained at a trousseau tea on Wednesday last from four to six o'clock for about fifty of her friends. The trousseau was in charge of Miss Vera Botterill and Miss Mina Edwards of Peterboro. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. R. Wagar, and Mrs. W. W. Leonard cut the ices. Tea assistants were Miss Margaret Campbell and Miss Zelda Northey, both of Peterboro.

Miss Edith Spence made a charming little door attendant.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET.

Good Programme Given at St. Andrew's Y.P.S., Meeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 5. — The St. Andrew's young people enjoyed a record attendance at their opening meeting of the season held in the basement of the church yesterday evening. For the opening devotional exercises, Mrs. Scott, president, occupied the chair. A familiar hymn was sung and the Lord's prayer repeated in unison.

The topic for the evening was taken by Miss Mary Watson, retiring president. Speaking on how it would be possible to make the society more successful. Miss Watson emphasized the fact that each member ought to attach more importance to the meetings of the society and support its endeavours in every way possible.

The new president welcomed the new members, and after the singing of another hymn, the meeting devotions closed with the Mizpah benediction.

The brief programme which followed was very well received. The Misses Blue and their Hawaiian guitars were pleasing as usual. John Storie led the community singing. Mrs. Glen Thompson's instrumental was a high light of the programme. Another duet by the Misses Blue and some contests brought the programme to an end, and lunch was served.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 5.—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bullen. Miss Dorothy Bullen, and the Misses Moore were in Peterboro over the week-end.

The prizes for the High School field day are on display in the window of the Ferris store. The list is comprised of very valuable articles and are well worth striving for. Coupled with these prizes, the honor of winning a keenly contested event as most of them will be, ought to make this year's field sports the most successful in years. They are to be held on the grounds of the High School and not at the Agricultural Grounds as was originally planned. The first event is timed for 1.30 o'clock.

Dr. S. L. O'Hara, fortunately, was not going very fast when, as he was coming down the English Church hill, the right rear wheel of his car came off. The accident occurred shortly after six o'clock last night. As the doctor was proceeding at his usual moderate speed, he was able to avoid being thrown into the deep ditch that is on that side of the road.

The programme for the first half of the week at the Regent Theatre is very attractive, The Mack Sennet comedy in which dogs, babies, pullmans, and geysers play a prominent part gives the fans time to settle in their seats comfortably before the serial, "The Fighting Marine," comes on. This picture seems to be a great drawing card, and is one of the few saner serials. A story of life in the Californian mining country, nothing happens that does not or could not happen among the men which one writer describes as bearded brutes.

The feature, "One Year to Live," a First National, is a tale of life in gay Paris that is not so gay. Elise, a beautiful girl, is forced, through circumstances, to become a servant. In order to care for her invalid sister, Elise suffers many humiliations that she would otherwise not have to accept. Her first complication comes when the doctor who is attending her sister asks her to marry him. The next is a Captain of the American forces who is returning to his native land after the war. Through her position as maid to a famous theatrical star and a desire to attend a certain social function, she displays a talent for dancing but refuses a contract.

Through almost impossible adverse circumstances, Elise manages to keep her courage at fighting pitch, and in the end, as always, her virtue is duly rewarded.

WOMAN CHOSEN AS LORD MAYOR

Liverpool To Be First British City With Lady Ruler.

WORKER FOR CHILDREN.

LONDON, October 4 (United Press). — Miss Margaret Beavan, who has been selected unanimously to be Liverpool's next Lord Mayor, will be the first woman Lord Mayor in Great Britain.

She has been a member of the Council for six years and at fifty years of age devoted her time to caring for the crippled children of Liverpool, for whom she raised more than half a million pounds during the last 27 years. She also founded the Child Welfare Association, which has assisted more than 100,000 children.

Her selection coincides with the appeal of Dr. Robert G. Hogarth, senior surgeon at the Nottingham General Hospital, to scrap sex prejudice and to permit the country to abandon the waste of "those rare qualities of mind and immense capacity for service to humanity of women."

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5. — A dull early session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday developed into a moderately active and bullish affair as the trading progressed. Wheat values recovered from initial dips to close 5-8 to 1 3-c above Monday.

The belated strength was inspired by general reports of inclement weather in Western Canada, with a light fall of snow in parts of Alberta.

Exporters with Continental connection report slack demand for wheat, all offers being considerably below the prevailing price level. The Argentine is reported to be underselling Canadian hard wheat by 3c a bushel.

All coarse grains moved up in sympathy with wheat, oats closing 1-8 to 1 1-8c higher barley, ¾c to 7-8c up; flax 1½ to 2¾c up and rye 3-8 to 1c higher.

HAS REAL STRAD

John Pumfrey, farmer of Camden township, near Chatham, Ont., possesses a violin which experts have pronounced a genuine Stradivarius, and on which he places a value of $15,000. Mr. Pumfrey is shown with the instrument, for which, he says, he recently declined an offer of $10,000. It is in excellent state of preservation. The coloring of the wood which forms the back of the instrument is wonderful. Inscribed on the inside are the words: "Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis Paciebat Anno 1713." The violin has been a family relic for many decades. It was brought to Canada by his father, when, as a youth of 16, he emigrated. Mr. Pumfrey, who is 73 years of age, stated that he had heard his father say that it had been handed down from father to son. "My father treasured this instrument so much that he would never let any of us play it," the owner stated.

Here are photographs of a new type of home architecture coming into being in the United States, as a result of the vogue of the motor car. The fine homes are located in Portland, Oregon, and San Francisco, and are typical of many thousands of others. It will be noticed that the ground floors are entirely devoted to garage accommodation, while the family live on the second floor and up. Even very expensive homes are now being built in this way.

CUT-IN DRIVER CAUSES WRECK

Four People Hurt as Result of Accident Near Stratford.

DRIVER DOESN'T STOP.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press.)—When a motorist "cut in' on another car on the St. Mary's highway near here to-day, the car was forced into the ditch and four persons suffered injuries, two being seriously hurt. Traffic Officer Palmer was returning from the accident when he crashed into a motor car and suffered a fractured leg.

Walter Paull, Stratford, driver of the motor car which was forced into the ditch, sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and a broken right arm, while a passenger, Miss Ruth Jarrett, sustained a broken thigh. Two other passengers, Miss Doris McCarthy and Norris Heinbruck, suffered minor hurts The motorist alleged to be responsible did not stop

Palmer was returning on his motorcycle when he crashed into the side of a car driven by Fred Murran, Stratford, and was hurt badly enough to necessitate his being taken to the General Hospital.

bunt. Lazzeri tossed out L. Waner at first. Hoyt was trying a change of pace. Ruth stood still and took Barnhart's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning

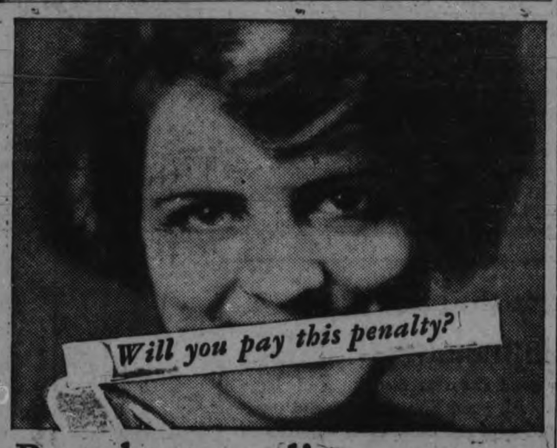
Yankees—Miljus threw out Gehrig at first. Meusel fanned, taking a third called strike. Traynor took Lazzeri's hot grounder and threw him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates.—P. Waner lined out to Meusel. Wright singled into right field. Traynor singled over second. Wright halting at second. Grantham up. The game was halted at this juncture and Hoyt was taken from the box. Wilcey Moore took his place. Grantham forced Traynor, Gehrig to Koenig, Wright going to third. Traynor went into Koenig, knocking him over and Koenig was apparently badly hurt. Play was halted for a few minutes and after Koenig had had his arm rubbed the game was resumed. Wright scored on Harris' single to centre, Grantham going to third. Smith went out to Gehrig, unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors.

Ninth Innings.

Yankees—Wright threw out Dugan at first. Collins' smash bounced off Miljus' foot to Wright, who threw him out at first. Moore fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—Brickell batted for Miljus. Moore tossed out Brickell. Waner lined out to Combs. Barnhart was thrown out at first, Moore to Lazzeri to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors.



Pyorrhea penalizes 4 out of every 5

What a grim penalty Pyorrhea exacts for neglect! It spreads its poison through the system, undermines health, destroys precious youth. And four persons out of every five after forty (and thousands younger) get caught in its relentless grip.

But you need never fear Pyorrhea. Go to your dentist at least twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the Gums.

Used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea or checks its vicious course. It firms the gums and keeps them healthy. It protects teeth against decay-causing acids and keeps them white.

It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., and contains Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, used by dentists everywhere.

Safeguard your health! Start using Forhan's regularly morning and night. Teach your children the same good habit. Play safe—get a tube today. At all druggists 35c and 60c.

Mine Market Active But Trend Uncertain

TORONTO, Oct. 5. — (Canadian Press.) — Movements were directly contrary in another boiling market on the standard mining exchange this morning. Strong features were Crown Reserve, with a climb of 12 points at 52, and Towagmac, advancing 23 at 485 at noon. The reactionary leader was Laval, Quebec, which lost 5½ of its recent advance when it sold down to 49½ to-day. Area at 60 and Argonaut at 44 were substantially lower, while Newbec lost 4 at 86. The undertone of the market was weak.

Toronto Market Quiet; Bakeries and Nickel Lead

TORONTO, Oct. 5. — (Canadian Press.)—The market was considerably quieter on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day, with Northern Bakeries sharing the leadership with International Nickel. The trend was mixed. Bakeries had an eighth gain at 41 1-8 and Nickel was up a quarter at 69½. Brazilian slumped to 202½, but recovered to 205½, a net loss of only ¾, while City Dairy sold up three at 157 and Dominion Stores advanced 2½ at 97. Alberta Pacific Grain had a gain of 1¾ at 45½. Among the weaker issues Walkers was down ¾ at 56¾ and Brompton a point lower at 46.

New York Market Rallies After Opening Weakness

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.— (Canadian Press.)—A good cushion of buying orders was provided in to-day's stock market to absorb the shock of overnight selling inspired by the unexpectedly large increase of $241,000,000 in stock exchange member loans last month. Prices sold down one to four points at the opening, but quickly started upward again. The recovery was checked temporarily when the call money rate was marked up to 4½ per cent. United States' Steel common sagged to around the morning's low and several others slipped back a point or more from their early highs. Trading slowed up considerably during the early afternoon, but a fairly firm undertone was maintained.

Wheat and Corn Sag Despite Bad Weather

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (Canadian Press).—Despite unfavorable weather and predictions of more, wheat and corn both averaged lower in prices early today. No sustained demand from the buyers was in evidence and scattered speculative selling turned the values downward. Opening at ⅛ to ¾c decline, wheat rallied to above yesterday's finish and later sagged again. Corn started unchanged to ⅛c off, recovered somewhat and then underwent a material set-back. Oats held about steady.

Opening prices were: Wheat, December 131⅛, March 134; corn, December 93¾, March 98⅝; oats, December 48⅛, March 50½.

MID-WEEK MARKET WELL PATRONIZED

Large Supply of Garden Produce Offered This Morning.

The Vegetable Growers' Association held their mid-weekly market this morning, with a good patronage. Prices were according to usual quotations, with potatoes at $1.50 and $1.75 a bag, corn at 15 and 20 cents a dozen, red onions 40 cents a peck and the small variety 15 and 20 0cents a quart. Green tomatoes were 25 cents a basket and the red tomatoes were 40 and 45 cents a basket, 75 cents for two baskets and $1.10 a bushel. A novelty was on the market this morning, in Brussels sprouts at 15 cents a pound. Red peppers were 25 cents a dozen and green peppers two cents apiece.

Water melons were 25 cents each, crab apples 50 cents a peck, elderberries 50 and 60 cents a basket. St. Lawrence apples were 50 cents a peck, pears 75 cents and $1 a basket, with pickling pears at 65 cents. One vendor had eggs at 43 cents a dozen.

1,000 WORKERS OUT ON STRIKE

Carpenters Belonging To A. F. L. Union Walk Out.

OPPOSE RIVAL UNION.

TORONTO, October 5. — Canadian Press. — Approximately one thousand carpenters employed on building construction in Toronto, downed tools and walked off their jobs to-day. They were members of the United Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, and struck when the General Contractors' Association refused to accede to their demands that only members of their union be employed by the contractors.

The request for an increase of ten cents an hour was more or less a side issue to the union's opposition to the Amalgamated Carpenters' Union, which unlike the United, has no affiliations with the American Federation of Labor. Half an hour after tools were laid down at ten a.m., the striking workmen storm ed the labor temple to report themselves and learn what arrangements were to be made to enroll committees and complete strike organizations.

A general strike of the building trades has apparently been precipitated by the walkout of the carpenters of the United Union to-day.

Other unions decided not to go out unless attempts were made to replace the striking carpenters but contractors to-day instructed their foremen to engage members of the amalgamated union which is not affiliated with the American Federation to fill the vacancies. Instructions were then given the building trades not to take any action towards a sympathetic strike until a meeting has been held to-night.

FLYING CLUB TO BE FORMED

Large Meeting of Those Interested Held Here Last Night.

MEET AGAIN NEXT WEEK.

Through the untiring efforts of Captain Ayres an aero club is going to be organized in this city, and Peterborough will put forth her claims to two of the government light airplanes.

Last night thirty men of the city gathered in the Board Room of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the feasibility of organizing a club. The meeting was very enthusiastic and a committee was appointed to get the required number of pilots, and would-be pilots that the government regulations require before the airplanes can be given to the club.

Peterborough at present is the only city ready to accept the offer of the government. There is an air field, a licensed instructor, mechanic, and many young men desirous to be pilots.

The purpose of the Minister of National Defense in supplying these light planes is to train young aviators for mercantile aviation and to foster a Canadian Air Reserve.

Before the two ships can be delivered to any club the regulations require that there be a membership of thirty who are desirous of flying, and also ten qualified pilots. There also has to be a competent instructor and engineer, with a proper place to put the planes, and a flying field.

Mayor Holloway, in a short address, assured those present that although he has no desire to fly, he was behind the scheme. He paid a compliment to Captain Ayres who has endeavored to make this possible.

J. J. Duffus told those present that he would assist the club in every way possible. A. L. Killaly assured those present that the Rotary Club was heartily behind the scheme.

Those on the committee are Lt.-Col. C. H. Ackerman, Lt.-Col. F. L. Bradburn, M.C., Lt. D. A. Loomis, M. C., Captain William Jackson, T. Dutton, C. Graham, and A. L. Killaly.

All men who were with the air force during the war, and all those interested in aviation, are extended an invitation to be present at an organization meeting next week, when the Peterboro Aero Club will be organized.

MEXICAN LEADERS CRUSH REBELLION

Only Two Small Forces Left in the Field, Says Alvarez.

MEXICO CITY, October 5. Canadian Press. — A declaration that the rebellious movement has been crushed, with the exception of two small forces, one of them commanded by General Arnulfo Gomez, was made to-day by General Alvarez, chief of the provincial staff.

President Calles has sent a telegram to the former military commandant of the state of Mexico, declaring that the rebellious movement has been completely crushed, and declining an offer of assistance.

While government forces were stated to be in active pursuit of the two bands still in the field, further executions in the campaign of the Calles government to stamp out the military revolt, were announced.

Former General Dela Vega was executed for attempting to incite the troops to rebellion, and in Zacatecas City, the former Generals Robriguez and Olivera, were given the extreme penalty on similar charges.

The heaviest wood is lignum-vitae, which runs from 73 to 82 pounds a cubic foot. Ebony is a close second, with from 69 to 83 pounds; boxwood is third running from 59 to 72 pounds a cubic foot.

We were taken to the battlefield of Vimy Ridge. It is now owned by the Canadian Government as the French in gratitude presented it to us. The base of a monument has been erected. Some sections of both the German and Canadian trenches are kept in repair. We were in both. The Canadian trenches went deep down into the ground where the boys slept away from the noise overhead. One trench remains where the Canadians, with considerable success, had undermined the Germans. Many names were engraved on the rock in the trenches. "Greer" of Cobourg, and "Bell" or "Dell" of Peterborough, seemed to bring the war very near home to me. It was easily understood why Vimy Ridge was an important position to hold. In the plain to the west were Lens, Donai, and other cities. Who ever held Vimy Ridge dominated over these. Old shell holes, now overgrown with weeds, still remain. It would be impossible to describe the feelings that came over one as he viewed this battleground. Awe, regret, sorrow, and reverence were all comingled.

Near Vimy Ridge is a Canadian cemetery. It is beautifully kept. Roses bloom profusely. Marble slabs now replace many of the crosses. On some of these were inscriptions like the following: "To Five Unknown Soldiers." A German cemetery is not far away in which, I was told, fifty thousand men lie buried. These cemeteries are easily recognized because the crosses are black. This is only one small part of the destination of warfare. Verily, "war is hell."

From Arras we went to Paris. Paris has been described as having little else than sunshine, gaiety, and life. It is the paradise of pleasure-seekers, painters, musicians, and sculptors. It has beautiful streets, magnificent squares, delightful parks, and majestic buildings. To describe it adequately is impossible. It is the chief show city of Europe. I will attempt to describe just a few of its striking features. The most beautiful street is the Champs-Elysies Avenue. It is very wide with rows and rows of sycamore trees much like our maples. At one end is the Place de la Concorde which has been described as the most magnificent square in the world with its obelisk of Luxor, its sparkling fountains, and colossal statues; yet this square was the spot where Louis XVI., Marie Antoinette, and thousands of the nobles were guillotined at the time of the French Revolution. On a hill crossing the street is the Arc de Triomphe (Triumphal Arch), said to be the largest in the world. It was built in honor of Napoleon and its ornamentation aims to depict Napoleon's great victories. Here is the unknown soldier's grave, and from this centre twelve avenues branch out in various directions. Bridges in most countries are built for purposes of utility, but in Paris they are also things of art. The French have a real instinct for beautification. There seems to be money for art under all circumstances. When the French were smarting from defeat in the Franco-Prussian War and were loaded with crushing war indemnities, they finished the Grand Opera House at enormous cost. It is one of the greatest opera houses of the world and is exquisitely beautiful. I attended a grand opera here. The play and the staging were a revelation. The part I enjoyed most was the orchestra of about fifty musicians. One violin solo was one of the most delightful I have ever heard. One came away feeling as if he had been in a fairyland. There are many more opera houses in the city. One of the chief of these is the Trocadero, which can seat 6,400 people. I have mentioned some of the chief churches before and will not again refer to them. Napoleon's tomb deserves some notice. It is one of the most impressive monuments in the world. Above it is a stately dome whose richly gilded surface glitters in the sun at a height of more than three hundred feet. The first impression on entering is awe-inspiring. It is a kind of temple livid from floor to roof with spotless marble. Four marble piers uphold the mighty dome. At the front is an altar of variegated marble, bronze and gold The floor is a mosaic in elaborate designs. The lighting at the front is indescribable. At one side are large violet windows, at the other side are windows of a golden color. The intermingling of the light from these windows produces the strangest effect. The sarcophagus itself is a porphyry of the richest dark-red or brown resting on a green pedestal. It is placed in a sort of well so that all must bow their heads in gazing at Napoleon's tomb. The floor upon which the tomb rests is a marble mosaic in the form of a gigantic star, around which are inscribed the names of some of Napoleon's greatest victories. The thought crossed my mind that most murderers are buried in jail-yards. A man who lowered the stature of the French nation from one to two inches because the most physically fit men were killed in wars was a very doubtful benefactor. Louis Pasteur receives some recognition in public places in Paris but it is insignificant compared to that of Napoleon. It is the glorification of men like Napoleon that puts a glamor around war and creates the atmosphere that helps to make wars possible. I could not help thinking that if another like Napoleon were to arise, the French would again flock around his banner. I might say that I twice visited the Louvre, noted for its art and sculpture. It would be useless to mention all the pictures I saw. I will mention just a few that are familiar. I saw the original paintings of "The Lord's Supper," by Leonardo da Vinci; "The Gleaners," "The Angelus," and "The Shepherdess," by Millet; "The Dance of the Nymphs," "Evening," and several others by Corot; "Retreat of Napoleon from Moscow," by Missonier, and "Charles I. of England," by Van Dyke.

To try to describe the beauty, the grandeur, the magnificence of the palaces of Fontainebleau and Versailles is a hopeless task. There is nothing in America at all comparable to them. The former contains 1,638 rooms, of which 365 are principal ones; the latter has 2,348 rooms. Try to imagine rooms floored with marble whose walls and ceilings are decorated with solid brass in the most beautiful designs and mouldings, and with the most beautiful, elaborate, and gorgeous paintings. Try to imagine tapestries so perfect that they look more like paintings, to make a square yard of which required the labor of a skilled workman for a whole year. Try to imagine tables inlaid with ivory, and in different cases comprised of over a hundred pieces of marble. The walls of the Hall of Mirrors in Versailles is comprised of marble and mirrors; it has 15,000 lights and its ceiling alone required eleven years to paint. It was in this room that the Treaty of Versailles was signed after the Great War. The table on which it was signed has this inscription—"Table de la signature du Traite de Paix, 28 Juin, 1919." It was a very ordinary table in comparison with many others, but it had great interest for us. The peace was framed in the Trianon building near at hand. Beautiful palaces must have corresponding grounds. The grounds are most extensive and contain great areas of beautiful flower plots laid out in most fantastic designs, fountains and ponds of water; parks of wonderful trees, amongst which are scattered about 8,000 statues, and many other pleasing features. Versailles is said to be the most gorgeous Royal Palace in the world. When a person contemplates that all this was planned to please the vanity, and add to the comfort and luxury of the French kings, their wives, numerous mistresses, and their other court favorites, and that the peasants of France had no share in it except to pay for the lavish expenditure, the French Revolution becomes very easily understood.

We also visited the chateau of Malmaison which was the private residence of Napoleon and Josephine. At Barbizon we saw the studios of the chief French painters, as Millet, Rousseau, and others. These were the most charming little spots.

We sailed home from Cherbourg in France but I need not describe the home voyage. I arrived in Peterborough on the early Canadian Pacific train from Montreal. As I walked along the streets and saw the lawns and ample grounds of most of our residences, I could not help but think that I had not seen homes such as these anywhere. Only the very wealthy people in cities across the ocean could have as much ground. Europe may have its beautiful show places, but for real comfort and enjoyment of life, Canada surpasses it many times' "There's no place like home" is the verdict of the great majority of tourists.

Pirate Flag Flies Over Local Y.M.C.A.

Much to the surprise of many citizens, the pirates' flag was seen waving from the flag-pole of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday. The black flag, with the white skull and cross-bones, took the place of the Union Jack that had been flying there. It was a boy's prank, and once the officials got to know about it the outlaws' bunting was not long in coming down. Whether the boys wanted to outlaw the local organization is a question that has not been answered as yet.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PLAN OF FEDERATION IS UNIQUE

Born in Religious and Political Strife of the Last Century.

HARMONY ACHIEVED.

TORONTO, Oct. 5 (By The Canadian Press).—The University of Toronto which celebrates the centenary of its foundation October 5 to 8 next is one of the oldest and perhaps the most widely known of Canadian universities. Of English-speaking institutions only King's College, Halifax, the University of New Brunswick and McGill University, Montreal, can boast of a longer history. The granting of a Royal charter to King's College in 1827 marked the beginning of the present institution. The corner-stone of the first building was laid in 1842 and instruction begun in 1843. In 1850 the name "University of Toronto" was adopted and it was made a non-sectarian institution. The provincial government assumed control in 1867, making it the Provincial University of Ontario. In 1906 the government relinquished control of the newly constituted Board of Governors.

Born and nurtured in a turmoil of religious and political dissension it has evolved into a federation embracing sectarian colleges which has attracted the attention of educationalists the world over and has already been used as a model for several other institutions, notably the University of Manitoba and the University of Alberta. Until 1850 it was under the control of the Church of England and was assailed by people outside that communion on the ground that a state-supported institution should not be of a sectarian character.

Making it non-sectarian did not, for a time, improve matters much. It was then attacked as a "godless institution." Meantime, sectarian colleges were springing up and the province was becoming overburdened with facilities for higher education. The Methodists established Victoria University at Cobourg. The Anglicans established Trinity University at Toronto, and the Roman Catholics, St. Michael's College, Toronto. Knox College and Wycliffe College were theological schools, the former Presbyterian and the latter Anglican. All these denominational colleges now form part of the university and dissension and strife have been replaced by harmony and toleration.

Classes were first conducted in the old parliament buildings on Front Street. The first university building proper was erected on the site of the present parliament buildings in Queen's Park. This building later was used as a lunatic asylum, known as the University Lunatic Asylum, which led wags of the time to call the college the Lunatic Asylum University. The nucleus of the present group, comprising some 30 or more buildings, was begun in 1856. It was the building now known as University College.

Hart House, a princely bequest of the late Hart Massey, was begun in 1910 and opened to the use of the students in 1919. It is a building unique among student unions in that it provides for every extra-academic activity, athletics, the drama, social functions, and student and graduate organizations. In this building many of the functions of the Centenary will take place.

The past 20 years have been years of phenomenal growth for the university, due in part to the increased interest taken in it by the Ontario government but largely to a greater demand for higher education, and to the development of technical instruction in a wide range of subjects. The total undergraduate registration now numbers nearly 6,000. The development of graduate school has occupied the attention of the administration for some time and already there are many post-graduate students.

The prime minister of Canada, Right Hon. Mackenzie King, and his immediate predecessor, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, are both graduates, and will both be present at the Centenary. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, is also a graduate and will deliver one of the two chief addresses of the meeting. The other is to be delivered by Hon. L. A. Taschereau, premier of Quebec. Two other premiers, also graduates, Hon. John Bracken of Manitoba, and Hon. J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, may be present. E. W. Beatty, K. C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has announced that he will attend.

Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian minister in Washington, also a graduate, is coming to represent the University of Oxford.

The following will be present as delegates of other universities: Professor Leonard Clink, University of British Columbia; Dr. Fred. J. Woodbridge, Columbia University, New York; President A. Stanley Gordon, Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia; Rev. A. D. Moore, King's College, Halifax; Monseigneur Emile Roy, Laval University, Quebec; Dr. Henry Laurius, Louvain University, Louvain, Belgium; Sir Arthur Currie, McGill University, Montreal; Rev. V. J. Piette, University of Montreal; C. C. Jones, M. A., University of New Brunswick; Rev. F. Marsotte, Ottawa University; Rev. R. Bruce Taylor, Queen's University; Professor C. W. Dwight, Yale University. The British Medical Association will be represented by Sir John Bland-Sutton, and the British Association for the Advancement of Science by Sir Charles Sherringdon.

Invitations were sent to every university and learned society in the world and in all some 250 delegates are expected. They will come from China, from Japan and India, from the countries of South America and from Australia and Africa, as well as from less distant places.

U.F.Y.P.O. HOLDS FINE CORN ROAST

South Monaghan Young People Entertain Peterborough Branch.

BAILIEBORO, Oct. 5.—The South Monaghan U.F.Y.P.O. held a corn roast and dance at Wallace's Point on Wednesday evening last. The heavy rainfall during the early part of the evening put a damper on the games and open air fire, but full justice was done to the liberal supply of edibles provided by the ladies during the evening in the pavilion.

The chief form of amusement was dancing, to music provided by the Stuart and Moncrief orchestra.

An invitation was sent to the members of the Peterborough club and several car loads of the Peterboro young folks motored down to enjoy an evening's outing with their neighboring society.

Among those who were present were: Misses E. Thorne, G. Stuart, M. and S. Earl, V. White, E. Wallace, K. Ibister, H. Ackison, S. Rutherford, F. Bonnycastle, B. Wood, C. Kinsmen, B. Hancock, R. Chayne, Misses Metcalf, E. and G. Johnston, E. Tate, E. Huggins, D. Hall, E. Bristow, Mrs. M. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. H. Moncrief, Misses C. Barnard, A. Fair, M. and V. Cardwell, M. Dawson. Messrs. W. and C. Hall, R. Rutherford, W. Waterman, J. Whitfield, W. Hutchison, R. Stuart, A. Harrison, E. Thompson, W. Kinsmen, N. and H. Bristow, H. Cardwell, C. Wood, K. Huggins, F. and J. Barnard, H. Dawson, E. and W. Petrie, W. Lang, N. Earl, and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. John Perrin of London visited friends in this district last week.

Mr. W. E. Dawson of St. Mary's was a guest of her sister, Miss S. Dawson, last week.

Miss C. Barnard has resumed her duties as nurse-in-training at Ross Memorial hospital, Lindsay, after a two weeks' vacation with her parents.

Miss May Earl accompanied Miss Edna Wallace to her home at Port Perry, and was her guest over the week end.

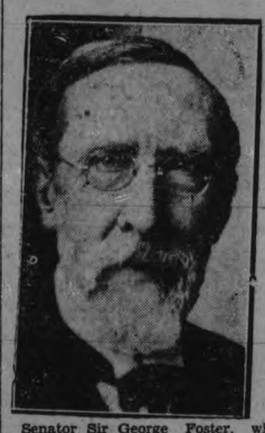
Mrs. W. Parsons visited her sister near Roseneath on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cole and family visited friends at Roseneath on Sunday.

Roland Johnston has returned to Peterboro to resume his position there after spending a week's vacation, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston.

George Beebe has recently purchased a new car.

STATUS UNCHANGED.



Senator Sir George Foster, who declares Canada's status is unchanged by the recent awarding to her of a seat on the council in the League of Nations at Geneva. He denies that the league through this action recognizes Canada as a sovereign state.

MILLBROOK NEWS.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 5.—Miss Mabel McCarthy, daughter of Mrs. E. H. Barnes, had a brilliant record in her High School work last term, word having been recently received that she had won a Scholarship at Briscia Hall, Hamilton, affiliated with the Western University of London, Ontario. The Scholarship is valued at $150.00.

Before going to Stirling, where she is at present attending High school, Miss Mabel attended the Millbrook Continuation school for one year winning a number of 'firsts' in her final examinations that term.

Miss McCarthy is taking her honor matriculation work this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ball, their two daughters, Muriel and Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. W. Fred Fallis, Miss Florence, and Arnold and Marshal Fallis; Mrs. Herb Ball, her daughter, Mary, and son, Clarence, motored to Port Hope recently and attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garnett.

Rev. Mr. A. C. Huffman, missionary on furlough from Sze-Chuan, West China, was the guest of Rev. F. H. and Mrs. Howard at the Parsonage on Monday. Mr. Huffman and Mr. Howard were at college together.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Howe, and two children, Peggy and June, and Ernest L. Burnham, motored from Toronto and spent the week end in town.

Mr. Howe and Mr. Burnham returned to the city on Sunday evening, Mrs. Howe and her two daughters remaining for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nattress.

Miss Maud Benson of Peterborough was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Henderson.

Mrs. A. B. Lefroy and two sons, Messrs. Aylmer and Eric, who have been guests of Reeve W. T. and Miss Margaret Wood, for the past month, returned to the city last week.

MADOC NEWS

MADOC, Oct. 5.—Miss Vivian E. Nickle, R.N. (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Nickle of Madoc), graduate of Reynolcs Memorial Hospital, Glendale, West Va., has resigned her position as X-ray technician at the Ohio Valley General Hospital, Wheeling, West Va., to take up on October 1 her duties as supervisor in the X-ray department at Garfield Memorial Hospital, Washington, D.C. She has also enroled at the George Washington University for a course in Clinical Laboratory work which will last all winter.

STUDYING IMMIGRATION

Rev. J. C. Pringle, left, vice-chairman of the British Dominions Emigration Society, and W. E. Hincks, O.B.E., J.P., right, who arrived in Canada during the week-end on the White Star liner Regina, to study immigration, municipal and welfare questions in eastern Canada. They also will visit the United States.

EDWARD JOHNSON CONCERT

(By Jeanette.)

To paraphrase a famous saying, Edward Johnson came, he sang, he conquered. Glowing advance notices of his ability brought him a rousing ovation when he made his appearance on the stage last evening before a packed audience of a thousand people at the Grand Opera House, but his superb artistry, his magnificent voice and his irradiating personality took his hearers metaphorically to his feet after that and held them entranced until the final moment of overwhelming regret that almost made itself apparent in words, when he stepped off the stage for the last time and the men and women who had been bound by his spell for nearly two hours realized disappointedly that there wasn't any more. They had to "run along home" and forget that they wanted this man to keep on singing for hours longer, while they sat silent and motionless and drank it all in. To the Kiwanis Club, under whose auspices the concert was arranged, the city owes a large debt of gratitude, as do the hundreds who heard Edward Johnson last night. Eight hundred and fifty people filled the house proper to capacity, while the gallery held about one hundred and fifty more.

An impression of polished ease and absolute finish comes to the one who listens to Edward Johnson singing. The music flows forth from his lips, not in quiet fashion, perhaps, but with the dynamic onrush of a river that hurls itself headlong onward to its goal. His is essentially the art of the opera. The black and white of his conventional evening clothes gave way to an imaginary garb of harlequin red and white as he broke forth in the tragic song of the love-crazed clown, and he flung a shadowy velvet cape over his shoulder for the little pathetic prayer of the singing page. Mr Johnson acts every minute. From the crown of his head to the tips of the toes on which he rises momentarily during seconds of thrilling melody, he vibrates to the music that seems to fill his whole being. One gains the same impression as from a bird whose entire body joins in its outpouring of song. And the pianist joins with him. There is a wonderful rapprochement between the vocalist and his accompanist.

The singer came on with a smile that flashed back at his audience as he made his final disappearance some time later, the joy that he takes in his work being apparent in every moment. He spoke briefly in introduction, explaining the preponderance on his programme of songs in foreign languages by saying that, as a merchant offers his best wares to his patrons, so the singer likewise gives the very best of that art which he has spent many years in acquiring. This may be so. Possibly French and Italian and German are the languages of song and English is too harsh for the finest musical utterance. But Edward Johnson, a Canadian by birth, but whose clipped speech had a foreign tang last night in its spoken sentences, received the most rousing and sincere applause for his songs in English.

Edward Johnson is a master showman as well as master singer. He gathers every atom of the attention of his audience by his charming smile and gracious personality. Then he sings with every bit of him, holding always their tense interest. And then he bids them good-bye with a smile. Who would not say, "Will ye no come back again?" to this man of the golden voice, with the smoothness of cream in its flowing, elongated vowels and its rolling "r's." Thrilling, finished, holding in quality, it is really an intellectual voice. There were only one or two occasions when he spoke directly to the heart, the most notable being in the cadences of "Someone Worth While." Whether it is true or not, there is an old saying that a nightingale sings most sweetly when a thorn is pressed against its breast. One gathers the impression that Edward Johnson is a very happy person, and that quality of happiness wells out in the robust tenor with its dramatic timbre and haunting color of tone. He demonstrates the art of acting to the nth degree. And there is a gorgeous quality to the rhythm of his music. Who but a superb artist could sing the reiterated pretended complaint of the damsel in The Bretagne number, "Dimanche a l'aube" (On Sunday Morn") with the exhilarating swing that Edward Johnson put into it last night, bringing his audience to their collective toes with its vivid, unabating, swift beat?

An aria from "La Boheme," "Che gelida manina" (Your tiny hand is frozen)" opened the programme, giving the keynote of operatic presentation and outstanding histrionic ability by the singer which was the outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment. Then followed a group that included "Die Lotosblume" ("The Lotus Flower") by Schumann, with a sentimental atmosphere to the nasal German words There was a poetic touch to this in the somewhat mournful cadences of the imaginary fate of the unhappy lotus bloom, with the artist's wonderful vocal control evident in its difficult rendition.

The staccato vivacity of the little French "Sunday morning" song was a delight to the ear, there was lingering melody in the smooth tempo of the Old English minuet that relates the unavailing love for "Chloe, who flouts me," and the fourth gem of the group was an Italian nautical number, "In mezo al Mar" ("Song of the Adriatic"), the song of the lass who loved a sailor but "knew what sailors are." In differing mood, these morceaux of classic and folklore music were illustrative of the remarkable versatility of the artist, demonstrating, as he explained, the mating of mood and rhythm which "is the greatest thing in music."

To the repeated applause which followed this quartette of songs, came the lilting joyousness of "Leezie Lindsay" as an encore.

The "sympatica" quality of the true tenor was outstanding in the little song of "Linden Lea," by one of the modern composers, with the wonderfully clear enunciation of the singer in the crystalline syllables, and the smooth fluency of the Italian mode of vocalization was very noticeable in the haunting cadences of "A Page's Road Song," with its unusual tempo, while there was a quality of odd, unexpected climax to the brevity of the fantastic morsel of charming poetry called "A Piper," that had a rather disappointing anti-climax to one listener at least, in its repetition to a rousing burst of enthusiasm. The luscious, cream velvet of the smooth tones rang out in a bit of vers libre, a whimsical fairy tale of Kipling's, set to music by Edward German, and called "Kangaroo and Dingo." It takes a real artist to do a song of this sort, and one of the most sincere tributes to Mr. Johnson's ability was the applause that followed this rather too fantastic bit.

An encore here was "Mother o' Mine," with the dramatic presentation of the singer coloring the true pathos and sentiment of the old favorite. With a song like this, the heart usually responds. Mr. Johnson made it a triumphant piece of melodrama, giving a wonderful exhibition of legato singing in the final verse.

With every great artist, there are pet songs, brief bits of polished beauty. One of these with Mr. Johnson must be "Someone Worth While" that haunting cry of the man who has forgotten the little things that were worth so much in days gone by, "a little faith, a little trust, a girl with a smile."

To the good wine that was kept for the last, although every bit of this programme was of good wine, was added the heart-catching music of "Tally Ho," a song that thrilled to the core. Marvellous in its tone picture of the "galloping, galloping" hasty feet of the horses in the fox hunt, pathetic in its lagging tempo for the laboring breath of the fox, human in the refusal of the yokel to tell where the quarry fled, it was an absolute gem that was spoiled later for one listener, by repetition, the climax fading on the second hearing.

As a final gorgeous wind-up came the powerful tragic utterances of "Vesti la Giubba" fro m"I Pagliacci," the heart-broken cry of the maddened clown, with its presentation leaving the singer limp from emotion. Declamatory in essence, as so many of his numbers were, this was outstanding in its strength.

And there was a final bit of lovely melody in the little piece of negro music, "Run Along Home," that followed the outburst of rapturous and thrice-repeated applause for the operatic number.

To Mr. Blair Neale, the accompanist for Mr. Johnson's programme, is due a great deal of the credit for a triumphant evening of music. Absolutely absorbed in his background of pianoforte accompaniment, he is a part of the whole superb performance and his solo work at the instrument, in three brief numbers, was a demonstration of assured self-confidence, technical perfection and finished tone that made his execution delightful in the extreme. He played two short bits by Chopin, a "Prelude" and "Valse," with some of the dreamily brilliant music of Mendelssohn, in an "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso," followed by a lovely encore in the "Liebesfreud."

BOARDS FROM LUMBER CHIPS

Much the same method of explosion that produces puffed cereal for breakfast recently has been used in the manufacture of lumber, which, says the Smithsonian Institution, is stronger than natural wood. As described in Popular Science Monthly, waste wood chips are first exploded, then compressed into boards. The chips are made to absorb steam under pressure. When the pressure is suddenly released the steam expands, blowing the chips into fluffy fibers, which can be pressed into boardlike sheets.

Twenty ladies attended the weekly luncheon held at the Golf Links yesterday. Arrangements for bridge in the afternoon were in charge of Mrs. R. M. Waddell, the prizes being won by Miss Paull of Montreal. Mrs J. W. Scott had charge of the golfing competitions, which included a putting contest, won by Mrs. Gerald Wood and a nine-hole round for the best medal score, won by Mrs. E. S. Martin.

Mr. Robert Breyfogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle, of this city, sailed to-day from Quebec City for England, where he will study for two years at Magdalen College, University of Oxford. Mr. Breyfogle graduated in 1926 from the University of Dartmouth College, New Hampshire, and was a member of the teaching staff there last year.

On Monday evening of this week, twenty-five of the members of the Peterborough Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, gathered at the home of Mrs. W. J. Chambers (nee Helen Madden), to present her with a miscellaneous shower of gifts in honour of her marriage, which took place recently. The evening was spent in the enjoyment of games, followed by the service of dainty refreshments.

Mr. George H. King, of Windsod, formerly of this city, was in Peterborough for two days recently, on his way back from Montreal, where he has just completed arrangements for a tour of Ireland, Scotland, England, Holland, Belgium, Germany and France, the trip covering forty days.

Miss Dorothy Gibson, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Gibson, Stewart street, left recently for Kingston, where she will spend the winter with her grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Murray, Vine street. Miss Gibson, who was formerly a member of the "Standard Junior," a paper printed for Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, has been appointed a lieutenant in the St. James' Troop of the Kingston Guides.

Mrs. Joseph Meagher, 260 Aylmer street, is in Chicago, where she attended the wedding on Wednesday of last week of her niece, Miss Helen Burke, who was a student at St. Peter's High school here about five years ago, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Burke, of Chicago.

Miss May Pollock yesterday returned to her home on Perry Street, after an absence since August 11th, in Nicholls Hospital, where she was removed after a serious automobile accident.

Mrs. David Huggins, Senior, of Fraserville, yesterday celebrated the ninety-second anniversary of her birth, when her six sons and their wives, with two grandchildren and one great grandchild, gathered in honor of the occasion at a dinner and social evening held at the home of her son, Mr. Thompson Huggins, Senior, South Monaghan. A birthday cake of three storeys decorated the centre of the dinner table, and numerous gifts were presented to the nonagenarian by her children and friends of the neighborhood. There were present six sons and their wives; Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Huggins of South Monaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huggins, Mark Street, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Huggins of Lakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Braden Huggins of Bailieboro, Mr. and Mrs. David Huggins of Fraserville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Huggins of Perry Street, Peterborough; also Mr. and Mrs. Ira Huggins, McDonnel Street. Three other children are Mrs. Donald McLeod of Lake Street, Mrs. H. Miller of Toronto, and Mrs. Sarah Hunter of Detroit.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. W. Cooke, Sherbrooke Street, gathered at her home on Monday evening in a surprise visit to celebrate her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in the enjoyment of cards and dancing, followed by the service of dainty refreshments. The gift of a handsome silk parasol was made to Mrs. Cooke by her friends, the presentation being made by Mrs. Charles Friendship, with an accompanying address by Mrs. M. Webb. The prizes for cards were won by Mrs. McDougall, Sherbrooke Street, and Mr. C. Wiley, the consolation award going to Mrs. M. Webb.

Miss Ruby Sharpe returned recently from an extended trip to Chicago, New York City, Boston, Cape Cod and the Adirondack Mountains.

The following teachers of the city are attending the annual Teachers' Convention to be held in Ottawa on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, when the programme will include visits to the Parliament Buildings, the Museum, Rideau Hall, the Observatory and other points of interest. WATCH FOR ANNOUNCEMENT!

SAINT and SINNER

The table was set for dinner, with a centerpiece of curly-petaled marigolds in a squat blue bowl, when Cherry and Bob arrived from the office. Faith head them talking animatedly, and jealously wondered what the subject was which could make Bob's voice so eager. She was in the kitchen, measuring jasmine tea into the silver tea-ball, and resolutely began to sing, her contralto voice rich and clear:

"I love you! I love you!

That's all that I can say—"

Bob's laugh rang out suddenly from the door between dining room and kitchen. "That's fine! But can't you add a footnote about dinner, honey? I'm starved. Umm!" he wrinkled his nose as he sniffed the appetizing odor of chili.

"All ready!" she cried, making her voice as casual and cheerful as his.

"I'll wash up and be ra'ring to go in just a minute," he promised. Then, his fact falling a little, as he remembered: "How did you get along today, sweet? All tired out?"

She lied gaily: "Not a bit of it! I had a wonderful time, doing just as I pleased in my own home. Kate Lundy bossed me dreadfully. But dash on, darling, and get ready for dinner. And see that Joy washes her hands, will you?"

How relieved he looked! Was it possible that he had been almost afraid to come home, lest he find a dispirited, tired wife waiting for him, ready to weep if he uttered an inconsiderate word? Poor Bob! Although her shoulder was aching viciously, there was a serene smile on her face when she sat down at table, the big tureen of chili before her.

Cherry was in a bubbling good humor; Joy was excited over a school picnic that was to take place the coming Saturday; Bob was almost gay. Faith looked at her family, slowly, her big brown eyes travelling furtively from one face to another.

"Faith, your spasm of economy has already infected Bob," Cherry laughed. "Early this morning he listed that little office in our suite with a renting agent and this afternoon we had three applicants for it. I'm trying to persuade Bob to leave the renting of it to me."

"Yes," Bob grinned at his sister-in-law. "You want to pick out a rich young sheik, whose business will be so light that he can devote most of his time to flirting with you."

"You said it, big boy," Cherry agreed, twinkling her golden eyes at him. "Believe me, it's no fun working for a brother-in-law. I'm used to more excitement along with the heavy work. I think I'll put an ad. in the paper: 'For rent—nice private office in architect's suite; all conveniences, including beautiful stenographer; only tall, handsome young men need apply.' I'll bet I could rent the office for a hundred a month, if you'd let me put that ad. in the paper. How about it, brother-in-law?"

"A hundred a month tempts me strangely," Bob grinned at her. Then, turning to Faith, "Honey, this is the best chili I ever tasted. Oh, by the way, Klein, the fur man, you know, asked me today to draw up plans for a new store for him. He wants something especially distinctive in show windows, and a 'swell' interior, as he says. He intends to go after the society trade with a vengeance. Fifth Avenue stuff."

"I'm so glad!" Faith glowed.

When dinner was over, Bob immediately began to remove the big plates. "Come on, Cherry. Let's wash dishes. No, Faith, the big idea is that you're to sit in the parlor like a lady of quality. You've earned the right with that gorgeous dinner you gave us."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BLUEBERRIES.

(Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Did Nurse Jane tell you?" asked Mrs. Longears of her rabbit husband one morning as he finished eating his breakfast of carrot pudding with lettuce sauce sprinkled on it.

"Nurse Jane told me nothing," answered Mr. Longears. "What should she have told me? Nothing about bad chaps wanting to nibble my ears, I hope!"

"Oh, no, indeed," answered the rabbit lady with a laugh. "I asked her to tell you to bring back some flowers with you when you returned from your adventure trip to-day. I want some large, yellow flowers to put in vases to make the bungalow look pretty for this evening when we are to have company."

"You shall have them!" declared Uncle Wiggily. "I am going to gather a few blueberries if I can find them.

"Can that be rain?" he asked

At the same time I shall gather your flowers."

"Oh, blueberries!" squeaked Nurse Jane who came into the room just then to gather up the breakfast dishes to give them their bath. "How lovely! And I forgot to tell you about the flowers."

"I have just told him," said Mrs. Longears. "So it is all right."

A little later Uncle Wiggily took the same red pail which the day before he had picked full of redberries, and hopped off to gather blue ones this time. Baby Bunty saw her uncle skipping along and of course she skipped after him, calling:

"May I come with you, Uncle Wig?"

"Why, I thought you were going to sell lemonade again at your roadside stand to get money to send poor little city mice children to the country," Mr. Longears answered.

"Oh, I sold enough lemonade yesterday, after you colored it for me with red berries, to make a lot of money," Baby Bunty answered. "Now I am coming with you."

"Come along, then," invited the bunny uncle. So, clasping his paw, Bunty hopped along beside him until they had crossed the fields and reached the edge of the brook.

"Oh, look at the pretty yellow flowers!" cried Baby Bunty, pointing at them. "How lovely!"

"Just what my wife wants!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Now if only some blueberries grow here we shall have fine luck." And, truly enough, on the edge of the brook, grew bushes with many blueberries on them and, not far away, blossomed many yellow flowers.

"Shall I gather flowers or pick berries, Unkie Wig?" asked Bunty.

"Perhaps you had better gather the flowers," said Mr. Longears. Though he did not say so to Bunty, the old rabbit gentleman thought to himself like this: "If Bunty drops a few flowers it will not so much matter. But if she drops the blueberries it will be hard to pick them up."

So Bunty gathered flowers while Uncle Wiggily picked the berries until the red pail was nearly filled and then, all of a sudden, the rabbit gentleman felt something hit him on his left ear.

"Goodness me! Can that be a drop of rain?" he asked, holding out one paw to make sure. But nothing fell on his paw and the sky was blue, without a cloud, so it could not have been rain. Uncle Wiggily kept on picking berries and all of a quickness something hit his right ear.

"Surely that must be a rain drop!" he cried. Then he heard a laugh and Baby Bunty shouted:

"It wasn't a rain drop—it was a blueberry!" And what do you imagine that mischievous little rabbit girl was doing? Why, she had found some hollow reeds, growing near the yellow flowers. Taking one of the hollow reeds, which were like bean flowers, Bunty put in one of the stems a round blueberry and puffed it at Uncle Wiggily, hitting him on the ear.

"Did I hurt you?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Oh, no! you didn't exactly hurt me," said Mr. Longears, "but—"

"But I'm going to hurt you all right!" suddenly cried a savage voice, and up out of the bushes popped the Boly Cat. But before the cat could spring on Uncle Wiggily, Baby Bunty took her hollow reed, filled it with hard blueberries and blew them in the face of the bad chap. The berries stung him on his nose and in his eyes and he howled:

"Oh, I'm shot! I'm peppered! I'm salted!" And then, tucking his silly little tail between his legs, away he ran, not hurting anybody.

"Bunty, you are a brave, clever little rabbit," said Mr. Longears. Then, when the blueberries were picked and the yellow flowers gathered, they went home and all was well.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

If the tendency to lengthen women's frocks progresses then we may expect to see some slight lengthening in the skirts of little girls. For children's clothes always follow more or less directly on the heels of those worn by adults.

It has, however, taken some time to establish the very short-skirted fashions for little girls, and until we have accomplished that, there is small chance that we shall turn back on our courses in favor of a longer skirt for our daughters.

Even very, very little girls wear these very short skirts, instead of the ankle-length frocks that used to hamper them so in taking their first uncertain steps.

Frocks that hang from the shoulders or a shallow yoke and are therefore virtually all skirt, frocks with a really normal waistline with a skirt that is not much more than a ruffle, and long-waisted frocks with a skirt that is an even narrower ruffle are all included in the wardrobes of well-dressed little girls.

Materials that once would have been considered inappropriate for little girls' clothes—taffetas and silk crepes and figured silks—are all employed for diminutive party frocks. The essential thing is that these rather grown-up materials should be used in a simple way with an avoidance of over elaboration.

But though little girls' clothes should be very simple they may be as picturesque as you like. The child psychologists now concede that the occasional wearing of fine feathers is of advantage to any child—and the little girl who has no really truly party dress is missing one of the harmless pleasures of childhood.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

Thursday, October 6, 1927.
(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Benefic stars again dominate, according to astrology, which reads for to-day much good luck for mankind.

There is fair promise for all who occupy places in the Sun and for these fortunate ones changes of position with added glory are indicated.

Much travel with important business in view is foretold for Americans, many of whom will be prominent in international affairs.

This should be a favorable day for whatever is constructive in purpose or ambitions in aim.

Hospitals are to benefit in large endowments, it is prophesied, but they will have much unusual demand on their resources in the coming months.

Under this sway sensitive and impressionable persons may be depressed, but they are to feel much inspiration later from great world movements and crises.

For the last few years astrologers have called attention to the progress of a new era and now they foretell the passing of many old landmarks of thought as well as material achievement.

Persistently the seers foretell for Japan a period of unusual stress. War, as well as earthquakes, again appears imminent.

New fashions in dress and music are foretold for the coming winter when reactionary influences will be apparent.

The cult of beauty is to assume more classical outlines and the theatre is to benefit.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a prosperous year, especially if art or artistic interests occupy attention.

Children born on this day may become prominent on the stage or screen. Subjects of this sign usually enter some public career.

GROWING TOO OLD?

It's Never Too Late to Learn New Things, Tests Show.

"Never too old to learn" contains more scientific fact than fiction. In a recent series of experiments with persons of various ages, Dr. E. L. Thorndike, professor of educational psychology at Columbia University, found that men and women approaching the half-century mark learn more rapidly than children, and almost as rapidly as youths of twenty to twenty-four years. Even persons over fifty years old can learn new things.

In the learning of reading, spelling, arithmetic, and other elementary school subjects, adults of forty-two progressed about five-sixths as fast as adults of twenty-two, says Popular Science Monthly. Both these groups learned more per hour than children comparable to them in natural intelligence.

Further experiments with adults learning algebra, science, foreign languages, shorthand and typewriting, led to the conclusion that the ability to learn increases in youth until about the age of twenty. Then, after remaining unchanged for several years, it declines very slowly.

"The chief reason why adults seldom learn a new language or trade, concludes Dr. Thorndike, "is not lack of ability, but of opportunity or desire."

JOBS FOR ANIMALS?

They May Be Trained To Run Machines, Says Rousseau.

Will animals eventually run our machines, relieving men of monotonous drudgery? That startling possibility has just been suggested by R. J. Rousseau, a French student of animal habits, as the result of fascinating experiments conducted by Claude Bussard, a young inventor associated with the Pasteur Institute in Paris. While studying the intelligence of lower animals, says Popular Science Monthly, Bussard invented a machine which automatically performs the operations of animal training, such as moving doors and making electrical contacts. The animal actually operates the mechanism that teaches it to perform a certain act.

If animals can thus train themselves mechanically, asks Rousseau, why may not trained animals be able to operate the machines of men? Their skill might be increased, he further suggests, by breeding races of animals for each task.

LEAMINGTON WINS FIRST FROM DELORO

WESTERN ONTARIO CHAMPIONS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN OUT IN FINAL SERIES OPENING GAME

Winners Hit Better With Men on Sacks and Drive Wood From Box.

PLAYED AT DELORO

Last Year's Titleholders Face Hard Task in Game at Leamington Saturday.

MARMORA, Oct. 5.—Deloro Intermediate, champions of Ontario in 1926 and Eastern Ontario finalists this year, were unexpectedly beaten at home yesterday by Leamington, champions of Western Ontario. The score was 10-8 and the visitors came from away behind to win out.

Heavier hitting with men on the paths won for Leamington. They didn't waste a hit and had only six men left on to Deloro's eight. The visitors also took advantage of Woods' wildness, turning four of his five charities into runs by hitting after them.

Wood pitched a somewhat erratic game. He fanned eight men in the four innings he occupied the mound, but in between he allowed eight hits, walked four, and hit one. Jack, who relieved him with one man on and nobody out in the fifth, walked a man and allowed a hit in that inning and then kept the visitors off the paths for the rest of the game. He struck out seven, including the last four men to face him.

The home team made more hits but did not secure the full benefit of them. Hilman, on the mound for the visitors, allowed runners on the bases in seven of the nine innings, but was scored on in only three. In the third he allowed two hits without yielding a run, and in the seventh three hits produced only one run. He fanned ten and walked one.

Running story:

First Inning.

Cochrane walked. Clifford fanned. Hewer fanned. Russelo hit by pitched ball. Smithson double over second, scoring Cochrane. Taylor out on strikes.

Deloro—J. Quinn out on strikes. Brown grounded out to Taylor. A. Quinn singled to left. Jack singled to right, A. Quinn going to third. Regan singled to centre, scoring A. Quinn and Jack pulling up at third. Bond singled to left, scoring Jack. Hughes was safe on Clifford's error, filling the bases. Boudreau doubled to left, scoring Regan, Hughes and Bond. Wood grounded out to Clifford.

Second Inning.

Leamington—Cascadden and Malloft struck out, and Hilman grounded out to Wood.

Deloro—J. Quinn walked and stole second. He was sacrificed to third by Brown. A. Quinn bunted and J. Quinn was caught at the plate. A. Quinn stole second. Jack bunted safely and A. Quinn scored. Jack stole second. Regan doubled to right, scoring Jack. Bond fouled out to Clifford.

Third Inning.

Leamington—Cochrane singled to left. Clifford fanned. Cochrane went to second on a wild pitch by Woods. Hewer walked. Russelo doubled to right and Cochrane was nailed at the plate by a perfect peg from Boudreau. Smithson walked, filling the bases. Taylor doubled to right, cleaning the bases. Cascadden doubled to centre, scoring Taylor. Mallot was safe when Hughes dropped Jack's peg to get him at first, Cascadden scoring. Mallott stole second. Hilman grounded out to Wood.

Deloro—Hughes singled through short. Boudreau struck out, Hughes taking second on the third strike. Wood struck out. J. Quinn doubled off Clifford's shins, Hughes going to third. Brown grounded out to Hilman.

Fourth Inning.

Cochrane walked. Clifford struck out, as did Hewer. Russelo singled to centre, scoring Cochrane. Smithson grounded out to Regan.

Deloro—A. Quinn flied out to Smithson. Jack safe on Russelo's error. Regan forced Jack at second. Regan stole second, but Bond grounded out to Russelo for the third out.

Fifth Inning.

Leamington—Taylor singled to right, and took second on A. Quinn's bad throw to first. Cascadden doubled to centre, scoring Taylor. Jack replaced Wood on the rubber for Deloro, Wood going to short. Mallot fanned. Hilman sacrificed Carscadden to third. Cochrane walked. Clifford singled to right, scoring Cascadden. Wood trapped Hewer's fly, but Cochrane scored on the out. Russelo grounded out to Regan.

Deloro—Hughes out on strikes. Boudreau safe at first, the catcher dropping the third strike and Russelo dropping his throw. Wood sacrificed Boudreau to second. J. Quinn struck out.

Sixth Inning.

Smithson out on strikes. Taylor hit right at Jack, who threw him out at first. Cascadden grounded out to Jack.

Deloro—Brown grounded out to Hilman. A Quinn grounded to Hilman. Jack grounded out to Hilman.

Seventh Inning.

Mallot struck out. Hilman struck out. Cochrane bunted to J. Quinn, who threw him out at first.

Eighth Inning.

Leamington—Clifford grounded to A. Quinn, Hewer grounded to Jack, and Russelo flied out to Bond.

Deloro—Brown struck out. A. Quinn grounded out to Taylor. Jack grounded out to Mallott.

Ninth Inning.

Leamington—Jack showed his stuff in this frame by retiring the side via the strike out route, fanning Smithson, Taylor and Cascadden.

Deloro—Regan struck out. Ralph, batting for Bond, flied out to Cascadden. Hughes struck out.

Pro Hockey League Composed of 6 Teams

MONTREAL, Que., October 5 (Canadian Press). — A special despatch to the Montreal Star, dated Quebec yesterday says:

"The Canadian-American Professional Hockey League will be composed of six teams this winter as Philadelphia was admitted to the body, according to information received here yesterday.

"The teams this winter will be Quebec, Boston, New Haven, Springfield, Providence, and Philadelphia. The league has decided to use the net invented by Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins, which has been adopted by the National Hockey League, and will draw up its schedule in the near future."

YANKEES' HOME RUN TWINS

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, Yankees' home run twins, who will play against Pirates in the opening game of the world [illegible]

Fair weather is promised for the day. There will be no elaborate ceremonies to mark the opening of the classic because Barney Dreyfuss, Pirate owner, believes the crowd will be there "to see a ball game, not a lot of preliminaries." The throng of notables will include Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, and Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York, as leading official rivals. But neither will toss out the first ball. The umpire in chief will do that, in the interests of accuracy and a quicker start.

PENNOCK'S INJURY BLOW TO YANKEES

Makes Certain That World Series Will be Battle of Righthanders.

(By Allan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct., 5 (Associated Press). — On the eve of their battle with the Pittsburgh Pirates for the world's baseball championship, the New York Yankees faced the loss of one of their best pitchers, Herb. Pennock, as a result of a severe knee injury to the southpaw star in batting drill yesterday afternoon.

Pennock, who had never met defeat in a World's Series, and has a record of four triumphs, was hit just above the left knee by a sharp line drive from the bat of Cedric Burst, substitute outfielder. The blow ruptured a bloodvessel and caused a swelling the size of an ordinary fist. Dr. J. R. Shall, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who administered first-aid in the form of ice packs and poultices, expressed the belief that the pitcher would fully recover within two days, but it is considered extremely doubtful whether Pennock will be able to start before the third or fourth game, if at all.

Battle of Righthanders.

The probable loss of Pennock, the only southpaw on either team slated for first line action, not only is a severe blow to the Yankee prospects, but makes it virtually certain that the World's Series will be a battle of righthanders.

"My righthanders have got to stop the Yankees," Donie Bush, pilot of the Pirates, declared. "They're all we've got."

Ray Kremer, husky Californian and ace of the Pirate staff, will oppose Waite Hoyt, the leading Yankee flinger, in to-day's opening skirmish. They have been slated for the job right along, and the rival managers made their selection definite yesterday.

The second game is due to pit Wiley Moore, the Yankee "sinkerball" star, against the Hoosier schoolmaster, Vic Aldridge, while Urban Shocker, Yankee veteran, and Carmen Hill, bespectacled Corsair curver, appear likely choices for the third game in New York on Friday.

Due to the confidence of Pirate rooters in Kremer, the National Leaguers were an even choice last night against their American League rivals for the opening game, but the Yankees remained slight favourites to capture the series.

Twins Are Factor.

The tremendous punch in the Yankee bats, particularly those of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, is the factor expected to count most in New York's favour. The exhibitions of the Babe especially have impressed all observers, besides striking no little apprehension into the hearts of Corsair fans since two days of batting drill at Forbes Field have given a "close up" of the Bambino's form.

Ruth, fresh from his record-breaking home run campaign, is "hot," the players and critics admit, as confident and sure of his eye as he ever has been in his sensational career. In two turns at the plate yesterday afternoon, the Babe sheled three balls into the right field grand stands, his pet target, and hammered one mammoth drive to the top of the deep centrefield fence. Gehrig was able to put only one out of the field, but "Columbia Lou" is regarded as just about as likely to break up a ball game as the Babe.

The Pirate pitchers—Kremer, Aldridge, Hill, John Miljus, and Lee Meadows—all are primed to "take the edge" off the Yankee siege gun, even if they are not successful in spiking it entirely.

Plenty of Curves.

"Curves and plenty of stuff" will be their main counter weapon, but the Yankees are confident they will maul anything.

Yankee bats and Pirate pitching arms monopolize the advance "dope," but there are other factors that contribute to prospects of a close and exciting tussle for baseball's main rewards in fame and gold. The Pirates, a young, confident and speedy array, go into the Series with the same "do or die" spirit that carried them to victory in one of the National League's closest race. The Yankees winning their own pennant without much serious opposition see little in the Pirate defence that they cannot pierce. They broke through all American League barriers.

Count on Infield.

The Corsairs not only count on their pitching to check the New Yorkers but look to their sturdy infield including the brilliant Wright and Traynor as well as the fly-chasing Waner brothers Paul and Lloyd, to put up whatever other defensive bulwarks are needed.

Conceding long range supremacy to their foes at bat, the Pirates nevertheless feel that they have an attack equally as dangerous, and perhaps more consistent, aided by the remarkable speed of such stars as the Waners, Grantham and Traynor on the bases. The Corsairs may not put as many balls out of the park, but they may put more men on the bases and over the plate.

The Yankees also present a well-rounded outfit. They have an able corps of righthanders to compete with the Pirate stars. To match the fleetness of the Waners they have plenty of outfield speed in Ruth, Muesel, and Combs. The infield, with the veteran Dugan aided by a young but much improved trio in Lazzeri, Koenig, and Gehrig, is close to a defensive match for the Pirate inner cordon, but behind the bat neither Collins, Bengough, nor Grabowski measures up to the all-around skill of Earl Smith, best of the Pirate receivers.

Put in Workouts.

Both teams put in vigorous workouts at Forbes Field yesterday. The Pirate regulars reported early, after a two-day lay-off, and spent nearly three hours in batting and fielding drill to put them back in trim for the big battle. The Yankees took their workout a little more leisurely, for the most part, but Ruth, hitting fungoes when there was nothing else to do, was the last of the regulars to leave the field. His last wallop into the bleachers from the plate was powerful enough to knock loose a few slats in one of the seats.

A record Pittsburgh baseball crowd of 45,000 was expected to jam the park for the opening test of as colorful a series as any in recent seasons. Temporary bleacher seats holding 4,000 have been erected beyond the outfield barriers. Standing room for 5,000 more will be sold just before the game starts at 1.30 p.m. (eastern standard time).

"Pig-Skin" Players Practice At Queen's

KINGSTON, Ont., October 5 (Canadian Press). — Fifty-nine players of Queen's University were out to practice at the Stadium on Tuesday afternoon, when unexpectedly "Pep" Leadley, former Queen's star, and now with the Hamilton Tigers, trotted out in uniform, and for more than an hour drilled the kickers in the art of drop-kicking. Leadley's appearance encouraged the players greatly, and his instructions were appreciated. The former Queen's star was decked out in Queen's regalia, and worked as hard as the players in the practice.

Monkeys Discovered As Game Disturbers

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 5.—The mystery of the rock bombardment which occurred on Sunday at the Luna Park Stadium during the pro football game between the Cleveland Bull Dogs and New York Giants, has been solved.

The guilty parties, two Rhesus (or swimming) monkeys, were discovered by workmen who are repairing parts of the grandstand, which were destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

Shortly after the workmen appeared small pieces of two by fours, stones and hammers were sent whizzing by their ears. Looking up they saw the two monkeys, one of them eighteen inches tall and weighing about twenty pounds, and the other a little smaller, jumping up and down on the roof of the stadium.

After watching them perform for several minutes, the men decided the monkeys were the imps that forward-passed rocks into the football throng Sunday.

Members of the Animal Protective League were summoned, but the monkeys refused to be trapped. A mounted policeman rode around the field last night, taking shots at the animals when they appear, but so far they have eluded the bullets.

Naturalists say that Rhesus (or swimming) monkeys are very well behaved as long as they are swimming. But take them away from the water—and see what happens. The energy they would have used in swimming all goes into curiosity.

The two monkeys now sought escaped from Monkey Island in Luna Park last spring, along with about twenty others. With no chance to swim for months, they have become uncontrollable.

Bananas with enough sleeping potion to put the entire Cleveland police force into slumberland were placed on the field, but the monkeys, hardened by dry land exploring, calmly ate the bananas and went on their way.

Nothing remains now but to shoot them on sight.

CHESS RESULTS

BUENOS AIRES, October 5 (Associated Press). — The fifth drawn game in the world's chess championship match was recorded here last night when Jose R. Capablanca, of Cuba, the champion, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, agreed to draw their eighth game.

Only one move was made last night by the contestants after the resumption of the game, adjourned from Tuesday.

The standing now is: Capablanca 2, Alekhine 1; drawn 5.

The ninth game will be played tonight.

PIRATES' INFIELD HARD AS ROCK

Fastest They Have Played on This Year, Says Yanks.

PITTSBURGH, October 5. — The Yankees say that the Pirates' infield is the fastest they have played on this year. "It's as hard as a rock," said Joe Dugar, the New York third backer, "and you will see some fast hots going through during the next two games. If Ruth and Gehrig played a season on this field they could kill some infielders."

The American League champions suspect the Pirates have purposely kept the infield in a dried-out condition in order to upset the Yankees. "We'll cut the ball through the infield as fast as they," said Ruth.

The Pirates in a long batting practice yesterday cut the ball in and over the infield with snappy hits off Carmen Hill and Emil Yde. Babe Ruth was a keen observer of the Pirates' workout, and whenever a player appeared in the batting cage he did not know, the Babe would bellow: "Who is that?"

The grandstand was the gathering spot of players and managers of other ball clubs. Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns; Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyns; Bert Neihoff, manager, of Atlanta; Dave Bancroft, of the Boston Braves; Hans Wagner; Max Carey; Jack Fourner and Al Mamaux looked the boys over in their last work out.

"This is a tough series to pick," said Carey, the old Pirate centre fielder, who now patrols right for Brooklyn. "Both teams are fast, and the one that gets the breaks will win. I can't pick breaks." Carey said that the infield of the Pirates was fast and left the conclusion that the Yanks might have trouble in fielding ground balls in the outer gardens, where the ground slopes down from second base so that the ball often skids, and then suddenly hops up.

Mamaux and Niehoff are stringing along with the Pirates and pick them to win. Niehoff picks the Pirates on a hunch.

Joe Harris is playing in the series largely on his nerve. His stomach is giving him trouble and it has been a hard season for "Colter Joe." "I'll be there hitting curves," said Joe, to inquiring friends.

The Yanks look for trouble from Aldridge and his big curve. Aldridge took a long workout to-day. "Two days layoff has put poundage on me," said the Pirate hurled, "and I want to get it off. I take on weight like an ox."

Shawkey, Pennock and Pipgras, a righthander, pitched to the Yanks after the Pirates had retired for the day. Ruth and Gehrig cut the ball into the upper and lower sections of the rightfield stand, while Mousel and Lazzeri battered the left field fence. Ben Paschel, a substitute outfielder, slashed a line drive over the scoreboard and later scattered some carpenters at work on the temporary stand over the street behind the left field fence.

Babe Ruth jokingly accused Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns of tipping off the Pirate pitchers to the Yankee weaknesses. "That's a fine crack," came back Howley, "when you know I only won one game from you this season."

The big Bam gave an exhibition of fungo hitting after the fielding practice and had Ben Paschelo running ragged to the fences chasing long and high drives. "Don't hit any more out here," said the gasping Paschal. "Two of the balls have not come down yet!"

Bill McKechnie who master-minded the Pirates to their 1925 world's series, gave Donie Bush an earful of advice. There seems to be a rush of support for the Buc. manager from the past and present Pittsburgh strategists.

TOLEDO WINS FOURTH GAME FROM BISONS

"Little World Series" Now Stands at 3 to 1 for A. A. Champs.

FINAL COUNT 6 TO 5

Smart Base-Running by Bill Marriott Gives Mudhens Victory.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 5.— (Canadian Press.)— Smart base-running by Bill Marriott, Toledo's third baseman, gave the American Association champions victory over Buffalo, 6 to 5, yesterday in the fourth game of the "Little World's series," providing a dramatic ninth inning finish.

Toledo now leads the International League pennant winners three games to one, and the Bisons' only hope for the junior title is to win four games out of the next five.

Each club has put on furious batting rallies which forced the opposing pitcher off the mound, leaving the score tied after the sixth inning.

The seventh and eighth were scoreless and the Bisons were set down in order in the ninth by Bill Speece, the Mudhen's submarine right-hander.

With two men out in the last of the ninth, Marriott doubled against the centre field fence. The heavy hitting Bobby Veach was purposely passed and then came Roy Grimes, who had already made three hits in four trips to the plate.

There were two strikes on Grimes when Marriott, on second, saw the signal for a "knuckle ball," so he dashed for third. Grimes slashed a hot grounder to Third Baseman Huber, who had started for the bag to catch Marriott.

Huber doubled back to grab the grounder as Marriott ran in front of him and Huber's hurried throw to first was a bit low, Del Bissonette dropping the ball. Grimes was safe and Marriott scooted home without slackening his speed, to score the winning tally.

Both Chester Falk and Paul McCullough, the starting pitchers, were unsteady.

DISTRICT DEPUTY AT CAMPBELLFORD

William McIlroy, of Springbrook, Visits I.O.O.F. Lodge.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 5.—District Deputy William McIlroy, of Springbrook, and twenty-four of the Springbrook lodge were guests of the Campbellford Lodge I.O.O.F. yesterday evening. The visitors included the degree team of Springbrook and exemplified the ceremony of initiation here, and from remarks overheard from some of the oldest members of the lodge, did it exceptionally well.

After the initiation, dinner was served to the visitors and several members of the local lodge at the Clifton Tea Rooms. Forty-six, all told, sat at table. District Deputy McIlroy spoke briefly to the assembled members, as did also S. A. McGuire, T. R. Shewin, and others. All the remarks were brief and witty. Among the out-of-town Oddfellows was noticed Mr. Fraser, of Frankford, previously a member of the lodge here.

As the last speaker finished his address, the members rose, clapped hands and sang Auld Lang Syne, thus ending a most enjoyable evening.

YOUR CHILD'S THINKING AND EMOTION

It amuses me to read so much which is being written on the dangers of over-educating children intellectually and emotionally. The school-children of today, who comprise the rising generation, are so superior in every way to their parents that I often wonder if the criticism leveled at flaming youth is really not a kind of jealousy or envy.

It seems to me that most of those who criticize the rapid changes in our youth are about twelve years old themselves, mentally and emotionally. There is no question but what the children of today, who are properly educated, are a great deal more advanced than children were at the same ages in 1900. I am not referring to the occasional prodigy.

My impartial observation is that the high-school student who graduates this year has a mind, in every way, many years richer than his parents, except possibly a weakness of personal experience. It is doubtless true that the school children, at the start of this century, were more repressed emotionally than those of today. But as I diagnose my patients who are forty to fifty years of age I find many of their disorders really originated from such repression.

The youthful mind of today is building a new world of its own. The motion pictures, radio, and more travel, have all had their part in creating this new viewpoint, which is hard for the parents in middle life to understand. More co-educational institutions are flourishing, and there boys and girls enjoy a freedom which, I am sure, has been of great value in every way.

The sexual side of life is beginning to be better understood by the rising generation, and my observation has shown me that this sexual teaching is developing a higher moral consciousness than has ever existed before in the history of civilized society. Perhaps ignorance is bliss in the darkest center of Africa, but no good has been accomplished by reformers in civilized countries who have attempted to suppress true facts about life.

There must be a parallel development of the mind and the emotions in order to make a perfect balance, and one must not be emphasized at the expense of the other. We know that the problems of the emotions do exist. We know also that a child must be properly educated if he is to take his place in the world of opportunities.

The child's twenty-four hours of the day should be so regulated that the right amount of time and energy can be divided between study, play, and helpful recreation. If the body is vigorously exercised through the child's participation in games, there will be both a physical and emotional expression which will use up the time and energy which might other wise be spent in morbid thinking and vicious practices.

90 SCHOLARS FROM COUNTY

in providing transportation for the mothers and children, and of the publicity given the campaign by The Examiner, was expressed by Dr. McPherson in his report.

Attendance at the schools during September, was as follows:

School.	On roll.	Av.	P.C.
Prince of Wales	572	550	96
Central	481	456	95
King Edward	447	423	95
Queen Mary	434	412	95
Queen Alexandra	399	385	96
King George	363	349	96
South Central	45	42	94
Collegiate Institute	648	630	97

Dr J. C. Green, School Dental Officer, reported on his findings in his last survey of the schools. In 1923, 88.2 per cent of the children needed treatment, and in 1927, 46.3 per cent. needed treatment.

Chairman E. B. Fowler, was instructed to form a committee to arrange for the laying of the corner stone of the Collegiate extension. This work can be done between the end of this month and the end of the year, and the Minister of Education was suggested as a suitable person. When Mr. Fowler suggested that he might better be brought here for the opening. J. F. Strickland suggested having him twice, once as Minister of Education and again as Premier of the Province.

George Street United Church trustees suggested a price of $6500 for the Grace Church property adjoining the Queen Alexandra school. The board thought that the lots are needed as the school playground is small, but balked at the price, and instructed the property committee to negotiate.

The chairman will consult with the inspector regarding giving the public school pupils a half holiday during the Made-in-Canada Fair next week. The granting of the holiday was supported by Dr. J. J. Craig, who stressed the educational value of the exhibition, and expressed the fear that many of the pupils might not otherwise get a chance to attend.

Committee reports were presented as follows and adopted:

Supervision Committee.

The Supervision committee recommended that the arrangement made with the Y.M.C.A. last year for the use of their gymnasium and the services of their instructor be continued for the present term of five months, from the 1st November at $700.00, payable in the usual way.

The committee also recommended that the arrangement made last year with the Y.W.C.A. for the use of their gymnasium for the Collegiate Institute girls for the sum of $30.00 for the season, October to May, be continued this year.

Finance Committee.

The Finance committee recommended the payment of the following accounts:

Cooney and Jopling, freight and cartage, $2.58; Coleman Bros, painting, etc., $803.39; W. R. Turner, repairs, $84.75; Peterborough Lock Co., keys and repairs, $3.70; Peterborough Hardware Co., hardware, $9.40; Wm. Hamilton Co., supplies, $10.87; Peterborough Lumber Co., lumber, $154.70; F. R. Clarke, repairs, $4.50; Wm. Taylor, repairs, $1.50; Archibald and Richmond, $7.82; Hydro Electric Power Comm., iron posts, $20.24; Adamson and Dobbin, repairs, $2.20; Peterborough Utilities Comm., water acct., $59.70; Fannings Laundry, for laundry, $8.32; The Hall Store, supplies, $5.00; The Roy Studio, photographs, $9.00; Dr. C. PERSONALITIES MADE OVER

At any time it is possible for a grown person, under proper discipline and training, to make over his character entirely, according to Dr. Charles Judd, of the University of Chicago Differing from other psychologists, who believe that a man's character becomes definitely established in the first five or ten years of his life, Dr. Judd declares in Popular Science Monthly that human nature is never wholly fixed. The school years, however, are most important in shaping character, he says.

Oxford University is said to have been founded by King Alfred the Great in 872.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

By Douglas Malloch.

BACHELOR'S HALL

Oh, Bachelor's Hall isn't awful, at all,
And it isn't what women may think.
Though Bachelor's Hall has some spots on the wall
And some dishes piled in the sink.
Though women may say it's a terrible place,
The curtains a crime and the floor a disgrace,
I'm tempted, at that, a few verses to scrawl
To sing to you the praises of Bachelor's Hall.

Though Bachelor's Hall isn't wide, isn't tall,
Though it's only a roof and a room,
Still Bachelor's Hall is for comfort, is all,
And you're never pursued by a broom
And you may take off your shoes, you may leave your hat,
And no one will get much excited at that;
There's tobacco at hand, and, if any should fall,
It won't start a riot at Bachelor's Hall.

At Bachelor's Hall you can stretch, you can sprawl,
And there's no one who cares how it looks;
At Bachelor's Hall papers stay where they fall,
It's the same with your pipe or your books.
We all love the ladies, they're sweet, they're sublime,
But a man can't be loving them all of the time.
And, if the old adage is truthful at all,
Our hearts just grow fonder at Bachelor's Hall.

A CHANCE FOR A RECORD

Star runners, out for a world's record, should try the 880-yard run. That is the suggestion of Dr. Earle R. Hedrick, a mathematician of the University of California, in Popular Science Monthly.

From carefully prepared charts based on the limit of human endurance, as now established, he concludes that the record of one minute and fifty-two seconds for the 880 is the one most likely to be improved in the near future. It might be lowered a full five seconds and still be consistent with some of the other records now existing.

Railway equipment, including more than 5000 freight cars and 12 locomotives, in storage at Seattle and Vancouver since 1917, awaiting shipment to the Imperial Russian government, has been sold to a San Francisco company as junk.

There are about 20,000,000 children in the public schools of the United States.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

Two children in an enchanted garden, listening to the music of a violin weaving its music into their hearts and binding them together forever; this is the memory that a boy and girl cherished through long years until they found one another again. Gene Stratton-Porter created this beautiful theme as her last and greatest story, "The Magic Garden," and it may be seen on the screen as an F.B.O. release at the Regent Theatre.

The picture opens when the boy and girl meet in a place of enchanting loveliness and there in the glorious garden, they pledge their love. However, fate decrees that they must part, but all through the years that follow, their inspiration is the remembrance of those few hours and the hope that they may be reunited again. The girl's part is played by Margaret Morris who invests the role with an ethereal quality, while the boy's screen self is interpreted by Raymond Keane. Others in the cast are: William V. Mong, Joyce Coad, Phillippe de Lacey, Charles Clary, Walter Wilkinson, Alfred Allen, Cesare Gravina, Paulette Duval and Hedda Hopper. The picture was made under the direction of J. Leo Meehan, son-in-law of the late authoress. Mr. Meehan is also responsible for the adaptation, while Charles Kerr wrote the continuity.

RUGBY NOTES.

The Junior Rugby team is expected out in force to-night, Thursday and Friday, to get into condition for Saturday's game with Oshawa.

There will have to be some hard scrimmages and drills and signals if anything is expected for Saturday in the way of good Rugby.

Coach Max Sloane is out of the city but the work is in the hands of Emmet Sheehy and Carl Browne of P.C.I.

PREHISTORIC MONSTER LIVES

Recent expeditions into the swampy, almost impenetrable fastnesses of southern Java have brought back photographs giving the first authoritative evidence that a monster differing little from those of prehistoric times still survives in the moist jungle. It is a one-horned, rhinoceroslike creature, its hairless hide covered with small horny scales, says Dr. P. Vageler, German zoologist, in Popular Science Monthly. Enormous front teeth resemble those of a hippopotamus. Natives call it the "tanggiling."

He Always Keeps a Box In the House

So Says Mr. A. M. Thomson of Dodd's Kidney Pills

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills for years for lame back, rheumatism and kidney trouble," writes Mr. A. M. Thomson, of South Sanwich, Brentwood, B.C.

"I have found them very beneficial in every instance and have highly recommended them to others whom I have heard complaining of the same disorders. I keep a box of them in the house at all times and take some when I feel any pains anywhere. I am over seventy years old."

To be assured of good health the kidneys must be kept in good working order. Dodd's Kidney Pills do this.

Famous Kings

"BLUFF KING HAL" in the earlier part of his reign possessed those qualities which appealed particularly to the English people. He loved the sea and all manly sports, and in addition was a scholar of wide attainments.

Henry's strength was also his weakness. He was fiercely self-reliant and intolerant of advice. Even Wolsey could not move him once his mind was made up.

In spite of his failings, Henry had a mighty influence on the destiny of England. He laid the foundation of the navy which to this day is the pride and bulwark of the nation.

THE "EMPEROR" confers upon you powers undreamed of by any king of old and not surpassed by any reigning monarch. You, too, can command the talent of the hour and enjoy entertainment that would delight a royal audience.

The "Emperor" is a six tube stabilized tuned radio frequency receiver with two stages of tuned radio frequency, detector, and three stages of a newly developed type of audio frequency.

It is specially adapted for use with "B" battery eliminator but will work equally well with dry "B" Batteries. Each transformer coil is completely shielded in copper which eliminates all interference and ensures knife edged selectivity.

The "Emperor" Console is the last word in cabinet design and is a remarkably handsome piece of furniture. It has separate compartments for all accessories including loud speaker.

A demonstration will enlist you under the banner of the King!

What Every Girl Should Know

By GISA PRUCHONE.

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the Garden City tennis tournament. A poetical, queerly spiritual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living, that Mary might be a lady. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary's impish brother, Robert gets her acquainted with Wally Mason, a young reporter who is covering the matches. Wally and Mary find they have much in common. Mary keeps house for her brothers, David and Robert. David is the family support.

CHAPTER II

The little white kitten with the topaz eyes and the irregular yellow patch on one side of her sleek, warm, throbbing little body lay in the flood of sun that swam on the porch step and reflected on the quiet that pervaded the Sullivan house. "Hi, Patch! Hi, Patch!" young Robert had shrieked early that morning, and Patch, somnambulant from the effects of a hearty breakfast, had squeezed under the porch by way of a broken lattice and regarded young Robert's brown feet with bland indifference. Young Robert had a penchant for telling stories to the long suffering Patch, and holding her the while in a vise-like grip from which no amount of struggle and use of claws could free her. "I'm educating you," young Robert would tell her severely, and gently spank the top of her head. Now Patch was luxuriating in the warmth of the sun, happy in the knowledge that Robert was not within story telling distance, at any rate. But even this ointment contained the proverbial fly. Bob not being within story telling distance also meant that Patch would not be fed, which fact caused her some uneasiness. A very irresponsible family, this.

Patch rose and sauntered to the screen door. Unless her nose told her wrong, and Patch knew better, something was boiling on the kitchen range. Well, that augured well. Nevertheless, she had known kettles to boil all day on the kitchen range and not come to a head, as it were, until time for supper. Patch decided that she could never wait for supper. She grew vaguely uneasy, and returned to the top step to keep an eye out for Bob, or Mary, or even Dave. A judicious meow at the right moment would gain results from even Dave, from whom the kitchen labor of the little house was far removed. Dave drove a truck for the Standard Meat Packers, and was known to bring a juicy morsel or two for a good cat. A cat, say, with topaz eyes and a yellow stain, like Patch. Very often Dave even rescued her from young Robert's vise-like story telling grip. Patch had a soft spot in her heart for Dave, yes indeed. But where were the Sullivans now?

"Hi, Patch!" Young Robert chortled. "Oh, my little kitty-kat Patch! Where y' been?" and fell upon her where she sat in weary dignity. "Where's Mary, Patch? Little kitty-kat, where's my sister Mary?"

"How," asked the offended curling tail of Patch, "am I to know where Mary is?"

From within the house there came an offended hiss, and the sound of a kettle boiling over. "Hi!" shrieked young Robert, and crash went the screen door behind him. Within the kitchen he danced first on one leg, then the other, while the kettle continued boiling over.

"Idiot!"

"Gosh, Dave, look!"

"I see." It was very simple with Dave around. Within the second there was peace from the region of the kitchen range, and the bubble of a pot rationally boiling. Young Dave, albeit at the age when most boys were finishing their high schooling, had developed a certain aura of security in which those coming into contact with him bathed. "Where's Mary, Bob?"

The flash of radiance that was Mary. She brought the sunshine of the outdoors and the pulse of life, and Patch with her. Her hair swung frantically about her cheeks as she flew with mop and pan to the range and the sink and back again.

She wailed. "Heavens! And all because I stepped out to practice shots against the wall of Mrs. Tomlinson's house."

"Laboring under the assumption," drawled Dave, "that the unwatched pot would boil with calmness, surety and an unimpulsive steadiness. As for me, I am famished and would just as soon—" with deadly emphasis, and glaring at Bob, "just as soon as not make a meal of that red thatch in lieu of carrots."

"That," announced young Robert, "is evidently a joke, and to my mind a very feeble one." He left, calling, "Here, Patch, here Patch," whereat that feline slunk to the furthest confines of the kitchen stove.

Mary flew about, contrite, as the mistiness of her eyes showed when she darted glances at Dave.

"I'm so sorry, Davie." It was beastly of her, beastly. "But Davie!" She stopped with saucepan in hand. "Davie! Today's Saturday!"

"And what of that?"

"But what's the hurry, Davie? You're not going back this afternoon."

"I'm going back, all right! Special order of meat came in this morning and must be delivered."

"Oh, darling!" She came up to where he sat and passed her hand over his sleek head. "Dear, sweet, hard working Davie!" She placed her cheek against his head for a moment. "You're a very satisfactory brother, Davie Sullivan. Do you know that?"

"And as a sister, sweet Marie, you could tie cans to all of 'em."

"Don't be vulgar, David," severely.

"Don't be sentimental, Mary." Sweet kid sister Mary. He reflected through the lazy, floating wisps of steam, that rose from the succulence of rich brown roast, upon the miracle of the comfort that was theirs. Miraculously conceived comfort, he mused. For a while there had been the thought that his efforts might not make the grade. "Five dollars, my boy, is five dollars, and I'll let you have the raise because you're a good boy, but can you keep it up, do you think, even with the five? Can you keep that family up?" Thus his boss. He had kept that family up with the hoisting of each red flank of beef to his shoulder, and kept them well up. Kept Mary throwing white balls into the sunshine, and young Robert happy in her shadow. All with this right arm of his. He drew the muscles of his arm taut, then relaxed. Plenty there yet, he mused. Plenty there yet for all time. Until Mary was married and young Robert through school.

Rather worried concerning Mary, however. She lacked the foresight which was his heritage at birth. For Mary there were dreams in which her round white balls which she tossed into the sunshine eternally held prominent place. Mary talked career stuff, at which David balked. Preferred seeing her happily married. Bosh, said Mary. David insisted it was safer. A haven. Rot, said Mary, and demanded whether it had proven a haven for mother. An argument which usually concluded the talk on both sides, for both held sore spots in their hearts that winced at mention of their mother. David muttered: "No fair, Mary, mentioning Mother. She was unfortunate. Her case is one in a thousand."

"You're rather young, Davie boy. Yet rather out-of-date. Not up with the times. Mother's case was one in fifty. Marriages are so rarely happy, Davie, and women have discovered a panacea for the ill."

"Offices and typewriters and filing cabinets, a panacea?" David looked rather ill and hit his pipe smartly against the arm of the chair.

Letter of Appreciation to Heintzman & Co.

Dear Mr. Haddow,

Just a line in appreciation of the piano you sent me this evening. It has been a great pleasure to play the beautiful instruments that Heintzman & Co. have furnished for this tour, and your's is not only delightful in tone and action, but has the sonority of a much larger piano.

Yours truly,
Blair Neale.

The plane arrived here from Norderney, Germany, last night with Lily Dillenz, Viennese actress as a passenger.

KIWANIS CLUB WINS HONORS

the nearest point that the convention has been held. W. Y. Mills of Kingston, well known in Peterborough, was elected Governor of the district for 1928, and Andy Gaul, Hamilton, was chosen Lieutenant-Governor of the central division, in which Peterborough is situated. The name of the district was changed by vote of the convention to "Ontario-Quebec-Maritime" in deference to the inauguration this year of another club in the Eastern Provinces.

On both days of the convention, a convention daily newspaper was issued, under the editorship of John Heron. It is significant of the position of the Peterborough club in the district that men from that club were chosen to lead discussion in the three main conferences—President Isaac McNabb in the presidents' conference; District Trustee John J. Turner in the trustees' conference, and the secretary in the secretary's conference.

The reports of the Peterborough delegates will be presented at the club luncheon on October 30. After the close of the convention programme at midnight, a pleasant party was held in London's biggest cabaret with the following present: Mr. and Mrs. John J. Turner, Mr and Mrs. H. C. Huffman; Mr. and Mrs J. I. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Heron, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oke, Miss Sabo, Miss Dobbin, Charles Elliott, and Joseph John

CRICKET CLUB CLOSES SEASON

Officers Report Past Season a Very Successful One.

SOCIALS PLANNED.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club was held at the home of Mr. Massey-Cooke on Monday night, with a good attendance of members. The president, R. N. Stuart, in the absence of the secretary, read the financial report and the activities of the club during the past season. He also presented Claude Elliot with a beautiful pipe for being the club"s most successful bowler.

Joe Dunkerley headed the batting averages for the season, being closely followed by Frank Dyer and Charles Thorpe.

The captain, C. Thorpe, spoke briefly on the good work of the team in the field. The bowling and fielding of the team were excellent, but the batting had been rather weak, due to not having enough matches. Rain had interfered considerably, necessitating the cancelling of two matches, while three other outside clubs had cancelled their scheduled games. He thanked the members for the support given him and hoped that his successor would meet with the same assistance as he had received.

Mr. Massey-Cooke gave a very satisfactory report on the grounds and equipment.

The election of officers was the next business taken up, which resulted as follows;

Hon. President—E. A. Peck.
President—D. Hammond.
Vice-President—G. Monkman.
Secretary and Publicity—C. Thorpe.
Treasurer and Entertainment—R. N. Stuart.
Grounds man—W. G. Davis.
Equipment—W. E. Massey-Cooke.
Transportation—F. Imming.

The club has decided to hold its regular monthly dances during the winter months, the same as last season. These dances to commence at an early date. A committee is being arranged to take care of them. These dances are for members and friends and proved a big success last season. Bridge and euchre parties are also on the programme.

A vote of thanks was passed to the several ladies, who so kindly assisted with the refreshments at the grounds during the past season.

The evening was brought to a close with the serving of dainty refreshments.

In 1926, the stock of money in the United States was $8,372,981,468. Of this amount, $4,834,710,681 was in circulation. The per capita circulation was $41.85.

OBITUARY

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

The funeral of the late Richard B. Rogers was held from his late residence in Douro to St. Luke's church yesterday with the Rev. Bousfield officiating. There were many floral tributes, showing the high respect the deceased was held in in this community. The pall-bearers were E. A. Peck, M.P., Robert Fair, A. Stevenson, A. Caddy, W. R. Morris and E. H. D. Hall.—

The following organizations sent floral tributes: Corinthian Lodge A. F. and A.M., Trinity College School, Local Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, Engineering Council of Canada and St. Luke's Church, while many friends in the city and out sent flowers.

Besides his children, Mr. Rogers is survived by one brother, Alfred B. Rogers, of Calgary.

Out-of-town friends present were: Chas. H. Geale, Toronto; C. Norman Geale; Port Colborne; Arthur Mudge, Toronto; Richard Mudge, Trinity College School, Port Hope; Ven. Archdeacon Ingles, representing the Bishop; Col. Richard Birdsall, Col. Everett Birdsall, Mr. Lou Winslow, Ida; Mrs. C. Winslow, Ida.

IN POLICE COURT.

In police court this morning a local citizen was fined $10 and costs for crossing an intersection at a greater rate of speed than 10 miles an hour.

A second citizen pleaded not guilty to failing to stop at the stop sign at the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge Street. He claimed another man was driving his car at the time the offence was committed. He will come up for trial on October 12.

BOOTHS ALL TAKEN FOR KIWANIS FAIR

More Could Have Been Sold if Available—Some Exhibitors.

The booths for the Kiwanis Exhibition are not only all taken and the space filled to overflowing, but applications from Canadian manufacturers late in arriving are being regretfully returned, as there is absolutely no room left in the Armouries.

The exhibits will be open both afternoon and evening, and an attendant in charge at all times. Those attending in the afternoon will really have a better chance to view the exhibits and talk with those in charge than in the evening, when the crowd is greater. This especially applies to the ladies who will undoubtedly want to ask questions at many of the exhibitors.

Below is a list of some of the principal exhibitors who have been granted space:

Interlake Tissue Mills Co., Toronto, Ont.
Bakers Sales, Toronto.
Canada Starch Company, Montreal.
Seaman-Kent Company, Ltd., Toronto.
Sherwin-Williams Company, Montreal.

IN MEMORIAM.

FROST. — In loving memory of our dear mother, who died in Detroit, October 5th, 1924.
The month of October again is here,
To us the saddest of all the year,
Because it took our dear mother away,
Just three years ago to-day.
Sad and sudden was the call
Of her so dearly loved by all;
She is remembered as well to-day
As on the day she passed away.

PLANS OPEN MEETING.

Queen Alexandra Home and School Association To Give Diplomas.

The members of the Queen Alexander Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, October 3rd in the Kindergarten Room. The president, Mrs. R. Parnell, was in the chair.

There was a good attendance and plans were made for a rummage sale on October 8th.

Arrangements were made for an open meeting to be held later in October, when diplomas would be presented to the successful Entrance pupils.

Miss Pattison, accompanied by Mrs. Purdy, gave two vocal solos, which were much enjoyed. Mr. F. H. Dearborn reported from the Home and School Council.

Interesting readings were given by Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Wood.

The attendance picture was won by Miss E. Morrow's room.

That Cold

A Cold may come upon you without any apparent reason, but you can be sure that there is an accumulation of poisons within your body or you would not catch cold.

Exposure to a draft is often an exciting factor in the development of a cold, but if you are in proper tone a draft will not affect you. If your body is free of poisons you are immune to colds. If your spine is in normal alignment, the spinal nerves free of pressure, and you live rationally, poisons will not accumulate in your system.

CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS will aid you in overcoming a cold, and also in establishing immunity to colds and other ailments which are so prevalent at this time of year.

DO NOT CONTINUE TO SUFFER, BUT GIVE CHIROPRACTIC A CHANCE TO RESTORE YOU TO HEALTH.

QUEBEC PREMIER STRESSES ADVANCES MADE SINCE 1867

Hon. Mr. Taschereau Makes Outstanding Speech at Toronto.

BELIEVES IN EMPIRE.

States That Settlement of Bilingual Question Stride Towards Unity.

TORONTO, October 6. — Canadian Press. — In an outstanding speech which featured the inauguration of the University of Toronto centenary celebration to-day, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, congratulated the University on attaining its centenary, praised the settlement of the school language question in Ontario, remarked on the happy results of the work of the Fathers of Confederation, and declared his belief in Canada, and the British Empire.

"We are to-day," he declared, "one of the greatest trading nations of the world; smiling fields extend from ocean to ocean; our poulation has trebled; immigrants flock to our shores and find here happy and comfortable homes; our mining and forest development makes Canada one of the leaders in production; transcontinental railways cross our immense country" Other achievements were outlined, and the premier in closing said ."And Canada to-day has a seat of her own in the Council of the League of Nations."

Referring to the Ontario school question Hon. Mr. Taschereau stated that if the matter were settled to the satisfaction of the minority, a great stride towards Canadian unity would have been accomplished.

MILD CASES OF PARALYSIS

Two Reported in Smith Township Not of Virulent Type.

ONE NEARLY BETTER.

Two cases of infantile paralysis are reported in Smith Township, which Dr. Morgan says are very mild. Dr. McPherson, the physician in charge, states that there is little doubt of the recovery of the patients, one already being over the acute stage, while the other is still in the preliminary state. As to the danger of contagion there is little known, and the doctor refuses to make any statement in this regard.

LABOR-LIBERAL BREACH WIDENS

MacDonald's Declaration That Mines Are To Be Nationalized is Cause.

LIBERALS OPPOSED.

LONDON, Oct. 6 (United Press).—Ramsay Macdonald's declaration that the next Labor Government would nationalize mines, is interpreted as ending all possibility of a working agreement between Labor and Lloyd George.

Both Samuels and Lloyd George are opposed to nationalization, and Macdonald's reluctant declaration as a concession to the miners is not to the liking of the Liberals.

Macdonald did not intend bringing up the question, which was to have been discreetly dropped, but the miners forced it.

TEACHERS LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

Travel To Ottawa By Special C.N.R. Train.

Some two hundred teachers from East Victoria and West Peterborough districts left via Canadian National special train for Ottawa at 6.25 last evening to attend the annual teachers' convention at that point on October 6 and 7 . The party will return by the same special train on October 8, leaving Ottawa at 12.45 p.m., and arriving in Peterborough at 6.30 p.m.

The Canadian National Railways are specially looking after this party, having had two representatives of the Chateau Laurier in the city yesterday arranging rooms in that hotel for the party during their stay at the Capital.

The special train supplied by the railway was composed of the most modern Canadian National all-steel vestibule equipment.

PARALYSIS CASE IN TOWNSHIP

Receiving Due Attention, Says Medical Health Officer.

SCHOOLS INSPECTED.

A meeting of the local Board of Health for Smith Township, was held at Dr. J. A. Morgan's office on Saturday.

Present: Reeve J. A. Middleton; Deputy Reeve George H .Simpson; M.H.O., Dr. J. A. Morgan, Secretary Percy T. Udy.

Dr. Morgan reported that there were no cases placarded in Smith at present but that there was one case of infantile paralysis which was receiving due attention.

The M.H.O. reported having just finished his annual inspection of the school premises in the 12 school sections in the township. The report of each individual school was then read in detail with the exception of the report of the analysis of a few samples of drinking water not yet available.

On receiving a completed report of the analysis of the drinking water, the secretary was instructed to write the secretary of each school section in Smith, giving the analysis of the sample of drinking water taken from his school; and impressing on him to notify his Trustee Board that the Local Board of Health insists on the repairs and the procuring of the accessories suggested in the M. H. O's report left with the teacher of each school.

The members of the Municipal council of the Township of Smith, met in the County Council Chamber. All the members were present, with Reeve Middleton occupying the chair.

Affidavits re loss of sheep killed and worried by dogs unknown to the losers were received from Messrs. H. Fowler and W. J. Darling, accompanied by the statement of the sheep valuator, C. E. Moore.

It was moved by Councillors A. B. Mann and seconded by Councillor H. D. Coons that cheques be issued to H. Fowler for $17 and to W.

Communist's Arrest Breaks Up Red Plot

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—The arrest yesterday at the door of the convention room of the American Federation of Labor of Sid Bush, said to be a Communist propaganda agent, and the seizure of a mass of Communist documents, frustrated, according to police officers, a plot to influence action of the labor organization.

Bush was booked on suspicion of criminal syndicalism. Police said officers of the American Federation of Labor, all of whom were opposed to the Communist activities, were warned of the alleged plot following Bush's arrest.

FIX NEW RATES ON NEWSPRINT

Commerce Commission Find Existing Rates To Be Unjust and Unreasonable.

ATTACK POLICY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (A.P.). — The right of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate joint through rates on newsprint from Canada was argued orally in the Supreme Court yesterday in an appeal brought by The News Syndicate Company against the New York Central and other railroads, the rates under attack being those from Thorold, Ont., to New York City.

After a hearing, the Commission found existing rates to be unjust and unreasonable and fixed new rates, but did not specify what part of the overcharges should be refunded by American railroads.

The order of the Commission was contested by the American railroads in the Federal District Courts at Chicago, where it was held that the Commission's order could not be enforced because a part of the through rates was on Canadian railroads over which it had no jurisdiction. The Circuit Court of Appeals asked the Supreme Court for instructions as to the authority of the Commission over such joint rates.

Counsel for the News Syndicate Company, in opening the argument, attacked the policy of the American railroads in marking rates, asserting that the Canadian railroads had agreed to a reduction on the joint newsprint rates which would have made them reasonable, but to which the American railroads, he declared, would not consent.

Refuses To Allow Red Parade In Paris

CAEN, France, Oct. 6.—(A.P.) The special car containing the ashes of Bartolomeo Vanzetti, executed in Boston, was detached from the regular Cherbourg to Paris express here and diverted to Madane on the Italian frontier by way of Lyons in order that it should not pass through Paris. The journey was without incident.

Luigia Vanzetti, sister of Bartolomeo, who brought the ashes from America, arrived in Paris by automobile yesterday afternoon and is staying at the home of friends in the suburbs.

The request of a committee of Communists for permission for a procession in Paris Sunday with the ashes of "The Boston Martyr" was refused by Acting Minister of the Interior Barthou, although the committee argued that it had as much right to parade as the American Legion.

London Society To Open "Little Season" With the Return of King From Balmoral

LONDON, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press Cable).—With the return of Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary from Balmoral today, London enters what is known as the "little season," not that Their Majesties will be seen at any notable functions, but this period is seized upon by society hostesses for giving small dances, receptions and so forth.

The King and Queen will remain at Buckingham Palace only until next week when they go to Sandringham until the end of the month. The Prince of Wales was expected to be in and around London practically throughout the winter, is doubtless anticipating eagerly the opening of the hunting season early in November. His hunting stable is situated at Melton Mowbrary, where the horses belonging to Prince Henry and Prince George are also maintained.

London generally is getting into it autumnal stride. The lawcourts re-open next week after the long summer vacation to find a substantial increase in divorce cases. Of the 796 divorce actions listed, 620 are undefended. The total number of actions represents an increase of 300 as compared with those of the previous court term.

Harvesting in Yorkshire has been so badly delayed by perpetual bad weather that harvest festival services at Doncaster, the centre of a large agricultural area, have been postponed. "It does seem a little incongruous and somewhat unsympathetic when rain floods are laying waste our crops, to meet together to exult over lavish provision, which, taking the world as a whole, the wise Creator every year makes for man's needs," declares Archdeacon Sandford.

Report No Trace Of Missing Ship

BOSTON, Mass., October 6 (Associated Press). — The coastguard cutter Tampa reported yesterday by radio that it had failed to find any trace of the missing Gloucester fishing schooner Columbia in the vicinity of Quero Banks.

Fears for the safety of the schooner were aroused when dories and pieces of wreckage bearing the schooner's name were found after the heavy storm of August 24.

The Columbia was due in Gloucester yesterday from the fishing trip.

HOPE FADES FOR LOST FLIERS

Mine Sweeper Looks in Vain For Trace of Dole Plane.

SEARCH ISLANDS.

HONOLULU, T.H., Oct. 6 (United Press).—Final hopes for the safety of the missing Dole fliers, Jack Frost and Gordon Scott and their plant, Golden Eagle, were abandoned here last night when the mine sweeper, Whip-Poor-Will, wirelessed that no trace of the airmen was found in the vicinity of Johnston's islands.

The sweeper was sent to the scene on order of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur at the request of William Randolph Hearst, owner of the Golden Eagle.

The radio said the crew of the sweeper searched the vicinity of the islands thoroughly.

SHOWED HORSE SENSE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—When fire broke out in Garner Bros. Teaming Co.'s stable here, it caught Oscar, a horse, on the second floor. Oscar didn't lose his head, but stepped out an open window to a shed roof and clambered through a large French window in a hotel adjoining the shed. Fred Vicker, startled from his slumbers in the hotel room, leaped through another window and sprained his ankle. The horse was removed with a block and tackle.

PRESS RUTHLESSLY MEASURES FOR SUPPRESSION OF REVOLT

Pactingfu Evacuated By the Manchurians

PEKING, Oct. 6.—(A.P.)—The possibility of Peking's fall before Shansi province troops increased gravely yesterday with news that Pactingfu, important city about 85 miles southwest of Peking, had been evacuated by the Manchurians.

The evacuation of Pactingfu, coming on the heels of the capture of Kalgan, north of Peking by the Shansi forces, indicated that the anti-Northern leaders had won a major victory. The departure of the aviation and heavy artillery units of the Manchurians from Peking to Tientsin yesterday suggested the possibility here that the Manchurians may be planning evacuation of the capital.

Definite nervousness has developed that an overturn is possible. (The Associated Press correspondent in Peking cabled yesterday indicating that he was restricted by censorship in Peking from disclosing the full significance of the military movements above mentioned. His message indicated that important developments affecting the fate of Peking were imminent.

General Gomez, Highest Surviving Leader of Rebels, Reported Executed.

DEPUTIES EXPELLED.

Purge Capital of Those Alleged To Have Supported Movement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (A.P.).—The Calles government continued yesterday to press ruthlessly its measures for eradication of the new revolution. General Arnulfo Gomez, highest surviving leader of the rebels, was executed yesterday in Vera Cruz State, according to a report to the Mexican Consulate General here, source of which was not disclosed. Gomez was captured Tuesday night, these advices said, and swiftly paid the penalty already exacted from his colleagues, General Francisco Serrano, Presidential candidate and erstwhile intimate of Alvaro Obregon, and a score of lesser leaders.

While Federal troops pursued the depleted bodies of recalcitrants in the field, the Chamber of Deputies moved to purge the Capital of those alleged to have given support to the revolutionary movement. Twenty-five deputies were expelled on the ground that, because of affiliation with the Gomez and Serrano candidacies, they no longer were worthy of seats in the chamber, nor of citizenship.

The Vera Cruz Legislature expelled five of its members for a similar reason and ordered them put on trial for complicity in the rebellion.

Failure of Mexico City dispatches to quickly confirm the capture of Gomez tended to discount that report. It was considered as the type of news which would be quickly passed through the tight censorship being maintained by the government on all avenues of communication.

Revolt Spreading

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 6 (A.P.).—The Nogales Herald says advices yesterday from the interior of Mexico reported the spread of the rebellion against the Calles government to nine States, with unconfirmed reports of a mutiny in the Federal military ranks in a tenth state—Chapias.

The nine States where the revolt was reported open or incipient were given as:

Vera Cruz, Morelos, Oaxacs, Michoscan, Puebla, Jalisco, Eastern Chihuahua, Sinalos, and Nayarit.

Jalisco particularly was painted as honeycombed with revolt. In this state battles skirmishes or the execution of captured enemies of the government were reported from Atontonilco, Portezuelo, Zapotlandejo, Ameca and Las Cruces.

Revolutionists Killed

At Portezuelo federals reported 18 revolutionists killed and 52 wounded. At Ameca the general in command of the federals, whose name was not given, was reported mortally wounded.

General Lucas Gonzales, commander of federal troops in the southern Bacatete district, who has been long in the field against Yaqui opponents of the Calles regime, is reported to have left his post without leave and is listed in official quarters as among those hostile to President Calles.

A number were killed, the total not given, in street fighting Tuesday in the Mexican capital, said advices coming to this border point.

One of the dead was a nephew of Tomas Robinson, congressman from the State of Sonora. This was confirmed by Guillermo Robinson, brother of Tomas, who is Mexican Vice-Consul here.

Across the border in Nogales, Sonora, Senora Maria Tepia De Obregon, wife of General Alvaro Obregon, former president and again candidate, was in tears and said to be in a highly nervous state. General Francisco R. Serrano, another presidential candidate, executed by the Callest forces in the State of Morelas with thirteen of his henchmen, was a near relative of Senora Obregon, and until Obregon entered the presidential race, a close friend of her husband.

Prominent Families

Several of the thirteen who faced the firing squad with Serrano, an ex-minister of war himself, came of prominent Sonora families, with relatives here and immediately across the border.

Obregon circles in Nogales, Sonora, reiterated that General Obregon had pledged the full weight of his influence in support of President Calles in crushing any revolt.

General Pablo E. Macias, new federal commandant of the district, announced censorship of communication lines into Mexico had been lifted.

MARMORA MAN BADLY INJURED

Arthur Smith Found On Floor of Bake House With Skull Fractured.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

MARMORA, October 6. — Arthur Smith, a baker in the employ of C. A. Lummiss, was found on the floor of the latter's bakeshop, near the breadmixer, in an unconscious condition, with his skull fractured, and other injuries. The discovery was made about five o'clock by his son, Gerald.

Mr. Smith attended the baseball game in Peterborough yesterday and on his return went to the bakehouse to set bread. His wife became anxious this morning when he did not return and sent her son to investigate the cause.

Drs. Crawford and Thomson attended the injured man and a call was sent to Belleville for the ambulance in which he was conveyed at 7.30 to the hospital. His condition is considered most critical.

There is no definite information as to the cause of the accident. Mr. Smith may have been struck by a moving part of the machine or have fallen striking his head on a corner.

Oxford University is said to have been founded by King Alfred the Great in 1872.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Oct. 4 (By the Canadian Press).—As a result of the slackness of the salmon fishing season, a Prince Rupert Products Company, operating a reduction plant at Tuck's Islet, has decided to go into the dogfish oil and meal business in order to keep the plant in operation.

Second World Series Game

FORBES FIELD, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—A blazing sun gretted the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates when they came out to-day to renew the world series competition.

The crowd was slow in assembling for the second game. At noon there were many wide open spaces in the bleachers beyond the outfield fences and the lines formed in the streets for the standing room ticket sale were neither so long nor so patient as those in evidence yesterday, but there was no apprehension that the attendance would fall far short of the 42,000 more or less who can be crowded into the baseball plant.

No changes in the line-ups as announced by the opposing managers were in prospect.

The Line-Up.

Pittsburgh—L. Waner, cf; Barnhart, lf; P. Waner, rf; Wright, ss; Traynor, 3b; Grantham, 2b; Harris, 1b; Gooch, c; Aldridge, p.

New York—Combs, cf; Koenig, ss; Ruth, rf; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, lf; Lazzeri, 2b; Dugan, 3b; Bengough, c; Pipgras, p.

Umpires — Nallin, American, at plate; Moran, National, first; Ormsby, American, second; Quigley, National, third.

Time of game, 1.30 p.m., eastern standard time.

First Innings.

Yankees—The Pirates took the field and while Aldridge was warming up the groundkeepers gave a last polishing to the base paths. As the last note of the National Anthem died away, the crowd burst into cheers, as Combs stepped into the batter's box. Aldridge threw up a few while Gooch did the catching. The band scurried from the field. Combs sent up a high fly to Barnhart, who took the ball near the score board. Koenig singled past Grantham in centre field. Ruth struck out, and the crowd howled. So far Aldridge had thrown nothing but curve balls. Gehrig got a base on balls, the fourth ball being inside and high. Aldridge threw out Meusel at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pirates—Pipgras warmed up as L. Waner came to the plate. Waner got a three-base hit to left by fast base running. The Yankee infield was playing back. L. Waner scored on Barnhart's sacrifice fly to Ruth in deep right. P. Waner lashed a hard drive into the temporary boxes that scattered the occupants. Pipgras was keeping the ball high and outside for P. Waner. P. Waner fanned, taking a third called strike. It was a fast one on the inside. Wright sent a high one to Ruth, and the Pirates went back to the field. One run, one hit, no errors.

Second Innings.

Yankees—Lazzeri splashed a hit off Aldridge's glove. The hit and run play was on but Dugan fouled the ball. The Yanks were trying the hit and run again. Foul. Dugan fouled out to Gooch. Bengough sent up a high foul to Gooch. Pipgras lined out to Grantham. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pirates—Pipgras threw out Traynor at first. Grantham got a single into centre. Harris fished after a wide curve. Gehrig took Harris' grounder and touched first, Grantham going to second. Gooch fouled out to Bengough, who raced over to the Yankees' bench to make the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Innings.

Yankees—Combs got a single into right, the ball bouncing out of Grantham's reach. Koenig singled into centre, and when L. Waner let the ball go through him, Combs scored and Koenig went to third. Koenig scored on Ruth's sacrifice fly to L. Waner. Gehrig got a long hit to right field for two bases. Meusel got a hit to the infield which Wright was barely able to knock down, Gehrig going to third. Gehrig scored on Lazzeri's sacrifice fly to P. Waner. Meusel went to second on the throw in. Dugan flied out to P. Waner. Three runs, four hits, one error.

Pirates—Aldridge went after a ball around his neck. Lazzeri took Aldridge's line drive. L. Waner tried to bunt but the ball went foul. Lazzeri took L. Waner's hopper and tossed him out. Pipgras was keeping the ball close to Barnhart. Barnhart slashed a single over the middle bag. P. Waner sent up a high fly to Meusel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Innings.

Yankees—Bengough lined out to L. Waner. Pipgras fanned, swinging for the third strike. Aldridge was using a curve shoulder high. Combs fanned, swinging for a third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—The crowd is cheering for a Pirate rally. Wright sent up a high fly to Combs, who had to race in to make the catch. Traynor got a two-base hit to left centre. Grantham fouled out to Dugan, who made the catch with one hand, leaning over the temporary boxes. Harris up. Harris sent up a high fly to Ruth. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

Yankees—Koenig flied out to P. Waner. Babe was given a base on balls. Gehrig flied out to L. Waner in centre field, and Ruth went to second on the catch. It was a sacrifice fly, Meusel struck out, swinging for a third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—Pipgras tossed out Gooch. Aldridge fouled out to Bengough. Waner flied out to Combs. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Innings.

Yankees—Aldridge took a long warm up in the box. Ball one, high, inside. Aldridge was still throwing curves. P. Waner took Lazzeri's long drive up against the concrete wall. Dugan lashed a single to left, hitting the first ball pitched. Bengough flied out to L. Waner. Pipgras got a single into right, Dugan halting at second. L. Waner robbed Combs of a long hit by making a catch near the flag pole in deep centre. His catch saved two runs. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Pirates—Combs took Barnhart's long fly. P. Waner got a single past Dugan. Wright flied out to Combs. Koenig took Traynor's hot smash and touched second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Innings.

Yankees—Koenig flied out to P. Waner. Ruth grounded out to Harris, unassisted, Aldridge tossed out Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pirates—The crowd was calling for a Pirate rally. Grantham got a two-base hit against the right field stand. The crowd was in an uproar. Koenig threw out Harris at first, Grantham holding second. Gooch lined out to Lazzeri, and Grantham was doubled at second, Lazzeri to Koenig. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Innings.

Yankekes—Meusel singled sharply over the middle bag, Grantham knocking the ball down. Lazzeri tried to bunt but it went foul. On the hit and run play, Lazzeri singled into right, Meusel going to third. It was a beautiful play. The Pirate infield came in. Meusel scored on a wild pitch, Lazzeri going to second. Dugan bunted and Lazzeri was thrown out at third, Gooch to Traynor. It was a pitch out. Bengough got a base on balls, Pipgras also walked and the bases were filled. Manager Bush rushed from the bench and halted the play. Cvengros went into to replace Aldridge. Cvengros warmed up a bit, displaying a wide curve. Combs was hit by a pitched ball, and Dugan scored. The bases were still filled. Bengough scored on Koenig's single to right, Pipgras halting at third. Babe Ruth up. Ruth forced Pipgras at the plate. Grantham to Gooch. Gehrig forced Koenig at third, Traynor unassisted. Three runs, three hits, no errors.

Pirates—Smith batted for Cvengros. Smith grounded out, Gehrig unassisted. Pipgras was working a high and a low ball with a fine change of pace. Ball three. L. Waner got a base on balls. The crowd kept calling for a

ATTENDANCE RECORDS BROKEN AT MADOC AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Thirty-four Hundred Entries With Competition Keen in All Classes.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS.

Horse Races Closely Contested—Concert Given in Band Stand.

The weather man smiled upon the efforts of the Madoc Fair officials yesterday, and they received the great reward to which all their labor and planning aspired when all all previous attendance records were smashed. Eighteen hundred and twenty dollars was taken in at the gate, and there was a total of six thousand paid admissions; besides these, all children were admitted free. All day long, from miles around, people were travelling to the Fair, some on horseback, others in horse-drawn vehicles, and all types of motor cars.

There were thirty-four hundred entries, and competition was keen in all divisions. The main building was filled with exhibits of school work, baking, wicker-work, china ware, fruit, vegetables, needle-work, preserves, and a large exhibit of cheese. Under another cover was the array of poultry, while in the pens, and along the fences, were sheep, cattle, hogs, horses and staked out on the grounds near the cattle were billy goats which created much interest and amusement, especially to the younger children.

Car Exhibits.

On the fairways there were automobile exhibits, from the Chrysler, Dodge, Ford and Fordson tractor, Hudson, Essex, Buick, and Oldsmobile companies, or local agents. Booths were ranged along both sides and along the track, hot dog stands, refreshment booths, and everything in the line of amusement from the merry go-round and chair planes to knocking the bottles off the stand for the chocolates and cigars. The Seiberling All-Tread tire agent of Madoc had a couple of the company representatives present, who created much interest in their product, an all-rubber one-piece liner, moulded tire-shaped tube, and valve stem moulded into the tube to prevent leaking.

Horse Races.

When the races commenced the crowd along the fence could not be restrained, even by a lad mounted on horse-back, who made heroic efforts to keep them within bounds. The races were all good and for the most part closely contested, around a half-mile track surrounding an enclosed area for automobiles, which was taxed to capacity by a solid phalanx of cars, and the officials are to be congratulated that there was no traffic jam, on account of the parking system enforced. Within the larger circle was a smaller one in which the carriage judging was carried on simultaneously with the races. The knoll by the secretary's office was one black mass of humanity craning and stretching to get a glimpse of the track and the area in which the judging was being done.

George Tice, of Belleville, got the races away on schedule time and handled them in his customary efficient manner. In the thirty-five class there were three starters, and a close heat was won by Riverside Hal pulling up in the second lap to win by a length. In the first heat of the free-for-all the start was delayed by jockeying for position, but when they finally got away, Dick Sunday led the way to the home stretch, when Fred Patch, following close behind, pulled up in a whirlwind finish to win by a close margin in 2.19¼ minutes, the fastest time ever made on the Madoc track. In the three-minute class there were four starters, making a double race as the first and second drew ahead and fought a hectic struggle for premier honors while the third and fourth fought it out to just as close a decision. This was won by Silent Todd in 2.49¼. The best three out of five heats being required to decide those in the money, an extensive programme was furnished the pony followers.

Free for all: 1st—Final Directum, Chas. Armstrong, Havelock; 2nd—Fred Patch, F. Brown, Centreville; 3rd—Dick Sunday, Thos. McCracken, Trenton.

2.35 Class: 1st—Riverside Hal, V. Grant, Westport; 2nd—Leo Stewart, M. Coulter, Thomasburg; 3rd—Miss Penalty, C. Randall, Napanee.

3-Minute Class: 1st—Silent Todd, S. McQuigge, Havelock; 2nd — Barney Kelly, Si Garrison, Frankford; 3rd—Silver King, P. J. Sullivan, Frankford; 4th—Jack Moore, J. Wellman, Campbellford.

Band Concert.

During the afternoon music was furnished by the Madoc band, and its selections were both numerous and well executed. The band stand was given over for a roping act during an intermission in the music when "Shorty" Campbell, the cowboy rope artist, demonstrated his wares to an appreciative and enthusiastic audience, who in swarming on the stand to get a good view, gave him scarcely enough room to manoeuvre until he roped one of his most ardent youthful admirers.

The drawing match vied with the best for the interest of the fair-goers, and some splendid hauls were made of the wagon loaded with five ton of talc.

DOMINION IS ELECTED TO HIGH POSITION

Chosen Vice Chairman of Committee of Whole at Conference.

INTERNATIONAL RADIO.

Canadian Delegate Presides Over Meetings When Chairman Cannot Attend.

WASHINGTON, D.C., October 6 (Canadian Press). — Canada was elected vice-chairman of committee of the whole by the International Radio Conference at the first business meeting yesterday. The result will be that the senior Candian delegate will be asked to preside over the convention meetings when Chairman Herbert Hoover cannot attend. This may happen often, since Mr. Hoover is one of the busiest men in the United States Cabinet.

There was no opposition when Mr. Hoover submitted his tentative draft of the committee heads at the top of which the United States as chairman and Canada as vice-chairman appeared against committee number one. Mr. Hoover explained that this committee was intended to represent the conference as a whole, receiving reports of sub-committees.

Canada's senior delegate is Alexander Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa. He has attended many committees of the whole in the Canadian Parliament when estimates of his Department were before the House of Commons.

Will Revise Convention.

The four Canadian delegates will take part in the deliberation of five of the ten committees which during the next five weeks will revise the London Radio Convention of 1912. Besides the committee on convention as a whole, Canada was elected to committees on general regulations, mobile and special service regulations, point to point regulations, and regulations for other services, and the technical committee. This will give the Canadians access to the deliberations on all questions immediately affecting broadcasting on this continent, especially the unsettled question of the rights to wave lengths. Through Great Britain the delegates of Canada will have indirect representation on other committees. Of the seven British countries participating three are elected to chairman or vice-chairman status. Britain is chairman of the general regulations committee. Australia is vice-chairman of the committee on tariffs, ward count and accounting. Egypt is vice-chairman of the technical committee.

Adopt Minor Amendments.

Yesterday's proceedings lasted 70 minutes and were without incident. The conference adopted with minor amendments the draft rules submitted by Mr. Hoover. French as the official language of diplomacy was adopted as the official language of the convention, but English was admitted on equal basis. The efforts of small countries to secure recognition of any delegate in his own language failed. There are 52 nations participating.

The question of voting power did not come up yesterday, so that the Irish Free State's right to vote will not be discussed until the next plenary session, which awaits the call of the chairman, probably on Monday.

The rest of the week will be occupied with social affairs. It now appeared possible that the convention can adjourn until November 17. The book of proposals to be considered contains 600 pages, and resembles in bulk the telephone book of a large Canadian City.

WEDDING BELLS.

STINSON—HACKING.

All Saints' Anglican Church, Toronto, was the scene of a wedding when Stella Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hacking, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Stinson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stinson of Peterborough. Rev. Murphy, rector of the church, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Hacking, looked charming in French powder blue georgette with taffeta frills and black picture hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow Sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Drury, was dressed in rosewood georgette, with black picture hat and carried a bouquet of pale yellow mums. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Leslie T. White of Parry Sound. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stinson left for Limberlost Lodge, Muskoka. Upon their return they will reside in Lindsay.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN WILSON.

OMEMEE, Oct. 6.—The funeral of the late Ella Jane Mills, beloved wife of Mr. John Wilson of Port Hope, was held on Tuesday afternoon, with interment in Emily cemetery, Omemee. The service being conducted by Rev. E. W. Rowland.

The deceased was born in Emily township and prior to her marriage was a resident of the village, where she made many warm friends. She had been in failing health for several months but her sudden death which occurred in Port Hope Hospital, came as a shock to the family.

Besides her sorrowing husband an only daughter, Hazel (Mrs. Austin of Port Hope) survives, also two sisters, Mrs. C. Richards of Millbrook, Mrs. Robert Casey of East Emily, and one brother, Mr. Samuel Mills of Omemee.

OLD MASTERS

Suddenly out of dark and leafy ways,
We came upon the little house asleep
In cold blind stillness, shadowless and deep,
In the white magic of the full moon-blaze;
Strangers without the gate, we stood agaze,
Fearful to break that quiet, and to creep
Into the house that had been ours to keep
Through a long year of happy nights and days.
So unfamiliar in the white moon-gleam,
So old and ghostly like a house of dream
It seemed, that over us there stole the dread
That even as we watched it, side by side,
The ghosts of lovers, who had lived and died
Within its walls, were sleeping in our bed.

JEWISH HOLY DAY ON THURSDAY

Interesting Statement From a Former Rabbi of Peterborough.

In connection with the Jewish Holy Day which is to be observed in this and other cities, the following interesting statements will be of interest to our readers:

Editor of Daily Examiner:

I will appreciate if you will allow me space in your valuable paper, for the following:

No other nation is so misunderstood by the world, as is the Hebrew nation. Regardless of being scattered almost over every dominion of the globe and of participating in every phase of human activities, her characteristics, views, and customs, are still a closed book for those among whom her members reside. Even the world's prominent literarians with the exception of Sir Walter Scott, George Elliot, Eliza Orezkaia and of course Israel Zangwill, who was a child of the Ghetto himself, picture the Jew either as an angel or as a devil. The same can be said in regard to their religion.

Referring to a statement made, describing several features of the Jewish New Year recently celebrated it may appear paradoxical that the proper Jewish national New Year is not the first day of the month "Tishri", which is termed in the Scripture as the seventh month of the year, but the month "Nissan", also called the month Spring, when the Hebrews were liberated from bondage, soon, upon which, they were proclaimed by the Eternal as a Kingdom of Priests. The Rosh-Hashanah which is celebrated on the first of the seventh month and, which is named in the Bible, as the play of Memorial, bears chiefly a universal character, being, according to tradition the year of 5688 of the creation, on which "the remembrance of every creature comes before Him, each man's deeds and destiny, his works and ways, and his thoughts and silences, his imaginings and achievements." In accordance most of the prayers are devoted for the material and spiritual happiness of the entire creation and that "may all creatures prostrate themselves before Thee, that they may all form a single hand to do Thy will with a perfect heart."

The writer of the statement demonstrated his pedantry by confusing the observance of the New Year, the wandering of the Hebrews in the wilderness for 40 years, with a new inventive idea, that "they are waiting for the coming of the son of God." Any one should know that the Hebrews were sentenced to wander 40 years in the wilderness as a punishment for supporting the false and cowardly reports of the ten spies, the consequence of which, convinced Moses, that such an element was not suitable for the establishment of a free, and independent nation. What relationship has it with Rosh-Hashanah?

In regard to the waiting for the coming of the son of God, I may say that had the Hebrews only admitted such an idea as the coming of a son of God, they would have avoided all the dreadful persecutions and massacres which were imposed upon them in the past eighteen centuries. It seems that the banner of absolute monotheism which was kindled by their Patriarch Abraham and carried by them for the past 37 centuries, will continue to follow them up to Mount of Zion, where they will once more become the light of the nations.

A few words about Orthodox and Reform Judaism mentioned in the said statement. The fundamental principles of Judaism are not subject to reformation. The overwhelming majority of the 6 million Jews of today is represented by the Orthodox transmitted to them by the sages. Small groups of Reformers have already existed among the Hebrews in the time of the second Temple under the name of "Zedukin," and another in the middle of the 8th century, called "Karaim" but there is no trace left of the former, and of the latter there are only about 10,000 souls scattered in various countries of Europe who are entirely excluded from the Jewish body.

It is not very likely that the Reform movement of today, which is already showing signs of decay, is awaiting a brighter future.

DISTRICT CHURCHES

AT APSLEY CHURCHES

APSLEY, Oct. 6.—Harvest thanksgiving services were held on Sunday at St. George's church, morning and evening, and at St. Paul's, Lasswade, in the afternoon with record congregations. Both churches were beautifully decorated and the offerings of vegetables and fruit were donated to the Red Cross hospital. A beautiful brass altar desk, the gift of Thomas Tanner, in memory of his wife, was dedicated at the morning service at St. George's church. In the evening, the service was fully choral and Eastham's anthem, "O Lord How Manifold Are Thy Works", was sung. The Rev. C. A. G. Spence conducted the services.

Pays To Be Too Ill For Work At Hull

HULL, England, Oct. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Hull is a place where it pays to be too ill to work. This is the effect of a decision of the superannuation committee of the Hull Corporation.

Local tramwaymen are now working forty hours a week as a result of the retention of general strike volunteers, and their wages accordingly are reduced. They have claimed sickness benefits on the basis of a forty-eight hour week, which is fixed by the National Joint Industrial Council. Their claim was rejected by the tramways committee and the matter was carried to the superannuation committee, where the town clerk pointed out that the super-annuation scheme provided for the payment of full wages for the first month of sickness, and therefore, men who were sick received more than when working.

The chairman ruled that the acceptance of short-time work was a temoprary expedient and did not relieve the corporation of responsibility of paying benefits guaranteed by the scheme

DEATH CLAIMS OLD RESIDENT

George Cochrane, Former County Constable, Dies To-day.

WAS 88 YEARS OLD.

Death, this morning, claimed one of the city's oldest residents, in the person of George Cochrane, at his home, 765 George Street North, in his eighty-ninth year. He was born in the city on July 8th, 1839, at Benson's Mills, in which his father, James Cochrane, was foreman. These mills were later known as Blythe Mills and were situated on the west side of the Otonabee River, opposite the Auburn Woollen Mills. When he was five years of age his family moved to the sixth concession of Smith, near Cochrane's Corners, named after his grandfather, George Cochrane, who owned all the land from there to the river.

The story of Mr. Cochrane's activities appeared in The Examiner, November 16, 1912, written by Will Stubbs, son of Mrs. James Stubbs, 661 Water Street, from which much information regarding his public life is gleaned. Although he lived for a short time in Lakefield, he spent most of his life in Peterborough and County, which he knew and in which he was known, as few other men. For many years he was liquor license inspector for West Peterborough, and up till twelve years ago he was a County Constable, from which he was forced to retire on account of an accident. In thirty-seven years of police service he used his revolver only once, and that was on his first arrest, near Trenton, when he was forced to climb the stairs to an attic and cover his man when he took him into custody. He was of a kindly disposition, and understood men, particularly the lumber men of the north country type, and as a rule this enabled him to effect his arrest with little difficulty. The story is told that in one case his prisoners, in the dead of winter were without mitts, so he not only forbore to handcuff them, but provided them with mitts for their journey. He was a great woodsman and ardent canoeist, and at one time he rescued a lady and gentleman, on the point of drowning, in Lovesick Lake, when their boat upset, and refused to accept a medallion in recognition of his service.

He was a Liberal in politics, and a Baptist, member and senior deacon of Murray Street Church, in religion. He had a penchant for punctuality in everything he did, which persisted with him even in his later life of retirement.

Mr. Cochrane was always very fond of children and was agent of the Children's Aid Society. A tribute paid him was that "He was a young man all his life."

He was the last of his family, and is survived by a son and daughter, W. G. Cochrane, of the Quaker Oats Co., of Cleveland; and Miss Cochrane, at home.

The funeral service will be held at the family residence, 765 George Street, on Saturday at two o'clock, Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe officiating. Interment to be made in Lakefield Cemetery.

SYMPATHY STRIKE IS NOT YET CALLED

Carpenters Picketing, But Employers Hire Men From Other Union.

TORONTO, October 6. — Canadian Press. — The strike of carpenters who are members of the United Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, continued to-day, but the threat of a general building trades strike, was less ominous, although the contractors continued to replace the strikers with carpenters of the amalgamated Union.

The remaining unions so far have failed to call a sympathy strike.

This was discussed at the meeting last night but no decision was reached.

To-day building was slowed down but not tied up. Picketing by the United Union Carpenters was being carried on very quietly.

Northern Bakery Leads; Many Stocks Go Higher

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 6.—Northern Bakery was the acitve leader on the Toronto stock exchange this morning, but the strongest stock in the upward movement was Alberta Pacific Grain, which climbed 4¼ at 51¼. Bakeries touched 44 and at noon was ¾ higher than yesterday, around 43 ½. Good gains were scored by Brazilian, up three at 209, Canadian Pacific, up 3½ at 200, Pressed Metals more than three points higher at 62½, and Canadian Canners, up 1½ at 69¼. In the oils Imperial lost a full point at 58 and British American was off slightly at 31¾. Liquors were steady, Gooderham gaining a quarter at 54¼.

Reaction In Mines In Heavy Trading

TORONTO, Oct. 6. — (Canadian Press.)—Reaction set in in a number of issues on the standard mining exchange in heavy trading to-day, but others continued to score good gains. Bidgood suffered a four point drop at 47 and Barry Hollinger was almost that much lower at 85¾. Laval Quebec sold down to 43 but recovered to 47, a net loss of two points. Newbec and Dome led the stronger side of the market, the first stock gaining seven at 89, while Dome jumped 40 cents at 10.75. Ribago, the most active stock on the board, gained a point at 36½. Amulet and Area were firmer.

Wheat Prices Go Down While Corn Goes Up

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. — (Canadian Press.)—Notable strength in the corn market developed early to-day, whereas wheat tended to lower. The buying of corn was largely based on predictions current in some quarters that the December delivery of corn would soon be selling at $1.00 a bushel.

Starting unchanged to ½c. off, corn later scored gains all around. Wheat also started unchanged to ½c. off and subsequently showed a general sag, with selling from the northwest. Oats held steady. Provisions were easy.

Opening prices were:

Wheat, December 130 5-8, March 133½. Corn, December 93, March 96 1-8. Oats, December 48 3-8, March unquoted.

Specialties Lead New York Recovery

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. — (Canadian Press.)—The recovery in stock prices which set in late yesterday was continued today under the leadership of the high priced specialties. The rally was stimulated by the reduction in call money rates from 4½ to 4 per cent., which was followed by increased pool activities. Abitibi Paper and Power soared 11 points to 133. Case Threshing jumped 11 to 281 and Midland Steel Products preferred, General Motors old), Houston Oil, and Missouri Pacific preferred sold four points higher. New high prices, for the year or longer, were recorded by American Express, Beechnut Packing, Commonwealth Power, Magma Copper, Packard Motors, U. S. Leather, and Madison Square Garden Corporation.

California Petroleum, Cuba Sugar and Butterick sank to new lows.

SECOND WORLD'S SERIES GAME

rally all through this inning. Bengough almost picked L. Waner off first base. Barnhart singled into centre, L. Waner racing to third. L. Waner scored on P. Waner's sacrifice fly to Meusel. Barnhart held first. Koenig took Wright's grounder and touched second. One run, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Innings.

Yankees—Dawson went into the box for Pittsburgh. Dawson is a right-hander and warmed up before Meusel came to the bat. This was a fast ball and one of the first the Yanks have looked at in the game. Meusel got a hit, which Wright knocked down, and it went for an error. Dawson tried to catch Meusel at first. Lazzeri was trying to bunt. Lazzeri sent a high one out to L. Waner. Dugan sent out another fly to L. Waner. Meusel stole second and when the ball got away from Wright he tried for third and was out, Grantham to Traynor. No runs, no hits, one error.

Pirates—Traynor sent out a high fly to Combs. The crowd was commencing to leave the park. Ball one, inside. This was a long foul into the stands. Foul. Ball two, outside. Foul. Grantham split the air swinging for a third strike. It was a fast curve around his neck. Pipgras took Harris' hopper and ran over and touched first base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

fed improperly, develop colds easily and whenever sufficiently enervated a fever is liable to start which is often cured only when the poisons are eliminated in he form of eruptions.

Measles, scarlet fever, hicken-pox and such di orders are unnecessary with children or adul s, and the only reason that young children develop such trouble is because they are fed carelessly and genera,ly allowed to select their own food in order to stop their whining, when their parents know full well tha other wholesome foods should be used.

Most children improperly fed have several attacks of bilious feve: every year, especially during the winter months, when heavier clothing is worn and the skin does not function as well as during the summer months. These bilious attacks pass away, as a rule, in a day or two and eave no very bad consequences.

When this toxic condition has developed to a more violent stage, nature often finds it necessary to throw out poison in the form of skin eruption . If no medicines are used to stop elimination, the child will u sually recover without any serious consequences.

Parents must recognize that such fevers develop in their children as a result of improper training and errors at the table, for which the parents themselves are alone respon ible.

In one of these acute fevers, he child should be put to bed and given only plain water with the possible addition of some fruit juice, such as orange, lemon or grapefruit. One or two enemas must be given each day to encourage the proper elimination from the intestines. This is all the form of treatment necessary in such acute disorde s, as they always tend to cure themselves if not interfered with by suppressive treatment.

Children who develop chronic disorders do so only after practicing the same bad habits which produce the acute diseases. Chronic colds, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis and enlarged tonsils, adenoids and all the glandular diseases are the result of ntinued dietetic abuses, and are always easily cured as soon as the child is held to strict rules regarding exercising, playing, sleeping, etc. Such di eases often require a longer time for their cure with adu,ts, but children always respond quickly, and become normal as soon as the right habits are followed.

Most children who live through to the age of puberty do so in spite of their careless habits, which they have been allowed to develop through the ignorance of their parents who should have known in this enlight ned age that all children's diseases may be entirely avoided.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

I WONDER IF YOU KNOW THIS MAN

I wonder if you know this man, who always speaks so well
Of all the women in the town, no matter where they dwell?
Some woman is a splendid wife, he likes to give her praise;
He talks about her industry, her fine, unselfish ways.
Another is a dandy cook, another fair to see;
He gives a wife her honest due, whatever she may be.
Yes, very many pleasing things this pleasant man has said
About the women in the town—except the one he wed.

I wonder if you know this man, who thinks a mother just
About the finest thing on earth, when women are discussed?
He quotes a little poetry, he comes in good and strong
When at the club or in the church they sing a mother song.
He tells the things that mothers do for children ev'rywhere,
The tenderness, the sacrifice, the counsel and the care.
He talks about the mothers of the children he has known,
And praises ev'ry mother—but the mother of his own.

I wonder if you know this man, if such a man there is,
So pleasant where the ladies are, unless the lady's his?
Breathes there a man with soul so dead? If such a thing is true,
It such a husband is your own, I wonder what d do?
Well, just believe that just as much, as much as long ago,
He loves his wife, just doesn't think to speak about it though.
You needn't worry, needn't weep, you needn't even doubt,
For men are never half as bad as men themselves make out.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S WELCOME HOME.

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Come, Scooter and Tooter! Where are you, Jingle and Jangle! Hurry, Stumble and Bumble!"

Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady, was calling to her forty 'leven little bunnies in front of the hollow stump bungalow one Monday morning in May.

"What is it, mother?" asked Scooter, bobbing up at the end of the garden where he had been set to pull the weeds out of the early carrots.

"Hurry to school!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "You mustn't be late and make your ma nervous!"

"Oh, but we aren't going to school to-day!" cried Baby Bunty dancing around Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"No school to-day! No school to-day"! sang the other rabbits.

"Dear me! Whatever is the matter?" asked Mrs. Longears, twinkling her pink nose. "It isn't the long summer vacation already, is it?"

"No; but to-day Daddicums is coming home from his visit to the Wogglejigs in the bungleump," said Tooter. "We are going to stay away from school to welcome him home. You said we could."

"So I did. I had forgotten!" murmured Mrs. Longears. "Of course you may stay and welcome Daddicums Uncle Wiggily home. He will be here soon. Dear me! I must put on a clean dress and comb my fur. Nurse Jane, you do the same. Dear me! I had an idea Wiggy was coming home to-morrow! Now all you little bunnies wash your paws and faces!"

"Oh, we're all ready!" cried Bumble.

"Look how clean I am!" shouted Stumble, and just then, true to his name, he fell down in a mud puddle and got all dirt.

"Yes! Just look at your paws now!" squeaked Nurse Jane. "A fine sight you are to welcome your daddy home!"

"I'll help him wash clean!" offered Baby Bunty who was a good little orphan rabbit, though sometimes she would play tricks on Uncle Wiggily.

While his family was getting ready to welcome him home, Mr. Longears was bidding good-bye to Boppy, Um and the Wogglejigs in their bungleump. He had lived there for a time to help Boppy and Um unscramble the wooden children, and was going back for another visit later.

"It will be fun to be home again!" said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh as he hopped along a path through the woods. "I shall be glad to be with all my little bunny boys and girls, and my wife and Nurse Jane. I shall have some new adventures, I hope."

"You needn't wait until you get home for an adventure!" suddenly growled a voice in the bushes, and out popped the Bear. "I have an adventure right here for you!" went on the shaggy creature. "It is a nibbling adventure!" he chuckled.

"Thanks!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll look at your adventure another timed Just now I am going to be welcome home." And before the Bear could catch him in those big, sharp claws, the bunny rabbit gave a hop, skip and a jump and ran so fast the bad chap couldn't get him.

Faster and faster Uncle Wiggily ran through the woods until at last, in front of him, he saw his own hollow stump bungalow. Out in front was his wife, Nurse Jane, Baby Bunty and all the little bunny boys and girls.

"Welcome home, Daddicums!" cried Scooter.

"We're glad you came back to us!" shouted Jingle.

"And will you take us all adventuring 'cause we didn't have to go to school to-day!" asked Jangle.

"Oh, we shall have some jolly times!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as he kissed his wife, shook paws with Nurse Jane and then tried to hug all the forty 'leven little bunnies at once as they crowded with him through the doorway of the bungalow.

Then, all of a sudden, just as Mr. Longears was entering the open door, something fell ker thump and banged him so hard on the head that he tumbled down with a big lumpy swelling over his right eye.

"Oh, did the Bear do that?" murmured Uncle Wiggily. "Did he hit me with a club?"

"Oh, no! Dear me! What an accident!" squeaked Nurse Jane. "What hit you was a big vase of May flowers that Baby Bunty gathered and put on the top ledge over the door. It must have jarred loose and fell down to hit you. Oh, how sad!"

"Well, something hit me all right!" chuckled Mr. Longears looking at the broken vase, the splattered water and the scattered flowers. "But it didn't hurt much," he added as he saw how sad Baby Bunty looked. "I'm all right. It was a jolly welcome home! Hurray!"

Then such good times as there were! Everybody was happy and the swelling on the bunny's head soon went down.

Its Uniformity Makes It Good for Baby

ONE of the great advantages of Carnation Milk as a baby food is that its goodness never varies. No matter where you buy it or when you use it, baby's delicate digestion is never upset by a change in quality or purity.

Another advantage Carnation offers—the Carnation process of "homogenization" breaks up the fat globules and makes Carnation very easy to digest.

All the food value of milk is in Carnation, for Carnation is just pure, fresh milk evaporated to double richness and kept safe by sterilization. Consult your physician regarding a feeding formula for your baby. Also write us for baby feeding chart. Order several tins or a case of 48 tins from your grocer.

YOUTH SUCCUMBS TO SERIOUS HURTS

Brantford Boy Dies in Woodstock Hospital—Found On Tracks.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 6. — Canadian Press. — Nicholas Sardynski, the 17 year old Brantford youth, who was found seriously injured on the tracks near the Canadian National Railway station at Woodstock, late on Monday, died at the Woodstock hospital to-day. Before his death he stated that he had been crossing the tracks when he was hit by something, but he could give no definite information as to what struck him. An inquest will be held.

CAR FATALITY NEAR CANTON

A. W. Crane, of Baltimore, Dies Few Hours After Car Crashes Into River.

SECOND ACCIDENT.

A. W. Crane, of Baltimore, formerly of Port Credit, died this morning from shock and exposure, the result of his car crashing through a railing and down a twenty-foot embankment into the Generaska River. His daughter Margaret is not expected to recover.

The accident occurred on the detour north of Canton. Mr. Crane was driving south about nine o'clock last night, and turned a corner too fast, crashing into the fence.

A large car, supposed to have been driven by J. W. Peers, of Toronto, turned over on the highway detour near Garden Hill about 7.30 this morning and three people were injured. The car turned over two or three times, according to Highway Officer Hugh Wilson, and must have been travelling at high speed. Some of the injured are in Nicholls Hospital.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION HAS FINE MEETING

Annual Poultry Show Will Be Held January 10th, 11th and 12th.

Much interest is being taken in poultry in and around Peterborough, as was evidenced by the very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Poultry Association last evening.

All departments of the organization have their work planned and well under way for the fall and winter work. More than ordinary interest is being taken in making final arrangements for the annual poultry show which takes place on January 10, 11, and 12, 1928. Judging from the number of poultry enthusiasts, this show promises to be one of the largest winter shows in Canada.

Arrangements have also been made for a social evening on Monday, October 17, when everyone interested in poultry is welcome to attend, and to hear a lecture regarding the winter housing and feeding of poultry.

STAGING A COMEBACK?

Among the many rumours that are in circulation as the Conservative National Convention draws near, one of the most interesting is that predicting the return to politics of Right Honourable Meighen.

The report is that Mr. Meighen is to stage a comeback, not as leader, however, but as a lieutenant to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson.

The former Premier is now a resident of Toronto, and it is suggested that he will become a candidate in one of the York ridings.

A Ferguson-Meighen combination would undoubtedly have considerable strength; whatever may have been Mr. Meighen's failures as a leader, there is no one hardy enough to dispute his ability as a political debater and as a critic, and he would be an excellent foil to Mr. Ferguson.

There may not, of course, be a single substantial fact upon which this rumour is based, but it adds interest to the political situation nevertheless.

LOCKING THE DOOR, ETC.

In Police Court yesterday a motorist was fined $10 and costs for speeding at a street intersection.

The fact that, as a result of his violation of the traffic laws, he participated in an accident led to his appearance in court.

That is usually the case.

The reckless drivers rarely get caught until they have been involved in an accident.

What seems to be needed if such motorists are to be taught to drive sanely is a system of control that will not wait for disaster to occur before it begins to operate.

In other words, it should be possible to bring enough traffic law violators before the Magistrate to convince the reckless and the careless that it is their duty to have some regard for the safety of others.

Speeding across intersections is to be seen here at all hours of the day and night, and the drivers who thus defy the regulations are able to laugh at the law unless they are unlucky enough to run somebody down or drive into another car.

Safer driving conditions can only be obtained when the reckless minority among motorists are made to understand that the traffic laws are equipped with teeth.

EVERYBODY'S JOB.

If the safety campaign that is being inaugurated in Ontario this week is directed entirely at motorists it will not, by any means, be complete.

Pedestrians also need a strong word of warning.

There are too many people who are careless in crossing streets.

Within a couple of hours last evening three such absent-minded pedestrians came within an ace of being run down at the intersection of George and Hunter streets.

Only quick work on the part of good drivers and the assistance of excellent brakes averted an accident and possibly a fatality in each case.

The people on foot were to blame in each instance, walking deliberately into the path of the oncoming car, and all three were lucky that alert drivers happened to be at the wheel.

This safety campaign can only be a success if everybody co-operates.

It needs the help of the man in the car, the man on foot, the parents at home and the teacher in the school.

Creating safer traffic conditions is, in short, everybody's job.

COMPENSATION AND ACCIDENTS.

There were 6,552 accidents reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board in September, including 31 fatalities, and benefits awarded by the Board amounted to $461,983.59. These figures show a decrease from August when 7,010 accidents, including 53 fatalities, were reported, but in September, 1927, there were more accidents reported than in the same month of 1926, the increase being 372.

Up to the end of September, the workmen's Compensation Board awarded in 1927 a total of $4,526,629.52, an average of about $500,000 for each month. The total number of accidents reported in the first nine months of the year was 53,463, including 305 fatalities.

Commenting on these figures, R. B. Morley, General Manager, Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, states that there were included many traffic accidents, some of these fatalities and others of lesser severity. These accidents on the highway included salesmen, drivers for bakeries and dairies and truck drivers. It is hoped that the present campaign against highway accidents will have a material effect on accidents of this type.

Mr. Morley leaves in a fortnight for Geneva as a member of the Committee of Safety Experts, which will prepare the report for presentation at the meeting of the International Labour Office there next May. This recognition of the importance of accident prevention work through the League of Nations is evidence of a world-wide movement to cope with the losses due to preventable accidents. Mr. Morley is the only member of this committee going from Canada or the United States.

BRITISHERS HOLD ALL SPEED RECORDS.

It was not so long ago when a quiet, unassuming Englishman got off a boat at New York with a mysterious machine, all crated up, and it was announced that he was out to break the automobile speed records for the world. In due time his machine appeared along the coast of Florida, and he put on an amazing performance. His machine travelled something over 200 miles per hour on the flat, a record never before established, and it left the American scientists and observers gasping for the moment. They are still figuring things out. The Englishman has since desisted from fast flights, and is applying the knowledge he has gained to further development of science. It was soon known that he was no ordinary dare-devil speed fiend, but that he made an intricate study of just what such intense speed would mean to an engine and to various parts of the car in which he took his ride.

Yesterday two Englishmen with Napier machines broke the world's record for seaplane travel, when 281 miles per hour was established by one and 272 miles per hour by another. The Italian machines failed to finish. The pilots of these machines deserve a lot of credit, but the real credit belongs to the British workshop and the British scientists. The winning of the Schneider Cup is once again evidence of a striking order that the British nation is far from decadence. In almost any field of endeavor, the British are maintaining, if not leadership, a runner-up position. The best minds are striving in competition with the world's best. In the realm of finance, Britain still holds a first position, and in shipping as well. It would be a pessimist only who would venture the prediction that the Motherland has not the initiative and qualities to solve eventually her economic and industrial problems and emerge completely from the devastating effects of the Great War, as she did after the Napoleonic struggle.—St. Catharines Standard.

SAFETY ON OUR HIGHWAYS.

One of the most gratifying features in the discussion which took place this week at the convention at Niagara Falls of the Canadian Good Roads Association on the subject of highway safety has been the assurance which it has given to the public that the question has at last become a really live issue in the Dominion, and that the men most interested in roads development are thoroughly impressed with its importance. After an exhaustive debate the matter was referred to the next Interprovincial Conference for consideration and action.

The delegates, of course, did not have it within their power to make rules and regulations, and the most they could do was to review the problem from various angles, to offer suggestions which might lead to greater safety, and to make recommendations. If it is possible to make laws which will apply to every Province in the Dominion, an important step forward will have been made, and the Interprovincial Conference is the logical gathering to take up such a far-reaching reform.

Some uniform law enforceable throughout the Dominion appears to be imperative, now that automobile traffic has reached such large dimensions, and even better results might be expected if such a law for all the North American Continent could be brought into operation. If the Provinces can agree upon one set of regulations for the whole of Canada, the achievement could be held out as a strong inducement to the United States authorities to co-operate by the adoption of similar measures There is an ever-growing stream of tourist traffic from points across the international boundary, and American visitors have figured in numerous automobile fatalities in Ontario. With uniform rules applying to all parts of North America, there would be less confusion than at present exists, and the cause of safety would be advanced. The printed rules could be handed to every motorist when he received his license, and there could then be no excuse for ignorance of any of the conditions with which he might be expected to comply.

Thursday's discussion at the convention was productive of many valuable suggestions, one of the most helpful and thoughtful addresses being that given by Mr. J. A. Begin, Comptroller of Provincial Revenue, Province of Quebec. In the course of his opening remarks Mr. Begin said that "there were fewer human activities where knowledge was more neglected and wisdom less practiced than by the users of the road. Generally, the man intending to buy a car for the first time knew nothing about its transmission and control systems or about the regulations, and had no experience of the dangerous situations in which he would find himself. But, having bought the car, he immediately wanted to drive, as did also his wife, son and daughter."

While, of course, it is true that the speed fiends are not by any means confined to the ranks of inexperienced drivers, the ignorance of which Mr. Begin speaks has been responsible for many fatalities. He therefore advocates a very drastic examination before the aspiring motorist is given a permit to drive. Some of the tests suggested by him are undoubtedly severe, but deaths on the highways have reached such alarming proportions that severe measures are necessary. A man may have a thorough mechanical knowledge of a car but still be unfitted, because of defective vision, some physical disability, or lack of nerve, to be entrusted with the privilege of driving it.

Rates of speed, enforcement of the law, various causes of accidents, dangers from glaring headlights, and many other matters bearing on the subject of safe highways were discussed with a knowledge gained by experience, so that, with the recommendations of the convention before them, the members of the Interprovincial Conference have a good working basis on which to tackle the question when they assemble. The conference may not possibly be able to make the question the keynote of its deliberations, as was done by the Good Roads Association, but its importance is such that it should be made "an equal first" with any other subject which may be considered.

In the meantime there should be no relaxation in the enforcement of existing rules and regulations, and motorists themselves will be doing good service if they pay attention to what was said by some of the speakers at the Niagara Falls meeting in regard to rules of courtesy on the road, and give heed to the comfort and safety of "the other fellow."—The Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It looks as if Premier Ferguson is going to be drafted to the big league.

Anyway, Ontario's Premier would not have nearly so much fun in the Legislature now with Mr. Raney gone to the bench.

Ontario's safety campaign will include broadcast warnings. But the trouble is that those who need the advice most will be out somewhere stepping on the gas.

The World's Series makes a lot of people forget business for an hour or two. And that in itself is sufficient justification for holding the annual competition.

A Toronto man convicted of picking pockets in the monkey-house at the Riverdale Zoo has been sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. That is the way to stop that kind of monkey business.

The life of a politician is fraught with trouble, but so far Canadian public men have escaped being bitten by wild magpies, thus having something on Australian politicians.

Stock exchange house thinks there will be a big drop in prices this autumn. It is looking forward to an early fall.—Ottawa Journal.

RANEY PRAISES ONTARIO PRESS

New Justice Refers To Agencies Creating Respect For Law.

AT ALGOMA ASSIZES.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 6.—(Canadian Press).—Agencies working for respect of law in Canada were referred to by Hon. Justice Raney, former Attorney General for Ontario, when he made his first address to a grand jury since his appointment to the bench of the Ontario Supreme Court in opening the Algoma fall assizes here yetserday. No country was better served by its press in this respect than was the province of Ontario, he said.

Mr. Justice Raney also commented on the change in procedure in Ontario whereby only the more serious cases were brought before Grand Jury. Two cases of murder and two of manslaughter will come before His Honor at the present assizes. The Grand Jury has returned three true bills in each case.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Trade was very dull in the cattle market yesterday. A heavy carry over of probably more than 1,000 cattle, with but few good butchers among them, is too big a load for a dull midweek market. Few cattle were moving out during the morning session, but with some prices shading on the common grades, it was hoped a clearing may be effected before the week end.

The fact that a few extra hundred cattle of the stocker type are arriving and being held over for the annual stocker and feeder show today, and an auction sale to follow on Friday, has helped to clutter up the market for the midweek.

Good to choice butcher prices steady and unchanged. Common easier.

Calves strong, and lambs steady.

Packers bidding 25c lower for Thursday's hog loadings:

Choice butcher steers active from $8.25 to $8.75. Choice light steers, $8.25 to $8.50, and choice butcher heifers $8 to $8.25.

Baby beeves, firm, choice $12 to $13.

Common steers and heifers $5 to $5.50.

Choice butcher cows, $5.50 to $6.25; medium, $4.50 to $5.

Bulls, choice, $4.50 to $5; choice butcher, $4.50 to $5.

Springers and milkers, quiet and steady prices.

Stockers and feeders active, good quality feeders from $6.75 to $7.25; heifers, $5.50 to $6.75; delivery country points.

Lambs, choice, steady at $11 to $11.25 tops, best ewes and wethers.

Calves, choice, strong, at $14 to $14.50.

Hogs steady at $10.90 off cars, selects, and $10 f.o.b. selects.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—There was an improved demand from the United Kingdom and the Continent for Canadian wheat here yesterday, and a fair amount of business was worked for nearby shipment.

Trading in cash grain in the domestic market was again slow, but the undertone was steady and prices were unchanged.

The flour market was without any new feature to note, prices for Spring and winter wheat grades being firm under a limited inquiry.

The millfeed trade was active and firm. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and prices ruled firm.

A fair amount of business was worked with English importers in baled hay, but the local demand was inactive and values were unchanged.

The undertone to the market for strictly fresh extra eggs was again strong, but there was no further change in prices. The demand continued good. Other grades were steady. The receipts were 1,237 cases.

Owing to the somewhat limited supply of beans available on spot a very firm feeling prevailed in the market. Sales of choice white handpicked in car lots were made at $2.50 per bushel, and in broken lots at $2.60 to $2.70 per bushel.

The trade in butter yesterday showed signs of more activity owing to the improved demand from both local and outside buyers. The undertone was firm. The receipts were 743 packages.

The local and export demand for cheese was quiet yesterday and values were unchanged. The receipts were 5,483 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—Liberal offerings proved too much yesterday for either the wheat market or corn to stand up under. Wheat declines were associated with pressure from the movement of the new Spring crop in the Northwest, and corn reflected the influence of prospective better weather toward the end of the week.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ¼ to ¾c net lower; with corn ½ to ¾c down; oats unchanged to ⅛c off, and provisions showing 5c to 25c decline.

Current advices that Canada was selling wheat abroad at 3½c under cost, put special emphasis on the fact that the Liverpool market yesterday was relatively weak. Export sales from North America yesterday were of Canadian wheat for the most part and were estimated at 500,000 bushels. Meanwhile both Minneapolis and Duluth had another big run of new arrivals of wheat, respectively 777 cars and 942 cars, each total much larger than a year ago. Despite unfavorable weather, receipts at Winnipeg too were 1,824 cars, against 1,528 last year.

Corn showed a heavy undertone from the start and speculators were aggressive on the selling side, with support from buyers laggard. Little attention was given to the fact that weather conditions yesterday were rather unfavorable and that the forecast suggested frost last night in parts of the west and northwest. Downturns in price were also in the face of assertions that from reserves of corn told only about 160,000,000 bushels, compared with 270,000,000 bushels last year. Oats held within narrow limits and transactions lacked volume.

Provisions followed hog values downgrade.

POULTRY CULLING IS DEMONSTRATED

Expert From Agricultural College Visits Omemee District.

OMEMEE, Oct. 6.—On Saturday afternoon a poultry culling demonstration was held at the home of William Connell, under the auspices of the Farmers' Club. Mr. Hart of the Agricultural College, Guelph, was assisted by Mr. Winter of the Department of Agriculture, Lindsay, in the judging of the fowl, and out of a flock of about eighty Plymouth Rocks thirty-two were culled as not profitable to the owner. Owing to a misunderstanding in the date, the attendance was not as large as was expected, but many valuable points were gained by the interested poultry raisers who attended, and many surprises were also handed out. This demonstration showed that not only in this particular flock but in no doubt many others the unprofitable number of fowl kept in the country.

To have fresh raspberries in October was the experience of an Omemee resident last week, who while pruning the bushes was fortunate in picking from a single branch 19 nice ripe berries. Other bushes showed green fruit, which if the weather permits, will soon reach the mature stage.

A Thought For To-day

A VERY IMPORTANT WORD

Ability is a big word and we are always talking about it—always talking about our ability.

Ability accomplishes many things and often accomplishes the wrong thing.

Just place before this word "ability", the syllables "depend", and you have the biggest word that I can think of in Service—dependability.

In any line of human activity, dependability, of integrity, intelligence, or industry, is the first thing that you want to know about a man.

A man of dependability will not cheat, lie, steal, or slack. Neither will such a man destroy your confidence.

If I were looking around for a big compliment to hand a man, and he deserved it, I would stop looking and simply use this word "dependability."

Cleanse away the Causes of bad breath

by daily use of Hygeol

THE thorough cleansing action of HYGEOL completely eliminates the causes of bad breath so hard to avoid in false teeth.

Smoke and other odours, food particles, tenacious mucin film and discolorations are all swept away, every lurking germ is destroyed, and the teeth brought back to their original fresh cleanliness. Yet HYGEOL'S safe action is absolutely harmless to the teeth, or to vulcanite, gold, platinum or other plates.

Absolutely no brushing is required. Simply leave the teeth for 20 minutes, while dressing, in a solution of three parts water to one part HYGEOL. Then remove and rinse, and the teeth will be spotlessly clean and thoroughly purified.

If preferable, teeth can be left all night in a glass of water to which one teaspoonful of HYGEOL has been added. Equally good results are obtained.

SPIRITUALIST AND MAGICIAN DISPUTE AGAIN

Thurston Takes Up the Claims of Houdini That Trickery is Used.

CHALLENGE ISSUED.

Ford, Leading Spiritualist, Asks Magician To Prove Statements.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(United Press).—Black magic and religious spiritualism are pitted against each other in the most sanguine struggle since Harry Houdini joined the great Charlatans of history in death.

Enraged by the pronouncement of the famous magician, Howard Thurston, that spiritualistic phenomena invariably are faked, Arthur A. Ford, leading American spiritualist, has challenged the magician to reproduce it with his ancient arts. As a first step in a campaign to expose Thurston as a "publicity-seeking showman", Ford today offered the magician $10,000 in cash to make good his most amusing charge against the spiritualists.

"Thurston says the most common form of 'ghost' used by the mediums is contained in a small watch and blown up by means of a collapsible rod," Ford told The United Press.

"I have never before heard of such a contraption, but I will give Thurston $10,000 if with this instrument alone he will duplicate all of the phenomena under the same conditions to which he submits. I will get him any time to arrange the details of such a test and this offer will hold good for six months." Because of Ford's position in the sphere of spiritualism, the offer is taken as a challenge, the magician can hardly ignore. Ford is president of the First Spiritualist church, associated editor of the Immortality and Physic Review, and a fellow of The American Society for Physical Research. He recently returned from a visit to Sir Arthur Conon Doyle in England.

"I hope Thurston will not follow the example of Houdini and evade the issue by a counter-challenge", Ford said. "He has made charges. I demand that he prove them.

"He claims to have talked with thousands of spiritualists and with one exception to have exposed them. I defy him to name 100 well known mediums he has exposed.

"Thurston says that Conon Doyle has been badly duped. I have just returned from a visit to Conan Doyle and I know that most of his spirit messages these days come through the mediumship of his wife. Will Thurston dare to say that Lady Doyle is a Charlatan duping her husband."

MANY ENTRIES IN BABY SHOW

Class For Twins Added—Lists Close Next Monday. Monday.

JUDGING ON THURSDAY.

The Kiwanis Club announces in connection with the Baby Show that is being held in the Armouries on Thursday Oct. 13th, that babies from six to twelve months will be judged from 1.30 to 3 o'clock, and babies from twelve to eighteen months will be judged from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The entries are very numerous and close to a hundred have been received by Mr. Bond of the Bond Drug Store, Mr. Saunders of the Hall Store, and Mr. Allen, of the Prudential Insurance Company.

They have decided to have another class for twins from six to eighteen months, and a prize will be awarded to the winner of this class.

The last day of entry is Monday, October 10th, and no entries will be be received after that date. On Oct. 11th admission cards will be sent to those who entered their babies.

Of course it is understood, says Mr. Allen, that the Baby Show is for all Peterboro County. If any interested persons, not residing in the City of Peterborough, will write to John I. Allen, Prudential Insurance office, Royal Bank Buliding, corner George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, Ont., he will be pleased to send entry blanks or any other information that may be desired.

DREAM SENDS MAN TO FIND SON'S BODY

Youth Found Among Unidentified Dead in Detroit Morgue.

DETROIT, Oct. 6. — A curious dream which persisted for three consecutive nights yesterday sent Charles Roberts, who lives on a farm near Romeo, to the Receiving Hospital in search of his son, George, who had disappeared from home a week ago. There, from hospital records, he found that the body of the boy had been lying in the Morgue since last Saturday night among the unidentified dead

Young Roberts had never remained away from home before, and when he failed to return after a visit to Detroit last week his father became worried, but did not know where to look for him. Then on Sunday night he dreamed that George was in a big hospital He gave little thought to the dream until it was repeated in every detail on Monday and again on Tuesday night.

Yesterday morning he visited the Receiving Hospital to search for his son, but hospital authorities assured him that they had no record of the boy. The father was so persistent, however, that the property of the unidentified was examined and the property clerk found a locket containing the father's picture, which the young man always carried, Mr. Roberts said. Hospital records then revealed that the young man had been taken to the hospital Saturday night suffering from an undetermined poison and had died witholut being identified. The father claimed the body in the city Morgue late yesterday.

MOUNT PLEASANT

MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 6.—Service was conducted in St. John's Anglican church, Ida, in the evening. Next Sunday, October 9th, service will be withdrawn owing to St. John's congregation uniting with the other three congregations on the circuit, Christ church at Balleboro, Trinity church at The Marsh, and St. Thomas in Millbrook, for the special jubilee services to be held in Millbrook. The choirs of all four congregations will assist in the special music for the morning and evening services under the leadership of Mrs. Canon Allen, who has been a faithful organist in the Anglican church for the past fifty years, thirty-five of which she has been organist in Millbrook church.

On October 23 special service will be held in St. John's church in the evening, where their "Harvest Home Festival" service will be held, with Rev. Canon Allen in charge of the service, assisted by Bishop Sweeny, of Toronto, who will assist with Confirmation service.

Special Rally Day services will be held in the former Methodist church on Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. John Riddell, will address the Sunday school.

DEPUTY VISITS MASONIC LODGE

W. R. Morris, of Peterborough, Attends Meeting at Campbellford.

LODGE ANNIVERSARY.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 6.—As a mark of distinction, the Golden Rule Lodge will remember in connection with its sixty-seventh anniversary, the visit of W. R. Morris of Peterboro, Deputy Grand Master, who paid his official visit on this occasion. As well as the usual Masonic proceedings, initiations were included in the order of the evening.

After the business had been completed, a banquet was served in the dining-room, Longs catering. The banquet was of its usual high standard and the members were in fine humor for the long list of toasts which were to follow. The King and the Craft was proposed by Worshipful Master Nelson Hardy. F. C. Bonnycastle proposed the Grand Lodge and Mr. Morris of Peterboro responded. During his remarks he gave a very vivid description of his trip to Europe this past summer with the Rotarians. The interesting, informal speech was greatly appreciated.

G. A. Kingston proposed the toast to Canada and the Rev. Ernest Haraton replied. The visitors received their share of the honors from Dr. O. C. Watson. In response to the toast, A. J. Throop of Peterboro, John Comstock of Peterboro, Watson of Stirling, Thompson of Peterboro and Walter Hogg of Lindsay spoke. The Golden Rule Lodge was proposed by District Deputy Grand Master Morris and responded to by the Worshipful Master, Nelson Hardy.

During the evening, Cecil Searles and his violin entertained and solos from John Storie, A. Hazel, and A. M. Rollo were very well received.

YOUNG MAN SENTENCED.

Farm Hand Goes To Jail For Six Months For Two Charges.

MILLBROOK October 6. — Magistrate Floyd of Cobourg tried a case here on Tuesday when Timothy McGrath a young farm hand employed by Robert McInnis north of the village was charged with criminally assaulting an eight year old girl and of forging his employer's name to a cheque for twenty five dollars at the local branch of the Bank of Toronto. The sentence was six months in prison in each case. Provincial Constable F. Wetherall acted in the case.

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Man., October 6. — Wide fluctuations on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday were inspired principally by adverse weather in the Canadian West and spasmodic flurries of buying. The close was unsettled at ½c to ¾c below Tuesday's final quotations.

A moderate export inquiry acted as a bolstering factor in an otherwise sluggish market.

Barley was most active of the coarse grains, while oats and flax were dull.

BADLY HURT BY FALL OFF ROOF

George Sanderson, of Millbrook, Shaken and Bruised.

NO BONES BROKEN.

MILLBROOK, October 6. — While working on the roof of a new verandah which he is having erected in front of his residence on Main St., George Sanderson missed his footing when about to descend a ladder and fell to the ground; fortunately no bones were broken but the severe shaking up with some bad bruises, have caused much suffering, and kept the patient confined to bed for the past few days. Dr. H. A. Turner is the physician in charge.

S. Sloan has been looking after Mr. Sanderson's mail route as well as his own, since the accident happened.

ECZEMA ITCHED A GREAT DEAL

Over Face, Neck and Hands. Cuticura Heals.

"Eczema broke out all over my face, neck and hands. It was in blisters and itched a great deal. My skin was awful sore and red, and sometimes the blisters would break and water would come from them. I was not able to do my work, and lost a lot of sleep. The trouble lasted over six months.

"I tried many different remedies without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Laura J. Brine, Botsford Portage, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenny, with their daughters, Grace and Myra, have returned to their home in New York after visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, Engleburn avenue.

Mrs. A. J. Throop, president of the street, entertained at three tables of bridge last evening for Miss Marion Hayes, a bride-elect of the month whose marriage takes place next week. Miss Hayes was presented with a lovely silver comporte, the gift of the Bridge Club of which she was a member last season. Decorations of the table where buffet refreshments were served were in pink and white, a "Fortune" cake with tiny pink candles banked with pale pink tulle, tall rose candles in silver holders and a miniature bride and bridegroom forming an effective arrangement.

Mrs. J. F. Strickland, Gilmour street, entertained at bridge last evening.

Miss "Chick" Godfrey left recently for New York City, to train as a nurse. Miss Godfrey has been a popular member of the clerical staff of the J. C. Turnbull Company for several years, and was presented with a handsome leather bag by her fellow employees, also a hand bag and gold Eversharp pencil. On the evening before her departure, a shower was given for her at her home, at which she received many useful and pretty gifts, evidences of the esteem in which she was held by her companions on the store staff.

Mrs. W. Richardson, Frederick avenue, entertained a number of her friends at bridge yesterday.

Rev. R. K. Mills, pastor of Bethany Tabernacle, will be in Chatham for the week of October 9th to 16th, conducting meetings for Mr. W. G. Watson, the evangelist who was in this city for a fortnight's services some time ago. During Rev. Mr. Mills' absence, services at Bethany Tabernacle will be conducted by Rev. Jas. Oliver.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Middleton are in Toronto, attending the Centenary celebrations of the University of Toronto.

SAINT and SINNER

For exactly three days Faith was a heroine in her husband's eyes, because she was demonstrating that she could cook for a family of four, keep house and take care of a baby, unaided. Then he became absorbed in his plans for the new retail fur store, whose windows were to be so distinctive, and Faith found herself taken very much for granted. The third evening of the servantless regime Bob did not insist too positively upon his right to wash dinner dishes, possibly because Cherry had ducked her share of the duty by leaving immediately after the meal for a visit with Junior and Fay and her father at the old Myrtle Street home.

That evening Faith washed the dishes herself, and Joy dried them, an arrangement which Faith could see would henceforth be routine. But she did not complain, even to herself, for she found the extra work easier to bear than the sound of Cherry's high, teasing laugh joining with Bob's deeper-toned mirth, as the two of them made a frolic of an unpleasant task.

It was a comfort, too, to know that Bob was busily and cheerfully at work again, with every assurance from the rich fur merchant of having his plans accepted.

"Faith," Joy dropped her voice mysteriously, "ain't you ever going to have a little baby? Looks like you'd want one of your own, not just Cherry's baby."

The unexpectedness of the question stunned Faith for a moment. Under the clear, keen gaze of Joy's gray eyes a hot tide of color spread over her throat and face.

"I—" she gasped, and she knew that she was trying to answer that question for herself as much as for Joy. "I don't know, honey. Women can't always have babies just when they want them. And Hope seems like my very own baby, you know."

"Fay says she hopes she has twins, because it's not any more trouble to take care of two than one. She says one ties you hand and foot anyway, so it might as well be two—and then you have it over with." Joy elucidated wisely, her small face eager but solemn.

"I hope Fay gets her wish," Faith answered evasively.

But long after Joy had apparently forgotten the conversation Faith brooded over it. She lived again those first ecstatic days of her marriage, when she had so foolishly believed that Bob loved her as passionately as she loved him. She remembered the look on his face—the divine tenderness in his eyes—when they had talked of the child that would undoubtedly come to them before the year was out. Then, as the first months of her marriage had slipped away, she had seen that he was growing reconciled to nature's hesitation in the matter of making him a father. And after Cherry's baby had been born he had seemed to dread the ordeal of child-bearing for Faith; had rejoiced that it was not his wife who had suffered so.

She had tried to reconcile her own aching desire for a child with Bob's undoubtedly sane viewpoint, but there in the dark she gave way to her grief for the child that was denied her because Cherry had had a child she did not want. Of course, she told herself, even as she wept, her arms unconsciously forming a cradle for the baby she wanted, Bob was right. Life was already complicated enough without adding to its problems. But, oh, if he loved her as much as she loved him he would not be happy until he held their child in his arms! After a little while she went to see if Cherry's baby was comfortable for the night.

MILLBROOK, October 6. — A motor accident involving five Toronto people occurred about two miles east of Millbrook on Tuesday afternoon, when the car in which they were travelling overturned in the ditch. Apparently blinded by the sunlight, the driver in turning out to pass another car mistook the distance, and went over the roadside with the result mentioned. None of the occupants were injured seriously though one child was somewhat cut and bruised. The car was badly damaged and was towed to a local garage for repairs.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for only 75 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1927.

This is a day of conflicting planetary influences, according to astrology, which finds adverse aspects strong.

It is a rule under which it is wise to distrust one's judgment, especially where investments or speculations are concerned.

Meetings that are called for financial conferences are today badly directed by the stars, which tend to impart false confidence.

This is not a favorable sway for oil production or exploitation and may be much agitation regarding prices, the seers foretell.

This is held to be most auspicious for colleges and educational institutions, which this year will prosper amazingly.

Hospitals now come under a rule making for campaigns for funds and many will profit from legacies, if the stars are rightly read.

Jupiter is in an aspect presaging expansion in post-office facilities and increased speed in transportation.

New alliances in which Germany, Austria, Russia and Turkey are interested, are forecast.

Mexico again is to carry on negotiations with the United States, which bring out national antagonisms, astrologers predict.

Women now assume importance in public affairs and many may nurse office-seeking ambitious, only to be disappointed.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of an uncertain year in love and business.

Children born on this day are likely to have great talents and ability to use them, but they may be inclined to gamble with big opportunities.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE.

1. How many courses has the simplest of formal dinners?
2. What are they?
3. How many courses has the most elaborate formal dinner?

The Answers.

1. Four.
2. Soup, main course of meat and attending vegetables, salad and dessert, with coffee.
3. Perhaps ten, though choice dishes are valued more than numbers.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 6. — Stuart Carr is home for a few days from the University of Toronto.

The fire alarm which sounded about 2.30 yesterday afternoon proved to be merely another scare. A. H. McKeel, in preparation for the arrival of cold weather, was burning out his chimney. One of the neighbours saw the dense smoke, and telephoned the alarm without waiting to investigate. The firemen responded with alacrity.

On Sunday, October 9, Christ Church will hold harvest thanksgiving services. Rev. Canon Braughal of Toronto will conduct the services. During his visit here, it is expected that he will be the guest of Mr. Bedford.

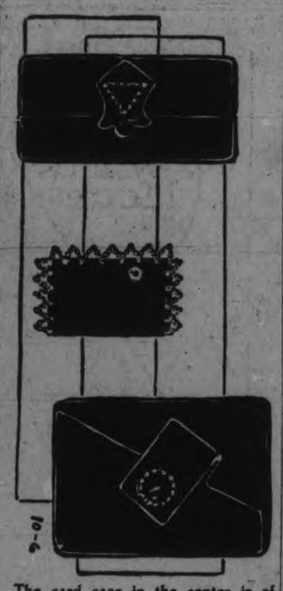
DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL



The card case in the center is of black suede with an edging of small pearls. The purses at either side are of black suede with rhinestone clasps.

Someone has suggested that with the coming of smaller bills we might have smaller purses. But we shall probably have to wait until these new bills are in circulation to see any such effect. In the meantime purses are frequently very large.

The idea with many well-dressed women in getting large handbags is that they want something so large that the carrying of anything else will be unnecessary. There are even purses large enough to carry a small collapsed umbrella. And one woman I know recently bought a purse large enough to hold her tiny Pekinese. She keeps the top open so that her pet can breathe and peep out to see what is going on in the outside world.

But the very large handbag is not the best selection for all occasions.

It is appropriate for shopping, and travel and the all-day motoring or shopping tour when you may want a place to stow an extra pair of stockings, small purchases and a more than usually complete make-up kit.

These large bags are out of place for more formal afternoon wear. Then you want something not too conspicuous, something not too usual. Black bags seem to be making an unusually strong appeal to a large number of really smart women—bags of black suede especially. There are bags of black alligator combined with black kid to be carried when black shoes of the same leathers are worn.

If you can be most precise in the selection of your accessories you might adopt the rule never to carry a leather bag unless it matches the leather of your shoes.

PRESENTATION TO I.O.D.E. MEMBER

Mrs. A. Haig, Who Is Leaving, Was Secretary For 13 Years.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 6. — The routine business of the I.O.D.E. was quickly disposed of at their meeting yesterday afternoon in the Parish Hall, Rear Street. Immediately after it had been concluded, an enjoyable social half-hour was in order. Readings were given by Mrs. A. Haig and Mrs. G. A. Kingston. Tea was served to all present, and was very much enjoyed. Mrs. William Ashton, Regent, bid a formal farewell to Mrs. Haig, who, with her husband, Dr. A. Haig, and son Jack, are leaving town to reside in Bellcville.

Mrs. Haig is well known for her unceasing efforts in connection with the Daughters of the Empire here. She was one of the original members, and was instrumental in forming the local Chapter in September, 1914. Since that time she has held the secretary's office continuously and very satisfactorily. It was with great regret that the Chapter made its formal adieu yesterday.

Mrs. J. A. Stewart and Mrs. E. F. Richardson are two other members of the local Chapter who have recently removed from Campbellford. Their absence from the Daughters' activities will be regretted.

Keen's Uncommon Recipes for OCTOBER

Try these uncommon recipes, now that Jack Frost is putting a chill in the air that sharpens appetites for more substantial meals.

Here are several appetizing and satisfying dishes—full of the savour only Keen's Mustard can give. Clip these recipes for future reference.

HAM PIQUANT

1 lb. thinly sliced cooked ham; 1 tablespoon Keen's Mustard; ¼ teaspoon black pepper; dash of cayenne; ¾ cup grated Parmesan or American cheese:

Mix the mustard and seasonings with enough milk to form a thick paste. Spread this on the slices of ham and sprinkle each slice with cheese. Stack the ham in the shape of a brick and tie with a string. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven basting occasionally with the ham fat as it runs out into the pan. When cold remove the string and cut in slices downward through the layers.

SMOTHERED BEEF

3 lbs. beef suitable for pot roast; 2 tablespoons flour mixed with 1 teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper; 3 large onions sliced; 3 tablespoons oil or drippings; 1 tablespoon Keen's Mustard; 1 teaspoon celery seed; 1 cup strained tomatoes; 2 teaspoons salt; 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce:

Dredge the meat with the flour and brown it in a heavy iron pan. Fry the onions in the oil and add the other ingredients. Pour this sauce over the meat and simmer 3 hours or more.

Cold roast meat, fowl or chicken giblets may be very attractively prepared in a similar manner.

BAKED EGGS AU GRATIN

6 hard cooked eggs; 2 cups milk; 3 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 teaspoon Keen's Mustard; ½ teaspoon salt; 1/16 teaspoon pepper; ½ cup grated cheese; 1 cup buttered bread crumbs:

Make a white sauce of the milk, butter, flour and seasonings. Cut eggs in half and place on shallow baking dish and cover with sauce. Sprinkle with cheese and buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs brown.

WELSH RAREBIT

1 tablespoon butter; 1 tablespoon flour; 1 cup milk; ½ teaspoon salt; few grains pepper; 1 teaspoon Keen's Mustard; ¼ to 1 lb. cheese; 6 slices buttered toast:

Heat the milk over hot water. Blend together the butter, flour and seasonings, drop them into the hot milk and cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add the cheese. Beat until melted and serve very hot on toast.

DEVILLED SCALLOPS

3 cups scallops—parboil 5 minutes; 1 tablespoon tomato catsup or chili sauce; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon Keen's Mustard; ½ lemon (juice); few grains pepper:

Mix the seasonings together and add to scallops, chopped fine. Serve on round pieces of toast.

Petes Lose the First Game to Western Winners

HAMILTON OSKIES WIN FIRST BATTLE OF THE SENIOR FINALS MAKING FOUR RUNS IN TWELFTH

Heckman is Shelled Out After Petes Get Away to a Flying Start.

FINAL SCORE 10 TO 6.

Hardill's Relief Pitching Features Exciting Extra Innings Fight.

(By F. D. C.)

The hard-hitting Hamilton Oskies, Western Ontario champions, got the jump in the final series for the Ontario title at James Stevenson Park yesterday, when they outscored the Petes 10 runs to 6 in a most exciting twelve innings battle.

It was one of those ball games that are full of "Ifs."

If the Petes had started Hardill instead of Heckman, or if they had been a little quicker in relieving the latter when the Oskie artillery opened fire on him in the second they would in all probability be going to Hamilton on Saturday with one game in the bag.

They would have won as it was if Hap Harrison hadn't stood on third base in the first and watched Jimmy Hall being thrown out in an attempted steal, instead of trotting in with a run.

On the other hand if the Hamilton crew hadn't mussed up an almost sure fire double play in the first inning, the Petes would have scored only two runs instead of six.

And there were other "ifs" as well.

But we had better tell you about it.

Manager Swanston's team got away to a great start, thanks to the balled up chance for a double already mentioned, following up the opening with three hits and scoring four runs in the initial frame.

And then Hamilton came right back in the second and hammered everything that Heckman tossed at them. Six hits and a walk with some help from a wild heave by Fred Ash gave them six runs before it was decided that it was not "Heck's" day and Hardill took over the pitching burden.

The big youngster, using a hook that was puzzling to the slugging Oskies retired the side without further scoring and for the next nine frames blanked the invaders, holding them to four hits from the third until the twelve. Hardill's curve was working beautifully and finely supported by his team mates he mowed down the Oskies inning after inning.

The Petes bunched hits by Swanston, Heckman and Ash to tie the score in the fifth but they could not get Hardill the extra run that meant victory and the teams battled on even terms until the break came in the twelfth. By that time Hardill had used so many curves that the tip of his finger was bleeding and his effectiveness was waning. The Oskie heavy-hitting crew, as they undoubtedly are, seized the opportunity and bunched four hits with an error to score four runs.

A Great Performance.

Hardill's performance was one of the highlights of the game. To shut out a fence-busting crew like Hamilton for more than the length of a regular game was an achievement that cannot be rated too highly and the youngster beyond a doubt would have turned in a victory if he had been chosen to start the battle.

Heckman had nothing with which to fool the visitors. His usual steam was missing and the Oskies stepped into his offerings with a vengeance in that disastrous second inning.

Heckman, however, did his bit at the plate, leading the Petes with a double and two singles in four official plate appearances and playing an important part in both of the homesters' scoring innings.

Manager Tuck of the Oskies called on Bert Gibb to do the heaving and after a bad start that made it look as if he would soon be watching the game from the bench the Hamilton ace levelled away and held the Petes to two runs in the next eleven innings. A smart pitcher this Mr. Gibb. He has a nice change of pace and always seems to have something in reserve for an emergency. There were a number of occasions when a hit would have meant defeat for him but he tightened up in the pinch and the safety was not forthcoming.

Some Great Fielding.

Outside of that one slip in the first frame he was magnificently supported. Sullivan, at second base, handled eight chances faultlessly and several of his plays cut off hits. Pilgrim, the centre fielder, covered acres of ground and his running one-handed catch of Ash's short fly in the twelfth was a gem. Scott, Broadbent and Elford also contributed fast plays.

The Petes too did some smart fielding. Holyman's work at short stop stood out and Rose and Johnston both turned in nice cards, while Jimmy Hall made a shoe string catch of a liner from Scott that saved a lot of trouble.

Here It All Is.

The Oskies went scoreless in the first frame, although Runion walked to start with and was sacrificed to second by Sullivan. Holyman went over to second and made a fine play on Languay's rap past the box and then retired the side by throwing out Broadbent.

The Petes got a break that looked as if it were going to put them setting on top of the world. Rose cracked the first ball into right for a single. Johnston bunted a fly to Gibb in trying to sacrifice. Swanston hit sharply to Broadbent, but with a double play in sight, the Oskie short stop threw past Sullivan, Rose going to third and Swanston to second. Heckman singled to right, scoring Rose. Ash beat out a roller down the third base line, Swanston running in. Harrison was hit, filling the bases. Jimmy Hall singled to right, scoring Heckman and Ash, and sending Harrison to third. Hall was out stealing second, Boyd to Broadbent, Harrison holding third. Jack Hall struck out. Four runs, four hits, one error.

Hamilton got them all back and a couple more in the second. Gibb started the assault with a single to centre. Scott singled past Rose and when Gibb tried for third Ash threw over Johnston's head, Gibb scoring and the batter going to third. Pilgrim cracked a double to left, scoring Scott. Elford singled to left, sending Pilgrim in. Boyd sacrificed. Runion drew a pass. Sullivan grounded out to Rose, the runners advancing a base. Languay's single to right was followed by a long double by Broadbent, the two hard raps chasing in three more counters. Heckman was taken out of the box, going to right field, Ash moving over to centre and Jack Hall to the bench. Hardill faced Gibb, up for the second time, and walked him, but Jimmy Hall made a sparkling catch of Scott's hard hit liner to left to end the swatfest. Six runs, six hits, one error.

In the Petes' half Holyman was thrown out by Sullivan. Rose was hit but Johnston hit into a double play via Gibb and Sullivan. He got none the best of the decision at first.

In the third, Pilgrim singled through short. Elford flied to Heckman. Boyd forced Pilgrim, Hardill to Rose, and was then caught stealing.

Gibb issued two passes in the Petes' half but the walks did not mean a thing. Swanston was thrown out by Scott. Heckman walked and after Ash had fouled to Boyd Harrison also drew a complimentary. Jimmy Hall fanned.

Holyman made a fast play to throw out Runion in the fourth. Sullivan fanned and Languay was tossed out by Hardill.

A perfectly good double was wasted by the Petes. Hardill led off with this profitless wallop, cracking one on a line to left. He went to third on Holyman's roller to Elford, but was an easy out at the plate when Rose hit to Broadbent. Johnston also rolled to the Oskie's short stop.

Hardill pitched himself out of a hole in the fifth. Broadbent started with a double down the left field foul line and Gibb beat out a little tap near the box. Scott was out on a roller to Harrison, Broadbent holding third. Pilgrim hit one back to Hardill, who threw to the plate although Broadbent made no attempt to score. That filled the bases but Hardill struck out Elford and then tossed out Boyd.

Petes Tie It Up.

The Petes tied the score in their half. Swanston started with a single through short and Heckman cracked a double down the right field foul line, sending Swanston to third. Ash scored the pair with a beautiful double to left centre. Gibb fanned Harrison, using a slow ball for the third one. Scott tossed out Jim Hall and Sullivan cut Hardill out of a hit with a starry stop of a hard hit ball near second.

For the next six innings the teams battled without a score.

Runion rolled to Rose in the sixth. Sullivan was thrown out by Johnston and Harrison took care of Languay's roller.

In the Petes' half Holyman flied to Languay, Rose lifted one to Pilgrim, and Johnston fanned.

Broadbent got a life in the seventh when Holyman tossed high to Harrison. Gibb flied to Jimmy Hall. Broadbent stole second but was left there when Swanston tossed out Scott and Pilgrim fanned.

Sullivan made another great stop and throw to rob Swanston of a hit. Heckman struck out, and Ash flied to Languay.

In the eighth Elford lofted one to Rose, Johnston threw out Boyd and Rose took care of Runion's grass-cutter.

Elford tore off a fine stop on Harrison's smash over first, Jimmy Hall popped to Sullivan, Hardill singled through short, but Holyman fanned.

Sullivan started the ninth by going out, Johnston to Harrison. Languay flied to Ash. Broadbent singled past third, and stole second, but Hardill struck out Gibb.

The Petes did nothing. Rose flied to Pilgrim, Johnston lined to Scott, who then made a running pick up of Swanston's roller.

In the tenth Holyman made a fine play on Scott's hard smash and an even better one on a slow one by Pilgrim. Heckman went back and gathered in Elford's long fly.

A Chance Lost.

The Petes had a great chance to win in their half. Heckman started with his third hit, a slashing single to left and Ash put him on second with a neat sacrifice. Harrison was hit. Neither Jimmy Hall nor Hardill could do anything to help the cause, Gibb showing nice stuff to fan the pair.

Boyd, first up in the eleventh, rolled to Holyman. Rose tossed out Runion and for the third time in succession Sullivan was thrown out by Johnston.

Holyman flied to Pilgrim. Rose singled through short, only to be forced by Johnston. Swanston fanned.

The Oskies broke up the game in the twelfth. Languay started the winning rally with a sharp single to right. Broadbent singled past Rose. Languay going to third and Broadbent taking second on the throw to the difficult corner. Gibb won his own game by singling over second, scoring Languay and Broadbent. Scott hit to Johnston, who threw wide to second where Gibb was safe. Pilgrim sacrificed and Elford made the issue sure by singling to left to score Gibb and Scott. Boyd rolled to Johnston and Runion to Holyman. Four runs, four hits, one error.

Heckman walked to begin the Petes' half but Pilgrim made a fine one-handed catch of Ash's good bid for a hit. Harrison also flied to Pilgrim and it was all over when Jimmy Hall rolled to Sullivan.

The Oskies came here with a reputation of being a hard-hitting crew. They are.

Broadbent and Gibb were the leading hitters for the visitors, getting exactly half of their team's safeties. Broadbent had four including two doubles, while Gibb had three singles. Heckman led the Petes with a double and two singles. He walked twice.

Ivan Miller, who pitched the Petes out of the championship in the memorable 1920 series with the Plowites, watched the game from the press box. Ivan thought that yesterday was the seventh anniversary of the great eleven innings game he lost here but he was wrong. That battle took place on October 9th.

The Petes should have had five runs in the first. With Harrison on third and Jimmy Hall on first, the latter tried to steal and was nipped, Harrison making no attempt to score. He could not have been thrown out on the play if he had gone in, and that run would have won the ball game without any overtime.

Harrison, however, had a field day at first base, accepting twenty-four chances in flawless fashion.

In spite of the big score all the tallying was confined to two innings for each team and both drew ten scoreless frames. The Petes had men on in every innings except the sixth, seventh and ninth, while the Oskies failed to reach first in five of the twelve frames.

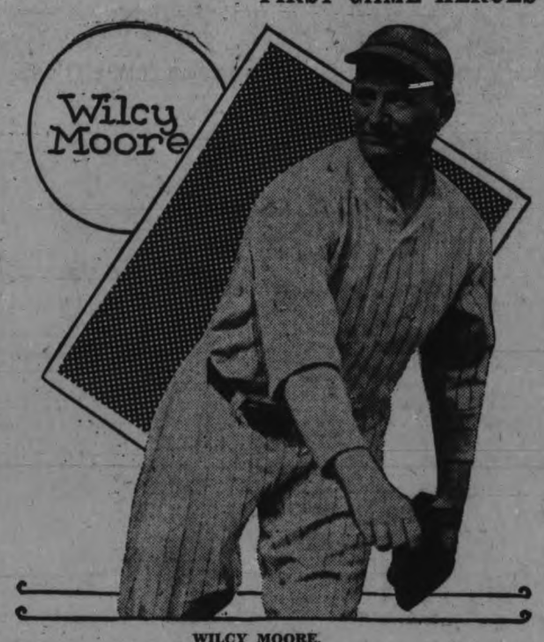
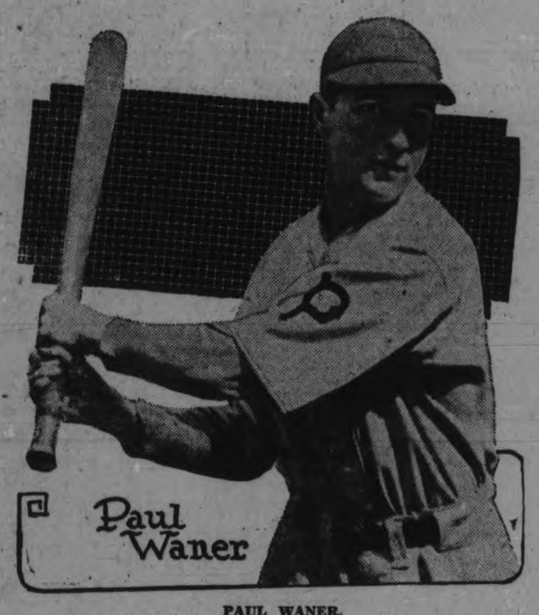
FIRST GAME HEROES IN WORLD SERIES



WILCY MOORE, champion relief hurler of American League, relieved Waite Hoyt in the seventh inning of the opening game.



PAUL WANER, the gallant Pirate outfielder, who did his best to bring victory to Pittsburgh, with three hits in the first World Series game.

"It Won't Be Long Now," Says Babe Ruth As Joy Pervades Yanks' Dressing Rooms

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

FORBES FIELD, Pittsburgh, Pa., October 6 (Associated Press). —The glee that comes of hard fought victory and the quiet tenseness of embattled defeat pervaded the players' dressing rooms yesterday after the Yankees pounded the Pirates into a 5 to 4 defeat in the first game of the World's Series.

"It won't be long now," boomed Babe Ruth as he stormed into the clubhouse swinging the bat that clouted three singles. Behind him clattered the rest of the Yankee tribe, shouting and shoving in an effort to reach the hot water first.

"Those Waners are a couple of good ball players," the heavyweight slugging king announced. "They sure popped a few out my way."

The Pirates dove behind locked doors as soon as the game was over. And when Donie Bush threw open the portals, his Buccaneers were a chastened and subdued gang of ball players. They talked barely above a whisper as their little manager dressed with never a look their way and hurried out of the clubhouse.

"It just wasn't Kremer's day, or we'd have won," Bush said. "He'll be right when he comes back. This will be a long series, and I'm not a bit worried. Other ball clubs have lost the opening game and come back to cop the championship."

Joe Harris, belting first baseman, was spokesman for the reticent Pirates, and displayed all the quiet confidence that pervaded the former swashbuckling crew.

"Any team that gets five runs on six hits is lucky, mighty lucky, and that sort of luck can't keep up. We had those heavy hitters stopped in their tracks. Aside from Ruth those sluggers only got three hits and Gehrig's triple was a rank fluke. Kremer will get better support next time, and he'll win. Anyway, Vic Aldridge is sure to count to-day, so we'll go to New York just where we started here."

Two Walks and as Many Errors Give Yanks Winning Lead.

HOYT RETIRED.

Pirates Outhit Rivals But Lose When Kremer Weakens in Third.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

FORBES FIELD, Pittsburgh, Pa., October 6 (Associated Press). — In a close and exciting but also loosely played battle that was considerably below the best standards of either team, the New York Yankees wrested a 5 to 4 victory from an erratic crew of Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday in the opening game of the 1927 World's Series.

A colourful crowd of close to 42,000, jamming Forbes Field to the edges came out to see a battle of Yankee siege guns and Pirate sharpshooters, but its expectations were completely upset. Instead, they saw Babe Ruth lead the Yankee attack with singles instead of home runs, watched the Pirate defence crack wide open in the third inning to permit the American League champions to gain a commanding lead, and witnessed the bombardment of the rival right-handed pitching aces, Waite Hoyt and Ray Kremer, into retirement.

The Pirates outhit the Yankees 9 to 6. They constantly threatened Hoyt and finally drove him from the box in the eighth inning, but game as was their uphill fight, the Corsairs lacked the punch to win after their own mistakes, plus Kremer's wildness, had virtually tossed away the game in the third inning.

Moore to the Rescue.

Wilcy Moore and his "sinkerball" came to the rescue in the eighth as Hoyt was fast weakening and checked what little remained of Pirate hope by retiring Earl Smith with runners on first and third.

There were two out in the eighth when Joe Harris drove in Glenn Wright with the fourth Pirate run, but Moore, big and ungainly, hitched his trousers, adjusted his cap, and tossed one that Smith spanked into Lou Gehrig's glove for the final out of the inning and the end of Pittsburgh's last scoring opportunity.

It was a bitter dose of defeat for the Pirates, though they had no one to blame but themselves. Their crack right-hander, Kremer, good in spots but not up to his usual steadiness, was knocked out in the sixth, after which John Miljus completely stopped the Yankees, holding them to a single hit in four innings. The famous Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, were mainsprings of the attack, sharing the day's batting spotlight with their equally well-known rivals, Ruth and Gehrig, but shakiness in the field during the early innings and costly errors by George Grantham and Earl Smith gave the Yanks opportunities they seized quickly.

The first Yankee run, in the opening inning, was manufactured out of a line single by Ruth and a flukey triple by Gehrig, and a short fly that Paul Waner handled badly by trying to catch, falling in the attempt while the ball rolled to rightfield fence.

Break in Third.

This was mild compared to the third inning gifts to the Yankees. Babe Ruth's single was the only hit by the New Yorkers in this frame, but Grantham's boot of Koenig's roller, walks to Gehrig and Muesel, and the latter with bases full, and a muff of a throw at the plate by Earl Smith enabled three runs to clatter across.

Ruth's bat was in the midst of every Yankee rally. The big fellow outguessed the Pirates and upset expectations by shortening his swing and deliberately placing his one-base drives, three of them, while the Pirate outfielders were backed up against the fences prepared for long shots. After scoring the first Yankee run personally and aiding in the Pirate debacle in the third, Ruth was finally retired, on a grounder to Harris, in the fifth, but this put Koenig, who had doubled, on third base, and in position to score a moment later on Gehrig's sacrifice fly. This was the last Yankee run, and, as it turned out, the winning margin, for Miljus, the big right-hander from Seattle, was invincible throughout the closing innings, striking out Combs, Muesel and Hoyt, while permitting only a single safe blow.

Although Paul Waner, perhaps too anxious, was uncertain in his handling of balls in the first and third innings, the elder of the "poison brothers" fully measured up to his reputation as the National League's champion batsman.

The Waner set functioned in the first when Lloyd, on base after being hit by Hoyt, scampered to third on Paul's double and scored on Wright's sacrifice fly. Kremer, doubling to start the third, scored on Paul Waner's second hit.

Raps Out Double

Lloyd Waner kept up the family good work in the fifth rapping out a double and scooting home on Barnhart's single, but Paul Waner's third successive safety was wasted when Wright and Trayner failed to come through in the pinch. This frame and the eighth, in which Wright brought over the final Pirate tally, witnessed the biggest of wasted Corsair opportunities.

With one down in the eighth Wright and Traynor singled in succession, sending Hoyt to the showers.

Moore was greeted by a sharp blow that Gehrig grabbed and threw to Koenig for a force out of Traynor. Harris scored Wright, but Smith was retired by Gehrig.

Pitching dope was upset when Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees sent in Moore to replace Hoyt. The Oklahoma "sinkerball" star had been slated to start to-day's second game. Instead, Huggins sprang another surprise by deciding to shoot his youthful right-hander, George Pipgras, who has had no previous series experience, at the Pirates to-day.

George won four straight games for the Yankees in the last month of the season to earn his spurs in this battle. He will be opposed by Vic Aldridge, the Hoosier schoolmaster.

Side Lights

(By Associated Press).

Both the Ruth-Gehrig and Waner acts went over big in the opening inning. Gehrig's triple that scored Ruth was a bit flukey, Paul Waner failing in his anxiety to make the catch as the ball rolled past him. "Big Poison," however, redeemed himself with a slashing double that put brother Lloyd on third in the Pirate half, from where he scored on Wright's sacrifice fly.

Kremer displayed more "stuff" than Hoyt at the start, but was wilder and had poor support. The big Californian, contrary to expectations, fed the Yankees curves and plenty of them, as long as he stayed. He had Gehrig and Lazerri both swinging at fast hooks. The Yanks, hitting at Kremer's first ball in the first inning, changed to waiting tactics in the second and third, getting three passes for their patience.

Lazzeri engineered a snappy double play that choked off the Pirates in the second inning but also nearly started a row. Tony dug Joe Harris' poke out of the dirt, tagged Grantham, running from first, and then threw to Gehrig, who made a one-hand pick-up to complete the play. Grantham and Lazzeri made a few menacing gestures before Umpire "Uncle Charley" Moran separated them.

Gehrig played a bang up game at first base. He dug 'em out of the dirt or speared 'em one-handed from every angle on throws, besides handling several hard hit balls, unassisted, for put-outs.

Nick Altrock and Al Schact, Washington comedians, put on a burlesque of the Dempsey-Tunney fight before the game. Nick, as the champion, took the "long count" in the seventh round after Al, as Dempsey, had battled with the referee in a neutral corner in an effort to get at the fallen foe. Nick tore around the ring like a sprinter after arising. At the finish, however, Al's hand was raised in victory, instead of Nick.

Babe Ruth was caught a "mile" off first base by Traynor's throw in the seventh inning after he had singled. It took only one relay, Harris to Wright to Harris to retire the Bambino.

Mark Koenig, Yankee shortstop, was shaken up and dazed when he was bumped by Traynor in a force play in the eighth inning. Gehrig had scooped up Grantham's smash and thrown to Koenig, who was knocked flat by the charging Pirate. Mark seemed all right, however, after regaining his breath.

TWINS VS. WANER ACT.

(By the Associated Press.)

Here's what the rival batting stars of Yankees and Pirates performed in the first world's series game:

Babe Ruth:

First inning: Hit first ball to right field for single.

Third inning: Singled to right.

Fifth inning: Grounded out to Grantham unassisted.

Eleventh inning: Lined a single to centre.

Lou Gehrig:

First inning: With count two and three, hit short fly to right which Paul Waner missed, and went for a three base hit.

Third inning: Passed intentionally to fill bases.

Fifth inning: Hit sacrifice fly to Paul Waner, scoring Koenig.

Eighth inning: Thrown out on a rap to Miljus.

Lloyd Waner:

First inning: Hit by pitched ball with count two and two.

Third inning: Flied out to Meusel.

Seventh inning: Thrown out on grounder to Lazzeri.

Ninth inning: Flied out to Combs.

Paul Waner:

First inning: Hit first ball to right field wall for double.

Third inning: Singled to centre.

Fifth inning: Singled off Hoyt's glove.

Eight inning: Flied out to Meusel.

Consecration Meeting Held in Hastings United Church.

HASTINGS, Oct. 6. —The Young People of the United church held their regular weekly League meeting on Monday night, with about fifty young and elderly people present.

Mrs. Alfred Metcalfe, first vice-president, took charge of the meeting, as it was a consecration meeting.

The League opened with a hymn, after which Mrs. Metcalfe led in prayer. The responsive lesson was read from the 19th Psalm. Another hymn was then sung. Several business matters were then dealt with, after which the following programme was given:

Vocal solo by Mrs. Malcolm Baker.

The topic was given by the Rev. Mr. Hie, followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Winnie Huycke.

Mrs. H. Orr gave a very interesting reading, after which a vocal solo was sung by Mr. Louis Drope. Hymn 279 was sung.

The meeting was then closed with prayer by Mrs. D. E. Scriver.

Charging that he strained a muscle while preaching, a California preacher has applied to the state industrial accident commission for compensation.

TOLEDO TAKES FOURTH VICTORY FROM BUFFALO

Jess Barnes, World Series Veteran, Holds Bisons For 3-2 Win.

NEED ONE GAME.

Mudhens Clout Two Triples in Hectic Innings to Win Game.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 6. — Jess Barnes a veteran of two world's series, pitched Toledo to another victory over Buffalo, 3 to 2 in the junior baseball classic yesterday, giving the American Association champions a lead over Buffalo of four games out of five for the Class "AA" title.

With his support wobbling at critical moments Barnes pitched himself out of tight places. He struck out the last man at bat, Anderson, a pinch hitter, with runners waiting on second and third to score. Lee Mangum the Buffalo twirler, also pitched good ball except for one hectic inning when two triples brought victory to the Mudhens.

Beco Lebourveau, who reports to Connie Mack's Athletics next spring led off the third inning with a three bagger. Freddy Maguire who also goes to the Cubs next year, sent Lebourveau over with a sacrifice fly. Bill Marriott delivered another triple and Bobby Beach sacrificed him home with the run that proved the margin of victory.

Needing only one more victory the Mudhens last night cast eager eyes on the players' pool of the series gate receipts, which includes the first five games just finished. The winning club members will receive between $1100 and $1200 apiece and the losers about $750 each.

If to-day's game here does not decide the series, the team will return to Buffalo and resume the conflict there Saturday.

The Bisons' chances received a severe blow yesterday when Bill Huber twisted his ankle sliding into second base.

Dr. Frank Clifford the Toledo club's physician, said that he would take an -ray photo last night but believed that there was a broken bone. Huber was carried off the field, and Eddie Taylor took his place.

FIVE-YEAR TERM GIVEN MOTORIST

Hamilton Man Pleads Guilty of Causing Woman's Death.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Justice Logie at the Assizes yesterday sentenced John Terry to Portsmouth Penitentiary for five years. Terry pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Pauline Marcks, who was struck and dragged a considerable distance by Terry's automobile near Hughson and Barton streets on Aug. 6 last.

Terry threw himself on the mercy of the Court. On the night of the accident he had drunk only two glasses of wine, he said. He was 44 years of age, was married and had five children. His wife is at present ill in the General Hospital. Terry had always borne a good record, and served overseas for four years.

Justice Logie said the problem of the drunken driver of an automobile was a serious one. The life of a woman had been lost as a result of gross carelessness, and it devolved upon the courts to impose severe punishment for such offenses, in the hope that this would serve as a warning to others and thus prevent the recurrence of such crimes.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Cremolusion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MARTIN LAYS CORNER STONE

Minister of Agriculture Officiates at Belleville Ceremony.

$600,000 COLLEGIATE.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 6.— Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, laid the corner stone of Belleville's $600,000 collegiate and vocational school yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of citizens, members of the Board of Education and the City Council and the students of the school.

John Elliott, Chairman of the Board of Education, presided, Bishop Seager, late Provost of Trinity College, Toronto, offered the invocation prayer and spoke briefly. The trowel was then presented to Mr. Martin by W. Jeffers Diamond, who, though 88 years of age, still officiates as Secretary-Treasurer of the board.

In his address Mr. Martin referred to the ancient ceremony enacted, symbolical of the solid foundation such institutions as the Belleville Collegiate were supposed to possess. Provision had been made for expansion in the erection of the new school. He congratulated the city on its efforts to advance education. Canada in this year of jubilee, he said, had shown all the elements of greatness, but none of them were greater than the child life, which in such institutions as the collegiate would receive adequate training for the place they shall later fill in life. He placed good home training ahead of the school, and instruction in the schools next. He said that Ontario's educational system was not perfect, but it was a sincere effort to give the boy and girl opportunity for the best development.

The collegiate and vocational school will contain three storeys, and a basement. The building will be 232 feet by 161 feet. In the basement are gymnasiums for boys and girls, shooting gallery and store rooms. The ground floor will contain executive offices, the upper part of the gymnasium, teachers' rooms, carpenter and motor mechanic shops, and six class rooms. On the first floor will be an auditorium and stage, and fourteen class rooms. The second floor contains class rooms, laboratories with preparation room for academic and educational work, household science, dress-making, millinery, draughting and art rooms, as well as cafeteria and lunch rooms. The system of ventilation is the gravity system. The boilers have a capacity of 36,000 feet. The construction is of concrete, brick and steel. Corridors are to be finished with terrazza. The outer facing to the ground floor level will be of Superior stone, and above this clear red Don Valley tapestry brick. The building will be completed by next summer.

A boa constrictor in the New York zoo is 26 feet, 6 inches long, and is fed once a month. But it eats $8 worth at a time.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

Ken Maynard is one Western film star who uses no doubles, and for two very simple reasons. The first is that he doesn't want any and is proud in that no doubles can be found to undertake to duplicate the death defying stunts which the star of "The Land Beyond the Law," the First National Western now playing at the Regent Theatre, does himself.

Apropos, Ken believes with Charles R. Rogers, producer of the Maynard pictures, that only the best of players should be selected for the supporting cast, which accounts for the appearance of such famous riders as Tom Santschi, Noah Young ,and Gibson Gowland in "The Land Beyond the Law."

It is Ken's contention that when an exceptionally good Western acter is engaged in the supporting cast it puts him on his mettle. He is always willing to learn new stunts from the other fellow and generally ends up by becoming more proficient than his teacher.

Between scenes during the making of "The Land Beyond the Law" one could find Ken and the boys swapping stunts. At this hazardous game Ken hasn't been stumped yet, it is reported. Having been the star trick rider of "the greatest show on earth," Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey's Circus, for many years, Ken can hold his own with the best of them.

AT THE CAPITOL.

DENNY AND ALL-STAR CAST IN FUN MOVIE "FAST AND FURIOUS."

"Fast and Furious," Universal's picturization of Reginald Denny's original story, has been booked for its first local showing by the Capitol Theatre starting to-day.

Embracing an all-star cast and directed by Mel Brown, one of Universal's younger directorial aces, the picture will add another host of admirers to the already large legion of Denny's film fans.

Claude Gillingwater, who has played character roles on the dramatic boards for years and who has worked in pictures for the last decade or more, is cast in one of the leading parts in this typical Denny starring vehicle.

Barbara Worth, whom motion picture critics have acclaimed as the screen find of the year and who has been forging ahead by leaps and bounds since her advent in Hollywood via the extra girl route, plays the leading feminine role opposite Denny, while other members of the cast are Armand Kaliz, Lee Moran, Chas. K. French, Wilson Benge and Edgar Norton.

"Fast and Furious" is the story of a speed maniac who finally meets his Waterloo when he finds himself flat on his back amidst the wreckage of his space-annihilator, gazing up into the baby blue eyes of the only girl in the world, thereby not only losing the race but also his heart.

There isn't a dull moment in the picture, it starts with a whiz and ends with a bang.

In addition to the feature picture, an "Our Gang" comedy and the usual entertaining short subjects, the auditorium orthophonic victrola continues to be a special drawing card, with a complete change of programme for the last half of the week.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in the United States was at Miles City, Mont. It was 65 degrees below zero.

SHY YOUNG MEN WORRY PARENTS

Leave Farm For First Time in Ten Years—Missing Two Weeks.

BRANDON Oct. 6. — Anxious parents and the Provincial police are making inquiries throughout the province concerning the disappearance of three brothers who for the past ten years had never left the environs of their small farm, four miles north of Foxwarren, Manitoba. They were reported to be so shy that they were even reluctant to mix with their own people. The brothers were known to be highly eccentric, and had not cut their hair during their self-imposed exile.

Now they have been missing from the farm since September 22. Their disappearance has alarmed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lowe, who informed the police that the brothers had carried a sum of money, the proceeds of a recent sale of furs. The ages of the trio are 23, 25 and 27, respectively.

RUGBY NOTES

The Junior Rugby team is practising every night this week putting the final touches on for Saturday's game with Oshawa. In the absence of Max Sloan, Jack Deannard has been putting the squad through its paces and with a few exhibition games under their belts the boys should be in fine condition when they meet Penetang in their first scheduled game.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE.

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the Garden City tennis tournament. A poetical, queerly spirtual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living, that Mary might be a lady. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary becomes acquainted with Wally Mason, a young reporter who is covering the matches. Wally and Mary find they have much in common. Mary keeps house for her brothers, David and Robert. David, the family support, hopes Mary will get safely married.

CHAPTER II.—Continued

"You're spilling ashes, Davie boy," said Mary, and continued sweetly, "Typewriters, and filing cabinets, and—say—tennis balls are women's refuge nowadays!"

"Rot! Where's love?"

Flippantly, from Mary, "There ain't no sich thing, big brother!"

"You mean to say," David almost choked, "you mean to say—"

"Exactly. I mean to say, and do say, there is no such thing as love." Mary grew quite fierce and pushed her shining fringe of hair from the smoothness of her forehead. "You hear? There isn't! There's the marriage of convenience, the marriage of passion, and the one in which woman's maternal instinct holds full sway. But love? Rot. And anyway, Dave, what is love?"

"I could give you a good one and define it in Elinor Glyn's far-famed blurb," David grinned. "She says it's the physical emotion of the soul." David grew thoughtful, and sucked at his pipe, making a little plurp-plurp of noise. "Rather good, I think, that. Don't you?"

"Physical emotion—physical emotion! You hear nothing else these days." Mary grew tense and directed her full gaze upon her brother.

"Let me do the dinner dishes, young Robert volunteered.

narrowing her green eyes a bit and hiding their mistiness with the directness and earnestness which she shot through them. "I'm rather fed up on this physical emotion and all the rest of that rot. I shall play safe with all of it, and it won't get me, ever!" The sureness of that "ever." "It won't get me, you wait and see. I'll not have time to go about seeking the physical emotion of anything—and if you don't seek you won't find—doesn't the good book say?" grinning wickedly. And she continued, "And Davie, I've it all figured out. The maternal instinct won't get me."

"No?" asked David.

"No. I just don't possess it." Mary actually looked triumphant. "There won't be this yearning some women have to mother a man. To trail him to his grave with a muffler for his throat and rubbers for his feet. I've no sympathy for them. Not any. And, Davie, convenience will have nothing to do with it, for I expect to make enough at my profession to stand on my own feet, and stand firmly."

"Yes?" said David, and his pipe made the thoughtful little noise as he drew on it.

"Yes. So you see, there's passion—out." Firmly, with a movement of one hand as if to ward off that ogre. "No time for it. The marriage of sympathy is out, because I've no maternal instinct. And there'll be no need of money. So why should I marry, ever?"

"Because of love, Mary," said David mildly, and retreated as Mary came toward him, stepping softly as did Patch when she went hunting of an evening. Thus their argument, and David's consequent fear for Mary. Fear? Discomfort, rather. An internal itching. "She'll fall and hurt her nose," he thought uncomfortably, and wished that he might take the fall for her. "I shall tread the clouds," Mary insisted, "alone and unaided. I shall walk the high places of the earth unencumbered. And I will do it alone." Well, David knew these high places. "One catches one's heel, Mary." "Pish tosh!" said Mary. "I shall wear white rubber tennis shoes!" and rumpled his hair.

Young Robert was drawn to the kitchen by the odors that drifted forth to his small freckled nose. "I gave Patch that bone you had in your coat pocket, Dave."

"Kind of you," said David. Robert looked up suspiciously. "Well," he defended himself, "Patch was almost in your pocket cause she smelled the bone, and I thought if you didn't want her to break your tea bottle I'd better get the bone for her, because we can't get you another tea bottle."

Mary tied an apron about young Robert's neck, and David watched, while his eyes smiled. "Robert, never mind Patch, dear. Do eat." No. Mary possessed none of the maternal.

"Dave, we've almost enough for a thermos bottle for you so that you won't need to drag that whisky can about with you."

David leaned back in his chair and laughed. "Say! Here's a corker," and explained. It seems that Murphy, having seen Dave with the comfortably filled bottle of yellow liquid, and under the assumption that the bottle contained liquor, had sneaked up to Dave's coat, opened the bottle and taken a hearty swallow.

"It all came up, Mary!" Dave rocked. "And Lord, you should have seen his face!"

"Darn good tea," said Mary, "even if I do say so as shouldn't."

Well, it seems that the boys had seen Dave drinking the stuff all by his lonely, day after day, and had put him down for a tightwad—with the stuff so scarce, Murphy had winked.

"Ho, ho!" Young Robert choked and had to be smartly tapped on the back. "I think that's funny," he explained mildly, with face red. "Which simply proves," continued Mary, "that for the honor of the old family name we shall simply have to get that thermos flask for you."

"Goodbye, Davie dear." And David left, with the whisky bottle filled anew for the evening meal, for which he wouldn't be home.

"Dinner dishes, Robert," said Mary, and looked wistful. "Robert, have you ever felt the urge to live nobly, beautifully? I have, young Robert. It hurts, like a pain. And Robert somehow, try as I will, and do, Robert," firmly, "think not for an instant I do not try, but—somehow I cannot include dinner dishes in my category of the beautiful."

Young Robert was Lancelot again, and Elaine was wistful about the dinner dishes. Lancelot on a dashing white charger, with his rapier-hilt agleam in the flood of the sun. Elaine the fair, Elaine the lily-white, with hair of gold, somehow, that swung against her tanned cheeks in the manner of Mary.

"Let me do the dinner dishes, let me!" young Robert earnestly volunteered, while Mary looked at him with the mists in her eyes. "Oh, Rob, darling, are you playing Lancelot again? Tell me!"

"I am Lancelot, Mary, and Galahad, and King Arthur, too, and all of them!" he burst forth, stirred by this avalanche of virtue that cascaded into his small breast with memories of the Knights.

Mary regarded her small brother. "Darling!" fervently. "Would that I were so noble." Grandly, "Here, you may dry them!"

A pretty picture, thought Mary, Lancelot-Galahad-King Arthur and Elaine, washing and drying the dinner dishes. Did they have dinner dishes then, and who washed them? The valet probably. "What, ho! Valet, we are through with the dinner dishes!" Or the scullery maid. The little scullery maid ventured timidly in, fearsome in the presence of the gleaming gold and sparkle of—what sparkled? The armor of the knights. But the little scullery maid saw so little of sparkle of any sort, and did not know that they wore armor, and were the Lords of the universe, and cocks of the walk, and ate their truffled turkey (what, idly wondered Mary, was truffled turkey?) with no thought of who was to wash the gold plate. She did not know any of this, being a little scullery maid, and shuffled back to the ashes on the hearth, thinking the ashes her rightful heritage, as the gold plate and the gleaming armor, and the truffled turkey, was that of the knights. Quite content with the ashes was the little scullery maid, content with their warmth because she knew not of the warmth of the big fire in the hall, the fire with no ashes, that shot singing and lusty sparks up through the flue of the chimney. Content with ashes because she knew no better. Poor little scullery maid.

Robert vanished through the screen door to find Patch, and Mary was alone.

"Tennis?" she wondered, and then, thoughtfully, "No."

She went out on the porch and sat on the broad balustrade that ran past the front of the little green house. Sat with head leaning against the post and ankles crossed, and idly thought of various things, and of no one thing in particular. Her thoughts a misty haze like the foam of the gnats beneath the chestnut tree out on the walk.

INSPECTOR PRAISES APSLEY HOSPITAL

Dr. Routley, of Ontario Red Cross, Gives Address While in Village.

APSLEY, Oct. 6.—Dr. Routley, Secretary of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, accompanied by Miss Wilkinson, Assistant Director, on a tour of inspection of Outpost Hospitals, visited Apsley on Tuesday. The doctor was very much pleased with the Apsley Outpost Hospital, and the proposed installation of a waterworks system and bathroom. He gave a most interesting address in the evening in the Parish Hall to a large audience, dealing with the work of the Red Cross Society. The chairman was the Rev. C. A. G. Spence, who introduced the speaker. At the conclusion of the address Reeve Brown proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Routley. A social hour was afterwards spent in dancing, the ladies providing refreshments.

Dr. Routley and Miss Wilkinson left next morning for Coe Hill where a Red Cross hospital is being established with seven beds.

Potatoes are turning out a good crop around Apsley, some enormous tubers being harvested. So far Tom Tanner seems to have produced the largest one, an Irish Cobbler, weighing three pounds and a half.

The A.Y.P.A. opened the season on Saturday with a fowl supper in the Parish Hall, which was a great success, about sixty being present. After supper an enjoyable hour was spent in dancing.

To commemorate the jubilee of St. Stephen's (Anglican) Church, Chandos, a bell will be installed. The bell is a gift from the C.N.R., granted on the application being very kindly recommended by the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., whose interest is much appreciated by the congregation.

BIG GAME SEASON IN ONTARIO EARLIER THIS YEAR.

Announcement that the Ontario Government has authorized open season for deer and moose to commence earlier this year will be well received by sportsmen in general. South of the French and Mattawa Rivers, season this year for moose and deer will be from November 1st to Nov. 30th—this is four days earlier and two weeks longer than has been the case for several years past. North and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers season open Oct. 10 and closes Nov. 30.

Reports indicate that big game is plentiful this season in the great hunting districts located along the line of the Canadian Pacific and a heavy influx of sportsmen is anticipated. As in past season special train service for hunters is being arranged by the Canadian Pacific and printed leaflets giving full details will be available shortly from the Company's agents. Consult nearest Canadian Pacific agent regarding your hunting trip and ask him to place your name on file so that Hunters Pamphlet may be sent you immediately they are ready for distribution.

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE — CCCX—Science in the World War—LVIII Germany's Super-Gun. — by MAX HAHN

GERMANY'S SUPER-GUN WAS ONE OF THE SENSATIONS OF THE WORLD WAR. WHEN BIG BERTHA BEGAN TO SHELL PARIS ON MARCH 23, 1918, THE PARISIANS SUPPOSED THEY WERE THE TARGET OF AN AIRPLANE FLYING SO HIGH THAT IT WAS INVISIBLE.

THIS DIAGRAM TRACES THE COURSE OF A BIG BERTHA SHELL FROM THE HILLY ROAD BETWEEN LAON AND LA FERE TO ITS TARGET NEAR EIFFEL TOWER. ON PART OF ITS 75-MILE JOURNEY THE SHELL IS ESTIMATED TO HAVE SEEN 24 MILES ABOVE GROUND.

ALTHOUGH BIG BERTHA SHELLS TERRORIZED PARISIANS, SO THAT SOME FLED FROM THE CITY, THE SHELLS IN FACT INFLICTED LESS DAMAGE THAN THE GERMAN AIR RAIDS.

ARTILLERY EXPERTS FIGURE THAT BIG BERTHA'S SHELLS WERE TRAVELING 3,400 MILES AN HOUR WHEN THEY LEFT THE MUZZLE. IN OTHER WORDS, THE SHELL WAS TRAVELING FAST ENOUGH TO GO AROUND THE WORLD IN ABOUT SEVEN HOURS.

DUNLOP RACE IS CALLED OFF

Change in Traffic Conditions Makes Bicycle Races Dangerous.

RUN FOR 33 YEARS.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—The many admirers of the sport of bicycle racing will regret to learn that what would have been the thirty-fourth consecutive running of the Dunlop Trophy bicycle race will not take place. The big grind is usually set for the first or second week in October, but an announcement by the management of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company definitely states that the Dunlop Trophy race has been permanently discontinued. The great inconvenience to the public is the reason given.

The Dunlop Trophy race was so well established that it had become a tradition among sporting events. It had been a feature in the sporting calendar every year since 1894. The first race was held on Sept. 29 in that year, over a course starting at Woodbine Park, 7½ miles out the Kingston Road and return, and 5 miles around the Woodbine race course.

Conditions of traffic have changed greatly since the first Dunlop bicycle race was held 33 years ago. Before the automobile came to be so generally used a group of bicycle riders could travel at racing speed among the horse-drawn vehicles on the highways without disturbing the normal run of traffic. A trained bicyclist generally can pass and outdistance the fleetest horse on the road. But an automobile virtually can double the speed of a fast rider on a bicycle without exceeding the new limit of speed in Ontario on the open highway. This is the difficulty which the promoters of the Dunlop bicycle race have had to face in an ever-increasing degree, especially during the past ten years. In mapping a course for a road race they have had to give first thought to the convenience of motorists and pedestrians besides the safety of the bicyclists themselves. After thoroughly considering the matter from all angles, the management of the Dunlop Company has decided to definitely call the Dunlop Trophy race off.

WAREHOUSE FOR SALE.

Pursuant to the powers of Sale, contained in a certain Mortgage which will be produced at any time for inspection, Tenders will be received by the undersigned up till 4 p.m., Saturday, the 15th of October, 1927, for the purchase of the southerly 100 feet from front to rear of Lot No. 10, south of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, in the City of Peterborough, accompanied by a marked cheque for 10% of the amount of the Tender, payable to the order of M. PLANE AT SANTA CRUZ.

Junkers Craft Waiting Lifting of Fog For the Take-off.

SANTA CRUZ, Portugal, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press). — The Junkers hydroplane D-123L, which is en route to the United States from Germany by way of the Azores, today was riding at anchor at the nearby bathing station, after having been forced down by fog last night. Lilli Dilenz, the Viennese actress, who has been a passenger aboard the plane since it left Norderney, Germany, on Tuesday, refused to come ashore and spent the night in the plane with the crew. The plane is awaiting for the fog to lift in order to continue the flight to Lisbon.

The upraised arm of the Statue of Liberty is 42 feet long.

About one-third of the wells drilled for oil turn out to be dry.

Development of radio telephony on German railroads has reached the point where passengers may go to the telephone booth aboard a moving train, drop a coin in the slot and be connected with any party as though by wire.

POLICE ENFORCE VEHICLE LIGHTING

All Horse Drawn Conveyances Must Comply With New Law.

The police of this city have given all persons driving horse drawn vehicles seven days of grace to get the lights on their vehicles, and from now on all who have not met the requirements of the law in the country or city will be brought before the magistrate. The law came into effect on October 1 and it calls for the carrying of a light on all horse-drawn vehicles. The light must show white in front and red to the rear.

GENERAL SENTENCED.

Commander of Mexico City Regiment To Die For Rebellion.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—In the corner of the big square, steeped in darkness, where the ancient and historical Santiago military prison stands a futile legal battle was waged for eight hours today to save the life of General Alfredo Ruedo Quijano, Commander of the 26th Cavalry Regiment, charged with leading his command in rebellion.

The attorneys for prosecution and defence fought one another to sway the sentiments of the five stern-faced and aged generals of the court martial, but the prosecution was victor and the court returned a verdict of guilty. The sword of the law fell on the man who marched boldly into the hall at the beginning of his court-martial and after eight hours of ruthless cross-examination left orders for his execution.

PRESENTATION TO COTTESLOE FAMILY

Mrs. James Miles and Children Are Leaving the District.

WARSAW, Oct. 6.— A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. James Miles, Cottesloe, on Wednesday evening, when about 40 of their friends and neighbors gathered to bid them farewell before their departure for their new home in Otonabee.

Later in the evening Mrs. Miles, John and Gordon were presented with an address and two beautiful reed chairs. The address was as follows: Mrs. Miles, John and Gordon:

Dear Friends,—We, the people of Cottesloe community, were sorry to learn of your departure from this, the neighborhood in which you have lived so long. You have been one with us in our joys and sorrows for a number of years, and we always knew where to turn for sympathy and help in time of need. Yours was the 'open door,' the 'ready hand' and we shall miss you more than you will ever know, but our loss will be a gain to the community to which you are going and we are thankful that it is not so far but we can go and and you can come to continue our social intercourse.

We could not let you go without expressing in tangible form our appreciation of your worth and we ask you to accept these chairs, not for their value, but as a slight token of remembrance from the friends and neighbors of Cottesloe, who one and all wish you and yours many years of happiness in your new home.

Signed—E. N. McDonald.
A. Webster.

Mrs. Miles replied in fitting terms and thanked all for their kindness and inviting all to her home home.

Everyone joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," after which the ladies served lunch.

Used Only 3 Fingers; Masseuse Fined $100

BROCTON, Mass., October 6 (United Press). — Miss Ethel Edgar paid a $100 fine yesterday because she had used only three fingers of one hand in massaging State Detective Frank K. Sanborn of Boston.

Under the Massachusetts State laws Miss Edgar should have used all fingers of both hands in treating the detective for a cold. In using only three fingers, she employed methods of a chiropractor.

WILSON'S DIARY OF WAR YEARS IS SENSATIONAL

Field Marshal Arraigns Politicians For Ignorance of War.

KITCHENER CONDEMNED.

Premiers Looked For Laurels When They Thought Victory Impossible.

LONDON, Oct. 6 (United Press).—Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson's diary, even though some passages had to be eliminated because they were too strong, has caused a day's sensation in London.

His indictment of politicians' ignorance of war and his particularly severe condemnation of the late Lord Kitchener are causing very lively discussion and few books in recent years have obtained such publicity.

The book describes the Cabinet sitting at the beginning of the war with the Ministers wanting to send troops to the most unlikely places and one Minister thinking Liege was in Holland.

Sir Henry also relates how Clemenceau once told him that Lloyd George was "a fool." Another passage refers to "Kitchener's nonsense," while in another Churchill is called "a gun in a crisis."

The author describes the late President Woodrow Wilson as "my cousin, that ass Wilson," and proceeds to pour contempt on him. On one occasion Sir Henry Wrote as follows: "The Cabinet is frightened and Kitchener is frightened. The Cabinet is ignorant and Kitchener is ignorant. No one knows what to do."

In another place Sir Henry declares that in July, 1915, Lloyd George "thought we were going to be beaten." After this he describes a remarkable meeting of the Cabinet in August, 1918, when "practically all the Premiers, Lloyd George, Borden, Hughes—but not so much—Smuts, Massey, and Milner, being of the opinion that we cannot beat the Germans on the western front, go wandering about looking for laurels. Hughes sees clearer than the others, and sees that we must beat the Boche army if we want real peace."

According to the author, Birkenhead and Lloyd George wanted to shoot the Kaiser but Churchill was opposed to it.

LEGION NOTES

Members of the Canadian Legion and all ex-service men are reminded of the mass meeting for men to be held in the Grand Opera House to-night, when the Right Reverend Bishop Taylor-Smith, D.D., K.C.B., C.V.O., will give an address which will be of special interest to all returned soldiers.

The officers of the local branch of the Canadian Legion cordially invite all ex-service men to parade at the Legion Headquarters, Murray street, to-night at 7.30, and march as a unit to the Grand Opera House, where special accommodation has been provided. All are requested to wear their decorations on their coats.

After the meeting at the Opera House Bishop Taylor-Smith will be the guest of the officers and members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion and all ex-service men are especially invited to be present. An inspection of the hall will be made, after which coffee will be served.

Appreciation of the visit of this distinguished comrade can best be shown, the officers of the legion believe, by a large turnout of ex-service men. As head of that noble corps of chaplains whose services were at all times and in many ways freely given and thankfully received, he will be a welcome guest of the men who served overseas.

VOL. LX., No. 82 — PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1927 — PRICE THREE CENTS

EDUCATION HAS BROADENED OUT SAYS SPEAKER

People Have More Time For Study Than in Pioneer Days.

NEED BETTER TRAINING.

School Curriculums Have Progressed From the "Three R's" of Old Time.

At the evening session of the Teachers' Convention on Thursday, A. Mowat, B.A., presided.

Miss Dickson, one of the teachers of the city, gave, in excellent voice, two much appreciated solos. She possesses a beautiful lyric soprano voice. Miss Agnes Logan ably accompanied her.

H. G. Lockett, M.A., gave an address on 'The Forward Movement in Education."

People take more interest in education than formerly. The subject is more advertised from the public platform. Premier Ferguson has advocated many things that have not been altogether popular, such as township boards, extension of the High school curriculum, and the Normal school course. There is now a change in national life. People have more time for school and study as pioneer life is past. There is more leisure time amongst young people. This time should be spent in recreation, in self-improvement, and in service for others.

Compulsory education is now extended. A democracy requires an educated pepole. Anarchy results where ucated people. Anarchy results where Russia. The Adolescent Act extended the time spent at school. This made High school classes larger, and necessitated the starting of special classes. This brought on technical education prominent in many of our cities.

Why should the State educate the child? The child seems to belong to the State. The State takes care of him if he becomes a criminal. It seems right that it should also train the child for good citizenship. Teachers are trained at Normal schools without cost to themselves. The government pays practicaly the whole cost.

Mr. Lockett thought that there should be schdlarships for each town where those best fitted for education could get it. There are too many misfits at colleges and other schools.

There should be opportunities for people past the adolescent age. The working men ought to have a chance to advance their education. Adult education is important in some Ontario cities. The cost of this education is large but it advances citizenship. University work is now carried on outside of the walls by means of lecturers. Summer school work gives the atmosphere of the university.

"Education is what you have left after you have forgotten all you learned at school" is a definition given once by Principal Taylor, of Queen's.

Teachers' cars go through the northern parts of Ontario and give the isolated districts some chance in education.

The character of education has changed. At one time the three R's made up the curriculum. These were the bare essentials suited for those whose school life was short. Education must advance as life advances. If life is more complex, then education must be. Tabulated results of examinations are a poor gauge of education. What was considered a fad once is now a necessity. Household science, for example, was at first regarded as the former.

A sound body is needed. This means that physical education must be stressed. Girls should be organized for sports as well as boys, although this does not seem to be the case. Practical work in hygiene is necessary.

An important idea is to give the pupils the ability to get information. Pupils should desire to go on with

ROSENEATH FAIR IS NEXT WEEK

Many People From Peterborough District Attend Every Year.

GOOD PRIZES

Roseneath Fair, which is being held this year on Thursday and Friday next, October 13th and 14th, is one of the best small district fairs in Northumberland County.

Great pains are taken by the directors of this fair to not only take care of agricultural exhibits, for which attractive prizes are offered, but also for the entertainment of the many visitors who attend.

It has been the habit of many people from Peterborough and district here, especially if the weather is fine to take in the Roseneath Fair, and this year will be no exception.

Admission to the Fair is 35c, vehicles 25c, children 25c.

A big crowd is expected.

Tell of Massacre In Solomon Islands

SOUVA, Fiji Islands, October 7 (Associated Press). — A tale of wholesale murder in the Solomon Islands ,some of the victims being white men and British officials, reached here yesterday.

The British High Commissioner for the Western Pacific received a wireless from Tulagi, Solomon Islands, saying that a trader had arrived there aboard the British steamer Auk, and reported that District Commissioner Bell, Cadet Lillies, 15 native police, and the crew of the vessel had been murdered by natives at Sinarago, on the northwest coast of Malaita Island at a date unmentioned.

FLIERS MAKE SAFE LANDING

German Junkers Plane Arrives at Naval Station at Lisbon.

WOMAN ABOARD.

LISBON, Oct. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Lilli Dillenz, noted Austrian actress who is a passenger on the air voyage of the Junkers hydro-aeroplane D-1230 and stuck by the ship when it dropped into the sea off Santa Cruz, said last night that she 'was charmed' with the flight thus far and means to be the first woman to cross the Atlantic.

The D-1230 was towed yesterday to the entrance of the Bay of Tagus and then flew to the naval aviation camp here. Pilots and passenger were in good spirits and unhurt. Mme. Dillenz said she was longing to see New York and undertook the journey from sheer love of flying. She also wanted to bring the name of Austria again before the world.

Weather permitting the Junkers plane will start for the Azores today, bound for Harbor Grace, Nfld., and thence to New York.

BROKERS APPEAR IN TORONTO COURT

Two Face Charges of Conspiracy—One Charged With Gambling.

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press). — Charged with conspiracy, two Montreal stock brokers, James Ball and Charles Meikle, appear in Police Court today. They had been brought from Montreal by Ontario Provincial Police officers yesterday, and held without bail. Charges were laid in connection with the sale of shares of the Eastern Metal and Smelting Company, an Ontario concern located in Hastings County.

Charges of gambling on the stock market are faced by Irving Isbell, also of Montreal, who was brought to Toronto today by Provincial Police officers. Isbell left for Toronto in custody last night after an automobile trip from Montreal to St. Anne de Bellevue, by which move the party eluded the Montreal lawyers seeking Isbell with a writ of habeas corpus.

FORMER OFFICERS VISIT LOCAL CORPS

Col. and Mrs. McAmmon Were Among the First S. A. Leaders Here.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. McAmmond, of Hamilton, Ont., are re-visiting the city to-day after an absence of some twenty years. They were among the first Salvation Army officers who have been in charge of Salvation Army activities in the city. They are warmly welcomed by old-time Salvationists, as well as citizens to whom they are well known.

Colonel McAmmond is in the city to conduct the wedding of Captains Youngs and Renshaw, Peterboro young people, in the Salvation Army Temple this evening.

Brigadier Fred R. Bloss, the Toronto East Divisional Commander, is also in the city for the purpose of the annual audit and inspection of the Salvation Army work.

The Brigadier presided over the annual census meeting last evening. Commandant Frank Ham, Treasurer Cunningham ,Secretary Leggott, Young People's Sergt.-Major R. C. Braund, Bandmaster Frank Robinson, Corps Cadet Guardian Mrs. Lang, members of the Corps Census Board, were also present.

BABY DROWNED.

Clayton Meelick, 2, Falls Into Nith River at Brantford.

BRANTFORD Oct. 7. Canadian Press. — Clayton Meelick, two years old, was drowned in the Nith River yesterday, when he wandered away from home and fell into the water.

TEACHERS HOLD CONVENTION AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Reports Read of Delegates to Ontario Educational Association Convention.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Many Suggestions of Interest Made for Betterment of Schools.

The Teachers' Convention this year took a different form from the usual mode. Many teachers from the inspectorates of Messrs. Lees, Downey and Mowat went on a trip to Ottawa to visit the schools there and view other things of interest in the capital city. The remainder of the teachers are meeting in a sort of combined convention here.

The sessions are being held at the Normal school. Mr. C. A. Smith, of Lindsay, presided yesterday morning.

Mr. A. Mowat, B.A., gave the reports of the delegates to the Ontario Educational Association Convention. Teachers are always before the public eye. They must have charm, personality, a love of their subjects, a sense of humor, a love for children, good character, and high ideals of life.

Pensions.

A discussion of the superannuation scheme took place in Toronto. Teachers cannot get a pension beyond one thousand dollars; it takes forty years of service to get the pension; no allowance is made for dependents on the death of a teacher. This differs from government pension schemes.

The cadet training was eulogized. It gives boys a better physique and more alertness.

Many suggestions of interest were made to the Educational Department. The time of opening the High and Public schools should be the same in the month of September. The school year should be from summer to summer. Slides for school purposes should be supplied by the Department of Education free. It was suggested, too, that the principal and representative of the teachers be members of the School Board without voting power.

Self Questioning.

Mr. J. Munro, of Peterborough, led a discussion on "Self Questioning of Teachers."

Mr. Munro thought that the greatest progress in a teacher's life and ability was made during the first five years. After that development becomes slower. It becomes necessary to do some renovation to cut out the useless. Prejudice is apt to come in. Teachers are apt to become narrow unless they mingle with other classes of people and professions. They should read widely, both professionally and otherwise. Spare time should be spent wisely to broaden and energize. The physique must be kept in a high state of excellence. They must study pupils to find out their particular bent and solve their seeming idiosynocrasies Teachers should be models in dress, good temper and tact. They should feel at home with the pupils and the latter should feel a similar attitude towards them. Teachers should use all means of improvement. They should be good sports impartial, clear in explanation, good readers, natural, absolutely truthful, facing mothers squarely, sympathetic to the dull and backward, and interested in the general matters of public interest in the community.

Mr. E. W. Jennings, B.A., inspector in Victoria County, gave a paper on Time-Saving Devices in Ungraded Schools.

In his inspectorate the teachers are all of ungraded schools. Teachers in beginning are inclined to hold fast to certain rules, some times to their own loss. Training schools cannot help in giving experience in ungraded schools. Teachers need resourcefulness in this new environment. It becomes the duty of the instructor to keep the pupils active even when he is teaching others. This busy work assigned must be of value. Time must not be wasted in useless ways. Pupils must do all they possibly can for themselves. Frequent repetition in recitation is often a waste of time. A teacher should be systematic and thorough. It is better to finsh a line of work before taking up another, rather than trying to plough in various furrows at the one time. Many subjects can be combined in a logical and systematic way. Have pupils start to school at the same time of year; September seems the most opportune period. Short lessons must be used in ungraded schools. The chief centre of interest must be struck at without too much waste of time.

The afternoon session was presided over by Mr. E. W. Jennings, B.A.

Games As Factor.

Mr. H. E. Lockett, M.A., of Hamilton Normal School, gave an address on "Games as a Factor of National Development."

What is of value in play? It is a natural instinct. It can be crushed. The play instinct is intended to be a habit manifested by adults in hobbies. Holidays are necessary.

What are features of value in play? It develops a sound body. Games counteract the cigarette evil which is so injurious to boys and girls. Too many boys lose physique and stamina by use of tobacco. Plays develop loyalty and patriotism. The

Taungs Skull Is Declared "Missing Link" Italian Savant Supports African Finder

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Taungs skull is undoubtedly that of a human being, according to Professor Lidio Cipriani of Florence University, who journeyed to Johannesburg especially to examine it.

A Johannesburg dispatch quotes a statement he gave to The Rand Daily Mail in which he expressed the opinion that the skull very probably represented an important link in the chain of evolution.

Professor Cipriani differs from the views of Sir Arthur Keith, who has not supported the claims made by Professor Dart, discoverer of the skull.

Referring to Sir Arthur Keith's theory that the skull had perhaps become distorted in the process of fossilization, Professor Cipriani remarked that if there were any such distortion it was very little. There was a slight distortion in the lower jaw, but this was negligible, he said. If there had been any great distortion in the skull the marks of cerebral convolutions would never have been preserved, nor would traces of the blood vessels have remained on the surface, he thought.

The form of the nose also attracted attention. It was evident, Professor Cipriani said, that the Taungs man possessed a nose much more prominent than the Apes of today, and resembling a human nose.

"I am quite convinced," he said, "that this skull is more human than that of any Ape ever found. Without doubt it is human, and very probably the missing link we have been looking for."

He added that the Taungs skull lent considerable weight to the theory that Africa was the cradle of the human race. The secret was perhaps to be unearthed at Taungs, he said, and he urged the importance of further excavations.

The Taungs skull was found by Professor Raymond Dart of the Witwatersrand University of Johannesburg in the lime workings of Taungs, Bechuanaland, in November, 1924.

Three years previously a skull declared to be that of a very primitive man was found in the Broken Hill district, 1,000 miles north of Taungs.

NOBILE CLAIMS FLIGHT FOR ITALY

Says Aviators Responsible for Trip Over North Pole.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 7.—(United Press).—The Amundsen-Nobile controversy over who commanded the dirigible Norge during its 1926 transpolar flight from Spitzborgen to Teller, Alaska, broke out again yesterday. General Umberto Nobile, in an interview cabled from Berlin to the Copenhagen Berlinkske Tidende, declared success of the flight was due "mainly to the Italian aviators and not to Amundsen, who in fact did nothing during the flight."

Nobile was quoted as saying he would reveal "the whole truth" regarding the flight in his forthcoming book "The Flight to Conquer the Secret of the People" which will be published shortly in Italy.

The Italians contribution to the North Pole controversy follows the publication of Capt. Amundsen's book in the United States in which Nobile is characterized as a "strutting dreamer" and epauletted Italian with delusions of grandeur and a presumptuous braggart."

Reach Agreement Over Coal Strike

KANSAS CITY, October 7 (Canadian Press). — An agreement ending the coal strike in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas was signed by representatives of the United Mine Workers and the mine operators here last night.

The miners will go back to work under virtually the same wage scale that was in effect before the suspension of work on April 1, when the old contract expired.

PREMIER GIVES CONFEDERATION SPEECH TO-DAY

Hon. Mr. Ferguson Talks On History of Canada Since Confederation.

CONVOCATION HELD.

Dance To-night Concludes Centenary Celebration at Toronto University.

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Two features were outstanding in the University of Toronto's centenary celebrations which continued today. The first was a speech by Premier G. H. Ferguson of Ontario, on "Aspects of Canadian History Since Confederation," in Convocation Hall, and the second was the special convocation this afternoon at which honorary degrees were conferred upon more than a score of distinguished visitors. The rest of to-day's functions were mainly social and will conclude with the centenary ball for delegates, guests and graduates this evening. Premier Ferguson's speech was the second and last on the same subject; Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec having delivered the first yesterday. The summer-like weather of yesterday was missing today, rain falling steadily.

Mr. Ferguson outlined the constitution adopted at Confederation which with a few minor alterations had remained unchanged, traced the development of the country along material and educational or spiritual lines, issued a plea for more university men in public life, and affirmed his intention of remaining in provincial politics.

The field of the provincial legislatures, he said, involved all the most vital problems of national life, education, property and civil rights, moral welfare and domestic relations.

The things concerned the individual and as the standards of the nation depend on, and are no higher than those of the individual, he thought the provincial field offered the greatest opportunity for service.

"Incidentally, that's the reason I'm going to stay here," he said, and added: "I've just said that to put Mr. King at ease."

Premier King and Premier Taschereau occupied seats on the platform.

One-cent and 5-cent pieces are legal tender only to the amount of 25 cents. Fractional silver is legal tender up to $10.

Toronto Man Loses $8,000 To Swindlers

BOSTON, Mass., October 7 (Associated Press). — William J. C. Wilson, who said he was head of the Wilson Stationery and Printing Company, of Toronto, complained to the police yesterday that he had been swindled out of $8,000 by two men who had induced him to give them the money for investment in stocks. He said he met the men, one of whom gave the name of W. C. Hart, and introduced the other as my friend Williams, in Atlantic City.

After they had persuaded him that they could make money for him in the stock market, he returned to Toronto, where he got the $8,000.

NEW CHURCH IS CONSIDERED

Mark Street Congregation Has Outgrown Present Structure.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The congregation of Mark Street Methodist Church has for years felt the need of a more adequate church building in which to do the Master's work. When on the 10th of June, 1925, it became a congregation of the United Church of Canada, the need was emphasized, and the prospect of meeting it brightened.

Some twelve years ago the congregation bought a lot on the corner of Hunter and Mark Streets as a site for a new church building. Last February a proposition to sell the lot was voted down by so small a margin that for the time any further action seemed to be blocked. In the later part of last July, the congregation elected by ballot a committee of four: Messrs. William Scott, W. Tinker, E. Wand, and A. W. Gamble, and these four selected a fifth, G. A. Gillespie. The duty of this committee was to find a solution of the church building problem and report to the congregation. At a meeting of the congregation held last night the committee made a partial report stating, among other things, that the information secured was not favorable to remodelling the present church building.

After viewing on a screen a number of slides of possible church buildings sent by the General Council's Committee on Church Architecture, hearing the minutes of the committee read by Mr. Tinker, and a further presentation of the work of the committee by Mr. Gillespie, the congregation, after offering a number of suggestions, thanked the committee and asked it to continue its work.

The congregation also appointed a nominating committee to appoint a committee of five on finance whose duty it will be to investigate the possibility of raising funds for the erection of a new church building either on the corner lot or the site of the present church. A probable cost of $30,000.00 was mentioned.

The action of the congregation will be determined largely by the report of this committee on finance.

PLEA FOR PURE LIVING IS MADE TO MEN OF CITY

Bishop Taylor-Smith Urges Them to Teach Their Boys Facts of Life.

HELPFUL ADDRESS

Benefits of Knowledge and Purity Are Stressed by Distinguished Speaker.

An appeal to the fathers of his audience and those who would be fathers to teach their sons so that they might in their turn be noble fathers was made by the Rt. Rev. Sir John Taylor-Smith in an address to the men of the city, delivered last night at the Grand Opera House. He urged them to take Christ as their savior and to form the habit of conversing with God in prayer, and told them that whatever they could not ask God to bless they should "chuck."

A fluent speaker, the Bishop couched his address in simple terms, including many army phrases which appealed to the men of the Canadian Legion, who attended in a body to hear the former Chaplain-General of His Majesty's forces. His subject, he said, was a difficult one because the imagination of the human heart is, as the Bible says and human experience gives testimony, evil continuously, but he asked the audience to listen carefully and consider prayerfully his remarks as the subject was one of great importance.

His subject, he continued, was one which had to do with the welfare of the family, the Dominion, and the Empire, that partnership in which the father works together with God to bring souls into the world.

Facts Of Life.

The Bishop referred first to the fact that he had visited many hospital asylum prisons in which were men who would not have been there if their parents and their pastors had spoken plainly to them at the dawn of manhood. Because they had not spoken plainly the unclean had come instead of the clean, the false instead of the true, and they had begun to think uncleanly, then to speak uncleanly, and then live uncleanly.

Ignorance is not innocence and knowledge not sin, continued the speaker. If people are rightly informed knowledge means righteousness. It is better to build a fence at the top of the precipice than to station a finely equipped ambulance at the bottom. "Do not", he urged, "let your son enter on that dangerous period, the dawn of manhood, without taking him aside and telling him those facts about his physical nature that will help him to play the man and make him a father to be proud of."

People might says that it is not easy to do this. He reminded them that when volunteers were called for during the war to do some hard task there were always more men ready than were needed. If then men were willing to do their duty, should not parents be ready to do so in peace time, he asked.

People might ask how to do this. He would illustrate both the parable method and the plain talk. It should be done when the boy was entering manhood, when his voice was changing from the shrill voice of the choir boy to the harsh tones of the sergeant-major. The most important period of a man's life is the time from 15 to 25, when the foundations for the body life, the mind life, and the soul life were being laid, because many a man who breaks down or is not at his best at 45 or 50 can trace the crack to the flaw in the foundation when he didn't train or care for his body in his youth.

Gives Illustration.

The Bishop chose for his illustration the palm trees. If they are tapped and robbed of their essence they wither and die and are a total loss, but if they are permitted to grow as God intended they become a glory to God, a source of profit to their owner, and a source of good to man. To others it is necessary to speak more plainly as they can't understand parables but the same positive idea of benefit should be stres-

Third World Series Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Perfect weather conditions prevailed for the third game of the World's Series between the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates to-day.

Pennock was announced as the Yankees pitching selection. This nomination was in defiance of the prediction that the Pirates were poison to left-hand pitching.

It looked like a stout pitching battle for the third game of the World Series as the left-hander Pennock for the Yanks and Lee Meadows for the Pirates warmed up before the game. The two pitchers appeared to have a world of stuff. Meadows said that he never felt better, and Pennock said that notwithstanding his bruised leg, he felt able to shoulder the battle for the American Leaguers.

The Line-Ups.

New York—Combs, cf; Koenig, ss; Ruth, rf; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, lf; Lazzeri, 2b; Dugan, 3b; Grabowski, c; Pennock, p.

Pittsburgh—L. Waner, cf; Rhyne, 2b; P. Waner, rf; Wright, ss; Traynor, 3b; Barnhart, lf; Harris, 1b; Gooch, c; Meadows, p.

Umpires—Moran, National, at plate; Ormsby, American, first; Quigley, National, second; Nallin, American, third.

Time—1.30 p.m., eastern standard time.

First Innings.

Pirates—Koenig threw out L. Waner at first. Rhyne sent out a long fly to Meusel. Meusel came in to take P. Waner's low fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Combs singled over the middle bag. Koenig got a single over Meadows' head, Combs stopping at second. Ruth sent up a high one to Wright. Combs and Koenig scored on Gehrig's three-bagger to left, but Gehrig was thrown out at the plate stretching his hit. Meusel struck out, swinging for the third strike. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Second Innings.

Pirates—Combs took Wright's short fly. Lazzeri came over fast and took Traynor's grounder, and with his gloved hand tossed him out. Lazzeri smothered Barnhart's grounder and got him at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Lazzeri fanned. Wright threw out Dugan at first. Traynor took Grabowski's grounder and got him at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Innings.

Pirates—Harris sent out a fly to Combs. Gooch fanned. Lazzeri tossed out Meadows. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—The crowd cheered Pennock as he walked to the plate. Combs lofted to L. Waner. Wright made a beautiful catch on Koenig's seeming hit. No. runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Innings.

Pirates—Lazzeri tossed out L. Waner at first. Rhyne popped to Koenig. P. Waner sent a hot liner to Dugan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—The crowd cheered Babe Ruth as he walked to the plate. Ruth fanned. Gehrig was given a ticket to first. On the hit and run play, Meusel grounded to Traynor, who threw the ball into the grandstand. Under the ground rules, Gehrig halted at third, and Meusel at second. Lazzeri struck out, swinging for the third strike. Traynor threw out Dugan at first. No runs, no hits, one error.

HURLING FOR YANKS.

Herb Pennock

Fifth Innings.

Pirates—Grabowski took Wright's high foul in front of the plate. Traynor fouled to Grabowski. Combs made a remarkable running catch of Barnhart's long fly. The Pirates had gone out in one, two, three order for five innings and Pennock had not allowed them a hit. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Grabowski sent up an easy fly to Wright. Pennock fanned. Meadows took Combs' bunt and tossed him out. Meadows was pitching fine ball, not having allowed a hit since the first innings, striking out five men. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Innings.

Pirates—Harris was thrown out at first, Pennock to Gehrig. Gooch flied out to Ruth. Combs took Meadows' short hoist in right centre field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Rhyne threw out Koenig at first. Rhyne threw out Ruth at first. Gehrig got a double into right for his second hit of the game. Meusel struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Innings.

Pirates—Lazzeri threw out L. Waner at first. Dugan took Rhyne's slow roller and threw him out. It was a brilliant play by Dugan. Lazzeri took P. Waner's grounder and got him at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Lazzeri got a single into centre with the count two and three. Meadows took Dugan's bunt and threw too late to get Lazzeri at second. It was a sacrifice for Dugan. Durst batted for Grabowski. Rhyne threw out Durst at first. Lazzeri going to third and Dugan to second. It was no sacrifice. Pennock tried to bunt as the squeeze play was on, but he fouled the ball. Lazzeri was almost caught off third by Gooch's quick throw. Lazzeri scored when Rhyne fielded Pennock's slow roller to Gooch. Dugan went to third. Dugan scored on Combs' single to right. Pennock went to third. Pennock scored on Koenig's double to right. Combs went to third. The Yankees' artillery was now in full action. Manager Bush rushed out from the Pirate bench and waved Meadows out of the box. Meadows was the third first string pitcher to be knocked out of the box by the Yankees. The crowd cheered Meadows to the echo as he walked to the bench. Cvengros went into the box for the Pirates. Cvengros was displaying a fast ball. Ruth went after a wide curve. Ruth crashed a home run into the right field stand, scoring Combs and Koenig ahead of him. It was a terrific drive and the crowd was in an uproar. Gehrig struck out, swinging for the third strike. Meusel swung at the third strike. Six runs, four hits, no errors.

Eighth Innings.

Pirates—The right field bleachers rose and cheered as Babe Ruth walked to his position in right field. Bengough was now catching for New York. Koenig robbed Wright of a hit, getting the ball back in the grass and throwing him out. Traynor got a hit to left field, for the first Pirate hit of the game. Traynor scored on Barnhart's double to right. Dugan threw out Harris at first, Barnhart holding second. Spencer batted for Gooch. Lazzeri stole a hit from Spencer, taking his grounder over second and throwing him out. One run, two hits, no errors.

Yankees—Spencer went in to catch for Pittsburgh. Rhyne threw out Lazzeri at the initial bag. Dugan singled sharply through the box. Rhyne threw out Bengough at first, Dugan going to second. Pennock batted right-handed this time. Traynor took a hit from Pennock. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Innings.

Pirates—Groh batted for Cvengros. Groh sent up a weak fly to Pennock. L. Waner got a Texas Leaguer into left field. Rhyne flied out to Combs. L. Waner walked to second unmolested. P. Waner popped to Lazzeri. No runs, one hit, no errors.

AVERAGE YIELD OF FALL WHEAT AT MILLBROOK

Farmers of Cavan Township Find Grain Light This Year.

BARLEY AND OATS GOOD

Corn Has Done Well on Dry Ground—Potatoes Are Poor.

A report on crop conditions covering the major part of Cavan Township, shows the following:

Fall Wheat had an average yield of twenty bushels to the acre, though in some cases the crop when threshed gave a return of thirty bushels. The grain, in many instances, is shrunken, very little of it weighing up to standard; a weight of 55 to 57 pounds to the bushel is general, with a few samples only 52 pounds.

Spring wheat has an average yield of 18 bushels to the acre, with a few fields of Marquis of excellent quality.

Barley is fairly good grain, yielding about thirty, or possibly thirty-five bushels to the acre.

Oats are generally a pretty good crop, and this grain is a great deal heavier than last year. The average yield will be about thirty-five bushels to the acre.

Peas vary a great deal; some early varieties are not yielding more than four to eight bushels to the acre. Late peas are running as high as twenty-five bushels in some cases.

Alsike will average about three bushels to the acre, though some fields are running as high as five bushels, and one farmer had seven when his crop was threshed. A return of only one and one-half bushels per acre has been realized in some cases, and one case is known where, after threshing a quantity of this grain the yield was so disappointingly small the owner set fire to the remainder and burned it. The expense of threshing was not worth while in view of the results obtained.

Corn has done well in the last five or six weeks, some of it reaching a height of twelve feet. Any field with wet spots will show corn only two or three feet high on these place, while on the dry ground a height of eight, ten, or even twelve feet, has been noted. The corn-borer is reported in some cases in the country, and in the gardens in the village, and stringent measure will have to be taken if this unwelcome invader is to be thoroughly stamped out. Fields that were dry enough to be cultivated during July have done fairly well, but generally cobs are not matured.

Potatoes are about half a crop, quite a few rotten ones being found in most fields. Some farmers complain that a large white grub about an inch in length is eating the potatoes, and causing considerable damage. Most housewives complain that, buying potatoes in small quantities, they find a few rotten ones in each peck purchased, and that large tubers are almost invariably hollow in the centre, and practically unfit for use.

Turnips are looking well for this time of the year, and promises to be very good; mangels are also a good crop, but not as many of either turnips or mangels have been grown this year as in past seasons.

Those who grow sweet clover have had fairly good result this season, though a number are still waiting for the threshing outfit to reach their farms, and have stacked the grain in the fields intending to hold it for seed. Alfalfa has been generally satisfactory.

INDIANS HOLD ANNUAL FAIR AT CHEMONG

Many of Mississauga Tribe Attend Exhibition Dressed in Full Regalia.

COMIC COSTUMES

Large Number of Exhibits Shown in Main Building.

The ninth annual fall fair of the Mississauga Agricultural Society was held at the Chemong Reserve on Wednesday and Thursday. It was as it has been in the past a typical Indian fair with many of the Mississauga tribe dressed in full regalia.

The parade which is always the leading feature of the fair was a little larger than usual. Headed by the Curve Lake Indian band it paraded down the road into the exhibition grounds and around the track. There were full dressed Indian families, Indian princesses and many other comic and fancy dressed costumes, who received much applause from the large crowd of spectators.

During the fair music was provided by the band which was composed of 17 Indian players. This band is one of the best small bands in the district and during the fall it has supplied music for many fairs and one day at the Peterborough Exhibition.

Many Exhibits.

In the main building there was found a large number of exhibits from the members of the reservation. That which attracted the most attention was the ladies' work and basket class. There were beautiful baskets of all kinds.

The Indian school exhibit was large with a great deal of garden produce being shown. The size of the exhibit of home baking showed that the squaws can compete in the culinary art with most white women.

The live stock exhibit was not as large as other years. At night a supper and dance was given in the hall, with the band supplying the music.

The best dressed comic costume prize went to Gladys McCue. Albert Dean won first for the best dressed Indian boy and John Lions was second. Eliza Sawyer in a quaint squaw's costume carried off first for the best dressed squaw and Leona Jacobs was second.

Stella Taylor got first for the best ladies' costume with Leola Copperway second and Miss Lewis third.

Leola Taylor carried off the prize for the youngest in the parade.

Mrs. Joe won first for best dressed aged squaw with Mrs. E. E. Brown second and Mrs. Avis Williams third.

Others prizes in the parade were won by Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. G. Williams, Mrs. G. Johnston, Mrs. W. Irons, Muriel Taylor, Doris and Olive McCue, Alice Taylor, Emma Taylor, Adeline Muskrat, Melta Whetung.

Dr. Rogers William Herrington and Mrs. W. N. Hayes acted as judges. After the parade in the afternoon a competition was held for the band. Then followed a program of sports which were very keenly contested by the young men and boys.

SHOWER GIVEN

HAVELOCK. Oct. 7.—A miscellaneous shower was presented on Monday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Young at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. Chase, Belmont Lake, by a large number of friends and neighbors. A handsome array of useful gifts was on display and following the presentation a social evening was enjoyed by all in games and music.

Roseneath Resident Burned About Face

ROSENEATH, Oct. 7.—While repairing a car for Charles Grigg, Ezra Sherwin was painfully hurt yesterday afternoon. He had drained the gasoline tank and was welding a piece under it when the fumes ignited, setting fire to his clothing and inflicting severe burns on his face, hands, and legs. As Dr. Hershey was away at the time, it was necessary to rush the injured man to Hastings for attention.

MUSICAL EVENING.

Enjoyable Event Held Recently in Harmony Hall at Douro.

DOURO, Oct. 7.—The concert held recent in Harmony Hall was an enjoyable event and brought out a large crowd. Mr. Roque Gordon of Peterborough was chairman. The program follows:

Step-dance—Mr. Edward Drum.

Song—Miss Minnie Allen (Peterborough).

Ukelele number and song by Mr. Lorne Rogers (Peterborough).

Dialogue, Ham and Sam—Messrs. Lawrence Gordon and John Cairns (Peterborough).

Song—Miss Margaret McCarthy, Peterborough, accompanied by Miss Ethel Armstrong.

Hawaiian guitar number—Master Osborne Wells (Peterborough).

Step-dance—Miss Stella McMurray Douro.

Song—Mr. Joseph O'Connell (Peterborough.

Recitation—Miss Myra Maloney (Peterborough).

Radio concert which came in splendidly.

PRIZE AWARDED

James Cook Wins Steel Rod for Catching Largest Pickerel.

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 7.—James Cook received the steel fishing rod, offered as a prize by J. A. C. Allan, hardware merchant, Havelock, for the biggest pickerel caught during the season, ending September 30th. The prize fish weighed 10¼ pounds. Mr. Cook also won the prize last year.

Anniversary services are to be held at the United church Sunday, October 16, conducted by Rev. Mr. Joblin, Stirling.

The Ladies' Aid is making arrangements for their annual fowl supper to be held after anniversary services. The exact date will be announced later.

JOINS HUSBAND.

Beauty Prize Winner in England Joins Husband in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., October 7 (Canadian Press). — Mrs. William A. Logan, the former Jean Rutherford, beauty prize winner in England, arrived here yesterday to join her husband from whom she had been separated for nearly a month by technicalities of the immigration law.

Mrs. Logan, a quiet, unassuming young woman, dismissed the reporters by explaining she was "very tired" after her trip. She and her husband, however, did pose long enough for photographers to snap their re-union kiss.

TEACHERS HOLD CONVENTION, ETC.

roots of these qualities are found in the spirit produced by games. Players realize that they are playing for the credit of their school or supporters. A school that will back a losing team has the true school spirit. A school uniform and a school yell help to promote this spirit also. Teachers should do the coaching of games. Instead of jeering the referees it is better for children to cheer their team. Games promote co-operation and those that require team play are the best. Regularity at practice is necessary and so players must subordinate their own interests for the benefit of the team. Correlate games with other things. Posters can be made to advertise the games and this promotes art. Clean playing is a great essential. Sportsmanship is more important than just winning games. This is a valuable lesson for life in business and professions. Be good winners. This is not as easy as it seems. Be sympathetic to the losers. Every man and woman needs self-control over temper, nerves, etc. Sports help in self-control. There is a lesson in quick judgment in sports. Slow thinkers have no place in games. Executive training is promoted through games. Let pupils do some of the management. Games should promote honesty and good leadership is needed from teachers. All pupils should be taught or encouraged to play. There ought to be a school team of course, but there should be many other teams in any school. Competitions between teams of equal ability promote good sport.

Teachers should play with their pupils.

A good discussion took place. School fairs have promoted many of the qualities that Mr. Lockett advocated in his excellent paper.

Standards in English.

Mr. C. A. Smith of Lindsay gave a paper on "Standards in English and Self-Help Activities."

English composition is the pivotal subject and is the one most criticized in every-day life. Grammatical errors and a paucity of words are all too common. This seems to be due to lack of teaching. One cause of weakness is too great breadth in subjects given for composition. Pupils must repeat correct forms over and over again until they become natural. Oral composition must come before written. Let pupils learn to speak correctly. Have a definite aim of what pupils should do. In oral work have pupils construct short, clear-cut sentences. In written work these qualities are necessary, also as well as good spelling and paragraphing. Let pupils give a connected description on some topic. Arouse interest through the pupil's relating of his own experiences. Have pupils enunciate difficult sounds and sentences in different tones of voice and in whispering. This develops correct pronunciation.

In establishing correct usage of words there must be definite drill. Pupils use incorrect forms from lack of thought, knowing that they are wrong. Give expressions such as I saw, You saw, etc., to repeat over and over again. Vary these exercises to give them interest.

Mistakes in spelling mar the written pages. The use of capitals and punctuation must be emphasized and taught thoroughly. Copying exercises are invaluable in testing out value of the pupils' knowledge of technicalities such as the interrogation mark and others.

Pupils must master the sentence. A child should know where a sentence ends and how.

The paragraph must be mastered also. Quality should be of more importance than quantity. Shorter compositions of greater excellence should be the aim. Practice writing a paragraph a day.

There should be a definite aim for each form. Certain work should be laid out for each year. Gradual growth is expected from class to class. There should be a standard expected for each grade. Mr. Smith gave illustrations of good compositions from the different forms.

Let pupils try for interesting beginnings. Models in the fourth classes are most valuable. Advanced work in these classes can only be attempted if the fundamentals are known.

Have definite class aims so that pupils will know what is expected or should be accomplished in their grade. Pupils should learn to correct themselves and others, and should use the dictionary to prepare compositions and get choices of words. Have them use reference books such as the Books of Knowledge and others of excellence. It is wise to have a pupil make a note-book where he keeps records of advancement on his own account.

PLEA FOR PURE LIVING IS MADE

sed, rather than the negative one of the harm of sin. He referred to the youth to whom he had spoken as he was leaving home for the first time to go to public school and whom he met again a number of years later, a fine upstanding army officer, who had thanked him for the four things he had given him and given them back. They were:

"Make everything a matter of prayer. When you can't ask God to bless a thing, chuck it."

"Read the Bible regularly."

"Will for a life of purity."

"Help others."

These he urged upon his hearers as rules that would help them, mentioning as a secondary matter the penalties exacted for living differently. To those who might say it was too late he would say that the past was forgiven and urged them to work for the men of the future. To all he held up Christ as a savior and a source of help and strength in living pure lives.

The address, delivered with heartfelt earnestness, held his audience silent for an hour and a half, and the feelings of all present were expressed by His Honor Judge Huycke and the Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, who proposed and seconded a vote of thanks. The Judge referred to Tennyson's words, "Self knowledge, self reverence, and self control" as seeming to sum up the value of the address. Thanks was tendered to the Rev. J. Douglas Paterson for his efforts which culminated in the Bishop's visit.

President Charles H. Ackerman of the Canadian Legion presided at the gathering, while Dr. N. H. Sutton explained the reasons for having such a meeting and the picture which proceeded, which were illustrative of the development of life. Douglas Carlyle sang two solos which were much appreciated.

Before the meeting the Bishop was the guest of honor at dinner at the Empress Hotel, where he was tendered a welcome to the city by His Worship the Mayor and met a number of prominent citizens who afterwards occupied seats on the platform.

After the meeting the Bishop was the guest of the Canadian Legion at an informal gathering at the hall.

Mocking mirrors

MOCKING shapes of silvered glass that tell the truth. . . . What a tragedy that some women fade so soon! Just a few short years ago, beauty and health were theirs to spare. Now — their mirrors mock them! Wan, thin cheeks, haggard smiles, betray the price of neglect!

It is terrible—the toll that constipation takes in health and happiness. It thieves beauty. It wrecks vitality. It is the cause of much suffering and disease. And all the while it could be so easily relieved! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—safely, permanently.

Why ALL-BRAN is superior to "part-bran"

A large part of ALL-BRAN is "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines, gently distending them—purifying, eliminating poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is often too small to do this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran—100% effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

No more need for pills

How different from habit-forming pills and drugs! Which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak for a few moments to bring out all its delicious flavor. Try it in soups. With other cereals.

But be sure to get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by the Kellogg Company in London, Ontario. Write for free "Treatise on Constipation."

cases ended in death! Go a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. All dealers, 50c. box.

NEGATIVE WINS Y.P.L. DEBATE

Cobourg Presbytery Representatives Win Over Lindsay Girls.

MEET AT OMEMEE.

OMEMEE, Oct. 6.—The regular week night service of the Young People's Union of Trinity Church was dispensed with on Monday evening, and in its stead winning debating teams from the Cobourg and Lindsay Presbyteries met in Omemee in the inter-Presbytery debate. The subject for discussion was, "Resolved, that a college education should be made available at public expense to every young man and woman who shows willingness and ability to obtain this education." Messrs. H. Lackey and F. Bannister, of Garden Hill, ably upheld the negative, while Misses Meryl Campbell and Evelyn Oke, of Woodville, had charge of the affirmative. These teams are the banner teams of the Presbyteries they represent, and each speaker showed that much time and thought had been given toward the preparation of such a heavy subject.

Rev. C. D. Daniel, of the Seymour circuit, who is the President of Young People's work of the Cobourg Presbytery, was in attendance, and after Rev. E. W. Rowland had opened the service and the Misses Race had favored the gathering with a piano duet, he outlined the rules of the debate and later urged that representatives be sent to the Winter School at Cobourg, briefly touching on the splendid programmes arranged.

Messrs. O. R. Stalter and David Weir and Miss Ross kindly acted as judges, while Mr. T. C. Ivory was appointed as timekeeper and Mr. Kells ably filled the role of critic.

After the decision of the judges had been given in favor of the negative, Mr. Kells, the Omemee Public School Principal, made a neat speech, wherein he stated that not much room had been left for criticism, but that each group had handled the subject capably and well. Many new avenues of thought had been opened up through these debates, which not only form a source of knowledge but also of pleasure, and thus are a benefit to all.

At this juncture one of the losing ladies rose admirably and congratulated the winners, and also offered any assistance which they might give at a future date.

Rev. E. W. Rowland congratulated the teams, after which Rev. Mr. Daniel closed the meeting with the Mizpah benediction.

The Omemee Young People then showed a hospitable spirit by serving dainty refreshments to the debaters and their numerous friends who accompanied them.

The greatest ship disaster that ever took place on inland waters was the boiler explosion aboard the steamship Sultana on the Mississippi river, April 27, 1865, when 1400 lives were lost. Most of the victims were exchanged Union prisoners of war.

NEXT WEEK'S EXHIBITION.

The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition which, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, is to be held in the Armouries next week gives every indication of surpassing last year's Exhibition, successful as that event was.

The exhibits of Canadian manufacturers and of local firms will exhaust all the available accommodation, while the entertainment features promise to be most extensive and interesting.

The Armouries will undoubtedly be the rendezvous for all Peterborough next week, and patrons will have the satisfaction of knowing that while they are enjoying the various features and learning about Canadian products from the attractive exhibits, they are at the same time assisting a most worthy cause, for the profits of the Exhibition, of course, will all be spent in public service and in promoting activities that seek to make Peterborough a better and a happier community.

THE EFFECT OF TAX REDUCTION.

President Coolidge's claim that to cut taxation is to increase revenue has been vindicated in the United States, and the same policy is demonstrating its effectiveness on this side of the line, according to Ottawa figures.

The Postal Department supplies part of the proof. Despite the return to penny postage, the postal revenue shows an increase of more than $800,000 for the first four months of this year over the same period last year when the three-cent rate was in operation.

The figures are $10,034,000, as against $9,200,000.

The income tax returns furnishes more evidence.

The revenue from this levy is increasing in spite of the 10 per cent. reduction in effect this year.

In fact, for the first four months of this year $44,281,000 was collected, while the total for the whole of last year was but $40,798,000, and while the increase is explained partly because the revenue includes overdue taxes, it is certain that the total for the present year will show a substantial gain.

And when you study the whole revenues the same result is seen.

The total revenue for the first four months of this year was $154,858,000, while the first four months of 1926 showed but $145,539,000.

Mr. Robb is doubtless studying these returns and sharpening his axe for further slashes.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Next week has been set apart by special proclamation as Fire Prevention Week, and throughout the country an effort will be made to arouse Canadians generally to a realization of the need of greater vigilance in the matter of fire hazards.

Every year in Canada many lives are lost because of fires, while the property loss reaches an appalling total.

And fire marshalls, insurance adjusters and other experts declare that more than seventy-five per cent. of all these fires are the result of sheer carelessness.

At least, three our of every four could be prevented through the exercise of common sense and ordinary caution.

Fire Prevention Week is designed to get people to do a little thinking along this line, and to induce them to remove fire hazards from their homes and places of business and to be careful on all occasions.

At this season of the year householders should be sure that their stove-pipes and chimneys are clean and in good order, thus eliminating one prolific cause of fires.

There are other things that should be done, too, to ensure safer conditions, and next week's campaign will be of some benefit if it calls attention to these matters.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

The Examiner believes that the Ontario Government should lose no time in taking advantage of the Old Age Pensions Act passed by the Dominion Parliament last session.

It may be argued that the Federal Government should assume the whole cost of the pensions scheme, but assuredly half a loaf is better than no bread, and the chance to have half the amount paid by the Ottawa administration should not be missed.

There are many aged residents of Ontario who are eligible for an old age pension, and while the sum provided under the scheme is not large, it would come as a very timely aid to these old people who have come close to the end of the trail and find themselves in straightened circumstances.

The maximum to be paid a recipient of the old age pension is $240 a year, and the conditions are that the recipient must be a British subject or a widow who was a British subject before her marriage.

Each applicant must be at least seventy years of age, and must have lived in Canada for twenty years immediately preceding the date of the application and in the Province for at least five years.

The Ontario finances are said to be in excellent condition; the Province, therefore, has no sound reason to offer for not making provision for its aged citizens who require relief.

FROM THE CITY OF MANY MURDERS.

The Chicago Tribune, which modestly tells the world every day that it is "The world's greatest newspaper," has this to say:

"We suppose it was as inevitable that America should lose at tennis to the French as it was certain that we should win from the British at polo. The Europeans are always better at the gentle sports, the girls' games. We are pre-eminent in rough games. We produce the Hitchcocks and Millburns, the Dempseys and Tunneys; Europe breeds Lenglens, Cochets and Lacostes. Tilden never became a national hero and therefore it is unlikely that we shall soon have another like him; Bobby Jones is simply an exception.

"The English spectators clap their hands and cry 'Well played!' We toss pop bottles and yell 'Kill him!' The Spaniard glides away from the bull while the rodeo rider gets on top of the steer and wrestles him. Mr. Stagg says the primitive rough and tumble of football was refined out of the game in England but was retained in our game as its essence and its reason for existence.

"They won't beat us at the rough games until they decide the winner by a vote of the League of Nations."

One hardly knows whether this calls for laughter or for pity. Perhaps it would be wrong to laugh at it; it would be almost like laughing at deformity. One's first thought about it is that if supremacy in sport—even rough sport—has not taught Americans anything more than this, then they would be better without it. But perhaps one should not include all Americans in the indictment. Most of them, let us hope, would be ashamed of such a braggart.

But one thing The Tribune helps us to understand. We now know why thugs use machine guns to do murder in the streets of Chicago.—Ottawa Journal.

WAR DEBTS.

The attempt on the part of France to secure a settlement of the outstanding war debt of Russia, amounting to 6,738 million gold francs, has so far been unsuccessful. Yet it serves to illustrate the uneven financial circumstances of France and Great Britain as compared with the United States. Russia is deeply indebted to both Great Britain and France. The returns vouched for by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York in 1924 on Russian debt are as follows: To Great Britain, $3,737,005,000; to France, $955,157,000; to United States, $187,729,000.

Interest accruing since 1920, when the figures given were issued, account for the difference between the amount estimated for that year and the 6,738 million gold francs claimed by France at present.

American statisticians adopt the usually fair rule in arriving at the net obligations of France and Great Britain by balancing off assets against liabilities. The net result is to make it appear as if the burdens of both France and Britain are light. The dim prospect of getting anything out of Russia makes that plan work out an unfair deduction so far as both France and Great Britain are concerned.

On March 31, 1926, the amounts outstanding, debts owing to Great Britain, were, as given by the British Treasury, in round figures: By Russia, £794,500,000; by France, £647,000,000; by Jugo-Slavia, £34,000,000; by Greece, £21,000,000; by Austria, £12,000,000; by Lithuania, £348,000—a total of £1,508,848,000.

In addition to that, Great Britain made relief and construction loans to several countries amounting to £32,000,000. It is obvious, therefore, that more than half of the British claims or assets are owing by Russia, which is bankrupt and giving small promise of any early recovery.

Opposite to that total the British debt to the United States amounted to $4,704,654,465 at the end of 1922. On that total there had been paid up to the end of 1926 the sum of $642,830,000, of which $67,950,000 was interest.

There are two points which it might be well for Canadians to have clearly in mind: (1) That it will not be until after September 1, 1928, that the British share of receipts from Dawes payments, together with payments for inter-allied war debts, will be sufficient to cover the current payments due to the United States; (2) the British note of May 5, 1927, delivered at Washington May 5, 1927, stated:

"Even if the full Dawes payments continue to be received for 60 years from now onwards, the present value of the receipts of Great Britain from reparations and inter-allied war debts together would be less than that of the payments she is obligated to make to the United States Government on account of the British war debt, assuming interest at five per cent. to be added to payments and receipts in the past and future payments and receipts to be discounted at same rate."

The Bankers' Trust Company's statement also makes plain under 17 divisions that during the Great War the allied Governments spent $11,867,943,946 in the United States for war munitions, exchange and cotton purchases, cereals, other foods, tobacco, supplies, transportations, and several other heads or divisions. That vast sum helps to explain the financial premier position of the United States.

It should always be kept in mind when discussing the war debt question that there is a large body of intelligent public opinion in the United States which ranges in opposition to the accepted policy of collecting from favoring compromise settlements to writing it all off for a new start. Consequently, it is well to consider this when discussing the war debts question.

One other point might profitably be made in this connection, which is this, that it might be a very doubtful policy to cancel all those war debt obligations until there is assurance that the nations have learned the lessons taught by the Great War in 1914-18 and are ready to make peace the foundation of international relations and public policy. That is not the situation now, nor is there the evidence available that if relieved of the burdens of war debt charges the nations would immediately lessen the tax burdens of labor and industry by so much as would be taken off, nor that they would be ready to initiate reforms and betterment in the social conditions of the masses of their people.

Not only the Soviet communists of Russia and the military tuchuns of China, but in five nations of Europe there is strong-arm government which makes light of the constitutions and the rights of the people, while Germany is under restrictions and France is inspired by a chauvinist spirit which suggests ambition that may refuse to be restricted. Until that general situation is much improved there is justification for collecting the war debts in fulfillment of the obligations undertaken to creditors who acted in good faith.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Mussolini's remedy for speeders who kill or seriously injure pedestrians is twenty years' imprisonment with hard labour. Will it come to that in this country?

Losers in the World's Series can sole themselves with the thought that their share of the receipts will at least buy the winter's coal.

If Mr. Ferguson does not want the Federal leadership, perhaps he might be able to suggest a "strong man" for the position.

It's cheaper buying lights for horse-drawn vehicles than it is paying fines. The regulation is now being enforced.

The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition next week promises to be both education and recreational. And the receipts are all for a good cause.

CATTLE GRAIN, AND PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—After a very dull opening in Wednesday's market, trade picked up in the late afternoon trading, when a fairly good clean up of the heavy hold over of stale cattle was effected. The carry over for yesterday's market was reduced to 135 cattle on sale, mostly of the poorest quality. In addition to the above there are some 800 to 900 cattle of stocker type held over for yesterday's annual stocker and feeder show. These show cattle will be offered for sale this morning.

There are practically no price changes in the cattle section from the week's opening quotations. Choice finished butchers holding steady from $8 to $8.50, extra choice heavy steers $8.25 to $8.75, common and medium from $5.50 to $7.50.

General run of prices as follows:

Choice butcher steers active from $8.25 to $8.75. Choice light steers, $8.25 to $8.50, and choice butcher heifers, $8 to $8.25.

Baby beeves, firm, choice, $12 to $13.

Common steers and heifers, $5 to $5.50.

Choice butcher cows, $5.50 to $6.25; medium, $4.50 to $5.

Bulls, choice, $4.50 to $5; choice butcher, $4.50 to $5.

Springers and milkers, quiet and steady prices.

Stockers and feeders active, good quality feeders from $6.75 to $7.25; heifers, $5.50 to $6.75; delivery country points.

Lambs, choice, steady at $11 to $11.25 tops, best ewes and wethers.

Union Stock Yards—Receipts, 89 cattle, 4 calves, 1,247 sheep and lambs.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

Editor of The Examiner:

In my article on "A European Tour" as published there are ludicrous mistakes. The woman who threw the stool in St. Giles Cathedral was Jenny Geddes not "Jimmy." The chief street of Edinburgh is named Princes not "Princess". As the article stated, it is named after two son of George III. Douai is the correct spelling for the French city Kindly give these correction due publicity.

NUMBER OF TOURISTS.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir:

Your bulletin board statement that there were 82,000 tourists in Ontario this year is likely to cause a misapprehension. The Government return said "tourist parties" which would mean at least 3 times as many tourists. Please correct.

(The item on the bulletin board stated that 82,000 tourists entered Ontario at Windsor. This figure was not given as the total for the province.—Editor) .

THE CONSERVATIVE LEADER

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir:

Next Monday the great Conservative convention at Winnipeg opens. It is to provide the party with a new leader and a declaration of policy. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson is the choice of the party beyond doubt and will be a good leader. He may not be as good a speaker as Sir Robert Borden, Mr. Meighen or Mr. Guthrie but he has succeeded in showing that he has the gift of strategy which is the power of seeing before what others see after. Perhaps a woman may be chosen. They could not do better than choose Mrs. Fallis if a woman is to be selected. It is sure that so tremendous and expensive a gathering will not waste its time by choosing a leader who will not be a "strong one."

CONSERVATIVE.

DISLIKES DRAWING CONTESTS.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir:

I thoroughly enjoyed reading Mr. Scott's letter in Monday night's paper regarding drawing contests.

I am sorry that these contests are becoming popular. No doubt it exhibits the power of draught horses, but in doing so a great many of the horses are abused and some injured.

In cases of necessity with a careful driver it may not hurt a horse to pull a heavy load, but there is also a risk. I know one horse that went stone blind after drawing a load of flour up a steep hill in a town not very far away.

While the use of the whip is not allowed at the drawing contests at our Exhibition grounds, I have seen behind the scenes before the Fair. Seven teams gathered for practice on a side road near our place. These horses were jerked and whipped into straining themselves to draw a rough stoneboat overloaded with pig iron over very uneven ground. This would have been condemned at the Fair, but nevertheless the horses had to put up with it before hand.

If you will notice the best cared for teams are not seen in these contests to be both education and recreational. And the receipts are all for a good cause.

horses will subject them to pull such heavy loads for no other purpose than to amuse a certain class of people.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me valuable space in your paper and I would like to see something more than writing done about this matter.

Sincerely,
MRS. M. V. P.

ABOUT RESTRICTIONS.

To the Editor:

Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.
September 20, 1927.

Yesterday's newspapers carry the announcement that the United States has accepted an invitation to the October 17th Conference of the League of Nations at Geneva, to frame a general Convention "Abolishing Imports and Exports Prohibitions and Restrictions."

Why should the United States (not being a member of the League of Nations), be invited to any League Conference, unless and until she becomes a member? If she is unwilling to sit with the League on the question of World Peace, why should she be permitted to sit in on the question of Trade for the special good of United States.

How fortunate that Canada has a seat on the Council of the League of Nations for the next three years, (and in all probability permanently), as this particular question is by far the most important to Canada that could possibly arise. If Canada had had a seat last May this convention would hardly have been tabled.

Much of Canada's raw material is being exported to the United States and other countries, there to be manufactured into finished products by foreign labor, instead of Canadian labor. Why should Canada allow the rest of the world to back up to her front door and take her raw materials away for a song?

Now that the whole world has wakened up to realize the world's scarcity of raw materials upon which its population may find employment; realizing that it is rapidly being depleted, reaching a famine stage in some countries; that Canada still has far more raw materials than any other country in the world, with the possible exception of Russia; that its retention in Canada until manufactured into finished products by Canadian workmen will eventually make Canada the most prosperous and populous country in the world,—hence the origin of the idea of the "League Convention", "Abolishing Imports and Exports Prohibtions and Restrictions." Why should the United States have a voice in the export, or otherwise, of Canada's raw material?

I presume Japan will heartily favor this proposed Convention, regarding exports, etc., so if carried, they may continue to acquire for a song Canada's raw pulp wood and timber generally, run a ship load of Japs over to our Pacific Cost each year provided with foreign food sufficient for a few months, enabling them to denude our Western forest lands of their most valuable raw material, load it on their ships and take it to Japan for manufacture, leaving perhaps two dollars per cord for expenses in Canada, so they may spend $50.00 per cord in wages in their own country, converting it into finished products for their own uses or for sale.

"The ever increasing improvement in machinery, together with the invention of new processes, will compel the world to consider the problem of the workers, who are made jobless by these methods."

The above sentiment is the substance of many newspaper articles' as well as the discussions of many leading men in Britain, the United States, and other countries.

Canada is blessed with more raw material than any other country in the world. What is her "Immediate Necessity and Exclusive Opportunity?" Is it not to "Conserve these fast depleting natural resources, at least for manufacturer into finished products in Canada before being exported"? Employment is the only thing that will draw immigration anywhere.

Britain's serious difficulty today seems to be lack of employment, therefore many people are in serious distress, by reason of lack of natural resources of her own, and her difficulty in buying raw materials from other countries.

The United States is carefully and earnestly rejecting many new immigrant arrivals, in the hope of avoiding that serious catastrophe awaiting her inability to buy and import raw materials upon which to employ them in the conversion to finished products in their country. Every other country in the world except Canada is approaching or has already reached this condition.

Is Canada going to continue to permit her vast natural resources to be exported, until she is a barren waste except for her gardening, grain and stock growing, or is she going to conserve what she has, and thereby live in luxury longer than any other country in the world?

Yours truly,
W. O. SEALEY.

A Thought For To-day

We all know that war is morally wrong, but we lack the spiritual ammunition to stop it. The whole world knows that war is foolish and we should have common sense enough to save our ammunition, but we seem to lack spiritual strength and good sense, for they are already arranging to bring on another war.

MUSSOLINI AND POPE DISAGREE

Premier Won't Place Holy See On International Basis.

NEGOTIATIONS HALTED.

ROME, Oct. 7.—A fresh deadlock appeared yesterday in the negotiations between the Pope and the Italian state on what is commonly known as the Roman question. Through Count Mattei Gentili, Under Secretary of State for Justice, the Government stresses that Mussolini will not consent to place status of the Holy See upon an international basis.

This is an answer to the Pope's annual reminder that September 20 marks the anniversary of the entry of Italian troops into Rome and the end of the Pope's temporal power 43 years ago. As a protest against this loss, the Pontiff has ever since voluntarily remained in the Vatican palace from the day he is elected until he is buried in the crypt of St. Peter's.

Yesterday it looked as if that "imprisonment" will last for a long time to come. What Pope Pius demands is a guarantee for himself and his successors in St. Peter's chair of complete liberty and independence, manifested to the world in such a manner that no person or government can find any excuse to believe the Pontiff is subject to the Italian Government. Independence of the Pontiff must be backed by international guarantees.

View of Mussolini.

Mussolini characteristically thinks international collaboration not only needless but unthinkable for a first class sovereign power like Italy. In the face of this basic difference of viewpoint, smaller questions like the Pope's demand for his own uncontrolled postal and cable services and a strip of land from Rome to the sea under his complete suzerainty fade into comparative insignificance. Gentili hinted in the course of his press interview that if any Italian statesman can achieve a settlement of the Roman question, it is Mussolini, because no Minister since Italy was free, has ever had such power and prestige. Therefore, it would be wise if the Vatican pondered over the fact that no opportunity for the settlement of this question may ever come again.

ROSENEATH PEOPLE ENJOY FIELD DAY

Good Program of Track and Field Events is Run Off.

ROSENEATH, Oct. 7.—The big field day held on Saturday afternoon by the Roseneath Athletic Association proved in every way a success. It was something unusual to the spectators to have such a program given by the young people of the village and surrounding neighborhood. Many of the sports caused considerable amusement especially the suit case race, wheelbarrow race, hop, step and jump, and pole vaulting. From the tiny little tots to the aged grandparents seemed to enjoy every moment of the afternoon.

The events and prizes are as follows:

Race, boys under 10 years—Earl Radley, Walter Downs.

Race, girls under 10 years—Lois Talling, Marion Towns.

Junior Boys' Events

High jump—Edward Turner, H. Simpson.

Pole vault—H. Simpson, Neil Brisbin.

Running broad jump—Neil Brisbin, Edward Turner.

Standing broad jump—H. Simpson, Frank Nill.

Hop, step and jump—H. Simpson, Edward Turner.

Junior Girls' Event.

Standing broad jump—Avis Towns, Joy Morrison.

Running broad jump—Joy Morrison, Lois Talling.

Hop, step and jump—Lois Talling, Avis Towns.

High jump—Loist Talling, Joy Morrison.

50-yard dash—Lois Talling, Joy Morrison.

Senior Girls' Events.

All won by Miss Mildred Blodgett.

Senior Boys' Events.

Running broad jump—Wilfred G. Davey, Amos Marsden, George Turner.

Standing broad jump—W. G. Davey, Bartin Thackeray, George Turner.

Hop, step and jump—Wilfred G. Davey, Amos Marsden, George Turner.

High jump—Wilfred G. Davey, George Turner, Amos Marsden.

Pole vault—Amos Marsden, Wilfred Davey.

100 Yard dash—Earl Waldie, Wilfred G. Davey, Amos Marsden.

Three mile race—Wilfred G. Davey, Howard H. Lapp, Allan Pacey.

Champions.

Junior girls—Lois Talling.

WILSON'S FLY PADS

Will kill many times more flies for the money than any other fly killer. Each pad will kill flies all day, every day, for three weeks. At all Grocers, Druggists and General Stores — 10c and 25c per package.

Junior boys—H. Simpson.

Senior girls—Mildred Blodgett.

Senior boys—Wilfred G. Davey.

Special Events.

Sack race—Lois Talling, Allan Pacey.

Nail driving—Mrs. R. Crego, Bessie Turner.

Suit case race—Wilfred G. Davey, Betty Montgomery.

Wheelbarrow race—George Turner and Wilfred G. Davey, Neil Brisbin and Edward Turner.

Relay race, four to a team—Earl Waldie, Joe Wilson, George Turner, W. G. Davey; second: Neil Brisbin, Edward Turner, Frank Nill, Clifford Nixon.

Baseball Game.

The ball game between the single men and married men was won by the single men by the score of 11 to 1. For three innings the score was about even but through some heavy batting, mixed with a couple of errors, the single men were enabled to get a lead which they kept.

Leach for the married men had eight strikeouts while Dave for the single men had fifteen strikeouts in seven innings. J. C. Moore and Will Montgomery supplied the batting features, each getting a triple.

The players in the game for the married men were: Frank Shearer, cf; Clarence W. Varcoe, 2b; Bart Thackeray, 1b; R. Brown, 3b: Amos Marsden, c; Merredith Brown, rf; Clifford Leach, p; Keith Halstead, lf; Dr. H. Hershey, ss.

Single men: Jim Eddington, cf; Will Montgomery, rf; J. C. Moore, 1b Joe; Wilson, c; Earl Waldie, 2b; Wilfred G. Davey, p; Howard H. Lapp, 3b; N. Davis, lf; George Turner, ss.

Umpires—Harry Williams and Ernie Crowe.

This is the final baseball game for the season, but the Athletic Association is always busy and before long expects another crowd as large as they had on Saturday, if not larger, and render another treat in sports.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN ENTRANCE CLASS

Prince of Wales Home and School Association Holds Meeting.

The meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association was held on Monday evening in the kindergarten room, with a large attendance of both parents and entrance pupils, Mrs. Worboy, the president, in the chair.

The leading pupils, Miss Mary Kirkwood of Mr. Kerr's room, and Mr. Garth Braund of Mr. Mattice's room were called on to make speeches. Both of these pupils spoke in a very fine manner.

The following took part in the program:

Duet—Messrs. Bob and Tom Allan.

Solo—Miss A. Batten.

Duet—Misses Vera and Freda Kilcher.

Piano solo—Mr. Berwyn Tilcock.

Violin solo—Mr. Roy Rome.

Mr. Mowat then spoke for a few minutes on education, telling the boys and girls the value of education.

Mr. J. A. McKone also spoke to the boys and girls in a humorous way. He congratulated them and presented them with their certificates.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, after which refreshments were served and a social half hour spent.

Mr. Kerr's room won the pennant for the most parents present.

The following pupils were presented with certificates:

Joe Barry, Leslie Batterson, Lottie Beatty, Hazel Bradley, Kenneth Hetherington, Minnie Hodson, Willie Hurst, Grace Irwin, Vera Kilcher, Mary Kirkwood, Lilian Lacey, Florence Lasenby, Willie Masters, Donald Muir, Grace Oliveson, Irene Parsons, Beverley Payne, Margaret Pearson, Herbert Rye, Arnold Sanderson, Jack Smith, Berwyne Tillcock, Hugh Waddell, Gerald Wooll, Marion Worboy, Willie Abbott, Donalda Bayliss, Garth Braund, Myer Cherney, Ruby Colmer, Grace Comstock, Marguerite Cowan, Willie Dale, Irma Darling, Jack Davern, Audrey Grimison, Tom Hatley, George Head, Freda Kilcher, Irene Killingbeck, Dorothy Kimberley, Laurison Marchen, Claire Moore, Harry Murphy, Ruby Panter, Marion Pilling, Ernie Reynolds, George Robertson, Helen Robertson, Ronald Routley, Gladys Thompson, Arthur Watson, Harriet Williams.

Land with a potential value of $200,000,000 is washed away by water every year, according to estimates of geologists.

Only 25 per cent of a 5-cent piece is nickel; the other 75 per cent is copper.

The body of the average man, weighing 150 pounds, contains 10 gallons of water.

THE MARKETS

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press). — There was little foreign demand for any kind of grain on the Montreal market yesterday, and the volume of business transacted was small.

The trade in coarse grains in the domestic market was quiet, the demand being only for odd cars, but as the offerings were small a steady feeling prevailed, and prices were unchanged. The S.S. Adounis arrived here yesterday with a cargo of 225,000 bushels of Argentine corn.

The demand from local and foreign buyers for Spring wheat grades of flour showed no improvement, and values ruled steady. A small business was done in Winter wheat flour and the undertone was firm.

A fairly active business was done in all lines of millfeed at unchanged prices. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and the feeling was firm.

The exports of baled hay from the Port of Montreal to the United Kingdom for the past ten days were 49,123 bales. The export demand yesterday was fair.

The trade in all grades of eggs was fair and the undertone was firm. The receipts were 1,362 cases.

The undertone to the market for beans remained firm on account of the small offerings and the unfavorable reports on the growing crops. The demand was steady and sales of choice white hand-picked were made at $2.60 to $2.75 per bushel, and car lots were quoted at $2.50 per bushel.

Prices for all qualities of butter were well maintained under a small demand. The receipts were 2,048 packages.

The demand from English importers for cheese continued of an indifferent character. The spot trade was also quiet and prices were unchanged. The receipts were 5,668 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Corn led a general advance of grain values yesterday. Predictions current in some quarters that December delivery of corn would soon be selling at $1.00 a bushel received much notice, and unfavorable weather to mature the new corn crop was also a stimulus.

Closing prices for corn were strong, 1¼ to 1¾c net higher, with wheat ½ to 1c up; oats showing ¼ to ⅝ gain, and provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of 17c.

Wheat at first tended lower, but later sympathized with corn strength. Increasing talk of delay to fall seeding of wheat, especially in Kansas, was likewise a bullish influence. On the other hand, weather in the Canadian northwest was better, export demand was slow and arrivals at Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg were heavy.

Provisions averaged higher.

UNREST SPREADS OVER MEXICO DESPITE SUMMARY RETRIBUTION EXACTED BY THE GOVERNMENT

In Morelos, 13 Members of Legislature Executed as Sympathizers.

PREPARE FLEET.

Treasury Calls On Available Funds To Meet Increased Military Expenses.

MEXICO CITY, October 7 (Associated Press). — The staccato roll of the firing squad continues to echo through Mexico, but despite summary retribution exacted by the Government, reports from many points indicate a continuance of revolutionary movements.

General Aldredo Quijana, commander of cavalry in the Mexico City garrison, was taken yesterday virtually from the court-martial chamber, in which he was convicted, to face a firing squad. In Morelos, 15 members of the State Legislature were shot as sympathizers with the Gomez-Serrano revolt.

Despatches to the American border announce that the Mexican treasury had called upon fiscal agents throughout the Republic to transfer available funds to the capital to meet the increased expenses of military operations .

Mexican naval vessels at Vera Cruz prepared yesterday to depart on an unannounced mission.

Railroad rolling stock has been concentrated around Vera Cruz, for use of the Federal military in operations toward Orizabam, indicating a new focal point of unrest there, and disruption of traffic on the Mexican railway has been heightened by the incursion of a rebel group at Passo Nacho.

Still in the Field.

The fate of General Arnulfo Gomez, chief of the rebels since the execution of General Francisco Serrano, remains undetermined definitely, but all reports indicated that he still was in the field.

General Arnulfo Gomez and General Almada, former commanded of the Mexico City garrison, are reported to have joined forces, estimated at about 1,500 men, near Peroto, in the State of Vera Cruz.

Much larger forces of Government troops are advancing upon them. An engagement is expected at any moment.

In the published statements of the Mexican Government ,the Gomez and Almada rebels are the only considerable bodies in revolt, although other reports indicate revolutionary movements of more or less importance in half a dozen states.

Peroto is not far from Jalapa, from which the Government employees were evacuated to the port of Vera Cruz a day or two ago.

"Irish" Monohan Returns to Queen's

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 7.—(Canadian Press.) — Vincent "Irish" Monohan, has set wild rumors about his football career this season by his return to Queen's University where he has registered for the ensuing year. It was stated that Monohan would return to Ottawa and would line up with the Senators in the big four. His return to the Capitol was daily anticipated but still the big line plunging start failed to show up. Yesterday morning, he reported at the University, but will not play football this season. He is determined to get an education, football or no football. Monohan will be greatly missed from the tri-color ranks this season. He is one of the greatest line plungers of the day and his loss to football this season is a heavy one.

ARLIE MARKS PLAY AT CAMPBELLFORD

Good Drama Chosen as Opening Number For

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 7.—L. E. Perrin, presenting Arlie Marks and her players, opened a three-night engagement at the Regent theatre last night. While the house was not entirely sold out, a really good and appreciative audience listened to "Saintly Hypocrites and Honest Sinners," the high quality, three-act drama with which the company chose to open its engagement.

Listed as honest sinners were Tessie Maitland, her sister Mrs. Dean, the Rev. Richard Dean, William Dean, Wally Abbot, Mary Fletcher, and "Old Abe" Stone. Elizabeth Higgins, a gossiping old woman, was one of the saintly hypocrites and Deacon Stromberg another. He was a typical, tight-fisted, money-grabbing old miser.

The play does not in any way slander the church or its organizations, but portrays the meanness and hypocrisy which too often exists in church circles, while on the other hand some of the most goodly and charitable people carry on an unceasing endeavor to assist their fellow men without being in any way connected with these so-called saintly organizations. It is often the case that the poorer classes of humanity do not feel at home in the great, awe-inspiring edifices that are the churches of to-day. They find that they are too often the subjects of the scathing criticism of the self-styled respectable people.

The entire play is characterized by strong passages and leaves a most favorable impression. Each part is well performed. The roles of Tessie Maitland and William Dean, played by Arlie Marks and L. E. Perrin are exceptionally well done. Neither of these artists is a stranger to Campbellford theatre goers. They are always sure of a hearty reception from their audiences. Since their first appearance here some years ago, they have been the favorites of all the companies that book with local theatres in the district.

One of the most amusing scenes is when, in act three, Wally Abbot asks the Rev. Richard Dean for the hand of his wife's sister. Although the entire play sparkles with humor, it does not for a moment neglect the strong moral tone which is the backbone of the whole drama. Those who did not attend missed hearing something really worth while.

SHOT BY MISTAKE.

Albert Murray, Hamilton, Ont., youth, who was shot at Ionia, Mich., by a state police officer in mistake for a bandit he resembled. The coroner found that Murray, who was in a car, did not stop when ordered to do so. Hamilton's mayor wants an official investigation and the matter may cause an international sensation.

FIELD DAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Held For First Time On High School Grounds at Campbellford.

CLOSE COMPETION.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 7—Yesterday the Campbellrord High School established a precedent in its sporting history. Hitherto its Sports Day has been held at the Agricultural Grounds, but the splendid lawns and playgrounds on the property of the school seemed quite suitable for the purpose. The venture was most successful and it is reasonably certain that Field Day will continue to be held there.

Having only arrived at the decision a few hours previously, it was quite impossible to cater to the requirements of a large crowd of spectators and the provision made was taxed to capacity. But the events were run off in quick succession and there was none of the monotonous waiting that so mars the pleasure of attending such affairs.

Of the five champions, two have won the silver trophies for three consecutive years and these now become their personal property. They are Thornton Ibey, senior boy champion, and Marion Clapper of Hastings, girls' junior champion. While some of the decisions were close in the individual events, both champions won their cups by a wide margin. George Siogget is the boys' intermediate champion, and Eddie Bush holds the junior cup for this year. The girls' senior cup will be held by Mary Phillips for the next season.

E. H. Greig, B.A., principal of the school, was in charge of events, with Earle Stevens, B.A., assistant principal, acting in the capacity of starter. The judges were Messrs Geoorge O'Sullivan, William Pearson, John Storie, and Stewart Carr. The prizes will be distributed at a social evening in the school assembly hall this evening, but the presentation of the championship trophies will not take place till the commencement exercises. The list of events and winners follows:

Boys' Hop, Skip and Jump.—Senior: 1 T. Ibey, 2 T. Blute. Intermediate: G. Sloggett, 2 S. Anderson. Junior: 1 E Bush, 2 W. Brennan.

Girls' Potato Race.—Senior: 1 R. Wilson, 2 M. Kingston. Junior: 1 M. Clapper, 2 M. Sargirson.

Image of St. Theresa Appears in Windows

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6.—Thousands gathered yesterday morning before St. Peter Claver's Church here in hopes of seeing the image of St. Theresa, "Little Flower of Jesus," appear in the windows.

More than 100 sisters from charity hospitals here declare they have seen the image. Sisters Ambrose and Martinez, Order of Mount Carmel, from St. James' Church, Gentily, a suburb, tell circumstantial stories of the vision. They describe the saint as dressed in a blue robe wearing a crown "like the king of France." She had a cross over her breast and a bunch of flowers in her hand.

The janitress of St. Peter Claver's School, Jennie Lombardo, declares one elderly woman prayed to the vision for news of her lost son and, returning home, found a letter from him saying he would return within a few days.

BOY BREAKS WRIST.

Bertram Nicholas, 9, Painfully Hurt in Fall.

CAMPBELLFORD October 7. — Bertram Nicholas, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nicholas, Maple street, fell and broke his left wrist yesterday. He is doing favorably.

OBITUARY.

MRS. DANIEL BLACK.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Daniel Black took place yesterday morning at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. Requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father Black of Peterborough, nephew of the deceased. Rev. Father P. J. McGuire, of Peterborough, spoke very highly of the late Mrs. Black during his brief sermon. Rev. Father O'Brien and Rev. Father Phelan also assisted at the service. Interment was made at St. Mary's cemetery.

The deceased was a well known resident of Campbellford. Forty-four years ago she came here, a bride. Her late husband was then in the butcher and cattle business and had not long been out from Ireland. From then till the death of Mr. Black some few years ago, they carried on an active life together, educating their children and building up an ever increasing amount of business. Both Mr. and Mrs. Black were highly respected citizens of the community.

Mrs. Black is survived by her sons, Charles of town, James of Dayton, Ohio, Daniel of New York City, John of New York; and her daughters, Sarah of town, Mrs. W. J. Hawkrigg of Cleveland, Mrs. Commiskey, New York, Sister Adrien of Peterborough, and Helen, who is attending Queen's University, Kingston. Besides the immediate family three nephews were also present at the service, Father Black who sung the mass, Leo Black, and Alex. Black. All three are brothers.

Particularly sad is the arrival of James and his wife from Dayton, Ohio. Realizing that it was quite some time since he had visited his mother, he acted on the impulse and, as he often did, landed in town quite unexpected by the others of the family. He first knew or sensed what had happened when he saw the crepe on the door of the house which had for so many years been his home.

R. C. M. P. HOLDS THE NORTH FOR CANADA

LOOK out into the night sky. See to the north the shafts of ephemeral light shoot upward in cold beauty from the hidden earth far away. Think of vast stretches of the Northland where those fairy fingers gleam overhead! Then pass under the Northern Lights: glide on the wings of fancy, headed for the pole—and meet the outposts of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Sentinels of Civilization, on the roof of the World!

Less than 750 miles from the theoretical point where meridians of longitude meet, the "Riders of the Plains," the "Law of the Yukon"—the most famous police force in the world, is keeping watch the long Arctic winter through, at Bache Peninsula, the most northerly of all the only outposts of the force.

No use looking for Bache Peninsula on your school geography maps. It is on Ellesmere Island, so far beyond the habitations of men that it is actually over the edge of the atlas. And Bache Peninsula is only one of more than a score of little dots on and off the map of the frozen arctic which represent posts where stalwart Canadian sentries begin and end their patrols.

The history of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, beginning in the days when it was simply the North-west Mounted Police, has been romantic to a degree that has immortalised those gallant adventurers who wear its uniform. The mounted officer has been the hero of books and plays and pictures. His dogged perseverance in pursuit of many a desperado on mountain and plain, has been recounted times uncounted. It is much to the credit of the force that its members, generally speaking, have found the often grossly-colored stories of its deeds repugnant in every sense of the word. But there are features of the work of the R. C. M. P. of which novel reader and movie fan know little. That is the task of policing Canada's northlands.

* * * * *

THE THREE PERIODS.

THE work of the force can be divided roughly into three periods. There was the never-to-be-forgotten era when riders in scarlet tunics followed the untrodden trails of the prairies, bringing peace to the great plains where Indian and paleface frequently fought. There was the equally memorable day of the Yukon, even yet associated in our minds with frontier life: and now comes a third era, the day of the Arctic.

From the moment the order was issued for that great march of the Mounted from the Lakes to the Rockies in '74, when the mere sight of superbly-mounted men, half soldiers, half policemen, turned strife into peace, the work of the great Canadian police force has gone on. The same force which stemmed the flood of bad liquor into borderline Indian territories, and which valiantly kept the flag of law and order flying over many a motley crew in the Yukon gold rush of the '90s, is to-day the strong arm of authority, the angel of mercy and justice, and the agent of modern civilization to inhabitants of the Far North.

With the passing years the Canadian government has recognized an ever-increasing sense of duty towards the Eskimo. Modern invention and enterprise, and frequently that hard master, Necessity, has scattered white men all over the north. With them, in front of them, and behind them, have gone the R. C. M. P. Now the prairies have become populated and the lustre of Yukon gold has paled. The pioneer fields of the Mounted has shifted. And who will say that the force has been less efficient in frozen north than on western plain or Yukon mountain?

* * * * *

ELEVEN DEGREES FROM POLE.

ONLY eleven degrees from the Pole, in the lonely, wind-swept archipelago of the north, Mounted policemen travel thousands of miles annually on patrols of inspection and detection. They do not wear the scarlet tunics of former days, and even the khaki and blue uniforms of regulation dress further south, give way to bulky fur garments suited to the bleak lands of raging elements. But they are the same Mounted police, and the widely scattered Eskimo settlements and isolated trading posts know it well. They are the law. Through them speaks the Federal authority at Ottawa, and behind them is a glowing record of heroic deeds and uncompromisingly fulfilled duty.

To the men up north Hudson bay is a happy sphere of warmth and sunshine. How they must smile when, settled around their igloos, safe from raging blizzards, their radio sets bring them reports of heat waves in Florida or earthquakes in Japan. Radio is the one means they have of keeping in touch with the outside world—radio and the annual mail which comes to them at the more southerly trading posts when the annual supply ships arrive.

The arctic outposts of the R. C. M. P. are in those districts of far northern Canada which come under the administration of the Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch of the Department of the Interior. There is close co-operation between the force and the government departments, as headquarters of them all are in Ottawa. In many instances the outposts are at one or other of the old established fur trading centres, although some are far north of any known habitation.

There are R. C. M. P. detachments scattered all over the big islands north of the actual coast-line of Canada. The bulk of the northern posts are around the west coast of Hudson Bay and along the Mackenzie river, from the northern boundaries of the prairie provinces to the Yukon boundary.

* * * * *

LONELIEST POSTS OF ALL.

BUT the newest and loneliest of all string out over Baffin Land, and on away to the Bache Peninsula station, on Ellesmere Island. The work of the R. C. M. P. in the north is graphically explained in the annual reports received at headquarters from the various commandants of outlying districts, and in the splendid summary of the work of the force contained in the report for 1926 recently submitted to the Dominion Government by Lt.-Col. Cortlandt Starnes, Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In a digest of the report, Commissioner Starnes said:—

"Our work in the Far North steadily increases. Our detachments there have been increased by the establishment of a new one at Bache Peninsula on Ellesmere Island, eleven degrees from the Pole. It is in charge of Staff-Sergeant A. H. Joy, an experienced Arctic traveller. I hope in the coming summer to establish another detachment on the south-west coast of Baffin Land, the Eskimo population there being in need of supervision and assistance. There also is need of a detachment on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay."

ROMANCE OF FAR NORTH.

THERE is romance in every line of an annual R. C. M. P. report, particularly since this great super police force commenced its work in the north. Comedy, tragedy, pathos and heroism shine from every page. Inspector C. E. Wilcox, who has charge of all the posts in the eastern half of the Arctic zone, reported on the establishment of the most northerly post, in a matter-of-fact way which failed to disguise the arctic color with which the report was pregnant. Wintering at Ponds Inlet, in northern Baffin Land, he described the weather:—

"Eclipse Sound was entirely free from ice up to the middle of October, when young ice covered the whole Sound.

"The usual storm weather prevailed from the last of September until freeze-up. Blizzards were frequent and heavy snowstorms were also often experienced. During October and November the ground was covered with about two feet of hard snow. The weather became moderate and good when the sun disappeared in November and remained so until March, when severe storms came frequently until late in the spring.

"Local patrols were made during the winter to Eskimo camps at Button point, Navy Board Inlet and Milne Inlet. Two more extensive ones were made during November, December and March and April to Arctic Sound west and south of the detachment and Home Bay, on the east coast of Baffin land, and in conjunction with the above-mentioned patrols all the natives in this district were visited with the exception of a few scattered families whom we were unable to locate. The total mileage covered on these patrols by dog-team was approximately 2,000 miles."

MOUNTIES' GREAT WORK.

EVEN away up north, thousands of miles from towns and cities, the Mounties have found themselves called upon to perform a multitude of different duties, and have done so uncomplainingly, as is illustrated by a report from Inspector Wilcox when he was in detachment headquarters at Ponds Inlet last spring.

"I have the honor to report that, during the months of March and April, 1926, the Igloolik and Arctic Bay natives arrived at Ponds Inlet on their annual trading trip," reads the report. "During their stay it was noticed that some form of sickness, apparently a mild attack of influenza. They were treated by members of the detachment with apparently good results, and early in May they started on their return to their respective hunting grounds.

"About 5 a.m. on May 9, a native named Sonia arrived at the barracks.

"He informed me that many Eskimos of both tribes were ill, the natives being camped at the entrance of Milne Inlet. They expressed a wish that the police visit them with a view of giving them medical assistance. That night at 7 p.m. I left for their camp, accompanied by native Kippomee and fourteen dogs. We arrived at the Igloolik camp at 11 p.m. of May 11.

"I found about 20 igloos at this camp, and fifteen of the residents were ill with a form of pneumonia. The conditions were pitiful in the extreme. The weather was getting warm, with the result that during the day the interior surface of the igloos was thawing, and then freezing at night. As a consequence the interior of the Igloos was a mass of icicles. The floors were covered with about six inches of slush, and to add to their discomfort they were without oil for their lamps. I found three of the women were running temperatures of 105 and 106, and their bodies were covered with sores. As can be readily understood their spirits were very low.

"I immediately made hot tea and gave all a ration of tea and biscuit, and treated those that were sick with Dover powders, poulticed their chests, gave them a laxative. It was very noticeable how their spirits rose after my arrival. I visited all and tried to assure them of their recovery. One instance is typical: in one Igloo I found a young married woman in a very low state of health. Her temperature was around 106, and the natives all told me it was no use doing anything for her. However I told them she would certainly get better and I treated her as I did the others. To my surprise, in a few days she was well and around again. It was to my mind quite illuminating what effect a cup of tea and a little laxative, coupled with a lot of faith, would have on the natives."

* * * * *

CONTACT WITH THE FLOE ICE.

ON THIS particular journey, Inspector Wilcox covered more than two hundred miles. Such missions of mercy were hazardous at best, as he reports:—

"We unexpectedly came in contact with the floe edge, where Penneloo and Keepomee shot two seal, which were very acceptable as we were entirely without meat at this time. This is the most dangerous part of the patrol as the ice is continually breaking off in large pans and drifting out into Baffin Bay. Many a good Eskimo has made his last journey this way. Then came a blizzard. The snow drifted so badly that I lost Constable Timbury, one of my companions, on several occasions. We were constantly getting tangled up with dogs and sligh, and further efforts seemed useless; great difficulty was experienced in locating sufficient snow to build our igloo, but eventually some was found on the lee side of a large iceberg, where we camped for the remainder of the day."

So on and on through the Arctic summer and winter, the patrols of the Mounties are carried out. Some indication of the actual prevailing temperatures which the police of the north have to endure, is given in a report made by Sergeant J. E. F. Wight, in charge of the R. C. M. P. post at Pangnirtung, on the Cumberland gulf in central Baffin land.

Sergeant Wight's despatch, in part, reads:—"The past winter has not been so severe as the last. In November the maximum was plus 39 degrees Fahrenheit, and the minimum, 27 degrees below zero, in February the maximum was 24 degrees above, and the minimum 45 below zero."

* * * * *

THE BIG PATROL.

PERHAPS the feature of the past year's work of the R. C. M. P. in the north was the big patrol from the farthest base at Bache Peninsula, to Axel Heiberg Island, only recently discovered, and to the north-west of Ellesmere Island.

This patrol was made by Staff-Sergeant Joy, who was then in charge at Craig Harbor, on lower Ellesmere Island, and who now has charge of the post at Bache Peninsula. He was accompanied over the whole route by Eskimo Nookapeeungwak, and part of the way by Constables Bain and Dersh, two other R. C. M. P. officers.

Staff-Sergeant Joy journeyed more than 975 miles in forty days, and traversed the little-known western shores of Ellesmere Island and Axel Heiberg. He came upon cairns erected by the American explorers, D. B. MacMillan and Dr. Cook, and lifted them into place with the original record notes of his own patrol.

Contrary to the general belief, the far north is by no means given over to the bear and the seal. Musk oxen abound in most parts of the Arctic, and there are large colonies of caribou and hare at many other places. Other creatures of the north include ptarmigan, walrus and white whales, all of which are shot and their meat placed in caches by trappers and mounted policemen, for food for themselves and their dogs in cases of emergency.

* * * * *

BAD LUCK DOGS' FOOTSTEPS.

BAD luck sometimes dogs the footsteps of the Mounted in the north; when sudden breaking up of ice causes their caches to be carried out to open sea and lost. The work of the force in the semi-frozen islands is probably as dangerous as any white man was ever called upon to perform. Nature in all her awful splendor and strength, is the chief enemy, and only the hardiest can survive. The R. C. M. P. is already chalking up a formidable record against very Nature herself in the far north.

Crimes are by no means as scarce as the small, scattered population would suggest, and the prevailing shortage of women in parts of the arctic has led to many murders, which have given R. C. M. P. officers difficulties almost insurmountable.

Probably no more valuable field workers, from the viewpoint of the ethnologist and geologist, exist, than the R. C. M. P.

With what joy must some scientist have received a notification of the following findings of Constable W. B. MacGregor, of the Hudson Bay sub-district, while on an annual caribou hunt at Baker Lake:—

"Whilst hunting, many deserted native camping sites, graves, caches, etc., were found. Notably at Pah-nah (Ah-o-lah-te-veeng point) a circular camping site of stone construction, with door facing south, 27 paces, outside circumference, and had been originally about four feet high. Some stones composing bottom ring of toopek, would weigh 700 or 800 pounds. Near this ancient village many graves are to be found, including one alongside which repose the hunter's weapons, a broken kayak, double paddle, a single barrel, muzzle-loading gun, with inscription of maker's name, "Barnett, London." Possibly some valuable ethnological specimens could be found, and a fertile source for excavation developed, although, for diplomatic reasons, I refrained from disturbing any of the graves, because the natives, although professing Christianity, as a general rule adhere to the ancient taboo regarding the making of skin clothing, as do the Igloolingmuit, who are a very primitive race."

DEPOSITS OF COAL.

DEPOSITS of coal, mica, graphite, etc., are reported in R. C. M. P. official documents from the north. Natives are employed by the Hudson Bay Company mining graphite in the Cumberland Gulf. Workmen on such jobs are reported to earn as much as $5 per day, a large sum for an Eskimo in the far north.

The value of the members of northern police posts to scientists can hardly be over-estimated. An event even yet undetermined is typical of the use which these detachments can be to officials in other branches of government work.

In order to carry out certain astronomical work of an all-important nature, Canadian astronomers must obtain observations from a locality in the northern islands.

The particular locality from which these observations must be made, is almost inaccessible. But the R. C. M. P. never fails, so a detachment in the north-west territories has been ordered to co-operate with the sc entists. It has been impossible to convey written instructions from Ottawa to the distant officers, but a kindred science, radio-telephony, came to the rescue of the astronomers. Through the kindness of a Un ted States radio station, full instructions have been broadcast, and it is expected that the mounties, who have a radio receiving set with them on their outpost, will do their duty according to tradition.

This time it will be a matter of "getting their bearings" rather than "getting their men."

* * * * *

MURDERS ARE RIFE.

IT HAS already been said that murders are rife among the Eskimo and records at R. C. M. P. headquarters bear out this fact. The Eskimo is a cheerful fellow, who is usually industrious and peace-loving. But there are certain sets of circumstances under which the Eskimo becomes a deadly assassin. To strike the dweller of the north is to invite death, for the Eskimos know nothing of the art of fisticuffs, and do not understand it.

Perhaps nowhere in the world, however, is crime, major crime, more excusable than in the Arctic, for there nature combines to create circumstances which often mean death to an individual to save whole families and tribes.

This explains the horrible prevalence of infanticide among northern island natives. Fortunately this practice is now dying out. Originally the infirm and the aged in Eskimo tribes were put out of the way, also, to make meals more regular for the younger, more sturdy members of the tribes.

Mounted police officers report that the Copper Eskimo, in the territory near the mouth of the Coppermine river, indulged in infanticide until quite recently.

When questioned regarding the matter they admitted to the police that it had been the practice of their people from time immemorial to dispose of newly born children from time to time, but said this was done only when they were hard pressed for food or in many instances when they were travelling in winter time and the mother found it next to impossible to care for and rear the baby. The presence of numbers of young children in the various villages recently visited by patrols, goes to show that this vicious practice is dying out.

* * * * *

HIGH MORAL STAMP.

THE Eskimo, R. C. M. P. detachments have found, are of an exceedingly high moral stamp. Several instances have been recorded which go to show that, under the influence of their spiritual advisers, the natives have come to regard sexual immorality as so heinous an offence as to constitute evidence of insanity, and in one case it was evident that immorality outweighed the guilt of taking human life, as a man who eloped with another's wife was put to death by agreement of the whole tribe.

The administration of justice is a fairly simple task when crimes occur in large urban centres, or in easily reached rural communities, but it is almost impossible to carry on proper court procedure in the practically inaccessible tracts of the north country. However the R. C. M. P. do not recognise the impossible In the late winter of 1919–1920, a young Eskimo of the Paddlemuit tribe in the Baker Lake district of the Northwest Territories, murdered two brothers of the same tribe, in trouble which developed when the murderer, who had barely obtained his majority, stole a wife from one of the brothers. Following some clever and painstaking work on the part of Sergeant W. O. Douglas, in charge at Fullerton, the youthful murderer was arrested and made a full confession.

Bringing the youth to civilization did not by any means solve the problem of how he should be given the trial called for by British law. All witnesses of the crime were natives in the Baker Lake district.

* * * * *

PROCEDURE ADOPTED.

THE R. C. M. P. finally decided, and the Department of Justice approved the following procedure:—

1. An officer of the force, having the powers of a coroner, and such other ranks as necessary, should be sent to Baker lake to conduct an inquest and gather necessary evidence;

2. Preliminary proceedings should be held following the inquest, at Baker Lake, to which point the accused was returned under guard;

3. That a court with the necessary powers be convened and proceed to Chesterfield Inlet on the schooner Nascopie in the following trading season, and dispose of the case, using the crew of the trading ship as a jury.

It was considered that the holding of a court and the disposing of the case at Chesterfield Inlet, in the far north, would have a beneficial and moral effect on the natives among whom murders had become alarmingly prevalent. It was also believed that, from the point of view of economy, it would be less expensive to have a court proceed to Chesterfield Inlet and conduct its business there, than to have all witnesses brought to civilization and held until the Nascopie made her annual trip in 1922.

In accordance with the arrangements Inspector A. E. O. Reames preceded to Chesterfield Inlet by sea, his voyage being protracted by accidents of navigation, so that he did not reach Chesterfield Inlet until September, 1920, and it was early in January, 1921, before he could visit the graves of the murder victims and hold an inquest.

Justice is believed to have been served, without the holding of a formal court to try the young Eskimo, for he fled from confinement and was believed to have perished in a blizzard.

He had behaved with exceptional docility and the only quarters available for the R. C. M. P. detachment near the scene of the crime were ill-adapted to the confinement of a prisoner. When Inspector Reames left to hold inquest, he became greatly excited and fled in the night. He was vigorously pursued but was never seen again. Severe weather prevailed at the time of the escape, and Eskimos and police agree that the murderer never survived raging blizzards.

An exceptional case of murder, which was judged to be practically justifiable, came to the attention of Mounted police outposts who made patrols into Belcher Islands, a little known group in the lower stretches of Hudson Bay.

Inspector J. W. Phillips, who, accompanied by Sergeant A. H. Joy, made the Belcher Island patrol late in 1920, told the following story of the affair:

* * * * *

INFATUATED WITH YOUNG WOMAN.

KETAUSHUK was a member of a band which was miserably poor and barely able to subsist. He had the reputation of being "a bad man after the women." Although married he had become infatuated with a young woman named Ningeeoo, wife of a man named Mukpooloo, and he took her by force from her husband. Contention followed, and Ketaushuk finally became desperate and threatened to shoot anybody who interfered or tried to take the girl away from him. The rest of the band were terrified by his threats and left him. He lived alone for some time in isolated places, with the two women, his wife and Ningeeoo, and became sulky and melancholy. This frame of mind was enough to convince these Eskimos, who are very primitive and superstitious, that he was insane. The band now found itself in a very serious plight, as the men were so alarmed that they were afraid to go abroad to hunt, and the community was threatened with starvation. After having lived in fear for some weeks, a tribal council was held, those conferring being nine men, heads of all the families in the camp.

It was decided that he was insane, that he was too dangerous to be allowed to live, and that he should be killed on the first opportunity by the first man who saw him. Accordingly he was waylaid on his return to his camp from hunting by three men, one of them being Mukpooloo, the injured husband. Mukpooloo, however, apparently losing his nerve, went home before Ketaushuk arrived at his tent. The two others, Tukautauk and Awlarook, with the assistance of the two women, Ketaushuk's wife, and his enforced paramour, took the outlaw unawares, and Tukautauk shot him dead. When he fired the shot Tukautauk was in Ketaushuk's tent, in company with Awlarook and the deceased's wife, while Ningeeoo acted as decoy. Ningeeoo afterwards helped to handle the body, which was buried near the scene of the killing. The entire community, including Ketaushuk's nearest relations, were in full accord with the deed, which seemed to them a proper and necessary step.

* * * * *

INQUEST WAS HELD.

UNDER the direction of Inspector Phillips, an inquest was held, the Inspector acting as Coroner and the white crew of the gasoline launch of the patrol; four in number, constituting the jury. The verdict they rendered, after careful study of all the circumstances, was: "After careful consideration of the statements submitted, we have agreed that the deceased, Ketaushuk, although wilfully murdered by his fellow tribesmen, was killed for the common good and safety of the band, consisting of fifty or more souls. The act, although deliberately committed, was done erroneously at the instance of a council composed of the entire male population (grown) of said band, and entirely without malice or intrigue on the part of the councillors for the reasons that it would prevent immediate starvation of at least the women and children, and that the entire band was in constant fear of said Ketaushuk, considered by the band as non compos mentis."

The verdict added the following recommendation:—

"We therefore strongly recommend, owing to the primitive existence and the total absence of any knowledge of law on the part of the natives of these islands, that no criminal charge be laid against any party to the act, nor any individual to be held responsible. We further recommend that a responsible representative of the Government be sent amongst these people to instruct them in the laws of the country." The authorities took the same view of the matter. Inspector Phillips contented himself, so far as the tragedy was concerned, with warning the tribe to refrain, in future, from taking the law into their own hands, and with explaining to them the course to pursue in the event of any crime being committed by any one of the band.

"These people are not criminals, naturally," the Inspector reports. "Stealing and lying among them are unknown, and on making inquiries I am informed that it has been twenty, and some say forty, years since any killing took place among the Belcher islands previously."

So the work of the Mounted police among these primitive peoples of the north goes on. They are primitive indeed, and it is interesting to note that Dr. Henri M. Ami, eminent Canadian scientist, and head of the Canadian School of Prehistory, has recently established that they are closely related to the Cromanian men who were the early inhabitants of Southern France. They still bear traits of the stone age and even earlier eras, and the Mounted are just beginning to teach them of the outside world, so much further advanced than themselves and to give them the benefit of civilization.

HARD STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE.

AWAY north of more congenial climes, these Eskimos have a hard struggle for existence, and starvation is a common terror. They live entirely on seals and fish, in many districts, but when sealing is not good and nets are scarce, it is not an uncommon thing for them to have resort to mice, roots and berries for many days at a stretch to avoid starvation.

Modern invention has reached them in one important respect; however R. C. M. P. officers have been surprised to find what a great number of rifles have been distributed among the Eskimos during the short period traders have been in the country. Practically every native on the mainland is the owner of a rifle now, and even the natives on the far-off Victoria Land have given up the bow and arrow almost entirely, and offer them to visitors as souvenirs.

Traders and police officers have found that currency has no recognized value among them, and have had to resort to barter to obtain necessities in many cases.

Like all native peoples, in the primitive state, they understand peculiar dances, and special igloos have been built in many villages as dance halls for entertaintertainment in stormy weather when sealing is impracticable.

Some small idea of just what a Mounted police officer's duties in the Arctic include, may be gained from the following instructions issued to Staff-Sergeant A. H. Joy when, in July, 1921, he was placed in command of a new post at Pond's Inlet:—

"A detachment is to be establishment at Ponds Inlet, Baffin Land, and you have been selected to take charge of it.

"You have been appointed a justice of the peace in the Northwest Territories in which Baffin Land is situated; a coroner, a special officer of the Customs, and postmaster of a post office located at Ponds Inlet.

"Your general duty is to enforce law and order in all the district tributary to Ponds Inlet, and the authority given you as a justice of the peace and coroner will enable you to deal with most cases which may arise of any infraction of the law.

"As a special officer of the customs, it will be your duty to enforce the customs laws and carry out the detailed instructions issued you by the Customs department. As postmaster at Ponds Inlet, it will be your duty to carry on these duties in accordance with the post office regulations.

"Arrangements are made for your board and lodgings with the Hudson's Bay Company post at Ponds Inlet. Although you are indebted to the Hudson's Bay Company for your transportation and board and lodgings, and many other necessary requirements, still you must bear in mind that you are a servant of the Government and must deal with all trading companies on an equal footing.

"I rely upon your good judgment and previous experience to carry out your important duties with credit to yourself and to the satisfaction of headquarters.

(Signed) "A. BOWEN PERRY,
"Commissioner."

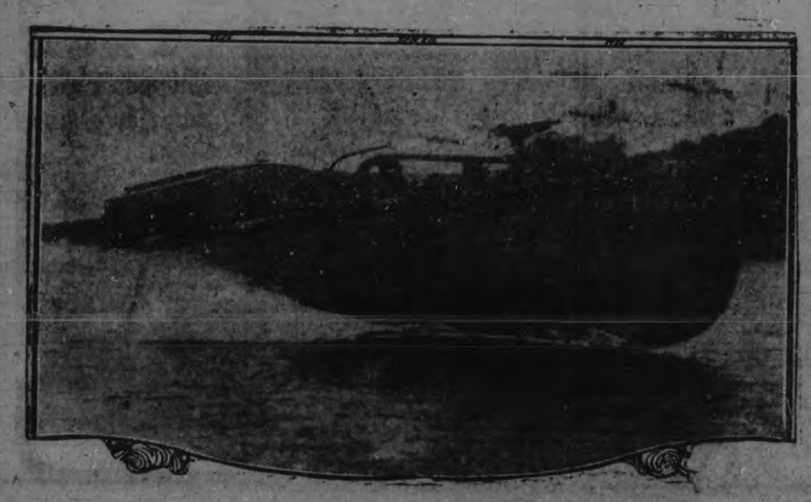
In addition to the customs, post office, justice and other departmental regulations with which these R. C. M. P. post commanders must be familiar, there are the Migratory Birds Act, Naturalisation Act, Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, Public Health Act, Fisheries Act, Shipping Act, Temperance Act, Immigration Act, Indian Act, Leprosy Act, Foods and Drugs Act, Radiotelegraph Act, and a host of other Dominion and provincial statutes which must be enforced.

The work of the R. C. M. P. in the north is a big undertaking. It is safe to say that few organizations exist which could handle it, but those who read the record of the force, and who have had the pleasure and honor of meeting the men of outstanding ability who comprise it, have no fear for the administration of the nation's affairs even on its far-flung frontiers, when left in such competent hands.

LOST BRITIS H AVIATORS

Captain Leslie Hamilton, Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and Col. F. F. Minchin, whose plane, the Saint Raphael, has never been reported since it crossed the Irish coast on its way across the Atlantic, are shown just before the take-off at Upavon airdrome, England. The Princess is in flying costume, but her escorts of the air had not yet changed to the regulation aviation uniform.

NEW PREVENTIVE CRAFT



Two swift motor boats with 290 horsepower engines and a speed in the open sea of 38 miles an hour, have just been put into commission by F. W. Cowan, chief of the Canadian Customs preventive service. In the indented coast of Nova Scotia there are many shallow bays in which the rum runners have run their motor boats with impunity, the revenue cruisers being unable to follow them in the shallow waters. W. D. Euler immediately ordered that the rum runners be beaten at their own game and ordered two fast motorboats, the first of six. Mr. Cowan superintended the design which follows the lines of the famous Thorneycroft sub-chasers which stood the terrific pounding of the North Sea during the war and kept the seas in all weathers. These boats were built at Gravenhurst, Ont. They cost about $10,000 each and are armed with a Maxim machine gun and searchlight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

HOW GOD SPEAKS TO MEN

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for October 9. How God Speaks to Men. 1 Kings 19:9-18.

(By Wm. E. Gilroy, D.D., Editor of The Congregationalist.)

Text: 1 Kings 19:9-18.

And he came thither unto a cave and lodged there; and, behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and he said unto him, What doest thou here, Elijah?

And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts, for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and break in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake.

And after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice.

And it was so, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave. And, behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What doest thou here, Elijah?

And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts: because the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

And the Lord said unto him, Go, return on thy way to the wilderness of Damascus; and when thou comest, anoint Hazael to be king over Syria:

And Jehu the son of Nimshi shalt thou anoint to be king over Israel: and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah shalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

And it shall come to pass, that him that escapeth the sword of Hazael shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu shall Elisha slay.

Yet I have left me seven thousand in Israel, all the trees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him.

Elijah was in the wilderness fighting his worst enemy and ours—discouragement. It seems amazing that Elijah should have been discouraged and should have gone off to the wilderness, praying that he might die, in the very hour of his signal triumph over the prophets of Baal and his complete vindication.

The fact, however, is not untypical in life. The general theory that discouragement lays hold of men in their hours of defeat, but that they never feel it in their hours of victory is not upheld by all experience. There are men who can fight without flinching as long as they are beset with difficulties and dangers, who never think of giving in, but who in the hour of their triumph are face to face with the most crucial moral and spiritual dangers. As a general thing it may be said that the hour of success and victory is the hour in which a man needs to look most carefully to his spiritual safety.

Moreover, in his moods and discouragements man has a strange faculty of being just where he ought not to be. Here was Elijah running off to the desert, asking to die and bemoaning the fact that Israel had forsaken God and that of the faithful he only was left, at the very time that 7,000 in Israel had not bowed the knee to Baal and in the very hour when he had emerged to triumph and splendid leadership.

Enemy of Discouragement.

It is true that a woman had threatened his life, but one cannot entertain the thought that Elijah was either a moral or a physical coward and had run off to the wilderness simply to escape from the threats of Jezebel. It was this more terrible enemy of discouragement with which he was battling, and in one sense he lost, for though God called him from his discouragement he had been apparently so broken with his possibility of leadership that his passing and the coming of Elisha as his successor were announced.

God spoke to Elijah in the still small voice, and this is the first great lesson for discouraged people or for people who are tempted to discouragement. So often in our discouragement we look for some great outward thing to rouse us and strengthen us. We are concerned about winds and earthquakes, but reviving power comes in quiet and unexpected ways.

Another of the signal ways of getting away from discouragement is getting where we ought to be. The Divine Voice said to Elijah, "What doest thou here?" It may be that there are times when people need rest and relaxation, when new faith and new hope revive us one goes aside to pray; there were times in the life of our Lord when he went into the mountain and continued all night in prayer.

But there are other times when the only hope of the soul is in activity and stimulation. In our discouragement we are apt to turn to ways of loneliness when we ought to be seeking the help of fellowship and communion. We are apt to neglect our tasks when we ought with rigid discipline to be finding something to do.

The Still, Small Voice.

How did God speak to Elijah? Very much as he speaks to us. The man who has not the capacity to hear the still, small voice is not the sort of man who is going to hear God's voice though it speak in wind or earthquake.

The power to hear the Divine Voice in the past has not been some strange and miraculous thing, it has come rather from the attuning of the soul in righteousness and sincerity and in willingness to obey.

The secret of Paul's life, for instance, was not in the heavenly vision that he spoke of coming to him on the way to Damascus. It was in his readiness to obey. He summed up the profound reality of his life when he said to King Agrippa, "Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

Much of the discouragement of life would disappear if we would watch ourselves in the moments when all is well, particularly if we would seek to safeguard ourselves against moral and spiritual reaction, especially if in addition to this we would get where we ought to be, and become busy with the thing that we ought to be doing.

Are Parents People?

1—Does the present day parent compare favourably or unfavourably with the parent of past generations?

2—To what extent can parents be blamed for juvenile delinquency? And in what respects?

3—Can a parent, by controlling environment and companionship, mould the character of the child as desired?

4—Do you believe in the principle of parent education? If so, what should it include?

5—At what age do you think parent education should start? Should it be before or after marriage?

6—Do you think the inclusion of health as a major topic in a parent education scheme might do much to increase the physical well-being of the country?

(By Dr. James L. Hughes, Former Chief Inspector of Schools, Toronto.)

1—Most of the training now is better than it was formerly. Until recently, nearly all child training was negative—and therefore nil. God made children to be doers. The old training, still practised in most of the homes and schools, made them "donters" and "stoppers" and thus robbed them of power. Coercion never kindled a soul, but blighted every soul it was used to influence. Comradeship has been taking the place of coercion, and, therefore, especially in schools, conditions are not so destructive of character and of development so that it may enjoy

2—Parents who stop children from doing things they plan for themselves, rob their children of power and character—real, vital character. The parents should, from the beginning of a child's conscious life, provide it with material suitable to its stage life by doing things it plans. That is the only way that child or man can take a step toward the divine—by achieving the visions that come into the mind.

Parents who are not comrade-partners of their children never truly guide them.

Many parents mislead their children by threatening them with punishment from God.

These children can never love God and so lose the true basis of character.

3—I do not like the word "mould" in regard to child training. Children should be allowed to develop—not moulded. A thousand things that have been moulded are each like all the others. No two children in the same family are born with the same powers. Each child has a "selfhood" or individuality, and the development of that selfhood is the most essential element in its true training. Yet parents and teachers, until recently, have really tried to mould them and make them all alike. Companionship—real companionship that does not degenerate into "bossism" or punishment, and recognizes that the child is entitled to a real life of its own, is the most vital influence in a child's true development.

4—I believe that High School students should be taught the basic principles of wise training of children. If properly taught, it would surely rank high in the list of High School studies as an agency in producing genuine happiness in the homes of the world by training children in a method directly opposite to that still practised in most homes.

The best thing I can suggest is the preparation of a book on true child development and the passing of a law that the groom in each marriage should produce the book at his wedding with his name on the title page.

5—It should start in the secondary schools and be continued and applied after marriage. I am afraid that only a small percentage of married people would join classes to take lessons. Classes should be organized for the large proportion of students that never go to High Schools which they could attend before marriage.

6—I am afraid that it is too late, when men and women reach maturity, to begin their physical development. Health of body should be one of the major elements in the training given both in Public and High Schools. It is more important than knowledge-storing.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN OFFICIALLY STARTED

Hon. George S. Henry Broadcasts Appeal for Co-operation.

TORONTO, Oct. 7. — Speaking over the radio on Wednesday night, Hon. George S. Henry, chairman of the executive of the Highway Safety Committee formally inaugurated the campaign for greater care and courtesy on the highways throughout the province of Ontario.

"The campaign we are starting this evening for carefulness in driving," said Hon. Mr. Henry, "is not one that will continue for a couple of weeks or so and then stop. Care needs to be used 52 weeks in the year, and we intend to keep that fact continually before the public. Education we think, can accomplish a great deal but for those who, in spite of warning, continue to drive recklessly, we purpose to take other means of curbing.

"The reckless driver must be removed from our highways, and he will be kept in check either behind the bars of a jail or by having his license taken away from him. The driver who is merely incompetent we are trying to eliminate by the new system of personal license, but it take time."

Mr. Henry mentioned that during the next two week intensive efforts would be made "with the object of creating a keener traffic consciousness among our citizens." He stated that there are now 370,000 cars owned in Ontario, but on a given day recently visiting cars had actually outnumbered those owned in the province. The Minister pinned responsibility down to the individual motor driver adding that the man behind the steering wheel of a car was "as much an instrument for potential detruction as the man with his finger on the trigger of a gun."

Mr. Henry stressed this individual responsibility of the driver by stating that he must see that his car is in good shape, that brakes are efficient and that the headlights do not glare. The Minister instanced a few of the rules of the road, and added that the application of these rules plus courtesy and common sense would be the great accident preventative.

He urged the public generally to co-operate in the campaign stating that safety talks would be given over the radio; that motion picture houses were assisting; that advertisements would appear in the newspapers and that public organizations and service clubs were taking up the problem.

"Remember always," concluded Mr. Henry, "That accidents will be largely eliminated by the exercise of care, courtesy and common sense."

It was stated at the Highways department that within a few days every garage and filling station would be given stickers to put on the lower right hand corner of windshields reading: "I'm for care and courtesy. Are you?" Motorists are to be asked to display these in the hope of driving home the purpose of the campaign. Posters and newspaper advertisements would also be used.

HUGE FLYING BOATS USED ON LONG TRIP

R. A. F. Men Leave England in October for 25,000 Cruise.

HEADING FOR INDIA

Machines Carry Crews of Four and Are Equipped With Bunks.

LONDON, Oct. 7 (By Canadian Press).—All summer preparations have been going forward for the great cruise to be made by officers and men of the Royal Air Force in four huge supermarine Southampton flying boats. A start will probably be made this month on a flight that eventually will cover about 25,000 miles.

The machines, whose equipment is being completed, will each carry a crew of four, and the first objective of the expedition will be Singapore. Here they will be met by Royal Australian Air Force men in two similar machines, and the six will continue to Australia and around the Australian seaboard.

The cruise is to test the capabilities of the metal hulls of which the machines are constructed; to reconnoitre the eastern route with a special eye to likely sites for seaplane bases, and generally, show the R.A.F. ensign right across the world.

The commander of the flight will be Captain Cave Browne-Cave, D.S.O., D.F.C., one of Britain's most distinguished aces. Squadron-leader G. E. Livock will be second in command.

The flying boats to be used are equipped with two Napier-Lion 450 horsepower engines each. Their metal hulls, it is believed, will give them longer life in the water than wooden hulls, and the hulls are roomy enough to provide ample space for a navigator's chart table and wireless operator's section, with directional wireless.

Gunnery and control cockpits are features of the machines, which contain collapsible bunks so that the crew of four men each can sleep aboard.

Serviceability and not speed is the main idea in the flight. Two spare machines of the same type will be first sent to Singapore as reserves for use if necessary.

Two more boats of the same type, but with wooden hulls, are being completed here for the Australian government, and these are the ones which join the flight at Singapore.

The flight will coast all round India up to Calcutta, probably calling at Colombo en route. A seaplane flight round the Indian coast has never yet been made, for the seaplanes of Colonel de Pinedo and Sir Alan Cobham crossed India by means of the rivers. Singapore will be the next important port of call, and in view of the naval developments there the visit of this flight will certainly be of considerable importance. Probably the Australian flight will meet the home flight there, and both will then proceed to Darwin and round the west and south coasts of Australia to Melbourne. The most difficult part of this last stage is crossing the Great Australian Bight. But Wing Commander Cyoble once flew across the Bight in a Fairey float seaplane, so the six Southamptons ought to be able to manage it.

The whole cruise will cover some 25,000 miles, and in all probability Group Captain Cave Browne-Cave and his party will be away from home for the best part of a year.

POWER USERS STATE REASONS

Won't Sign Contracts Binding On Houses For Twenty Years.

The objections of the rural light users who have not signed their contracts and who are having their light discontinued, are that the Electric Power Commission is asking them to sign a contract for a period of 20 years which will go with the building when it is sold. The owners object to this, saying that a prospective buyer might not want the light. There is also no stated price in the contract for the kilowatt hour for that term of years.

MANY PLAY HARMONICA.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 7. — More than 60,000 Americans are adepts at the mouth organ, according to a report of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Fifty harmonica enthusiasts in Philadelphia have formed an orchestra which plays even classical symphonies.

BEWARE OF BLADDER WEAKNESS GETTING-UP-NIGHTS

Disturbed Rest Undermines Health, Saps Vitality, States Physician Who Recommends Home Treatment

Men and women who are constantly annoyed and distressed by Bladder Weakness or Urinary Irritations should take immediate steps to combat their trouble before it reaches a serious or perhaps dangerous stage!

Backaches, Headaches, pains in feet and legs, nervousness, restlessness, frequent but scanty urination with burning and pain, getting-up-nights—these are some of the more troublesome signs of Bladder Weakness or Irritation that should have prompt attention.

No matter how stubborn your case may seem to be or how many different medicines you have tried without success—don't give up, and think your case hopeless or the natural consequence of advancing years, until you have tried the special private prescription of Dr. Southworth, a physician of nearly 50 years successful experience.

In order to reach the many thousands who cannot come to his office, Dr. Southworth has placed his URATABS in good, local drug stores—and invites you to try them without risk of cost, unless pleased. If URATABS bring you swift and certain comfort you will be happy. If they do not satisfy, they will cost you nothing—so, if you need this grand medicine, try it today! All good druggists.

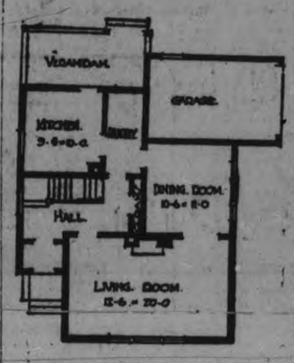
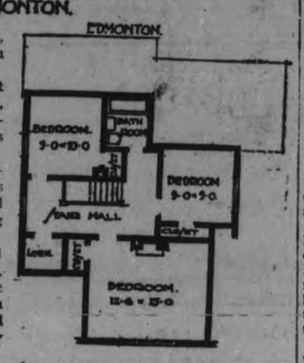
RICHARD P. BLAKEY. F.R.I.B.A. ARCHITECT. EDMONTON.



GROUND FLOOR PLAN.



SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

SIX ROOMS AND BUILT-IN GARAGE

By Richard P. Blakey, F.R.I.B.A.

Here is a true rendition of the English style in which artifice plays no part. Elaborate detail has not been indulged in, the detail work being confined to the simple brackets supporting the entrance canopy, and the graceful entrance gate which combines so harmoniously with this type of home.

As the importance of ornamentation diminishes, however, the less expensively obtained part of colour and texture increases, and here this demand has been adequately met by the use of cream stucco walls, wood shingle roof, and green painted woodwork with cream window sash.

The hall, which contains a wide coat cupboard is of distinctive appearance, with a rather unusually planned stairway, under which the basement stairs are located.

Directly opposite the mullioned window in the good size living room, is the fireplace, beside which doors glazed in small lights give access to the dining room.

Silver grey paint has been used throughout for the interior woodwork, giving the owner freedom from trouble resulting from colour discord between the trim and furniture, for a neutral grey harmonizes with practically any other colour.

A pantry, having a door into the main hall, is located between the kitchen and dining room. No equipment is shown in the kitchen, allowing the housewife, whose domain it is, scope to arrange this as she may, while considering, of course, the architect's advice.

Three bedrooms with clothes closets, a linen closet, and a bathroom, comprise the second floor accommodation. The front bedroom, which is the largest, contains a tiled fireplace directly above that in the living room.

Second only to electricity, the cost and limited supply of which prevents its use, gas is the cleanest and most convenient fuel. Here it is used in combination with a hot air furnace, and one may easily imagine the ease and rapidity with which the house may be heated.

A 40 ft. by 150 ft. lot provides ample space for the garden, both front and rear, shrubs, and hedges, which seem so necessary to the English style home.

The cost of this house exclusive of lot is approximately $5,500, which low figure may be largely accounted for by the absence of expensive "frills."

Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the architect direct. Address Mr. Richard P. Blakey, F.R.I.B.A., 412 Empire Block, Edmonton, Alberta.

Railways and Parks Committee.

The Railways and Parks Committee reported as follows:

We recommend that the chairman of this committee be authorized to purchase a gasoline mower from the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, at a price not exceeding $150.00, and have it put in good repair.

We received a letter from Albert Wray saying that he would sell the brick part of the building used as a mattress factory to the city for $1,000. We recommend that Mr. Wray be informed that the council will not purchase that part of the building and that he be asked to remove the whole building as soon as possible.

We recommend that the chairman of this committee, the chairman of the Board of Works, and the mayor look into the improving of the small parks at the corner of Charlotte and Park Streets and the corner of Park and Rink Streets and report to the council.

We recommend that the plot of ground at Park and Rink Streets be handed over to this committee to look after.

We recommend that the planting of the peonies sent to this city by the Prince of Wales be left with the chairman of this committee.

Board of Works.

The Board of Works reported and recommended as follows:

That no more of the street railway rails be sold and that those removed from the streets be stored.

That an application from George Hardwick for a position at the Sewage Disposal Plant be referred to the special committee on that subject.

That the superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway be informed, in reply to his enquiry, that the rail-crossing put in by them is very satisfactory and that this council will be pleased if the other crossings are improved in the same way.

That notice be given of the intention of the council to construct a cement sidewalk, as a local improvement, on the east side of the Monaghan Road, from Murray Street to Walnut Street under Section 8 of the Local Improvement Act.

That the legal department of the Canadian National Railways be informed, in reply to their request that this city assume part of the cost of the maintenance of gates previously paid by the street railway, that this city never owned the street railway and that it is not liable for any of the cost at the crossings formerly paid by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

That the city engineer be requested to report fully on the construction of a sewer on Elcome Crescent and Smith Street at the next meeting of the board.

That the chairman of this board and the city engineer be authorized to purchase a pump with a suitable motor for use at the Sewage Disposal Plant, to be purchased in this city if possible.

That the city engineer be authorized to construct a curb on the west side of Park Street at the DeLaval factory, the cost to be paid by the DeLaval Company.

That the city engineer be authorized to advertise for tenders for snow removal in the coming season.

That the city engineer and Alderman Hancock be authorized to have cinder paths made on Dunlop Street, Auburn Street, and River Road.

That a drain be constructed on Chamberlen Street from Lafayette Avenue to Park Street.

BEGGARS USE OLD STORIES

Repertoire of Montreal Hard-Luck Artists is Meagre.

APPEALS MONOTONOUS

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Montreal's beggars lack imagination. Though they are many and ambitious, their repertoire of hard-luck stories is meagre. Their motto apparently is to "stick to a good tale when you find one," and in consequence their appeals to the pocketbook have taken on a wearisome monotony.

There is the lachrymose recital of the woebegone gentleman who has just arrived in the city and has been expeditiously "rolled," leaving him penniless and minus his watch and chain—usually a valued family heirloom. Furtively he pleads for the price of a bed and a bowl of soup.

It is hard to take an evening stroll along St. Catharine Street East, St. Lawrence Boulevard or Craig street without meeting that benefactor of mankind, the "car ticket salesman." With fine generosity, he offers to sell one a seven-cent tram ticket for five cents, offering a sad story of starving wife and children in explanation of the bargain. He gleans many nickels and even some dimes and quarters in this manner, but he would be greatly disconcerted if anybody ever took the car ticket.

"Beg pardon, brother," opens another pursuer of loose change, "but I wonder if you could help me out with a quarter? I've been out of work for a month and now there's a good job open for me in Ottawa. I just need a quarter to complete my railway fare. If you would-lend it to me . . ."

If one escapes him unscathed, one will probably be accosted at the next corner by an ill-clad and unsavory ancient.

"Mister, do you speak English?" he queries, laying a detaining hand upon one's arm. In such a polyglot city as Montreal this question often gains momentary attention and the panhandler is able to launch upon the history of his misfortunes before the intended victim has collected his wits.

Even during the summer months when employment conditions are at their best, all cities abound in beggars and Montreal has its full quota, despite the unsympathetic attitude of the police. During the season of navigation, some of the most accomplished panhandlers acquire a nautical gait.

Though they have a more intimate acquaintance with foam-topped "schooners" than with any of the vessels to be seen in the harbor, they can recite moving tales of how they have missed their ships and become stranded in a strange port. With the approach of winter, these professionals usually abandon the sea and become veterans of the war.

BREWERY HEADS IN PETERBOROUGH

Express Great Satisfaction in Site Chosen For Brewery.

Bernard Hyman, noted realtor of Buffalo and Bridgeburg, accompanied by Mr. Gardner, president of the Gardner Construction Co. of Welland, paid a flying visit to Peterborough yesterday, inspecting the site of the Peterborough Brewery. They expressed great satisfaction at the progress being made, and informed The Examiner that the plans were now complete and that construction work would begin in the course of the next week or ten days.

"Various experts that I have had look at the present site are unanimous in saying that we have the best site and prospects of any brewery in the Dominion of Canada," said Mr. Hyman. "I am naturally quite enthused myself, and am possibly spending more time from my real estate business than I had allotted, but I believe I will be amply repaid, as I have never entered into an enterprise that shows better prospects of success."

Mr. Gardner was equally enthusiastic. "I had expected big things here, as my friend, Mr. Hyman makes few mistakes in business," he said, "but the prospects are beyond my expectations. You've got everything, transportation, water, plenty of land, perfect location, and a wonderful foundation upon which to build the brewery. The work done was perfect and the steel is as good as the day it left the plant."

The party left on their return journey by motor to Buffalo enthusiastic over Peterborough.

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, McDonnel street, entertained at three tables of bridge on Wednesday evening for Miss Marion Hayes, a bride-elect of the month whose marriage takes place next week. Miss Hayes was presented with a lovely silver comporte, the gift of the Bridge Club of which she was a member last season. Decorations of the table where buffet refreshments were served were in pink and white, an effective arrangement being centred by a "Fortune" cake topped by tiny pink candles and banked by pink tulle, with tall rose candles in silver holders and a minature bride and bridegroom completing a dainty decorative scheme.

* * *

Mrs. Arthur Brown, of Winnipeg, accompanied by her sister, Miss Marguerite Merrell arrived in the city this week.

* * *

Dr. H. J. Long is in Toronto attending the centenary celebrations of the University of Toronto.

Miss Madeline McMahon of the office staff of the Frost and Wood Company, Smith's Falls, accompanied by her sister, Miss Florence McMahon, of Merrickville, who have been spending a fortnight's vacation with relatives in Rochester and Toronto, spent the week end with their aunt, Miss M. O'Connell, 451 Armour Road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. A. Laidley, of Omemee, announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace Evelyn, to Mr. George R. Langdon, of Lindsay, the marriage to take place in October.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Conroy, Reid street, left yesterday by motor to spent the winter in Edmonton, Alberta.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mann, Dublin street, entertained the members of St. John's church choir and their friends at their home last evening.

* * *

Mr. James P. Donald, of Lindsay, is sailing this week on the Megantic for Liverpool, and after visiting Scotland and France, will embark from there for the Orient, where he will visit his son, who is a missionary of the United Church of Canada in Central India. Mr. Donald expects to return with his son when he comes back on furlough in 1930.

Lt.Colonel and Mrs. McAmmond, of the Salvation Army Corps in Hamilton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boorman, Queen street.

* * *

Mrs. R. McQuaid is down from Toronto over the week end.

* * *

Mrs. A. H. Carman (formerly Elsie Mowat) and children, of Picton, Ontario, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mowat, Water street.

Brigadier Bloss of the Salvation Army, Toronto, is the guest of Commandant and Mrs. Frank Ham, King street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis and Miss Constance Lewis were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harem Alsop of Claremont on the occasion of the celebration on October 3rd of the latter's golden wedding anniversary.

Miss Rhoda Sargent of Oshawa has returned home after spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Alan Pilling, Murray Street.

Miss Mabel Clarry, organist and choir leader at Trinity United Church, and the members of the choir, were at home to members of Trinity Church congregation at the church last evening, when between two and three hundred people attended for a very enjoyable evening of music provided entirely by choir members, and rendered in the church, followed by the service later of dainty refreshments, when the lower rooms were very attractively decorated with a profusion of flags, autumn leaves and foliages entwining the pillars. Autumn leaves and flowers decorated the tables, with brass candlesticks holding green candles. Coffee was poured by Mesdames W. R. Widdess, R. Nichols, D. Wall and Miss L. Emerson, assisted by girl members of the choir. The musical programme, for which organ accompaniments were played by Miss Clarry, included two numbers by the choir, singing Medcalfe's "He that Dwelleth," and Pinsuti's "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved," songs by Mrs. W. Hohner, singing "Yesterday and To-day," "Slumber Song," and "The Unforeseen," songs by Mrs. D. Wall, singing "A Dream of Paradise," song by Miss Margaret Wolstenholme, "Arise, O Sun," song by Miss Margaret Dickson, "Shepherd, Thy Demeanor Vary," and songs by Miss Alma Blanchard, "Melisande in the Wood" and "A Lullaby."

Ensign Scott of the Salvation Army Corps at Wychwood, Toronto, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, Reid Street.

Friends of Mrs. J. Nazimok, George Street, will regret to learn that she went to Toronto today, to undergo an operation in a hospital there for the removal of a piece of glass from her hand.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Werry of Bowmanville announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Georgina, to Mr. Clarence H. Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rowan of Bethany, Ontario; the wedding to take place quietly during the latter part of October.

* * *

At the recent annual meeting of the Toronto Archdiocesan branch of the Catholic Women's League, held at Orillia, one of the special speakers for the occasion was Rev. J. McAuley of Ennismore. Judge D. O.Connell of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, also addressed the gathering, at which nine sub-divisions were represented.

Captain Zarfas of the Salvation Army Corps in Port Colborne, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, Reid Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Reesor of Markham are guests of their niece, Mrs. James Lewis, Aylmer Street.

Vestees are Smart This Season

This chic little frock is suitable for all daytime wear, and would be very smart if fashioned of silk or soft woollen material. An inverted plait at each side seam provides for skirt fulness, and the sleeves are long and gathered into narrow wrist-bands, or short with the lower edge turned back to form pointed cuffs. The tucked vestee and round collar may be of matching or contrasting material, and a trim belt fastens with a buckle at the front. No. 1665 is in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 years requires 2⅛ yards 36-inch, or 1⅞ yards 54-inch material for the dress; ¼ yard less for short sleeves; ⅝ yard additional 36-inch material for vestee and collar. Price 20 cents the pattern.

SAINT and SINNER

"You two," Faith began, with an elaborate attempt at cheerfulness and casualuess, "have been quarreling. What is the bone of contention?"

Her calm brown eyes glanced keenly at her husband's flushed, moody face, with its veiled, sullen blue eyes and steru-set mouth, then at Cherry's small face, paler than usual, but domiuated by burning-bright golden eyes. Cherry's little rouged lower lip was thrust out like a poutiug child's.

"Oh, he's raisiug the roof because I rented that little office today to a perfectly marvelous tenant," Cherry retorted bitterly. "Instead of thankiug me for getting ten dollars a month more than he had intended to ask, aud for signing this tenant on a year's lease, with the last mouth's rent as security, he gives me Hail Columbia—"

"You know perfectly well why I am sore," Bob interrupted her savagely, as he ungraciously accepted his filled dinner plate from Faith. "She simply took advantge of my absence fromr the office, Faith, to rent the place ove my head to a man I wouldu't have had around me for twice the rent she's so proud of having vamped him iuto paying."

"Is this new tenant so undesirable? Who is he?" asked Faith.

"Uudesirable!" Cherry echoed scornfully. "Please pass the bread, Faith. I wish to heaven you'd have somethiug besides this heavy brown bread. It scratches my throat. The new tenaut is simply glorious, Faith darling," her toue changed to lilting joyousness with the rapidity which was peculiarly Cherry's. "He's the most romantic looking thing I ever saw, smoldering black eyes—"

"He's a damned faker, that's what he is," Bob began violently.

"Shut up!" Cherry shrilled. "How do you know he's a faker? His lesson charts look simply wonderful to me. He teaches dancing by mail, Faith—"

"Not Hutchisnon, surely!" Faith was startled. How clearly she remembered Brady Hutchinson, the man who really murdered Ralph Cluny, for whose death Cherry had beeu placed on trial iu Jaunary.

"As a matter of fact," Cherry laughed, gay again, "he bought out Hutchiusou's busiuess. It seems that our friend the murderer had a going concern, was making a snug little fortune out of his mail order business. So Bruce Pattou—isn't that a gorgeous name for a sheik?—bought him out or rather his 'sucker list' as Bob so inelegantly calls it, and, with a change of name and address, is successfully carrying on."

"'Carry on' is right!" Bob snorted. "May I have a little more gravy, Faith? This veal loaf is too salty. Better be glad you haven't any, Snooks," he added to Joy, with a tactlessness that made Faith's cheeks go crimsou. "Cherry has agreed to give him half her time for twenty dollars a week, but I suppose I'll be lucky if I get an hour a day of her time for the fifteen I'll pay her."

"Well, of all things!" Cherry flared. "I call that rank ingratitude! Here I rent that tiny hole of au office for fifty dollars a month for you, and save you more than half of my salary, aud all you do is to crab! I'd like to know what's eating you!"

"The American dinner table should be called the national battle ground," Faith remarked lightly, but she too, she reflected as the old pain of suspicion and jealousy tightened about her heart, would like to know what was "eating" Bob. But—didn't she kuow, really?

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S QUEER STORY

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

Uncle Wiggily was suddenly awakened in his hollow stump bungalow one morning by several voices shouting and laughing outside his bedroom door. He sat up in bed and listened.

"Daddy, get up! You must come to school. The Lady Mouse Teacher wants you to come today."

Uncle Wiggily rubbed his eyes. He twiukled his pink nose.

"What's that?" he cried. "I don't go to school any more. I am too old for that."

"But you must come today, Daddicums," teaseP Jingle. "For two or three days you have been promising to tell that story about the dark and stormy night when the wind blew and all of a sudden the door of the shell cottage at the shore opened and—"

"Well, go on," invited Mr. Longears, chuckling as he dressed. He knew the little bunnies could not get in to tickle his feet because he had the door locked. "What's the rest of the story?"

"That's just it," cried Jangle. "You always stop there. And all of us want to know what comes next, and so do the other children in the Hollow Stump School, and the Lady Mouse teacher told us to tell you to come to school today and finish the story."

"It's Friday," added Stumble, falling downstairs and picking himself up without getting hurt. "Always in school on Friday we have telling stories and speaking pieces. So come on."

"All right," answered the rabbit gentleman, and when he had finished dressing and had eaten his breakfast he hopped to the hollow stump school with his bunny boys and girls. Baby Bunty hopped along with him.

As soon as they were all in school, and the Lady Mouse Teacher had played the tin pan piano for the singing of the morning song, all eyes were turned toward Uncle Wiggily and Miss Mouse squeaked:

"I am sure none of you children will be able to study well until you hear the end of the story. So many things have broken it off, such as Dumple's leg splashing in the inkwell, and the Bob Cat having his nose sandpapered, that it seems we never shall hear what it was pushed open Uncle Wiggily's shell cottage door."

"I am pleased to tell you," said Mr. Longears, taking his place on the teacher's platform in front of all the pupils. "As you remember, it was a dark and stormy night. The wind was roaring and howling around my cottage and I was there all alone.

"All of a sudden I heard the latch of the front door click and then I heard the squeaking of the hinges as the door opened. I was reading a bedtime story at the time, and, as I looked off the page I saw the door swinging open wider and wider."

Uncle Wiggily looked at the Lady Mouse. She had picked up a blackboard eraser in one paw as if to throw it at something. All the boys and girls were sitting on the edge of their seats, anxious-like and most deliciously frightened. They love a thrill like this.

"All of a sudden," went on Mr. Longears, "there was another loud howl outside my cottage. With a bang the door flew wide open and before I could jump out of my chair it had come in. There it was!"

The rabbit gentleman pointed with his paw toward the schoolroom door to show just what he meant. All eyes were turned that way and Baby Bunty caught hold of big, fat Curly Twistytail, the pig boy, who sat next to her.

"Yes, there it was, right in the room with me!" exclaimed the rabbit. "I leaped from my chair and rushed to the door, but it was too late. It had already entered. I tried to push it out, but could not. I could not even shut the door, so strong was it. Oh! Oh!"

"Isn't this the most thrilling thing you've ever heard?" whispered Alice Wibblewobble, the duck, to her sister Lulu.

"It's most entrancingly terrifying," quacked Lulu.

"But, Uncle Wiggily, what was it pushed open the door and rushed in the room where you were with such a how!" asked Jackie Bow Wow, who was quite curious. "What was it?"

"Why, only the wind," answered the rabbit gentlemen with a chuckle. "That's all there is to the story. Just the wind howled around my cottage and blew on the door so hard that it came unlatched. Wasn't I silly to be frightened by the wind?" he asked with a laugh. "And, of course, I couldn't push the wind out nor could I shut the door because the wind blew on it so strong. But soon the wind blew away, and then everything was all right." For a moment the children were puzzled. Then they laughed to think how the wind had fooled Mr. Longears.

"Well, now we have heard the end of the story, we must study our lessons," squeaked the Lady Mouse. So the rabbit gentleman hopped on his way adventuring.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1927

Astrologers read this as rather a threateniug day in planetary government, a time to watch all one's important acts.

While there is a benefic aspect for labor there is a sign indicating misunderstandings with employers.

For persons past middle life there is a forecast of increase of heart disease and apoplexy.

More and more events will demonstrate the reign of new ideas and the passing of old methods and standards of business as well as politics.

Modern movements will distinguish most progressive enterprises, it is foretold, aud far-reaching connectious will greatly develop eveu the most complex commercial organizations.

Materialism will coutinue to dominate the general world consciousness, the seers prophesy, but there will be a new apprehension of mental and spiritual forces.

While this configuration prevails there may be a tendency to ward mental depression and for this reasno all destructive thoughts should be eliminated.

Those who seek employment or promotious should beware of pushing personal claims while this rule prevails.

The eveniug is read as a favorable time for public appeals for popularity aud should be an auspicious time for political work.

Under this direction of the stars there may be many cross purposes apparent iu social as well as business affairs.

Both men and women may be susceptible to social ambitions at this time when a new American aristocracy will be recognized.

Persons whose birthdate it is may benefit this year through legacies, or other unexpected gifts.

Children born on this day may have extraordinary careers in which they overcome many obstacles.

CYRENE PRECEPTORY GREETS 300 GUESTS

Fourteen Different Preceptories Represented at the Temple.

One of the most successful evenings in the history of Knight Templarism in Toronto took place last night in the Masonic Temple, Yonge Street. Cyrene Preceptory had the honor and pleasure of entertaining 300 guests from 14 different preceptories in Hamilton and Toronto districts. Right Eminent Knight A. J. Brown and Eminent Knight W. G. Becker acted as directors of ceremonies, accompanied by escort under command of Knight W. J. Foster, Captain General, who introduced the Hamilton and Toronto districts with their Provincial Priors, Right Eminent Knight Grover Davis of St. Catharines and Right Eminent Knight J. M. McCulloch, of Peterborough. Most Eminent Knight Charles H. Collins introduced Right Eminent Knight A. B. Barr, Deputy Grand Master of London, and Right Eminent Knight Rev. F. H. Fatt, of Victoria, B.C., Past Grand Chaplain.

A very impressive ceremonial took place when the officers and knights of Odo de St. Amand Preceptory of Brantford, Plantagenet Preceptory of St. Catharines and Godfrey de Bouillon Preceptory of Hamilton conferred the Order of the Temple.

Right Eminent Knight R. L. Dobbin of Peterborough entertained the knights with moving pictures taken this summer en route in connection with Sovereign Great Priory Meeting, held in the City of Edmonton, Alta. Eminent Knight R. E. Richmond presided.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

The tiny muff appears in this cold-weather set consisting of hat and coat of moleskin.

Word was flashed around the world one day last winter that Queen Mary of England was carrying a muff, and a little later it was reported that Princess Mary was also a muff-carrier.

Some furriers in this country who seemed to feel that this fact ought to carry weight at least with American admirers of English royalty, cautiously displayed a muff or two. Perhaps some women actually did carry muffs as a consequence, but most of us came to the conclusion that all the king's daughters and all the king's wives could not make muffs popular again here or in France.

Now, if the Prince of Wales had carried a muff—well, that would have been different.

There are cold-fingered folk who would very much like to see the muff revived. Some women carry muffs, anyway, regardless of fashion. In the meantime one or two of the dressmakers and furriers of France have made experiments. They have made some very small melon-shaped muffs for the present season, not apparently with the idea of re-establishing a general fashion for muffs, but to provide a rather amusing finishing touch to a costume which is distinctive and smart enough to warrant it.

The sketch shows a set of fine beaver, consisting of a toque of Russian shape, a high choker collar and a muff. It has been copied in mole and also in shaved lamb for women who have been struck with the fact that it really is amusing and rather smart to wear something that almost no one else is wearing.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

LAKEFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH.

LAKEFIELD, Oct 6.—The anniversary services of the Lakefield Baptist Church were held on Sunday with large congregations and glorious weather, warm enough to be reminiscent of summer. The church was decorated with autumn foliage, flowers and potted plants. Special music was given at both services, Mrs. (Rev.) W. Spencer being in charge.

In the morning, the pastor, Rev. William Spencer, was the preacher, and his sermon continued his series on the expositions of the Ephesians.

In the evening there was an especially large attendance—the evening services in the Presbyterian Church and both Regent Street and Knox United Churches being waived for the occasion, and the school room of the Baptist Church was thrown open to accommodate the crowd.

Rev. William Spencer was in charge of the service; Rev. T. M. Wesley of Knox United Church read the Bible lesson, and Rev. S. A. Kemp of the Regent Street United Church, led in prayer.

Miss Trucie Pearson, soloist of the Murray Street Baptist Church, Peterborough, sang a solo following the offering, entitled, "Hold Thou, My Hand, Dear Lord."

The special preacher was Rev. Gordon M. Holmes of Lindsay, and who took as his text part of the 42nd verse of the 2nd chapter of the Acts of the Holy Apostles: "And they continued steadfastly in the fellowship."

The world is full of fellowship, we read in the Bible of the crowd of three thousand people who were brought out of the old fellowship into the new. Fellowship means partnership, and our partnership is primarily with Christ and also with the brethren. Fellowship in divine life is given in exceedingly great and precious promises that we may partake of the divine nature. If we had greater fellowship with Christ these would be less rampant criticism which is a great curse of the age. If we think of our fellow Christians as brothers, we will not be so apt to see their faults

We are apt to belittle the word "saint" which means "set apart" and includes the glorious company of men and women who gave themselves all in all to Christ and are numbered among His elect.

Then there is the partnership in the matter of giving money. We read in the Bible: "To do good and communicate, forget not." No minister has any right to be ashamed of asking money for the extension of God's Kingdom. St. Paul said: 'I spend and am spent for Thee."

There is the fellowship of Gospel testimony; the churches were organized as places of mutual testimony.

We have also the fellowship of suffering with Christ. Christ still pleads with men to be saved and we often find that we have the truest fellowship with our brethren in their time of suffering.

There is also the fellowship in glory, we cannot enjoy Christ in the hereafter if we did not know Him here. Christ needs us, but infinitely more do we need Him.

Following the sermon, Miss Pearson again charmed the congregation with a solo.

Rev. Mr. Spencer expressed the regrets of Rev. J. Ross, minister of the Presbyterian Church, who was unable to be present.

On Monday evening, at six o'clock, the Baptist congregation sat down to their annual congregational supper. This is like a big family gathering and is one of the happiest parochial events of the year, enjoyed by young and old.

A sacred concert was given in the auditorium of the church in the evening, the choir of Park Street Church, Peterborough, being in attendance, with Miss Pearson of Murray Street choir and Mr. and Mrs. Sidey from Bridgenorth. The concert was very much enjoyed, and all the numbers were appreciated. A sacred concert is a rare treat in Lakefield, as it is seldom that one is given.

The evening's programme was opened by the singing of a familiar hymn, "All Hail the Power," after which Rev. J. L. Harton of Park Street Baptist Church, Peterborough, led in prayer. Rev. W. Spencer was chairman and arranged matters so well that there were no delays between the numbers. The choirs, both Senior and Junior, sang an anthem, "Praise Ye the Father," with Mr. Lapp at the organ. It was an exceptionally fine bit of chorus work and was in many ways the finest number in the programme.

Miss Pilling, who possesses a sweet and sympathetic voice, sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" in a pleasing manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidey of Bridgenorth sang a duet, "Drifting Over Life's Sea," with Mrs. Albert Nicholls at the piano.

The Junior Choir, which is a highly creditable organization, sang under the direction of Mr. Lapp: "There is a Land of Pure Delight." Mr. Collison presided at the organ for the numbers by the Junior Choir.

Miss Barrie of Peterborough sang a solo, "You Reap Whatsoever You Sow." Miss Barrie has a sweet voice and enunciates clearly so that every word was distinct throughout the church.

Rev. J. L. Harton of Peterborough gave a brief address, giving a celebrated literary man's rules for success. The first was "Go on"; the second was "Go on," and the third was "Go on," and that is the message the speaker wanted to leave in Lakefield on this, the occasion of their anniversary. No matter what his talents, success only attends those who persevere. Every church comes to the place where the people would like to lay down their arms and rest on the record of past successes. While the speaker lived in Oshawa a boy brought a motto to the Sunday School for his class: "Don't say I can't; say I can." God doesn't feel kindly toward those who lay down their arms; so "Go on."

The Senior Choir sang an anthem, "Hark, Hark My Soul, Angelic Songs Are Swelling," Miss cParson taking the solo parts.

Mrs. Nicholls of Peterborough gave a reading in the Cockney dialect which, while amusing, pointed strongly the morsl: "Don't Let the sun go down on your wrath." She gave as an encore, a selection in Scottish dialect, describing a quarrel between a man and his wife, showing what a big quarrel will follow a difference on a trivial matter.

The Junior Choir sang, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," in a most acceptable manner.

Rev. W. S. Edgar of Gilmour Memorial Church conveyed the greetings and good wishes of Gilmour, which is the mother church of Lakefield. The people rejoice with Lakefield in having passed another milestone in their history and that the church has been a witness for Christ in this community for so many years. An anniversary is a good time for stocktaking and we will do well to copy the merchant in this and count the assets and liabilities. We can sell such commodities as back biting, jealousy, pride, malice and hatred at a ridiculously low price and get rid of them. For many years this church has kept the light of Christian truth burning, sometimes but faintly and other times brightly. Only God can truly measure the amount of good done in th's church, but we know the record is one of which any church might be proud. Mr. Edgar closed by hoping the year on which the church is entering may be the most fruitful and prosperous in its history.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidey contributed another duet, "Nailed to the Cross," following which Miss Pearson sang, "The Lord is My Shepherd," her voice being heard to especial advantage in this selection, which was one of the best on the programme. Before announcing the concluding numbers, Rev. Mr. Spencer expressed on behalf of his people, their hearty thanks to those who had contributed so splendidly to the success of their anniversary, the Senior and Junior Choirs from Park Street, Miss Pearson, and the friends from Bridgenorth. The audience, in a hearty clap of the hands, gave their endorsation to Mr. Spencer's words.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidey, whose voices blend well together, sang a duet, "Courtship," which gave the secret of a truly happy home; the refrain containing these words: "Our home will be the envy of all we chance to meet."

The choir sang an anthem, "Teach Me Thy Statutes, Lord," the solo work being good and the chorus excellent.

Rev. W. S. Edgar pronounced the Benediction.

EDUCATION HAS BROADENED OUT

reading after they leave school. The rush of modern life seems to be antagonistic to reading, unfortunately.

Pupils should have ability to do things in their leisure time. Manual training helps a boy to use tools in after life. The study of agriculture should give the boy ideas of keeping a garden in later years. The ability to appreciate music is an important adjunct to a child's education. Music is stressed but very little in High school work. Art study gives appreciation of art.

People take more part in public life. Oral composition, literary societies, and all such help in public speaking.

All must prepare for a definite work in life. Vocational schools fit for life work. No matter what vocation a man takes, he must yet be a citizen and academic work must be stressed and used as the foundation of the other.

"What is the status of the teaching profession?" the speaker asked.

"How is it regarded by others and by ourselves? Sometimes the financial return is considered a basis. Business men and certain other professions get much better remuneration. The outlook financially is not encouraging. Misfits are common in the teaching profession because it seems an easy way to make a start. Many remain in it who really intended to do otherwise.

"A teacher must be a leader, an inspirer, the best the country can get. Unless the teaching profession is kept attractive, ladies are going to go into business or other lines. They have greater opportunities than was the case formerly. The profession must not be lowered. We should aim to raise the profession as much as we can."

LOOKS FOR JOB AT 90.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"Too old to work," said the employer of Abraham Bass as he fired him. Bass is 90, has been married 60 years, has never been without a job. He worked 26 years in his last place. "I'll find another place, all right," he said. "There's a lot of work in me yet."

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts To Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts.

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before your breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

CHINESE WORK WILL BE EXHIBITED

Mission School Work to be Displayed at Armories Next Week.

Although the Made-in-Canada Fair is primarily for the showing of Canadian products, it has been decided to accept an exhibit from the Hwaiking Shops, Ltd., which is described as follows:

In the City of Hwaiking, Honan, China, Mrs. J. A. Mowatt, a Canadian missionary, for many years conducted an industrial school. Here, in connection with the mission activities, some three hundred and fifty women were taught needlework and made luncheon sets, tray cloths, lingerie, bedspreads and handkerchiefs, all beautifully embroidered. Thus, in addition to benefiting from the fundamental activities of the mission, these women were enabled to earn a little money amidst surroundings which were a paradise in comparison to the smoky, sunless, mudwalled houses which constituted their homes.

At first the method adopted for disposing of these linens was to distribute them among interested friends in Canada, who sold them and sent the proceeds to Hwaiking. But it often took a long time to sell the goods, and when in 1923, the deficit in church funds made it impossible to send the missionaries back to China, it occurred to Mr. and Mrs. Mowatt that their enforced stay in Canada might well be utilized in developing the sale of these goods and so securing funds to provide their own and other missionaries' return to China.

Their proposal was heartily endorsed by the Foreign Mission Committee and a group of interested lay friends loaned a few thousand dollars to start the new project. A shop was opened in the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal, in September, 1923, and from the first was an unqualified success. The demand for these goods soon exceeded the supply from Hwaiking and it not only became possible to aid other mission schools by taking their products but in addition it was found advisable to add other articles, such as brasses, ivory, cloisonne, rugs, antique embroideries and oriental novelties from China, India, Korea, and Japan. Moreover, the success of the Montreal store encouraged expansion and shops were successively opened in Toronto, Quebec, Ottawa, Bermuda and St. John, N.B. Finally, it was decided that a definite organization was required and the business was incorporated with a federal charter as The Hwaiking Shops, Limited, with the original committee as the board of directors. In May, 1926, the new head office was opened at 788 St. Catherine Street West, Montreal, from which all activities of the business are directed.

But with all these extensions, the original end and motive of the Shops has never changed. As evidence, a clause specially incorporated in the charter of the company reads:

"It is ordained and declared that the directors of the company, in their discretion, may divert and devote all or any part of the profits of the company to church or missionary work, or to the promotion of social welfare, religious improvements or other non-profitable purposes, in such a manner that no part of the income of the company shall inure to the benefit of the shareholders."

The directors serve without remuneration and while in each centre and at head office it is necessary to have some salaried workers, the overhead is kept down by the many volunteers who give of their time, not only to show and sell the goods, but also to help in other less interesting tasks in connection with the business. In addition to the shops, there are women in different parts of Canada who are interested in the work and who keep a small stock of the goods on hand to sell locally.

In the first years of the business the loans on which the company was started had to be repaid and a working capital fund had to be accumulated. This rendered necessary the retention of a large part of the profits of the early years in the business and consequently only a small proportion has been distributed.

CORRUPTION AND INEFFICIENCY IN FORCE, SAYS WINDSOR JUDGE

Increase in Prosecutions That Succeed Evidence of This.

INQUIRY ADJOURNED.

Counsel For Chief Thompson Asks Reinstatement—Judge Insists On 'Clean-up.'

WINDSOR, Oct. 7.—That there is suspicion that somewhere in the Police Department there is corruption and inefficiency was said yesterday afternoon by County Judge J. J. Coughlin, who presided at a meeting of the Police Commission, called to investigate charges against Chief Constable Daniel Thompson. At the request of Ald. Clyde Curry, who accused the Chief of diverting certain convention moneys to his own use, the Commission allowed an adjournment of two weeks.

Wants Probe Completed.

Acting for Chief Thompson, John H. Rodd, K.C., moved to have the Chief's suspension lifted. Mr. Rodd argued against an adjournment, asserting that the city had no right to investigate the books and accounts of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

"I wish to thoroughly oppose any adjournment," said Mr. Rodd. "Ald. Curry said he had the evidence in support of his so-called charge. I must suggest that the charge be proceeded with. He overlooks the fact that the Chief is relieved of his duties. I submit that this charge here should never have been made, and that it was the result of a misunderstanding of the situation."

During his rather lengthy address, Judge Coughlin said he felt compelled to rule against the application to remove the suspension and place the Chief in good standing. The Commission, he said, could not comply with such a request, because he believed a complete sift of police administration is necessary, in view of the reports in circulation.

Evidence of Inefficiency.

"I say what I have not said before," Judge Coughlin began; "there is some evidence of inefficiency, some evidence that has made an impression on me. I refer to the successful prosecution of a great many more cases since the inception of this public discussion than before.

"We as Commissioners must take notice of that, and it is for us to find out, either through the agency of Alderman Curry, if he can establish it, or through any investigation we may make ourselves, how far the unsatisfactory conditions revealed during the last few weeks existed, how long they existed and whose fault it is that they did exist.

"It may be that we will find there were conditions over which the Chief had no effective control, and it may be the fault of some looseness of his administration.

"It may be a fault so serious that only dismissal can be the right treatment. It may need less drastic action. It may be that the Chief may establish total disconnection between himself and any undesirable situation.

Welcome Investigation.

"We feel that this must be investigated, and therefore we welcome the investigation now begun.

"I want a general clean-up, so that either a more efficient system will be brought into the force, if we determine it is through inexcusable inefficiency that an improper state of affairs does exist; to put the blame, if any, where it belongs, or, where exculpation is warranted, to be free and able to exculpate those deserving exculpation.

"I used the term 'clean-up.' I mean a clean-up of these rumors and reports which are current, the finding out of reports and how far they reflect on the honesty and efficiency of any person in this Commission's employ.

"I feel that we as a Police Commission must take cognizance of the very great amount of discussion regarding police matters which has prevailed in the city for a month or so.

"Boiled down, these charges we hear discussed locally, perhaps with no concrete illustrations, resolve down to two things:

"1. A suspicion of corruption in the Police Department, and the inference attaches to the Chief or some person or persons under him.

"2. That the Police Department is inefficient, and that this in turn relates to the Chief or to some person or persons under him.

Carry Probe to Finish.

"The single charge made last week may have little to do with these main charges. That will be determined when we get through with this investigation.

"It seems to me we ought to pursue this investigation to the end, and perhaps we may attach some blame to the Chief, and still not determine the things that are agitating the public mind — the suspicion of corruption or gross inefficiency in the Police Department."

That Alderman Curry intends to delve into records of the Dominion Government regarding seizures of narcotic drugs and stills by the Windsor Police Department was intimated in a letter received by the Commission from the Alderman. The Commission agreed to comply with Alderman Curry's request to secure information from the department in charge of narcotic drugs and stills prosecutions. This information, the Alderman stated in his letter, will be the basis of further charges.

Miss Gleitz was accompanied by a fishing boat from Folkestone, England.

BALDWIN DEFENDS GOVERNMENT STAND

Welcomes New Note at Trades' Union Congress—No Hope of Election.

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 7. — In a speech delivered at the Conservative Party conference last night, Premier Baldwin entered into a general defense of his government's policy, and welcomed the new note struck in the trades union congress, proclaiming faith in the policy of joint consultation in settling or avoiding labor disputes, but he gave no hope for an early general election.

On the contrary he spoke calmly of "the next two years of Conservative government."

The Prime Minister said that he personally would not hesitate to accept the opposition's challenge of an apepal to the country, but he thought that the country's interests required a period of repose after three general elections in as many years.

Regarding trade prospects Premier Baldwin said the country's trade had a sheet and anchor in the gold standard and there was no cause for pessimism.

"I refuse to hang my harp on a weeping willow!" he exclaimed.

Concerning the reform of the House of Lords, the premier promised that the government would consider its policy in the autumn and announce its decision later in the year.

A motion endorsing votes for women at the age of 21 instead of 30 years was adopted by a big majority at the afternoon meeting.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB MEETING TO-MORROW

Right Rev. Sir John Taylor-Smith Will Address Club To-morrow Afternoon.

In an announcement made of meetings in the Examiner yesterday, at which the Right Rev. Sir John Taylor-Smith, D. D., K.C.B., C.V.O., will address the several gatherings, it was stated that an address would be given to the Women's Canadian Club, at the Public Library, Friday afternoon, at 3.30 oclock.

This was a mistake, as it should have read Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock.

A hearty invitation is given to the women of the city to attend this address to-morrow, Saturday afternoon, Public Library, at 3.30.

Former Leaders Weak In Mine Market To-day

TORONTO, Ont., October 7 (Canadian Press). — Substantial gains in Bidgood, Nipissing, and Tough Oakes featured this mornings active session of the Standard Mining Exchange. Bidgood finished the morning with a net gain of seven at 53 after a huge turnover, Nipissing had a net advance of half a dollar at 705 and Tough Oakes was 5¼ higher at 45. Stadacona was the active leader, gaining one at 23. Amulet eased twenty cents at 615 and Noranda was twenty lower at 27.05. Teck Hughes eased seven at 10.68 and the fourth of the morning's weak group was Kirkland Lake, losing ten at 263.

Snow and Frost Send Wheat and Corn Higher

CHICAGO, October 7 (Canadian Press). — With snow falling in Canada and some frost reported in the corn belt, grain values to-day showed an early upward trend. Increased selling developde, howeevr, and the gains failed to hold well, houses with connections north-west offering the wheat rather freely. Opening at ¾c off to ¼c up, wheat later kept near to the initial figures. Corn started unchanged to one cent higher and continued to average above yesterday's finish. Oats were steady. Provisions tended to advance.

Opening prices were:

Wheat, December, 131⅛, March 134⅞. Corn, December 95⅝, March 98¼. Oats, December 48⅞, March 50¾.

New York Market Is Irregular To-day

NEW YORK, October 7. Canadian Press. — Extensive readjustment of speculative accounts imparted considerable irregularity to the price movement in to-day's stock market. Renewed weakness of oil shares was accompanied by rumours of unfavorable dividend developments, while United States Rubber was heavy on reports of a sharp drop in earnings in the first nine months of the year. United States Steel common sank 2 points below last night's close, and Phillips Petroleum, Mid-Continent, Barnsdale B., Westinghouse Air Brake new, and Remington Rand—all touched new 1927 lows.

Toronto Market Weak Most Stocks Losing

TORONTO, Oct. 7. Canadian Press. —Depression settled over the whole list on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning and the few gains recorded stood out against a background of fractional declines. Canadian Oil was the feature with a gain of about 2 points at 31 7-8, and Walkers achieved an eighth advance at 56 7-8, but Brazilian and Alberta Pacific grain were weak leaders, Brazilian losing 1½ at 205½ and Grain 1¾ at 49¾. International Nickel lost ¾ at 68 and Northern Bakeries the same fraction at 42¼. Imperial Oil was easier at 58¼.

Iron Trade Very Slack Third Quarter Of Year

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—In a summary of the iron, steel and machinery markets, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News makes the following comment this week:

Iron and steel producers and users have emerged from the last satisfactory quarter of the year, both as to volume and price, and with that restraint born of the caution inculcated in the past several years, are analyzing the probabilities of the last three months of the year.

Most sellers and manufacturers are frank to say that the past summer was, in most cases, a better one than has developed for several years, in that the depression did not reach such depths, and that the outlook inclines them to confidence. Disturbing factors there are, of course. The report of exports and imports for the twelve months ending August 31, for instance, shows that exports are lower and imports higher, by considerable amounts, than was the case in the similar period of 1926. This is the case most particularly, too, in iron and steel products.

There is, also, the new Australian tariff, effective immediately, which hoists the duty against unassembled Canadian-made auto chassis from 7½ per cent to 11½ per cent. and on assembled chassis from 12½ per cent. to 20 per cent. Canadian automotive leaders are, however, still undecided as to the probable effect of this change.

On the other hand, and decidedly predominant, are favorable factors. While inclement weather has harassed western farmers for the past two weeks, the movement of the huge crop is proceeding satisfactorily, and a spirit of optimism is everywhere apparent in the west. The September employment report of the Dominion Government declares continued improvement is apparent, 6,079 firms reporting a pay-roll of 905,756 persons.

Coming east, it is found that a meeting of the board of directors of the Steel Co. of Canada at Hamilton, is told that the volume of business, to do, is in excess of last year and although sales prices realized are again lower, earnings continue to be satisfactory. The Ford report on operations of the past year indicates a net profit of $5,341,177 for the Canadian company. The total net value of business produced, says the annual statement of the National Steel Car Corporation, Hamilton, for the year ending June 30, was slightly greater than for the preceding year.

The U. S. Department of Commerce reports that Canada bought, together with Newfoundland, 63,372 tons of iron and steel in August, and supplied only 8,703 tons of that country's need in the same time.

Weighing carefully the favorable signs and discounting the bad, Canadian industry, therefore, looks to the last quarter of 1927 with confidence that good business—better business than last year, and sufficient to bring most firms out on the right side of the ledger—will be done.

The markets are steady in tone, showing no particular liveliness in prices but a conservative upward urge that will probably result in definite advances in the near future, though slow to start, is moving along quickly, at current prices in most cases. Exceptions are those in which special circumstances of quantity and location govern.

A substantial revival of buying has developed in the pig iron market in Great Britain, after a long period of dullness. Consumers' stocks are practically depleted, and the price of British pig iron just now is below that offered from the continent. Steel buying is reported to be lagging under the rebate plan.

20 PEOPLE HURT WHEN FLOOR FALLS

Some Men Believed Buried in Appleton Paper Mill Wreck.

APPLETON, Wis., Oct 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Two floors of the large Kimberley Clark paper mill at Kimberley, near here, caved in to-day. Mill officials were unable to say how many persons were on the floors and whether any were injured or killed. The cave-in occurred without warning.

At least twenty persons were injured when the floors collapsed and some members of a construction crew working on the first floor were believed to have been caught beneath the debris. The Kimberley Clark plant is the largest paper mill in the United States and the operations are housed in one immense building. The part of the building that collapsed is practically in the centre of the plant.

DUNCAN REMANDED.

Goes To Jail For Another Week On Vagrancy Charge.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Further remand for a week was granted by Magistrate Blake today on the request of Crown Attorney W. M. Charlton, when George Duncan appeared on a charge of vagrancy. Counsel for the accused strongly protested against a further remand, but the Crown insisted. Magistrate Blake, consenting to the request, stated that he was prepared to accept the responsibility for further detention.

IN POLICE COURT

Thomas Winn was found guilty of reckless driving on Sunday night on Armour Road, and was fined $50.00, and costs, and will have his chauffeur's license cancelled for three months.

Percy Adamson, a 19-year-old boy, pleaded guilty to driving a car while intoxicated, and was given 15 days in jail. He, along with another young chap, was arrested on Lansdowne Street last night by Detective Crary.

A local resident, who gave his age as 19 years, pleaded guilty of being intoxicated in a public place, and was fined $20.00, and costs, or thirty days' imprisonment. His Worship said he would have to make the fines higher, and Mr. Gordon, who was in Court, suggested that it was cheaper to get drunk in Toronto, where it only costs half the price.

Melton Krauss pleaded guilty to false pretences, and will come up for sentence to-morrow.

William Langford, of East City, pleaded guilty to throwing glass in front of a car, and was fined $10.00, and costs.

John McIlmoyle pleaded guilty to failing to stop before entering Charlotte Street off Rubidge, and was was fined $5.00, without costs.

BISHOP TALKS TO KIWANIANS

Urges Three-fold Development of Men in Body, Mind and Spirit.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

Bishop Taylor-Smith, late Chaplain-General of the British Forces, was the special speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon held today at noon. He made a special appeal to the members to take Christ as their Savior and to form the habit of conversing with God in prayer.

The attendance at the luncheon was one of the largest of the year, many visitors being present including the members of the Rural Deanery which is meeting in the city today.

The Rev. J. D. Paterson introduced the speaker in a few remarks in which he said it afforded him great pleasure to be asked to introduce such a noted guest, a man who has travelled all over the British Empire and who is thoroughly in touch with all conditions in every part.

His Lordship, in commencing, said it was his first visit to a Kiwanis Club in Canada, and that the Peterborough club had made a great impression on him. "I can see how a gathering like this can bring together and weld you as brothers such as nothing else can do. It is 17 years since I visited Canada."

His Lordship then told of meeting a man at Niagara Falls who claimed not to have had a Sunday off for seven years. That man, said His Lordship, was developed in body and mind, but not in spirit. "How is it that men will not develop the whole Trinity of their being? Man must associate himself with Jesus in service and sacrament if he wishes to be happy. He must receive Him before he can be a man, for it is the appropriation of God's gift of a character of life that alone can make us men. I commend unto you, as members of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, the privilege of prayer for it is the habit of carrying on a conversation with God. Just as the sun cannot shine into a bowl that is inverted, so cannot the Son of Righteousness shine into an inverted soul," concluded the speaker.

Charles Lacheur moved a vote of thanks to His Lordship for his splendid address and the Bishop, in reply, said that he hoped his first visit to the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough, the bright city of the Dominion, would bring forth results in years to come.

Harry Dickin made a very favorable report as to the sale of tickets for the Produced-in-Canada Fair.

Vernon Morphet sang two solos, accompanied by M. Chenhall at the piano.

L.O.B.A. LODGE HOLDS SOCIAL

Progressive Euchre, Music, and Carpet Ball on the Programme.

ENJOYABLE EVENT.

A most enjoyable evening was spent in Victoria Hall last evening, when the Eastern Star L.O.B.A. members entertained their friends. Carpet ball was the first order of the evening, resulting in a tie game.

A number of the Caledonian choir members provided some excellent choral numbers and solos. The 'Pierrot Dance" by the Misses Jean Maconomy and Verna Huffman was heartily encored. Several readings by Miss Miller were enjoyed by all.

A very dainty supper was served by the committee under the direction of Miss Edith Brown.

Progressive euchre was played, with the following result: First prize, lady, Mrs. W. Collins, 2nd prize Mrs. Miller, Gentlemen's first, Mr. Robert Manley, second Mr. E. Huffman.

The evening was brought to a close by singing Aud Lang Syne.

STRIKERS CALL OTHER MEN OUT

Will Consider Conciliation Board When Members Are Appointed.

STRIKE SPREADING.

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—A suggestion by the Hon. Peter Heenan, Federal Minister of Labor, that he might appoint a Board of Conciliation in the dispute between the carpenters of the United Carpenters' and Joiners' Union and the contractors, has been received by the striking carpenters. "Let Mr. Heenan appoint the board and then we will see what we will do about it," said James F. Marsh, business agent, today.

The other carpenters' union, the Amalgamated, which is not on strike, is quite prepared to lay its case before a board of conciliation. The Amalgamated; unlike the United Union, is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and this isolation is one cause of the United Carpenters' strike.

In sympathy with the striking carpenters, electrical workers, plumbers and steamfitters, and hoist engineers union men have withdrawn from a number of jobs under construction, this action being taken when the contractors replaced the strikers with carpenters from the Amalgamated union. Mr. Marsh today asserted that more men of these and other unions would be taken from other work in the city. Alfred Cheeseman, another agent of the United Carpenters said, "We'll pull the bricklayers concerned out on Monday."

MORE BERRIES.

William Collins, Elm Street, Has Good Crop This Month.

Mr. William Collins of 508 Elm St., brought into the Examiner to-day, a number of branches of raspberries on which there were a great many ripe raspberries, and a number of green ones yet to come.

They were of the ever-bearing variety and if Mr. Collins has had as good a crop throughout the season as he has had at the end of the season, his berries have done very well for him.

YANK TWIRLER HOLDS PIRATES TO SEVEN HITS TO SCORE 6 TO 2 TRIUMPH OVER BUCCANEERS

Losers' Defense Cracks While Aldridge Weakens in Eighth.

PIPGRAS GOES ROUTE

Swat King Unable to Connect for Any Heavy Hitting.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., October 7 (Associated Press). — A tall, sturdy-limbed youth ,twirling his first World's Series with the coolness of an Alexander and the skill of a Mathewson, tied the Pirates into a variety of knots yesterday, and pitched the Yankees to their second straight victory.

Just as though he had been doing this sort of thing all his life, George Pipgras, of Clayton, Minn., stepped into the spotlight glare of baseball's greatest classic, held the slugging Buccaneers to seven hits scattered in as many innings, and subdued the National League champions to the decisive tune of 6 to 2.

Behind such brilliant mound work as this the Yankee steam roller did not need to do much execution. There was no home-run force to its drive, but it struck twice, in the third and eighth innings, with sufficient power to bring in three runs each time and move the Yankees into a commanding lead as the battle scene shifts to-day to the home field of the American League champions in New York.

Had Two Lapses.

Vic Aldridge attempted the task of checking the Yankees and putting the Pirates back in the fight, but met the same fate as Ray Kremer. Outside of two bad innings the Hoosier schoolmaster did a fairly good job, but these two lapses were enough to convince him as well as the Pirate board of strategy that curveballs are not as much poison to the Yankees as they had figured.

Vic's best looking curves were shelled for three runs, enough to decide the game in the third inning on four hits, two sacrifice flys, and an error by Lloyd Waner. He was finally knocked out of the box in the eighth as he lost control completely, sending one run in with a wild pitch and filling the bags with two successive passes before yielding to Mike Cvengros.

The situation was anything but encouraging here to the little southpaw as he faced the top four of the Yankee batting order, but he escaped with only one hit and two runs being registered, forcing the home run twins, Ruth and Gehrig, to rap rather weakly to the infield for force outs.

Pipgras Stuck.

While Aldridge was erratic in the box and the Pirates, again displaying defensive weaknesses, Pipgras stuck steadily and effectively to as neat a pitching job as the World's Series has witnessed in some time . Except for the ubiquitous Waner brothers and the stolid but heavy hitting Clyde Barnhart—the Pirate outfield trio — the Yank twirler had his foes baffled with a clever change of pace and exceptionally good control.

Lloyd Waner tallied both of the Pirate runs. He tripled in the first inning to score on Barnhart's sacrifice hoist and scooted home in the eighth on brother Paul's sacrifice fly after he had walked and raced to third on Barnhart's single.

Outside o fthese two brief sorties, the Pirate attack was chiefly conspicuous by its absence. The Bucs got no more than one hit in any inning. Outside of the first and eighth they didn't get a runner beyond second base.

Almost a Home Run.

George Grantham reached second in the second inning on his single and Joe Harris' out, but was stranded by Gooch. Grantham opened the seventh with a rattling double up against the right field wall—barely three feet short o fa home run—but Harris was thrown out by Koenig, after which Lazzeri broke up the rally by grabbing Gooch's drive and doubling Grantham at second . Traynor also doubled, in the fourth with one out, but neitner Grantham nor Harris had the punch to bring him home.

The eighth inning spurt of the Pirates was punctuated by another and, so far, the loudest demonstration in behalf of Kiki Cuyler, "banished" outfielder. When Earl Smith was sent in to bat for Cvengros, the crowd of 42,000, or most of it, yelled for Cuyler in no uncertain terms and let loose a chorus of boos and catcalls as Smith pounded weakly to Lou Gehrig.

Settle Down

The Yankees, whose play Wednesday was nearly as spotty as that of the Pirates, settled down yesterday to give an exhibition in all departments that was up to their American League championship standards. They were spry in the field, supporting Pipgras perfectly, good on the bases and powerful at bat when opportunities arose. The all-around snappy play of the New Yorkers was in sharp contrast to the shaky work of their rivals. The Pirates do not appear to have regained their stride or recovered from the reactionary effects of their terrific National League pennant fight. Unless they steady down and recover their batting eyes they are not likely to extend the Yankees, who now have visions of batting off four straight and equalling the record of the Boston Braves in 1914.

The Yankees have had quite a casualty list since the series started, but it hasn't affected their play. Tony Lazzeri, who was a doubtful starter yesterday because of a sprained wrist, was brilliant in the field as well as at bat, with two hits and a sacrifice fly. Herb Pennock, hit and painfully hurt over the left knee by a batted ball in practice the day before the series, is so far recovered that he is an alternative choice with Wilcy Moore as a starting pitcher today.

Have Meagre Day

The Yanks haven't struck their home run stride, but that is about the only feature of their batting attack that has been missing so far. Ruth and Gehrig, big guns Wednesday, had a meagre day at bat yesterday afternoon, but the other Yankees, especially Koenig, Meusel and Lazzeri figured heavily in the collective attacks on Aldridge.

Earl Combs, the Kentucky Colonel, started the third inning drive with a sharp single, which Lloyd Waner missed and permitted to roll through him. The Yankee shortstop got to third and scored when Ruth hoisted a towering fly that Lloyd Waner caught, back up against the right field wall. Meusel's scratch single and Lazzeri's sacrifice fly to Paul Waner produced the third run.

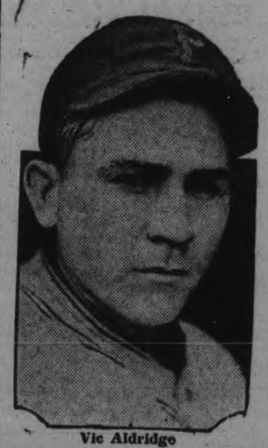
Blew in Eighth

Settling down, Aldridge permitted only two hits, both in the sixth, and no runs through four straight innings, but he blew up with a loud report in the eighth. The Yankees batted completely around in this inning and the bases seemed to be full every time a Pirate twirler looked around.

Meusel singled through Grantham to start the final sorties and dashed to third on a pretty hit and run play as Lazzeri poked a single through a wide gap between first and second. Meusel scored on a wild pitch, but Lazzeri was thrown out at third on Dugan's bunt to Gooch. Aldridge completed his ascension by walking Bengough and Pipgras, filling the bases.

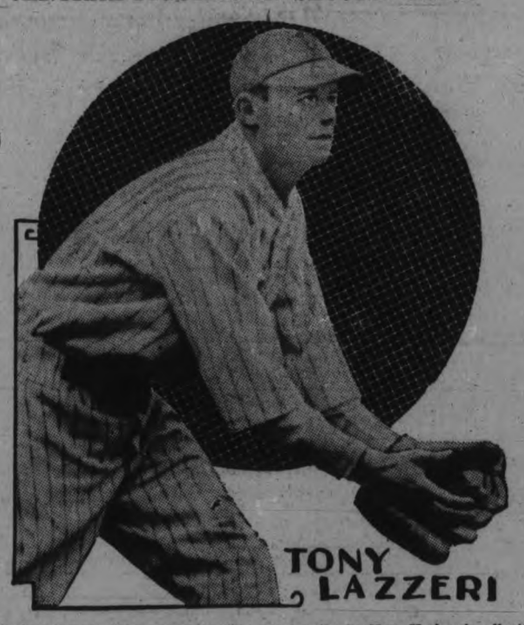
Cvenros, in a relief role, hit the first batsman to face him, Combs, and forced in Dugan. Koenig's single brought in Bengough. With the bags still fully populated, the crowd lost sufficient faith in the Pirate cause at this juncture to yell for a homer by Ruth, but the Babe's best was a grounder to Grantham, who threw out Pipgras at the plate. Gehrig's bounder to Traynor forced Koenig and ended the carnage.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN SECOND GAME



Vic Aldridge

Pirate hurler, who was knocked out of the box in the eighth inning, as he lost control completely, sending in one run on wild pitch and filling the bags with two successive passes.



Yankee second baseman who figured heavily in New Yorkers' collective attacks on Aldridge.

Lloyd Waner

Tallied both of Pirates' runs. He tripled in the first inning to score on Barnhart's sacrifice hoist and scooted home in eighth on his brother's sacrifice fly.

30,000 Seats For Sale To-Day at the Stadium

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—The joy of New York's myriad baseball fans at the second successive victory of their Yanks in the world series yesterday was tempered only by the realization that but 64,000 possibly can jam their way into the Yankee stadium as the scene of battle shifts to-day to "the park that Ruth built."

While the stadium's capacity is more than 20,000 greater than that of Forbes Field in Pittsburgh, the big arena can accommodate only a fraction of the fans eager to welcome the winning Yankees and their hard-fighting Pittsburgh foes.

Thirty thousand seats—10,000 in the upper grandstand and the remainder in the bleachers—were to go on sale at nine o'clock this morning at the stadium and some of the ultra-enthusiastic announced the intention of standing in line all night. The 34,000 seats in the lower grand stand which were offered for advance sale have been sold out since last week and countless requests for reservations have had to be denied. The ticket famine was reflected yesterday in the arrest of operators of two Broadway ticket agencies for alleged speculating.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPS LOSE LAST GAME BY 4 TO 0 COUNT AND SERIES TO THE MUDHENS

Cuban Southpaw Keeps Buffalo's Nine Hits Well Spread Out.

GIVEN GOOD SUPPORT

Victors Will Divide Players' Pool of More Than $26,000.

TOLEDO, Ohio, October 7 (Canadian Press). — The junior World Series baseball championship came back to the American Association yesterday when Toledo shut out Buffalo International League champions, 4 to 0. Toledo won five out of the six games played. Emile Palmero, the Cuban southpaw, kept Buffalo's nine hits spread out, received brilliant support, and batted in Toledo's first two runs himself with a hard single to left in the second inning. Those two runs would have been enough, but Bill Marriott, one of the batting stars of the Series, repeated the performance in the seventh inning for the other two Mudhens' runs, making the victory doubly sure.

Andy Cohen, the Bison's shortstop, decided to put aside his religious scruples and play on Yom Kippur, since his team needed his help badly, with Third Baseman Bill Huber out with a sprained ankle.

Andy talked it over with Rabbi Joseph S .Karnfeld, former American Minister t o Persia, yesterday morning. Rabbi Karnfeld advised him to go ahead and play, and fixed him up a lunch to break his fast. Andy's sacrifice was in vain as far as a Buffalo victory was concerned, for Palmero southpawed the Bisons into submission. Buffalo was no match for Toledo.

$26,000 Pool.

The victorious Mudhens will divide a players' pool of more than $26,000, while the defeated Bisons will split a little more than $18,000. The Toledo players voted full shares to Manager Casey Stengel, Secretary James McGraw, brother of the Giant manager, Trainer Andy Poins, and to all the players on the club, making 25 shares of a little over $1,000 a-piece. Three bat boys were presented $5.00 a-piece, and $50.00 each was given Harry Kinnison, groundkeeper, and Walter Green, McGraw's assistant.

The $1,000 shares are more than double the $459 which the Toronto title winners received with Louisville, who never won a game in last fall's series. The Buffalo players got about $750-a-piece, but their division has not been decided.

Side Lights

(By the Associated Press.)

Babe Ruth's first strike out of the series in the opening inning of the second game was done with the usual Ruthian eclat. Eldridge's sharp-breaking curves had the Babe guessing. He let one slip by, fouled off another and missed a third, while the crowd cheered wildly.

Tony Lazzeri, Yankee second sacker, played the game with a bandaged left wrist, which he sprained in a mix-up with George Grantham in the opening game. There was a doubt as to whether Tony would start the game but once in it his play did not seem affected by the injury.

Lloyd Waner in manhandling Koenig's single in the third inning displayed the same nervousness afield that Brother Paul had in the first game, in spite of being taken to task overnight on this score by "Dad" Waner. The father of the two boys, after watching the Yankee sluggers, gave some advice on how to play them. Lloyd atoned for his early mistake by grabbing Combs' long fly on the run in the sixth with two on base.

After being laced for four hits resulting in three Yankee runs in the third inning Aldridge came back to whiff Pipgras and Combs in succession in the fourth. Combs swung at and missed the last three balls. Vic also fanned Bob Meusel for the third out in the fifth with Ruth on second.

Dugen made a remarkable catch of Grantham's foul in the fourth, reaching in over the heads of spectators in the field box to grab the ball.

Pipgras had the Pirates hitting under the ball and up in the air. So did Aldridge until he blew up in the eighth, so that the rival fly chasers had a busy afternoon. Lloyd Waner and Earl Combs, the centrefielders, caught 12 flys between them. Paul Waner boggled five hoists.

Mark Koenig had luck in his favor when he bagged Traynor's smash over second base to touch second for a force out of Paul Waner. The Yankee shortstop was running toward the bag to take a possible throw but scooped up the grounder instead.

The crowd set up a terrific yell for Cuyler the "banished" Pirate outfielder, in the eighth inning when Manager Bush, instead, sent in Earl Smith to bat for Cvengros. The yells turned to booes when Smith grounded weakly to Gehrig.

'HAPPIEST GUY IN THE WORLD' SAYS VICTORIOUS YANK TWIRLER

George Pipgras Given Great Ovation by Team-mates After Game.

WASN'T NERVOUS

By EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(A.P.).—A big, jovial youngster—"the happiest guy in the world"—took the "lacing of his life yesterday after the Pittsburgh Pirates had failed either to dent his composure or the darting right-hand slants he tossed their way in the Yankees' second straight World's Series victory.

A bit shame-faced, and not quite sure how he was to face the "gang," George Pipgras ambled quietly into the Yankee dressing room after the greatest hurling victory of his rather variegated career. The reception he got swept him into a corner, huddled in a crouch away from the boisterous attack of his team-mates.

The Yankees, who had seen him come and go at various times in the past six years and perch on the bench in the fall classic of 1926 while the Cardinals grabbed the championship honors, pounded his back, wrung his hands and hazed him like a college freshman.

On the outside of all the excitement stood Bob Shawkey, a World's Series starting pitcher himself last season, but now a sort of pitching mentor to the youngsters and a finisher rather than starter of games. Reflection of the new glory that had come to Pipgras, fell about Bob also, for the tall Minnesotan is Shawkey's protege—the "pride and joy of my declining years."

Happily Bob told of his work through the season with "Pip" and his conviction that the big right-hander is destined to become the best pitcher in the American League.

Speed to Burn.

"George has speed to burn and a real hope on his fast one. He has a great curve, too, when he needs to use it, but today he just had to stand up there and throw 'em past."

A year ago last spring Pipgras came up to the Yankees for about the fourth time to renew his acquaintance with Shawkey. Originally Pipgras caught Huggins' eye while pitching in the Texas League six years ago. A sore arm sent him back to St. Paul in 1926, but this spring he was back again with the trouble ironed out.

"Bob taught me almost everything but how to wear a red underskirt," Pipgras explained. "He taught me control, put a hop on the fast one and added another wrinkle to the curve. Bob changed my pitching movement, too, and that improved my effectiveness a lot.

"It was my first World's Series game, but I wasn't nervous at all. It was just another ball game, and I knew there were at least two clubs in our own league—Detroit and Philadelphia—that hit harder than Pittsburgh. But I'm the happiest guy in the world right now to have won, and I only hope the Pirates hold on long enough to let me get another crack in the box."

Backs to the Wall.

The New York clan presented a decided contrast to the Pirates, fighting now with their backs to the wall and pitching aces discredited by two straight losses.

There was little talk in the Pirate stronghold as the players dressed quietly and hurried out.

"We're just not hitting," was the general opinion. "But when we do, watch out for the same kind of a finish that brought us home in the National League pennant race."

"They've got to beat us twice more," Manager Donie Bush declared. "We'll get to hitting before that happens and even the thing up in short order."

While Bush was certain that Lee Meadows, bespectacled right-hander, would pitch tomorrow, with Gooch catching, Miller Huggins, Yankee mentor, said his twirling choice would depend on the condition of Herb Pennock's knee. If the injury the star southpaw received in practice two days ago is healed, he will pitch. Otherwise Wiley Moore will get the assignment. John Grabowski probably will catch for New York in either event.

Ruth and Gehrig both had the ideal setting—bases full—for their first run act in the eighth, but neither was able to get the ball off the ground or out of the infield. The left handed curves of Cvengros have had a reputation as a "jinx" for Ruth.

PHELAN SOCCER GAME TO-MORROW

Masseys Vs. Thistle at King Edward Park at Three O'clock.

To-morrow's soccer bill is a Phelan Charity Cup semi-final between the league champions — the Masseys— and the Thistle, at King Edward Park. Kick off at three o'clock.

In the previous encounters between these two teams, the league winners have always gained the verdict after a very strenuous tussle of the soccer code before large numbers of fans. So to-morrow afternoon will again decide which team will meet the Quaker Oats in the final game the following Saturday.

The Masseys team will be drawn from Fowler, goal; Buchan and Wade, backs; Logan, Mann or another and Blowers, halves; Nichcolson, Logan, Beggs or Sharman, Laidler and Hanson ,forwards.

According to rumour, Hugh Richmond will play at centre forward for the Thistle, but their eleven will be picked before the game.

Better Light for Home and Farm

—A Coleman Quick-Lite will give you the abundance of clear, steady brilliance that more than two million families are enjoying. You can have better light and plenty of it for any purpose—indoors or out—anytime you want it—all at less cost and without bother or work.

Coleman Quick-Lites are brighter than 20 old-style oil lamps or lanterns. No wicks to trim; no chimneys to wash; no daily filling. Make and burn own gas from common motor gasoline. Light with matches. Safe—can't spill fuel; can't be filled while lighted. Economical—more than 40 hours brilliant service per gallon of fuel. Lamp is beautifully designed, an ornament in any home. Lantern is sturdily built to stand long and hard service.

Dealers everywhere sell Coleman Lamps and Lanterns. If you dealer cannot supply you, write our nearest office and we will see that your wants are supplied promptly. Address Dept. PE22

POISON FOUND IN DEAD WOMAN

Medical Experts Testify at Inquest On Mrs. George Duncan.

HUSBAND IS CALLED.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 7. — "I believe that Margaret Brash Duncan came to her death through carbolic acid poisoning."

Such was the statement of Prof. Dr. W. J. Deadman ,pathologist, of Hamilton, who was secured by the Crown to make an autopsy of the deceased woman, as the witness stood in the box in the inquiry into the death of the woman held in Brantford yesterday evening.

The court room was crowed and many persons stood around the police court awaiting the news of a possible jury's verdict. The story of how George Duncan brought the dead body of his wife to Brantford on the night of September 28, and took her first to his sister's house, and then to Dr. M .E. Faris, who advised the body be taken to an undertaker's, creating much interest here.

The inquest was adjourned for one week and since them the police of three cities, Brantford, Hamilton and Toronto, have been busy scouring the alleged route taken by Duncan and the woman in the hope that they would find evidence to prove how the latter came to her death at what place, and what time, and under what circumstances.

On top of the information of the pathologist was the report of Prof. L. J. Rogers, Department of Analytical Chemistry, who examined the internal organs of the woman. He stated that there were .300 grams of carbolic acid in the stomach when he examined the organs, and that he believed there was enough of the poison distributed throughout body that had been assimilated by the other organs, to cause death.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE - - - - - - - - - - - By Ahern

Not Given Protection of Court.

The inquest was adjourned at 9.15 p.m., as Crown Attorney Charlton stated to Coroner Dr. C. C. Fissett that he had nothing more to offer that evening, and asked for an adjournment when he would call other witnesses.

The first interesting feature of the inquest came at the start when the Crown Attorney put George Duncan the husband of the dead woman, in the box, he being held on a charge of vagrancy.

At this point L. F. Heyd, K. C., of Toronto, arose and asked the coroner if his client, Duncan, could have the protection of the court. The Crown Attorney and the Coroner, both denied that he could do so, and that he would have to answer the questions put to him. The Toronto counsel, who was supported by Mayor J. A. D. Slemin of this city, then told the court that he would advise his client not to answer any questions. The coroner told the court that he would have to answer the questions put to him.

"On the grounds that my client may be involved in the questions and answers I will not allow him to say anything at all," continued Mr. Heyd.

At this point the coroner and counsel conferred, with the result that the enquiry proceeded but the prisoner was escorted from the box and he was not troubled any more that evening.

FORMER MAGISTRATE.

Jesse Bradford, former Lindsay, Ont., magistrate, who, in an open letter to Hon. W. H. Price, charges Ontario's attorney-general with usurping the powers of the appeal courts in that he released by mural permits individuals the magistrate had sentenced; and that his resignation was brought about because he had declined to heed pressure from Lindsay politicians and ex-mayors with respect to his strict penalizing of liquor law breaches.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

RAIN ON THE ROOF

Rain on the roof, but sunshine in the heart;
That's all we need: a little roof to shelter,
And then to bid the gloomy thoughts depart,
And send the useless worries helter-skelter.
We preach, we write, we talk of earthly ills,
And seldom mend them much, with all our shouting,
When all we need is stronger hopes and wills,
And more of trust, a little less of doubting.

Rain on the roof, a cheery fire, within,
A book to read, perhaps a turning spindle;
We talk of coldness, weariness, and sin,
When all we need is just a blaze to kindle.
Some dismal day, when darkness shuts around,
We only need to make our own world brighter,
To find our peace where peace is always found,
And draw the bonds of love a little tighter.

Rain on the roof, but warmth within the soul,
The heart a house whose windows all are shining,
Something around us like an aureole,
To cheer ourselves, and cheer a world repining.
We need not grieve so much, and here is proof
We oft forget, forget with all our learning:
For what is trouble? Rain upon the roof,
What matter, if the fire within is burning?

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

A phase of history in the great colonization of the West thus far neglected by motion pictures is a vital part of "The Land Beyond the Law," the new First National Western production starring Ken Maynard now playing at the Regent Theatre. While fiction and screen have shown the trials and tribulations of covered wagon caravans as being due principally to Indians, lack of water, shortage of food, no picture thus far has shown one of the bitterest enemies of settlers in the early days, who caused most of the trouble for those desiring to establish homes in new territory.

These were the unscrupulous cattle barons, who realized that they would have to be responsible to the law and would have to raise their stock legitimately with the establishment of homes and towns in the new West. Thus "The Land Beyond the Law" shows how gunmen and cattle rustlers, headed by a dishonest cattle baron, were brought to terms when the United States government took a hand.

The difficulties of the early settlers in establishing homes form an interesting and important part of the story. These phases have been fictionized by Marion Jackson in a thrilling and tense story, teeming with action and romance.

Ken Maynard is given a fine supporting cast, with Dorothy Dwan, Tom Santschi, Gibson Gowland, Noah Young and Billy Butts among the principals.

Two of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence were brothers. They were Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee, delegates from Virginia.

COLONIC POISONS CAUSE EPILEPSY.

There is nothing mysterious about the cause of epilepsy, and the majority of cases can recover under the proper dietetic treatment. This statement may seem strange to those who have been reading medical text-books which state that the cause of epilepsy is unknown, and which only hint at possible toxic causes.

It is true that some investigators, such as the famous English surgeon, Sir. Arbuthnot Lane, have pointed out that there is a connection between intestinal poisoning and certain forms of epilepsy. Dr. Lane even went so far as to cure patients by removing a section of the colon. This was an attempt to get rid of a particular weak place in the intestine where there was evidence that a great deal of absorption of poisons was taking place. The cases operated on showed marked improvement for the first few months, but after a short time their trouble returned.

These experiments clearly proved that the intestines are the source of the cause of epilepsy, but still not many physicians have profited by these facts. Epilepsy is still spoken of in whispers, and patients are told that there is no hope for them.

For many years I have seen one case after another yield to treatment with fasting, dieting, and manipulative treatment to the intestines. Practically the only cases that cannot be cured by these methods are the ones caused by injuries to the brain from accidents. For these, surgery offers the only relief, and the patient recovers as soon as the brain pressure is relieved. A few cases of convulsions resembling epilepsy are caused by a primary brain lesion which comes from a certain hereditary or acquired disease, but this is not true epilepsy.

Epilepsy may start in a mild form with attacks only during sleep, or with spells of "day dreaming," when the patient has staring spells but no convulsions. There is sometimes complete loss of consciousness during even these mild attacks of petit mal.

Many patients have nocturnal epilepsy for years before they discover it. They sometimes awaken in the morning with a sore tongue which they have bitten during sleep, or they find themselves exhausted after what they often consider nightmares. A young man recently came to me for advice who had had such spells from early childhood but did not discover them until he was married. His bride was horrified to see him in one of these spells and soon started suit for divorce, claiming he had deceived her about his health, but he insisted that he had had no knowledge of the epileptic attacks. His mother admitted that she knew about them but dreaded to tell her son, as she thought his trouble was incurable.

Questions and Answers.

Question.—Jay B., Jr., writes: "I would like to know through your column something about the care of the gums. In two or three places in my mouth where the gums extend downward there is a noticeable redness and when brushing them, and often during the day for that matter, they bleed quite a bit. Is there anything that will remedy this condition?

Answer.—Cut down your stomach acidity by living on the right diet and have your dentist treat your teeth and gums. You are doubtless suffering from Pyorrhea or alveolar absorption, and need both local and constitutional treatment.

Question:—Housewife writes: "My husband does hard manual labor and must carry his lunch to work. Will you be good enough to tell me some suitable combinations through this column, as I know there are others who need this same advice."

Answer.—If you can procure the genuine wholewheat bread, make sandwiches of it with fresh butter or peanut butter and lettuce. Provide him with a thermos bottle in which he may carry any of the following cooked vegetables: Spinach, string beans, asparagus, summer squash, egg-plant, small carrots or beets, etc. Add one or two of the salad vegetables, such as celery or cucumbers wrapped in a damp cloth, and you have a lunch both appetizing and healthful. Send for a special article on packing lunches; it will offer many helpful suggestions.

Question.—A reader writes: "Will you please tell me if peroxide and ammonia will affect the brain if one uses it for bleaching the hair continually?"

Answer.—There is no way that peroxide or ammonia can affect the brain if they are used on the scalp.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the Garden City tennis tournament. A poetical, queerly spiritual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living, that Mary might be a lady. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary becomes acquainted with Wally Mason, a young reporter. Wally and Mary find they have much in common. Mary keeps house for her brothers, David and Robert. David, the family support, hopes Mary will get safely married; but Mary disbelieves in love.

CHAPTER II.—Continued

The gnats trembled and drifted and shimmered in the heat of the sun and formed a hazy web, and Mary in imagination sailed through them into the future atop one of the high places. Delightful sailing. She wore wings and darted through the gnats beneath the chestnut tree, and the mist of her thoughts, straight to the high places. She sang, "I am sailing, sailing, and my wings are tipped with gold, and so are the tips of my shoes, and the air is cool with blue that kisses my face as I am wafted through it. I am very beautiful. I am heavenly. I am celestial." It was indeed one of her celestial moments, when she was tied down to the earth by the silken fragility of a hair. "I am happy I am I," she murmured. "I am happy I am I, because of the delight of being alive. Would I be happy if I were someone else, for I would still be alive then, undoubtedly. But no—I wouldn't possess the things I do now. I would be a different being. I would feel differently. I wouldn't be I!" She relished it, little egotist. Rolled the morsel about under her tongue. "I!"

"Will you come for a ride with me?"

She felt her being surcharged to the very outposts of her body. "This is being alive," said Mary.

Thus she sat, and soon a faint breeze moistened her cheeks with its coolness touched with mist, and breathed over her eyelids where she closed them. Unaccountably, there sprang before her vision the picture of the tall young man with the eager eyes, and the laugh that burst forth so frequently as his head went back. A very charming young man, thought Mary. Rather delightful. Fresh! Yet with a certain moodiness that lay hidden in the region beyond those eyes when they forgot to be eager. The moodiness intrigued her, rather. As did mention of Rupert Brooke. Poetry. Poetry was made in the high places for the people who walked there. The young man's name was—what was it? She opened her eyes wide to think, and saw instead the tall young man, comfortably ensconced on the topmost step, with his head, too, against the pillar, and a long blade of grass between his lips.

Mary blinked rapidly to betoken her surprise, while she smiled her welcome.

"Careful," said Wally, "you'll tangle your lashes."

"How—"

"—did I get here?" he finished for her. "Tell me it really doesn't matter. Tell me that nothing matters, but the fact that I am really here."

Mary laughed. "When I tell you what it is really essential that I do tell you, I am afraid you will no longer be here!"

Wally was hurt. "You don't think I'd really go, even if you told me to, do you, Elaine?" He was playing again with the Arthurian name. "I've longed for this afternoon. Pined for it during the chaos of this last week. Chaos, Miss Sullivan, because of you."

Mary looked straight into his eyes. A charming young man, and forsooth, fresh indeed.

She said, "Nevertheless, I shall tell it to you. It's painful," and cocked her head to one side while regarding the effect of this upon him.

"Lay on, Macduff," he commanded, and there was a little hurt in the region beyond his eyes—that region of moodiness.

"I really am ashamed," said Mary, and looked contrite. "I am—but—I've forgotten your name, and it's stupid of me!"

"It is stupid," agreed Wally. "Stupid because it involves the added trouble of listening to it once more, and remembering it. Because it will have to be remembered, Elaine. I intend to be about a good deal, you see, to talk to you, and with you, and to listen to you laugh, and watch that eddy in your eyes when you do, and be around when you've need for succor——"

"That is the need of a damsel in distress, and I—I shall never be in distress!"

"That statement belies the femininity of your entire sweet person, Elaine. Haven't you yet discovered, though, that need of it or not, it's an extremely wise thing to feign a need? Nothing so speeds the reluctant male toward his lady fair, granting the male's reluctance."

"I am to take it then, that this male has no need of the comehither?"

"None whatever, Elaine. So there's no need of feigning. Will you come for a ride with me?" Wally pointed the car out, a bit up the street, its greenness mingling with that of the hedge that hid its solid bulk from view. "No, no!" he assured Mary, "Not yet, it isn't. Some day, perhaps. No—some day, undoubtedly. You see, Elaine, I have that doggedness, that determination to get there! that should be the aim of every young man of the present day. I can guarantee, Elaine, I can guarantee, Success. I, too, will be a big man some day. Meanwhile I am studying French in ten lessons in order to fill the desk of my big boss when he assumes the presidency of the Consolidated Oil." He laughed at her sober face, and took her chin in his hand. "Isn't that a lot of hot air, though, Elaine? All this tosh concerning success, and that rot. Couldn't you be happy, sweet, with a volume of poems, and the wide earth to walk in, and a fireside on the days when the rain's washing the earth?" For a moment their eyes held, and then Mary shook her head, and lifted it a bit to release her chin from his hand.

"I'm sorry," he said, and smiled at her. "I can never truly grasp convention, you see, Elaine. Now I know full well that model young men do not grasp the chins of young ladies upon the second time of their meeting while they ask same to share books of poetry and fire-sides. Do they, Sober-sides?"

"Model young men don't" said Mary, "but then, who wants to be a model young man?"

"Indeed not Elaine," Wally assured her. "I can imagine no more calamitous occurrence than your changing into a model young man," whereat they both laughed, and Mary went into the house to powder the nose that Wally assured her had really no need of it.

He drove well, with an easiness and strength which she envied. "You do it so beautifully," she told him as she watched his long fingers on the wheel of the green car, low and smoothly gliding. "Do I do it as well as you play tennis, Elaine?" he asked. The car slid through the long, sun-baked streets and made for the open, while the sun, pouring through the leaves of the trees flickered and danced on the long gleaming nose of the roadster. He glanced occasionally at the profile of the girl beside him, her head tilted to catch the breeze that whipped her hair across her nose and away from her forehead, madly. Finally, she imprisoned her hair in her hands as she held them close to her cheeks, and Wally laughed, and gave the car more gas. Out into the country they sped, the breeze growing more and more gay as they left the sidewalks behind them. Yellow and green fields flirted into view with the curtsies of great court ladies as they gracefully dipped from sight. Up hills and down vales, with the purr of the motor always with them and the song of the wind as it danced past the nose of the little car.

"This," laughed Wally exultantly, "is glorious!" He threw his head back against the onrushing wind, and promptly received a cinder in his eye which felt as though a rock had been thrown at him, he said. It necessitated stopping the car alongside a crumbling stone hedge, and Mary's getting busy with his handkerchief. "I can't," she wailed. "I'm not much good at anything!" and sat back to regard him mournfully, with the handkerchief twisted to a point, and Wally's eye growing more and more lurid. "It's swimming!" she cried, and very nearly wept, while Wally laughed. "Is it as beautiful as your eyes, when they swim and are misty, oh, Elaine?" Wally finally managed the extraction of the irritating speck of dust, and held it on his forefinger for Mary to flick off, and the ride was continued with unabated merriment. "Funny thing, life!" said Wally. "You sail along, sweet, all happiness and joy and supreme content, eager for the next stopping place, then—bang!"

HEINTZMAN FIRMS MERGED TOGETHER

Big Amalgamation Follows Recent Acquisition of Nordheimer Firm.

Firms prominent for their financial standing in the music industry are represented in one of the most important deals in the annals of the Canadian piano and music business, which is just announced.

Through negotiations conducted by E. C. Scythes, financial agent, associated with E. W. Goulding Company, an agreement has been made whereby Ye Olde Firm of Heintzman & Company have purchased the entire business, including all stock-in-trade at the factory and all retail branches of the Gerhard Heintzman, Limited. Both companies for nearly three-quarters of a century have been outstanding in the piano and music trade of Canada, and the instruments bearing their names have won distinction and fame, not only among Canadian music lovers, but by the world's famous artists and musical institutions.

Both firms have played an important part in raising the standard of musical art in Canada.

Mr. George C. Heintzman, President of Heintzman & Company, and Mr. Armand N. Heintzman, President of Gerhard Heintzman, Limited, when interviewed, stated that the piano industry, like all other industries, has been facing what might be termed a revolution in manufacturing and distributing methods, and consequently this is an age of mergers. A few months ago Mr. George Heintzman said: We bought out the Nordheimer business, and now, in the purchase of Gerhard Heintzman, Limited, we feel that the merger of these two important houses with our own will permit of a production of high-grade pianos on such a scale under one management that economies can be effected whereby we can more vigorously prosecute the export business in the world's markets."

The merger takes effect at once.

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE

CCCXI—Science in the World War—LIX. Allies Didn't Want Super-Gun.

by MAX HAHN

MANY PEOPLE HAVE WONDERED WHY THE ALLIES DIDN'T BUILD A SUPER-GUN LIKE GERMANY'S BIG BERTHA, WHICH FIRED SHELLS 75 MILES IN THE WORLD WAR. THE ALLIES ANSWER THAT THE SUPER-GUNS WEREN'T WORTH THEIR COST

EACH OF THE BIG BERTHAS—AND GERMANY HAD SEVEN OF THEM—PROBABLY COST A MILLION DOLLARS. FOR THIS AMOUNT THE ALLIES COULD PUT INTO THE AIR A WHOLE FLEET OF BOMBING PLANES COSTING FROM $30,000 TO $40,000 EACH.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT AGAINST THE SUPER-GUN IS ITS SHORT LIFE. GERMANY'S BIG BERTHAS AVERAGED ABOUT 50 SHOTS APIECE DURING THEIR LIFE AND WERE GOOD FOR A TOTAL SHOOTING LIFE OF ONLY THREE SECONDS.

WHAT IS MORE, THE BOMBING PLANES WOULD DROP HEAVIER CHARGES OF EXPLOSIVE ON THEIR TARGETS AND RELEASE THEM WITH FAR MORE ACCURACY THAN THE BIG BERTHA 75 MILES AWAY.

ASK PROTECTION FOR RADIO NEWS

Resolution To Be Introduced at International Radio Conference.

TO PREVENT THEFT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Protection for the news-gathered against the theft of messages transmitted through the air will be asked of the International Radio Conference which has just opened its sessions here. So far news by radio has been subject to interference by competitors of the news associations or newspapers for whom it has been obtained and transmitted. It is likely that a resolution will be introduced at the present conference asking all contracting nations to bind themselves to make it unlawful for any radio receiving stations to intercept and divulge or any news agency to publish, news transmitted from any specific station to another.

The conference also will be asked to recognize the principle that code may be used by news-gathering organizations in transmitting their despatches. At present most Government transmitting agencies will not permit the use of code in news despatches. They will be asked to permit a sprinkling of code words, say from ten to twenty per cent, so as to render news messages unintelligible to any but the authorized recipient.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST COUPLE

Mrs. Lilliendahl and Willis Beach Indicted To-day.

MAY'S LANDING N. J., Oct. 7. — Canadian Press. — Indictment charging murder in the first degree, for the killing of Dr. William Lilliendahl, near Hammonton, on Sept. 15th, was returned to-day against Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, slain physician's widow, and Willis Beach, a poultry farmer, and a reputed admirer of the woman.

The arrest of Mrs. Lilliendahl and Beach came yesterday at the court house while the grand jury listened to witnesses who previously had told of correspondence between Mrs. Lilliendahl and Beach and of quarrels between the physician and Beach.

Since the day of the killing Mrs. Lilliendahl, who was held in $25,000 bail as a material witness, has maintained her husband was shot by two negroes, who later attacked her while she and the physician were motoring. The investigation had disclosed that there had been bad blood between Beach and the slain man over the attentions the poultry farmer had been paying Mrs. Lilliendahl.

NO FLYING FISH.

KINGSTON ,N. C., Oct. 7.—Thirty feet above the ground, in the fork of a tree, a farmer named Brown set a steel trap for a fish hawk that had been molesting his chickens. Returning later he found a sixteen inch trout in the jaws of the trap. Also captured was the hawk which had caught the fish and flown to the tree.

U. S. CAN'T EQUAL GRAIN RATE CUT

Traffic Men Say It Would Be Suicidal To Attempt Reprisals.

DIVERSION INTENDED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. — United States railways are waiting to see what effect the recent sharp reductions in grain rates ordered by the Railway Commissioners of Canada will have upon their business, according to information reaching Washington, before doing anything about the matter.

Their position, according to the reports received here, is that not enough time has elapsed since the the low rates went into operation to enable them to make an accurate appraisal. Until they know more, the traffic officials feel they should not come to any decision about their course.

Cannot Meet Cuts.

One conviction the traffic men have is that they cannot, in figures, meet the cuts ordered by the Canadian authorities. The chief of the cuts is from 34.5 cents to 18.34 cents per 100 pounds in the all-rail rates from the ports at the head of the Lakes to Montreal and Quebec, those ports being given equal rates by the order on grain intended for export. That cut they regard as having been made primarily, to entice grain moving from Canadian ports down the lakes to Buffalo and other United States lower lake ports and then out through United States ports to the all-rail routes from these upper lake Canadian ports to Montreal and Quebec instead of to New York and other United States ports. That is to say, the Canadian officials thereby hope to keep Canadian grain on Canadian rails to Canadian ports.

Railways in the United States do not haul much grain all-rail from the Northwest. It seeks the cheaper routes via the lakes.

Traffic offecrs of United States railways are inclined to the thought that Canadian grain goes to lower lake United States ports on its way to the foreign markets, rather than through Canadian ports, because the owners desire to be in a position, in the event of changes in market conditions, to take advantage of such changes, even to the extent of diverting it to United States mills. United States mills take Canadian wheat, mill it in bond, and export the products when conditions are right.

Traffic men of the United States railways are agreed that, inasmuch as they could not hope to recoup any losses they might incur by reason of a reduction in their rates to Canadian level, it would be suicidal for them to match the Canadian figures.

NEWSPAPER HUMOR IS SUBECT OF TALK

Miss C. McCarthy Gives Interesting Talk to Catholic Women's League.

The first open meeting for this season of the Catholic Women's League took the form last night of a Musical Evening held at St. Alphonsus Lyceum, with a good attendance, and an appreciative audience for an exceptionally interesting program of instrumental and vocal music and readings. Miss Cathleen McCarthy ("Jeanette" of The Examiner editorial staff) who had charge of the programme, also gave a paper on "The Humor in Newspaper Work."

Each one of the numbers on a delightful programme, for which Mr. J. E. Sullivan acted as a very proficient chairman, was received with enthusiasm by the audience, and was splendidly rendered by the various artists taking part. Miss Gwynne Donley acted as accompanist for several of the selections, providing her usual sympathetic and alert background of piano music for four of the vocal solos, also giving a pianoforte solo number. The renewed applause which followed each rendition was a demonstration of the appreciation of a pleased audience.

The program was as follows: "O Canada," piano solo by Miss Martha Baumer, Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique" (first movement); vocal solo by Miss Ernestine McManus, soprano, "Until," with accompaniment by Miss Florence Giroux; readings by Miss Hazel Davidson McClelland, "Wednesday, Bargain Day" and "How the War Was Settled"; vocal solos by Mr. Sidney Willis, baritone, "I Am Ruler of the Sea," and "Love That is True Will Live Forever," with accompaniments by Miss Madeline Willis; pianoforte solos by Miss Gwynne Donley, Handel's "Minuet" and "Etude Mignonne"; violin solos by Mrs. M. B. Hoyland, "Russian Dance" and "The Phantom Melody," with accompaniments by Mrs. G. Evans; songs by Mrs. H. F. Doig, soprano, "A Birthday" and "Good Morning, Brother Sunshine," with accompaniments by Miss G. Donley; Hawaiian guitar numbers by Mr. Harry Wagner, with popular airs as an encore; Paper on "The Humor in Newspaper Work," by Miss Cathleen McCarthy; song by Miss Margaret Dickson, soprano, "Elf and Fairy"; song by Miss Alma Blanchard ,contralto, "Melisande in the Wood"; song by Miss Geraldine Collins, soprano, "A Request," with accompaniments for all three vocalists played by Miss G. Donley; and piano duett, "Le Secret," by Mrs. F. A. Hodgson and Miss Margaret McCabe.

Miss McCarthy's paper, besides being humorous, gave her audience an insight to newspaper work, with its trials as well as its comic episodes. Many types of humor were included; encounters with dignified and pugnacious people who want something in or something out; the errors of diction made by speakers, reporters, or typesetters, often ludicrous; and the experiences in the pursuit of news in many places and at many times.

FAIR AFTERNOONS TO BE FOR LADIES

Special Demonstrations Will Be Given—Rest Room For Babies.

While the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition will be open both afternoon and evening to the public in general, the afternoons will be specially devoted to the ladies, and the various booths which will be of particular interest to them, such as the egg candling booth, the egg cooking booth, the canning and preserving booth, and others of that nature, will have demonstrators in attendance, who will give useful and instructive talks and demonstrations on subjects in which the ladies are naturally interested.

No one need stay at home on account of the baby, because the baby can be left at the babies' rest room, where it will be in charge of capable hands, while the mother is enjoying the Fair.

Hot dinners will be served each night in the tea room, which will make it possible for the lady of the house to spend the afternoon at the Fair, making an appointment for her better half to meet her there, where both can be provided with dinner and enjoy the entertainment in the evening without the necessity of going home for the evening meal.

PAPER REGRETS DIARY EXCERPTS

Question Wilson's Biographer's Good Taste in Publishing Criticisms.

WILSON EMBITTERED.

LONDON, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press Cable).—It is not probable that any of the high personages flagellated in the Diary of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, which is quoted from largely in Major-General Sir Charles Edward Callwell's biography of Sir Henry, published yesterday, will offer any public comment on the matter.

In newspapers of varying shades of politics considerable misgiving is expressed concerning the wisdom or good taste of the author in offering the world at such a short distance of time from the death of the subject, immediate impressions of the writer of the diary who, while justly eminent in his profession, was known to be impetuous and to some extent embittered.

Sir Henry Wilson's writings prove him to have been hopelessly wrong and Lord Kitchener right with regard to the probable duration of the war, while the fallibility of Sir Henry's judgment when he allowed himself to register contemptuous references to Lord Kitchener's volunteer army, also is regarded as discounting some of his other criticisms.

Charging that his heart had been misplaced because of a grade-crossing accident, a motorist was awarded $250.00 by a jury.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR.

"Great peace have they who love Thy law, and nothing shall offend them." Psalms, 119:165.

These words represent normal Christian life. We read again in Mark, 9:42, "Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in Me, it is better for him that a mill stone were hanged about his neck, and he was cast into the sea."

The word offend practically means sliding into error or wrong doing. The law of the Lord is the will of the Lord, which is made known unto those who have surrendered themselves to the law or teaching of the Holy Spirit of God. Those who obey and love that law will not slide into wrong-doing. Rom., 8:1.

The only possible way any one can cause one of those little ones to offend is to use tactics to cause them to cease acting after the Spirit, but woe to the man that thus cause one of His little ones to offend. Preachers and teachers are sometimes used in causing the little ones to offend, by persuading them to cease living under the law of the Spirit and go back to the old Jewish law of the ten commandments.

WEDDING BELLS

DOWN—YEO.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's United Church, Grafton, on Tuesday, October 4th, when Rev. C. W. De Mille, B.A., of Oshawa, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, assisted by Rev. A. McLauchlin, B.A., B.D., minister of Grafton Church, united in marriage Mrs. Ada Yeo, of Exeter, Ont., and Rev. J. Wesley Down, of Centreton, in the Bay of Quinte Conference. After the ceremony a reception was held at the St. Andrew's Manse by Mrs. A. McLauchlin, daughter of the groom. Following the reception, Rev. and Mrs. Down left on a motor trip to Ottawa and Montreal.

BATTEN—KENNEDY.

A pretty autumn house wedding was solemnized by Rev. J. G. VanSlyke, pastor of the Perth Baptist church, at four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 5th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Kennedy, North Street, Perth, Ont., when their daughter, Miss Marion Bell, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Ernest Batten of Lakefield, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Batten of Peterboro ,under a canopy of smilax and roses. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. VanSlyke, the bride entered the drawng room wth her father, who gave her in marriage. Little Miss Ruth Kennedy, sister of the bride, was flower girl, and she scattered rose petals in the bridal path from a dainty pink and white basket. Miss Addie Batten of Peterboro, sister of the groom was the bridesmaid, and Mr. A. Alex. Kennedy of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff at Ottawa, brother of the bride, was the groomsman. During the signing of the register Mrs. VanSlyke again played a piano selection. The bride was a picture of girlish loveliness in her gown of all white white embroidered silk net over georgette with drapes caught with orange blossoms. Her bridal veil was of Brussels net arranged fan fashioned and held in place with orange blossoms. She wore silver slippers and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid was prettily dressed in powder blue georgette trimmed with silver sequins and wore silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of Columbia roses. The little flower girl was dainty in a French dress of peach crepe de chene trimmed with forget me nots. The gift of the groom to the bride was a platinum pin with pearl setting, to the bridesmaid a vanity case, to the flower girl a bracelet and to the groomsman gold cuff links. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served in the dining room which was attractively decorated in a scheme of blush pink and white. Early in the evening the happy young couple left by motor for Ottawa and other points on their honeymoon after which they will take up their residence at "Hillcrest Farm," Lakefield. On their departure they were showered with confetti and best wishes for a long and happy married life. Going away the bride was dressed in navy blue satin back crepe embroidered in pastel shades, a tailored coat, with fox furs, a wine-colored velour hat and black shoes. The guests from a distance at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Batten, Misses Addie, Winnie and Jennie Batten of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Weller of Warsaw, Mrs. J. Arthur Jackson and Mr. Byron Jackson of Gananoque; Mr. J. A. Kennedy of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Selkirk and child of Peterboro; Mr. Alex. Foreman of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Scott of the Scotch line. The bride has been a popular member of the Perth Post Office Staff, Baptist church choir, and Baptist Young Women's Mission Circle. She was the recipient of an exceptionally large number of presents, including cut glass, silverware ,cheques, silver service from Postmaster W. G. Rogers and accompanying silver tray from the post office staff, and a silver flower basket from the Baptist oung Women's Mission Circle.—Perth Courier.

OBITUARY

MRS. JULIA S. DENISON.

The following notice has reference to the death of a lady who was for many years, with her daughter, Miss Helen Denison, a resident of this city:

A prominent Toronto citizen has been removed in the death of Mrs. Julia S. Denison, who passed away yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. P. Thompson, 81 Wilcocks Street.

The widow of the late Shirley Denison, Mrs. Denison, who was in her eightieth year, was a native of Malta, and came to Canada 50 years ago. During her long residence in the city she was prominent in Church of England activities. Her husband was a brother of Col. George Taylor Denison, Toronto's famous Police Magistrate.

Surviving are two sons, Shirley of Toronto, and Wilson of Sudbury, and one daughter, Miss Emily, of Toronto. The funeral, which will be held at the home of Shirley Denison, 276 St. George Street, will be conducted by Rev. Canon Armstrong, interment following at Norway Cemetery.

D. J. FITZGERALD.

The body of the late D. J. Fitzgerald, will arrive from Portland, Oregon, on the 11.45 C.N.R. train from Port Hope to-morrow (Saturday.) The funeral will be held from the residence of his brother, Edward Fitzgerald, 467 Rubidge street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, at 1.30 p.m., on Sunday, and St. Peter's cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

SAUNDERS. — In loving memory of our dear Winnie, who passed away October 7th, 1925.

Rest, weary heart
From all thy silent grief and secret pain,
Thy profitless regrets and longings vain;
Wisdom and love have ordered all the past,
All shall be blessedness and joy at last.
Cast off the cares that have so long oppressed.
Rest, sweetly rest.

VOL. LX., No. 83 — PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1927 — PRICE THREE CENTS

10,000 TROOPS IN FIERCE FIGHT SOUTH OF PEKIN

Battle Continues To Rage Between Forces But Still Undecisive.

OTHERS TO NORTH.

Threat To Capital of North China Steadily Developing.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8. — The Shansi threat to Pekin capital of Northern China, is developing steadily, both from the north and south, say reports received here

The drive of Shansi province troops from the north whence they originally started their advance upon Pekin has developed into a kind of trench warfare but the second drive from the southwest has resulted in a fierce battle which was still undecided yesterday.

The advices received here state that 40000 Shansi troops have been conducting a fierce frontal attack upon positions occupied by 60,000 Fengtien, or Northern troops, along the Pekin-Hankow railway, near Tingchow, to which the Northerners retreated after a severe engagement on Saturday.

45 Miles from City.

TOKIO, Oct. 8. — Pekin despatches to the newspaper Asahi quote Chang Chang Tso Lin's scouting aviators as reporting that the invading Shansi Province troops have advanced to a position near Hwailai, 45 miles north west of Pekin, where they are busily digging trenches and constructing artillery positions.

Northerners Fall Back.

PEKIN, Oct. 8. — A spokesman for the Ankuochun or northern alliance, which controls the Pekin regime, yesterday denied reports that the Northerners had evacuated Paotingfu, south of Pekin, on the railway to Hankow, but the correspondent has reason to believe that they have fallen back, concentrating at Kaopeitein, north of Paotingfu.

Straighten out Troops.

PEKING, October 8. — The continued lull to the north of Peking is giving the Manchurians opportunity to straighten out their disorganized troops and to bring up artillery units to complete their defences on the northern and southern fronts against the invading Shansi forces.

To the northwest the Manchurians are still holding the Twailai line guarding the Nankow pass and apparently there has been no fighting in several days. The exact position of the southern front is doubtful although last reports place the fighting in the region of Paotingfu.

Although prophecies concerning the fate of Peking and Tientsin are futile and despite the contention of the Northerners that there is no danger, it is certain that Marshal Chang Tso lin, the northern dictator is facing the strongest conbination of enemies since he assumed the rule of Peking.

Thus far there has been no anti-foreign tendency in the new movement towards Peking and it is not believed that the foreigners in Peking are endangered by the present course of events

CHANG'S FORCES TURN ON ENEMY

Recapture Suanwafu and Drive Back Shansi Troops.

CONTINUE ADVANCE.

PEKING, October 8 (Canadian Press).—The tide of battle north of Peking has turned with the recapture of Suanwafu, 85 miles north of the capital, by northern forces from the Shansi invaders, it was officially reported to-day.

The northern troops drove back the invaders after a two-day battle, taking five battalions prisoners and capturing a quantity of ammunition. To-day, the northern troops were continuing their advance, harrying the retreating Shansi forces, advices stated.

MALE VOICE CHOIR.

Next Tuesday Last Day For Receiving New Members.

The weekly rehearsal on Tuesday next will be held at the Conservatory of Music, Hunter street west, at 8 o'clock sharp, when all members are urged to be in attendance.

The choir membership at present constitutes a record and those intending to join are reminded that next Tuesday is the last day upon which new applications can be received.

In view of the concert arranged for December 2nd, the Executive committee stress the importance of everyone making a full attendance during the season.

TEACHERS HEAR LESSON TAUGHT

Good Papers Also Given at the Closing Session of Convention.

TEST VALUES QUESTIONED.

R. J. Bolton, B.A., presided at Friday's morning's session of the Teachers' Convention.

The first part of the programme consisted of a discussion of various questions pertaining to the teaching profession.

H. G. Lockett, M.A., took up a literature lesson on Longfellow's "Twilight" with a class from Mr. Park's room. He introduced the lesson by a reference to the needs of painting. Poems are pictures in words. This poem contains many pictures. The scenes are laid by the sea coast. The occupants of the fisherman's cottage are gazing at the storm-tossed sea filled with the storm. It is difficult to see as the twilight is sad and cloudy. The pupils were encouraged to use their field glasses to view the various pictures suggested by the poem.

The poet uses words with delicate shades of meaning to give clearer ideas of the pictures he wishes his readers to see. The author suggests many things and leaves it to the reader to imagine the details. Good questions by the teacher stimulated interest in the poem and helped the pupils to clarify their ideas. The pupils were asked to describe various pictures they had seen. The lesson was most interesting and the answer of the pupils indicated that they had appreciated the poem.

The teachers enjoyed Mr. Lockett's literature lesson very much.

K. S. Wightman, B.A., B.Paed., led a discussion on the subject of "Tests, and Their Uses in School."

Tests are of great prominence at these times. This seems to be the case more particularly in United States, but their use is widespread. They have been useful in finding out what are of real value in education. There must be some method of scientifically estimating what is best. We must guard again the excessive use of these tests. Great changes in subjects and methods have taken place in the last few years.

Does an examination actually test knowledge? Sometimes the questions are at fault, sometimes the values assigned to the questions seem wrong. The marking of answers varies. Our units of marking are on the whole too coarse. If pupils be subjected to two different examinations in the same subject, the results will be variable. The teachers' own marking will change from time to time. Tests are supposed to elimin-

MAKE FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

Complete Seating Arrangements For Representatives of the Several Provinces.

ONTARIO ON RIGHT.

Committee Now in Session on Rules and Regulations.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Conservatives in charge of convention preparations at the Amphitheatre Rink completed seating arrangements for representatives of the several provinces early last night.

Ontario delegates will be grouped to the extreme right of the platform; while Quebec's voting quota will be seated on the extreme left. Next to Ontario will be the Saskatchewan group, then Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and Quebec. All the Provincial contingents will have their leaders occupying front seats with other members located directly behind. Provision has been made to accommodate 656 delegates from Ontario, 156 from Saskatchewan, 83 from Nova Scotia, 20 from Prince Edward Island, 70 from New Brunswick, 450 from Alberta, 200 from Manitoba, 57 from British Columbia and 400 from Quebec.

Now In Session.

All afternoon the committee on rules and regulations was in session, and the sitting was being continued last evening. So far, no announcement of any decision having been arrived at on questions of procedure is forthcoming. Premier E. N. Rhodes, of Nova Scotia, the probable English chairman of the convention, is presiding. Other members of the committee attending are Hon. H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, Senator, C. P. Beaubien, Montreal, Hon. Joseph Thompson, M.P.P., Toronto, Thomas Bell, M.P., Saint John, N.B., Senator W. A. Grierbach, Calgary, J. J. Leddy, Saskatoon, Hon. Robert Rogers, Winnipeg, and Gen. A. D. Norse, M. P., Vancouver.

Afternoon arrivals for the convention included Hon. R. J. Manion, M. P., Fort William, Hon. J. D. Chaplin, St. Catharines, Ont., and Hon. C. Ballantyne, Montreal.

Quebec Delegates.

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The city and district of Quebec will be well represented at the National Conservative Convention at Winnipeg. Up to date 75 delegates and sub-delegates have signified their intention of attending the meeting and it is expected that this number will be increased to over 100 by train time to-day.

Delegtaes from the city of Quebec who are going to Winnipeg include: Messrs. J. S. O'Meara, Senator D. O. L'Esperance, Alfred C. Dodell, K.C., Armand Lavergne, K.C., Pierre Audet, K.C., Joseph Cloutier, Maurice Dupre, K.C., R. A. Blouin, E. F. Dussault, Romeo Langlais, K.C., Omer Parent, M. Pelletier, P. Boucher, J. E. The flower men had a brave assortment of lovely blooms, in bouquets of gladioli, phlox, French marigolds, pansies, asters, and coreopsis.

MANY EXHIBITS ARE SHOWN AT WARKWORTH FALL FAIR

Fine Quality of Farm Produce On Exhibit in Main Building.

BABY SHOW.

Attendance Not Up To Expectations Owing To Inclemency of Weather.

The Warkworth fair made a rather unfortunate choice in the matter of weather, yesterday, and as a result the estimated attendance was something between two and three thousand, whereas more than double that number was expected and would undoubtedly have been reached except for the inclemency of the weather. By noon, the race-track, where the traffic crossed it to the space inclosed for the fairway was a veritable mud ooze, almost impassible until it was spanned by planks thrown across. It was quite evident that the risk to the horses would never permit racing on such a greasy track, and those who had come expressly for the race were unavoidably disappointed and did not linger long. All day long the sky was overcast and rained intermittent showers upon the already sodden ground, until about five o'clock, when the sun broke through for a few minutes to steal a glance at the mischief done, before his countenance was again and finally obscured by the threatening, cold, grey clouds. Most of the spectators kept to the building except when they could steal out to one of the rides, supplied by the Capital Amusement Company.

Some of the exhibitors packed their luggage early in the afternoon and left without attempting to display their wares, but the booths with their games of chance remained, as did the hog dog vendors, and other refreshment stands. Later in the day, their patience was in some measure rewarded, for when the rain ceased they had a good run from those who had waited till the last. A couple of weight-guessers came into evidence collecting a large gathering around them, and cheerfully paying for their errors.

Main Building.

The exhibits in the building were not greatly affected by the rain as most had been arranged for previously, and they were of a fine quality, amply repaying those who reviewed them for their trouble, and showing that the directors had done everything humanly possible to make the

Lloyd George Issues Covering Statement Bearing on Some of Wilson's Utterances

LONDON, Oct. 8 (A.P.).—"Indiscretions" in the diary of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, which has just been published have drawn fire from David Lloyd George. He made public two letters and issued a covering statement bearing on some of Wilson's utterances which the war time Premier considered "a public duty to correct."

One passage in the Wilson diary says Lloyd George considered the League of Nations "rubbish" and another that Lloyd George was bent on the capture of Jerusalem "because the Welsh people would like it."

Wilson's Armistice Day entry includes "Dined with Lloyd George at 10 Downing Street also Winston (Churchill) and F. E. (Birkenhead). Lloyd George wants to shoot the Kaiser. F. E. agrees. Winston does not."

Lloyd George, in his rejoinder, to the diary, made public two extremely complimentary letters that Wilson wrote him. The first was when Lloyd George had moved in Parliament that a money grant be awarded several Generals, including Wilson, and the second when Wilson was about to quit the War Office and enter upon a career in Parliament.

Lloyd George, in a covering letter, says: "I never uttered many of the observations, some of them extremely foolish, attributed to me in these diaries. But that's the way of most diarists; words used in jest are treated as if uttered in earnest. Words seriously used are torn from their context and therefore have a different meaning, essential qualifying phrases being invariably omitted."

TERMED INSULT TO AUSTRALIANS

Official War History Says Anzacs No More Than Disorganized Rabble.

CAUSES PROTEST.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., October 8. — According to the Daily Guardian, high military and political officers are incensed over derogatory references to Australian troops, "Anzacs," in the British official story dealing with the Gallipoli landing in April, 1915.

It is stated that the proof sheets of the volume, which have been forwarded to Canberra for perusal before publication, allege that "Australians on the night of landing were nothing more or less than a disorganized rabble, mostly herded on the beach, while a scattered few held the heights."

Gallipoli veterans describe this statement as the vilest libel on Australian war dead.

26,386 BATHERS USE CIVIC BEACH

July Leads, Having Nearly Half of Summer's Total Attendance.

Statistics compiled by Ald. J. M. Greene show a total of 26,386 swimmers at Inverlea bathing beach during the summer. July led with 13,136, while the totals for the other months were: June 2,140, August, 6,830, and September 4,280. Most of the bathers came in the afternoons, there being 16,995 then as compared with 3,428 during the mornings and 5,963 in the evenings.

There were 35 received first aid and 20 rescues made. Sunday bathers numbered 2,900.

Following is the report of the tourist camp:

Number of registrations, 147; total number of visitors, 515; States in the Union represented, 5; number of registrations from Ontario, 67; number of registrations from other provinces, 4.

Fourth World Series Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — (Canadian Press).—Under sodden skies that gave a constant threat of rain, the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates came on the field to-day to swing into action in the fourth game of the World's Series. The overnight rain ceased shortly before eleven o'clock, and the playing field, blanketed with tarpaulins, was found to be in fine shape for the contest.

"We will play if it doesn't rain any more," said Miller Huggins of the Yankees after he had inspected the field. The ground-keeper quickly removed the mats and dried out the infield in the places where rain had formed little pools of water near first base. The outer gardens were in good shape.

Under the darkening skies it looks as if the fourth game would find the rival pitchers dominating the situation. Low visibility made it hard to follow the speed of the pitchers as they warmed up. Both Moore and Hill mixed up a fast ball with their other wares. It was apparent the batters would see more fast ball pitching to-day than in any ather game except that in which George Pipgras hurled against the pirates in the second game. After the batteries had been announced the band played the Star Spangled Banner while the crowd stood. The ground-keepers still were working on the infield until the Yankees trotted out to their positions.

Meanwhile the reserved section of the grandstands were filling fast, while there were only a few vacant seats observable in the bleachers.

The Line-Up.

New York—Combs, cf; Koenig, ss; Ruth, rf; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, lf; Lazzeri, 2b; Dugan, 3b; Collins, c; Moore, p.

Pittsburgh—L. Waner, cf; Barnhart, lf; P. Waner, rf; Wright, ss; Traynor, 3b; Grantham, 2b; Harris, 1b; Smith, c; Hill, p.

Umpires—Ormsby, American, at plate; Quigley, National, first; Nallin, American, second; Moran, National, third.

First Innings.

Pirates—There was a big cheer as the Yankees trotted out to their positions. Moore tossed up a few to Collins. L. Waner beat out a hit to short. Koenig threw out Barnhart at first, L. Waner going to second. Dugan threw out P. Waner at first, L. Waner holding second. L. Waner scored on Wright's single to right field. Wright went to second on Ruth's throw to the plate. Dugan took Traynor's hot smash and tossed out Wright. One run, two hits no errors.

Yankees—Combs singled into right. Grantham made a hard try but could not reach the ball. Koenig singled into right, Combs halting at second. Combs scored on Ruth's single to right, Koenig going to third. Gehrig struck out, swinging for the third strike. Ruth stole second. Meusel fanned, taking a third called strike. Lazzeri struck out, taking a third called strike. The crowd cheered Hill, who had pitched himself out of a bad hole. One run, three hits, no errors.

Second Innings.

Pirates—Umpires Ormsby and Quigley conferred at the plate with Coach O'Leary and Manager Bush. Dugan took Grantham's bunt and threw him out. Harris got a hit past Dugan. Smith flied out to Ruth. The Pirate pitcher was applauded as he walked to the plate. Hill got a base on balls. L. Waner scratched an infield hit which Moore could not field, and the bases were filled. Lazzeri took Barnhart's grounder and touched second. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Yankees—Wright threw out Dugan at first. Wright took the ball back on the grass and made a long throw. Collins lashed a two-base hit into left field. The Pirates complained that a spectator had touched the ball. Wright threw out Moore at first, Collins holding second. Wright threw out Combs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Innings.

Pirates—It was quite dark and difficult to follow the flight of the ball. It sprinkled a little at times. P. Waner singled sharply past Dugan. Wright hit into a double play, Lazzeri took Wright's grounder and touched P. Waner and then threw Wright out at first. Meusel gathered in Traynor's long fly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Grantham robbed Koenig of a hit, taking the ball back on the grass and throwing him out. Ruth grounded out to Harris, unassisted. Grantham took Gehrig's hot shot and tossed him out. Hill worked the screw ball during this innings. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Innings.

Pirates—Gehrig took Grantham's hopper and touched first. Harris got a hit into right, his second hit. Smith forced Harris, Koenig to Lazzeri. Hill was thrown out at first, Collins to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Meusel was thrown out at first, Traynor to Harris. Traynor threw out Lazzeri at first. Dugan singled over Traynor's head. Collins singled into left. Dugan rushed to third when L. Waner fumbled the ball. Moore struck out, swinging. No runs, two hits, one error.

Fifth Innings.

Pirates—L. Waner singled to centre. Barnhart hit into a double play, Dugan to Lazzeri to Gehrig. Koenig threw out P. Waner at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Combs lashed a single into centre for his second hit. Koenig tried to bunt but fouled the ball. Koenig fanned, swinging for the third strike. Ruth crashed a home run into the right field stand, scoring Combs ahead of him. The crowd was frantic. Gehrig went out at first, Wright to Harris. Meusel went out.

IN ACTION AGAIN.

Stage Practically Set Agricultural Jubilee

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—The stage is practically set and ready for the celebration of "Canada's Agricultural Jubilee," according to the Honorable W. R Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, on whose initiative the movement to fittingly recognize the Dominion's largest and most valuable basic industry was launched.

"The nine provinces of the Dominion have all signified their willingness to co-operate with the Dominion in placing before the world the advance of agriculture in Canada," stated Hon. R. Motherwell last night, "and I confidently expect that the displays that will show the progress of agriculture through the years since the provinces signed the pact of Confederation will be fitting and appropriate to the occasion. I have received assurances that the government of Canada will have the unanimous backing of all the provincial governments on a scale that will enhance the memory of our country's Diamond Jubilee to a greater extent than perhaps has already been accomplished by the various celebrations that have taken place."

HARDILL PITCHING

Good Fielding By Petes In Opening Innings of Crucial Game

HAMILTON, Ont., October 8. — The second game of the senior O. B. A. A.finals is being played here today.

First Innings.

Gibbs' second pitch hit Rose, and he was deadheaded. Boyd took Johnston's attempted sacrifice was turncond, making two men safe. Swanston' sattempted sacrifice was turned into a forced out, Gibb to Scott. Hardill got a scratch hit to Elford, filling the bases. Ash rapped to Scott, who nailed Johnston at the plate, but Swanston scored and Hardill and Ash landed on second and third when Boyd threw badly to first trying for a double play. Harrison was out, Gibb to Elford, on an easy chance.

One run, one hit, two errors.

Oskies—Runion was out when Hardill knocked down a hot shot and threw him out. Sullivan out to Jim Hall on a nice running catch across the left field line. Languay scratched a hit to deep short and went out stealing, Rose making a pretty tag.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Innings

Peterborough.—Jim Hall led off with a hard double to right centre. His brother grounded to Sullivan, Jim making the red light corner. Hall tallied on Holyman's short single to centre. Rose laid down a neat sacrifice, putting Holyman on second. The latter was almost doubled when he rounded the middle sack too far. Johnston fanned. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Oskies. — Jim Hall was under Broadbent's aerial effort. Gibb punched a single past Johnston and went to second on a wild pitch. Holyman threw out Scott, Gibb taking third. Rose fell after fielding Pilgrim's roller and the drive went for a hit, Gibb scoring. Pilgrim promptly stole second. Rose threw out Elford. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Third Innings

Peerborough. — Swanston singled over Sullivan's head. Hardill suicided to Runion. Ash hit into a double play, Gibb to Sullivan to Elford. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Oskies.—Boyd drew a base on balls, the first of the game, Boyd stole second as Runion fanned and the former kept going to third when Swanston heaved poorly, the ball rolling to centre field. After the squeeze play had failed through a foul. Sullivan struck out, swinging Languay singled sharply through short, scoring Boyd with the tying run. Languay stole second on the first pitch. Broadbent got a life on Johnston's boot, Languay moving to third. Broadbent stole second without opposition, Gibb lifted to centre. One run, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning

Peterborough. — Harrison popped to Sullivan. Jim Hall lifted a three-base hit over Languay's head, the latter falling after misjudging the ball. The other member of the Hall family lifted a sacrifice fly to centre to score his brother. Holyman singled to left. Scott took Rose's effort. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Oskies.—Scott went out via the Holyman to Harrison combine for the second time. Pilgrim fouled high to Harrison. Elford was passed, he stole second. Elford went to third on a short pass ball, Boyd walked and the Pete's held a conference in front of the plate. Boyd stole second with Hardill watching him. Holyman tossed out Runion.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

The rest of the game will be bulletined at The Examiner Office.

ARM INJURED IN SILO PIPE

John Haig Is Badly Cut at Farm Near Stirling.

CLEANING MACHINE.

STIRLING, Oct. 8—While engaged at silo filling at George Megginson's on Thursday, the blow pipe became clogged and John Haig, who owns the machine was trying to dislodge the obstruction. Before he got his arm out of the pipe the machine was started with the result that his arm was badly cut, and he is going about with his hand in a sling.

FATALLY INJURED.

GRANBY, Que., October 8 (Canadian Press).—Jumping from a coal cart, Dorilla Cote, 35, married, and the father of five small children, of this place, was fatally injured when he struck his head on the pavement,

"TAPSCOTT HOSE" FOR TENNIS FANS.

LONDON, Oct. 8. — Stars of the tennis courts last year proved themselves successful dictators of sports fashions, and this year it promises to be the same. The "Suzanne Bandeau" and the "Helen Wills Eyeshade" now are to be overshadowed in popularity by a new fad—"Tapscott Stockings."

Miss "Billie" Tapscott, member of the South African women's tennis team, appeared on a fashionable court here recently with no stockings at all. She said she always had played in bare legs and always would, if she were permitted.

Wimbledon officials say that it's all right with them if the players wear neither stockings nor shoes, so now many of the women plan to follow the fad.

Grant County Youngster Falls Into the Water Near Canning.

CAP FOUND ON BANK.

BRANTFORD, Ont., October 8 (Canadian Press). — Two-year-old Clayton Meelich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Corless Meelick, Fourth Concession, near Canning, wandered away from his home, near the Nith River, and, falling in, was drowned.

The lad was missed a few moments after noon on Thursday, and search was at once started. About five o'clock his cap was found on a path leading to the river, and it was not long after that that the body was found in the river. An inquest is unlikely.

USE DOGS IN WAR ON SMUGGLERS

PARIS, Oct. 8.—As a result of the tobacco-smuggling activities along the Franco-Belgian frontier, dogs are carrying on the war between officials and law-breakers.

In Belgium, where there is no state control, a pound of tobacco can be bought for about 20 cents. But in France, the state monopoly has pushed the price up to $1.20, leaving $1 a pound profit for the smuggler who can get his contraband across the border.

Most of the smugglers have carefully trained dogs which they take into Belgium. At night, they strap a few pounds of tobacco on each dog's back and tell them to go home. Customs officials, to combat this practice, have trained dogs to catch these law-breakers. The animals always battle to the death, the smugglers often winning the fight because they are equipped with spiked armor.

MILLBROOK FAIR THIS AFTERNOON

Wet Weather Makes Postponement Necessary Yesterday.

MANY ENTRIES.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 9. — The wet weather on Friday made it imperative that the Millbrook Central Exhibition be postponed, the condition of the grounds and the race track being utterly unfavorable for the event.

A large number of exhibitors have their horses and cattle on hand having come in either on Thursday afternoon or Friday morning; the poultry building is taxed to accommodate the entries, and the main building has a big exhibit in vegetables, fancy work, dairy products, etc.

The fair will be held on Saturday at 1 p.m., the concert and dance being proceeded with on Friday evening as had been advertised.

INCOME OF U.S. IS 78.6 BILLION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Did you make $671.41 last year? If you made more than that, you are better off than the average American. For if the value of all goods and services produced in this country during 1926 were divided among its 110,000,000 inhabitants, every man, women and child would have received $671.43.

Every worker in the United States, from ditch-digger to capitalist, received an average of $1,805.37, according to figures announced by the National Industrial Conference Board, which represents every industry. The total income for the year was $78,649,000,000, a billion more than the preceding year and eight billion more than in 1924. The national income increased 54.8 per cent. between 1909 and 1926.

COUNTRIES AGREE ON TANGIER ISSUE

France and Britain Agreed That International Status Cannot Be Altered.

PARIS, Oct. 8 (A.P.).—France and Great Britain are agreed that the international status of Tangier cannot be altered and Spain is in accord with this decision, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, told newspapermen yesterday after a long talk with Foreign Minister Briand of France.

This statement is taken in political circles as meaning that Sir Austen told Premier Primo De Rivera during their recent meeting in the Mediterranean, that the Spanish claims to the exclusive administration of the international city cannot be satisfied.

The British Foreign Secretary said that he went over the whole gamut of international questions with M. Briand and found that they agreed on all subjects of current interest as well as upon all questions likely to come up in the future.

The Spanish desire exclusive control in the international city on the grounds that it has been used as a centre for hostile activities against Spanish Morocco. The city was internationalized in 1925, the resident general at the present time being French.

WARNS FAMILY.

Self Discharge of Rifle Warns Sherbrooke Family of Fire.

SHERBROOKE, Que., October 8 (Canadian Press). — The members of the family of M. Vachon, farmer, of Waterville, Que., near here, were awakened by the noise of a shot yesterday, and found their home on fire. The shot came from a rifle hanging on a wall which the flames had touched off, and warned the sleeping family just in time to escape the burning house, which was considerably damaged.

TWO LEADERS JOIN FORCES AGAINST CALLES

Gomez and De La Huerta Arrayed Against Re-electionist Programme of Alvarez.

INDIANS IN REVOLT.

Advices Tell of Execution of Three More Alleged Rebels.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 8 (A.P.).—An alliance between General Arnulf Gomez and Adolfe De La Huerta, two of the foremost opponents of the Calles administration of Mexico, was announced here yesterday, as reports continued to come across the border of the execution of rebel leaders arrayed against President Calles and the re-electionist programme of former President Alvaro Obregon.

Gomez is in the field in the State of Vera Cruz, with a force of several thousand men, while De La Huerta, a refugee in this country, remains at his home in Los Angeles, presumably directing his followers.

The pact of co-operation between the two leaders was reached at a conference between Senator Gerzain Ugarte of Tlaxcala State, representing Gomez, and General Caesar Lopez De Lara, agent in San Antonio of De La Huerta, whose brother Alfonso was killed by federal forces Thursday in the State of Senora.

In Entire Accord

At his home in Los Angeles De La Huerta refused to discuss the San Antonio meeting except to say that he was "in entire accord with any movement which was the motive of freeing the Mexican people from the Calles regime." The former provisional president of the southern republic who is under indictment for violation of the United States neutrality laws, added that if he were directing the present revolution he would not admit it.

"Heretofore we(the Gomez and Huerta parties) have been united only in the bonds of mutual sympathy against the re-election of Obregon." General De La Lara explained here. "We could not openly endorse the Gomez manifesto because to do so would have brought Calles rifles against them. Now that Gomez also is in open opposition, we felt no hesitancy in declaring ourselves in union with him—in fact all rebellious elements in Mexico have united under his banner.

"Adolfo De La Huerta probably will not take the field but will remain in this country as a general representative. The anti-re-electionists will be united under a strong man of military attachments who will prove by his deeds that he is capable."

Indians in Revolt

De Lara gave no indication of what forces the Huertistas might have in the field. Adolfo De La Huerta is supposed to be very influential with the Yaqui Indians in Northern Mexico, who are again reported to be in rebellion.

Advices yesterday told of the execution of three other alleged revolt leaders in addition to Alfonso De La Huerta. They were:

General Alfredo Rodriguez, chief of federal troops at Zacateces, State of Zacatecas.

Control Situation

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8 (A.P.).—The firm grip of the Calles government continues to control the situation that has resulted from the attempted Gomez-Serrano revolution.

With General Francisco Serrano dead, with General Arnulfo Gomez said by the government to be virtually bottled up in the mountainous country near Perote with 1,500 or 2,000 men at most and more than 5,000 federal troops closing in on him and with no reports here of rebel efforts being made anywhere else in the republic, the Calles government considers itself to be the absolute master of the situation.

The total number of executions in connection with the revolutionary attempt was not made known officially but there seems to be little question that wherever in the republic persons have been found guilty of participating in it, they have paid or probably will pay the extreme penalty.

General Alfredo Rueda Quijano, who was executed by a firing squad Thursday after a court marital had found him guilty of rebellion, was buried shortly before noon yesterday in the French cemetery on the outskirts of Mexico City. General Serrano and those who were executed with him, were also interred there recently.

No formal ceremonies of any kind were conducted at the burial of General Quijano. A group of relatives and close friends quietly accompanied the coffin from the residence of a relative where it had been taken after the execution. There were no demonstrations nor was there any excitement along the route to the cemetery. Only casual pedestrians were spectators.

What Price Discomfort!

Are you continuing to let a few extra dollars interfere with years of perfect sleep? The Marshall Mattress costs a little more at first—only a few dollars—but what a wealth of extra sleeping comfort will be yours.

The picture reveals the secret of an entirely new kind of sleeping comfort and a mattress built for many years of extra service.

Not until you have experienced the profound slumber enjoyed on a Marshall Mattress can you know the wondrous difference it makes to have your mattress adapt itself to every part of the body.

Compare the hard unyielding mattress that actually only supports head, shoulders, hips and feet with the perfect body support afforded by the soft, flexible spring centre of the Marshall. Every body curve naturally supported. What a difference those few extra dollars really make in extra comfort.

For years of service there could be no more economical investment than the Marshall. The Marshall cannot sag, pack or lose its shape.

[1] The soft flexible spring centre of 725 to 1,000 patented springs keeps it always resilient and in its original shape. You will always be proud of the smart neat way the Marshall supports the bed covers.

[2] Sanitary (patented) bow-knots cannot gather dust and lint like tufts.

[3] Soft cushioning of cotton or hair covers the springs.

[4] Breathing ventilators keep the interior fresh and sanitary.

[5] Convenient handles, two on each side and end, permit easy handling.

The Marshall Spring Mattress will be the same resilient properly shaped mattress in five years as it was the day you bought it and still fit for many more years of service.

Truly here is economy of quality—greater comfort and longer service.

Examine this greatest of all mattresses at your furniture store. Sold in five grades and guaranteed for five years.

Earl's Death Involves By-Election In Essex

LONDON Oct. 8. Canadian Press Cable. — The recent death of the Earl of Iveagh, and the succession of his eldest son, Viscount Elveden, to the earldom, involves a bye-election in the riding of Southend, the popular seaside resort in Essex, where Viscount Elveden has been the member since 1918.

Southend is regarded as a fairly safe Conservative stronghold, but the riding has experienced some remarkable fluctuations. During the last election campaign Elveden had Premier Baldwin's personal help. Lady Elveden, who is spoken of as a possible Conservative candidate in the by-election, is as keen in politics as her husband. As chairman of the women's unionist organization she recently issued an appeal to Conservative women throughout England to "play a part in stemming the tide of socialism." In her appeal she derided those "who shut themselves up in Conservative strongholds and then blame the party organizations when the seats are lost."

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8. — (Canadian Press.)—Improved exporting demand gave wheat values a decided upward lift in yesterday's session of the Winnipeg grain market. Traders were slow in launching the buying movement but when supplies were slow in coming out, prices were gradually boosted. The close reflected a gain of 7-8c. to 1⅛c.

There was an excellent demand for all grades of barley, and some houses complained they could not get sufficient supplies to meet the demand of customers. Barley sold ½c. higher. The other coarse grain commodities were steady

NO BETTER MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Is What Thousands of Mothers Say of Baby's Own Tablets.

A medicine for the baby or growing child—one that the mother can feel assured is absolutely safe as well as efficient—is found in Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are praised by thousands of mothers throughout the country. These mothers have found by actual experience that there is no other medicine to equal them. Once a mother has used them for her children she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Charles Hutt, Tancook Island, N.S., wrtes: "I have ten children, the baby being just six months old. I have used Baby's Own Tablets for them for the past 20 years and can truthfully say that I know of no better medicine for little ones. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all other mothers to do so."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be mailed upon receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MANY EXHIBITS ARE SHOWN

fair one of the most successful yet, and in all likelihood would have succeeded, had they been favored by the weather man.

In the main building, was a display of grain, vegetables, cooking, flowers, fruit, preserves, and dairy products, downstairs, while on the second floor many varieties of ladies' work, needlework, knitting, quilt-work, etc., was on display, besides work in taxidermy, photography, sketching, painting, collections of 'eaves, mats, and some school work On the main floor, beside the secretary's stand, the Heintzman piano company had a booth, where they entertained those in the building with selections from the Orthophonic Victrola. About three o'clock, a musical contest was conducted for pianists, at this booth, which was won by Ina Bone, Warkworth, Miss Wilson, Campbellford, second, and Francis Bone, Warkworth, third.

Baby Show

In a large tent on the fairway a baby show was conducted, and much interest was taken in this attraction, not only by the proud parents, but amongst the disinterested spectators speculation was rife regarding the probable winner. Mrs. John Leonard was the mother of the winning infant, in a field of ten entrants.

In the tent by the ticket booth, was the array of school fair exhibits, of household science, manual training, collections of leaves and native woods, and other branches of school work.

Next to this tent was the poultry tent, in which a good display was shown, while on the outside the ducks were shown, the only creatures on the grounds who seemed content with the weather

The cattle barn and horse stable was filled, and during the rain the cattle judging was done in this building. When the rain abated sufficiently then driving and horse judging was carried on in the small enclosure inside the race track, roped off for that purpose, around which a crowd of spectators gathered, and lingered until the judging was completed.

A hot dinner and supper was served by the ladies of the United church at the gates to the grounds, and they were well patronized.

The Warkworth Fair was ever thus, though, it is pointed out by a member who was secretary for many years. In Perusing some of the records, it is seen that in the last forty-two years the fair has only experienced two such "wash-outs" as it was graphically termed. The other was in 1912, and previous to that time the fair had been blessed with good weather for twenty-six years.

CAVAN PERSONALS.

CAVAN, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Milligan and Miss Kelly attended the wedding of James Campbell Taylor and Ruth Appleby Daly, in St. Peter's church, Cobourg, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Goderich, were week end guests of Mrs. Milligan and Miss Kelly. They had been guests at their son's wedding on Saturday in Cobourg.

Mrs. Dilworth and sisters of Toronto and two aunts, Mrs. T. Johnson and Mrs. R. Staples, Bethany, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Matchett on Friday and Saturday.

The Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. of Cavan United church will meet at Mrs. James Douglas' home on Thursday afternoon, October 13.

The choral class is withdrawn on Friday evening on account of Millbrook Fair. It will meet again on Friday evening, October 14.

The pupils intend having a concert at the conclusion of the season's lessons.

Miss Gwen Hunter and Miss Alma Perrin, Peterborough, spent the week end at their homes in Cavan.

Mrs. W. White, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Lamb, Eighth Line, has returned to her home in Northern Ontario. Her sister, Miss Eloise Lamb, accompanied her for a visit.

Miss Helen Syer, Otonabee, spent the week end at her home.

Messrs. Lang and Tinney shipped hogs from Cavan station on Monday.

On Sunday, October 9, anniversary services will be held in Cavan United church.

The Rev. P. L. Juil, Brooklin, will preach morning and evening, and the choir will contribute special music.

The trustees have asked for a thankoffering of one hundred and seventy-five dollars.

A meeting of the Board of Cavan circuit was held in Cavan Church on Monday evening.

OBITUARY.

GEORGE ARTHUR HARVEY

The death occurred yesterday, after several months' illness, of George Arthur Harvey, 89 years old, life-long resident of Peterborough County, and up till three years ago he had resided on the Lakefield road, near Nassau. With his passing went the last of an old and highly respected family; the nearest surviving relatives being a number of nephews and nieces.

The funeral will be from the funeral home of D. Belleghem and Sons, on Monday afternoon, October 10, at two o'clock, to Little Lake Cemetery, where the interment will be made in the family plot. Rev. William Allan of St. Paul's Church officiating.

MRS. JAMES DONALDSON.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 8.—The death of Mrs. James Donaldson (Elizabeth Mary Richardson) removes another of the residents of this community who had spent practically a life time in the village, or its immediate vicinity.

Deceased was the second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson, and was one of a family of eight children, four daughters and four sons, three of whom still survive, Mrs. S. Eakins, Millbrook, and Messrs. Isaac and John Richardson, the former living here, and the latter in the States. Those previously deceased were: Mrs. A. Duncan, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Susie, of Millbrook; George, of Kansas, whose death occurred last winter, and James, of Toronto, who was long prominent in railroad circles.

Mrs Donaldson was born on the farm homestead of the village, where Mr. Carson now resides, her parents later removing to Millbrook and living here for many years, their home being now occupied and owned by Mrs. J. Deyell.

The marriage of deceased to Mr. James Donaldson took place about fifty-three years ago, their first home being at Coldsprings, but for several years past they have lived in Millbrook. Mrs. Donaldson's father was a staunch Methodist and a faithful worker in that church, and though for a time after her marriage deceased attended the Presbyterian church with which her husband was connected, her early upbringing led to her laterly giving allegiance to the United church.

Besides the sister and brothers already mentioned, Mrs Donaldson is survived by her sorrowing husband, her two sons, Messrs Arthur and Hilliard, both of Toronto; a granddaughter, Mrs Alex Harkness, orphaned on her mother's side in early years and to whom she had filled a mother's place; there are two other grandchildren and one great-grandchild

Cheerful and helpful in disposition, a true neighbor and friend to those in need, the large gathering for the funeral service, which took place from her late residence, Tupper street, on Thursday, October 6, gave ample evidence of the regard in which deceased was held. Rev. F. H. Howard, assisted by Rev. Joseph Wilks, conducted the service, and the pall-bearers were: Messrs. S. E. Eakins, H. A. Elson, W. H. Coombs, G. A. Duncan, T. H. Harkness, and J. L. Byam. There were many beatuitful floral tributes laid in loving memory upon the casket; interment was in Gardiner's cemetery.

Among those from outside points who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Donaldson, Mrs. Larmer, of Toronto; Miss Cunningham, Mrs. Miller, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie, of Cobourg; rMs. Bowman, of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, of Plainville; and Mr. Bruce Eakins, of Peterborough

Dancing Youth

CAMPBELLFORD, October 8. — "Dancing Youth," presented to a full house at the Regent last night, might easily have been called "Uncle George Fixes It Up." From the beginning, Uncle George seems to display a remarkable understanding of the ways of modern youth. The result is that he makes a hopeless blunder of it all, but fortunately it is, to us the expression of Lord Rockmore, quite all right.

Generally, the play is a modern comedy with more than a few true words spoken in jest. It is the everyday story of the son and daughter of one of the modern wealthy and highly respectable families wishing to give vent to their human natures. Tired of all the demands made upon them by high society, they revolt against it all and allow their affections to play as nature intended they should. The daughter loves the family chauffeur, and the son is desperately in love with a chorus girl. Marriage in either case is a most unheard of thing to their mother.

But as it happens, both the chauffeur and the dancing girl are very respectable people. Each has been taught from early childhood to respect and maintain a high moral code. The reverse is more the truth of the matter with the society children. Their mother has reared them with but one end in view, that they should be great and successful socially, while the father has been much too busy about his business affairs to give much of his time to his family. This seeming neglect is provided for in the person of Uncle George, the mother's brother. He is a single-minded old fossil who believes in rather old-fashioned methods.

The play opens in the home of the Lennox family. Mrs. Lennox is attempting to remonstrate with her daughter, Marion. But Marion is inclined to resent her mother's manner, and it is a clash of wills. Marion's father is able to understand his daughter better than is his wife, and is inclined to adopt a more sensible attitude. But Uncle George arrives and spoils everything by insinuating that something has befallen their son Bertie, a likeable sort of fellow, who is just beginning to see life as it really is.

It is the first that Mr. Lennox has heard of his son's affairs with the chorus girl, and is inclined to doubt the tale. But Uncle George assures him that it is common gossip at the club and presents a plan of investigation. They arrange to meet the girl in question at a little theatre restaurant and see if she might be bought off. Ignorant of the trap that is being laid for her, Miss Tate and her friend, Miss Montgomery, arrive and are introduced by Lord Rockmere, a family friend, who is also in love with Marion. Complications set in in multitudes. Bertie appears in another room gloriously drunk because his sweetheart has decided that it is quite proper for her to dine with strange men if she is properly introduced. The chorus girls are not aware of the identity of their friends and the whole story of the affair comes to light. Miss Montgomery becomes over-friendly with Uncle George, much to his disgust, and in order to keep her at a safe distance he gives her a bill of generous proportions. A most unwise proceeding, as he realized later.

In the meantime, Marion and the chauffeur have been making rather good progress. Henry, realizing that he is not her social equal, is exceptionally dumb. But she overcomes his backwardness by proposing to him herself. Even then Henry proves that he is from Missouri. He insists that she wait six months or a year to make sure that she is not mistaken.

The shock to the father as he meets each of his children at a place of such a common nature is heart-breaking. He begs and implores them to return home with him, but they will not. They are of age, they state with an air of finality. They have their own money and they will live their own lives. In their opinions, the narrow-mindedness of their parents has entirely ruined their only hope of happiness. They will not return to their parents' home. But Henry is more level-headed. He insists that Marion obey her father. In fact he, as the family chauffeur, drives her home and accompanies her to the door. But Marion did not go in, and in the morning it is supposed that they have spent the night together. It is a desperate situation.

An unexpected turn of events comes when, next day, Mr. Tate, the uncle and guardian of the little chorus girl whom Bertie Lennox wishes to marry, calls at the Lennox home and refuses to allow his niece to marry such a useless person and forbids the boy ever seeing her again. Had the good man stated his case in a calm manner, he might have won. But he became a little excited, lost his temper finally and his niece would not allow him to speak so disparagingly of her lover. That seemed to start the ball rolling. But Uncle George still stuck to his guns that he and his sister were of the best people in the country and they would not allow their blood to mix with anything so common as that which ran in the veins of chorus girls and chauffeurs. But the father was master in his own house. He silenced his meddling brother-in-law, and by doing so saved Henry the trouble of demonstrating his pugilistic abilities. The matter of Miss Tate and Bertie had already been settled between themselves.

Henry took similar action. After speaking his mind clearly to Uncle George, he received the congratulations of his father-in-law to be and left the room, his arm about his bride. Mrs. Lennox could not resign herself. All her careful training of her children had gone for nothing, she cried. But the father assured her that they had been mistaken. They had not taught their son and daughter to face life out to merely exist as social parasites. Fortunately, they had, in the end, done the wisest thing possible, and he was well satisfied.

The comedy is nothing of the unnatural. It is a tale that might be unfolded in any modern home. The daily papers carry columns on cases of a similar nature. It is a modern version of a modern story, presented as it is by a company of finished actors and actresses, nothing more need be said. The company is by no means strange to Campbellford audiences, but it is only the truth to say that this season the cast contains the most finished group of artists that ever played before a local audience. The box office receipts show that, unless the theatre is enlarged, many who wish to see them will be disappointed if they do not reserve their seats early to-day.

The high lights of the between-acts entertainment was an amusing few minutes of the latest from the pages of humour by Millicent Ward and Vernard Brock which came between the first and second acts. Miss Ward's clever interpretation of the role of the daughter, Marion, places her in the ranks of the leaders in the profession.

Between the second and third acts, Miss Gertrude Hughes and Harold Needham, make an excellent dancing team. Their number was brief, snappy and perhaps the most appreciated of all the "Short turns" of the evening. "Poor Papa," sung by Miss Hughes, won her several curtain calls, but the play was long and encores were not permitted, a fact which was very disappointing to the audience.

WEDDING BELLS.

CARLOW—HOOLIHAN.

DOWNEYVILLE, Oct. 8.—On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding, when Miss Katie Hoolihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoolihan, became the bride of Raymond Carlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carlow, of Douro.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Loretto Harrington. Her costume was of peach georgette, with hat, hose and shoes to match, and was attended by her sister, Marguerite, of Toronto, in pale green georgette, with hose, hat and shoes to match. The bride carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom was supported by his brother, Alex.

During the ceremony Mrs. Patrick Perdue rendered several solos, and at the signing of the register sang Gounod's "Ave Maria."

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the bride's home in the village, where a wedding dinner was served to about sixty guests. Later Mr. and Mrs. Carlow left on a motor trip to Welland and other points, and on their return will reside on the groom's farm in Douro.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 8.—The local Rebekhas spent a most enjoyable evening on Thursday at Bradley Bay. The programme for the evening was a real old-time weiner roast and over forty members of the party of members and their friends took advantage of the opportunity for a last evening in the open before the cold weather made such things impossible. The officers in charge of arrangements wish to expres their gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Irwin for the loan of the verandah of their cottage for the occasion.

The staff and pupils of the Campbellford High school held a social evening in their assembly hall last night. The occasion was the distribution of the Field Day prizes, but the entertainment was in the form of dancing The music was furnished by Herb Leonard and his orchestra. During the earlier part of the evening, Principal E. H. Greig, B.A., presented the prizes and the girls' athletic society served the lunch at midnight.

MODERN HANDICRAFTS.

Mrs. Kate Stovel Mather, Banff, Alberta, will portray the process of batik and hand-printed materials colored in a number of lovely designs for scarves, lamp shades and patterns suitable for home decorations. Mrs. Mather will have on display a beautiful exhibit of Indian pottery.

MUSINGS AT A MANSE WINDOW

HIGHBROWS are to be found in every city, town and hamlet throughout the civilized world. Once-upon-a-time, the highbrows in a city with a grand name and a good opinion of itself blundered badly and, in blundering, amused a nation. At the time of which we write a famous artist had sent a canvas to this city. This canvas was greatly admired by the highbrow art lovers, but the uninitiated were greatly bewildered until it was discovered that the painting had been hung upside down. Reversed, it revealed a simple scene of beauty, appealing to any eye. That was once when the highbrows gave themselves completely away.

RIDICULE IT, OF COURSE!

Frankness in the matter of taste is rarely found. The slogan of Philistia, "I know nothing about art, but I know what I like," is still ridiculed, yet it comes near to covering the situation as it affects the average layman.

Experts themselves, in the realm of letters, music or the plastic arts, are always differing. Collisions of taste are inevitable and standards are dangerous things. Bravery is required to say, "Probably my perception is imperfect, otherwise I should prefer Chopin to rag-time or jazz, but—please, give me rag-time." In any case, let us be careful of fibbing to ourselves and to the world as we gaze upon an upsidedown picture.

A HARVARD PROFESSOR.

When a Harvard professor was asked for a definition of "an highbrow," he gave it as his opinion that he or she was a person whose intellect was developed beyond its capacity. It seems to me that I have met highbrows who didn't seem to have any intellect. What they had was what the old Puritan prayed for when he said: "Lord, give us a good conceit of ourselves." Conceit is not the worst thing in the world when we have anything to be conceited of, but too often it is to be found without even this excuse for its existence.

GRAMMAR IN A BAD WAY.

It might have happened yesterday and it might have happened anywhere. But perhaps it will be wiser if we don't say where it happened. However, the case is not so imaginary as it may seem to be. In my possession is all the evidence related to the case in question, and if anybody is sufficiently interested to follow the matter further I shall be glad to give fuller information.

According to certain indications, grammar is in a bad way. The general education board of P— has condemned it for a mess of nonsense. Dr. X. says, in his polite, bedside manner, that it is "futile as an aid to correct speaking and writing." "Formal grammar," its enemies call the persecuted study, damning it with an epithet. I wonder if anybody has ever seen any grammar that is not formal? If there is any such grammar in existence I should like to have it brought to my attention. It seems to me that one might as well speak of a male man as of formal grammar.

When people are resolved to put a heretic to death they stop at nothing. Their only thought is to get on with the execution.

WHAT IS GRAMMAR?

"Grammar is the science," says the veracious textbook, "that teaches how to speak and write the English language correctly." And it begins to teach this valuable art by telling the pale little urchin that it has four departments — orthography, etmology, syntax and prosody. This piece of information usually proves very inspiring to the young! I didn't find it so; but that, of course, was entirely my fault and not the fault of the grammar or of the brilliant craftsman who was trying to teach me grammar. Such a definition may be depended upon to set most boys off into a spasm of correct speaking and writing instantaneously.

We are disposed to confide to the reader the results of a series of lifelong observations we have made as to the effect of grammar on the soul. Not its theoretical company effect, but its real one.

Above all other arts and sciences it makes people conceited. Teach a woman half a page of grammar and she becomes unbearably prone to criticize everything you say in her hearing. Do you remark innocently that the train "runs slow?" She comes back at you as quick as a flash with severely pursed lips that the train "runs slowly."

Now, I contend that she is wrong about it in spite of her grammar. Some trains go fast and others slow, though any train may go slowly if it likes.

THAT REMINDS ME.

The question was once asked, "What kind of a plant is a Virginia Creeper?" and received the answer, "It is not a plant, it's a train." I can easily believe that this is a good answer even if it is not botanically correct.

In any case you have the suggestion of a "slow" train.

Captain Loveless had strong objections to what he called the "new minister's highbrow talk." The captain's own language was of a primitive and unadorned variety, and nothing pleased him more than a chance to translate the minister's remarks to another old retired mariner, Captain Williams. The latter was deaf, and the minister's voice often failed to reach him.

One night at a neighborhood gathering Captain Williams, in the course of a vivid narrative had referred to the "big fire of '81." "Was it the consensus of opinion," said the minister, "that the conflagration was the result of some accident or the work of an incendiary?"

"Hey?" said deaf Captain Williams, turning to his faithful friend for light.

"What he wants to know," called Captain Loveless, in his shrillest tone, "is whether the big fire was sot or ketched."

CHEAP THINGS.

Two of the cheapest things in the world today are hot air and advice. Hot air is properly in season only when a political campaign is on, but advice, like the poor, we have with us always.

Lawyers charge for advice; preachers offer it as part of the service for which they're paid; parents administer and fasten it in place with a strap or a hickory stick; successful men sow it broadcast as a sop to their own vanity; fools and others shout it from every housetop, every crossroads, every goods box and every doorstep.

We are a nation of advice givers. Any one of us is willing and eager to tell the neighbors how to raise their children, to tell other men how to run their business, to tell the Government how to conduct the business of the country.

The man or woman who bubbles over with advice is a pest.

—Allan Fairbairn.

The Door Is Open

THERE is no key to success for the very good reason that success is not locked up. Its portals are wide open, inviting to enter all who will. But the way leading thereto is what deters so many. It is not a flower-bordered path, nor is it one easily traveled. It is the road of hard work, intelligent effort and honest endeavor. Comparatively few care to endure the hardships requisite for a safe arrival at the goal.

A Pen Picture

WHAT a grand place is a royal palace, and what a fine thing to be a king! Here is a young king surrounded by his courtiers; how happy he must be to wear that wonderful crown!—see how the jewels sparkle as he moves —how delightful to have counsellors to guide him by their advice!—and how pleasant to receive congratulations, from other States and monarchs!

While we are thus moralizing a deputation is announced. They are citizens of another kingdom apparently bringing a kindly message. Before they are admitted to audience, something like a Privy Council is held, and angry looks and fierce gestures seem to pressage a coming storm. Now the strangers come in, full of kindly intentions—if we may judge by their looks—and deliver the message with which they have been entrusted, but, oh!—what a surprise and shock to their feelings—these messengers of peace are seized, insulted and bundled out of the place!

That advice given to the young king seems to have borne dissatrous fruit. I cannot see the youthful monarch, and I do not know what can have happened to him, but, look!—someone else is wearing his crown.

The key to this pen picture of Bible history will appear next week.

Unsolicited Appreciation

IT is often the case that after a man is dead and gone the world finds out what a useful man he was and how much he should have been appreciated but wasn't. Too little attention is given to the man who does the real good things in this world every day he lives. Too little appreciation is shown at the right time, when if shown, much more good might have been done for the world. After all the real man who does the real things does not care so much for the flattery of the world. They do the things because they enjoy them, and with the hope that they might leave something for the world to think about after they are gone.

PETERBORO WITHOUT A CHURCH

Churches And Churchmen

Jews in New York.

IN the city of New York, Ruth Angel, a charming Jewess converted to Christianity by the persuasive, life-giving power of the gospel, and now working for the highest good of her own race in conjunction with her father, Rev. B. Angel, relates the following incident, which may be of interest to my readers:

"On a ghetto street a few days ago I overheard the conversation of two school girls in their teens. Falling into step with them, I caught the earnest puzzled expression on the face of the lovely young Jewess—farthest from me. She had been bluntly asked (regarding the Day of Atonement ceremonial): 'Why do you swing a chicken over your head?' Turning to her interrogator, I inquired whether or not she were a Jewess. 'No, she isn't,' volunteered the other. Then she added sadly, 'She says we Jews killed Jesus.' I had but a few moments to spare. My willing listeners were pointed, however, to the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah. There the Jewess learned of God's 'Offering for sin.' Not the slain fowl of rabbinism, but one who was 'wounded for our transgressions.'"

Are the Colleges to Blame?

SPEAKING before the student body at the Rutger's University chapel, Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, said:

"There are many boys who come to college with a very definite picture of God and who leave, four years later, with nothing to represent that picture but a void. In religion it is all important to keep company with the religious."

A Modernist Speaks.

ADMITTING that he is a Modernist, Harry Emerson Fosdick, D.D., has just given utterance to some things with which the average Fundamentalist will find himself in hearty accord. Christianity is largely on the defensive for the simple reason that Christians have conformed themselves and their message so largely to this world that they are indistinguishable from it. As a matter of fact, this generation's low morals and its low philosophy are in desperate need of a challenger, and the church should be about its business.

When religion harmonizes itself with the world and conforms itself to the status quo it loses its message, vacates its mission and surrenders its reason for existence. The glory of Christianity has been its non-conformity.

The central problem of Christianity as Dr. Fosdick sees it, is whether organized Christianity has enough spiritual vigor to challenge this modern age, or, instead, is simply going to take the color-blend of popular morality and popular philosophy.

A Welsh Presbyterian.

FROM Menai Bridge, a little town in North Wales, there has passed away a famous Presbyterian preacher in the person of Rev. Thomas Charles Williams He was a member of a family who had been ministers from father to son for more than a hundred years. He preached often in London in Welsh and in the leading English churches. Despite the fact that many attempts were made to get him to accept the pastorate of some very large churches, he preferred to minister to the people among whom he died. He had travelled extensively both in Great Britain and in the United States. He was moderator of the General Assembly in 1921.

An Episcopalian Speaks.

WARNING his people against spiritual makeshifts, Dr. Shoemaker, in the Calvary Episcopal Church, New York, told them that following Christ is a far different thing from merely accepting for your own a certain set of ethical principles which have His sanction. It will express itself in the application of those principles wherever we are, but they alone will not fulfill the command, "Follow Me!" Only a person who is in Christ can do the things which He commands. It is presumption of the most offensive kind to think that alone, unaided, we may set about in our own strength and in our natural condition to achieve His command that we should be perfect as God is perfect.

This is not popular doctrine today. The world is full of vague, conceited ideas about the divinity of men. The pulpits have been ready to spoon-feed us with calls to human service, with messages which flatter our vanity, which ask us to rearrange our psychological furniture, and which leave our entirely our primary need for regeneration.

To follow Christ is not to presume that you can live like Him until He has recreated your own nature by His personal grace in your soul. God forbid that I should give the impression that a holy and loving life goes for nothing, but there are many today who seek to live a holy and loving life who are doomed to disappointment and disaster and the disillusionment of their ideal, just because they have not first submitted themselves to Christ and allowed Him to change their nature—so that a good life comes out of a good heart and a transformed human nature.

A Dog's Life.

BROADWAY TABERNACLE has for its minister a man who is always up-to-date in his preaching. In a recent address he said that chauffeurs in New York lead a dog's life. He must stop upon command; cannot start until permitted; may go west only on some streets and east only on others; may park half an hour in some places, fifteen minutes in others, and not at all in many streets, and is required to know, remember and obey a hundred other regulations. But his consolation is that others in New York share his position. It is difficult to live anywhere, but most of all, it is difficult to live in New York. New York is an autocrat, a despot, a tyrant. It is inexorable!

The Test of Sound Living.

ONLY a life which translates truth into conduct can hope to stand. A character which fails to turn its insight into deeds will crumple into ruin. The psychology of the inveterate novel-reader is dangerous, says a well-known Presbyterian preacher, because it easily substitutes the thing felt for the thing done. Christianity makes ample room for each of the prime forces of personality—emotion, intelligence and will. There is a place for emotion. That weak religions can often be seen beating the air in an orgy of emotion should not be allowed to dictate a cold and expressionless worship. Christianity also makes room for reason, but insists that faith, like personality, is incomplete without the will.

Children's Corner — TELL US A STORY

A judge, who was occasionally on circuit at a certain town, was always sure of being annoyed by some sneering remarks from a self-conceited lawyer. After one such occasion, some one asked the judge at dinner "why he didn't come down strong on the fellow." The judge dropped his knife and fork, placed his chin on his hands and his elbows on the table, as if to give emphasis to his story, and said: "Up in our town there lives a widow, who has a dog, which, whenever the moon shines, goes out upon the steps, and barks and barks away at it all night." Stopping short, he quietly began eating again. After a moment's pause, one of his company asked, "Well, judge, what about the dog and the moon?" "Oh, the moon kept on shining!" he said—"that was all."

Failure and Success

THE old Portuguese navigators had hoped to discover a passage to the East Indies around the southernmost ponit of the Continent of Africa. Repulsed again and again by stormy headlands, they yet persevered till confronted at length by a promontory with so wild a sea that in their despair of doubling it they called it "Cape Non." What they had in vain attempted was to gain the coveted prize by getting past a succession of frowning "Thou Shalt Nots." Columbus, with an enterprise born of a finer and more comprehensive insight, turning his back on these denying and prohibiting headlands, directs the prows of his vessels in a straight course through the open Atlantic; with the happy result that his eyes ere long greeted with the sight of a New World with possibilities of a freedom, grandeur, wealth and power far surpassing the proudest triumphs of the Old. That was the glorious solution of the most profound and far-reaching problem of the time.

FERGUSON OR DRAYTON?

Peterborough's delegates to the Conservative National Convention are en route to Winnipeg, and the fact that they are as much at sea as to the likely choice of the convention as is the public generally adds interest to the situation.

As late as yesterday Premier Ferguson repeated his statement that he had no intention of leaving his present position, declaring that the Provincial field offered the greatest opportunity for service.

"Incidentally," he said, "that's the reason I'm going to stay here."

Meanwhile the newspaper observers on the scene at Winnipeg continue to send out bulletins declaring that Ontario's Premier is the first choice for the Federal leadership and the position is his if he wants it.

All of which leads up to a very interesting situation, which may find Mr. Ferguson endeavouring to hold out against a pressure from the convention that he may decide is impossible to resist.

If he persists in his refusal the tip is to look out for Sir Henry rDayton.

ONLY ONE IN TEN.

According to an inspection made at St. Catharines this week about 90 per cent. of the automobiles operated in that city are equipped with lights that would not meet the requirements set by the Department of Highways.

The test included 620 cars, and it was discovered that only in one case out of ten were the headlights in accordance with the regulations.

It is to be hoped Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Minister of Highways, has been informed of the result of the inspection.

It would furnish him with an opportunity to tell his traffic squad that he expects a speedy improvement to be shown not only in St. Catharines but throughout the Province, for there is no reason to suppose that automobiles in this part of Ontario are any better equipped in the matter of headlights than those in the fruit belt.

The badly focussed and too bright lights that make driving hazardous surely can be eliminated if a determined effort is made by the authorities to deal with the situation.

If nine-tenths of the motorists in Ontario are using bad lights, it is high time that an example was made of enough of the offenders to force the rest into remedy-Sir Henry Drayton.

SHOULD BE A WARNING.

In Police Court here yesterday a youth who pleaded guilty to driving a car while intoxicated was sentenced to fifteen days in jail, while a chauffeur, convicted of reckless driving, was fined $50 and costs and had his license suspended for three months.

These penalties are stressed here in the hope that they may serve as a warning to other drivers.

Magistrate Langley is entirely justified in taking a serious view of such cases, and in his announcement that drunken and reckless drivers can look for no leniency.

The traffic problem has developed to such a point that the man who attempts to drive while intoxicated and the motorist who disregards his own safety and that of others cannot be handled lightly.

The law in the former case provides for a jail sentence, the maximum being a month, and it is not unlikely that the next offenders under this section who find themselves in the local Police Court may receive the full penalty; at least, the Magistrate has left no doubt of his determination to deal severely with all those who jeopardize the public safety by attempting to operate a car when they are not in a fit condition to do so.

THE POPULARITY OF SWIMMING.

Figures as to the number of bathers who took advantage of the facilities at Inverlea Park during the summer leave no doubt as to the popularity of swimming.

A total attendance of 26,386 people in the period during which the beach was supervised is reported, a figure that may be a surprise to many citizens.

July set the pace with a patronage of 13,136 people, while September showed more bathers than June, according to the official statistics.

Sunday bathing was evidently popular, for a Sunday attendance of 2,900 people was rolled up during the summer.

The desirability of having a qualified and capable supervisor is illustrated by the fact that twenty bathers who had got into difficulties were rescued and thirty-five patrons received medical attention.

The season was completed without a fatal accident, despite the large number of bathers.

Swimming has come to be one of the major recreations in Peterborough, and the question of additional and more adequate accommodation for those who enjoy this form of exercise will soon have to be dealt with by the Council.

A season's attendance of 26,386 shows that attention to this matter would be justified.

TAX ON CIGARETTES.

When the findings of the commission appointed to investigate the administration of the Customs Department come to be considered at the next session of the House of Commons, one of the biggest problems to be solved will be the adoption of some system of coping with the tremendous amount of petty smuggling carried on by travelers who come and go between Canada and the United States. In Canada it is common knowledge that people returning to this country from the other side of the line bring in a great deal of clothing, tobacco and other articles, the value of which in the aggregate would reach tremendous figures. Tobacco, and especially cigarettes, are smuggled across the line perhaps more than any other article. This, it is alleged, is due to the heavy stamp duty in Canada.

In this respect the Canadian manufacturers seem to have a real grievance against the Government which is now being aired before the Tariff Advisory Board. The stamp duty on cigarettes in Canada is $6.00 per thousand, just twice what it was before May, 1919. The justification of this high rate is the claim that cigarettes are luxuries, and, consequently, that those who indulge in the cigarette habit should contribute largely to Government revenue. In practice, however, the manufacturers claim the high rate has greatly curtailed the consumption of cigarettes and has resulted in an enormous increase in smuggling, which a whole retinue of customs officials has been unable to stop. This means that the Government benefits but little, if at all, from the increase in the stamp tax, while the manufacturers suffer a serious reduction in their business because of the consumption by Canadians of American cigarettes which are so easily smuggled across the line, and which are very much cheaper on account of the low stamp tax in the United States, which is just half that of Canada.

The principle of cigarette smoking is really not involved in the present situation, since the prevailing high rate has tended not so much to reduce the consumption, but rather to encourage the use of American brands which come to Canada usually via the smuggler's route. It is estimated that at least 600,000,000 cigarettes are smuggled into Canada every year. That is business lost to the Canadian manufacturers and it adds nothing to the Government revenues, since it does not pass through the Customs Department, but reaches this country by professional and other smuggling. A reduction of the stamp tax, therefore, which the manufacturers ask, would probably result in keeping this business for Canada, would add to the public revenues, and at the same time, help Canadian manufacturers.—Brantford Expositor.

NO NEED OF A MELTING-POT.

On Oct. 14 a farewell meeting will be held in Guildhall, London, for 200 emigrant boys who have been trained at the Salvation Army Land Colony, and who will sail on the following day for Australia, along with 500 other emigrants. The speakers will include General Booth, the Right Hon. Lord Lovat, Chairman of the Overseas Settlement Committee, and General Sir Granville de Laune Ryrie, High Commissioner for Australia. The Lord Mayor of London will preside. The audience will be composed of persons interested in the question of migration, admitted by ticket.

It requires little imagination to visualize the importance of such a gathering. Undoubtedly the theme will be Australia and its opportunities. Once more the story will be told in a favorable setting of how ambitious young men from the Mother Country can find a profitable field for their efforts in the far-off Dominion, and how they and their friends and their friends' friends can be assisted on their way to a new and promising home. When the steamship Vedic sails from Liverpool on Oct. 15 with 700 Australian settlers aboard hundreds of others watching them depart will resolve to follow.

It has been stated repeatedly by Canadian visitors to Britain that Australia's aggressiveness in interesting prospective emigrants is more noticeable than Canada's. Australia's population is growing faster than that of this country, and it is growing almost exclusively with the aid of British stock. The fact seems to be that the policy adopted by the sister Dominion of concentrating on this class of settlers is bearing fruit. Cannot the same policy be followed to the advantage of this country?

* * * *

Because a somewhat similar plan has not been accepted here, Canada is now in danger of being flooded with immigrants from Continental Europe, bringing the political and economic complications which have compelled the United States to adopt a strict quota system, to wish it had gone more slowly in admitting newcomers who would not readily assimilate, and to look forward to the day when immigration will be stopped altogether. Instead of learning from the experiences of the Republic, Canada has established immigration offices at Antwerp, Danzig, Hamburg, Paris, Riga and The Hague, and has given the two railway companies authority to bring settlers and workers from Poland, Jugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Russia, Austria, Esthonia, Rumania, Lithuania and Latvia. Immigrants are admitted from the countries bordering on the Mediterranean, and special arrangements have been made to admit Mennonites and other classes from Russia. Settlers now being rejected almost wholly by Washington are being sought by Canada. In view of the fact that the United States accepted 1,218,480 immigrants in 1914, and under present restrictions limits the quota immigrants to 167,000 a year, it is not difficult to see where this country is headed if the prevailing system continues.

The discussion which took place, therefore, at the recent session of the Anglican Synod at Kingston was founded on solid ground. The present immigration policy is already telling its story. The nationals of Europe have begun to leave their imprint on the Prairies in particular. Settlements of foreigners, retaining native tongue and customs, are springing up. If this continues, Canada in the course of time will be no longer British or Canadian, but a collection of transplanted European States.

* * * *

The open letter addressed by the Bishop of Saskatchewan to the Hon. Mr. Forke, published in The Globe yesterday, stated that during recent visits to England he found the impression everywhere that Canada does not want British settlers. In immigration circles he met with the statement: "There are plenty of people here willing to go to Canada, but the funnel is choked up." And the disquieting charge was made that officials in the Immigration Department were responsible for this.

Mr. Forke cannot be accused of prejudice against British immigrants. There are not many people who question that he is anxious to build up a British nationality in Canada. He promptly granted the request of the Anglican Synod for a conference on the subject, and he has notified the railway companies that their privileges in respect to recruiting European immigrants are subject to cancellation. He may be expected to probe the accusation that the personnel of his department is standing in the way of British settlers, and if he finds it verified he can do nothing else than have a thorough house-cleaning.—The Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It begins to look as if the Pittsburg Pirates are not going to get the benefit of a long count.

Mr. Ferguson still declares that he is not going to leave the Provincial field. But he has not yet heard the voice of the convention.

The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition should provide Peterborough people with a solid week's entertainment, the Kiwanis Club with ample funds for its public service work, and manufacturers and merchants with a fine chance to bring their products before the public.

Motorists had better keep away from liquor or out of automobiles if they want to keep out of jail. The prevailing sentence just now is 15 days with prospects of a speedy increase to the maximum penalty.

Premier Ferguson's favourite song these days probably is, "I Hear You Calling Me."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—Enlarged selling which was associated with the movement of the new Spring crop northwest led to lower prices yesterday for wheat. Duluth was said to be offering round lots of wheat to Chicago at close to a workable basis. Predictions of increased arrivals of corn had an additional bear influence.

Wheat closed weak ½ to 1c net lower; corn ¾ to 1¾ down; oats unchanged to ¼ and ⅝c off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17 cents.

The fact that better weather than of late was looked for in Canada tended to increase selling pressure in the wheat market, and so likewise did heavy receipts at Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg, much larger than a year ago. It was vigorously contended by bears that whenever the weather permits, enough Canadian wheat is available to bring about shipments on a scale which may effect prices the world over. Evidence was at hand, however, that temporarily country marketings in Canada had been reduced to less than half the volume at this time in 1926.

Some improvement of export demand yesterday for wheat from North America failed to check the downward course of values. Sales to Europe were estimated as totalling 700,000 bushels, but most of the business was in Canadian wheat. Meanwhile, the only apparent obstacle in the way of liberal shipments of new wheat from Duluth to Chicago was that buyers were asking federal appeal on grading, and sellers were not willing to make this concession.

Frosts in parts of Iowa and predictions of frost last night in other states had only a transient bullish effect on the corn market. Many traders were apparently disposed to regard frost at this time as a matter of course. There was some selling of corn against purchases of wheat. Oats trade was very small.

Provisions were firmer, tending upward in line with hog values.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—With the exception of a sale of a few orders of both Canadian and American wheat, and an odd load of barley to foreign buyers, the export trade in grain here yesterday was dull.

There was some demand for Canadian Western barley and sales of No. 4 grade were made at 9½c per bushel over the Winnipeg October option, c.i.f. Montreal. The car lot trade was quiet and prices were unchanged.

The export and local trade in Spring wheat grades of flour was inactive, but values were firm. The movement of Winter wheat was also slow, but the undertone was steady.

There was no actual change in prices for millfeed announced, but the undertone to the market for shorts was easier on account of the more liberal supplies available. The demand for all lines was steady. The market for standard grades of rolled oats was steady with a small trade passing.

The demand from foreign buyers for Canadian baled hay continued good and a fair trade was done, including sales of 200 tons to Southampton at 90s per ton, c.i.f., while Liverpool bought at 87s 6d per ton. The local market was steady:

Middlings $41.25.
Hay, No. 2, per ton, car lots, $13.50 to $14.00.
Cheese, finest Western, 21½ to 21¾c.
Cheese, finest Easterns, 21 to 21¼c.
Butter, No. 1, pasteurized, 38¾ to 39c
Butter, No. 1, creamery, 38¼c.
Butter, seconds, 37½ to 37¾c.
Eggs, storage extras, 44c.
Eggs, storage firsts, 42c.
Eggs, storage seconds 38c.
Eggs, fresh extras, 57c.
Eggs, fresh firsts, 47c.
Potatoes, per bag, car lots, $1.00 to $1.05.

Prices for all grades of eggs were firmly maintained under a more active demand. The receipts were 921 cases.

The bean trade continued active and prices were firm. Car lots of choice white hand-picked were quoted at 2.50 per bushel, and smaller quantities at $2.60 to $2.75 per bushel.

The butter market was dull and featureless. The receipts were 1,089 packages.

The undertone to the cheese market was inclined to be easier owing to the limited demand from all sources. The receipts were 5,532 boxes.

a call for Safety on the Highways

Our Program in Part

Pledges of generous support already have been received from a large number of individuals and corporations who are in a position to assist in this movement.

The support of the Press has been pledged almost unanimously.

Offers of Stations to broadcast talks on Safety are also acknowledged with thanks.

The organization of meetings at which Safety will be discussed indicates a deep interest on the part of Boards of Trade, Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs and other Public Service Clubs.

The co-operation of the Ontario Motor League with its membership of 30,000 shows that this large membership heartily and energetically supports the safety movement.

On highways and on city streets there will be even a more strict enforcement of The Highway Traffic Act and municipal by-laws through co-operation of the highway traffic patrol and the entire police forces of the Province.

The call for more safety on the highways has been sounded throughout Ontario. Will you respond?

The Highway Safety Committee has been organized in an effort to secure more careful automobile driving and hence a decrease in the number of accidents on the road.

The motor car traffic in Ontario has increased enormously. To date this year 360,000 motor vehicle licenses have been issued. This is more than twice as many as in the year 1921. There has been a similar increase in the number of foreign cars which visit Ontario. At times during the past summer, as many foreign cars were on our highways as those of provincial registration.

Everyone who uses the highways, whether as motorist or pedestrian, must become conscious of the new condition which prevails. Each individual must act in accordance with the general principles of safety and always in the exercise of care, common sense, and courtesy to others.

The Executive Committee is composed largely of men representing Province-wide organizations. In addition, invitations have been sent to all Editors, Heads of Municipal Governments, Chiefs of Police, and Presidents of Boards of Trade, Automobile Clubs and Service Clubs in the Province to act upon the Advisory Committee and to co-operate through suggestion and carrying on in their respective communities localized campaigns for greater safety.

To the School Inspectors, School Teachers, and School Boards of the Province a special appeal is made. A sad feature of the record is the number of children whose lives have been snuffed out or who have been injured because of thoughtlessness on the part of themselves or the driver of a car.

This is an effort in which all citizens of the Province can and should unite, both in a public and private way. As a badge of support of this movement this windshield sticker has been provided by the Executive Committee. It will be available at all filling stations and garages in the Province. The Committee confidently expects it will immediately appear on every car operating on the roads of Ontario. It reads as follows.:

I'm for Care and Courtesy Are YOU?

If you are for safety on the Highways wear this sticker on your car

The Committee will be glad to receive suggestions from all who are interested in this movement. Address Highway Safety Committee, Department of Highways, Toronto.

MINISTER WOULD OFFER ASSISTANCE

Suggest That Striking Parties Agree To Board of Conciliation.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Although the strike of carpenters and joiners in Toronto does not come within the scope of the federal industrials disputes act, Hon. Peter Heenan, minister of labor, stated last night that he intended to-day to offer the assistance of the department toward conciliation. He will suggest that the parties agree to a board of conciliation and if they do, he will have one appointed and the department will bear the expense of such an undertaking.

"It is in the interests of the country at large that this strike should be settled," Mr. Heenan said. "It is really a provincial matter, but I have decided to extend the good offices of the Dominion Department to the parties in dispute in the hope that they will agree to a board. Of course they do not have to accept such a board as only public utilities come under the Industrial Disputes Act, but I am in hopes they will agree to such a conciliation.

"The Department has had no direct communication as to the cause of the strike, but I understand from the newspaper reports that the trouble is really between two unions. Civil war is always the most bitter and disastrous and so is internal strife among labor men. I am most anxious that it should be settled."

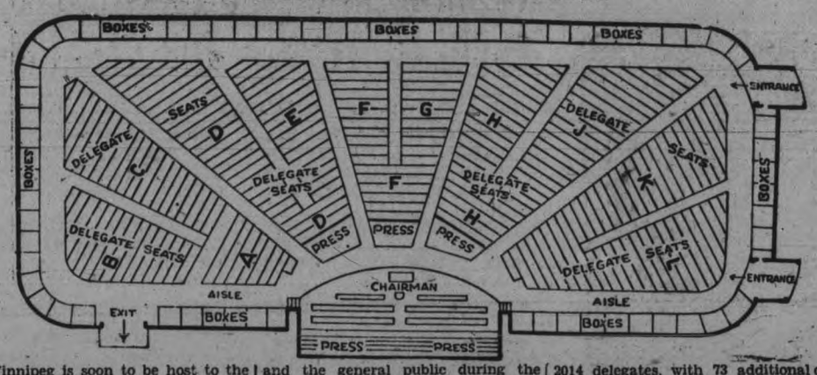
The strike is by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for a closed shop against the Amalgamated Society of Joiners and Carpenters.

Men Interested In Latest Styles

LONDON, Oct. 8 (By the Canadian Press).—That men's fashions are now a matter of absorbing interest equal to that of the interest in feminine fashions, was asserted recently by James Weddell, President of the National Federation of Merchant Tailors, at their recent annual meeting in London.

Young men paid close attention to the fashions, he said, because they wanted to appear well-dressed, while many middle-aged and elderly men followed the same course because they hoped by so doing to defeat Father Time and look younger than their years. James Weddell added that his advocacy of more color in men's clothes was based upon the conviction that men were demanding it. Men were born individualists; unlike women, they could not be stampeded into a change of fashion by a mere fit of trade.

SEATING FOR DELEGATES



Winnipeg is soon to be host to the greatest gathering at a convention in the history of the city which, in addition, will be the greatest political meeting in the annals of the Dominion of Canada. Conservatives from coast to coast will be there for the three day national convention opening October 10th and continuing until the election of a new leader, sometime October 12. To house the thousands of delegates and the general public during the sessions the Amphitheatre rink has been transformed into a convention hall, the revised floor plan of which is shown above. It will be noted that the platform has been placed in the centre of the west side of the building. Here will be seated the chairman, national committee and men distinguished in the history of the Conservative party. Seating arrangements have been made for 2014 delegates, with 73 additional on the platform and 552 in the boxes. The convention will bring newspapermen from all over the Dominion and arrangements have been made to accommodate 64 working newspapermen. All these will be accommodated on the skating floor of the rink, while the usual seating capacity of the rink will be available for the general public.

THE CHARM AND CONVENIENCE OF A MODERN BUNGALOW

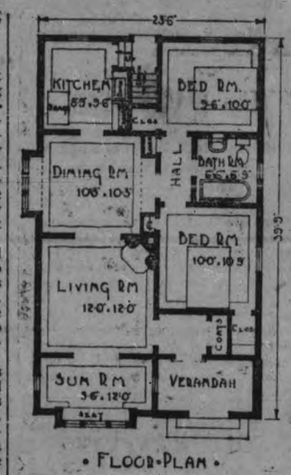
(By F. H. Portnall, Architect.)

Absolutely the highest development of the moderate cost bungalow, along lines suitable to meet Canadian requirements, is presented in the accompanying illustrations. The exterior appearance is one of charm acquired largely through simplicity and honest design. Such happy proportions and well-designed details as shown, however, are not mere matters of luck, but can only be the outcome of much skilled thought and experience.

The charm of well-chosen color and texture can only be appreciated to greatest advantage when attention is not distracted by elaborate detail. Imagine, then, the effect of this home with a rough red brick base, stucco walls of a warm buff tint, and a variegated brown shingle roof.

Turning our attention to the plans we find a deservedly popular general layout, plus all the reasonable features which modern planning has evolved. Entering the vestibule from the verandah we may leave hats and coats in a large closet provided for the purpose before passing to the living-room.

A feature of this living-room is the simple, well-designed corner fireplace. This type of hearth seems particularly well suited to use in moderate size rooms, for nestling back in the corner they form very unobtrusive features.



• FLOOR-PLAN •

Theoretically, too, they present the ideal arrangement for the even distribution of heat. In this particular case it is additionally desirable, for through the wide doorway connecting living-room and sunroom the latter may share its cosy influence.

The sunroom has something to offer in exchange, however, for imagine how delightfully refreshing it would appear with its bay window and seat, and gaily tinted walls displaying to full benefit an array of plants and ferns. It would be an inviting spot to wile away leisure hours.

Although the dining-room is actually as much connected to the living-room as is the sunroom, the breaking of the direct side wall line, and the position of the fireplace, has a separating effect which gives it just a desirable degree of seclusion. It is, however, a pleasant square room containing an arched bay window balanced on the opposite side by a similarly treated recess giving access to the inner hall.

Let us first examine the kitchen which is of modern convenient size, and contains a sink and built-in cabinet. A typical grade entrance provides easy access to a garden and basement.

The previously mentioned inner hall corresponds to the upper half of a two-storey house, and gives admittance to both bedrooms, the bathroom, and a linen-closet. Each of the bedrooms, which are of ample size, contains a large clothes-closet.

A practical feature of this home is the possibility of satisfactory erection on a narrow lot, the house being only 23 ft. 6 ins. in width. Exclusive of lot, the cost, providing hot air heating, would be approximately $5,000.

Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the architect direct. Address: Mr. F. H. Portnall, Regina, Sask.

THOSE WRETCHED BILIOUS ATTACKS

"Fruit-a-tives" Always Stops Them

MR. LEO. GODIN

"I was always bilious and never seemed to digest my food properly," writes Mr. Leo. Godin, 2371 Clark St., Montreal. "This kept me very weak. A friend, who had been completely relieved of these troubles by 'Fruit-a-tives,' advised me to try this fruit medicine. I did so, and now I am so well that I want to congratulate 'Fruit-a-tives' on its unfailing effectiveness."

If you suffer with poor digestion, upset stomach, bilious attacks or chronic constipation, take Mr. Godin's advice and try "Fruit-a-tives." This natural remedy, made from intensified fruit juices combined with tonics, will surely correct these troubles and bring you back to health. Don't put it off—buy a box to-day, take the tablets regularly, and see how quickly you will improve. 25c. and 50c.—everywhere.

PRESENTATION TO CHURCH ORGANIST

Miss Kathleen Elmhirst Leaves Westwood to Train as Nurse.

WESTWOOD, Oct. 8.—After the usual order of Holy Communion on Sunday, October 2, at St. Michael's Church, Westwood, the rector, Rev. T. J. O'Connor-Fenton, expressed with sorrow the loss of their organist, Miss Kathleen Elmhirst, who is leaving for Toronto, where she is entering a hospital as nurse-in-training.

Mrs. R. E. Birdsall then read the address and Mrs. J. Thompson, on behalf of the congregation, presented Miss Elmhirst with a beautiful leather club bag with French ivory fittings.

Dear Miss Elmhirst: It is with sincere regret the members of St. Michael's Church, Westwood, learn you are leaving us for a time, and although the profession you are entering is about the grandest any woman can follow, we, as individuals and a congregation, will sadly miss you.

We have known you from childhood and watched with pleasure and pride the development of the character which has made you beloved by all.

We thank you very sincerely for the pleasure you have given us by your devotion to the organ of our church and the music you have so generously given us, Sunday after Sunday, when very often it must have been a great strain on your time, strength and patience.

We will follow you with loving interest in your new work and hope you will meet with every success.

We ask you to accept this loyal address and gift as an acknowledgment of all we feel you are and have been to us.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,
Gilbert J. Elmhurst,
Wm. Thompson,
Church Wardens.

Oct. 2, 1927.

Miss Elmhirst, though completely taken by surprise, thanked them all for their good wishes and beautiful gift.

FOWL SUPPER AT COLDSPRINGS

Large Attendance at Annual Event—Good Play Given.

Coldsprings Union Sunday School fowl supper last night was a real success. Between 450 and 500 people satisfied, still some fragments remaining.

The concert was thoroughly enjoyed. It consisted of a play given by the young people of the Centre Line of Smith, entitled "The Old-Fashioned Mother." The play carried with it a genuine religious atmosphere, good temperance moral, and real home affection. The play was well given. Between acts music was supplied by the Sunday School Orchestra.

At the close of the programme the Sunday School's appreciation was expressed to the young people of Smith.

THANKS FOR CHAIRS

Mr. and Mrs. Meiklejohn Thanked For Gift.

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Meiklejohn, Oak Heights, on Thursday last:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Meiklejohn: We, your friends and neighbors, having learned that you are about to leave our midst, have gathered here to-night to try, in a small way, to express our regard for you and in appreciation of your many acts of kindness and goodwill while living in our neighborhood. We regret very much to have you move so far away, and our best wishes go with you, that you may find many true friends in your new home, also that you will have the very best of good luck in all your undertakings.

We now ask you to accept these chairs as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us, and when you have occasion to use them just keep a warm corner in your heart for your old neighbors of Oak Heights and Warkworth.

Signed on behalf of the community,
Mrs. K. Zuefelt,
Mrs. Wesley Morgan.

In a few well-chosen words, Mrs. Meiklejohn thanked all present on behalf of herself and Mr. Meiklejohn, who was unable to be present.

DISTRICT CHURCHES

NORHAM UNITED CHURCH.

NORHAM, Oct. 8.—The rally day services were held on Sunday in the Norham Church. The church was beautifully decorated with colored maple leaves, asters, gladioli, sweet peas, pansies, and plants.

The choir provided special music for the service. The theme of the programme was, "Let us see Jesus." Mr. Wesley Clare gave a recitation bearing out the title, "Let us see Jesus."

Rev. E. Sexsmith, of Sidney, who supplied for the Myersburg anniversary services on Sunday, delivered a very fine address. In opening, he stated that the emphasis might be placed on any of the words, "We would see Jesus." He illustrated the different meanings brought out by emphasizing the different words, and continued by explaining why we would see Jesus. In this study of why we wish to see Jesus, Mr. Sexsmith made a special appeal to the children. His address was appreciated by all.

Miss Mildred Curtis then presented the story of Peter, told in a simple but very forceful manner.

The service was attended by not only Sunday school members but also friends of the congregation, and proved to be a real "rally."

Many Inducements Are Offered Servants

LONDON, Oct. 8 (By the Canadian Press).—London chatelaines are finding it increasingly difficult to maintain their domestic staffs, and as an indication of the feckless attitude of the average cook-general of the London household, the following advertisement, which appeared in a London newspaper recently, may be quoted:

Wanted—House parlor-maid; experienced; small family; two other maids; small house; three half-days fortnightly, and other evenings; yearly holidays; good food, home; insurance paid; wireless, motor rides, theatre tickets; wages £48-£55 a year.

London hotels have solved to a large extent the problem of their domestic staff, for in the big London caravanserai the domestics have their own rooms with radio outfits, and they are given a free rotating service of theatre and cinema tickets. In summer months they are also taken for automobile rides.

The average person in the United States carries on 185 telephone conversations a year.

There are 1,304,300 persons in the United States whose names are Smith.

FISH CAN'T BE CAUGHT "AT REST"

HONOLULU, Oct. 8.—The Hawaiian Legislature, like those of other States, furnishes a laugh now and then.

During a recent session the Lower House went on record as being opposed to the molesting of fish "during their hours of rest." A committee reporting on the practices of fishing between sunset and sunrise, said it had found that gill nets were being placed at night and fish were being driven into them.

The committee declared the practice was wrong, "as it molests fish during their hours of rest, and drives them from their breeding grounds."

Wise Home Managers Make No Dates With the Furnace

"I'm awfully sorry dear, but I can't be at your bridge today—can't you get someone to fill in?—There's no one home to 'tend the furnace—I really must stay or the fire will be going out."

WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB MEETING

Visiting Soloist Delights Audience With Many Beautiful Songs.

PROGRAMME OUTLINED.

The opening meeting for this season of the Women's Music Club of the city was held in the studio at the Conservatory of Music, yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance, taking into consideration the somewhat inclement weather of the day. The programme was very interesting, showing a departure from the programmes of last year, when brief papers illustrated by music were the rule Yesterday, a vocal soloist from Toronto, Mrs. Madge Hunter Parker, was the visiting artist, and delighted her audience with her beautiful coloratura soprano voice and her charming delivery. With piano accompaniments by Miss Agnes Logan, who played very easily at sight some difficult accompaniments, this being made necessary by the late arrival of the singer, owing to a series of travel misadventures. Mrs. Parker gave her hearers a number of beautiful songs, in English, French and German. The singer had a remarkable range, her low tones being soft and her upper register, with a high E note ringing out clear and true in one song, being very attractive. Her voice had a lovely quality of rich warmth and clarity of tone. The flute-like measures of several coloratura numbers were beautifully sung.

The vocal programme included Bishop's 'Should He Upbraid,'" Schubert's "My Peace Thou Art," sung in German, two French songs, "J'ai vu passer l'hirondelle," and the waltz song from "Romeo et Juliette" entitled "Je veux vivre," also the lovely Swiss "Echo Song," Moore's composition, "My Lovely Celia," and a ringing Scotch song, "My Love She's but a Lassie Yet."

A piano solo was given by Miss Stella Shearer, who played very fluntly, with a smooth, peaceful tone, the "Fond Memories" song of Greig, "Klein Haakon."

A little interlude in the programme was the redaing by Miss Ruth Budd of her prize-winning poem on Confederation and the presentation to her by Mrs Forbes-Allan, the president, of the five dollar gold piece given by the Club to the pupils composing the best poem on this subject.

Mrs. Allan outlined the programme of the Music Club for the season, with a very interesting forecast of a delightful series of talks on music by eminent men like Dr. E. MacMillan and Mr. Augustus Bridle of Toronto, a Shakespeare Recital by Professor Clausen of Toronto, an afternoon with Gilbert and Sullivan given by Principal Hutton of University College, Toronto, an Organists' Day, a "Happy Christmas Gathering," an address on his European tour by Rev. J D. Paterson of All Saints' church, and music which will include instrumental and vocal numbers by Mrs. G. F. Liddle, the Misses Edwina Palmer and Agnes Best, Mr. M. H. Park, Mr. Douglas Carlisle, and Mr. Martin Chenhall, also a number of visiting artists, including Miss Margaret Brown and Mr. Scott Malcolm of Toronto, pianists, John Detwiler and Harvey Dovey, baritone soloists of Toronto, and William Dykes, tenor, of Toronto.

At the conclusion of the meeting, afternoon tea was served.

OBITUARY

HENRY SEABROOKE.

HAVELOCK, Oct. 8. — Mr. Henry Seabrooke, one of the pioneer residents of Belmont Township, passed away at his home on Wednesday after an illness of only a few days from pneumonia.

The deceased was in his 84th year, and has been a resident of Belmont for about 60 years. He leaves to mourn his loss beside his wife two daughters, Mrs. G. Elmhurst of Seymour, and Mrs. W. Anderson of town, two sons, Henry of Edmonton, Alta, and Simon of Belmont; two sisters, Fannie Seabrooke of Belmont, and Mrs. J. Scott of town; four brothers, Samuel of Peterborough, Bartholomew of South Monaghan and John and Joseph of Belmont.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon and interment took place in the Maple Grove cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS.

RENSHAW—YOUNGS.

About four hundred of the adherents and friends of the Salvation Army, gathered in the Temple on Simcoe street last evening to attend the ceremonies incident on the wedding of two of the city's officers in the Army: Captain Winnie Youngs, daughter of Mr and Mrs. A. Youngs, Reid street, and Captain Jack Renshaw of Peterborough, formerly of England. The ceremony was performed by Lt.-Colonel McAmmond of Hamilton. Attendants were Captain Zarfas of Port Colborne and Ensign Scott of this city.

After the ceremony a number of brief addresses were given by local and visiting Army officials, including Brigadier Bloss of Toronto, Commandant Frank Ham, Bandmaster Robinson and Mrs. T. A. Lang. Later a wedding banquet was served. The Salvation Army Band and Songsters were present and rendered much appreciated music.

DUCLOS—BURKE.

The following extract, taken from the Chicago Daily Tribune, refers to the wedding of Miss Helen Burke, a former resident of the city, and niece of Mrs. Joseph Meagher, 260 Aylmer Street:

One of the lovely brides of the month is Miss Helen Hester Burke, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Burke, who was united in marriage to Clarence Duclos, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Duclos, on Wednesday, September 28th, at 9 a.m. The nuptial mass was said by Rev. Father Scanlon, during which Mr. Francis Doyle sang the "Ave Marie" and "O Lord, Most Holy," in his usual pleasing style . The bride was given away by her father and looked pretty in her wedding gown of French salome georgette, the bodice covered with rhinestones. She wore a long veil, cap style, caught up on sides with orange blossoms and carried a showed bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. Miss Janith Burke, younger sister of the bride, in baby blue georgette, and Miss Carrie Stevens, in pale yellow, both wearing silver head bands, were bridesmaids. Mr. Francis Burke, brother of the bride, and Mr. Ted Dooley were the groom's supporters, the ushers being Mr. Jack Flood and Mr. F. Young.

The groom's gift to the bride was a grey fox fur, to the bridesmaids silver link watch bands, and to the best man and ushers cigarette cases.

A reception was held at the bride's home on Loomis Boulevard to about one hundred guests, some being present from Detroit, Milwaukee, and Peterborough, Ont. Mr. Ted Dooley acted as toastmaster.

The bride and groom left on the 2 a.m. train for New York, the bride travelling in a pearl grey suit, grey fur, blue vagabond felt hat, black suede shoes, and purse of same.

The presents were many and beautiful, showing the high esteem of the bride among her many friends.

The bride and groom will be at home to their friends after October 15th, at 6734 Loomis Boulevard.

POWERS—NETTER.

The wedding took place at St. Joseph's church, Port Huron, at nine o'clock on the morning of September 29th, of Ethel Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Netter, Union street, Port Huron, and James Patrick Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perrie Powers, of Peterborough. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Father Thomas Connell.

The bride was in white, modeled with satin basque and lace skirt. She wore a bridal veil of white and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Agnes Netter, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing orchid chiffon with a hat to match and carrying a bouquet of pink rose buds.

Mr. Norman Powers of Peterborough, was best man for his brother.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives, at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers will reside in Peterborough on their return from their wedding trip.

TWOMEY—SCOLLARD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, Oct. 5th, at 9 o'clock, when Bernice Regina, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scollard, became the bride of Mr. Angus Twomey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Twomey of Downeyville.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. John F. Scollard, sister-in-law of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. V. McAuley, assisted by Rev. Father Galvin of Downeyville, and Rev. James McGuire of Douro. Joseph Sullivan, Raymond Killen and Leo Scollard, brother of the bride, served the Mass.

The bride looked charming in a gown of sky blue chiffon velvet and silver with rhinestone trimmings, wearing large picture hat to mach, also an Isabella fox fur, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Anna B. Scollard, R.N., of New Yorok, sister of the bride, was gowned in gold and blue cut velvet with hat and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses.

Mr. Fergus O'Neill of Lindsay acted as best man.

The altar was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns and roses and the seats for the guests with Autumn foliage and white ribbon. Mr. D. J. Scollard and W. G. Scollard of North Bay acted as ushers. During the Mass the choir sang, also solos were sung by Mr. P. J. Scollard and Mr. John F. Scollard, brothers of the bride. After the signing of the register, the couple left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

A dainty reception was held at the home of he bride's parents where some forty guests were entertained, Hoopers of Peterborough, being the caterers.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a sterling silver bracelet set with brilliants and amethysts; to the best man a gold cigarette case, and to the organist a leather music case. The happy couple left on the 3.30 train. The bride travelled in a dress of beige crepe romain and saltex coat with hat and shoes to match.

The guests were Rev. J. V. McAuley of Ennismore; Rev. Father Galvin of Downeyville, Rev. Father McGuire of Douro, Doctor and Mrs. P. J. Moloney and daughter Frances of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Twomey and daughter Kathaleen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, all of Downeyville; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Scollard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perdue and family, all of Peterborough; Mrs. Patrick Corkery of Oshawa, Mr. Gerard Scollard McGill of Guelph, Mr. Fergus O'Neill of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Twomey of Ennismore.

LITTLE DELAY IN OPERATIONS

Toronto Carpenters' Strike of Little Effect, Say Contractors.

NEW MEN HIRED.

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—Toronto's building program is going ahead almost unhampered by the strike of the carpenters belonging to the United Carpenters' and Joiners' Union. No more men have been called out since the originals walked off two days ago, according to the contractors today, and with the exception of two big construction jobs where the strikers are now being replaced, conditions are normal. The strikers in many instances have been replaced by men from the Amalgamated Union, which is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

ELECTION GIVES CANADA PRESTIGE

Hon. Raoul Dandurand Says Dominion Benefits From League Action.

QUEBEC, October 8 (Canadian Press), — "The Dominion of Canada is going to play an important part in the League of Nations discourses and decisions," Senator Raoul Dandurand, who has been representing Canada at the League of Nations meeting in Geneva, stated to-day on debarking from the Empress of France. Senator Dandurand was enthusiastic at Canada's being elected to a non-permanent seat on the Council.

"In what way will Canada benefit from membership?" he was asked.

"Regarding that question from a moral standpoint," the Senator replied, "I should say that Canada will derive immense benefits in that she can feel on a par with the other great nations of the world."

CARDINAL BANS POPULAR HYMN

Archbishop of Boston Says "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" Maudlin.

OUTRAGE TO FAITH.

BOSTON, Oct. 8. — Canadian Press —Cardinal O'Donnell, Archbishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Boston, has banned the popular hymn, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," from church funeral services, and his action has received public endorsement from several of the leading Protestant clergymen.

The hymn, the Cardinal says, is not only "vulgar" but "inane" and "trashy."

After identifying "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" as among several English compositions which he says were "composed by people who have no faith but plenty of maudlin sentiment," and is a "flagrant outrage to faith," His Eminence warns that organists and choir directors who permit its future use will be "immedi-

POOR INFLATION IS HARD ON TIRES

Life of Tires of Same Type Varies According To Treatment.

Truth is stranger than fiction, even in the rubber world.

The stories which tired tires tell when they are brought into the service department of J. J. Duffus Limited, local Seiberling dealers, are as interesting as any "best seller."

Two balloon tires, which were purchased by different owners, were recently examined by the Seiberling Rubber Company. Both tires showed the same wear. They looked almost exactly alike on the outside and might have been used on the same car. On tire had covered eight thousand miles, while the other had gone eighteen thousand.

A technical examination of the two tires and the answers of the owners to the questions they were asked showed that the ten thousand miles of service which separated the two tires was due entirely to the difference between improper and proper inflation. The tire which showed the excessive wear after only eight thousand miles of usage, had been run with the air pressure several pounds below the normal pressure for a balloon tire. The one which had been properly inflated was still good for several thousand miles of use.

Because of the importance of normal air pressure, a slogan, which was launched in the West, is spreading very widely throughout the country and is recommended for motorists in this city by the local Seiberling dealer. It is: "Test your tires every Friday."

G.M.C. FACTORY BEING EXPANDED

Parking Place of Last Spring Now Productive Building.

OSHAWA, Ont., Oct. 8.—Motor-trucks of the latest and fastest type are today sliding regularly off a long assembly line where a few months ago a vacant field provided parking space for the cars of General Motors employees. A great truck manufacturing plant has taken the place of the vacant field, and its completion was signalized this month when President R. S. McLaughlin of General Motors of Canada drove the first General Motors truck built in the new factory off the line.

Meanwhile other vacant fields are being torn up and houses and buildings being torn down to make room for other new factories. Towering webs of steel are silhouetted against the sky; cavernous holes are ready to hold concrete foundations; wagons bump along with bricks; trucks rumble by with steel beams—visible signs that General Motors of Canada is deep in the midst of a vast $2,500,000 expansion program, of which the truck plant was merely the first unit.

Among buildings now in course of construction are a huge metal-stamping mill, a fine four-storey fireproof office building, and a new paint shop. Additions are going up to many other buildings, notably the body-building, assembly and radiator plants and the machine shops. Hundreds of men are working on the construction, and scores of factories throughout Canada are engaged in making the machinery which will be contained in the completed buildings.

This chain of economic effect will not end when the structures are built and equipped, for their erection will permit of the purchase of New volumes of raw material from Canadian sources. Already General Motors purchases in Canada have grown to such an extent that in Oshawa alone six other companies provide this motor industry with material, together with five hundred additional firms throughout Canada.

New sources, as a matter of fact, have had to be developed following the opening of the truck building, which will enable General Motors of Canada to manufacture trucks on a quantity production basis never approached before. Assembling trucks on a moving line is something new in this type of manufacturing, and only the tremendous output engendered by the popularity of the new General Motors truck with Buick engine has made it economically possible.

This popularity of the new truck is stated to be the reason for the erection of the new plant. The same cause is behind the expansion of the whole group of factories. Low prices and high quality achieved by economies of volume purchasing and production, by close co-ordination of resources and facilities, by improved labor and time saving method of manufacture and by efficient distribution methods have produced a constantly increasing demand for General Motors cars, which can only be supplied through the erection of new factories.

SUCCEEDS WHEELER.

Wayne B. Wheeler's mantle has fallen for the moment at least, upon the Rev. F. Scott McBride, B.S., D.D., shown here, a militant Scotch Presbyterian from Carroll county, Ohio, and the most distinguished alumnus of Muskingum college. It is not exactly a promotion for Mr. McBride. Technically, as general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, he was Mr. Wheeler's boss. But actually, during his three years as field marshall of the drys, he was obscured by the accumulated glory of the veteran scourge of wet legislators.

UNDERWRITERS OPEN SESSIONS WITH BANQUET

Inspirational Talk Given Insurance Men By Rev. Dr. Blagrave.

VALUES OF INSURANCE.

W. W. Richmond Talks On Salesmanship, Giving Many Pointers.

Two inspiring addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Blagrave and W. W. Richmond at the banquet of the Life Underwriters held in the Empress Hotel last night. Dr. Blagrave took as his subject, "The Social Effect of Insurance," and Mr. Richmond, "Salesmanship." G. F. Liddle, organist and choir leader of George Street United Church, played several instrumental selections on the piano which were received with much applause by the audience. H. Reid rendered two vocal solos in a fine style.

Dr. Blagrave divided his subject into three parts: the provision value of insurance the contentment value of insurance and the thrift value of insurance.

"One of the greatest things of insurance," said the speaker, "is the wonderful provision it makes after the bread winner has been taken away. The family is enabled to go forth and meet the daily requirements of life. This should be the uppermost thing in the minds of agents when they go to sell insurance. The provision value is especially important today in our urban living, for generally there is very little left at death.

"Contentment is a very important thing in our lives. We may have an abundance of knowledge about things but we are not able to put it into the real things of life. With contentment our lives are made more happy and we are provided with rest and sleep. It gives us mental balance and moral health. With insurance there is that contentment that is required in life.

"Thrift is a moral quality value. It is the denial of today's desires and indulgences and anything that tends to create thrift is a moral help to the person. The moral value of thrift is found in the forward look or vision, a very necessary thing in all people. Thrift builds up great achievements and welds itself into the whole social fabric of our civilization. It is the principle of not spending each day all that day's income; just the same as a person ought to make a real investment to his knowledge every day. The miser's love of money is not thrift. We are living in a time when it is very hard to practice thrift, for we are more or less under the spell of trying to keep up with the Joneses.

"When a person takes a policy he knows he has to meet the premiums and this in itself is thrift."

The speaker, in concluding touched upon an excuse which many use for not taking insurance, when they quote the Scripture where it says: "Take no thought for the morrow, for the morrow will take care of itself"; but, said Dr. Blagrave, "We also read, 'If a man does not provide for himself he is worse than an infidel.' This means we should not jeopardize today's efficiency by worrying about the things of tomorrow."

W. W. Richmond, in commencing, said, "We are all sellers of contentment and we are building a monument for ourselves that is going to stand after us. It requires salesmanship to give that contentment. I propose to deal with some of the answers to objections raised to agents.

"You either sell to the man or he sells you. A lot depends on your attitude and poise. Go in as if you were going to master the sale. Don't go up in the air, but give your prospect a patient hearing. Do not let his answers get under your skin. Sell the policy and sell it straight. Get on the right side of the man and have him realize that you are right.

"Some people have a superstition against buying insurance. Never contradict a prospect. If he dislikes your policy give him one that he does like. Always change the policy to suit your prospect.

"In answering objections there are several methods: First by the direct return by making a man realize in the objections he is raising he has a real need of insurance. Then there is the indirect return, when you agree with a man and then present your propositions. With the emphatic denial always try to avoid collisions with your prospect. In the pass-up method when you say nothing about the prospect's minor objections by turning the conversation into other channels."

A hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Blagrave, Mr. Richmond and Mr. Liddle was moved by I. P. McNabb and seconded by W. R. Widdess.

Mr. McNabb paid tribute to the members of the ministry in the great work they were doing in educating public opinion as to the value of insurance.

RELATIONS IN BALKANS BAD

The Jugo-Slav-Bulgar Quarrel Causes High Tension in Near East.

REGRET EXPRESSED.

BELGRADE, Jugo Slavia, Oct. 8.—Canadian Press. — The relations between Jugo Slavia and Bulgaria, were at their highest point of tension today since the Balkan war of 1912.

The Jugo-Slav Minister in Sofia was under instructions to demand the disbandment of the comitadji (irregular) bands in Macedonia or the alternative of a diplomatic break. The border was closed and Jugo-Slav troops were seeking to stamp out the Macedonian terrorists reported to be roaming the region seeking favorable opportunities to carry out their bombing raids. Newspapers regardless of political shade, are demanding exemplary and prompt punishment of the two men captured as alleged members of the gang which on Thursday assassinated Brig.-General Michael Kovachevitch at Istip. London despatches last night reported that the Bulgarian government had expressed regret to Jugo Slavia over the assassination of General Kovachevitch, and the frontier raids by comitadji.

GRAIN REPORT

Below will be found a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports received at the Head Office of the Bank of Montreal from its branches. The branch managers have complete and intimate knowledge of each local situation and are in close touch with crop conditions in all sections of the districts mentioned.

General.

Practically all wheat in the Prairie Provinces has been cut and good weather is now required for threshing. In Alberta the yields and grades are coming up to expectation but in Saskatchewan while the yields are average there will be more of the lower grades than usual. The crop in Manitoba is poor. In Quebec harvesting and threshing operations are rapidly approaching completion, and crops in general are satisfactory. In Ontario, threshing operations are well advanced under favorable weather conditions, and yields of the principal crops are good. In New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island good weather for harvesting has improved the crop outlook, but in Nova Scotia adverse weather conditions have greatly benefitted crops and the threatened heavy loss has largely been offset.

Prairie Provinces.

ALBERTA WESTERN AREA—Wheat all cut except in district south of Lethbridge, where cutting is now progressing favourably. Threshing not sufficiently advanced to determine generally the grades and yields, but reports to date are satisfactory. ALBERTA NORTHEASTERN AREA—Wheat is all cut; threshing will not be general until the first week in October but from threshing reports received the yields are reported favorable with quality above average. ALBERTA SOUTHEASTERN AREA—Threshing operations have commenced and yields and grades are satisfactory. SASKATCHEWAN NORTHERN AREA—Practically all wheat cut and some threshed. Notwithstanding fairly general damage from early frosts and rust, the prospect is for a somewhat better than average yield with a larger than usual volume of lower grades. SASKATCHEWAN SOUTHERN AREA—Wheat is all cut and threshing well under way in Central, South and Southeastern section, but not so far advanced in Southwest. An average yield anticipated, with considerable low grade grain. MANITOBA—Cutting is practically completed, and threshing is now well under way. Yields and grades of wheat are disappointing.

Province of Quebec.

Throughout the Province grain crops are on the average satisfactory both as to yield and grade. Root, vegetable and fodder crops are also generally good, with the exception of corn and potatoes. Apples and other tree fruits are below average. Cutting of tobacco has been practically completed, and the crop is exceptionally good. Pastures are in good condition, and feed plentiful.

Province of Ontario.

The yield from fall wheat is somewhat lower than was expected, but oats and barley are fully up to average. A light crop of second growth alfalfa is now being cut. Good weather in September improved the ensilage corn and silos are now being filled. Winter apples and pears are light and grapes are about 80 per cent of average crop. Potatoes, turnips and sugar beets are good, and beans are an average crop of good quality. From 80 per cent to 90 per cent of a splendid tobacco crop is under cover in good condition.

Maritime Provinces.

Oats will be an average crop. The damage to potatoes, due to prolonged wet weather, cannot yet be ascertained but the marketable crop will be under average. Nova Scotia apples are colouring well and are growing to a large size. Suitable weather to mature the fruit has prevailed for several days. The yield will be over 60 per cent. of a five-year average, and the market appears to be satisfactory.

British Columbia.

Threshing is practically completed. Tomatoes have improved but the yield is still estimated to be below average. Roots and other vegetables are making a good showing. Apples are unchanged at 75 per cent of an average crop, prunes 55 per cent and hops 110 per cent. Pasturage is excellent.

MEMBER ASKS FOR MORE TIME

Has Not Yet Published Statement of Election Expenses.

NOW BEING SUED.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 8.—An echo of the last Federal election in South Oxford was heard in the publication yesterday of an announcement by Acting Judge McMullen of an application by Thomas M. Cayley, M.P. for South Oxford, in connection with the Supreme Court action which is pending against him on the ground that he failed to make the return of his election expenses as required by the statutes.

In his application Mr. Cayley asks for an order allowing an authorized excuse for failure to transmit the return of his election expenses, or allowing an extension of time for its transmission or for such other relief as the County Judge of Oxford shall deem proper.

Acting Judge McMullen the announcement states, has fixed Monday, Oct. 17, at 11 a.m., for the hearing of the application.

Dr. F. D. Canfield of Ingersoll is the plaintiff in the action which is now pending in the Supreme Court in which Mr. Cayley is being sued for $25,000 for his alleged failure to make the statutory return within the required time.

ate these objections to examinations. They usually are composed of many short questions requiring short answers. These are easy to examine and the results are accurate, as there is only one right answer to a question.

Standards are set for pupils of different ages. There are educational and mental ages. A pupil may be above or below the standard set for his age.

So far, these tests have not been used extensively with us. They are expensive. American tests seem more or less inapplicable to us. The standards seem different in the two countries. They are valuable to watch development in pupils. After all, a pupil can always measure his own progress. Children like these "true false" tests. There is an economy of time and the teacher can cover more. Pupils can see just why they received certain values.

Some tests put wrong statements before the class. There is a possibility of guessing on the part of the pupils. They do not train pupils to organize their information.

Recall tests are valuable in history and geography. The teacher can test the information of all pupils readily.

Are these tests just a fad? Will they be permanent? There are some advantages with them, after all. They may not contain all the wheat but they are not all chaff. They are worth experimenting with.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO BUILD SEWER

Millbrook Sewer Plans Are Discussed—Reeve Granted Leave.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 8. — Council met in regular session this week, Reeve W. T. Wood in the chair, and members all present.

Communications were read by the Clerk from Mr. E. S. Martin, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, informing the council that by instructions of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, there will be sent to the village of Millbrook by parcel post from Montreal, a gift of peony plants.

From the H. W. Steel Shanks and Specialty Co., Ltd., of Preston, regarding improved traffic signs:

From Messrs David Fowler and George Raper claiming exemption from poll tax on the ground of being connected with the militia.

On information from Reeve Wood that he expected to be absent on trip to Winnipeg for a time, Councillor P. Stinson was appointed Acting Reeve during his absence, on motion of Lang-Sayles.

Messrs. A. W. Conner and J. J. Weicker of the firm of A. W. Connor and Co., consulting engineers, of Toronto, were present, and presented plans of the proposed construction of a sewer on King street, and discussed the project with the council.

Stinson-Sayles: Whereas it is desirable that the construction of the work hereinafter described be undertaken as a local improvement, namely construction of a sewer on King street from a point 200 feet west of Union street to the main street crossing King street about 200 feet east of the eastern limits of Tupper street, and from King street northerly on Union street about 150 feet, under the provisions of the local improvement act.

That A. W. Connor and Co., be the engineers for this work and that they perform all duties which under the said act are to be or may be performed by an engineer.

That notice of council's intention to undertake the said work be published as required by the said act.—Carried.

Lang-Sayles: That the following accounts be ordered paid

Hydro-Electric street lighting, $69.83; town hall $1.84	$ 71.67
W. J. Tremain, repairs to watering cart	8.25
Millbrook Rural Telephone Co.	3.75
D. Fowler, refund poll tax	5.09
G. Raper, refund poll tax	5.00
H. White, labor	1.63
S. Donnelly, street watering	79.75
H. Nattrass, salary $20, collecting poll tax $5; labor $4.10	29.10
P. I. Bentley, acct	7.40
Municipal World, supplies	10.70

Lang-Sayles: That clerk be instructed to order assessor's and collector's rolls from S. R. Hart Company Toronto.

"AFTER THE BALL."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 8.—Limping into small claims court the other day, Miss Katie Smith filed suit for $10 damages against Artie Gardner—$6 for shoes and $4 for injured feelings. Gardner, she said, injured and insulted her by dancing all over her feet instead of on the dance floor.

The display of blankets and rugs which will be seen in the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition in the Armories will be of an educational value, especially for the children and young people. Wool will be shown in the raw state just as it is clipped off the sheep. Then after being washed and cleansed, each process may be followed. After the wool is coloured, picked and carded it is ready for spinning. Someone who has made a special study of the manufacturing of wool may be on hand on Children's Day to answer questions and give useful information to those who are interested.

OMEMEE A.Y.P.A. BEGINS MEETINGS

Contest On Attendance To Last All Through Year.

OMEMEE, Oct. 8—On Monday evening, October 3, the Omemee branch of the Anglican Young People's Association, got under way for a year of anticipated success. The president, Miss M. A. Dickson, opened the meeting with a brief address in which she spoke of the Association's progress depending upon the members.

Attractive programs had been printed which was placed in the members' hands to apprise them of the coming events. Six groups were formed by way of a new contest, in which all showed interest. This contest will continue for the entire season, and the winning group will have to maintain a high percentage of attendance if the enthusiasm continues as it has every appearance of doing.

During the evening Miss L. Jamieson favored the company with a piano solo. She also furnished the music for a game of musical chairs in which all delighted.

Refreshments were served in informal style, bringing to a close a happy evening.

Next week there is to be a hike, which promises to be an interesting event.

Mrs. William Brenton of Fenella is under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Brough, Toronto, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Hershey.

A FAMILY MEDICINE.

A Welland Lady Tells of the Value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in Her Home.

"I have many reason for praising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. George L. Swick, R.R. No. 2, Welland, Ont. "My first experience with this medicine was in my girlhood, when, following an attack of scarlet fever, I was left in a badly run down condition, and the pills restored me to good health. Later in my married life I had a severe attacks of rheumatism. The pain in my right arm and shoulder was so bad that I could not dress myself without help. Again I resorted to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and again they proved a blessing to me, as soon the rheumatic pains and stiffness disappeared and there has been no return of the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also been of great benefit to my children. One of my boys was threatened with St. Vitus dance. His limbs and face would twitch and jerk. I gave him the pills, and again they did not fail, as under the treatment the trouble ceased. I have also given the pills to my little girl, who was anaemic, and in this case also with the greatest benefit. Naturally when I hear anyone complaining of not feeling well I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as I know of no other medicine to equal them in building up the blood and restoring health."

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and other nervous troubles. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition, and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

UNIQUE COLLECTION BOX NOT MADE FOR TAKING CHANGE

This little church at Dalton, Dnt., is among Canada's oldest churches. A Log cabin was its original site and the congregation recently celebrated its hundredth anniversary. Ex-Premier E. C. Drury is a member. The collection box shown is one used in the early days. It was made without nails and appears to be an entirely safe receptacle.

WRONG NAME GIVEN.

Dan Houston Attempted Rescue of Tommy Chappell.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 8.—It has been brought to the notice of the correspondent from Lakefield that a mistake was inadvertantly made in the report of the attempted rescue of Tommy Chapell by a young man known to his mates as "Scotty". The report gave "Scotty's" name as Dan McLeish which was that given to The Examiner representative by some of his men. His name is Dan Houston.

ENSURE A PLEASANT TRIP — TRAVEL "VANCOUVER EXPRESS."

From October 1st until the opening of the next tourist season, the "Vancouver Express" will have the distinction of being the most direct link between Toronto and Vancouver. Until May of 1928, when the superb "Trans-Canada" resumes service, the ever popular "Number Three" as she is more familiarly known, carries on alone.

The comfort and service found on this excellent transcontinental train have earned for it an enviable reputation with experienced travellers, in fact, many of her patrons use her services the year round, always occupying the same accommodation, as they would in a favorite hotel. They come to know the waiters and porters and look for them when they go aboard. There are more than a hundred men who do this, and it speaks well for the "Vancouver Express."

The Vancouver Express is Canadian Pacific and she leaves Toronto Union Station every evening at nine.

CHRYSLER OPENS NEW SCENIC ROUTE

North Carolina Official Makes Record Run To Quebec.

According to advices received by Gillespie's Garage the honor of officially opening the new international motor route from Asheville, N.C., to Quebec, fell to a Chrysler "70" roadster, which was driven by its owner, R. P. Harris, state automobile inspector of North Carolina, over this latest addition to North America's scenic highways two weeks before the spectacular tour which has just been completed by a giant motorcade of 100 cars over the route.

Accompanied by Mrs. Harris and a mechanician, and bearing letters of greeting to Canadian officials from the governors of North Carolina, Virginia and Pennsylvania, and other influential citizens of the United States, Harris covered the 1509 miles between Asheville and Quebec in 41 hours and 25 minutes. At the end of the drive he was welcomed at the Chateau Frontenac, in Quebec, by representatives of the provincial government, who assembled to greet him and extend official recognition of the opening of the new connecting link between two neighboring nations.

Detailed reports of the pioneer trip received by the Chrysler Corporation show that Harris and his party were obliged to overcome a series of handicaps throughout the entire run. In the first 500 miles out of Asheville they were forced to fight their way through dense fogs and severe head-on rains. During fully 1200 miles of the drive heavy grades of the Appalachian mountain range, while presenting a wonderful panorama of scenic beauties for tourists, were found to be anything but favorable to efforts to establish new time records.

In spite of all handicaps and stops necessitated by the desire of communities along the route to express their pleasure over the opening of the new highway, the Harris party made a remarkable average which Chrysler officials explain was due in considerable measure to the fact that the Harris roadster was equipped with the Chrysler Red Head high compression engine, which has recently been put into production by the Chrysler Corporation and has been rolling up a large number of impressive performance records since its introduction.

LATE CROPS BAD.

Buckwheat, Potatoes and Corn Poor in King's Wharf District.

KING'S WHARF, Oct. 8.—The harvest is all finished here, but the buckwheat, which is only a fair crop. The potatoes are rotting on some farms and the owners are getting them out. The corn is also poor, the weather being too cold and wet.

The hum of the threshing machine is heard every day now. A large number of people are threshing the grain in the field, owing to the scarcity of help.

BETHANY PERSONALS

BETHANY, October 8. — Mr. Nelson Brown of the Bank of Toronto staff of Sarnia, has been transferred to British Columbia, and was home for several days this week to see his grandmother, Mrs. George Price, and other friends before his trip to the Western Coast.

Dr. Louis Bigelow of Edgar was home for a few days and attended the funeral of his friend and fellow student, Dr. Gerald McCartney on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ivan Gray and her mother, Mrs. McBride, of Millbrook, visited friends in the village this week.

Through the removal of the Canadian National Railway service the village lost Mr. and Mrs. St. John, who were transferred to Bowmanville, Mr. and Mrs. Mendel Smith, who have gone to Lakefield, and Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders, who have been transferred to Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips have moved to Mr. Edward Swanson's house.

The monthly meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Club of the United Church, was held at the home of Mrs. Bertrand Monk on Tuesday evening with an attendance of 12.

An interesting programme was given and plans were discussed for a social evening to be held on Hallowe'en. Mrs. Rev. Poulter offered her home for this occasion and a committee was appointed to arrange for a programme.

HŌVIS

The Bread of Health

Why is HŌVIS the "Bread of Health"?

What is the Secret of the HŌVIS Flavor?

IT'S the Flour that makes the difference. No other bread flour is milled in quite the same way as HŌVIS.

For it contains a large proportion of wheat germ, which is the most nutritious part of the wheat grain.

The result is that HŌVIS Bread, baked by leading Canadian bakers, contains those precious, health-giving vitamines and more of the true nutriment of the wheat.

That's why HŌVIS Bread—"the bread of health" is so different and so much better for you.

BETTER ingredients always make better bread. But there is one particular ingredient present in such abundance in HŌVIS Bread as to give it a value no other bread possesses.

That ingredient is the wheat germ, scientifically combined in HŌVIS Flour.

You have only to taste HŌVIS Bread once, to realize the difference this makes!

And you are certain to enjoy it—just as thousands of others do.

Costs a little more—worth much more.

Why the name HŌVIS?
It is coined from the two Latin words "Hominis Vis" and means "The Strength of Man"

HŌVIS Flour is made by the millers of PURITY FLOUR—trade-mark protected. 707

A product of WESTERN CANADA FLOUR MILLS CO. LIMITED, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Saint John, Winnipeg, Calgary, Victoria.

Prince In Pajamas Startles Stationmen

CARLISLE, England, October 7. (United Press.) — The officials at the railroad station here were startled to see during the early hours a pyjama-clad figure parading along the platform where the royal train had pulled in from Ballater en route to London, and had stopped to change engines.

Fearing that the man, who appeared to be a sleep-walker, might disturb King George, Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, and Prince George, the station employees rushed to the young man to ask him to cease his promenading.

To their consternation, the walker proved to be the Prince of Wales himself, taking his morning exercise, while waiting for the train to start.

TEACHER TRAINING COURSE IS STARTED

Under Auspices of Sunday School Association—Lakefield News.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 8.—A class in teacher training in connection with the Sunday School Association in the district is being held this week every night in the school room of the Regent Street United Church, under the direction of Rev. T. M. Wesley. Two courses are being taken up, and at the close examinations will be given for those who wish them. There was an initial enrollment of seventy-five, and more were expected. The teachers are Rev. Mr. Herrington, of Warsaw, and Mrs. Cathoun, of Toronto. The courses are: 1, "The Teaching Value of the Old Testament"; 2, "The Teachings of Christ."

A number of local people took in Batten's excursion on Saturday last and report a delightful time. The excursion was held on the steamer Stoney Lake and was well attended. Besides the local people there were large delegations from Young's Point, McCracken's Landing, Burleigh Falls and Buckhorn. The weather was ideal and the gorgeous autumn colorings made the trip a delight all the way.

All the Public School teachers, together with most of the teachers of this district, left on Wednesday for Ottawa for a tour of the Ottawa schools and a visit to the capital city. The teachers of Peterborough County and City and Victoria County have arranged this trip in lieu of the annual convention held in Peterborough.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held on Monday evening last, Mrs. E. Cameron and Mrs. W. W. Leonard were appointed delegates to the convention in Toronto next week.

The A.Y.P.A. held their first meeting of the season on Monday evening last. The evening was devoted principally to the adoption of the program for the season's work and discussing the meeting of the District Council to be held here on Friday, October 14th, and also to talk over the Dominion conference, which meets in Peterborough on October 20th to 23rd.

The W. A. and Chancel Guild of St. John's Church resumed their meetings this week after the summer vacation.

A large crowd of Lakefield people attended the Edward Johnson concert in Peterborough on Tuesday night.

MILLBROOK NEWS.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 8.—The contents of the bales of clothing, quilts, etc., sent by the seventy-four Auxiliaries of the Cobourg Presbyterial, have been received by the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United church, Cobourg, and are being repacked preparatory to being shipped to the Indian Institutes, and other mission stations, in the West.

When ready for shipment there will be many tons of goods in the boxes which will go forward, some of them as far west as the Pacific Coast. The local Auxiliary and Mission Circle prepared clothing for a boy and girl in the Coqualeetza Institute in British Columbia.

Rev. Canon and Mrs. Allen motored to Toronto and are spending a few days in the city this week. Mr. Allen is consulting his medical advisor, this being the chief purpose of the trip to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mitchell have moved this week from the George Fallis' house which they have been occupying on King street to Mrs. C. Dunn's residence on Anne street. Mrs. Lunn is retaining part of the house for her own use.

Mrs. H. W. Hall, of Essex, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith.

Miss May Attwool, who had almost completed her course as a nurse-in-training at the Toronto General Hospital, is now recuperating at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Attwool, after a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Graham Russell, who has secured a position in Toronto with a radio firm, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Russell.

Miss Margaret Howard, who has been ill with a severe attack of 'flu, is now able to be up and hopes to resume her studies at the Port Hope High school next week.

CANADA'S DEBT HAS DECREASED

Was Seventy Millions Lower Sept. 30 Than March 31.

AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press)—Canada's net debt decreased by $70,189,814 in the first half of the present fiscal year. The financial statement issued yesterday by the Department of Finance, shows that on September 30 last, the debt amounted to $2,277,344,550. On March 31, the closing day of the last fiscal year, the debt stood at $2,347,834,375. During the first half of the last fiscal year there was a decrease in the deft of $53,903,920. Consequently, the decrease shown during the first half of the present fiscal year is over sixteen millions more than that for the previous year.

WRECKERS MUST HAVE LICENSES

Must Also Keep Records of Cars Bought, Sold or Scrapped.

Chief Constable Samuel Newhall told The Examiner yesterday morning that there were many men in this city carrying on a wrecking business who have failed to get a Provincial license and a second-hand dealer's licence. The law in this regard is very stiff, and it is the intention of the police to make a very careful check up in the near future.

The law also calls for all persons who buy, sell, wreck or otherwise deal in motor vehicles to keep a careful record of all vehicles bought, sold, or wrecked, and such information as will enable the motor vehicle to be readily identified and shall transmit within six days to the Department on forms furnished by the Department a statement of each motor vehicle bought, sold, or wrecked by them, and such other information as may be required by the Department.

DEVOTIONS HELD.

Many Take Part in Services in Ennismore Church.

ENNISMORE, Oct. 8.—The Forty Hours' devotion came to a close here on Tuesday evening. The weather was excellent and large crowds were present at the morning masses and evening devotions. During the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, many pious worshippers made frequent visits to the church. Splendid sermons, that will increase faith and encourage more frequent reception of Sacraments of Eucharist and Penance were delivered each evening. Rev. Father McGuire of Douro preached on Sunday, Rev. Father Maloney of the Sacred Heart Parish on Monday, and on Tuesday evening Rev. Father Finn of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough. Other priests present were: Rev. Father McAuley, Rev. Father Galvin of Downeyville, Rev. Father McGuire, Rev. Father O'Brien, Father Costello, of Peterborough, and Father Garvey of Lakefield.

BALKAN RIVALS QUARREL AGAIN

Jugo-Slavia Demands Withdrawal of Bulgarian Irregular Troops.

GENERAL ASSASSINATED.

JUGO SLAVIA, Oct. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—The Jugo-Slav minister to Sofia has been authorized to inform the Bulgarian government that unless effective measures are taken to disband the Bulgarian groups operating in Macedonia, the Jugo Slav government has no other course but to recall him and to break off diplomatic relations.

The protest over the activities of the Bulgarian Comitadjis, or irregulars, came as a result of the assassination yesterday of Brig.-Gen. Michael Kovachevitch, one of the best known officers in the Jugo Slav army, at Istip, the crime being attributed to the Comitadjis.

The Serbian-Bulgarian-Macedonian frontier has been closed by Jugo Slav government troops and gendarmes who are halting all traffic excepting transit in Macdonia under martial law measures taken as a result of the assassination.

Advices received in Belgrade yesterday afternoon said that a band of Bulgarian Comitadjis attacked the Macedonian frontier village of Klisura early yesterday morning, throwing nine bombs in the government building and later fighting the gendarmes with rifles and hand grenades. The attacking party, the advices stated, finally was repelled after a pitched battle lasting from one o'clock yesterday morning until daybreak The casualties were not given in the message.

PRESS CONDEMNS HERTZOG'S SPEECH

Charges Against Smuts Ludicrous, Says Cape Times.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Oct. 8. (Canadian Press Cable).—It is a long time since South African opinion has been so excited as it has been by the speech of Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, at Bloomfontein, on Tuesday, when in dealing with the controversy over the proposed national flag, he accused former Premier Jan Christian Smuts of perverting the truth, and fostering racial strife and discord for his own political ends.

The Cape Argus characterizes Premier Hertzog's charges as ludicrous. "He is exacerbating the existing divisions for sordid political ends," the Argus says with reference to the Premier.

The Cape Times says: "Premier Hertzog has raised the political temperature to the boiling point. He seems determined, with his gospel of hate, to destroy any chance there is of a reasonable settlement of the flag issue."

The Rand Daily Mail says the outlook for South Africa will be dark, if wiser advisors than Premier Hertzog cannot be found in the Nationalist party, of which the Premier is the leader.

Dieburger, the Nationalist official organ, on the other hand says Premier Hertzog has gained the love of his own people and international renown as the champion of their liberties. The paper says: "The advocates of the retention of the Union Jack desire to condemn South Africa to the position of a vassal to Great Britain."

DOCTOR ACQUITTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Hamilton Man Freed By Jury—Criminal Operation Alleged.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 8. — Dr. Warren Ryckman was found not guilty on a charge of manslaughter in Supreme Court Thursday night. The jury left the court room at 6.40 o'clock and returned with the verdict at 9.35 o'clock. Addressing Dr. Ryckman, Justice Logie informed him that the jury had acquitted him, and without further comment he discharged the doctor. Several friends were prompt to congratulate him.

Dr. Ryckman was charged with killing and slaying Agnes Heslop, of Appleby, one month prior to June 22, and it was alleged that a criminal operation had been performed. Antemortem statements were submitted. The girl was 19 years of age and died at her parents' home on June 18. She visited the office of Dr. Ryckman on June 1 and 2. The doctor said that he accused her of interfering with herself when she came to him, and he treated her, fearing that a hemorrhage might occur. Charges of attempting to procure an abortion and providing instruments for the purpose of securing a miscarriage were dropped by the Crown before the case started.

PILOTS WANTED.

War-time and Commercial Aviators Asked To Join Club.

Next Wednesday night, in the Board Rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, an Aero Club is to be formed. An invitation is extended to all war pilots of this district and surrounding towns to come and join. In order to get the two Government planes, ten qualified pilots as members of the club are necessary, so the committee in charge of forming the club extends an invitation to all veteran pilots to come and join the Peterborough Aero Club, and keep in touch with flying.

LENIENCY PLEA MADE BY JURY

August Strebling Found Guilty of Manslaughter at Sault.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—A verdict of guilty with a plea for leniense was returned by the jury Thursday after six hours' deliberation in the case of August Strebling, who faced a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of William Parent at a northern development branch camp last August. Mr. Justice W. E. Raney said he would reserve judgment. It was charged Strebling was intoxicated when he started up a motor car and pinned Parent against a tent pole.

ENTERTAINMENT AT MARMORA HALL

Good Audience Attends When McQuinn Sisters Perform.

MARMORA, Oct. 8.—For the second time this year, the McQuinn Sisters Company appeared at Marmora Town Hall on Wednesday evening before a good audience and gave another excellent performance.

Mr. W. J. McQuinn, the manager, is an old Peterborough boy, who has spent over thirty years before the footlights, and in Irish comedy quickly succeeds in enlivening his audience. Early on the program he was assisted by his daughter, Jeanette, in duet and dialogue, which won good applause. This young lady also showed accomplishment in her two violin solos, "The Herd Girl's Dream" and "A Cottage Small by a Waterfall." Her sister, Kathleen, proved to be an expert player on the zellophones, those used possessing a rare mellow tone, thus lending to their particular charm. In addition, Miss Kathleen is the pianist of the company. Black-faced Eddie Huff took exceedingly well in his coon song, "I Got to Get Myself Someone to Love," followed by a laughable monologue and step dance. The program closed with a farcical sketch, "Pull and Bush," in which all members of the company took part.

Conversation Cancelled.

Lincoln Regiment Officers Can't Make Connection With London.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The proposed talk from the headquarters of the Lincoln Regiment in St. Catharines to the Manchester Hotel, London, England, where a re-union of the officers of the Tenth Lincolnshire Foot Regiment is to be held to-morrow, has been called off, as the telephone company has been unable to arrange clear transmission beyond Toronto. It is hoped that the trans-Atlantic conversation will take place at Christmas.

SALADA TEA CO. BUILDS IN BOSTON

Leading Citizens Laud Canadian Enterprise in Expanding Into U. S.

One hears a great deal about the expansion of United States industry in Canada; therefore, it is interesting to note that Canadians can, and do, expand their business on the other side of the border. This was emphasized at the recent opening in Boston, Mass., of the magnificent new building of the Salada Tea Company—a Canadian enterprise with world-wide ramifications.

The building was opened by the Honorable P. C. Larkin, in the presence of Governor Fuller of Massachusetts, Mayor Nichols of Boston, and leading State and city officials. Referring to the imposing nature of the building, and the fact that it was the largest in the world devoted to the packing of tea, each speaker commented upon the success which had attended this great Canadian enterprise in the United States field.

Architecturally the building is a handsome ten-story structure, and enjoys the distinction of possessing a pair of the finest bronze doors in the world. These doors, which are the work of Henry Wilson, an English sculptor, were awarded a medal by the French Salon, where models were on exhibition this spring. They are said to rank in beauty with the doors of the cathedrals in Milan and Mayence.

Throughout the building officials and employees will have light, airy and most pleasant surroundings in which to work, with a luxuriant clubroom on the top floor for rest and relaxation. The clubroom is furnished with handsome lounges, and large, comfortable chairs upholstered in English red morroco, tables in color to match, Oriental rugs on the floor, and rare Chinese tapestries on the walls, with antique pieces distributed around the room, and on the inner wall a huge, inviting, open fireplace. Just below the clubroom is the cafeteria, to be maintained for the use of employees.

"It isn't extravagance, really. Forbidding surroundings hinder productions in any line of business. I know that it's good business. We very seldom have any one leave our employ. Sometimes two whole years go by without a person leaving the company either in Canada or United States. We have never had any labor disputes of any kind. Such things cost money. It is expensive to train new employees. It is expensive to put employees in a jail-like place and have them merely endure their work until the time comes when they can get out," Mr. Larkin stated.

The revolving star which will be on display in the Armories, Oct. 10 to 15, will be decorated with pure wool comforts in 14 of the most pleasing shades, each bound with silk ribbon to match. The choice of any comfort on the star will be the privilege of the one to draw the lucky number.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

Two mornings later, Cherry, before leaving for the office, dashed into her bedroom, where her sister had just started to bathe the baby. Little Hope was writhing muscularly on Faith's lap, protected by a big, fleecy Turkish towel.

"Oh, the precious!" Cherry gurgled, dropping to her knees to rub her apricot-tinted cheek against the downy pink cheek of her baby. "She's getting positively fat, Faith!"

"She really needs more sunlight," Faith frowned, but her eyes were glowing with love for both of those bright-headed bits of femininity. "I'm so busy with housework and cooking that I don't have time to take her for the long jaunts in her perambulator that I feel she needs."

"Look! She's grinning at me! And she actually winked as if she meant it, the funny little monkey!" Cherry laughed. "I've got to run, darling, but I was just wondering if you'd do me a most tremendous favor. You know it's been an age since I've been on a real party, honey, and to-night ——"

"I'll take care of the baby," Faith promised. "Who is the man?"

"You're clever," Cherry grinned. "It's Bruce Patton. There's a new dancing club just opened—members only. Aren't we getting to be a regular New York? And——"

"So it's 'Bruce' already, is it?"

"Darling, you are mid-Victorian!" Cherry caught her sister's hand that was reaching for soap and brushed it lightly with her lips. "I'll promise to be awfully good and home by one o'clock—two at the very latest. But Bruce is going to teach me some new dance steps. He's really a marvel, Faith. I'll bring you a set of his lessons, if you'd like. They're good, honestly. And I'll help you get the trick of the hard ones——"

"Thanks," Faith said sarcastically. "I have so much time and opportunity to dance these days. You'd better teach Bob, and see if you can get him into the notion of going out at least once a week. I sometimes feel as if my whole life is bounded by the walls of this house. Of course, it's a nice house," she added, with a humorous twist of her broad, sweet mouth.

"Poor Faith! Marriage is the very devil, no matter how much you love the man, isn't it? But listen, darling. I haven't a thing to wear, unless you'll be a Good-Samaritan and clean and press that black chiffon-and-rhinestone evening dress of mine. I want to look rather special to-night——"

"I was going to make a cocoanut angel cake for dinner," Faith demurred. "But—I'll do the dress. Maybe I'll manage to squeeze in the cake too. Bob loves angel cake——"

"I like devil's food best," Cherry grinned impudently. "Good-bye, Hope, you precious, dimply thing! I saw the most ravishing little coat for her at that new Baby Shop, Faith——"

"I'm making her one myself," her sister interrupted firmly. "We can't afford to buy ready-made coats for a tiny baby. Now, please don't be foolish to-night, Cherry. Every time you get a new man I live in the most dreadful suspense. Be content with—dancing, darling."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S JEEGOGAFY

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

One Monday morning as Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the Hollow Stump School, going to seek an adventure, he saw Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, with Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys, and Susie Littletail, the rabbit, out in front looking up and down the road.

"What's the matter, children?" asked the bunny uncle. "You should be in school studying your lessons."

"It isn't quite time for school to go in yet, Uncle Wiggily," answered Susie with a polite little bow.

"But I guess there won't be much use going in, anyhow," added Johnnie.

"Why not?" the rabbit gentleman wanted to know.

"'Cause," barked Jackie, "the Lady Mouse Teacher isn't here yet, though it's past time for her, so I guess we won't have any school!"

Uncle Wiggily wasn't sure, but he thought—mind you he only just a faint suspicion—that he heard the children faintly cheer. But perhaps he was mistaken. At any rate he said:

"Well I can wait about looking for an adventure. I shall come in the school and stay until I see whether the Lady Mouse teacher comes or not. She may be ill."

The children did not look as sad at

"We shall proceed with the lessons - ahem!"

hearing this as they might, though Uncle Wiggily knew they loved their teacher.

"And what will you do if she does not come?" asked Peetie as Mr. Longe hopped into the school with the children, leaving Jackie Bow Wow on guard at the door to give notice as soon as Miss Mouse appeared.

"If your Lady Mouse doesn't come I shall teach school myself," said Uncle Wiggily with a firm twinkle of his pink nose.

At this all the boy and girl animals smiled. Mr. Longears took a seat on the platform near the teacher's desk. He waited five minutes—ten minute—by this time it was past 9 o'clock.

"Susie, will you please go to the front door and find out if Jackie has seen Miss Mouse yet," asked Uncles Wiggily. "And if she isn't in sight bring Jackie back here with you and we shall—ahem—we shall proceed with the lessons!" and Mr. Longears coughed as he took out his glasses.

'No'm—I mean, no, sir, she isn't coming!" Jackie reported when he came back with Susie.

"Then I shall take charge of the school!" said the bunny gentleman. "Now what lesson do you study first?"

"Jeegogafy!" piped up Squealer, the little pig.

"What's that?" asked Mr. Longears, not sure he heard aright.

"'Tisn't jeegogafy, it's jogageefy!" said Squeakie Eakie the little cousin mouse.

Charlie Chick, the rooster boy, flapped his wings and crowed.

"They mean grography, Uncle Wiggily."

"Oh, geography!" chuckled Mr. Longears. "Well, 'jeegogafy' is a pretty good name for it. All ready, then, the geography class? Susie, what is an island?"

"An island is a body of water surrounded by land," said Susie.

"Oh! Oh! Oh!" cried half a dozen children, and before he was asked Jackie Bow Wow barked:

"An island is a big bone with a lot of meat on it!"

"Let me answer! Let me answer" chattered Johnnie Bushytail. "An island is a body of land surrounded by water!"

"That's what I meant to say!" exclaimed Susie.

"Now, look here!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily with a jolly smile. "Some of you do not seem to be sure about your 'jeegogafy' lesson, or what an island is, so come with me and I will show you one. Forward, march!"

Uncle Wiggily led the children out of school, down to the brook and toward the duck pond, where he showed them an island and they all could see it was a body of land surrounded by water. To make sure of it, Uncle Wiggily got a washtubboat and paddled all the children out to the island. And when they got there they found an old soldier dog selling lollypops. So Uncle Wiggily bought one for every child.

"Oh, I wish Uncle Wiggily would teach school every day!" murmured Susie. And everything was so lovely and Mrs. Longears kept the pupils on the island such a time, making sure that each one knew the geography lesson, that it was noon before they realized it and time to go home.

And in the afternoon the Lady Mouse, who had been a little ill, was well again and took charge of her classes. "But I'm not going to take you outside under a tree to learn how to spell leaf," she said with a smile. However, I think the "jeegogafy" lesson was jolly, don't you?

POTTERY DEMONSTRATION.

Misses Beryl Foward and Lucy McWilliams, two very clever pupils of Alfred Howell, the noted artist and director of art at the Central Technical School, Toronto, the second largest institution of its kind in the British Empire, will demonstrate pottery, silhouetting and clay modelling. Miss McWilliams will model Christ on the cross, which attracted so much attention at the Canadian National Exhibition two years ago.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Bordered, rose-colored kasha was used for this charming little girl's ensemble. The yoke is smocked and narrow band of fur appears on cuffs, collar and hat.

The ensemble idea is a very good one to follow in the planning of little girls' wardrobes. Their clothes are so small and their bodies so diminutive that there is a very real advantage in having their clothes unified in this way.

Just so, when we furnish a very small room we find it an advantage to keep to one style or period or one color scheme. It is only when the room is fairly large that we dare introduce an Italian Renaissance desk in an Empire setting.

We extend this idea of the ensemble even further, and if we have two or three little girls, dress them all alike. French mothers have long realized the advantage of this sort of thing. Hats and coats are frequently made from the same piece of material, finished with the same sort of trimming. Sometimes for winter there are long gaiters or leggings to match made from the same material.

There is one difficulty about the matching hat and coat set when you buy your children's clothes made to order. All six-year-olds do not have heads of the same size, and the hat that accompanies the coat that fits your darling may be much too large or much too small. That is where the woman who makes her daughter's clothes has a decided advantage.

Some of the paper patterns for little girls' coats have a bonnet or hat pattern included, and the little additional material needed for the hat adds but little to the cost.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

Saturday, October 8, 1927.
(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

During the business hours of this day adverse aspects are strong, according to astrologers who warn that cautious policies will be wise.

There is a sign read as promising for all who deal with their financial affairs, but they should exercise unusual care.

This should be a fairly fortunate day for settling debts or for contracting business obligations.

There is a sway supposed to encourage extravagance on the part of wives who deal with the family budget.

This is read as a threatening wedding day since it is supposed to encourage deceit and double-dealing.

Men may be earnest but unreliable suitors, while this rule of the stars prevails.

Again, new standards of beauty are to affect the dress and the manners of women, the seers prognosticate.

Trend of taste toward artistic and intellectual attainment will be apparent among girls whose social standards will improve, astrologers foretell.

Much experimentation in dramatic productions is augured and many plays will fail, if the signs are rightly interpreted.

Art is to change American architecture and to mold new forms in public buildings, if the seers are to be believed.

All the aspects seem to promise much to sculptors who will desert new ideals for classic standards, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a year in which they benefit from unexpected sources, but they may be sadly disappointed in their friends.

Children born on this day probably will be keen-witted and clever, but they may be too easily influenced.

Sunday, October 9, 1927.
(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

After the early morning hours the planetary aspects for to-day are good, according to astrology.

Although the morning may encourage nervousness and irritability there should be a later response to serene influences, most helpful to all the churches.

The clergy are well directed to-day and there is a forecast of increased interest in church building as well as religious observance.

Again the seers forecast the growth of sectarian conflicts and controversies that affect big secret organizations.

There is a sway most auspicious for high dignitaries of the churches and, certainly there will be increase in pageantry of worship in America, if the seers are to be believed.

To-day is read as especially auspicious for visits to friends and relatives, notably those whose favor may mean profit or preferment.

Continuation of power among political leaders is indicated by the stars which appear to forecast much dictation on the part of party bosses.

This is not a favorable day for any sort of psychical investigation or scientific research regarding occult forces, although there will be an access of interest in occult matters.

The evening of this day is read as most fortunate for lovers who may expect to be subject to influences that are most idealistic.

All the signs appear to presage a continued interest in all forms of amusement and a desire to escape solitude.

Conditions are not promising for the development of new leaders of thought and geniuses may not be discovered easily while this period of the world exists.

SHORT STORY

AUDIT WEEK

By Dorothy Douglas.

Lucy Lattimer, Inc., was beginning to be a very successful firm of interior decorators—the firm being solely and entirely the fair-haired, bright-eyed Lucy.

"And I'm not pinning any ribbons on myself," Lucy was wont to say when friends made flattering comments on her artistic ability. "If Dad hadn't taught me to keep books in so simple a manner that I know just exactly where I stand financially I could not have done it. It isn't so much artistic conceptions that make success as to know where the dollars and dimes are doing the most good. My books are always written right up to the day."

In view of the hard-boiled facts then it was a bit of a surprise that Lucy took the course she did a few days later, but, as a matter of fact, she had a particularly pleasant motive behind her action. The motive was, however, known only to Lucy.

She was standing chatting with the owner of a charming tea-room—charming because Lucy herself had decorated it in the alluringly warm shades of a summer sunset—when she noticed a most attractive young man sitting in a perfect sea of books and bills and receipts.

"What ho!" said Lucy, "who is your friend."

Mrs. Le Mar laughed. "That," she said a bit chestily, "is my auditor. Since Lucy Lattimer, Inc., made my tea-rooms so lovely business has become so overpowering that I had to resort to help in the way of bookkeeping—these orgies of income tax people mustn't find any flaws. Friends recommended me to Donald McLean as being a very deserving accountant just rising to success, so—behold Donald!"

Lucy smiled softly. She had got the information she wanted without even asking for it. "Saves a pile of worry, too, doesn't it?" she commented, and turned away from too much interest in Donald.

However, when she returned to her big office Lucy took up the telephone book before she removed her sea green hat which would release her glorious curls of red gold to their own sweet way. Among the McLeans she found the one she wanted. After that she typed a most business-like note and went straight out to post it.

Having heard, in the course of a mail or two, that Donald McLean would take over the auditing of her books, Lucy proceeded with a strange course.

Most carefully she put away all her books and every evidence of a well-conducted business—at least as far as bookkeeping went—and got together just her statements, check stubs and as little as she felt expedient for the success of her idea.

And when on the Monday morning sharp at nine o'clock Donald arrived to audit the books of Lucy Lattimer, Inc., he wondered just how he was going to manage to sit beside Lucy for perhaps a full week and keep his mind affixed to the business of auditing.

His heart quaked at the task, but he went bravely at it.

Lucy herself was more than pleased at having a full week ahead when, upon coming into her lovely office she could gaze upon her auditor and realize that the presence of a man in the place was for once well—rather thrilly.

"Have you kept no books at all?" questioned Donald.

"Not a book," Lucy told him and gazed most innocently back at him.

"Then you don't even know whether you are making or losing?"

"No," said Lucy, and hoped she might be forgiven for yarning so easily, "but I kind of think I'm going to be successful." And if there was anything behind what Lucy said as she continued to gaze in that clinging-vine fashion at Donald, he did not for the moment know it.

So audit week went on happily. Lucy, of course, could not be in her show rooms all the time and must needs be out among clients and wholesale houses. She did, however, rush things a bit while out, and each time the door of the office opened and admitted the firm of Lucy Lattimer, Inc., Donald tried his best not to look up with the feeling of joy that entrance gave him.

"I think you are going to have a fairly big income tax to pay this year," he told her: "things are looking up well for you."

"Oh, I'm glad to know I'm muddling through some way—you're such a help," she added, and cast a glance at Donald which necessitated the adding of an entire column all over again.

Another day passed and Donald gave her exact figures, and, in spite of herself, Lucy's thorough business head sprang into its own. It was not to be put out of business by this bluff idea she was trying to put over on Donald.

"Oh, I'm so glad—that's exactly what I made it out. My books show the identical figures."

"What's that—your books—you told me——" but he was speaking to himself for Lucy had fluttered quickly out and into the big show room.

She returned a second later and deposited a number of books on the desk beside Donald.

"I—I wanted them all verified," she told him. "And if you aren't doing anything this evening and would like to stay and have dinner with me—no—no—not now, Donald— I must see an important client right away, and I mustn't give him crimson cushions for his yacht when he decidedly wants green which I will do if you make my heart turn upside down this way."

But before he released her Donald said swiftly, "You fraud, you know you owed me one at least for all this work you have given me for nothing."

"It won't be for nothing, Donald," said Lucy softly.

Garden Hill Farmer Suffers Loss Estimated at $5,000.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 8.—At four o'clock yesterday morning the large frame barn of Norton Beatty of Garden Hill, 10 miles north of here, was struck by lightning and the building and contents were totally destroyed. The season's crop of grain was stored in the barn and was consumed by the flames. Neighbors tried to extinguish the blaze but the fire had gained too much headway. The total loss is estimated at $5,000.

Meadows Fails To Get Team Support—Had Yankee Sluggers Bewildered.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, October 8 (Associated Press). — The Yankee tornado steadily gathering force and fury in its sweep to the world's baseball championship, swirled about the Pirates yesterday, and all but blew them from the Series. Behind the almost flawless pitching of Herb. Pennock, southpaw star, and with a crushing attack brought to a climax by Babe Ruth's first homer of the Series, the American League champions won their third straight game from Pittsburgh's crippled and wobbly crew, 8 to 1, while more than 60,000 howling fans looked on.

The Yankees need only one more victory to clinch the series and baseball's 1927 crown. At the pace they travelled yesterday behind Pennock's dazzling twirling, they seem altogether likely to end the battle to-day. The Pirates ,outclassed so far by a wide margin, must win four straight to win, but it would be the biggest kind of a baseball miracle if they did it.

For seven innings yesterday the Pirates were held in the hollow of Pennock's marvellous left hand, bewildered, baffled and impotent before the sharp breaking curves and puzzling change of pace of a veteran who was a cripple, with a badly hurt knee only three days ago. Through this stretch not a Pirate got the semblance of a hit nor did a Corsair foot tread first base safely by any route as the Yankees gave their star brilliant support.

Weakened in Eighth.

With a no-hit game and a World's Series record in sight as the crowd cheered him on, the slender southpaw weakened a bit in the eighth. Twenty-two of the Buccaneers had walked the plank in a row when Pie Traynor, their captain, broke through the infield defence with a single to left and scored the one and only Pirate run on a double by Clyde Barnhart. Pennock was nicked for the last hit in the ninth, a scratchy single by Lloyd Waner, but in thus letting the Corsairs down with only three safe blows, the Yankee veteran furnished one of the greatest World Series twirling performances of all time. This was Pennock's fifth Series triumph, without a single defeat to mar his wonderful record, thus tying the long standing mark of a great right-hander, John Wesley Coombs, who scored four victories for Connie Mack's Athletics in 1910-11 and another for Brooklyn in 1916. All of Pennock's victories have been made in a Yankee uniform, two others over the Giants in 1923 and another pair last fall against the Cardinals.

Pennock's performance was all the more remarkable because he had been limping in pain for three days as a result of being hit and severely bruised above the left knee in practice last Tuesday by a line drive from Cedric Durst's bat. It had been regarded as doubtful whether Herb, not overly robust anyway, would recover sufficiently to stand the gaff of a full game. For seven innings yesterday that doubt was completely removed. Although he slipped a trifle in the last two innings, tired perhaps by the strain of his perfect pace, there was no substantial letdown. If his stamina had not been put to some extra exertion in the eighth inning rally of the Yankees, as he circled the bases with one of the six runs scored in that frame, Pennock might have had the extra endurance sufficient to have completed a no-hit game.

Outplayed Rivals.

Pennock's mound work added lustre to the Yankee triumph, but the American Leaguers, outplaying their rivals once more in every department of the game, didn't need any perfect pitching feats to accomplish the downfall of the Buccaneers for the third time in a row.

The Yankee batting avalanche, producing two runs in the first inning to give enough margin for victory, swept over the prostrate Pirates in the seventh with a terrific crash, six runs being piled up as Lee Meadows, bespectacled right-hander, was driven from the mound, and Mike Cvengros, little southpaw, was greeted by Ruth's homer with two runners on the paths.

Ruth's smash, a tremendous drive that landed far up in his favourite sector of the rightfield bleachers, was a fitting final touch to the Yankee victory.

The vast crowd, jamming the big park, had witnessed and cheered Pennock's dazzling work, the flashy defence of the Yankees, and the sustained hitting power that had already piled up a commanding lead. But the one big set was missing from the drama until Ruth, with the count 2 and 2, lashed into a slow curve and hoisted it far out of the playing field.

First Home Run.

It was the first home run of the Series, and since it was made by the champion clouter of all, it aroused a tremendous din, a swirling shower of papers and a demonstration that continued for several minutes as the Bambino, his face wreathed in smiles, trotted out in front of his own particular crowd — the rightfield bleacher fans.

Meadows exploded in this hectic Yankee seventh inning with a report that was even louder than that of the previous two Pirate stars that had been shelled off the mound in two previous days. Ray Kremer and Vic Aldridge. But up until that fateful seventh the veteran Lee came close to holding his own with Pennock.

Off to a bad start in the first inning, when singles by Combs and Koenig, followed by Gehrig's triple, produced two Yankee runs, Meadows settled down to keep close pace with his Yankee pitching rival. As a matter of fact, Meadows might have escaped less damage than he did in the first inning, had Hal Rhyne, substituting for the injured George Grantham at second, or Clyde Barnhart fielded a little more smartly.

Lacked Support.

But after that frame Meadows held the Yankees to one hit over a five-inning stretch. Through the second, third, fourth and fifth, he allowed not the semblance of a safe blow. He had the Yankee sluggers, especially Ruth, Meusel ,and Lazzari, bewildered by his slow curves and floaters.

Gehrig's double off Meadows in the sixth, the first Yankee hit since the first inning, was wasted, but there was no shocking the steam-roller in the next frame, although some more slow fielding by the Corsairs had as much to do with permitting it to get started as anything else.

Lazzeri started the inning with a single, and was safe at second when Meadows threw too late to catch him on Dugan's sacrifice bunt. Durst, batting for Grabowski, advanced both runners when he grounded out to Rhyne, and Lazzeri scored when the Pirate second sacker threw too late to the plate on Pennock's roller.

Luck had favoured the Yankees thus far, but they put on a rousing finish as Combs singled, scoring Dugan; Koenig doubled, tallying Pennock, and Ruth hit his homer, bringing in Combs and Koenig with the last three runs.

Meadows Relieved.

Meadows had passed out of the picture after Koenig's double and little Mike Cvengros had anything but an encouraging situation as he faced Ruth. He couldn't keep the ball out of the Babe's home run reach, but he did put a belated stopper on by getting Gehrig and Meusel on strikes.

The revised Pirate line-up, with Rhyne at second in place of Grantham, out with a wrenched side, did not show any improvement, either in defense or offense, over its previous two performances. The fielding was again shaky in crucial moments, and the hitting, in the face of Pennock's cross fire, was at low ebb.

In contrast ,the Yankees scintillated at every turn. They gave Pennock marvellous backing, pulling as hard as the crowd for a perfect pitching performance by the great southpaw.

Joe Dugan, up to his old tricks at third, was especially brilliant. Twice he cut off possible hits, once in the fourth when he speared Paul Waner's line drive and again in the seventh when he raced in to make a wonderful pick-up of Hal Rhyne's perfect bunt, and got his man at first with a snap throw by a whisker. Earle Combs, in centre, putted everything down that came his way, while Lazzeri made a remarkable stop over second base and a perfect peg, even though off balance, to retire Spencer in the eighth.

Side Lights

(By the Associated Press).

The Yankee two-run rally in the first inning of the third game was helped along by a still shaky Pirate defence although no errors were chalked up against the Bucs. Koenig's hit was badly handled by Hal Rhyne, making his debut at second base, while Gehrig's triple bobbed around between Barnhart and Lloyd Waner in deep centre before the latter made the throw-in. Only a final relay by Wright kept Gehrig from scoring.

There was a mild demonstration by the Yankees in the fourth against a called ball on Lloyd Waner, who appeared to have tried to bunt. Aided by this decision, Lloyd had three straight balls, but Pennock put the next three over the plate and the Pirate outfielder grounded to Lazzeri.

A fine spear of a line drive off Paul Waner's bat by Dugan enabled Pennock to close his fourth straight inning wwithout an enemy foot resting safely on first base, and a neat running catch by Earl Combs off Barnhart had the same effect in the fifth.

Babe Ruth lunged at and missed a slow ball, outside, when he struck out in the fourth. Lazzeri, in the same inning, also missed a slow curve, outside, by a foot as he was fanned by Meadows for the second time.

Meadows had the Yankee sluggers, with the exception of Ruth, baffled by his change of pace in the first six innings, whiffing Meusel as well as Lazzeri twice, each with slow curves or floaters.

As Pennock swept through the first seven innings without a Pirate reaching first, the crowd, tense and on edge, cheered wildly with every putout. The Yankees, too, were inspired to sensational fielding stunts behind their twirling ace, reaching a climax in the seventh when Joe Dugan came in fast to grab Rhyne's perfect bunt and throw the runner out on a hairline decision. Most of the crowd thought Rhyne was safe, but a roar went up when Umpire Ormsby waved him out.

Babe Ruth's homer was his ninth in world series competition, and breaks his own record for most circuit clouts in the baseball classic. The Bambino registered one in 1921, three in 1923 and four last year. His companion in swat, Lou Gehrig, hasn't connected for the circuit yet, but all four of his hits so far have been for extra bases. Gehrig has two doubles and two triples.

By A Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, Wed. wasn't exactly a happy day for neither Mister Max Swanston or Mister Donie Bush. The Pirates' leader musta felt kinda sorry he didn't yank Mister Kremer sooner, and the Petes' pilot had about the same sorta sentiment about Mister Heckman. But, then, they ain't nothing easier than 2nd guessing.

It's too bad though we couldn't play that game with the Hamilton Oskies all over again. Seeing that Mister Hardill wilcymoored the Hams, as I call them, for a full 9 innings without a run, any of the customers can take a stub of a pencil and a piece of the paper the meat come in and figger it out in ½ a minute how if Mister Hardill's sinker ball had been in there from the start the Petes woulda win 6 to 0. The big kid woulda sunk them Oskies without a trace the way he was going there Wed.

By the time these bright thoughts, if any meet the eyes of the customers, the 2nd game will be over. They ain't no reason why Mister Swanston's lads can't even up the serious. When they made the Hams go 12 inning with their best pitcher working, you gotta figger that was anybody's ball game. Give the Oskies credit, though, Mac; they're just a gang what know their wagon tongues. They sock the old apple right on the piccolo, and you can't give none of them boys anything soft to swing at.

Anyway, Mister Sporting Editor, the game knocked 2 popular ideas for a row. The 1st one was the impression that the Petes is the oldest ball team in captivity. I didn't get no chance of looking at the Oskies' teeth, but, believe me, some of them birds has been wearing a ball shirt a long, long time. Mister Broadbent for 1 played in the old Canadian League before the war. And the 2nd theory that was made to look sick was the idea that pitchers can't hit. Well, they was 3 pitchers in there Wed., and all they did was collect 8 hits, 1/3 of the total made by both teams.

The world serious at the time I write sees the Yanks 2 to the good. And them wins was without a home run by the Busting Bambino or Columbia Lou neither. Myself I figgered the Pirates' pitching would be good enough to win, but so far Mister Bush's throwers has been like the vicar's egg—only good in spots. They might still turn the trick, but as the circus manager said when he left the dead elephant on the roadside, "That remains to be seen."

Well, Mac, to use a Coolidgeism, I don't choose to write no more now.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

YANK PLAYERS ARE SATISFIED

Two Heroes of Yesterday's Game Talk Over Situation.

HAD GOOD CONTROL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (Associated Press).—The great Babe Ruth was satisfied last night, and so is Herb Pennock, slender southpaw ace of the New York Yankees.

The two heroes of the American League champions' third straight victory over the Pirates wrapped an arm about each other's shoulders, forgetful even of the daily battle for the hot water showers, and talked the situation over in the club-house. Around them clustered and pranced the rest of the Yankee crew, all more or less heroes in the win that just about wafted the Pirates out of the championship struggle.

"Babe," the lean lefty said, "I thought for a while you were going to let me down. Homer—no nothing. Then Bam, right down the middle and the game was in."

"Shoosh," growled the Bambino. "I had to hit a homer, I was sore, no hits Wednesday and three foozles yesterday, and then Mike Cvengros tossed that curve down the alley. Now I'm satisfied and I wouldn't be surprised if I got another to-day."

Grateful to the whole team for the brilliant support that helped him retire the first 22 pirates to face him without a hit and carry on to a three-hit victory, Pennock insisted that every man on the nine shared in the plaudits tossed his way.

"The way the gang played was marvellous," Herb announced. "No pitcher ever got better support. I'm mighty grateful."

Modestly, Pennock said, that he "mixed them up" yesterday to subdue the Buccaneers, and for a time threatened the Pirates with the first no-hit shu-out in series history.

Had Good Control.

"I had good control," he added. "The ball went just where I wanted it. I had good luck too. And the smile that went with the declaration that the ball was obeying his commands and the answering grins on the faces of his team-mates indicated that when the veteran southpaw has "good control," a three-hit victory is no surprise.

The rival managers were unanimous in their opinion that the Pirates are in a severe batting slump, caused by the let-down that followed the strain of the final drive to the National League flag.

Donie Bush, refusing to find fault with any man on the team, gave Lee Meadows credit for hurling a marvelous, but unlucky game. He said that Carmen Hill would attempt to hold the Yankees to-day, with Earl Smith back behind the plate. Donie is confident that the series is by no means over. Miljus will be the Pirate leader's choice to pull the team back almost to even terms with the Yankees if Hill can turn in a victory to-day.

Miller Huggins was uncertain of his battery choice for to-day, although he announced it would be either Wiley Moore or Waite Hoyt pitching, with Pat Collins on the receiving end.

TWINS VS. WANER ACT.

(By the Associated Press.)

Here's what the rival stars of the Yankees and Pirates did in the third game of the World's Series:

LLOYD WANER:
First inning, grounded out to Koenig.
Fourth inning: Grounded out to Lazzeri.
Seventh inning: Rolled out to Lazzeri.
Ninth inning: Got Texas leaguer single into left.

PAUL WANER:
First inning: Flied out to Meusel.
Fourth inning :Lined out to Dugan.
Seventh inning: Grounded out to Lazzeri.
Ninth inning: Popped out to Lazzeri.

BABE RUTH:
First inning: Hoisted to Wright.
Fourth inning: Struck out, missing slow one, outside, for third strike.
Sixth inning: Thrown out by Rhyne.
Seventh inning: With count two and two, lashed home run into right field bleachers scoring Combe and Koenig

LOU GEHRIG.
First inning: Tripled over Barnhart's head, scoring two runs , but thrown out at plate.
Fourth inning: Walked.
Sixth inning: With count three and one, drove two bagger to right centre.
Seventh inning: Struck out by Cvengres, swinging at third strike.

CANADIAN TEAM THIRD IN PLAY

Playing Under System To Promote Team Rather Than Individual Play.

LESLEY CUP GOLF.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—Playing under a complicated system designed, it was explained to promote team rather than individual play, the Canadian team stood third last night after the first day's play in the Lesley Cup Golf championship competition at Essex Country Club. The Canadians had rolled up 15½ points in team play and 11 in singles for a total of 26½. Massachusetts had a total of 33, New York 27, and Pennsylvania 13½.

The group play of the forenoon found two members of each team pitted against two players of the other three associations. In each "eightsome" three matches were played at once, each pair being pitted against the other three. A win counted a point, and a half one-half a point.

In the afternoon the singles matches were played as foursomes, the three matches in one. Today the program will be the same as yesterday. Few stroke scores were available as the players did not turn them in.

The Canadians won nine matches in the singles and halved four for their afternoon total of 11.

Best Match of Day

The best match of the day was the afternoon foursome in which C. Ross Somerville represented Canada; Max Marston, Pennsylvania; Jess Sweetser, New Yorok, and Francis Ouimet, Massachusetts. Sweetser ended two up on Marston, defeating Ouimet 3 and 2. Somerville picked up after 15 holes. Sweetser had a 72 for the 18 holes against Ouimet's 74.

Somerville showed up well on the tee shots, but was irregular with the iron and putter.

The committee in charge of the competition has decided that next year's meet will be in New York; that of 1929 in Canada; that of 1930 in Philadelphia, and in 1931 the tournament will return to Boston. That rotation will be continued in future years.

Yanks Favored 10-1 To Win World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The Yankees' third successive victory over the Pirates yesterday boosted up the odds on the American League champions to win the world series. Wall Street quotations last night ranged from 10 to 1 to 15 to 1 on New York, with no takers in sight.

Odds on the Yankees to win the fourth game to-day were quoted at 6 to 5, but one Wall Street firm reported that betting on the game was almost negligible.

BEWARE OF NIGHT SWEATS

The cold sweat at night is a warning of very serious trouble in the body. It can occur only with one who is extremely enervated and whose vital force is very low. There is always a low blood-pressure which means hat the sphygmomanometer, or blood-pressu e ins:rument, hows hat the patient has practically no resistance to disease.

With this kind of sweating the patient does not have fever, and so the skin is not hot, and when the sweat comes out the skin feels cold and clammy. This is simply Nature's way of throwing out some very vicious poisoning, which has been responsible for the vital depression. The pores relax, and the body, at least for a few minutes, pours out its waste products and thus the patient's life is saved temporarily. If something could be done to check this weating at uch a crisis-time the patient would die within a few minutes.

These night sweats do not come on without sufficient warning. One must be enervated for a long period of time before these sweats appear. In almost every case it will be found that some pus condition exists in the body. What has been, for a long time, only a case of weakness, finally turns into a functional or organic trouble and puss pockets form in the lungs, kidneys, bladder, gall-bladder, or liver. The sweats do not, usually, appear until this pus formation takes place, so when the sweats start, it is a sign of a very serious disorder.

Patients usually cannot diagnose themselves when they are in this condition but should go to some competent diagnostician who will examine them carefully. They should find some doctor who uses all of these tests: blood count, urinalysis, complete X-ray examination with pictures taken of the lungs and gall-bladder, heart, and all of the abdominal organs. Many other tests will be made by the competent diagnostician.

If you are having night sweats I warn you not to take the advice of a doctor who only takes your pulse or looks at your tongue. Such tests will not locate the real cause of the trouble.

When the cause is found it is then necessary to devise a cure. However, one basic fact must be remembered. There is always an under-lying condition of bodily toxemia which has just sta ted to locate in some organ. No matter what else you do, remove this general toxemia by systematic dieting and exercise.

Take whatever treatments are necessary to correct any existing local congestion, and you mu t give yourself a complete bodily house-cleaning before you can expect to get rid of the underlying cause which lies back of any local manifestation.

Don't wait for night sweats to cu e themselves, but find the cause and remove it as quickly as possible—!

SCHOOL SPORTS GREAT SUCCESS

Long Programme of Events Run Off at Lakefield School.

KEEN COMPETITION.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 8.—The annual sports day for the Lakefield Public and High Schools was held on Wednesday afternoon with ideal weather conditions. The events were run off by Mr. J. M. Simpson, assisted by the teachers of the High School and Public School, and a lengthy programme of sports completed about 5:30.

There was a very small attendance of citizens and parents, but all the races had a good list of entries.

The half-mile race was, of course, the premier event and drew nine entries. Kenneth Kemp romped home an easy winner.

The girls' relay race was a good event and was run in three sections, the first form and second form High School girls in the first heat, and the winners and the third form girls formed heat two. The first form led the list in both sections.

By request, a similar race was put on for the girls of Miss Duff's room, who easily located two teams.

The pole vault and jumping events were good and compared favorably with other years. Kenneth Kemp, Gordon Northey, Ronald Kemp, and Norman Lemay were the outstanding boys in all these events. If a championship sports cup was given in connection with the school sports, there is no doubt at all that Kenneth Kemp would receive it, as he excelled in all the events for which he was eligible.

The fun was to be found in the potato races, and it is a matter of debate as to who enjoyed it most, the spectators, the contestants, or the small boys who distributed the potatoes.

The field day was particularly successful in every way but in point of attendance, which was not up to previous years.

Miss Kidd's boys—1, Russel Graham; 2, Douglas Holmes; 3, Eldon Jewell.

Miss Kidd's girls—1, Agnes Coughlin; 2, Vera McFadden; 3, Vera Bennington.

RUGBY NOTES

The junior rugby team has been holding some good practices this week and the signals have been given out and used in scrimmages. The Oshawa game has been postponed, but there will be a practice game next Wednesday at Riverside Park, and all players are expected to be out to practices Monday and Tuesday to learn their signals. Word has been received from Penetang in regard to the series to be played with them, but no definite arrangements have as yet been made.

$1,500,000 SOUGHT TO MOVE M'MASTER

Churches Urged To Endorse Appeal For Endowment Increase.

In a letter to the members of the Baptist denomination, Albert Matthews, chairman of the Board of Governors of McMaster University, discusses the removal of the university from Toronto to Hamilton through the contribution of an additional half-million dollars for construction purposes.

Governors Approved.

"It is generally known that the University Senate in December, 1926, recommended the re-location of our work at Hamiltonfi" writes Mr. Matthews. "This decision received a qualified approval from the Board of Governors in June, 1927, the condition being that funds necessary for such removal be available. The purpose of this letter, therefore, is to urge our churches cordially to endorse the appeal of the university at the forthcoming convention, for a million dollars increase in general endowment, and if the judgment of the Senate is concurred in by the churches, to provide in addition the half-million necessary for re-location.

"The late Senator McMaster laid the foundation of our educational work in these provinces. In the university trusts he solemnly pledged the teaching of the Christian verities. Between buildings and endowment he provided upwards of $1,000,000 for this work.

Need Greater Income.

"Thanks to a loyal and sacrificing staff of professors and lecturers we have been able, with the assistance of our forward movement funds (now exhausted) to keep our expenditures within our income, assisted as we are by gifts from the churches and individuals. The declining money rate and the extinction of our F. M. funds on the one hand, coupled with largely increased expenditures on the other, brings us face to face with the need of a greater income on current account, which we estimate at $50,000 per annum, equal to an endowment increase of $1,000,000."

COLLEGIATE PUPILS FACE COURT CHARGE

Rush St. Thomas Theatre in Celebration on Field Day.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 8.—As a result of the annual field day celebration staged here Thursday evening, six collegiate students were arraigned in city police court yesterday morning on charges of creating a disturbance and impeding traffic. The hearing was enlarged until to-day, when it was expected at least three others would be summoned.

A number of the boys tried to rush the Tivoli Theatre during the first performance, and in the mix-up in the lobby between the students and the theatre employees, Mrs. Antoinette Ward, the manager, was knocked down and suffered lacerations to her hand and injuries to her arm and foot. She also reported the loss of a valuable necklace. The police reported that her condtion was such yesterday morning that she was unable to attend court.

She accompanied the police officers on Talbot street after the trouble in the theatre lobby and identified two youths as being among the mob that rushed in. The police finally dispersed the students, who followed them to the City Hall with the captured pair by threatening to jail them all if they created further disturbance. It is the first time in several years that the students, in celebrating field day, have permitted their enthusiasm to get beyond bounds.

Despite the disturbed conditions in Shanghai the spring race meeting was conducted as usual on the fine English race course in that city.

HARRIERS SEND MEN TO TORONTO

Will Compete in Road Race There and in Hamilton Run.

At a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club last night, it was decided to send runners to Toronto next Saturday to compete in the road race there. The prospects of entering teams in other races were discussed and it is expected that one will be sent to the Hamilton to Toronto ten-man relay race, in which each man will be required to run three miles. A race is being held this afternoon for the members of the club, leaving the "Y" at two o'clock. Entry forms are being procured for the Thanksgiving Day race, and will be sent to other cities and organizations interested in racing.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

"THE MONEY TALKS."

An unforeseen mishap during the filming of scenes in a French theatre built for use in Fox Films screen version of the celebrated Paris, London and New York stage success, "The Money Talks," which comes to the Regent Theatre next Monday, crated one of those "behind the scene" dramatic situations so often found in the making of pictures but seldom brought to the attention of the motion picture public.

In this production Olive Borden, who characterizes the leading feminine role, portrays a dancer of the French stage. The night the theatre sequences were being filmed Raoul Walsh had hundreds of extra players working in the scenes.

After hours of preliminary work Director Walsh called "Camera!" and set the actors in motion. In this scene Miss Borden makes her first entrance—a dance. Cues followed at a rapid rate and all through the scene Mr. Walsh called his praise to everyone. In the centre of the stage Miss Borden was dancing furiously. She stumbled, hesitated just one small fraction of a second and kept on. There was a slight commotion on one side of the stage, but the director paid no attention, and as it didn't mar the splendor of the scene he passed it by.

The moment Mr. Walsh called "Cut!" Miss Borden dropped to the stage and the players swarmed around her. Mr. Walsh hurried to the scene and discovered that what he thought an unimportant mishap really was serious. Miss Borden had turned her ankle and was suffering great pain.

"If you had only stopped," cried the director, "what pain you would have saved."

"Well," the courageous star replied, "I have been in such positions myself on the stage, and you know the show must go on. I forgot everything when the music started. The lights, the people and everything were so real—so I just did what I have been trained to do—to finish the show."

Jacques Lerner, the celebrated French stage star; Don Alvardo, Raymond Hitchcock, Jane Winton, Malcolm Waite and August Tollaire have important roles in the production, which as a stage play created a sensation in France, England and America.

The Duke of York is sponsoring a national campaign about to be inaugurated in England to raise a $5,000,000 fund for public playgrounds.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

A MAN'S A HELP.

A man's a help around the house,
A woman must admit he is.
He's not afraid to kill a mouse,
And other little jobs are his.
For, when you want a shelf put up,
He's handy, as I said before.
Although he breaks your choicest cup
And spills his paint upon the floor.

A man can fix a lot of things
That women couldn't fix at all.
He's fine at hanging children's swings
And putting pictures on the wall.
Of course he has more strength than ours
For driving nails and fixing poles;
Although he tramps upon the flowers
And fills the plaster full of holes.

A man can make the washer run;
And fix the clock, and make repairs;
Although, before the job is done,
He scratches up the floors and stairs.
A man's a handy thing, it's true,
To have around the house, because
He'll fix a chair, and make it do
And not look much worse than it was.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the Garden City tennis tournament. A poetical, queerly spiritual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary becomes acquainted with Wally Mason, a young reporter. Wally and Mary have much in common. Mary keeps house for her brothers, David and Robert. David, the family support, hopes Mary will get safely married; but Mary disbelieves in love. Wally takes her for a ride, and muses.

CHAPTER II—Continued

"Then," Wally philosophized, "you're handed a nasty wallop from the ethereal blue, for no darn good reason that you can see, and it leaves you bleary for a while. Then the cinder's out, you either get it out yourself or some kind soul helps—or tries to," with a grin at Mary—"and you sail along cockily as before. Sometimes the wallop is a big one, though—and you lose an eye—then what do you do, oh, Dolores, my lady of pain? You are Dolores, my lady of Pain, you understand, because you are going to be a big hurt to me, sweet. Don't wrinkle your forehead at me. It isn't pretty—what I can see of it between those hands of yours. Don't you believe it?"

"That I will be a lady of pain to you?"

"Yes."

"Of course not, silly."

"No?" quizzically. "You are certain of that? Can I depend upon that? You won't hurt me ever, Elaine?" and the quizzical look was gone. He saw the road before them

"I've never danced with you," Wally murmured.

being swallowed up as they sped over it, yet didn't see it with his mind's eye. His being was quivering with the knowledge of but one thing in the world, and that was Mary beside him. He felt for her hand where she held it over her cheek, and pulled it down to rest in his where it lay between them. And then, with the reversion that she had grown to expect from him, "Tell me, Elaine—what would you do if the bolt from the blue came to you, and your road was dimmed for a while?"

CHAPTER III

She remembered that ever after. It was wrong to speak of coincidence, carelessly, like that, with never a thought as to the depth that may lie behind it. It was wrong, she thought, and that queer gnawing pain at her heart leaped again, and wrought its way further and further into her being. Coincidence was a warning from Fate, a warning to watch the road ahead, a warning of a detour. Coincidence was the bell fate rang when you reached the railroad crossing of life, when you reached a point where the white bars were to be lowered, and your journey ahead stopped for a while. Then when the bars are raised, you may lack a very essential part of you, and really feel that you cannot make the grade, but there is no turning back. You do go on, nevertheless, because that is life. And eventually, this part of you that you deemed so essential at one time, this part of you is no longer necessary, for you have learned the bitter lesson of doing without—but the memory of its possession is always with you, and gnaws at your breast, as it did at Mary's. Just now it didn't seem as if she ever would go on. There was nowhere to go, with part of her gone, like that. She couldn't take a step without the wince of pain. Why not remain still and linger in memories? Memories of her dear, dead mother. Then she learned that she must go on—and did, somehow—never knowing how, when she reached there—nor why—especially why——

So very blithely she answered Wally, "What would I do if the road were dimmed for a while? I—I'd leap the chasm, and go right merrily on!" and was very triumphant and very young, delightfully young. Wally thought, and yearned for her hand and laughed, knowing that the child would be taught, and that life would snub her nose in the leering, and like David it pained him very, very much. Mary would remember every detail of that day—would naturally, because of the blankness of horror that came at the end, and would have anyway because of the pleasantness before the light went out. Behind the road, hidden well behind tangles of trees and bushes and hedges and the liquid murmur of a little running brook, they found an inn. "It's rascally, really," Wally had murmured. What he meant was its coyness in hiding, when all it really desired in all the world was to be noticed, and patronized. To this end the road for a mile or so ahead had been covered with hands, painted green, and pointing toward The Little Inn, assuring the traveller of the tranquility that comes as the natural sequence to a well-filled stomach. Music also, and the smoothness of a dancing floor.

"I've never danced with you, sweet," Wally murmured as he helped her from the car. And, "No," brightly, "you haven't," said Mary, and thought that it doubtlessly would be pleasant, dancing with Wally, calmly, like that. And Wally thought that time would teach this young thing. Time, and, with the help of nature, Wally——

Within, the delights that were promised that mile or two back were amply fulfilled. Fulfilled to the tune of music that came faintly from somewhere, it was difficult seeing just where, but it sounded as though it had fainted across a body of water, which was very pleasant. There were very few guests in the place, and fewer waiters at that hour. Dusk had fallen, and twilight was deepening outside. They found a little round white table with a shaded pink light, though both Wally and Mary preferred the greyness of the twilight that simmered in through their window. They gave their order, which was hearty. They both announced that they could eat, which pleased the waiter, who promised rare food, which, of course, Wally hadn't heard, for he was looking at Elaine across the table from him, and Elaine was equally absorbed in listening to the gurgle of the brook that could be heard outside.

"It's lovely!" she cried. "The brook—and the music here! I'm happy."

"I'm glad, Elaine," said Wally. "Make me happy and dance with me."

"Of—course."

Delightful. Dancing with Wally. He danced as well as he drove. Easily, gracefully, seeming to glide with no effort. There was no suspicion of his muttering "one, two, three!" in time to the music, beneath his breath. Mary had danced with such. And she? Wally hardly felt her in his arms, but then, it was what he had anticipated. One could hardly watch that eager young body leaping toward the sun in pursuit of a round white ball and think of anything but the grace of a bird. He knew that he loved her, and when he glanced down at the top of her gleaming head and called her "Dolores!" beneath his breath, like that—to which she replied with a comical grimace, "I'm starved—absolutely!" he knew that she would indeed be his lady of pain. But they returned to their table, while the others still moved to the languid strains that sounded as though they came across the water, and Mary commenced eating, while Wally still felt the peace of her in his arms. The peace and the agony: An equal amount of each. Probably a greater share of agony? Probably.

"That will always be a beautiful memory, Wally," she said, when he tucked her in against the coolness of the long ride home. There was no moon, but there never had been a heaven so full of stars. The road was milky white with them.

"I hope always to give you happy memories, Elaine," said he.

They both remembered that.

The wind sang past them, and the stars shed enough light to drive by, and Mary crept close to Wally's side because of the wind and a very little because of the queer blobs and shapes at the side of the road that the headlights miraculously transposed into very innocent bushes as they passed them. Swift speed with an occasional car flaring toward them, and quickly dying out with a rush of motor. The entire galaxy of stars flying with the little green car, which fact appeared to Mary as somewhat dizzying. "The entire world's rushing with us Wally," she said.

"Can anybody, including the stars, after seeing you once, ever let you go?" he asked.

"Do go on," she murmured drowsily, "I love to hear you talk. It's soothing. I love it. I could sleep."

"It's soothing. I love it. I could sleep," he mimicked. "Sit up and take your compliments like a lady. And I'm not, incidentally, telling you bed-time stories."

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE — CCCXII—Science in the World War—LX America's 121-Mile Gun. — by MAX HAHN

WHEN THE INTEREST IN GERMANY'S 75-MILE GUN WAS AT ITS HEIGHT, THE UNITED STATES ARMY REVEALED ITS PLANS FOR A 121-MILE GUN. THE GUN WAS NEVER CONSTRUCTED. FOR ITS COST OF ABOUT $2,500,000 WAS FAR OUT OF PROPORTION TO ITS USEFULNESS.

TO SHOOT A 10-INCH SHELL 121 MILES THE GUN WOULD HAVE TO BE 225 FEET LONG AND WEIGH 325 TONS. THE SHELL, IT IS ESTIMATED, WOULD HAVE BEEN 46 MILES IN THE AIR AT THE PEAK OF ITS FLIGHT.

THE TROUBLE WITH THESE SUPER-RANGE GUNS IS THAT THEY ARE NOT ACCURATE ENOUGH TO HIT A BATTLESHIP. THE BEST THAT COULD BE HOPED WAS THAT THEIR SHELLS WOULD LAND WITHIN A MILE OR TWO OF THEIR OBJECTIVE.

THE WARS OF THE FUTURE, IF THERE ARE ANY, PROBABLY WILL BE FOUGHT WITH GUNS SHOOTING FROM 20 TO 30 MILES, BUT 75-MILE WEAPONS OR 125-MILE WEAPONS WILL NOT COME INTO GENERAL USE. THEIR WEAKNESSES EXCEED THEIR ADVANTAGES. A.

Local Improvement Notice.

TAKE NOTICE THAT:—

1.—That the Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough intends to construct as a local improvement Concrete Sidewalks on the streets or parts of streets set out below and intends to assess a part of the cost upon the land abutting directly on the works.

2.—The estimated cost of each of the works, the amount of which in each case is to be paid by the Corporation, and the estimated cost per foot frontage of each work are also set out below. The special assessments are to be paid in twenty annual instalments.

	Estimated Cost.	Amount to be Paid by Corporation.	Estimated Cost per ft. frontage.
Monaghan Rd., east side from Murray St. to Walnut Street	$277.50	$114.60	$0.90
Charlotte Street north side from Monaghan Rd. to Albertus Ave.	$699.00	$339.00	$0.90

3.—A petition to the said Council will not avail to prevent the construction of the works or either of them; but a petition against the works or either of them or the manner in which they have been undertaken, may be made pursuant to Section 8 of The Local Improvement Act, to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, by a majority of the owners representing at least one-half of the value of the lots which are to be specially assessed for the said works or either of them.

4.—A by-law for undertaking the said works will be considered by the Council at a meeting thereof to be held on the 7th day of November, 1927, at 7.30 o'clock p.m., or at a regular or special meeting thereof to be held thereafter.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY NOTES

We wish to acknowledge a cheque from Mrs. R. M. Waddell for $25.00 and one from Mayor Holloway for $5.00.

At present there are five children in the Shelter.

Willie, a bright boy of eleven years, strong and healthy, willing to work, of a kind disposition. Wants a home with a good family.

Eddie, a boy of nine years, enjoys the best of health, wants a home in the country.

Lorne, and Richard, aged respectively 3 and 2 years. Bright children who have never known a mother's love. Anxious for some kind, Christian woman to take one of them and teach them what a mother's love is.

Irene, a girl of 9 years, smart, willing to help, can wash dishes, and do lots of little things around a home. If you have a home that needs brightening up just try this little girl in it and the cobwebs of despair will soon disappear.

These children may be seen anytime at the Shelter.

A pleasant vacation trip, a new radio, the first payment on a car or the intelligent care of a child for one year. Which is the best investment? Which is the most satisfying? Do you ever have the blues? If so, the best remedy is a boy or girl in your home. It is better than medicine, besides it is much cheaper. Try it out.

For information regarding these children, write, phone or better still call and see the Secretary. The address is 131 Simcoe street, Peterborough, the phone number is 1512.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Harbour Improvements, Port Burwell, Ont.", will be received until 12 o'clock noon, Thursday, October 20, 1927, for the Harbour Improvements, consisting of the contruction of a Rubble Mound Checkwater from the middle of the existing breakwater, Rubble Mound extension to the said breakwater, and repairs to the existing Rubble Mound wall, at Port Burwell, Elgin County, Ont.

Plans and forms of contract can be seen and specification and forms of tender obtained at this Department, at the offices of the District Engineers, Customs Building, London, Ont.; Equity Building, Toronto, Ont., and at the Post Office, Port Burwell, Ont.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with conditions contained therein

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent. of the amount of the tender. Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or bonds of the Canadian National Railways Company will also be accepted as security, or bonds and a cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

NOTE.—Blue prints can be obtained at this Department by depositing an accepted cheque for the sum of $50.00, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, which will be returned if the intending bidder submit a regular bid.

WRECKAGE TOLL MAY BE HIGHER

At Least Six Men Dead and More Likely in Ruins.

FALL UNEXPLAINED.

APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)— The unexplained collapse of the Kimberly Clark paper mill at Kimberly, near here, yesterday, which cost at least six lives, may have a larger death list when the work of clearing the wreckage of twisted steel and fallen brick is finished.

Five of the twenty-nine who were caught in the collapse were still unaccounted for after an all night search by nine hundred fellow workmen laboring under the glare of flood lights. Company officials held little hope that they would be found alive Three men were taken from the ruins alive last night The men said they feared they might not be reached before death came from exhaustion, but they "felt fine" and were uninjured. The five missing men were working in the basement of the two-storey building which held the beater plant when the first floor collapsed upon them. Without warning, the second floor and then the roof of wood and steel fell down upon the twisted mass of brick, mortar, and wrecked machinery

FIND OLD CANNON.

HONOLULU, Oct.. 8.—Two ancient cannon, said to have been thrown overboard from a Russian man-of-war when she went aground in the year 1808, have been discovered in Haleiwa bay near Honolulu. The guns which were discovered lying in 15 feet of water are deeply encrusted with barnacles and other sea growth. The discovery was made by an army officer from Fort Kamehameha.

National Conservative Convention Opens To-day

TORY PARTY CHIEFTAINS ARRIVE AT WINNIPEG FOR THE OPENING OF CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

More Are Expected To-day From Outlying Provinces of Dominion.

COMMITTEES DISSOLVED.

Important Decisions Reached at Saturday Session of National Committee.

WINNIPEG, Man., October 10 (Canadian Press). — The decks are all clear for the opening of the Conservative convention to-day. All the party chieftains have arrived, and many of the rank and file. Contingents from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick ,Queebc and British Columbia are due on the morning trains, and additional preparations were made last night for their registration in time to attend the morning deliberations.

The convention will be called to order by the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Parliamentary Conservative leader, at eleven o'clock. On the election of a temporary chairman, it is likely that Nat. Boyd, president of the Manitoba Conservative Association, will be chosen . When proceedings actually get under way, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Premier of Nova Scotia, will probably be the choice for English permanent chairman, and Senator C. Beaubien, Montreal, or Hon. L. P. Normand, of Three Rivers, French permanent chairman.

All committees and sub-committees which have been functioning in preparation for the rally have been dissolved, with the exception of the national committee.

Decisions Reached.

Two important decisions were reached at Saturday evening's sitting of the national committee at which Hon. Hugh Guthrie presided. It was decided that the leader selected must receive a majority of votes over all aspirants. There will be no elimination of candidates, under the committee's recommendation, which will be submitted to-day to the convention as a whole for approval.

The question of elimination was the subject of a series of lengthy discussions. The first proposal put to the committee was that on the fourth ballot the lowest candidate should drop out of the running. This suggestion failed to carry with a majority of the members.

The two other proposals were then made. One that elimination of the lowest man should begin at the fourth ballot and the other that the elimination should start after the second vote, had been taken. Both suggestions were disapproved; and finally it was determined that there should be no elimination of candidates at any time.

The question of holding nominations on Tuesday evening and balloting on Wednesday afternoon was also under prolonged deliberation. It was eventually decided, however, that a tentative programme in respect to this point should be adhered to.

Firm in Stand.

"I have not changed my mind in the slightest from my decision not to be a candidate for the Federal Conservative leadership," declared Premier G. Howard Ferguson, of Ontario, on the eve of the opening of Conservative Convention.

Premier Ferguson with Mrs. Ferguson, arrived direct from Toronto for the rally.

"I have expressed myself on the subject on many occasions," continued Mr. Ferguson, "for the purpose of being fair to possible candidates and the convention, and to remove any doubt or confusion in the minds of any of my friends who have done me the honor of mentioning my name." A certain paper, despite his declarations that he would not be a candidate, had, said Premier Ferguson, continued to cast doubt on his intentions in the matter "for the transparent purpose of creating chaos."

The attitude of this paper, he said, had been a "political move entirely."

Considered Question Fully.

Premier Ferguson said that he had given the question the fullest consideration. "I have eliminated all personal considerations," he stated, "and have tried to look at the question from a national point of view and I have reached the conclusion that whatever usefulness I have in public life may be of more advantage to the country in a provincial sphere than in the Dominion sphere." This, of course, did not mean that he was not interested in national problems and the expansion of the country.

THE WEATHER

On Sunday morning the temperature was down to 30 degrees or two points below the freezing mark. This morning it was 31 degrees. By way of variation we had a smart thunderstorm Sunday evening, when rain fell heavily for a short time. The season is following its usual routine so far and we should have at least another month of reasonably good weather conditions before the unpleasant days of early winter—W. P.

CHILD ADMITS SETTING FIRES

Boy of Four Responsible For Five Outbreaks in One District.

ONE IN OWN HOME.

The mysterious series of incendiary fires occurring on Driscoll Terrace on September 6, 8, 10 and October 1, has been cleared up through the efforts of Detective Crary and Fire Chief Gimblett.Suspicion was aroused when no plausible explanation was offered for the first fire ,in a bedroom, on the first floor, when it was said that mice at a box of matches, or the matches falling on a large butcher knife, might have caused the fire. The chief was not satisfied with these explanations, and the police were informed. Immediately an investigation was begun, but those who could have aided in the solution of the matter were not disposed to do so. Within the month there were four more fires in the vicinity, apparently of the same type. The investigators were not idle during this time however, and finally were able to send for Deputy Fire Marshall Seville of Toronto, who along with Chief Gimblett and Detective Crary, procured a confession from the incendiary suspect—a four year old boy. When put under oath by the Deputy Fire Marshall, the mother revealed facts about the first fire, which had they been known at the time, says Chief Gimblett would have avoided much trouble and loss of time in finding the fire bug. It was learned that the child had laid the first fire in his own home, and not the mice, and that he had later extended his activities to the surrounding houses and an old barn in the vicinity.

This is just an example of what may be done by children with matches, says the chief, who wishes to warn parents to keep their children away from the match box, and avoid trouble to themselves and their neighbors, as it seems in this case that the child is no respecter of persons or domiciles.

Husband Is Held For Shooting Wife

SASKATOON, Sask., Oct. 10.—(Canadian Press.)— Mrs. Percy A. Smith, of 313 Twenty-seventh street west, is suffering from a bullet wound in the right shoulder and Percy A. Smith, her husband, Saskatoon pugilist, is held by the city police on a charge of attempted murder. It is alleged that late Friday night Smith went to the home of Mrs. Smith's father, where the woman was living and going to a back window, sent a bullet through the glass in the direction of his wife, who was seated in the kitchen.

According to a statement given out by the police, Smith walked into police headquarters and declared: "I have shot my wife."

RUSSELL SCOTT TAKES OWN LIFE IN PRISON CELL

Marks End of Sensational Career in Cities Along Border.

CANADIAN FINANCIER.

Blames Plunge From Social Eminence To Affairs With Women.

DETROIT, Mich., October 10 (Associated Press). — A meteoric rise to riches and influence and an equally rapid descent to penury and ignominy marked the sensational career in high finance here and in adjacent Canadian cities of Russell Scott, who ended his life on Saturday night in a Chicago jail cell.

One time head of a $30,000,000 corporation that proposed to build an international bridge between Detroit and Windsor and with eighty branch offices scattered throughout the Dominion of Canada, Scott's downfall began in a disagreement among his business associates over his methods.

Hailed as a financial wizard at less than thirty years of age, Scott was penniless when he left the company, having been forced to give up $2,000,000 he had acquired in settling up his affairs . Another blow came when a young woman he had employed obtained a verdict of $10,000 on charges of breach of promise. Then his wife and children left him. His friends forsook him and finally to avoid a Canadian jail for failure of payment of a Court's judgment, he fled the Dominion.

Twice Arrested.

For months he lived as an actor, a salesman, a bootlegger, and then was arrested as a dope peddler. In January, 1924, he was again arrested in Chicago on charges of substituting a cheap brand of grape juice for a more expensive one for which he had contracted in a marketing enterprise. A few months later came the killing of Joseph Maurer, the 19-year-old drug clerk.

Scott, during the course of various litigations, blamed his plunge from financial and social eminence to affairs with women, especially the girl who obtained the breach of promise judgment at a time when he was trying to recoup his fortune. Another girl was with him when he was arrested following the hold-up.

Although under sentence to hang, Scott devoted much time to writing on how to succeed. Prior to his downfall he wrote a dozen books on business problems ,two of which, entitled "Humanity and Business" and "Mind Your Mind," were considered texts of exceptional merit.

Made Heroic Fight.

When Scott was arrested for the Maurer slaying, many prominent women of Detroit and the border cities of Sandwich and Windsor, Ont., prompted by the faith of Thomas Scott in his son's innocence, made a heroic fight in the man's behalf. Scott and his wife became reconciled and the latter took a leading part in the fight. Dances and other social events were arranged, and the proceeds were turned over to the defence fund. Thousands of dollars were raised, and the Governor of Michigan and many influential persons were enlisted in the movement to save Scott from the gallows, which he ultimately cheated.

The death of this man, whose life was filled with drama ,was as undramatic as the suicide of such a character might be, and was totally unexpected. He had been suffering from a slight attack of bronchitis, but his jailers thought he was in good spirits. His wife visited him at the jail on Saturday night.

Died Quietly.

He died quietly, prisoners in adjoining cells hearing no commotion when he fastened one end of his belt to a bar, settled the loop about his neck, and stepped off his cot.

At 10.45 Assistant Jailer F. G. Hawkins passed his cell and noted nothing unusual, but a few minutes later another jailer found the suspended body.

MADE-IN-CANADA FAIR IS OPENED BY GENERAL MANAGER OF C.N.E.

H. W. Watters Officiates at Formal Ceremony This Afternoon.

DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Joint Luncheon Held By Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs Before Opening.

Dr. H. W. Watters, general manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, opened the second annual Produced-In-Canada Exhibition at the Armories to-day.

This year's exhibition far surpasses that of last year. There are many more booths, and every night there will be a different grandstand performance. The Armories are beautifully decorated both inside and out.

At noon to-day about 100 men, members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and leading citizens in religious, industrial, civil, military and social affairs, gathered in the band room for a banquet.

At the banquet Dr. Watters was the principal speaker, after which, on the stand before hundreds of school children and citizens, he declared the second Made-in-Canada Exhibition officially open.

Co-operation Needed

Dr. H. W. Watters, in commencing his address, stressed the need of co-operation in putting across an exhibition. "I am quite aware there is a great difficulty in organizing an exhibition such as this," he said, "but I am glad to know that both the Rotary and Kimanis Clubs are here today.

"In 1904 when I started in the Canadian National Exhibition, it was largely an agricultural fair and as you all know the agricultural end is the losing end of any exhibition. Last year the prize list at the C.N.E. was $98,000 and we received as entry fees $12,000. In 1904 the manufacturers' end was a very small affair and it was my duty to industrialize the exhibition. Today it has grown beyond the produced-in-Canada stage to the international, and let me say here that we give space free to the governments of the various dominions in the Empire.

"This Produced-in-Canada idea is a good one, and I am absolutely in accord with it, but the manufacturer and the salesmen must get together.

Dr. Watters then scored the Canadian manufacturer. He told of the manufacturers of stoves raising the price when the duty was increased, thus enabling the American manufacturer to come in and sell the same as he did before, whereas, if the price had not been raised, the American could not have come in and competed in the sale. He also said that while in England he was told over and over again that the Canadian manufacturer exploited labor and took advantage of the cheap labor which came in from Europe and the British Isles.

Canada's Needs

"What Canada needs" said the speaker "is Capital and People. I am told the capital is flowing in, but we must have the people. If the manufacturers get together and pay a fair wage and the government frames a more settled immigration policy, this country ought to go ahead.

"There are in Canada large organizations that are financed by United States capital, and this capital is simply taking advantage of the preference given Canadian-made

CARS COLLIDE INTERSECTION

Two Coming From Opposite Directions Turn Into Same Street.

DAMAGE SLIGHT.

Two cars, a coach and a touring car, had a peculiar accident at the corner of Hunter and Water Streets last night at about nine o'clock. The front bumper of the touring car was torn off by the rear of the coach, but the driver of the former claimed that the coach struck him. The spectators attempted to aid the police in securing a solution by plying questions of their own. It is said that the touring car, coming north on Water Street, attempted to turn west on Hunter and the coach, proceeding south on Water, made a turn to go in the same direction on Hunter. According to the touring car's driver, in order to avoid a collision, he applied his brakes, and the coach, tearing ahead, caught his bumper with the rear end, tearing the bumper completely from its braces.

The police asked for drivers' licenses but only one was produced, the driver of the coach claiming that he had left his at home, and he was warned that he must carry it with him. The disputants were advised to settle the matter out of court, but no understanding could be reached at the time on account of so many curious onlookers.

Couple Lose Lives In Crossing Wreck

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 10.—(Canadian Press.)—Five children, ranging in ages from two to twelve years, were robbed of their parents, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mill street, this city, were killed when their car was struck by a radial car at the Echo Place crossing near Brantford yesterday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were on their way to Hamilton and the former's brother was in a car just ahead when the smash occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were both born in England and came to this country about 15 years ago. Mr. Anderson went overseas with the First Battlion, C. E. F., and served throughout the whole of the war. He was employed as a moulder with the James Stewart Company of this city and was well known in the west end where he resided. Five children survive, these being Edna aged 12 Florence, 10, Francis, 6, Noreen, 4, and Roy 2, who was critically injured in the smash. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were Roman Catholics in religion. The children are staying with a sister of their mother.

WAR VETERANS' NAMES WANTED

Employment Bureau Compiling List of Men Who Can't Work.

FOR CONFERENCE.

Hugh Robinson superintendent of the local employment office, wishes to draw the attention of disabled exservice men, whether receiving a pension or not, to the fact that he has been requested to compile a list of unemployable or problem cases among ex-soldiers for the conference of Premiers to be held in Ottawa, early next month, as this is one of the subjects appearing on the agenda of the conference.

By problem cases is meant those types for which, although it is possible to get casual and intermittent employment, still on account of the man's condition, it does not seem possible to place him permanently.

"The list should not be confined to pensioners as the problem is in connection with the care of ex-service men who have been or will shortly become, a public charge unless some provision not at present available is made."

It will be to the interest of the men to leave their names with Mr. Robinson, at the Employment Bureau, at the earliest possible moment.

There was quite a line-up at the employment office this morning at about nine-thirty. There were men looking for work and employers looking for men. Most of the calls are for bushmen, with some farm work, and a few calls for first-class tradesmen. The men applying were searching for odd jobs about town for the winter months, some just having returned from farms, and not wishing to spend the winter there. One man was given the opportunity of going back to the bush near Hall's Bridge, but he said that he had been chased by wolves in that vicinity last year and did not wish to repeat the experience.

THREE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Pilot and Passengers Lose Lives When Ship Catches Fire.

TANK EXPLODES.

FLINT, Michigan, Oct. 10. — The pilot and two passengers of a commercial aeroplane were killed yesterday when the machine crashed from an altitude of 100 feet to a field, and was enveloped in flames.

The dead are William "Scotty" Clunie, pilot; Joseph Holzer, employee of a local aviation field and Carl Ebert, student flier, all of Flint.

According to witnesses as the plane veered sharply in the wind the motor stopped and the ship spiralled to the ground. The gasoline tank exploded immediately as the plane struck and the three men were burned to death before aid could reach them.

Clunie was an experienced pilot.

WHICH TO WAG?

LONDON, Oct. 10. — J. Dunkerley, a Sheffield merchant, has a cat which doesn't know which of its tails to wag. The Persian freak, born recently, has two heads, six perfect legs, and two tails, in addition of course, to the usual nine lives.

Four Persons Killed In Oil Refinery Fire

ELDORADO Ark., Oct. 10. — Four men were killed and 12 injured yesterday when two high compression stills at the plant here of the Oil Refining Company, exploded and started a fire that swept a section of the plant.

H. M. Briedenthal, vice-president of the refining company, said that the cause o. the explosion and fire could not be assigned until an investigation was made. Damage to the refinery was heavy, he said.

The stills which explode were part of a battery of 15. Both were wrecked. Eight others to which the flames spread were badly wrecked. The refining house at the plant also was destroyed.

The fire was brought under control after a two hours battle.

IRELAND READY TO PLAY PART WITH EMPIRE

Will Uphold Welfare of Peoples Composing Commonwealth, Says Minister.

PLEASED WITH ELECTION.

Free State Able To Work Out Own Destiny Now Without Interference.

TORONTO, October 10. Canadian Press, — The Irish Free State will play its part as a member worthy of the great British Commonwealth of Nations, Hon. T. A. Smiddy, Irish Free State Minister to the United States assured the large audience who heard him speak on the Irish Free State, at the Canadian Club luncheon here to-day. "She will like Canada, ever bear the torch of freedom, sectional and religious tolerance, enlightment, and all that makes for the welfare of the peoples who form that empire, and she ever will be in the forefront to defend them if ever they should be threatened," he declared.

The Free State's membership in the League of Nations would enable her to play an important part in the realm of international affairs, the minister said He outlined the position of the Free State as one of the seven nations in the British Commonwealth, explaining that the Free State was as satisfied with the recent election of Canada to the League Council as she would have been if she herself had been successful in her candidature last year. In contending for a council seat the Free State had merely upheld its belief that the Dominions should be represented.

"The Irish Free State is free to work out her destiny in her own way without any interference whatever from any nation," the Hon Mr. Smiddy pointed out. "She is using her freedom to advantage and has already laid the foundation of a healthy development of her material and mental research; she has done so under unusually difficult circumstances."

FIVE CASES AT ASSIZES

Two Criminal and Three Civil Actions To Be Heard This Week.

BEFORE JUSTICE KELLY.

Two criminal cases and three civil actions are on the docket for the sessions of the High Court, which starts to-morrow afternoon, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Kelly.

The two criminal cases are against William and Davis Hill of Dummer, two brothers. They are charged with a serious offence against two sisters, one who is under 14 years old, and the other a couple of years older.

The evidence that was given in the preliminary hearing reveals one of the worst cases that has been heard in the courts of Peterboro for some time. In one case the girl says she was caught on a dark road one Sunday night, while she was on her way home, and in the other case the girl claims that she was assaulted in daylight in the home of the accused. J. A. O'Brien is acting for the accused.

In the civil case, Peck, Kerr and McElderry are acting for Mrs. Sarah Jane McLean, who has entered action against the City of Peterboro for $4000, and costs. Mrs. McLean fell on the sidewalk on Tuesday, Dec. 14, last, and suffered injuries.

J. J. Duffus, Ltd., is suing Patrick J. Carroll for $3236.37 over an automobile deal, Gordon and O'Brien are acting for the prosecution and J. W. Reid for the defendant.

The third case, Beckey Aber Chreney, is suing her husband for alimony. Gordon & O'Brien are for the plaintiff, and J. Wearing for the defendant.

Great Convention Gets Under Way; All Seats Occupied

Conservatives From All Parts of Canada on Hand When Winnipeg Meeting Is Called To Order By Hon. Hugh Guthrie, House Leader.

RHODES IS MENTIONED IN GOSSIP AS PERMANENT ENGLISH CHAIRMAN

Each Provincial Delegation To Hold Meeting To Elect Chairman and Whip—Seating Arranged By Provinces Straight Across Convention Hall.

WINNIPEG, Man., October 10 (Canadian Press). — Nat. Boyd, president of the Manitoba Conservative Association, was elected temporary chairman of the National Conservative Convention which opened here to-day. The name of Mr. Boyd was proposed by J. R. McNichol, of Toronto, and seconded by Col. J. A. Currie. No further nominations were submitted, and Mr Boyd mounted the platform amid cheers.

Shortly before the opening hour it was announced that all Provincial delegations had arranged for separate meetings at which the chairman and whip for their particular Province will be selected. Manitoba so far is the only Province which has definitely chosen its deputy-chairman and whip.

Premier E. N. Rhodes, Nova Scotia, was mentioned in the gossip among the delegates as a likely selection for permanent English chairman of the convention, with Senator C. P. Beaubien, Montreal, or the Hon. L. P. Normand, Three Rivers, Que., as the permanent French chairman.

Seating accommodation for the guests is arranged by Provinces, with Ontario to the extreme right of the platform and Quebec to the extreme left . The Saskatchewan group is located next to the Ontario section, then Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Alberta, Manitoba, British Columbia, and Quebec in the order named. Practically all the seats were occupied when Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative House leader last session, called the convention to order.

As the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, leader of the Conservative Party in the Federal House of Commons, opened the convention, he made a slip which aroused considerable laughter.

"The honour devolves upon me," he said, "of opening the National Liberal Convention of Canada—".

As the laugh subsided, Mr. Guthrie corrected the phrase to National Liberal-Conservative Convention.

Mr. Guthrie explained that the convention was summoned after a resolution had been passed a year ago by the elected members and defeated candidates who offered themselves during the general election of 1926. That resolution was that a national convention should be held at the earliest possible date, and the result is that the gathering to-day was one of the most representative of "this party or of any other party that has ever been held in the Dominion of Canada."

The House leader then led with the Lord's Prayer in English, Senator Beaubien following with the Lord's Prayer in French. Then the body rose and sang "God Save the King" and "O Canada."

Following a short speech by Mr. Boyd, in which he stated that the Province of Manitoba had been honoured by his election to the post of temporary chairman, Mayor Webb, Winnipeg, welcomed the delegates to the city, and extended hospitality.

The Mayor said he had one message to give to the convention, and that was to think nationally. Winnipeg, he added, was thinking in terms of north and not of south. "You Conservatives," he said, "who have been blocking the Hudson's Bay Railway for years, remember you are in a country where that means something."

Mennonites Return From South America

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 10.—(Canadian Press.)—After an unsatisfactory residence of several years in Paraguay, South America, three families of Mennonites, staunchly declaring that "we are Canadians,' have arrived here on their way back to their Canadian homes. These families represent the vanguard of a whole colony of Mennonite settlers, numbering about 900 persons, who are returning to Canada.

Nine years ago the colony left Canadian soil to trek to Paraguay, South America. They sold their farms and started their long journey, considering prospects at their South American destination much brighter than in Western Canada.

FIRE IN MADOC COSTS $20,000

Armstrong's Service Station and Thompson's Garage Are Burned.

OTHER BUILDINGS SAVED.

MADOC, October 10. — One of the worst fires in the history of Madoc broke out in this village last night, and completely wiped out a garage and service station. The fire had a considerable start before it was discovered about 10.30 in Thompson's garage. A fire alarm was immediately turned in, and all of the village's fire fighting apparatus was called out, including the chemical engine, steam pumper, and hose reels.

The volunteer fire brigade found it impossible to save the garage or Armstrong's service station, which is beside the garage. The neighbouring grocery store and planing mill also caught fire, but the fighters were able to save these buildings.

The cause o fthe fire is thought to have been a short circuit in one of the cars that were in the garage. The Armstrong service station was the best in the village, having been recently remodelled. There was no insurance on either building. Mr. Armstrong expected to put insurance on his new building this week and that on Mr. Thompson's had expired last week. The loss to Mr. Armstrong is estimated at $15,000, and to Mr. Thompson $5,000.

SHANSI FORCES ARE RETREATING

Manchurian Offence Along the Railway Drives Back Invaders.

TOKIO, Oct. 10. Canadian Press. —A general retreat of the Shansi forces, which have been advancing on Peking from the southwest, is underway, say advices received by the Japanese news agency Rengo. The advices indicated that the Manchurian offensive along the Peking-Hankow Railway was successful.

WINS DAMAGES.

LONDON, October 10.—The London, Midland and Scottish Railway was awarded 4 shillings damages recently against a man who had chalked "Just Married, don't disturb us," on the side of the train as he was seeing the bride and bridegroom away on their honeymoon.

TWO ASSASSINS KILLED IN CAVE

Another Man Caught By Jugo-Slav Militia at Maleche.

MANY SHOTS FIRED.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Oct. 10. —Canadian Press. — Run to earth in a cave on Mount Maleche, two of the alleged assassins of the Jugo-Slavia Brigadier-General Michael Kovachevitch, have been killed, and a third captured. The men took refuge in a cave when pursued by the local militia. An all night siege ensued, many shots being exchanged. This morning militia men rushed the cave, and found two of their quarry dead. The third man was taken to Istip, where General Kovachevitch was assassinated last week.

MILLROOK FAIR GREAT SUCCESS DESPITE DAY'S POSTPONEMENT

Exhibits Are As Good As Usual Though Attendance Smaller.

BUILDINGS ARE FULL.

Ladies' Display Particularly Fine—Midway Proves Great Attraction.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 10.—The Millbrook Central Exhibition, for the first time in six years, met with the reverse of unfavorable weather, causing a postponement from Friday until Saturday when it was carried through with every success so far as quantity and quality of exhibits was concerned, but with a reduced attendance and a gate receipt less than two-thirds the amount usually taken in. There were probably two thousand people on the grounds during the afternoon.

The midway had the usual number of hot dog venodrs, refreshment booths, and games of chance, with kewpie dolls, blankets, chocolates, aluminum ware, and jewelry as prizes, and there was a palmistry booth, with a gysy-haired lady in charge, that attracted a good many curious ones anxious, apparently, to peer into the future through this medium. One game of chance booth the officials closed up because of repeated complaints by those who had been lured to separation from their money, the men in charge being evidently a pair of deliberate sharpshooters.

The main building had all available space fully occupied, the display of fruit being particularly fine as this has not been considered a good apple year. There were 23 exhibits in the open classes, and the collection classes were all filled up. Among exhibitors were Tamblyn, of Orono; Lovekin, Newcastle; and Wilson, of Perrytown. Vegetables were all of good quality, large, firm, white cauliflowers, giant squash, and smooth-skinned tomatoes, rich red in color, and of uniform size, being noticeable among the many exhibits.

The Horn Brothers' Woollen Company, of Lindsay, had a full section in the main building, showing some beautiful rugs and blankets, from sheep's back to the finished product' being the claim of their plant. The flowers were banked opposite the main entrance doors, and both in potted plants and cut flowers there was a most attractive display, some daintily arranged baskets being one of the many features which called forth much favorable comment. Mr. Jordon, of Peterborough, was the judge in this section.

Ladies' Work Good.

In the ladies' work department there has probably never been a finer showing, not only in regard to the number of entries, but also in the freshness and fine workmanship evident in the exhibits. There were some beautiful examples of fine crochet work and embroidery on pillow slips, centre pieces, and towels; one sofa with a pair of gaily-colored paroquets and large bunches of grapes in vivid embroidery, and another of dull pink taffeta, round in shape and with scalloped flounces bound in French folds, being espe-

Stage Practically Set Agricultural Jubilee

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 8 (Canadian Press).—The stage is practically set and ready for the celebration of "Canada's Agricultural Jubilee," according to the Honorable W. R Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, on whose initiative the movement to fittingly recognize the Dominion's largest and most valuable basic industry was launched.

"The nine provinces of the Dominion have all signified their willingness to co-operate with the Dominion in placing before the world the advance of agriculture in Canada," stated Hon. R. Motherwell last night, "and I confidently expect that the displays that will show the progress of agriculture through the years since the provinces signed the pact of Confederation will be fitting and appropriate to the occasion. I have received assurances that the government of Canada will have the unanimous backing of all the provincial governments on a scale that will enhance the memory of our country's Diamond Jubilee to a greater extent than perhaps has already been accomplished by the various celebrations that have taken place."

Communication Services Paralyzed When Earth Shocks Occur at Vienna.

BUILDINGS SHOOK.

Worst That the Country Has Experienced in Fifty Years.

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 10 (A.P.).—Severe earth shocks lasting 10 seconds shook Vienna at 8.48 Saturday night.

Telegraph, telephone and tramway services were paralyzed. The population was panic stricken.

Buildings shook violently. Glassware, pictures and other objects in houses crashed to the floor.

The shocks were the worst that Austria has experienced in fifty years. Their greatest intensity was in Styria, Lower Austria, about 110 miles south of Vienna.

At Sankt-Poelten, 35 miles west of Vienna, 23 distinct shocks were felt, sending factory chimneys crashing to the ground, crippling electric

WILD PITCH BY PIRATE TWIRLER IN NINTH INNING GAVE YANKEES WINNING RUN FOR WORLD TITLE

Spoils Courageous Come-Back For Buccaneers To Lose Final Game 4-3.

FANS YANK SLUGGERS.

Pittsburgh Badly Outclassed at Nearly Every Turn of Game.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associate Press Sports Editor.)

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, October 10. — The last stand of a dazed and battered crew of Pittsburgh Pirates, came to an inglorious climax Saturday when a wild pitch by John Miljus in the ninth inning, with two out and the bases full, gave the New York Yankees the winning run and the world's championship with a record equalling streak of four successive triumphs.

Miljus made a gift of the fourth and final game to the American League champions spoiling a courageous comeback by the Buccaneers, and wrecking an otherwise sensational relief pitching performance. The score was 4 to 3.

Relieving the bespectacled Carmen Hill after the Yankee defence had cracked to help the Pirates tie the score and offset the lead provided by Babe Ruth's second home run Miljus had curved his way two-thirds of the distance to heroic heights when he weakened, heaving a wild one past Johnny Gooch that enabled Earle Combs to race across the plate with the winning run.

It was an anti-climax to an otherwise thrilling stand for Miljus, see? ing the bases filled ,with none out, had risen to brilliant heights to fan two of the heaviest Yankee sluggers, Lou Gehrig and Bob Meusel.

The crowd of close to 60,000 wildly cheering fans, knowing that the outcome of a world's series hinged on every pitch, was nervously excited as Tony Lazzeri strode to the plate.

There was a feeling that Miljus two-thirds of the danger past would get out of the hole he had dug for himself by passing Combs, permitting a hit by Koenig, advancing both with a wild pitch, and then purposely walking Ruth. With Lazzeri at bat, there arose in the minds of the onlookers a parallel situation in the final game of the series a year ago, when Tony was fanned by Alexander with the bases full.

Made Wild Pitch.

This time, as a year ago, Lazzeri cut a wicked drive that went foul in the left field stands. Then a ball, but the next pitch, getting out of control, flew wide of the plate. Gooch made a lunge for it, but it only flicked his glove and bounced back to the stands as Combs sped in, standing up, with the winning run.

That single pitch broke up the last last lingering hopes of the Pirate, badly outclassed at nearly every turn of the series, and sent them down to th emost decisive defeat any national league team has ever sustained in world's series competition.

This was the first time a world's series has been literaly tossed away, but it recalled and took its place alongside the famous wild pitch of Jack Chesbro in 1904, that cost the Yankees the deciding game of a pennant race, and enabled the Red Sox to top the American League. It was therefore a bit of poetic, if also tragic, justice for the New Yorkers, 23 years later, to win a baseball's premier title by the same method they once lost a pennant.

In dashing through four straight victories to climax the greatest and most spectacular season of their history, the Yankees equalled the record of the Boston Braves, who scored the only other series clean sweep in four games when they trounced the Athletics in 1914.

Wiley Moore, the big Oklahoma farmer, received credit for the deciding Yankee victory, but the master of the "sinker ball," twirling his first world's series game, was lucky to win the duel he had with the combined curves of Hill and Miljus.

Wiley Hard Hit.

Wiley was hit hard from the start. He steadied usually when it came to the pinches, but only the sensational support of his infield saved him from heavy damage through the first half of the game and when that defence sagged in the seventh inning, the Pirates surged through to tie the score.

Each team scored a run in the opening inning, but Ruth caught one of Hill's slow curves in the fifth and sent it high and far into the right field bleachers, scoring Earle Combs ahead of him with a brace of runs that looked big enough to settle the game.

It was a towering drive, not as much of the rifle-shot variety that Babe fired into the same stands on Friday, but still a typical Ruthian smash and one that aroused the wildest sort of a demonstration.

The Pirates meanwhile were lac-

"TAPSCOTT HOSE" FOR TENNIS FANS.

LONDON, Oct. 8. — Stars of the tennis courts last year proved themselves successful dictators of sports fashions, and this year it promises to be the same. The "Suzanne Bandeau" and the "Helen Wills Eyeshade" now are to be overshadowed in popularity by a new fad—"Tapscott Stockings."

Miss "Billie" Tapscott, member of the South African women's tennis team, appeared on a fashionable court here recently with no stockings at all. She said she always had played in bare legs and always would, if she were permitted.

Wimbledon officials say that it's all right with them if the players wear neither stockings nor shoes, so now many of the women plan to follow the fad.

Gehrig struck out, swinging for a third strike. The crowd howled. Meusel fanned, swinging for the third strike. The crowd cheered Miljus. Lazzeri up. Combs scored on a wild pitch. One run, one hit, no errors.

FOUR PERSONS ARE KILLED, OTHERS INJURED IN EXPLOSION

High Powered Bomb Wrecks Four-Storey Tenement Building.

NEW YORK CITY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (A.P.).—Another life was added yesterday to the toll of the bomb explosion which wrecked a four-storey tenement building in West 35th Street Saturday ,killing four persons outright and injuring twelve others.

The latest victim was Mrs Kalsilis, 34, whose mother and daughter perished in the blast. She died in Bellevue Hospital after the amputation of her leg.

The full personnel of the bomb squad was assigned to the case yesterday after the finding of an unexploded bomb in the basement of the wrecked building prompted detectives to announce that there was no doubt that the tragedy had been the result of the explosion of a high powered bomb similar to one found intact.

The unexploded bomb, which was opened yesterday by Inspector Robert W .Withers, of the Department of Combustibles of the Fire Department, was found to be tightly packed by six and one-half pounds of gelatine dynamite with a fulminate of mercury detonating cap and wire leads to carry the exploding current. The case of the bomb was a piece of three inch black iron pipe, 18 inches long, fitted on each end with a screw cap.

Skilled Labor

Withers reported that the workmanship of the deadly cylinder and its contents indicated that it had been made by skilled persons.

Detectives yesterday sought without success for a clue that might connect the unidentified man whose body was found in the wreckage of the tenement with the explosion. One theory was that he might have been experimenting with the bomb when it was accidentally exploded. Blasting experts, however, discredited this idea, explaining that had the man been close to the bomb when it let go, his body would have been blown to fragments. As it was, the head, one arm and a foot had been blown off.

Seek Two Men

Detectives were seeking two young men, former tenants in the house, whose actions had attracted the attention of the landloard, Andrew Caviello, and neighbors. These men, police said, had been seen carrying black gripsacks and boxes in and out of their quarters. No explanation of the contents of the containers was ever learned, Caviello told the police.

Police, firemen and other city department crews worked until nearly dawn searching the ruins for victims. The explosion had been so terrific that three of the bodies were buried deep beneath masses of debris and were not recovered until several hours after the explosion.

The unexploded bomb which Withers examined yesterday was said to be almost a duplicate of the unexploded bomb found in the Clark Street tunnel of the Interborough Rapid Transit subway several weeks ago.

After questioning Mrs. Andrew Caviello, wife of the landlord, detectives said last night that they believed it was she who, by turning an electric light switch in her house, unwittingly exploded the bomb. The woman told detectives that the explosion had occurred almost simultaneously with the turning of a switch with which she turned on the hall lights in the tenement.

Dies From Injuries Car Struck By Train

SARNIA, Ont., Oct. 10.—(Canadian Press.)—Charles Benware, 30, died Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tiffield Benware, Courtright, from a fractured skull. His injuries, which included both legs broken, were received when the light car in which he was driving to his work at Petrolia, was struck by a Michigan Central freight train at 6:45 Saturday morning. The injured man's brother Frederick witnessed the accident from the next block, but was unable to say how it was that his brother failed to bring his car to a standstill.

The engine struck the car on the side and piled it up in a ditch at the side of the road. Benware was unconscious when picked up and was taken to his home. He was a single man residing with his parents and was an employee of the Union Natural Gas Company.

WILD PITCH BY PIRATE TWIRLER

(Turn to Page 2, Please)

ing Moore's sinker ball consistently, but also as consistently getting nowhere because of the stone wall infield defence put up by Dugan, Koenig, Lazzeri, and Gehrig. Twice double plays choked off Pirate threats, in the third and fifth innings, but for no apparent reason whatever the Yankees lost their sure-fire fielding skill in the seventh.

Paved the Way.

Moore himself paved the way for the Pirate rally in this inning, when on Smith's roller to Gehrig he muffed the first baseman's throw as he stepped on the bag. Instantly there was commotion on the Pirate bench, and reinforcements were rushed in. The fans, like those in Pittsburgh, yelled vociferously for Kiki Cuyler, exiled outfielder, but Emil Yde, reserve pitcher, was sent in to run for Smith and Freddie Bricknell substituted for Hill at bat.

It was not because of this strategy that Brickell got on base, however, for Lazzeri, with another double play in sight, made his first error of the series, booting Brickell's grounder. Lloyd Waner sacrificed both runners along, and there was a mighty cheer for the Pirates as Barnhart drove a long single to centre. Yde scored, but Brickell, in doubt about the ball, started back to second and then retraced his steps too late to get further than third on the hit. Paul Waner, however, brought over Brickell with the tying run on a sacrifice hoist to Combs, and the stands were in another uproar.

The Pirates were making a gallant comeback, and the fans, whether or not the majority were there to root the Yankees in, gave the Corsairs as big a hand as they ever got in their home town. Perhaps the crowd's reaction was more because the Pirates were the underdogs, fighting a seemingly hopeless fight, but more likely it was typical of Gotham's impartiality and desire for enthusiasm whatever the cause.

Displayed Confidence

At any rate, the Pirates seemed to take on a new lease in their baseball life, even if it was coming a trifle late. They were displaying more dash and confidence than they had in any of the previous three games. But, as it turned out, the final flash was not enough and the Pirates lost at the end, as they had from the start, chiefly on their own lapses.

They had a chance to break the 3-3 tie in the eighth inning, as did the Yankees, but the rival pitchers, Miljus and Moore, each struck out with two men on bases. It looked like questionable strategy by Manager Donie Bush to send Miljus to bat in the eighth, with men on first and second and two out. A pinch hitter there, Cuyler perhaps, might have put the Corsairs into the lead. It looked like the spot to throw all available resources into the battle, but Bush gambled with his pitcher and lost.

Outplayed Pirates.

The Yankees outhit and outplayed the Pirates, except for their surprising seventh inning lapse, the only time the New York infield defence cracked in the entire series, but it was Babe Ruth's bat that dealt the mightiest blows for the American League champions.

Friday the Babe's homer was more artistic than essential. Saturday as it turned out his second circuit clout saved the game, enabling the Yankees to hold the Pirates to a tie until the fateful ninth.

Ruth brought Combs home in the first inning with the first Yankee run, after Earl had singled and advanced on Koenig's one-base blow. Combs, who helped himself to three hits during the afternoon, was again conveniently on base when the Babe landed his mighty stroke into the bleachers in the fifth.

Again in the ninth Ruth was up there swinging his mace with menacing gestures, with two runners on base, but this time caution was the better part of valor, for the Pirates and Miljus intentionally passed the Babe on orders from Manager Bush. The sight of the Babe perhaps was partly responsible for Miljus' first wild pitch, moving Combs and Koenig up a base.

Ruth Leading.

It was just as well that Ruth was hitting them, for the rest of the Yankee sluggers, outside of Combs, Koenig and Collins, did nothing to distinguish themselves at bat. Lou Gehrig, who gave the Babe a hot chase for home run honors during the season, not only failed to connect in this series for more than a triple, but he fanned twice in the pinches Saturday.

In the first inning Gehrig, as well as Meusel and Lazzeri, struck out on Hill's slow curves or floaters, and in the ninth "Columbia Lou" beat the air as he followed the Babe to bat with the bases full and none out.

It was a great chance for Gehrig to inject a finishing wallop, but he was unable to seize it, as Miljus fooled him with curves. It was the same story for Meusel, next up, who struck out for the second time in the game and for the fifth time in two days.

It was a tragic finale for Miljus to undo this fine work with a wild pitch, but it was typical, in a disappointing fashion of the wobbly and uncertain work of the Pirates from the start of the series. At few moments of the battle were the Corsairs, tired by their hard pennant fight, able to match their powerful foes in hitting, fielding skill or pitching. While the Yankees made only one pitching substitution, that in the first game, the Pirates saw everyone of the four starting twirlers, Kremer, Aldridge, Meadows and Hill, fade from the picture before the finish of any game.

BEAUTY TREATMENT REPELS HUSBAND

When Nicky Arnstein was sent to the pen for complicity in a $5,000,000 robbery it served only to increase the devotion of his wife, Fanny Brice, for "her man." But when Fanny had her nose straughtened, by a Chicago plastic surgeon, she acquired new beauty but lost her husbands love. She quoted Nicky as saying: "Now that you are beautiful you are no longer the Fanny Brice that I married and lived with all these years. You make me feel like an inferior person." So Nicky sought companionship and solace elsewhere and Fanny sued for divorce, winning her freedom in the record time of three days. With her remodeled nose she is now able to turn her back permanently on her old comedy roles and to essay the "straight legit" without fear of having her efforts at pathos lapse in bathos. Her stage salary is said to be $7,500 a week. Fanny and Nicky are seen together as they were in the old days of trouble and tribulation but marital felicity. Also shown is another view of Fanny Brice, with the Chicago surgeon admiring her remodeled nose just after changing its contour from aquiline to Grecian.

It is traditional that the lord mayoralty should go to the senior alderman, which was Sir John Moore's status, and the fact that an actual election occurred caused a sensation in the Empire's metropolis. The jurisdiction of the lord mayor is confined to the city of London itself, a comparatively small area and comprising just one, but the most important, of the many boroughs that comprise the greater city.

PREVENTING FIRES.

City firemen have been distributing posters and literature calling the attention of the public to Fire Prevention Week and to the necessity of a greater effort on the part of everybody to reduce the annual fire loss.

Nobody knows better than the fire fighters that it is easier, cheaper and more satisfactory to prevent fires than to extinguish them.

All efficient fire departments, in fact, are working year in and year out to reduce fire hazards in their communities and to educate the public to be careful.

The simple truth is that at least seventy-five per cent. of the fires that the department have to fight could be prevented; they are the product of carelessness or neglect or recklessness.

This week affords a good chance for Peterborough people to check up in this respect.

Are you satisfied that your house is free from fire hazards, that your chimneys and stovepipes are in good condition, that your sheds and cellars are reasonably clear of rubbish that would add fuel to the flames?

And take stock of your own actions in regard to lighted matches, cigarette stubs, etc.

Be careful always—it pays.

THE AIR LEAGUE.

Thanks to the location here of the Canadian Air Services Company, Peterborough has already secured a reputation as a flying centre, a reputation that can be enhanced by the formation of a branch of the Air League of Canada, and an early compliance with the conditions under which the Dominion Government will supply two aeroplanes.

The meeting on Wednesday night in the Chamber of Commerce at which the organization of the Peterborough branch will be discussed is therefore of great importance and should be largely attended.

The Air League of Canada is under the leadership of Major-General McBrien, and has as its main objects:

(1) To promote safe and sane commercial aviation in Canada.

(2) To create a reserve of trained personnel for the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Both of these objects are, of course, well worthy of support, and, in addition, the opportunity of making Peterborough one of the leaders in the development of aviation in Canada should not be neglected.

WELL DONE, "PETES."

Although the Peterborough baseball team lost the second game of the final series with Hamilton on Saturday, there seems to be a fine spirit of pride among local citizens over the splendid showing of the team this season, and none of the criticism and fault-finding that sometimes go hand-in-hand with defeat.

The "Petes" deserve to be well thought of by their fellow-townspeople.

When the handicaps under which they have laboured all season are taken into consideration, the fact that they were able to fight their way into the finals and contest the closing series so spiritedly that both defeats might easily have been victories is surprising.

Left without any competition all summer, it was only the splendid loyalty to the game shown by this collection of veterans and young players that enabled them to win the championship of the Lakeshore League, eliminate Toronto's best amateur team, and battle with honours practically even against the crack club of Western Ontario.

The behaviour of the players on the field and off has won many friends for them throughout the Province, and for this, for the valuable publicity they have given Peterborough as a sporting centre and for their determined fight against odds to bring baseball's highest honours to their home city, they are entitled to the thanks of the citizens generally.

TRAFFIC CONSCIOUSNESS.

The aim of the great safety campaign that is being launched in Ontario is to develop among the people of this Province what is described as "traffic consciousness."

We are face to face with new conditions.

The enormous increase in motor traffic has brought with it a problem that has to be solved: we have to learn how this traffic can be operated in a manner that will not endanger life and limb.

There is no use in complaining about the automobile: it is here to stay, and what is needed now is a resolve on everybody's part to do what he can to see that this popular medium of transportation is safely used.

Pedestrians must accept the conditions as they find them, and be on the alert at all times.

And motorists must be made to realize that in their own interests and for the general safety they cannot afford to ignore the principles of courtesy and caution or the regulations laid down for their guidance.

"Traffic consciousness" would prevent many accidents.

The other night a powerful automobile dashed up Water street at nearly forty miles an hour, crossing intersections without any perceptible slackening in speed.

And only one headlight on this madly speeding car was burning.

Certainly the driver of that particular automobile was no "traffic conscious."

It is to such motorists and to the careless pedestrian and the parents who neglect to warn their children about the perils of the street that the highway safety campaign is being directed.

OUR GROWING TOURIST TRADE.

According to statistics presented to the Essex County Automobile Club, an increase of nearly 125 per cent. is shown in the number of "sixty-day tourist parties" who have entered Canada through the Border Cities to date this year. The figures for the first nine months of 1927 were 82,275, as against 38,000 last year. The calculations are said to have been carefully prepared from a record of the number of permits which people touring the country for any length of time have to purchase before their cars can be released by the customs.

Canadians are sometimes liable to forget the important part the tourist traffic now plays in the economic life of the Dominion. A circular issued some time ago by the Federal Department of Railways and Canals mentions it as the third largest industry in the country, and in gross receipts second only to the agricultural and forest products. The country's wheat crop last year approached the half-billion-dollar mark, and the sum of $203,197,820 is estimated to have been spent in Canada during 1926 by foreign automobile tourists. The trade is therefore one which deserves encouragement in every way. It is still in its infancy, but the statistics from year to year show that it is steadily growing.

The large cities are alive to the importance of the industry, and tradesmen are on the alert to secure as great a portion as possible of the money which the visitors are determined upon spending. Some of the smaller communities which are suffering a loss of general prosperity by the competition of other centres might well take into consideration the question of obtaining a larger share of tourist trade by catering especially to the needs of visitors. Many a small town or village which can never hope to become a big commercial centre has scenic and other features which, if properly made known, would make a strong appeal to the visitor from afar.—The Globe.

EMPHATIC

The Moderation League of Ontario is the latest organization to give its emphatic endorsation to The Border Cities Star's campaign for vigorous enforcement and general public observance of the Liquor Control Act.

The League's statement, published on the first page of The Star yesterday, was clear and to the point. As the utterance of an organization which played no small part in bringing about the liquor law now in force in Ontario, it is of particular importance. The issuance of the statement also emphasizes, once more, that the present discussion is not a wet-and-dry argument. The Moderation League is opposed to prohibition. It led the fight against prohibition. It emphasized personal liberty and the impracticability of attempting to enforce a law that lacked general public support. In place of prohibition—as represented by the Ontario Temperance Act—the Moderation League called for a system of Government control, a method that would make it possible for the people to secure liquor in a legitimate way and under desirable conditions. This view of the situation eventually triumphed and Government control is the law of the land today.

There was a general feeling, when Government control came into force, that the Province was to experience a great improvement in conditions. Members of the Moderation League felt that way about it and others shared the view. Unfortunately, however, the experience has not been a particularly satisfactory one, and, in this community at any rate, has been such as to provoke very definite and widespread demand for a change—not a new law, but an adequate and proper enforcement of the present one. The Moderation League, although an unofficial organization, feels that it has a distinct responsibility in this matter. It is for this reason that its voice was added yesterday to many voices that have been raised within recent week in the hope of securing a very decided change in the enforcement and observance of the law.

Mr. Malcolm G. Campbell, President of the local branch of the Moderation League, and his associates appreciate—in common with other citizens—that the situation obtaining here in recent months cannot be allowed to continue. They know, as everyone else knows, that illegality has been allowed to run rampant. And that is why they are protesting, as The Star has protested, as so many private individuals have protested, against a continuance of this positively rotten state of affairs.

One of the greatest arguments against prohibition was that it interfered with rightful personal liberty. This point was stressed by the Moderation League. The Government control law restored personal liberty so far as legal ability to secure supplies of alcoholic beverages is concerned. Members of the Moderation League, then, should be especially concerned with the success of Government control, for, just as surely as the sun shines, all the ground that has been gained by them will be lost if the new Act turns out to be a failure. And it will be a failure until the necessity of enforcing it to the limit is recognized by the Government, by police departments and by police magistrates everywhere.

Mayor Jackson has spoken, the Windsor City Council has spoken, Mr. Wallace R. Campbell has spoken, Mr. Malcolm G. Campbell has spoken, Mr. Herbert Wilson, Mr. Frank W. Wilson, M.L.A., Dr. Paul Poisson, M.L.A., the Rev. H. M. Paulin, the Moderation League, the Kiwanis Club, the press of the Province—all these and many others have spoken and their voices are all attuned to the same note, a demand for law and order, for decent social conditions, for the elimination of those would make the will of the electors nothing but a hollow mockery.

No Government, no police commission, no police department, no magistrate can afford to refuse such a united demand.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Accept our condolences, Pittsburg. We know how it feels.

Surely the Conservative convention will not fire Hon. Hugh Guthrie during Fire Prevention Week.

Perhaps an unheralded William Jennings Bryan will sweep the delegates off their feet. Anyway, it will not be long now.

The clean sweep of the World's Series by New York is satisfactory in one respect in that it utterly confounds those who were sure that there would be another game for the sake of the Sunday gate.

The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition promises to be the meeting place for the whole community this week. It is a big event in aid of a splendid cause.

Fire Prevention Week should be made to mean something. Canada needs to be aroused to the necessity of reducing her annual fire loss.

LOCAL HOG MARKETS.

Live hogs, thick smooth, $9.50 per cwt.; select graded, $10.00; dressed hogs, head on, $17.00; head off, $18.00 per cwt.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., October 10 (Canadian Press). — There was no improvement in the foreign demand for Canadian grain here on Saturday, and exporters only worked a few loads of wheat.

Trading in cash grain in the local market was also of a somewhat limited character, but prices were fully maintained.

The movement of spring wheat grades of flour for local and export account continued fair, and values were steady. The trade in winter wheat flour was moderate and the undertone was firm.

The millfeed trade was active, and prices were unchanged. There was no change in rolled oats, but the undertone was steady.

The demand for fresh and storage grades of eggs continued good, and prices were maintained. The receipts on Saturday were 644 cases.

Extreme dullness marked the butter trade on Saturday, but the prices ruled steady. The receipts were 1,317 packages.

The spot trade in cheese was fair, but the foreign demand continued quiet. Prices were steady. The receipts were 4,563 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Ills., October 10 (Canadian Press). — With high-grade wheat in Winnipeg reported as commanding a premium of 3½c for immediate delivery, the wheat market developed an advancing tendency on Saturday. Further advices of rain and snow likely to impede Canadian threshing and to spoil the quality of wheat were at hand. Closing quotations here on wheat were from ½c to ⅝c net higher, corn was unchanged to ⅝c up, oats at ⅜c to ½c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

Liverpool quotations higher than due supplemented on Saturday in the Chicago wheat market the bullish effect of continued adverse weather reports from Canada and of failure of Canadian receipts to be as expected. Relative firmness at Liverpool was associated with predictions that the 1927 Australian wheat crop would show a yield of only about 128,000,000 bushels compared with 162,000,000 bushels last year. Besides the United States Government crops report to be issued on Monday was expected to indicate some curtailment of last month's official estimate of domestic spring production this season.

Signs of good milling demand for red winter wheat contributed to the general upward trend of wheat values. Purchases of red winter grades in Chicago this week were said to aggregate 500,000 bushels. Considerable notice, too, was taken of estimates that rains have rendered 8,000,000 bushels of wheat in Kansas unfit for milling, as well as causing delay to seeding operations so that there is now a possibility Kansas will have a smaller acreage of winter wheat than a year ago.

Corn bears were aggressive early, but found buying resistance unexpectedly brisk. Frost reports were ignored. More attention though was given to an official forecast of unwelcome rains next week.

Provisions showed firmness.

A Thought For To-day

THEN IT OCCURRED TO ME.

A young man was briskly walking down the street with his head up and his shoulders thrown back.

His rapid pace and his pleasant face attracted the attention of a little boy who looked to me say six or seven, and in less time than it takes to write this line, the little lad was in line following closely on the heels of that strong and sturdy leader.

The little lad began smiling and trying his best to walk and look like the leader.

Then it occurred to me that I had never seen a small boy trying to imitate a loafer.

That a wise idea is to keep the small boy in right society and remember this: You are an example when you walk and when you talk. The small boy looks to you for his stride, his smile and his stories.

Nearly one-fifth of the area of the United States still is covered be forests.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN TO BE ANNOUNCED

Hon. G. S. Henry Will Speak Over Radio To-morrow Night.

TORONTO, October 8.—It was stated in the Department of Highways at the Parliament Buildings, yesterday that before next week end all Ontario would be well acquainted with the methods to be adopted in the Provincial Safety Campaign. Some of these are to be quite spectacular so as to drive hometo every motor driver and pedestrian the fact that accidents are preventable.

The executive of the Highway Safety Committee held another meeting in the office of Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, and approved the features of the campaign. These are to be announced in detail by Hon. Mr. Henry, Wednesday evening when he is to speak over the radio. S. J. Dickson, Toronto Police Chief, who has just returned from the National Safety Congress in Chicago, will speak from a broadcasting station on Friday night.

Offers of co-operation came to the Committee from many sources yesterday. The Automobile Clubs of Hamilton and Niagara Falls wrote that they were already taking action with respect to defective brakes and glaring headlights and doing all they could to remedy these two menaces in their communities.

Arrangements were concluded for broadcasting safety messages from prominent citizens from Ottawa, London, Hamilton and Toronto. By next week the campaign will be in full swing and it is expected that accident prevention will be uppermost in the minds of Ontario People.

GOODYEAR and Your WALLS

PROBABLY Goodyear products played a part in producing the walls which surround you as you read this. For Goodyear Belts and Hose have been a mighty factor in the gypsum industry—the source of wall plaster.

Millions of dollars are invested in the mines and mining equipment which produce gypsum at widely scattered points throughout Canada. And there are three vital spots in every gypsum plant.

The air-drill hose which operates the mining tools.

The conveyor belts which carry the rock from process to process.

The transmission belts which drive the crushing machinery.

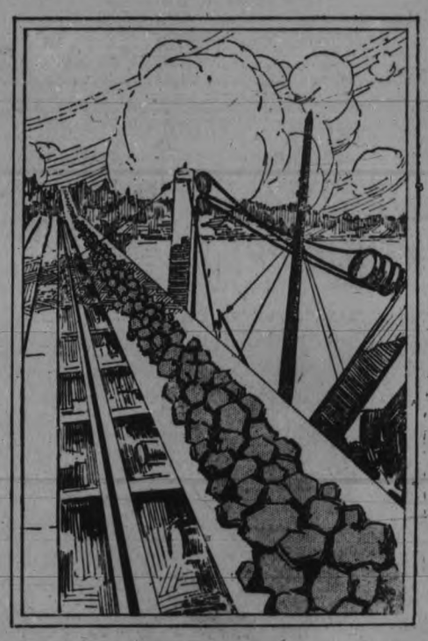
Failure at any one of these points means idle plants, delayed deliveries, higher costs.

No wonder "Goodyear" is usually specified. One producer's plant is equipped with 1¼ miles of Goodyear Conveyor Belting, ranging in width from 20 to 36 inches and costing upwards of $25,000. Another has just purchased a 54" Goodyear conveyor over 500 feet long.



Thus in the gypsum industry, as in so many others, Goodyear dominates.

Whatever your belt need, ask the nearest Goodyear Industrial Goods Dealer or Goodyear Branch, to send a man. SCOTT'S WIFE NOT SURPRISED

Husband Had Hinted Vaguely of Suicide, She Says.

BODY IN MORGUE.

CHICAGO, October 10 (Canadian Press).—In the morgue, where they had taken him, a simple eulogy was spoken over Russel Scott yesterday by the wife who had worked for three years to save him from a court sentence, "to be hanged by the neck until dead."

"Poor kid" were her only words for Scott, who took his own life by hanging in his jail cell on Saturday night. To her the suicide of Scott on the eve of a new effort by the State to send him to his death for the murder for a drug clerk in a hold-up three years ago, was not unexpected. He had hinted vaguely of self-destruction before, she said.

WIFE EVADES KIDNAPPERS

Efforts are being made in India to stop the abduction of Hindu wives by Mohammedans in the religious war between the two sects. Recently the nineteen-year-old wife of Nabib Chanra Nath of Kalikatala, Bombay, thwarted an attempt to kidnap her while her husband was away from home. While she and her two children were staying with mother-in-law, she was told by Rasanali Jourdas, described as a "good natured Mohammedan," of a plot to steal her and marry her to a Mohammedan. The woman hid in a neighbor's home, just before the Mohammedans raided her home. They set fire to a hay stack as revenge, then followed her to her hiding place, but she escaped and secreted herself in the home of a leading citizen of the village, who routed the pursuers and kept guard over her until her husband returned.

MADE-IN-CANADA FAIR IS OPENED

goods in other parts of the Empire.

"One of the worst things in this country is the drift from Canada to United States by many of our best youths. The old town became too quiet, and the youth gets out. What we need is to make our home towns more interesting. Service clubs like the Rotary and Kiwanis are doing a wonderful work, for they are composed of real live men.

"This exhibition can, without doubt, become the greatest advertising agent for Peterborough outside of the city. This city needs some advertising. You should not judge this exhibition from its financial success, but from its advertising and educational value," concluded the speaker.

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien conveyed the thanks of the gathering to Dr. Watters for his address. His Lordship suggested that there may be a good deal of truth in what Dr. Watters said, but in the case of this exhibition the financial end had to be considered, as funds were required for the needy children of the city. "Those at the head of this exhibition have a very high end in view, and I am sure it will be a financial success," he said.

Dr. J. J. Craig.

In a short speech, Dr. J. J. Craig, chairman of the exhibition, said that this year a bigger and better fair was being given. There will be programmes for young and old in which education will be featured. There will be ladies here from British Columbia and Quebec giving exhibitions of their arts.

"No one can look on the Fathers of Confederation and not get an inspiration and go away feeling that a great duty rests upon us as citizens of this Dominion," he said.

"We in Canada have barriers to surmount, and one of them is the French language. I believe everyone ought to be able to speak the two tongues ,for if we study our earlier history we will find that it is wrapped up in the doings of the French."

Andrew Brown, vice-president of the Rotary Club, in the unavoidable absence of President A. L. Killaly, conveyed the greetings of that club and hoped the exhibition would be a great success.

"You have a wonderful motto: 'We Build,' and I am sure the citizens of Peterborough feel that your club is a real asset to this community. The members of the Rotary Club are with you one hundred per cent. as far as your undertakings are concerned."

Miss Daisy Murray, in her able style, sang "Hi, Ho, Come to the Fair," which was received with tremendous applause.

The Johnston Sisters, of Toronto, delighted the audience with two numbers.

Those at the head table were His Lordship Bishop O'Brien, Mayor Holloway, A. Brown, I. P. McNabb, John I. Allen, John R. Marshall, Rev. Father Costello, Dr. J. J. Craig, Richard Lees, Rev. Father O'Brien, Rev. Father McAuley, Lt.-Col. W. Gordon Hall, V.D., Rev. J. D. Paterson, and Rev. Rural Dean O'Conor-Fenton.

The Ceremonial Opening.

The Rangers Band began the ceremony of opening the Made-in-Canada Exhibition, this afternoon, with God Save the King.

I. P. McNabb, president of the local Kiwanis Club, addressed a group of school children and a few adults at 2.15 this afternoon at the opening of the Made-in-Canada Exhibition. He thanked the people for last year's co-operation in making the Exhibition a success and said that as this was the one activity in which the club appealed to the public for funds, he would like them to again contribute to its work in this manner. There are two funds in the club and all money raised in this way goes to the trust fund used for child and kindred work.

His Worship Mayor Holloway was then introduced and received an ovation. He told his listeners that too much cannot be said for Kiwanis and Rotarian work and urged everyone to attend as often as possible that through thier co-operation, Peterborough would be widely advertised by its successful Exhibition.

Dr. J. J. Craig, chairman of the Produced in Canada Exhibition, and "the one who has done the most to make it successful," was introduced and spoke to the children.

Dr. Watters, general manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, was presented with a large key, lettered Peterborough, with which to formally open the Exhibition. He spoke brifely of the factors necessary to the success of an Exhibition and that all things at their inception being more or less important the people must patronize it and not criticize too severely. There are enormous possibilities for the Exhibition: It advertises Peterborough and thus indirectly benefits the individual, his property holdings, etc. Three cheers were given Dr. Watters.

After the Exhibition was formally declared open the band concluded the ceremony with "O Canada."

HOLY NAME MEN RENEW PLEDGES

Hold Annual Parade To St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday Afternoon.

SPLENDID SERMON.

There were nearly one thousand men and boys marching in the annual parade of the Holy Name Society, which took place yesterday afternoon, from Confederation Square to St. Peter's Cathedral, where special services were held and a sermon given by Rev Father Donnelly, C.SS.. From the three city parishes and from the surrounding districts the men came, from Lakefield, Norwood, Hastings, Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Grafton, Douro, Ennismore and Downeyville, to march in line to the Cathedral, headed by His Lordship Bishop O'Brien, Rev. P. Costello and Marshal H. Gainey. Over one hundred boys followed, marshalled by Messrs. J. Hanrahan, F. G. Young and T. Turcotte, and then the men.

At the Cathedral, singing of hymns was led by Rev. J. McAuley of Ennismore, who also led the men in the recitation of the Holy Name pledges. The sermon by Rev. Father Donnelly was based on the Blessed Sacrament, the reverend speaker outlining in detail the pre-figuration of the Sacrifice of the New Law in the ceremonies practised by the Jews in the Old Testament. The shadow and the substance of the Real Presence were illustrated in the differing modes of sacrifice under the two dispensations, the Blessed Sacrament being the fulfillment of the shadowy promise made to the Jews, when God walked among as a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night Although the Israelites could boast of the presence of the Almighty among them for forty years, and His feeding them by manna in the desert, they could not compare their sacrifice with the clean oblation of the New Law.

"Unless ye eat of the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, ye shall not have life everlasting," said Jesus. "He that eateth My flesh and drinketh My blood shall show forth the death of the Lord, until He come." This was the monument left by Christ to His own undying memory, the monument that He erected in the saying of the first Mass and its continuation through the ages of the world, "from the rising of the sun to the setting thereof."

Father Donnelly concluded with an admonition to his hearers to be loyal and faithful in their service to Christ and His Holy Name, and to show their appreciation of God's goodness to them by faithful attendance at His altar.

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien addressed the congregation briefly, adjuring them to revere the Sacred Name, to restrain angry passions which might lead to desecrations of it, and to refrain from unbecoming conversation

Led by Rev. Father McAuley, the men repeated after him the solemn promise of the Holy Name Society, and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was solemnized by His Lordship, assisted by Rev. J. J. O'Brien, Rev. Father Garvey, Rev. J. Guiry and Rev. James McGuire, of Douro.

Present in the Sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Monsignor Kelly of Cobourg, Rt. Rev. Monsignor McColl, of Lindsay, Rev. P. Costello, Rev. G. Maher, Rev. J. Finn, Rev. K. Corkery, Rev. Father Black, Rev. Father Carroll, Rev. C. Moloney and Rev. Wm. Meagher.

She Gained Weight With McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets

You remember of course—not so long ago she was a regular scarecrow—skinny is a mild word for the way she looked.

Just look at her now—if ever a woman had a perfect figure she has it—she is the envy of half the girls in town.

It's nothing to get excited about—all she did was to take on weight—filled out the hollows in face, neck and chest—any skinny, weak, run down woman can do the same and gain a clean, clear complexion at the same time.

McCoy takes all the risk — Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets or 2 one dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

BISHOP ADDRESSES WOMEN AT LIBRARY

Gives Informal Talk at Meeting of Women's Canadian Club.

An address that was quite out of the ordinary was delivered to the Women's Canadian Club on Saturday afternoon by the Right Reverend Sir John Taylor-Smith, D.D., K.C.B., Chaplain-General of the British forces in war time and at present touring Canada, speaking to the Anglican congregations of the Dominion, as well as addressing various service organizations and patriotic clubs. It was in the nature of an informal talk, and the audience of two hundred people who filled the auditorium of the Public Library almost to capacity listened with intense interest to the admonitions of the reverend speaker, whose address was colored with wisdom gleaned from much mingling with various types of people, a widely spiritual outlook and a dominating love of God. It is seldom that an audience has the privilege of hearing a man of this stamp. One of the beautiful voices of the world is possessed by Bishop Smith. It is a wonderfully modulated organ, with inflections that are rich and deep and mellow, replete with emotion and the power of influencing the hearts and minds of its hearers.

The speaker was introduced by the president, Miss S. A. Tomkins, and also by his host, Rev. J. D. Paterson. A vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address was moved by Miss A. Lancaster and seconded by Mrs. J. F. Allan.

He commenced his discourse by an allusion to the power of prayer. "In times of strain, we are better able to meet the difficulty because of our personal touch with Jesus Christ." Then he went on to refer to the brave boys who went from Canada to fight in the last Great War. "Do not think of them as dead," he said. "They are not dead. 'Death doth hide, but not divide. They are but hidden on Christ's other side.' Dwell on the gift that was made you when they were with you. Now the gift is in safe keeping and will be yours again when the great re-union takes place." The Bishop went on to speak of one soldier who referred to death in war time, fighting for liberty, as a "quick promotion," by which God had forgiven him "the intermediary service."

Then, reverting to another subject ,the reverend speaker asked the women of his audience to consecrate their talents, of whatever type, to the Lord. He spoke of the organist who made his music always a matter of prayer, and sent his congregation away, not "with Chinese firewooks a sort of glory be to the organ and glory be to myself" but with an emphasis in music on the keynote of the sermon of the day.

"You have greater power you women than you think. It has been said that the man is the head but the woman is the neck and she can turn the head in whatever way she chooses Whether as mother, or wife, or sister, as sweetheart or friend, woman exerts a very great power, and with this power a privilege and a tremendous responsibility"

Going on to speak of the Scriptural Abigail, described as "a woman of good understanding and a beautiful countenance," the speaker said: "We inherit our features, but our expression is our soul playing over those features. Sometimes you see a woman with beautifully chiselled features and the expression of a devil. And then you see the plain face of a Salvation Army lassie under a poke bonnet and note the halo about her face as she pleads for souls. There is nothing to equal the expression of a woman's face when the emotion of the heart is true and clean."

Again harking back to Biblical figures, allusion was made to the prayerful Rhoda and the companions who had prayed for Peter's deliverance and then were unable to believe in the truth of it, when it transpired. "Many people are like that. They pray, but won't believe that the answer to prayer may come immediately, instead of in future years. There are so many parents who refuse to believe in the early conversion of a child. But when this happens, as it so often does, it leaves no roots for bitterness in after years. I attribute to the grace of God and the intercession of a holy mother my own knowledge of the Lord before I was twelve years of age.

"Women were brave companions of Christ during His earthly pilgrimage. They were the last at the cross and the first at the tomb. Every good man believes in his mother. And you younger women, when you are trying to help a man in spiritual ways and he tells you to 'shut up,' don't 'shut up' at all. Go right ahead. For I will tell you a secret: Every word that a woman says to a man is cherished and thought over and talked over and repeated. Ah! the influence of women. The neck to the head."

The Bishop went on to tell his hearers the story of the woman, the wife of a laborer in Convent Garden Market, who wished so much for children that she was willing to almost sacrifice her life in a difficult operation that was necessary to bring the longed-for child into the world, and said: "You women who will not be bothered with children and who think that you are preserving your figures and your looks. You are doing neither. Your faces will become hard as the years go by, for there is nothing more softening and beautifying in the world than the influence on a woman of maternal emotions."

To teach their children the facts of life in the proper manner, instead of letting them learn through bitter experience, was another admonition of the reverend speaker, adjuring them to make their boys and girls "clean in lips and look, in life and limb," to "work in this way for God and the Empire," closing with the wish that "God may prosper you more and more."

RESIGNATION OF GUNDY IS ASKED

Border Cities Star Says Public Opinion Demands His Retirement.

POSITION IMPOSSIBLE.

WINDSOR, Oct. 10.—Pointing out that more than 200 arrests of blind piggers gamblers and their patrons have been made since the exposure of vice at the Border was made, The Border Cities Star in an editorial declares that public opinion demands the resignation of Magistrate William E. Gundy of Windsor.

"Can any person who believes in law enforcement picture what conditions were like here on Sept. 1, just two months after the Liquor Control Act came into being," the editorial says in part.

"Can any believer in law and order contemplate without consternation, what would have been the result had such conditions been allowed to continue for another year?

"Can any intelligent man or woman imagine a police force, inefficient though it might be, allowing the citizens, whom it is supposed to protect, to become absolutely surrounded by law-breakers and the worst kind of thugs and not do the utmost to protect them? It is so amazing that it is almost unbelievable.

"Can any intelligent man or woman, knowing of the existence of such rotten conditions, believe that Magistrate Gundy, Chairman of the Windsor Police Commission, and Chief of Police Daniel Thompson could not be aware that such rottenness did exist?

"What did Gundy do to correct conditions here; conditions that were rotten and conditions that he knew were rotten?

"Is it any wonder, then that there is a widespread feeling—a feeling. The Star believes— that represents 80 per cent of public opinion—that resignation is the only proper course for Judge Gundy. His position seems an impossible one, if the people are to have their confidence in law and order restored."

LADIES' AID HEARS REPORT ON TENT

St. James' Ladies Very Successful in Effort at Fair.

On Thursday afternoon, the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. James' United Church entertained in the spacious church parlors, which was prettily decorated with autumn flowers. Twenty members of the Ladies' Aid Society, including all the ladies who helped in any way to make successful the recent dining tent maintained by the society at the Peterborough Exhibition, with their forty or fifty helpers, were present The president, Mrs. A. Wilson, was in the chair, and Rev. Mr. Buckler led in prayer. The reports of the secretary, Mrs. F. B. Elliott, and the treasurer, Mrs. H. Fry, were heard, giving an account of the business and monies handled during the Fair. The reports, which showed a very successful effort, were received with a hearty hand-clap. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. W. Sargent expressed the appreciation of the society to all who had helped in any way, and Rev. Mr. Buckler, in a few well chosen words, also thanked the ladies.

Two beautiful vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. H. F. Doig, with accompaniments by Miss Eileen Rose. A social hour followed, with service of dainty refreshments, those in charge being Mesdames F. Pratt, (convenor), W. Sargent, J. Bannon, Stenton, J. O. Fife, Beatty, H. Fry, F. B. Elliott.

AIR MAIL ROUTES BEING CONSIDERED

Hon. Mr. Veniot Watching Experiments of Private Interests.

EDMONTON, Oct., 10 (Canadian Press).—The development of air mail routes across the Western Provinces was discussed here by the Hon. P. F. Veniot, Postmaster-General of Canada. He told the Canadian Press that the Government was watching with great interest experiments in aerial transportation now being conducted by various private enterprises, such as the Northern Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba mining concerns and others and that the results achieved would probably form the basis for Governmental action.

'Y' GIRLS HOLD CONFERENCE

Spend Week End at Mrs. Macdonald's Chemong Park Cottage.

INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS.

The Weed-end Conference of 'Y' Girls of the city was attended by sixteen young ladies of the various classes, and was held at Mrs. George Macdonald's cottage at Chemong Park, kindly loaned for the occasion. The programme for Saturday evening included an interesting ceremony, "The Call of Camp," illustrated by various young ladies who have been at camp, the Misses Eva Outram, Verda Graham, Ina Terrace, and L. Brownscombe The Conference theme was "Road Makers" and "Road Farers," in a consideration of the early history of the 'Y' and the responsibility devolving on present members to make good roads for others. A singsong and programme of stunts followed.

The Sunday morning programme was composed of Devotional exercises, Bible Study entitled "The Man Nobody Knows," with discussion of the purpose of the Y.W.C.A. In the afternoon, a quiet hour was followed by a hike through the woods and afternoon tea, the girls leaving for home at four o'clock.

AGED MAN DIES WHILE WORKING

Nathaniel Penrose Succumbs To Heart Failure on Street.

Nathaniel Penrose, aged 79, was stricken with heart failure while on the seat of his waggon on Sherbrooke Street shortly before noon today, and died in a few moments.

Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch was summoned, but the deceased was dead before he arrived. Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young declared the cause of death as heart failure.

One son and one daughter survive, Mrs. Thomas Tweedy of Toronto and George Arthur, of this city.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m., from the home of his son, 215 King Street, with Adjt. Buntin in charge.

Ten Thousand Dollars!
~by a stroke of the pen.

ONE month ago James McKay was vaguely hoping, as he had been for years, that somehow, sometime, he would "strike it rich"—but beginning to wonder, with a growing disquiet, if he ever would.

He had managed to save a few dollars each year—but his progress toward the financial independence he dreamed of was discouragingly slow.

* * * *

And then, one day, by a stroke of the pen, he took the uncertainty out of his future—eliminated the "ifs" and "buts" from his dreams.

He decided to take a $10,000 North American Life Endowment Policy.

By doing so he made certain that, when he retires, he will have the snug sum of $10,000 plus the generous profits paid by the North American Life on such policies. By the same policy he created an estate of $10,000 for his wife and kiddies, payable to them if he should die.

The moderate yearly payments he makes on his policy are really an interesting method of saving money in a sure and profitable investment.

Have you done anything definite to make certain of your future financial independence—to protect your family against the possible loss of your income?

Investigation of the North American Life Endowment Policy will show you how easily you too can solve the vital financial problems of the future "by a stroke of the pen." Send the coupon to-day.

Please send me full particulars about your Endowment Plans.

CUPID USES FIREWOOD

When Cupid hits the mark with his arrows in Formosa, the victim then uses firewood to proclaim his intentions, according to E. H. Benson of the British consular service, in a recent report to the Royal Geographical Society. "Marriage among the Tsalisen Paiwans," he said, "is a matter of individual choice and not of family arrangement. After taking steps to acquaint the woman, through a third party, what his intentions are, the suitor takes a bundle of firewood by night and leaves it outside the door of the house where she lives. If the bundle is taken inside the house, it is a sign that he may continue his suit; if left 'in situ' it is an indication that his advances are rejected. Eventually, if all goes well, he is one evening invited to enter, and such an invitation is held to constitute a binding engagement."

SAINT and SINNER

That Friday evening, when Cherry was to have her first "date" with Bruce Patton, teacher of dancing by correspondence and new tenant of the small office in Bob's suite, Bob came home to dinner in the most cheerful mood he had worn for days.

"Hello, Dame Lisa," Bob said, with a tender jest in his voice, as one of his hands tucked in a lock of brown hair that had strayed across her damp forehead. "Surprise! Guess what?"

"Klein likes your sketches of the new fur store?" Faith glowed.

"You're clairvoyant," Bob grinned at her, his hands resting fondly on her shoulders as he stood behind her, watching her deft management of the thickening sauce. "Klein is delighted. I've got his 'go ahead,' and I thought it was only decent to celebrate to-night. I've got tickets for 'Naughty Nancy,' the musical comedy—'direct from a year on Broadway'," he quoted, with a chuckle.

"Oh, Bob!" Faith hastily set the thickened sauce into the warming oven and faced him, tragedy in her eyes. "I've promised to take care of Hope to-night, so Cherry can go out. Didn't she tell you? She's dressing now, I suppose——"

"No, she didn't have the nerve to tell me, I imagine," Bob said grimly, tenderness wiped from his lips and eyes as if by a blight. "No need to ask who the man is. That damned, prancing——"

"Yes, it's Bruce Patton," Faith said dully, the joy as dead in her heart as the moment which had produced it.

"Faith!" Joy shrilled from the dining-room, where she was setting the table. "Are we going to have a spoon dessert or a fork dessert? And will we need the salad forks?"

"Salad forks and cake forks," Faith called out automatically. "Listen, Bob, I'm as sorry as I can be, but I had no idea you would plan a party for us for this evening. I'm awfully tired anyway——"

"Been slaving for Cherry all afternoon, I suppose," Bob cut in angrily. "You're always too tired when I want you to go somewhere with me. Damn it all, I want a wife who can sweetheart for an evening, once in a while——"

"Bob, that's not fair," Faith interrupted quietly, only the darkening flush on her cheeks betraying her anger I'm entirely fooled."

"Nor I!" Faith astounded herself ny flashing back at him. "You are not half so angry about my not being able to go with you as you are about Cherry's date with Bruce Patton. Why are you so jealous of everyone that Cherry goes with, Bob?" In spite of her anger her voice broke on a wild note of appeal.

Bob whirled to face her from the door. "Jealous!" he echoed scornfully. But his very vehemence was like a merciless hand closing about her heart.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY AND POSSUM PINKTOES.

(Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Wait for me! Hi, there, wait for me! Don't run away!"

At first Uncle Wiggily thought some one was calling these words after him as he hopped along the path that led to the forest. The rabbit gentleman hoped to have adventures in the woods. But as he turned around to see who was shouting, he saw a little boy animal, covered with fur, and dragging after him a long, thin tail.

"Wait for me! Hi, there, please wait for me!" begged this furry chap.

"Oh, did you want to come adventuring with me, Possum Pinktoes?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he noticed, now, who the little animal boy was.

The Rabbit and little Possum traveled on together.

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily, but I meant for Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow to wait for me," answered Possum. "They run on so fast, and I guess—I think—Oh, dear ——"

Possum Pinktoes began speaking more and more slowly. He was no longer running now but walking very lazily, and when he saw a soft little nest in the grass he began to curl up within it. At the same time Uncle Wiggily saw the two doggie boys, who were farther along on the path. Jackie gave a laughing bark and said:

"We can't wait for you, Possum. You're too slow! You're always going to sleep! You better wait for Johnnie Poke, the mud turtle, or Tootie Crawl, the snail. They're the ones for you to have fun with, not with us!"

But Possum Pinktoes did not hear all this, for he was curled up in a little ball on the soft grass and was fast asleep. Jackie and Peetie ran on to have fun.

"It's too bad they didn't wait for Possum," murmured Mr. Longears.

A little later Possum Pinktoes opened one eye and looked at the rabbit gentleman. Then Possum uncurled and said:

"Oh, I don't mind so very much. All the other boys run away and leave me because I stop and go to sleep so much. It isn't only Jackie and Peetie."

"Why do you sleep so much?" asked Uncle Wiggily. Just then Dr. Possum, who was quite a lively old gentleman, came along with his bag of powders and pills slung on his tail, and Mr. Longears asked: "Can't you give Pinktoes something to keep him awake?"

"Oh, no," answered Dr. Possum with a smile. "You see it is the right thing for little Possum boys to learn how to curl up very often and pretend to be dead by closing their eyes and sleeping. That is the only way they escape being eaten by Wolves or Foxes. When I was young I used to curl up and play dead half the time. Of course, I was only sleeping just as Pinktoes was now."

"Oh, so that's the reason for it, is it?" asked the rabbit. "Well, I'm glad I know. Then I won't blame Pinktoes," and he smiled at the little Possum boy whose toes were faintly pink, which gave him his name. "Do you want to come adventuring with me?" asked Uncle Wiggily. And when Possum Pinktoes said he did, and when Dr. Possum had trotted on to give Mr Twistytail, the fat pig, some powders for indigestion, the rabbit gentleman and little boy Possum traveled on together.

"When shall we have an adventure, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Pinktoes.

"I don't know," answered the rabbit. "I never can tell."

"Well, I can tell," whispered Pinktoes, "we are going to have one right away quick soon!"

"Why do you think so?" asked the bunny. "Because," whispered Possum Pinktoes, "I see the Wolf coming up the hill after us."

"Oh, then we had better run!" cried the rabbit.

"We haven't time," said Pinktoes. "Quick! Do as I do!"

In an instant Possum curled himself up and made himself as limp as if he were dead. And Uncle Wiggily, guessing at the trick Pinktoes was playing, did the same. The rabbit and little Possum boy were stretched out side by side, as slimpsy as dishrags. Up ran the Wolf.

"Ah, there's Uncle Wiggily!" he snarled. "And a fat Possum, too!"

But when the Wolf pawed the rabbit and Pinktoes about, and they never opened their eyes, and hardly breathed, and seemed so dead and limp, the Wolf growled:

"Who am I that I should nibble these? I don't like dead food! I want to kill it myself to be sure it is fresh! Bah! A dead rabbit and a dead Possum Pinktoes! I must look somewhere else!" And away he ran.

And of course as soon as the Wolf was gone, up sprang Uncle Wiggily and the Possum boy as good as ever, laughing at the trick they had played. For it is by that trick that Possums, who are not strong enough to fight Wolves, often escape from the savage creatures.

"A jolly adventure, that!" cried Mr. Longears as he hopped along.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Color that is bright but in good taste is displayed in this French frock of bottle green velvet with tiny printed design in brighter green, worn with a pink crepe georgette vest.

Some women I know have a deep-rooted fondness for bright colors. Some of these color lovers are content just to have patches of bright rich colors in the decorations of their rooms, or brilliant flowers blooming in their gardens; but with others the color cravings is not satisfied short of wearing vividly colored clothes.

There are women whose spirits are always depressed when they wear dull, dark, neutral colors. One girl I know assures me that when she goes to a dance in a frock of black or white or a pale pastel tone she actually lacks dance partners, but in vivid green or bright rose color or flaming orange she is the "belle of the ball."

If you happen to be one of these women who like to wear bright colors, I say by all means wear them. After all, it is a harmless enough desire, and harmless desires in adults as well as in children ought not to be repressed.

This is an excellent season to give rein to your color cravings. Not since ante-bellum days have colors been so lovely or so much in fashions. There are blues, clear and luminous like the tones of a sapphire, enticing greens of the emerald range, reds like rubies, garnets, burgundy and port!

Colored stones have to some extent usurped the place of pearls and brilliants in jewelry—and the woman who really loves color finds positive joy in wearing a fire-opal ring, a sapphire brooch, an emerald pendant or ruby earrings.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. William Whittun, Miss MacDonald, St. Catherines, and Howard Wood, Toronto, motored to town to spend the week-end with their parents. Miss MacDonald is spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. McKelvie.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of Ottawa are spending the week-end end with Mr. Smith's mother and sister, Booth Street.

The services in Christ Church yesterday were conducted by Rev. Canon Broughall, rector of Grace Church-in-the-Hill, Toronto. It is an interesting fact to recall that the canon was one of the clergymen officiating at the wedding of Rev. N Clarke Wallace, rector of Christ Church here. The Rev. Mr. Wallace is at present on his honeymoon overseas.

The reach between power houses No. 10 and 11 was drained yesterday in order to do some maintenance work to the pump intake for the town water supply.

The Harvest tea in the Parish Hall tonight will no doubt be as popular an event as any that was ever held in connection with church affairs. The program will be exceptionally entertaining, and will begin at exactly eight o'clock.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1927.

Conflicting planetary influences may be strong today, according to astrology, which finds benefic aspects dominant.

Women will be energetic and ambitious under this sway, the seers declare, but they may encounter certain economic obstacles.

This is read as an unusually happy wedding day, since it presages prosperity and association with persons of prominence.

There is a good sign for first meetings between persons of opposite sex and romance will affect persons of all ages, it is foretold.

Increase in the number of marriages will be substantial in the coming winter when the divorce record, also, will show rising figures.

There is promise of success today through new enterprises. It is held a lucky time for opening shops or forming new partnerships.

For all who have achieved success added prosperity is foretold and there will be added impetus to immense expansions of business interest especially in public utilities.

All the signs presage added demands for oil and its by-products and the winter is likely to show rises in price, astrologers forecast.

There is a direction of the stars indicating solid progress in place of daring experiments in aviation.

Criticism of public men may be prevalent later in the autumn and it is well for persons in the Sun to be cautious.

The death of a leader in women's work is foretold and it will precede the rise to prominence of a man who directs voters who are wives and mothers.

A negro is to attain prominence in the national campaign of 1928, the seers prophesy.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a fairly fortunate year in which they may encounter more or less jealousy.

Children born on this day may be highly gifted, but too independent to succeed easily. Many subjects of this sign love adventure in every form.

OMEMEE UNITED W.M.S. IS BUSY

Much Business Is Transacted at Regular Meeting of Branch.

OMEMEE, Oct. 10.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, of Trinity United Church, was held on Thursday afternoon, in the Sunday school room. There were twenty-six ladies present. The opening exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Rowland. Reports from the secretary and treasurer followed.

Mesdames Lamb, Poast, and Bushnell offered short prayers for the several missionaries who leave shortly, under United Church auspices, to labor in the foreign fields.

The devotional leaflet, entitled "Who is sufficient for these things?" was in charge of Mrs. L. Mahood.

Misses N. Rutherford and L. Parsons and short papers in reference to the new study-book.

The secretary, Mrs. E. Bradburn, read a communication from Mrs. H. Robb, of Norland, expressing thanks for the bale of clothing and quilts, sent from the society, also the parcel of Christmas gifts from the Mission Band, to be distributed to the needy in that district.

The ladies were reminded that the crates of fruit for the Deaconess' Home and Fred Victor Mission, Toronto, are not yet completed, and anyone wishing to contribute a jar may yet have an opportunity to do so.

The W. M. S. thankoffering is to be held on Sunday evening, October 16, when the Rev. J. E. Todd, of George Street Church, Peterborough, will deliver the message. The boys and girls of the Mission Band have consented to render a chorus at this service. Thankoffering envelopes will be distributed by Mrs. J. Shield and Mrs. J. Widdiss, and these will be lifted by two members of the society, Mrs. D. Weir and Mrs. R. H. Williamson.

The next missionary Sunday in the Sunday School will be looked after by Miss L. Parsons.

After hearing several opinions regarding the new study-book, "New Paths for Old Purposes," it was decided to continue its use.

The resignation of Mrs. T. C. Ivory, who has been treasurer of the society for a lengthy term of years, was received with regret and kind expression of Mrs. Ivory's faithfulness and her untiring efforts to this duty, even during illness, was made mention of by the president. The assistant treasurer, Mrs. J. Shield, kindly consented to fill the vacancy.

A splendid report of the systematic giving was given by the treasurer, Miss Eva Race.

The date for the annual bazaar was fixed for Thursday, November 24, and the appointment of the various committees for the several booths took a considerable length of time.

Following the singing of a hymn, Mrs. Rowland closed the meeting with prayer, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. Foast and Mrs. L. Mahood.

SPRINKLING CLOTHES

A cheap whisk broom should be kept for sprinkling clothes. It saves time effort and does a much more even job than hand-sprinkling.

DRYING STOCKINGS

Stockings should be hung by the toes for drying, in order to prevent their being pulled out of shape. Light shades should be dried in the shade.

CLEAN BOARDS

To keep pastry boards, rolling pins and kitchen table tops sweet and clean, cleanes weekly with lemon and allow to dry in the sun.

CREAMING BUTTER

To cream butter for sauce or a cake, use a perforated spoon instead of a fork or your hand. It speeds the process and does a better job.

You will notice a film on your child's teeth. That's a frequent danger sign—an invitation for tooth and gum troubles. The same stubborn film that you can feel by running your tongue across your own teeth. You must combat it. Ordinary dentifrices don't fight it successfully.

Film is the greatest enemy of tooth health. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it and imperil both teeth and gums. The acid that leads to early decay forms. Old-type methods failed to combat it. Men of science undertook to discover an effective combatant.

Now in Pepsodent, two new combatants are embodied—combatants approved by highest dental authority. It curdles the film, gently removes it; then firms the gums. It keeps the teeth whiter, cleaner, more sparkling. It is the modern scientific method for better tooth protection. Insist upon it. Get a tube today. Mail the coupon.

We both aim at *PERSONAL Service

Prompt and reliable telephone service is what you most want.

That's where you put the emphasis most of the time.

And that's where we put it!

But service means more than that to you; as it does to us.

You want close, helpful attention to your personal needs when you call or visit the Business Office.

You want your bills to show clearly what you are charged for.

You want the installer or repair man who visits your premises to do his work quickly, and with as little inconvenience to you as possible.

These and other details you want well handled.

And on these, we, too, put emphasis.

What we are trying to do is to bring the best efforts of a capable workman to bear on every feature of your service—to put ourselves at your personal disposal in your every contact with this company.

TALKING RAVEN DRAWS CROWDS

People From Many Countries See Bird at London Zoo.

ALL LIKE ANIMALS

LONDON, Oct. 10 (By Canadian Press).—"You're a rascal." "See here, friend, it's not usual for an American to be insulted by a stranger."

"I insult you, monsieur? Ah! No! No! I 'ave nevere speak to you."

While the American sailor in the white cap was threatening to pulverize the bearded young Parisien if he said it again, a mocking voice from a cage repeated, "You're a rascal."

"That bird is positively dangerous," said the American sailor, squeezing the Frenchman's hand apologetically. "Why don't they put up a sign. 'This bird talks'."

All summer visitors have been flocking into London from the corners of the earth, and, it seems eventually every one finds his, or her, or its way to the London zoo.

Not only America and France, but Germany, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Newfoundland and South Africa were represented in the stream of visitors who heard the talking raven.

A German school-boy was noticed trying to teach an Australian parrot to sing the first line of the British National Anthem in the language of the Fatherland—"Gett wahre unser gnadiger konig . . ." But the bird with a bored appearance just closed its eyes and looked as if it would have preferred it in Cockney.

A Dutchman and a Belgian were seriously discussing in broken English the phenomenom of the Zebra's stripes. "Tell me, meinheer, since I vas a leedle poy I all the time vondered if the zebra was a vide animal wid black strikes, or a black animal wid vide stripes? Vot you tink?"

The un-English element in their midst seem to excite the lions and tigers strangely. The sight of many Canadians wearing straw hats made Daisy, the leopard, more highly strung than ever. A South African farmer was watching Daisy. "This is a wonderful animal," he remarked. "I just looked at it and its yellow eyes turned green."

Middle-west Americans seemed surprised that nothing happened when they said "Vodka!" to the Russian bear.

CORNS

Ends pain at once

No waiting—one minute after you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads the pain is gone. After the corn is healed it never comes back. If new shoes irritate the spot again, a Zino-pad fixes it overnight. Old methods of paring corns, or using caustic acids, are dangerous.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads are safe, antiseptic, protective, healing. They stop the cause of corns—rubbing and pressing of shoes. At all druggists and shoe dealers. Cost but a trifle.

THEATRE EXITS SATISFACTORY

Minor Faults in Campbellford Play House Corrected at Once.

INSPECTOR'S VISIT.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 10. — J. McNamara, provincial inspector of theatres, paid an official visit to town on Friday and Saturday, October 7 and 8. When interviewed the inspector stated that the Regent Theatre complied in every detail with the requirements of the Act. The means of exit and egress have received special attention, and the inspector was well satisfied with the provision made in the interests of the protection of the public. There were, howeevr, two minor details with which he found fault, and these have already been altered to meet the requirements.

The Department, Mr. McNamara states, is very strict in enforcing each and every detail of the Act, and no leniency will be shown anyone guilty of an offence against it. The complete protection of the public is its first consideration. He further stated that since a recent disaster in the East, the theatre managements had constantly improved their buildings, thus making the accident risk an almost negligible quantity.

MARKS TROUPE DRAWS WELL

All Three Performances at Campbellford Are Well Attended.

MANY TURNED AWAY.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 10. — During their three-day engagement at the Regent, Arlie Marks and her players, under the direction of L. E. Perrin, met with a brand of success not always easily obtainable by road shows. The prestige which the name Marks enjoys with local theatre-goers was no doubt responsible for the audience that attended "Saints and Sinners," their first-night offering. But it was the high-grade, modern, clean-cut dramas which brought the company to the point of popularity where many anxious patrons were turned from the door. This was actually the state of affairs when "She" was advertised for the Saturday night attraction. Throughout the entire three evening entertainments and the Saturday afternoon matinee, the company proved themselves one of the best balanced troupes that has ever visited town. In "Saints and Sinners," Thursday evening, Arlie Marks was the star player. "Dancing Youth," played the following evening, gave the leading roles to Agnes M. Stutz and A. J. Perrin, with the others not far behind. Saturday afternoon was Children's Day, and the variety program of short turns and encores was one of the snappiest and certainly the cleanest that this town has enjoyed in years. And yet it was not a juvenile performance. The few parents who accompanied their children were equally well pleased with the program.

When the box office opened for the final appearance, Saturday night, a long list of last-minute ticket buyers stood waiting, but many of them were doomed to disappointment. The house was sold out in a very few minutes and the extra seating accommodation provided was soon filled. When the curtain rose on "She," not a vacant seat was left in the house.

"She" is a play requiring few characters, but these few must be of the very best. It is a story which is not doubt founded on fact and contains more than a mere smattering of truth. Frederick Lyle, as Tim Mayo, plays the leading and heaviest part. Lyle is an experienced actor whose stage life would read like a fairy tale. It has taken him on the stages of the leading theatres of both United States and Canada. Millicent Ward, who plays opposite him in "She," is also possessed of a wide stage experience. Her interpretation of the role of an indecent woman, dope fiend and black mailer, is exceptionally good, and one as only a really accomplished actress could do it.

The general outline of the plot of "She" is quickly told. Tim Mayo, once an Irish immigrant, has fought and struggled up the ladder of success till he is the man whom the people of the State will nominate for Senator for the next government. His campaign manager is an ex-pugilist, who he once helped when the boxer was down and out. The play opens with a scene in the campaign office of Tim Mayo, at his own residence. He has just come in from the street and the crowd are shouting for a speech.

It would appear that two ladies are expected to arrive at the apartment. They have announced their arrival by telegram, but the secretary makes an error in reading it to the manager, and the ladies arrive while he is making mental calculations regarding their disposal. It would appear that his downfall was directly engineered by a woman and he has cherished a violent dislike for them ever since. The ladies arrive, take the situation in their own hands and leave the manager lost in wonder at their nerve. The secretary informs him that they are Mayo's daughter and her guardian. It is a terrible shock to the boxer and to Mayo, who has not seen his daughter since her mother deserted them fifteen years before. He has managed to keep her abroad with her guardian, a mutual friend, in order to make her forget her mother and enjoy the ease which he has never been able to have for himself.

In the natural trend of time, the night for the nomination arrives and in the early evening, an old enemy who is a crooked gambler and Mayo's adversary at every turn, forces his way into Mayo's office, and tries to buy him off. But he is unsuccessful till he produces a lady—Mrs. Mayo. She has been absent for fifteen years. The press once reported her dead. It was only a trick to throw him off the trail. A young physician having taken a momentary fancy to her, gave her name to an unknown woman who was dying in one of the hospitals and the scheme worked.

Now, out of money, losing her physical attraction, a dope fiend and mistress to men of every country in Europe, she returns to ruin him just at the moment when the success of his dreams is within his grasp. Rather than have any publicity which will allow his daughter to know that her mother is still alive and a most disreputable person, Mayo agrees not to stand nomination. It is a pretty trick and would have worked wonderfully well had it not been for the secretary. He, it appears, is a secret service man from New York, where the gambler is wanted for grand larceny and also another major crime. The crook's attempt to bluff will not work. But the trouble arises when the campaign manager sees Mrs. Mayo. She is the woman who ruined him and he would kill her but for her husband's interference.

The arrest of the blackmailing crook leaves Mayo once more open for the nomination for the Senate. But there is his wife. He is more at sea than ever. In a fit of temper, her dope-laden heart plays tricks with her. In desperation she takes an overdose. It rallies her for a few moments, and she is the same sweet woman he knew fifteen years earlier. But it is too late; the years of life outside the human law have told on her. The nerve strain is too much for her resistance to withstand She collapses, begs once again to be allowed to see her daughter, whom she has been told is in the apartment, is refused the boon, and dies without even a glimpse of the girl, her own daughter, who is as innocent as her mother is guilty.

The part of "She" is the most difficult of the entire play, but Millicent Ward does it perfectly. It is a most unusual scene with which to end a play, but one which will be remembered just that much longer.

MILLBROOK FAIR

cially remarked. The fancy bedspread which won the special prize by Warne Brothers, of Peterborough, (one dozei tea spoons), had blue birds and baskets of flowers as its design, and the luncheon set, in the special class, which carried off the prize of a silver plate by Schneider Brothers, Peterborough, had a combination of dainty colors in floral pattern.

Under the heading of arts and crafts there were not only paintings in oil, water colors, and crayon, but also basketry, pyrography, wood carving, and hand-painted china. The Women's Institute had a separate section for its exhibit, members of the Institute who are also members of the Agricultural Society being eligible to make entries. Fancy work, baking, canned fruit, pickles and flowers made up the classes which were all well filled.

On the domestic science tables there was a toothsome array of home-made bread, white, brown and fruit; layer cakes, pies of several varieties, roast fowl, dressed fowl, salads moulded in many forms, and plates of candy that were especially inviting. One fruit cake recalled Confederation year with its figures 1867-1927 done in gold on white icing; the pickles, relishes, preserved and canned fruits were evidently of superior quality.

H. R. Armstrong had his exhibit of orthophonic victrolas and Singer sewing machines housed in the main building, the former providing music that was an attractive feature; out of doors there was a display of this season's cars, the Star being in charge of Lorne Giddy of Port Hope; the Chrysler from the Gillespie Garage, Peterborough, while Tinney Brothers of Cavanville had Whippet fours and sixes, and Chevrolet in various designs.

The classes in horses were all well filled, the quality of the animals shown being always an outstanding feature at this Fair. Judging took place in the ring roped off from the large central green in front of the grandstand. Among exhibitors this year were: J. Whittington, R. J. McKnight, F. Lowery, T. W. McCamus, E. Armstrong, R. McCamus, R. O. Ball, W. Hall, John Martin (Hope), H. Bryans, H. A. Fallis, W. W. Kennedy, N. Fee (Omemee), Moncrief Brothers, H. Gardiner (Omemee), G. Ward (Peterborough), W. Boyd and W. S. Milligan (Orono). Dr. Shaver and Percy Boggs, both of Toronto, judged the light horses, etc.

The showing of cattle was considered as particularly fine, exhibitors including: T. W. McCamus, J. Bragg (Bowmanville), and R. Matchett for Shorthorns; Jerseys: S. S. Staples, G. Bent (Omemee), J. McMillan, O. McGill; Holsteins, H. Seymour; Polled Angus, W. W. Kennedy.

Tamworths and Yorkshires were the only two classes in which swine were shown, owners being S. Snowden and Sons, of Bowmanville, and T. W. McCamus. Among those exhibiting sheep were W. R. Robins of Hampton, Elmhurst Brothers of Indian River, S. S. Staples, Norman Allen of Newcastle, Highfield Sheep Farm, Hampton (J. W. Balson and Sons), and D. Armstrong.

The poultry building was taxed to accommodate the entries, many valuable fowl being shown, and a number of exhibits having to be left in the crates owing to lack of pens. Some who wished to exhibit were not able to obtain space and it was evident that the Fair officials will have to consider doubling the capacity of this building by another season. The judge, W. Whyte, of Kingston, expressed himself as being well pleased with the showing this year, and remarked upon the improvement over that of the previous year. Included among the exhibitors were: F. W. Tamblyn of Orono, F. Head of Peterborough, H. P. White of Peterborough; J. W. Gilroy of Crawford's Grove, C A. Chapman of Orono, A. Wilson of Perrytown, G. Buller and R. M. Brown of Peterborough.

There were seven contestants for the special prize for the best pen of poultry, consisting of one cockerel and four pullets, the T. Eaton Co. giving a handsome silver cup and seven dollars in cash as a 'sweepstakes' in this instance. A. Wilson of Perrytown was awarded the prize after a keen competition.

The Horse Races.

Two races, a free-for-all, and a 2.40 class were carried out in the speeding in the ring, the judges being J. Hickson and F. C. Nugent of Lindsay; J. F. McMillan of Cobourg, timer; J. B. Bragg, of Lindsay, starter, and T. H. Collins, clerk.

In the Free-for-all the winners were: 1, Armandale, owned by A. Johnston, Peterborough; 2, Lu Gratan, owned by Charles Schooley, Peterborough; 3, Alfred Elk, owned by J. Akey, Peterborough.

The time for the four heats was: 2.22½, 2.25¼, 2.31¼, 2.20½.

In the 2.30 class :1, Eleanor May (J. Akey, Peterboro); Hal Direct (E. W. Jones, Peterboro), Eva Patch (E. Powell, Peterboro); Arley Patch (W. Gray, Millbrook; the last two to divide the money. Time: 2.30¼, 2.31½, 2.37¾, 2.30¼.

A purse of $100 was offered for each race.

The concert given on Friday night under the auspices of the Agricultural Society, and the dance in the Armouries which began at 9 o'clock, with Moncrief's orchestra providing the music, were both well attended and netted about $300. The Brunswick Trio who furnished the programme at the town hall, were so well liked they have been engaged to give the entertainment here again on the night of the winter fair.

OMEMEE MAN TAKES OWN LIFE

Robert Boyd Drowns Himself in Well Near His Home.

HAD BEEN WORRIED.

OMEMEE, Oct. 10. — Robert Boyd, an elderly farmer living on the edge of the village, drowned himself about one o'clock this morning in a well in a wood near his home. He had been worried about a new house he was having built in the village, although he was not in financial difficulties, having just sold his farm. The body was found by Mrs. Boyd.

Mr. Boyd got up this morning and left the house after telling his wife he was going to the barn. She tried to dissuade him but could not. When he failed to return she became alarmed and called Dr. Earle. After a short search the Doctor went to get help, and while he was away Mrs. Boyd discovered the body.

Mr. Boyd was highly respected in the district. He was an elder of Trinity United Church. Besides his widow two daughters survive, Mrs. J. Windrim and Mrs. Chester Best, both of Emily township. Other relatives are two brothers, Thomas of Toronto, and Joseph of Mount Pleasant, and three sisters, Mrs. J. Mitchell of Omemee, Mrs. Robert Hayes of Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. J. Shea of Fleetwood.

RESENTED USE OF CAR.

EAST BRIDGEWATER, Mass. Oct. 8.—Charles Bashian's brother will never use his car again. Charles objected to the borrowing, but it did no good. So he took an axe and smashed the expensive sedan into a mass of ruins.

Hamilton Team Outfields Petes Whose Errors Cost Hardill Game.

By IVAN MILLER.

SCOTT PARK, Hamilton, Oct. 10.—Before a crowd of over five thousand wildly enthusiastic fans, Peterborough Seniors went down to defeat in the second game of the finals for the O.B.A.A. championship at the hands of the Oskies here on Saturday afternoon. The final score was 4 to 3. It was the second time that Peterborough won their way into the Provincial Senior Finals only to lose to a Hamilton team, and Saturday's game was different from the crucial game of the series in 1920 because of the breaks that interfered with a stirring struggle and saw both teams score unearned runs.

The Petes held the advantage of one run from the fourth inning on, Jim Hall's drive to left going for three bases when Languay fell in going after it. This was turned into a run and gave the Oskies a bad break, but the latter got theirs in the eighth when Jim Hall dropped a high fly from Elford's bat to allow the winning run to score after Broadbent and Scott had hit in succession for the tying run.

Hardill pitched a great game and deserved a better fate. All of his mates' four errors counted heavily in the scoring and he had every bit as much of the game as Bert Gibb, who went the route for Oskies. The Petes got a one run start off Gibb who opened shakily, and they scored another in the second but they were unable to stop Oskies belated rush that carried a winning punch with it.

Holyman played a beautiful game at short and was the visitors' outstanding defensive cog, while Swanston, Jim Hall, and Holyman grabbed a pair of hits apiece. Languay was the only Hamilton player to get more than one bingle. Scott turned in a pretty game in the field, however, and the Oskies held together in better fashion throughout.

First Innings.

Gibbs' second pitch hit Rose, and he was deadheaded. Boyd took Johnston's bunt and tossed badly to second, making two men safe. Swanston's attempted sacrifice was turned into a forced out, Gibb to Scott. Hardill got a scratch hit to Elford, filling the bases. Ash rapped to Scott, who nailed Johnston at the plate, but Swanston scored and Hardill and Ash landed on second and third when Boyd threw badly to first trying for a double play. Harrison was out, Gibb to Elford, on an easy chance.

One run, one hit, two errors.

Oskies—Runion was out when Hardill knocked down a hot shot and threw him out. Sullivan out to Jim Hall on a nice running catch across the left field line. Languay scratched a hit to deep short and went out stealing, Rose making a pretty tag.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Innings

Peterborough.—Jim Hall led off with a hard double to right centre. His brother grounded to Sullivan, Jim making the red light corner. Hall tallied on Holyman's short single to centre. Rose laid down a neat sacrifice, putting Holyman on second. The latter was almost doubled when he rounded the middle sack too far. Johnston fanned. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Oskies.—Jim Hall was under Broadbent's aerial effort. Gibb punched a single past Johnston and went to second on a wild pitch. Holyman threw out Scott, Gibb taking third. Rose fell after fielding Pilgrim's roller and the drive went for a hit, Gibb scoring. Pilgrim promptly stole second. Rose threw out Elford. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Third Innings

Peterborough. — Swanston singled over Sullivan's head. Hardill suicided to Runion. Ash hit into a double play, Gibb to Sullivan to Elford. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Oskies.—Boyd drew a base on balls, the first of the game, Boyd stole second as Runion fanned and the former kept going to third when Swanston heaved poorly, the ball rolling to centre field. After the squeeze play had failed through a foul. Sullivan struck out, swinging. Languay singled sharply through short, scoring Boyd with the tying run. Languay stole second on the first pitch. Broadbent got a life on Johnston's boot, Languay moving to third. Broadbent stole second without opposition, Gibb lifted to centre. One run, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning

Peterborough. — Harrison popped to Sullivan. Jim Hall lifted a three-base hit over Languay's head, the latter falling after misjudging the ball. The other member of the Hall family lifted a sacrifice fly to centre to score his brother. Holyman singled to left. Scott took Rose's effort. One run, 2 hits, no errors.

Oskies.—Scott went out via the Holyman to Harrison combine for the second time. Pilgrim fouled high to Harrison. Elford was passed; he stole second. Elford went to third on a short pass ball, Boyd walked and the Pete's held a conference in front of the plate. Boyd stole second with Hardill watching him. Holyman tossed out Runion.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Innings.

Peterboro—Elford disposed of Johnston without moving. Swanston beat out a roller to deep short. Batten ran for Swanston. Languay captured Hardill's drive. Broadbent to Sullivan on a forced out got Batten on Ash's roller.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Oskies—Sullivan rifled a single past Hardill's head. Sullivan went to second to Languay's perfect sacrifice. Broadbent skied to centre. Hardill threw out Gibb. Harrison made a nice pick up of a low throw.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Innings.

Peterboro—Scott to Elford got Harrison, a neat play. Jim Hall fanned on three pitched balls. Jack Hall singled over second. Scott threw out Holyman.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Oskies—Scott lifted to Ash in right centre. Hardill tossed out Pilgrim. Jim Hall came in fast to snare Elford's skier. It was another nice running catch for the Petes' left fielder.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Innings.

Peterboro—Rose lifted the first pitched ball to right for one base. Johnston looked at the third strike. Swanston forced Rose at second, Gibb to Broadbent. Elford took Hardill's high pop.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Oskies—The crowd stood up at the start of the Oskies' half of the lucky seventh. Boyd walked for the third successive time. Runion sacrificed. Sullivan was safe and Boyd went to third when Johnston booted the Oskie second baseman's sharply hit ball. Sullivan stole second. Languay struck out, swinging hard. On a passed ball, Boyd tried to score, and was out, Swanston to Hardill. No runs, no hits, one error.

Eighth Innings.

Peterboro—Ash rolled to the box. Harrison died when Languay made a nice running catch in left centre. Jim Hall struck out again.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Oskies—Broadbent lifted a hit over short. He went to second without any delay. Gibb fanned. Scott rapped the boards in deep left centre with a long double, Broadbent scoring the tying run easily. The big crowd went wild. Scott moved to third while Holyman was throwing out Pilgrim. Scott scored when Jim Hall dropped a towering lift from Elford's bat in deep left. The run broke the 3-3 tie. Boyd struck out.

Two runs, two hits, one error.

Ninth Innings.

Peterboro—Sullivan retired Jack Hall, unassisted. Heckman batted for Holyman. He fanned. Rose bounded to Scott.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sports Day Held At Military College

PORT CHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 10 (Canadian Press)—Albert "Whitey" Michelson, of Stamford Conn., running unattached, won the marathon race of 26 miles and 385 yards from the Bronx to this city Saturday. His time was two hours 31 minutes and 11 seconds.

F. Ward, of Dover, N.J., was second, finishing in 2.37. Francis O'Donnell, of Mayes Landing, N.J., and Clarence DeMar, Melrose, Mass., finished third and fourth respectively, the former in 2.38.35 and the latter in 2.41.21.

WREST HONORS FROM MONTREAL

The Ottawa Senators Break Through For Long Gains To Win 4-2.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10 (Canadian Press).—Breaking through for long gains when the need was greatest, the Ottawa Senators showed just enough of their championship form to wrest the honors from the Montreal squad, 4 to 2, in the lone Inter-provincial Rugby Union battle waged at the M.A.A.A. gridiron Saturday afternoon. As a result of the triumph, the team from the Capital is perched at the top of the Big Four race, at Montreal is relegated deeper into the cellar.

Montreal took an early lead when, playing against the wind for the first quarter, they threw Tubman over the Ottawa goal line in the first three minutes, following a bad snap by Chevrier. They held the advantage for the remainder of the quarter and with the wind in their favor starting the second period were in a fair position. It was then Ottawa flashed a championship spurt. Holding the ball on their two-yard line, Ottawa averted danger when Charlie Lynch faked smartly and broke through centre for a 30-yard gain. An end run, in which Bert McInenly skirted the wings, sent Montreal to its 45. Lynch again slipped through for 20 yards. A shift play put Ottawa in place for a drop. Tubman's effort went to touch-in-goal for a point.

In the third period, Montreal fought doggedly. Pean Bennett caught a short punt from Brother Johnny's toe, while offside. Montreal were left in a bad spot with Ottawa in possession 25 yards out. But Tubman's drop hit the post, the ball caroming back and striking the Ottawa wings, who were offside. Fate had saved the Wheelers for a time, but Ottawa pressed through the air and held the Wheelers to a defensive game. It looked like a break for Montreal when Tubman caught a punt at centre and started to run sideways to avoid Pean Bennett's tackle. Bennett went for the Ottawa half. There was a scramble and the ball went loose, Bear picked it up and had a clear road to the Ottawa goal line. But Referee Reg. DeGruchy's whistle went and Ottawa was given the ball on Montreal's 25. DeGruchy claimed Bennett had slugged Tubman's. He sent the Montreal flying wing to the penalty bench. Tubman booted for the tying point.

Montreal turned over with the wind in their favor and the score tied to start the last period. But Ottawa immediately took command. Captain Booth was sent out to punt for Johnny Bennett. With a sore right knee, Booth was kicking too low and far for his wings. Tubman ran Booth's first punt back 20 yards. Harry Kehoe, substitute half, who replaced the injured Bert McInenly, cut through left middle to take play from centre to Montreal's 25, and Tubman had no trouble booting for the point which gave Ottawa the lead.

Montreal relied on kicking with the wind to tie the score. Booth sent a low one. Kehoe fumbled it, but had no one with 20 yards of him. He recovered the ball and raced 60 yards from his own 25, while Montreal tacklers stood dumbfounded, not one in half a dozen taking a dive at him as he weaved his way to the Wheelers' backfield men before being halted. Montreal's line held after being crabbed back to the eight-yard mark and Lynch's drop went for a single point, leaving Ottawa two points up, which they held until the final whistle.

THISTLE THREE MASSEYS TWO; IN CHARITY CUP

At Half-Time the "Jags" Were Leading Two Goals to One.

VERY POOR GAME

Hanson Equalized—Illegal Tactics Not Beneficial—Cameron Won Tussle.

Ideal weather prevailed on Saturday afternoon for the Phelan Charity soccer game between the Thistle and the Masseys at King Edward Park, when the former won by three goals to two, in one of the most disgraceful fiascos that ever happened on soccer field 1 nthe city since the writer's connection of fifteen years. No matter what may be the personal opinion of participants, it is the duty of the local legislators to act so that such antics may never happen again and have "a clean sport" or drop the game altogether.

First Half

The Masseys could only place eight men on the field of play and the opposing team allowed them to make their full quota, so that it would make the game more interesting. In the early stages, the Masseys dominated the play, but a break-away by Lang on the extreme right transferred the ball to the other end where he centred perfectly into goal; Laidler cleared quickly, then the Thistle left wing worked combination that finally let Cameron punt into the net from twenty yards out. A few minutes later, Lang tested Fowler with a wicked low grounder that the goal-keeper saved with an accurate clearance. During the remainder of this half, it required the cautionary methods of the referee to prevent illegal tactics being practiced and he never let any of the players get away with anything not according to the code. Ten minutes before the interval, Dawson accepted a timely pass into centre where he connected with his right foot to divert the ball through the custodian's outstretched arm, who could not see the ball coming toward him, that went into the net. The play was interspersed with dangerous raids by the Masseys and Hanson, on the left, had the satisfaction of seeing his clever play being finished by Bromley, who scored against his own team.

Half time: Thistle 2, Masseys 1.

Half Time

After the customary respite, the Thistle faced the falling sun rays, and were in difficulties in the early part of the second half, through the very forceful manner in which the Masseys controlled the ball. At the conclusion of a hard fifteen minutes battle they succeeded in scoring when Fowler, now up in the forward line, unconsciously took the ball in his arms and threw it into the net. The referee did not notice the play and consulted the linesmen, who enabled him to adjudge a foul-kick. Exchanges were even thereafter, with each team travelling at a fast rate from goal to goal that finally brought success to the Masseys when Hanson equalized with a shot that Millar had no chance to stop. At this point of the game a fiasco took place on the field of play that proved a disgrace to the game and many fans left disgusted. It would be of no advantage to record the incident. Five minutes before the end, the Thistle won the encounter when Cameron scored with a low grounder, Thistle 3, Masseys 2.

Goal scorers—Thistle: Cameron 2, and Dawson. Masseys: Harrison and Bromley (Thistle) through his own goal.

Masseys.—Fenner, goal; Buchan and Laidler, backs; T. McPhate, W. Logan and Beggs, halves; Anderson, G. Logan, Fowler, Nicholson and Hanson, forwards.

Thistle.—Millar, goal; McLeod and McKenzie, backs; Tait, Turner and Bromley, halves; Lang, Griffin, Dawson, Cameron, and T. McPhate, forward.

Referee.—Alex. McKinley.

PITCHERS LEAD PETES AT BAT WITH FINE MARK

Heckman and Hardill Both Use Willow to Advantage.

SEVEN .300 HITTERS

Swanston Hit Safely in Every League Game of Year.

In the nine games played by the Petes since they began the series with Oshawa at the end of August seven of the eleven have batted over the .300 mark and the list is headed by the Petes' pitchers. Al. Heckman who got into every game, several times as a pinch hitter, hung up the neat average of .500 against the Oshawa, St. George's and Hamilton pitchers, while Jeff Hardill was not far behind with the fine mark of .474. Max Swanston had the distinction of making at least one hit in every league game this season and only failed in one game to score a run, leading the team in run getting. Jimmy Hall was out of one fixture but hit safely in the other eight for the nice total of .389. Fred Ash had the honor of making the most safe hits.

The pitching records show that all the games won by the Petes are credited to Al. Heckman while the four losses stand in the name of Hardill despite the fact that three of these games were beautifully pitched by the youngster. The form shown by Hardill in his last three performances in the box was such as to win him an offer from the Toronto Leafs and to attract the attention of several Western Ontario towns whose baseball clubs are looking for pitching talent.

The batting averages follow:

	G	AB	R	H	PC
Heckman	9	24	7	12	.500
Hardill	6	19	3	9	.474
Ash	8	36	10	14	.389
Jim Hall	8	34	4	13	.382
Harrison	8	30	7	11	.367
Rose	8	36	4	13	.361
Swanston	9	41	12	13	.317
Jack Hall	9	29	4	8	.276
Holyman	9	36	6	8	.222
Batten	5	15	1	3	.200

ROOKIE DETECTIVE LOSES OWN CASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—With a diploma in his pocket, a shiny tin star under his coat and the lessons from a correspondence course for detectives still fresh in his mind, John Miller, 38, arrived in New York. He had come to find some cases so he could practice his new profession.

Within a block of the station, he met a man who looked honest and they dropped into a "place." Pretty soon John's memory left him. So did his acquaintance and John's worldly wealth of $98.

For two days he spurned the police and did his own detecting. Finally he went to headquarters and gave them the serial numbers of his one, two and five-dollar bills. Said he: "I guess you won't have any trouble catching that crook now."

"Whitey" Mickelson Wins Marathon Race

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 10 (Canadian Press)—The sports at the R.M.C. on Saturday drew a big crowd. The day was ideal and the contests keen. The high lights were the pole vault, won by Cadet McAvity, St. John, N.B., at 10 feet 3 inches.

Company Sergeant Thrasher took the high jump at 5 feet 4 inches. The obstacle race for recruits was lively spectable with a variety of barrage to be overcome. Cadet Don White, Montreal, came through first.

The college trophy, a bugle, was won by Sergeant G. W. Smith, Toronto. At three previous meets he won the bugle, it became his, hence he did not desire to be regarded as in the contest and the trophy went to his runner-up, Cadet McAvity.

power stations and paralyzing communications.

The earth shocks occurred when all the Vienna theatres were crowded with the huge Saturday night audiences. The lights failed, and the people fled in terror in the ensuing darkness, with some minor casualties.

A touch of humor was added to the otherwise grim happenings when a Hungarian tenor named Pataky was making his debut at the opera house. He believed that the precipitate flight of the audience was due to disgust over his singing, and he retired ignominously behind the curtain, only to learn that the city had been visited by an earthquake.

Damages Seismograph

The first shock was so violent that it threw both the horizontal and vertical hands of the seismograph of the Vienna Central Meteorological Observatory out of the grooves, making it impossible to determine even the approximate point of origin of the earthquake. The director of the observatory believed that the epicentre of the quake was not far distant from Vienna.

Austria of late has been visited by a series of floods and earth shocks, and in July, 1926, a serious earthquake shook Styria, Lower Austria, causing heavy damage to numerous towns, about the same time that advices from Upper Austria told of great damage by floods.

The entire principality of Lichtenstein, bordering on Austria and Switzerland, one of the smallest principalities in the world, was almost obliterated on September 26 by what was described as the mightiest inundation the country had known.

LEAMINGTON BEATS DELORO 3-1 IN INTERMEDIATE FINAL GAME WHEN JACK HAS ONE BAD INNING

Western Ontario Finalists Hold Three-Run Lead Against Deloro Attacks.

PITCHERS' BATTLE

Last Year's Champions Outhit New Titleholders and Miss Good Chances.

LEAMINGTON, Oct. 10.—(Special to the Examiner)—In the most thrilling game seen at Leamington this season, a pitchers' battle for the intermediate championship of Ontario, Deloro suffered defeat, 3 to 2, on Saturay, by virtue of one bad inning. A win by the Leamington squad at Deloro last Tuesday was the other of the two victories necessary to capture the provincial title. When Cascadden came through with a single in the first inning to score two of his mates he added the finishing touches to a three run attack which netted the only two runs pushed across by the Pickle Town gang.

Only in the initial frame did Vaughn Jack, on the mound for Deloro, weaken sufficiently to allow Leamington to score. Two walks and an error by Carl Woods on an easy chance filled the bases in the opening inning with but one away. Earl Taylor delivered a single which should have scored a pair of runs but Russello was caught at home on a throw relayed from Brown to the plate by Woods. Then Cascadden, seventeen-year-old outfielder, dumped a single into centre on which a pair of runners scored.

In only one other inning did the Picklemen threaten to tally against the masterly pitching of Vaughn Jack. In the fourth two successive singles put Taylor and Cascadden on bases with none away. A sacrifice advanced them to second and third, but Malott popped to centre and Hillman was thrown out by Regan to close the innings.

Deloro gathered their only runs in the fourth and sixth cantos. In the fourth a walk and a stolen base put Art Quinn on second with none out. Jack fanned, but Regan picked a high ball and sliced it into left field for a double, Quinn pattering across the pentagon for Deloro's first run. Regan stole third and was in a good position to score but Boudreau struck out and Hillman threw out Woods on a close play.

Art Quinn opened the sixth with a triple to right field which went through Taylor at second and almost to the line of automobiles encircling the field. He scored on Jack's roller to Clifford which the Leamington third baseman mussed up. It went for a hit. No further scoring resulted in the inning, for Regan fanned, Bond flied to centre, and Hughes struck out.

Deloro got a tough break in the third when a run seemed imminent. Boudreau doubled and went to third on Woods' infield out. He attempted to score on a wild pitch by Hillman but it was retrieved by Hewer in time for Hillman to touch Boudreau sliding in to the plate. Jimmy Quinn got around to third on a hit, a wild throw to first, and a wild pitch by Hillman. But the inning closed when Brown popped to Hewer.

In the ninth Leamington fans were on their toes, with Bill Ralp pinch-hitting for Carl Woods. Two were out and Bill had missed two of Hillman's offering, leaving only one strike between the Picklemen and the Ontario title. On his third strike Ralph doubled to right but died on second when Jimmy Quinn rolled out to third base.

Art Quinn with a triple and a single and Regan with a double and a one play safety were the heavy hitters for the visiting squad. Woods looked good with six accepted chances at short stop. Taylor and Cascadden were the only Picklemen to gather more than a single swat each. Each delivered a pair of singles.

Hillman's brilliant pitching to strike out eleven batters was marred by two wild pitches. Vaughn Jack was really fully as effective, allowing two less hits, though he issued three passes to first.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

WHAT MAKES A TOWN

I've been away now quite a spell,
I've seen and heard and learned a lot,
And yet the things I've learned so well
Are not about some distant spot.
No, strange to say, that isn't what
A fellow learns when fellows roam;
For I have learned that I have got
A darned good town, a dandy home.

The more the splendor that I see,
The pavements wide, the buildings tall,
The more the thought comes home to me
They're mighty little, after all,
Unless there's someone you can call
By name, there's someone that you know,
The castle is a lonely hell
And riches but an empty show.

For, after all, the finest place
Is not the place that's only grand,
But where you meet a friendly face
And where you clasp a friendly hand.
I've traveled sea and traveled land,
And learned a lesson while I roam:
I've come at last to understand
What makes a town, what makes a home.

KILLS WHITE DUCK.

BROOKFIELD, Mo., Oct. 8.—Frank Rogers went out to get some duck for dinner. He was standing in the blinds watching a flock come in and when they settled he noticed that the leader was snow white. Never having seen or heard of a white mallard he thought his eyes were playing pranks upon him. But he pulled up and shot with the result that an albino duck is now being stuffed for presentation to the local Elks' club.

WHITE MEN MURDERED.

SUVA, Fiji Islands, October 10 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's).—It is reported that His Majesty's sloop Veronica, of the New Zealand Division of the Royal Navy, is sailing for the British Solomon Islands in connection with the reported massacre of two British officials and other white people by the Solomon Island natives.

According to a wireless despatch received by the British High Commissioner for the Western Pacific from Tulagi, the seat of the Government in the islands, a trader who had arrived there aboard the British steamer Auk, reported that District Commissioner Bell, Cadet Lillies, fifteen native police, and the crew of the vessel had been murdered by the natives at Sinarago, on the northwest coast of Malaita. The date of the massacre was not given.

The despatch further stated that the boatswain of the Auk and four wounded policemen were the only survivors.

PILE SUFFERERS.

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting often fails?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEMROID, now sold by McDermid & Jury, McDermid Drug Store and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, quick and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. FRANK McCOY

"The Fast Way to Health"

©1926 McCOY HEALTH SERVICE - LOS ANGELES - CAL.

CURING EPILEPSY THROUGH DIETING.

Almost all "falling fits" may be classed under the name of epilepsy. Outside of those caused from accidents, the majority of cases are caused by a definite intestinal toxemia to which certain people are especially susceptible. The cure depends upon keeping the colon thoroughly clean so that this toxemia will be eliminated, and afterwards keeping the intestines clean so no further trouble develops.

In order to get the quickest results, it is advisable at the start to take a fruit fast for two or three weeks. Only one of the acid fruits may be used, or a different one used each day. With this disease, as with many others, the orange or grapefruit seems to be the best fruit to use to assist in producing the greatest elimination of toxins. Sometimes the spells increase in number during the first few days of the fast and then abruptly disappear, while in some cases the seizures stop at once, as soon as the fast is started.

I recently met a child at one of my lectures who had been completely cured by a two weeks' grapefruit fast. She had had as many as twenty-five spells a day for over two years, but has not had a single one since starting the eliminative treatment with the fast.

Two or three enemas should be used daily all during the fast, and at least one each day for a month or two after starting on the regular diet regimen. The diet following the fast needs to be well balanced, but with a complete elimination of carbohydrates for several months. The good combinations which I advise in this column should be used, leaving out those meals where starches are suggested, and substituting a meal of fruit or non-starchy vegetables.

The enemas will guarantee a clean colon until such time as it seems wise to wait for the bowels to move normally. This should not be attempted for at least a month or two after the fast.

If the patient has been taking luminal, bromides, nitro-glycerin, chlorin, or other sedative or depressing drugs, such treatment must be discontinued at the start of the fasting treatment, or no good results can be expected. While these drugs are excellent in warding off attacks and have proved a great relief to sufferers from epilepsy, their action seems to interfere with a real cure through dieting.

Treatment by manual manipulation of the bowels will prove helpful in stimulating peristaltic action, and will assist in intestinal elimination. A prolapsed or kinked colon should be corrected by suitable physiotherapy treatment. Otherwise, it will be necessary to continue the enemas indefinitely.

If you have been a sufferer from epilepsy, I suggest that you follow the advice I have given in yesterday's and to-day's articles; or, cut them out and hand to any friend who needs help.

Questions and Answers.

Question.—Mrs. K. S. asks: "Will you please tell me what I can do for my nose, as no matter how much cream or powder I put on it, it is always red as a beet at the point?"

Answer.—A red nose is an evidence of intoxication, either from the over-use of alcoholic stimulants or from dietetic errors which produce auto-intoxication. The latter is the most common cause of red noses, and even our most sincere prohibitionists often carry around red, shiny noses that, in the old days, we used to think could be acquired only by the "town drunkard."

Question.—C. W. S. asks: "What is the cause of sweating feet, and what is the cause?"

Answer.—The feet sweat more than most parts of the body because they are enclosed in the leathery covering of shoes. This holds in the heat and produces the excessive sweating. Those who are too much troubled with sweating feet should be careful to change their socks at least once daily, and take also two sponge or shower baths daily to cleanse the skin all over the body and keep the pores clean and the sweat glands more active in other parts besides the feet. It is also a good plan to have several pairs of shoes so that any one pair is not used more than once or twice weekly. Do nothing to stop the feet from sweating, but keep them as clean as possible.

MOND STARTS PROFIT SHARING

Employees Given Opportunity To Buy Shares in Companies.

OTHERS INTERESTED.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(United Press.)—Sir Alfred Mond has given a lead to British industrialists by his scheme of welfare profit-sharing systems, which will benefit the 40,000 employees of the Imperial Chemical Industries. The scheme provides for the workers becoming shareholders and also for a central labor department which will be under the direction of Henry Mond, Sir Alfred's son. There will also be a works council of which Sir Alfred will be chairman, and there will be greater opportunities given for promotion. The workers will be able to purchase shares at two shillings and six pence below the market price and free shares will be given in proportion to the workers' wages and the amount of shares purchased.

Other industrialists are watching the experiment with great interest and the newspapers comment upon it as a new departure which may have far reaching results in restoring peace and efficiency to industry.

Canadian Marconi shares continue to rise, reaching seven shillings three pence, a rise of six pence in one day.

LIFE OF LORD NELSON

Triumph of Moving Picture Art

Approved by the British Admiralty who actively assisted in its production, and acclaimed enthusiastically by naval authorities here, such as Commander Hose, R.N., and President Sam Harris of the Navy League, a British picture entitled "Nelson," which should convince the Peterborough public finally that Britain can produce pictures as good as the best, is now showing at the Capitol.

Nelson is probably the most vivid and dramatic personality in the pages of British history. Certainly he is the outstanding naval hero, and it is around his life that this epic of the greatest era of the British navy has been constructed.

The characterization of Nelson by Mr. Cedric Hardwicke is one which will live in the minds of all who see the picture. The frail physique, the indomitable spirit and courage, the intense human sympathy, the simple piety of the man are all traced by Mr. Hardwicke with marvellous understanding and clearness.

Linked by this characterization, a succession of thrilling naval incidents in which he played the leading part have been filmed, leading up to the spectacular climax of Trafalgar. The battle scenes with the huge wooden vessels locked in titanic struggles are packed with amazingly vivid episodes of the fighting.

Over all the triumph hangs the shadow of the death of the victor and the way in which the emotions of poignant grief and tremendous joy have been shown in an outstanding illustration of intelligent production.

The spirit of England in those anxious times when only her wooden walls stood between her and disaster, and the spirit of the men who fought in them, come to life on the screen.

The settings also have been carefully chosen. In the filming of the picture three of the old vessels, the "Victory," the "Implacable" and the "Foudroyant" were used by permission of the British Admiralty.

Nor has the domestic and romantic side of Nelson been neglected. His unhappy married life, and his meeting and love for the brilliant Lady Hamilton softly illuminate the background of his strenuous life. Altogether it is a picture which marks a new era in British film introduction. The "New Era" incidentally is the name of the corporation which has made the production.

"THE MONKEY TALKS"—A NOVEL MYSTERY THAT THRILLS.

Mystery—intriguing and tingling.
Drama—tense and breathless.

Such are the ingredients of Fox Films pictorial version of the sensational mystery play, "The Monkey Talks, which is now showing at the Regent Theatre.

Every element of motion picture entertainment is crammed into this picture. The roles are characterized by well known screen favorites. Olive Borden is cast in the leading role, with Don Alvarado, Jane Winton, Raymond Hitchcock, Malcolm Waite and August Tollaire featured.

Jacques Lerner, who holds the distinction of being the world's most celebrated portrayal of animals, journeyed from Paris to create for the screen the role of Jocko, the talking monkey. Mr. Lerner originated the role in the stage play and won such outstanding success that Fox Films signed him for the same role in the films.

Raoul Walsh, whose last directoral effort, "What Price Glory," is storming the world, directed "The Monkey Talks."

TRUE STORIES about LIFE INSURANCE as told by a REPRESENTATIVE of the MUTUAL LIFE

She Failed to Dissuade Him

ONE pleasant summer evening I was discussing Mutual Life Insurance with a farmer, seated under a tree in front of his house. The farmer's wife kept coming to the door to call him.

She was averse, he told me, to his taking insurance, having other and, in her opinion, more pressing uses for the money.

Fortunately, his own better judgment prevailed. Two years later, he died of pneumonia, leaving his widow with a mortgaged farm, several small boys and a fair-sized Policy in The Mutual Life of Canada.

That Mutual Policy was the anchor which saved the farm and kept the family from drifting apart. By its aid, she was able to keep the farm and educate the boys.

Let a Mutual Agent show you how to safeguard your family's interests.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is the meteor of the tennis universe. A poetical, queerly spiritual girl is Mary, despite her physical prowess. She has grown up with tennis balls. Her mother died sewing them for a living. Her spirit lives on in Mary. Mary becomes acquainted with Wally Mason, a young reporter. Wally and Mary have much in common. Mary keeps house for her brothers, David and Robert. David, the family support, hopes Mary will get safely married; but Mary disbelieves in love. She loves life. Wally takes her for a night ride.

CHAPTER III—Continued

"What are you telling, me, Wally?" Mary was so deliciously sleepy. The breeze rumpled her skirt, and lifted her hair, and caressed the lobe of the ear that wasn't pressed against Wally's sleeve. Well-being filled her as comfort fills the well-fed tabby at the side of the fire. She cushioned her head against the brown leather of the car and flew with the stars. There was no earth, no long green roadster, no Wally. Just her gold-tipped wings. Elaine, the lily-maid of Astolat flying with the stars in a green roadster. With Lancelot? No. Not Lancelot. Lancelot was home, astride his broomstick, stalking a dignified Patch. Then Wally brought her to earth.

"Mary, I love you, dear," he said.

The little green car flew on, with the stars keeping pace above and the wind singing against the motor. It was difficult to hear when words were spoken to the blackness of the silence ahead. What she had heard could not possibly be what Wally

"I consider it only fair to tell you that I intend to kiss you."

said. In the first place, granting she had heard aright, it was ridiculous—that statement, at one's second meeting. No. It could not be that. And again, young men do not tell young women of their love against a throbbing motor, with mouths grim and chins straight ahead. And Wally's arm, against which her cheek was nestled, was taut. It could not be that. But he had spoken. Had said something. Mary turned her face to him and smiled. Brightly. Meaning agreement to these vague words he had spoken. "Yes?" her glance said.

The green car drew up in the inky dark at the side of the road and settled down with a gasp. There was a somewhat weary fence, Mary could see, and then the vagueness of innumerable trees, planted in rows, with thin young branches gnarled toward the heavens. An orchard, doubtlessly. She rose in the car, and straightened her rumpled skirt, and then sank back again, with a smile for Wally. He had turned toward her, and was watching her, one arm across the seat of the car behind her shoulders, and the other resting on the steering wheel.

"Well?" he said. Did it mean so little to her then, that she could rise, and straighten the folds of her skirt, and sink back again with that bright vague smile for him? Was she prepared to ignore his declaration to save him pain? Dolores.—

"Elaine, dear." He called her their play name.

"Wally." Her sweet little face with the misty green eyes turned upward toward him.

He grew whimsical. Her fondness for this tow-headed youth increased when his smile was wry, and his eyes narrowed.

"It isn't of much interest to you, I 'spose, dear. But the fact remains that it was said—and maidens have been known to show some interest in the statement heretofore."

Quite suddenly there was no place upon which to rest her eyes, and she was thankful for the black of the night that enfolded him. She had heard aright that first time. He had said that he loved her. Her heart thudded once, with a queer resounding beat, as it had been lifted and then dropped into place again. Wally loved her. Well! Well, well! What did one usually respond to a statement like that? Did one say, "thank-you very much?" It was stupid, sitting there with her hands clasped tightly together, and the presence of Wally beside her, waiting. What did one say? Oh this was unbearable. Aeons has sped by since he had spoken. It was ridiculous. He expected something.

"I—" she cleared her throat. "I —" and could say no more. Knew not what to say, indeed. You didn't thank him. That would be facetious. Like a coy young lady in a play or a book. She turned toward him, and in a very low voice, responded, troubled, "I don't know what to say, Wally."

"Response enough, Dolores." He lifted his hand to her hair, and brushed the straight silken strands away from her face, holding it behind her ear. He regarded her gravely. Her small face that looked up at him, with the eyes that he could not see—albeit he knew that the mists swam in them—the wistfulness of a child that is bewildered by the strange forces in the dark, emanated from her.

"You don't love me, Elaine?"

"I—no, Wally." The direct thrust carried with it a wound, but one more quickly healed because of its directness.

"Not now, Elaine. You are wonderful. The stars follow you, you say. How can they help it? I, being just a man, am not the marvel that you are, sweet. Why should you care for me now? It is stupid of me to expect it. Some day, however. Some day, Elaine—when you have known men—and discover that I am no better than most—"

"Wally." She placed her hand over his, where it tightened on her shoulder, and was impatient with herself for the desire to comfort him. Why did she wish to take his head in her arms, and murmur soothing phrases?

"It's all right, sweet. Don't let anything bother you. I'll be sticking round for some time yet, did you know that?—and knowing it, does it hand you a thrill?"

She pressed his fingers with her own. Wally had reverted again, and though the absence of the pressure relieved her a bit, this light-heartedness carried with it even more poignancy, revealing as it did the sombre depths he endeavored to hide. His light manner was as a gauze curtain through which one could peer and see, ever present, the emotion, the feeling that mattered, that his flippancy could not hide.

A star fell into the black of the fields at their right, with a swooning grace that faintly lit the path through which it sped.

Wally's voice came to her again as something apart from the blur that was he at her side. His grasp on her shoulders tightened. "I consider it only fair to tell you, you ravishing red-head you with the hair of a mediaeval page—I consider it only fair to tell you that, with your desire or no—I intend to kiss you. Hard." He looked at her. "How does it strike you?"

"Not any," said Mary firmly, and knew herself for a liar, and was furious with herself for the little skip of her heart in anticipation. The little skip of her heart had come unknowingly. Before Mary had had time to counsel herself. "You Mary! What right has your heart to skip a beat?—you who have no time for love and the encumbrances that trail in the wake of love? And what, you asked flippantly, what is love? Certainly nothing that can in any way affect your heart, you who lack the maternal instinct, and have no time for the heavy passion, and have not yet reached the stage where you need depend upon a man for support. For you dissected love, and discovered that it pulsated with emotion engendered by either, any, or all these three. What right has your heart to skip a beat, Mary?" Nevertheless her heart continued to skip, and she felt a little pulse in her cheek of whose existence she had been unaware heretofore.

The feel of Wally's arm hardened across the small of her back. She was drawn toward him, and felt the hard expanse of his chest against her breast. Then his lips found hers.—

On sped the little green car through the night of milky radiance poured earthward by the stars. Wally was silent beside her, giving his entire attention to the wheel. She cast a glance at him once or twice and then sank still lower in the cushioned seat, placing her head against his arm, and closing her eyes. The savor of his kiss was on her lips, and she touched her handkerchief to her mouth to rid herself of the imprint. The car leaped forward with a jerk, and she touched the bit of linen to her cheek. Should Wally have seen that gesture he would become befuddled as to the cause of it. It was difficult to wipe the feel of his kiss from her lips however. It had gone deeper than that.

Hair-Cutting Parties Popular in England

LONDON, Oct. 10, (by the Canadian Press).—Haircutting tea parties are the latest idea amongst certain young women with hair of the half-longish, half-bobbed, bingled variety. An Eton Crop may require more expert treatment, but the longer locks can be trimmed quite well by the amateur, and these amateur bobbing tea-parties have become a vogue of Bohemian London.

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE

CCCXIII—Science in the World War—LXI
The Lesson of Morhange.

by MAX HAHN

IT WAS ON AUGUST 20, 1914, THAT THE FRENCH ARMY INVADING LORRAINE RUSHED RECKLESSLY FORWARD INTO AN AREA DOMINATED BY THE GERMANS AND LEARNED TO ITS DISMAY THAT THE ENEMY'S FIELD GUNS WERE SUPERIOR TO THE FRENCH SEVENTY-FIVES.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE BARRAGE OF DEATH WAS TOO MUCH FOR THE INVADING ARMY. IN THE COURSE OF AN HOUR THE ADVANCE CHANGED INTO RETREAT. THE ROUT OF THE FIFTEENTH FRENCH CORPS MARKED THE RETREAT.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE SUDDEN ENDING OF THE INVASION RESTS WITH THE GERMAN FIELD GUNS. THEY WERE MUCH MORE EFFECTIVE THAN FRANCE ANTICIPATED. THIS GERMAN VICTORY AT MORHANGE SHOWED HOW IMPORTANT FIELD GUNS WOULD BE IN THE WAR WHICH THEN WAS IN ITS FIRST MONTH.

GERMANY'S VICTORY WAS ONE OF PREPARATION. FOR YEARS SHE HAD BEEN TESTING HER BIG GUNS UNDER CONDITIONS AS NEARLY LIKE WAR AS SHE COULD IMAGINE. IN ADDITION, SHE HAD DEVELOPED MOTOR TRUCKS TO HAUL BIG GUNS ALMOST AS RAPIDLY AS OTHER NATIONS WERE TRANSPORTING LIGHT GUNS.

TWO KILLED AT CROSSING

Woodstock Couple Meets Death Near Brantford—Baby Badly Hurt.

HIT BY RADIAL CAR.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 10. — The Brantford and Hamilton radial crossing at Echo Place on the Hamilton-Brantford Provincial Highway, took another toll of life on Sunday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, 110 Mill street, Woodstock, met death, and their two year old son received injuries from which he may not recover. Their sedan was totally wrecked from the impact.

The accident happened as the 9.45 a.m. radial car reached the crossing. The Anderson car, following directly behind another, which stopped, swerved and passed on to the left, directly in the path of the radial.

Apparently the radial car hit the rear end of the motor car, ripping the side and top out and hurling the car into the ditch. Help was at once on hand but Anderson was killed instantly and Mrs. Anderson expired almost at onec, before medical attention could be secured. The child was rushed to the Brantford general hospital, which late in the day reported his condition to be fair. He has a fractured skull and other injuries.

The view of an approaching radial for motorists going east, as was the Woodstock car, is obscured by a grove of apple tree. The radial car, it is stated by the witnesses, had been going at a low rate of speed, and had sounded its whistle, they say, but as the crossing appeared clear, had put on speed to cross, when the Anderson car suddenly appeared in sight. An inquest will be held under Coroner C. C. Fissette.

Besides the injured boy, four other children are made orphans by the tragedy. They range in age from 4 to 12 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were both born in England and came to this country about 15 years ago. Mr. Anderson went overseas with the 1st Batt. C.E.F., and served throughout the whole of the war. He was employed as a moulder with the James Stewart Company of this city, and was well known in the west end where he resided. The children are Edna, aged 12; Florence, aged 10; Francis, aged 6; Noreen, aged 4; and Roy, aged 2, who was critically injured in the smash. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were Roman Catholics. The children are staying with a sister of their mother.

CANADA NEEDS MEN AND MONEY

C. P. R. President Gives Address To Toronto Science Graduates.

CITIZENSHIP APPEAL.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10 (Special) —"An influx of capital and men is still Canada's greatest need," said E. W. Beatty, addressing the Science graduates of Toronto University here Saturday night.

"Satisfactory and heartening though our progress has been over the past sixty years, we must regard it as not even remotely possible that a country the same size as the United States, with a variety and extent of resources almost unlimited could adequately and within a reasonable time realize upon its great natural wealth with a population little greater than that of the City of London. But there are factors that are making for the speed and sureness of the country's progress or the reverse. The first of these is the confidence and pride of Canadians in Canada, never so greatly stimulated as during this year of Confederation. A realization of the country and its future has dawned upon our people with a new force, and some credit for this must be given to the impressive nature of the Jubilee anniversary and the widespread publicity given the history of the country with the result that being better informed Canadians we are more loyal Canadians, full of hope and courage and animated by a desire to make individual contributions to the country's great future.

"Another factor," said Mr. Beatty, "has been the contribution of Canada's transportation companies to commercial properity and understanding. I doubt if all of us fully appreciate what a potent factor your railways have been, not only as a media of commerce, but as linking up the distant parts of this country with the consequent possibility of greater understanding. The railways have been pioneers, with the pioneers and among them from the date of Confederation.

"It is many years since Joseph Howe expressed the view that many then in his room would live to hear the whistle of the locomotive in the Rocky Mountains. Such prophecies have become realities. The East and west are linked not only with one but with three railways and two of them have been combined into one large system. The ten million odd bushels of grain then produced in Western Canada have grown to over eight hundred millions and the one ship that was able at the time of the construction of the Canadian Pacific to carry all the exportable grain from the head of the lakes has been replaced by two hundred vessels actively engaged throughout the whole season in moving the crop.

Mr. Beatty stated that since the day when the last spike of the Canadian Pacific was driven the country had marched if it had not run forward, although progress had not been accomplished without setbacks and natural mistakes. Artificial prosperity had followed the war and later came a realization of obligations that were discouraging. Geographical and other difficulties were stronger emphasized and we temporarily lost the vision of our forefathers. Then came a change. By harder work we produced more and steadily increased our liquid resources. We increased our railway tonnage and reduced our debts. While this went on the fundamental soundness of the country was gradually re-asserting itself and a short time ago we woke up to the realization that things were better, that our taxes were being reduced, that our businesses were developing and that our natural resources were being exploited, our physhology improved and we gave another example of the attitude of most humans that when things are better with them the world is better and that Canada is a finer country when we individually prosper than it is when we do not.

Mr. Beatty then referred to the centenary of Toronto University:

"We are met," he said, "to celebrate the foundation of a great institution, one which we are proud to claim as our alma mater. Whether we all appreciate as we might have done the teaching of that institution in the days when we were students is perhaps a matter of argument. But it is in grateful remembrance of those years that we are proud to call ourselves alumni and are glad to join in the reunions of old classfellows and of our fellow students.

"The chief danger that begets the successful students is that of becoming so absorbed in study as to overlook his duties to his fellow citizens. He is apt to forget that he owes his opportunity to his fellow men who have provided; for instance, the libraries and the laboratories so generously placed at his disposal. He is indifferent to public affairs, grudging the time which public affairs might take from the work which so absorbs him. That danger is less likely in the case of a man who has played an active part in the club life of a university. The percentage of university graduates among those who have won distinction in Canadion political life is high, but it can never be too high, for the university man brings a trained mind and a broad outlook to public affairs which is of incalculable benefit to the country."

RUGBY NOTES

The Junior O.R.F.U. team will practice Tuesday night at 5.15 o'clock and on Wednesday it is planned to have a practice game at Riverside Park for which everyone who has been out this year is expected to be on hand.

Coach Max Sloan is fast rounding the team into condition, and Jack Deannard promises all the games they want as soon as they are able to handle them.

COW EATS GEESE.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Among the herds near the village of Staffelstein is a carnivorous cow. Coming upon a crate of geese ready for shipment, she dropped the hay she was chewing and leisurely munched five geese before the farmer discovered what was happening.

CLASH OFTEN.

PARIS, Oct. 10—As a result of the closing of the Franco-Italian frontier pitched battles with the patrols of both nations are frequent. Most of the troubles comes from anti-Fascisti Italians who are trying to escape from their country.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Trustee Act, that all Creditors and others having Claims against the Estate of Robert Hamilton Shearer, of Otonabee, who died the 20th March, 1919, are required, on or before the 25th October, 1927, to send by post to the undersigned, the full particulars of their Claims.

And take Notice, That after such last-mentioned date the Administrator will proceed to distribute the Assets of the said deceased, having regard only to the Claims of which he shall then have notice, and the Administrator will not be liable for the said Assets to any person of whose Claim notice shall not have been received by him by the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough the 10th Day of October, 1927.

JOSEPH WEARING, Solicitor for George Egbert Patterson, Administrator. 3d-10,17,24-2922

TWO KILLED AT CROSSING

Woodstock Couple Meets Death Near Brantford—Baby Badly Hurt.

HIT BY RADIAL CAR.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 10. — The Brantford and Hamilton radial crossing at Echo Place on the Hamilton-Brantford Provincial Highway, took another toll of life on Sunday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, 110 Mill street, Woodstock, met death, and their two year old son received injuries from which he may not recover. Their sedan was totally wrecked from the impact.

The accident happened as the 9.45 a.m. radial car reached the crossing. The Anderson car, following directly behind another, which stopped, swerved and passed on to the left, directly in the path of the radial.

Apparently the radial car hit the rear end of the motor car, ripping the side and top out and hurling the car into the ditch. Help was at once on hand but Anderson was killed instantly and Mrs. Anderson expired almost at once, before medical attention could be secured. The child was rushed to the Brantford general hospital, which late in the day reported his condition to be fair. He has a fractured skull and other injuries.

The view of an approaching radial for motorists going east, as was the Woodstock car, is obscured by a grove of apple tree. The radial car, it is stated by the witnesses, had been going at a low rate of speed, and had sounded its whistle, they say, but as the crossing appeared clear, had put on speed to cross, when the Anderson car suddenly appeared in sight. An inquest will be held under Coroner C. C. Fissetto.

Besides the injured boy, four other children are made orphans by the tragedy. They range in age from 4 to 12 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were both born in England and came to this country about 15 years ago. Mr. Anderson went overseas with the 1st Batt. C.E.F., and served throughout the whole of the war. He was employed as a moulder with the James Stewart Company of this city, and was well known in the west end where he resided. The children are Edna, aged 12; Florence, aged 10; Francis, aged 6; Noreen, aged 4; and Roy, aged 2, who was critically injured in the smash. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were Roman Catholics. The children are staying with a sister of their mother.

CANADA NEEDS MEN AND MONEY

C. P. R. President Gives Address To Toronto Science Graduates.

CITIZENSHIP APPEAL.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10 (Special) —"An influx of capital and men is still Canada's greatest need," said E. W. Beatty, addressing the Science graduates of Toronto University here Saturday night.

"Satisfactory . . . and . . . heartening though our progress has been over the past sixty years, we must regard it as not even remotely possible that a country the same size as the United States, with a variety and extent of resources almost unlimited could adequately and within a reasonable time realize upon its great natural wealth with a population little greater than that of the City of London. But there are factors that are making for the speed and sureness of the country's progress or the reverse. The first of these is the confidence and pride of Canadians in Canada, never so greatly stimulated as during this year of Confederation. A realization of the country and its future has dawned upon our people with a new force, and some credit for this must be given to the impressive nature of the Jubilee anniversary and the widespread publicity given the history of the country with the result that being better informed Canadians we are more loyal Canadians, full of hope and courage and animated by a desire to make individual contributions to the country's great future.

"Another factor," said Mr. Beatty, "has been the contribution of Canada's transportation companies to commercial properity and understanding. I doubt if all of us fully appreciate what a potent factor your railways have been, not only as a media of commerce, but as linking up the distant parts of this country with the consequent possibility of greater understanding. The railways have been pioneers, with the pioneers and among them from the date of Confederation.

"It is many years since Joseph Howe expressed the view that many then in his room would live to hear the whistle of the locomotive in the Rocky Mountains. Such prophecies have become realities. The East and west are linked not only with one but with three railways and two of them have been combined into one large system. The ten million odd bushels of grain then produced in Western Canada have grown to over eight hundred millions and the one ship that was able at the time of the construction of the Canadian Pacific to carry all the exportable grain from the head of the lakes has been replaced by two hundred vessels actively engaged throughout the whole season in moving the crop.

Mr. Beatty stated that since the day when the last spike of the Canadian Pacific was driven the country had marched if it had not run forward, although progress had not been accomplished without setbacks and natural mistakes. Artificial prosperity had followed the war and later came a realization of obligations that were discouraging. Geographical and other difficulties were stronger emphasized and we temporarily lost the vision of our forefathers. Then came a change. By harder work we produced more and steadily increased our liquid resources. We increased our railway tonnage and reduced our debts. While this went on the fundamental soundness of the country was gradually re-asserting itself and a short time ago we woke up to the realization that things were better, that our taxes were being reduced, that our businesses were developing and that our natural resources were being exploited, our physhology improved and we gave another example of the attitude of most humans that when things are better with them the world is better and that Canada is a finer country when we individually prosper than it is when we do not.

Mr. Beatty then referred to the centenary of Toronto University:

"We are met," he said, "to celebrate the foundation of a great institution, one which we are proud to claim as our alma mater. Whether we all appreciate as we might have done the teaching of that institution in the days when we were students is perhaps a matter of argument. But it is in grateful remembrance of those years that we are proud to call ourselves alumni and are glad to join in the reunions of old classfellows and of our fellow students.

"The chief danger that begets the successful students is that of becoming so absorbed in study as to overlook his duties to his fellow citizens. He is apt to forget that he owes his opportunity to his fellow men who have provided, for instance, the libraries and the laboratories so generously placed at his disposal. He is indifferent to public affairs, grudging the time which public affairs might take from the work which so absorbs him. That danger is less likely in the case of a man who has played an active part in the club life of a university. The percentage of university graduates among those who have won distinction in Canadion political life is high, but it can never be too high, for the university man brings a trained mind and a broad outlook to public affairs which is of incalculable benefit to the country."

RUGBY NOTES

The Junior O.R.F.U. team will practice Tuesday night at 5.15 o'clock and on Wednesday it is planned to have a practice game at Riverside Park for which everyone who has been out this year is expected to be on hand.

Barry and Newbec Lead Mining Stocks

TORONTO, October 10 (Canadian Press).—Barry Hollinger and Newbec were conspicuously strong stocks in another boiling market on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning. Barry touched 1.00, and at noon was at 94½, a net gain of 1½, while Newbec gained seven at 96. Bidgood had an advance of four at 57½. Amulet was the weakest issue, with a drop of forty at 560. Its companion, Area, eased only 1½ at 61½. Laval sold down three at 44. Tough Oakes dropped to 47½, but recovered to 49 for a net loss of two points.

Toronto Market Weak With Walkers Leading

TORONTO, Oct. 10. — Hiram Walker led both in activity and weakness on the Toronto stock exchange this morning, when prices tended lower in lighter trading. Walker's was 2 1-8 lower at 53 7-8 at noon. Northern Bakeries was another weak stock, with a loss of 1 3-8 at 40 5-8, and Alberta Pacific Grain in the regular list had a loss of 2¼ at 44¾.

British American Oil, leader of the oils, was one of the few firm stocks, with a gain of 1-8 at 31 5-8. Brazilian firmed fractionally to 204. Gooderham & Worts and Canadian Malting both followed Walker's downward lead, Gooderham losing a point at 58 and Malting a fraction at 31¾. Nickel lost ½ at 67.

Snow Storms In Canada Send Wheat Prices Up

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (Canadian Press).—With a blizzard reported in Alberta and snow in Saskatchewan, wheat prices displayed an early upward trend today. Corn was easier, owing to favorable weather conditions over the corn belt. All trading lacked volume, speculations holding off pending the United States government crop report this afternoon.

Opening unchanged to ¼ to ⅜c higher, wheat later scored general upturns. Corn started unchanged to ⅛c off and subsequently weakened all round. Oats held film. Provisions were inclined to sag.

Opening prices were: Wheat, Dec. 131⅜, March 135¾. Corn, Dec. 93¼, March 96⅝. Oats, Dec. 48¾, March 50⅜.

IN MEMORIAM.

BANNAN. — In fond and loving memory of our dear sister and daughter, Gertrude Dixon, who departed this life October 10, 1925.

"Often, often, our thoughts do wander
To a grave not far away,
Where we laid our dear sister and daughter,
Just two years ago to-day.

We oftimes think of you dear one,
No eyes may see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Friends may think we have forgotten
When at least they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
That the smile hides all the while."

—Sadly missed by her loving Mother, Father, Sister and Brothers.

AROUND THE CITY

The fire department was called to 162 Simcoe street yesterday at 12.10 a.m., to a chimney fire.

This being fire prevention week, the public is asked to take every precaution to make it successful. Those who haven't their chimneys cleaned are remined to do so immediately to prevent damage by fire when the winter fires are lit .

Several touring parties seeking accommodation at the local tourists' camp yesterday, were disappointed to find it closed. Among others there were two cars from Belleville.

An interesting series of demonstrations in connection with the programme of demonstrations to be given this week at the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition, will be those at the booth of Miss Mamie L. McCarthy, artist, who will demonstrate on the several days of the week various methods in drawing and painting. To-morrow (Tuesday) a demonstration of charcoal drawing will be given, with oil painting and water colour work later in the week. Announcement will be made each day in the Kiwanis front-page program.

WEDDING BELLS

GLADMAN—PICKARD

The following wedding notice refers to the marriage of Mr. Melville Gladman of London, Ontario, nephew of Mr. George Gladman of this city:

A pretty autumn wedding took place on Saturday in James Street United Church, Exeter, when Marguerite Verity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickard, was married to Melville Fowler Gladman, B.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gladman of London, Ont. Rev. D. D. McTavish, pastor of the church, conducted the ceremony, assisted by Rev. D. M. Ramsay of Toronto, uncle of the bride. Mr. Charles E. Wheeler, organist of St. Andrew's Church, London, played the wedding music, and accompanied Mrs. A. F. Passmore of Toronto, aunt of the bridegroom, who sang. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a French gown of ivory georgette studded with brilliants, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. Her veil was arranged in Juliet cap style. The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Carling, of Toronto, a cousin, who was charming in shell pink georgette, with black velvet picture hat, and carrying Ophelia roses. Little Miss Margaret Gladman, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and was attractively frocked in blue taffeta and georgette. The bridegroom was assisted by Mr. Walter Thomson, and the ushers were Mr. Frank McHardy Smith and Mr. Charles Gladman. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gladman receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickard and the bridal party. Later Mr. and Mrs Melville Gladman left by motor for Montreal, the bride travelling in a becoming costume of French blue with georgette dress, mole trimmed coat and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Gladman will reside in London.

CONVENTION MEMBERS CLASH AT WINNIPEG

ALDERMEN FIND MANY PERSONS SPENDING TAXES

Council Has to Take Orders From Everybody, Says Ald. Phelan.

CONTROLS LITTLE MONEY

Government Has Increased Cost of Living by Enactments, Ald. Greene Asserts.

"The Government tells us to do this; the City Trust tells us to do something else; the Mothers' Allowance Board or somebody tells us to do something else. We've got nothing to do but do as we're told." This was the complaint of Ald. Nagle Phelan at last night's meeting of the Fire, Water, and Light Committee of the Council.

"We get the blame for raising the tax rate," added Ald. Greene, to which Ald. Phelan added a further complaint: "We're mere figure heads; we get only 28 cents out of each dollar of taxes to spend. What do we ever tell anybody they've got to do?"

The "straw that broke the camel's back" in this case was a minor one, a letter from the secretary of the City Trust stating that the whitewashing of the stonework at the firehall had spoiled the appearance and asking that it be removed, but it followed consideration of the recent enactment requiring that the firemen get one day off in seven and the request of the Ontario Hospital Association for an increase in the amount paid by the municipalities for indigent patients.

Ald. Denne upheld the City Trust contention that the appearance of the building is spoiled, although expressing sympathy with Ald. Phelan's complaint. Chief Gimblett reported that the firemen had tried several ways to remove the whitewash and had failed, so no action was taken by the committee and the weather will be permitted to remove the offending coat.

Ald. Phelan was not the only member of the Council to speak his mind. Ald. Greene's ire was aroused by the law which requires that the firemen get one day off in seven and work on the two platoon system.

"All the governments seem to be trying to find ways and means to increase the cost of operating business and the cost of living. This comes along; the factory inspection comes along; and the store inspection requiring more conveniences and alterations, no matter what conditions exist", he declared. "The government is more responsible for increased taxes and increased cost of living than anybody else," he concluded.

The Firefighters' Association asks that the changes, which became law in April, be put into effect at the first of the year, and the Chief and Chairman were instructed to consider ways and means of complying with the law. The chief's estimate that six men will be needed besides the twenty-one now on the brigade brought the declaration from Ald. Stocker that "this Council nor any other will ever sanction that."

The Mayor proposed that some different arrangement of shifts be made to comply with the law without increasing the force, but the chief pointed out that with two men off each day from each platoon, there would at the most be eight men immediately available to respond to an alarm, and with a man out on inspection and another possibly away on holidays, there would only be six for four pieces of apparatus. At present each platoon gets twenty-four hours off every other Sunday on the change from night to day shifts, but makes up for this by working twenty-four hours in one stretch the next Sunday.

A proposal to make extensive repairs to the old combination chemical and hose wagon, the veteran motor vehicle of the fire department, and to add a 600-gallon pumper was laid over. The price quoted was $3,950, and the aldermen felt that there is no call for this expenditure at the present time. Mayor Holloway pointed out that he had not thought the aldermen would sanction it but that it would not be a bad proposition to consider it as a future plan so that in case of two fires breaking out at once there would be two pumpers available, while when a substation becomes necessary in the south end this machine would be a start towards equipping it.

Ald. Denne expressed opposition to repairing the old machine at such a figure. It is ten years old, he said, and it would pay the city, when the extra machine is needed, to turn it in on a new one. This was supported by Ald. Macdonald.

Ald. Denne asked the chief why the firemen had, on a recent Saturday night, come up Charlotte street and down George instead of going straight down Aylmer street until they were out of the main portion of the city. The chief replied that he had not known of this happening and that he had issued orders to

Willingdon to Visit States Next December

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 11.—(Canadian Press).—The Governor General of Canada and Lady Willingdon will pay an official visit to the United States early in December. They will arrive in Washington on December 6, and will be the guests of the Hon. and Mrs. Vincent Massey at the Canadian Legation during their stay in the United States capital.

The visit of their Excellencies to Washington is unique. While other Governors General of Canada have visited the United States, Canada was not then officially represented in the capital of that country by her own minister. This is the first occasion on which the representative of the King in Canada has been able to visit the representative of the Dominion in Washington. It is anticipated that their Excellencies will remain in Washington for some days.

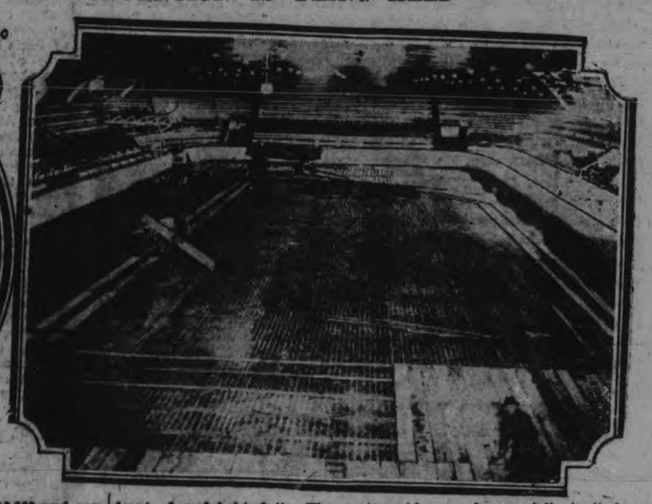
WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Man. Oct. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—A weather map which gave no immediate hope for resumption of threshing operations in the Canadian West, combined with increased demand on the part of exporters, imparted a buoyant tone to the Winnipeg grain market yesterday.

A flurry of buying by shorts and houses with seaboard connection sent prices up from 3-8 to -½ at the close.

Oats finished 3-8 to 7-8c. higher, barley ½ to 1c. up, flax 1 to 1 3-8c. higher and rye 5-8 to 7-8c. advance.

WHERE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION IS BEING HELD



The photographs above show the exterior of the Winnipeg amphitheatre rink where the Conservative National Convention is being held. The building will seat 10,000 and new floors are now laid. The speakers' platform is built on the left side of the picture with press stands in front of and behind it. The centre floor contains chairs and the 1,578 delegates will be seated there. The elevated seats and boxes around the sides are for specially invited guests and the general public. This picture shows approximately half the rink interior.

JUSTICE KELLY EXPLAINS TASK OF GRAND JURY

To Decide Whether Crown Has Any Case Against Accused.

FALL ASSIZES OPEN.

Two Criminal Cases To Be Tried—Thomas Ruth Jury Foreman.

The Assizes of the County of Peterborough commenced this afternoon before the Honorable Mr. Justice Kelly. There are two criminal cases on the docket. William and Davis Hill, of Dummer, are charged with committing serious offences against two girls under the age of 16 years.

Both cases were given to the grand jury to decide whether they would bring in a true bill or not. Thomas Ruth, implement dealer of the City of Peterborough was elected foreman of the grand jury.

The Judge's address to the jury was as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Grand Jurly, it becomes my duty to explain to you the call and meaning of the duties you are required to perform. There are two classes of duties first the compulsory one to pass upon bills of indictment and the other is acting in a way as representatives of the people at large, making inspections of the public offices and charitable institutions.

"The reason why the grand jury deals with bills of indictment is that the burden is on the Crown to prove its case before the person can be called to put in his defense.

"So lest it might happen that the Crown has been misled and it turns out there is really nothing in the Crown's evidence, the accused will not be tried

"If the Grand Jury on hearing the evidence produced by the Crown, comes to the conclusion there is nothing in the Crown's case, then the law protects the accused.

"The two cases before you are, I am sorry to say, of a serious character. They are charged, two men, at different times, with a serious offense.

"In one of these cases the Crown says, charging a man named William Hill, that on the evening of 18th of September, he committed this offense on quite a young girl. The girl was at a neighbor's home and on her

MRS. FALLIS SPOKESMAN FOR WOMEN

Peterborough Lady Cheered at Conclusion of Address at Convention.

URGES CO-OPERATION.

Also Takes Up Political Activity of Women—Convention Busy This Morning.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11 (Canadian Press). — With eighteen hundred delegates and alternates assembled the Conservative convention opened its proceedings for the second day sharp at 1.30 this morning. Yesterday's clash between the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Premier Howard Ferguson of Ontario overshadowed the question of the probable choice for the leadership in discussion among the delegates as they foregathered. A rumor was in circulation that a resolution of some nature on the matter of the Hamilton declaration might be put before the convention for its approval, but it is learned that no such resolution has been drafted.

Waiting for resolutions from the resolutions committee, the Conservative National Convention today heard speeches on the activities of the young men of the party.

Mrs. Howard Fallis, of Peterborough, selected as spokesman of the women delegates, urged closer co-operation between the East and West. After declaring that if the Conservative Party had faults in the past they had erred on the side of failing to use the inexhaustible energy and enthusiasm of the women and young girls of the party, Mrs. Fallis declared:

"A policy must be formulated to satisfy the rights of the other provinces. The transportation and marketing problems of the West require solution." The East, she said, must be ready to concede this right to the West even if it entailed sacrifices. As a compromise, however, the West must be willing to grant tariff concessions, not necessarily a high or a low tariff, but adequate protection for national life.

Women Making History

"As women we recognize we are making history in this convention," Mrs. Fallis said. "Not only for Conservative women, but for the women of Canada as a whole. We also recognize that the men in giving us a definite place in this convention realize the important position that women have come to take in the political arena of the country."

The political activity of women, the speaker said, was still in its infancy. Much pioneer work was still to be done but it was the duty of women to assume the task and carry on the work so nobly done by the pioneer women who established the foundations of the Conservative women's organization.

Mrs. Fallis concluded with an appeal that no note of discord should be allowed to rise. She was cheered repeatedly at the conclusion.

Sir Thomas White then took the platform. The Conservative party in Canada was under only a temporary eclipse, he said.

The sun of Conservatism would again shine in Canada as brightly, or more brightly, than it had ever shone in the past. "The Conservative policy is something that Canada needs," he asserted. "The Conservative policy is something that Canada cannot do without."

Sir Thomas defined the policy of the Conservative party as the upbuilding of Canada for Canadians under the British flag, fulfilling materially and nationally the objectives of Confederation.

14,849 PEOPLE VISIT ARMORIES ON OPENING DAY OF EXHIBITION; BEAUTY AND DIGNITY IN INTERIOR

ON COMMITTEE.

MRS. HOWARD FALLIS, One of the Ontario members of the Resolutions Committee of the Conservative Convention.

The Conservative fiscal policy he said, provided for sound flexibility in an aim to build up Canadian industries. Selected immigration and association with the British Empire were always the strong points of party policy, he pointed out. This policy was adopted also for the security Canada found in being an integral part of the Empire. He was loudly cheered.

Louis Wigle, of Leamington, Ont., gave some reminiscences of olden days and urged equality of tariffs. He declared he would raise the tariff on eggs so high it would be cheaper to import hens.

Protection of Resources.

The development of the country's natural resources, a national policy of forest protection, and encouragement of scientific research as to the best methods of protecting and developing natural resources are urged in three resolutions which were to-day submitted to the Conservative National Convention, by its Resolutions Committee.

The first resolution sets forth that the party "declares itself in favor of a policy that will encourage the development of the country's natural resources so that the maximum benefit will accrue to the people of the Dominion as a whole."

The second reads: "That the Liberal Conservative Party declares itself strongly in favor of a national policy of forest protection and reforestation and believes it to be the duty of the Federal Government to assist and co-operate in this regard with those provinces of the Dominion that are entrusted with the care of their own forests."

The third resolution on natural resources provides that the party "places itself on record as being in favor of encouraging to the utmost scientific research as to the best means of protecting, conserving and developing our vast natural resources."

SAILS IT ALONE.

OSLO, Oct. 11.—A Norwegian seaman recently crossed the North Sea alone in an open sailing boat 25 feet long. When he was out two days the boat began to leak, and for eight days the sailor had to bail out the vessel every three hours.

Booths Are Artistically Arranged and Decorated—Fountain is Feature.

FLAGS IN ABUNDANCE.

Wide Variety of Products of Canada Are On Display at Big Kiwanis Fair.

For yesterday, "Imperial and Educational Day," the opening day of the week of the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition presented at the Armories, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, there was a good attendance, with the school children attending en masse during the afternoon, and adults in the evening. Under the long strings of colored lights that twinkle above the entrance, the seekers for amusement and entertainment flowed steadily all day, while the Band of the Peterborough Rangers played on the band stand placed outside. The official figures are placed at 14,849, the majority of these being children woh were admitted freee.

The various booths have been arranged with an effect of colorful dignity whose note is struck at the entrance by the large fountain, formerly the property of the Toronto Skating Club, and recently purchased by the Kiwanis. This is a massive affair and very handsome Water flows over an incandescent centre in this fountain, which is based with a profusion of palms, ferns and artificial huge water lilies.

Overhead, the entire length of the hall is decorated with dozens of long floating pennons and the walls are draped with large flags. The booths, arranged against either wall and in a double central block formation, are arranged in every instance with an eye to artistic effect, the majority showing ingenuity and novelty in their conception.

Although all the booths were not completed in every detail yesterday, there was an air of finish to the general ensemble which made the interior very striking and attractive. The use of colored papers in various ways and in all the hues of the spectrum lends a cheerful atmosphere to the entire building.

French Handicraft.

At the right of the main entrance, in the small room on the main floor, is the exhibit of French handicraft under the auspices of the local branch of the Women's Art Association. Here are Mrs. H. E. Stansfield of the Womens Art Association of Toronto, Mademoiselle Mathilde Cimon and her sister from Baie St. Paul, Quebec, and Mrs. J. Kennett, of the city, demonstrating their skill in various types of weaving and in the making of hooked rugs. The hand looms used are set up in this room and prove an interesting centre for many onlookers

Against the walls and on table and cabinets are placed exhibits of many sorts of art handicraft work, in charge of the president, Mrs William Blackwell There are some lovely things in homespun fabrics, notable among them lengths of cloth in sky blue and orange colors There are rainbow hues in the hooked and crocheted and woven rugs, with their odd designs that include a tiny white piglet with curled tail, a habitant scene with sleigh and horse on a snowy road, and a tiny house with a black cat yowling at a crescent moon.

Woven hats and scarves make cosy outdoor sets for winter wear, and there are the real "catelogne" rugs of the habitant tradition. There are bed spreads in tufted wool patterns and a fine assortment of batiks that

Meighen Defends Hamilton Speech Against Ferguson

Former Conservative National Leader Explains His Reasons For Making the Announcement On War Policy in Hamilton—Cites Vital Portions of Speech.

NEVER BEEN PART OF CANADIAN POLICY TO MAINTAIN A LARGE STANDING ARMY

Ontario Premier Says That Before Speech He Told Meighen the Opportunity Was Inappropriate and His Action Most Inadvisable.

AMPHITHEATRE, WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 11 (Canadian Press).—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Premier Ferguson of Ontario clashed sharply at yesterday afternoon's sitting of the Conservative convention. It was over Mr. Meighen's famous Hamilton speech—That should war again threaten, the people should be consulted in a general election before troops were sent overseas. Mr. Meighen came warmly to the defence of his Hamilton speech but scarcely had he concluded when Premier Ferguson mounted the platform to attack it. Mr. Ferguson declared that, before the Hamilton speech, Mr. Meighen had called on him and discussed it. He then told Mr Meighen—Mr Ferguson related to the convention—that the opportunity was inappropriate and that Mr. Meighen's action was most inadvisable. He had informed Mr. Meighen—Mr. Ferguson proceeded—that the proposed Hamilton speech was grossly unnecessary and therefore unwise.

There were interruptions as Mr. Ferguson spoke.

"Sit down," came cries from the floor of the hall. Three cheers for Arthur Meighen," shouted another delegate, and a number rose to their feet.

"I won't sit down," Mr. Ferguson retorted. If Mr. Meighen can unnecessarily throw a wrench into the peace of this convention," he called back, "I propose to make my position clear."

Booing and cheering broke out as Mr. Ferguson proceeded.

He advanced nearer to the front of the platform. "I told Mr. Meighen," he went on, "that you can't secure unity by a battle of ballots before you have a battle of bayonets."

From the body of the hall came more dissent. The temporary chairman had to appeal for order. It was a moment or two before Mr. Ferguson could proceed.

Would Leave Convention

"I am not here to attack anyone," Mr. Ferguson protested. "I am here to justify a position." He concluded with the declaration that if the convention chose to endorse Mr. Meighen, he would disassociate himself entirely from its activities.

The convention appointed permanent chairman and secretary, and after disposing of some routine business rose till today. But in corridors and hall wherever delegates were gathered, discussion continued animatedly over the situation which now faces the convention. For the time being, at any rate, it overshadows talk and forecast of the coming election of a new leader. On the platform, after Premier Rhodes left the chair, Mr. Meighen was surrounded by delegates who pressed to greet him.

His speech dealt with the Hamilton declaration in detail. "For twelve months," he declared, "I have been a private citizen; I am a private citizen today, and a private citizen I intend to remain." It was as such that he spoke in defence of his Hamilton speech. With his retirement from leadership, the Conservative party became entirely free from the Hamilton commitment. Nor did he speak, he added, with the object of re-establishing that speech, as binding upon the party now.

Cites Vital Portions

He cited the vital portions of his Hamilton speech, and substantiated four facts, which he said were incontestable.

"1—That it was not and never had been part of Canadian policy to maintain in the Dominion a military organization capable of immediate participation in the event of the outbreak of war abroad.

"2—Because a government can appeal to the country, it did not mean any delay or weakening of executive actions, or preparation or of training. The experience of 1917 had demonstrated that not anly preparation for the conflict but the conflict itself might be carried on with relentless vigor while the judgment of the electors was being secured.

"3—There existed in Canada an apprehension, unwarranted and unjust, that if a parliament with a Conservative majority were elected that parliament was likely to plunge the country into war.

"4—In 1914, after the outbreak of war, the Conservative government "were never nearer to any step which was not taken than to a decision to get the vote of the people

CHURCH'S TASK IS WORSHIPPING AND WITNESSING

Rev. Fred Anderson, of Port Hope, Addresses St. Andrew's Men.

OPENING MEETING.

Plans For Year Announced—Request Made For Sunday School Teachers.

The Men's Association of St. Andrew's Church last night, at 6.15, held a banquet in the basement of the church. Many ladies were present at the supper, and the ladies of the church provided the refreshments.

The president, E. F. Reid, expressed his appreciation of the attendance at the first meeting of the fall season, and announced that the meetings would be held on the second Monday of each month, at which an outstanding speaker would be arranged for.

Messrs. Dearborn and Dickin then were called upon to lead a discussion in reference to the continuance of the meetings, the presence of the ladies at future meetings, and the matter of remuneration for the society providing the supper. Other business consisted of the appointment of ushers for Sunday services, and Rev. J. W. Gordon discussed the Sunday School situation, regarding the lack of teachers.

A male quartette, consisting of Dr. Graham, D. Carlyle, W. F. Skitch, and T. H. Gillespie, with John Crane at the piano, rendered two selections which were received very favourably.

At this time J. A. McKone, the superintendent of the Sunday School, was discovered in the vicinity of the kitchen, and hauled forth to amplify what had already been said about the lack of teachers in the Sunday School, and in invitation was issued to any men who would act as leaders to boys' classes to endeavour to get out to Sunday School and help the superintendent in some of the diverse duties evolving from the continued absence of other officers and teachers.

Dr. A. Moir was called upon to introduce Rev. Fred Anderson of Port

FEDERAL ARMY PREPARES FOR LONG STRUGGLE

Concentrate Forces in Effort to Bottle Up Rebel Troops.

PLANES TO AID DRIVE.

Strictest Vigilance Ordered at Every Port Along the Coast.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11 (Associated Press).—Air, land and water forces of the Mexican Government are bejng concentrated in an effort to bottle up the rebels under Generals Gomez and Almada in the ragged mountain country of the state of Vera Cruz, where they are hidden, to prevent them from reaching the sea coast and escaping from Mexico.

The Federal strategy seeks to drive in upon the rebels from every direction by greatly superior forces and destroy them by aerial bombardment. The authorities at every Mexican port and the officers in command of all the ships of the Mexican navy have been ordered to exercise the utmost vigilance so that if Gomez and Almado do succeed in reaching the coast, their escape shall be cut off.

In the meantime heavy reinforcements are joining the field forces to complete the surrounding movement of the rebels now in the mauntains. Simultaneously the air forces are scouting in all directions in an effort to locate and destroy the rebels or bomb them into submission.

Lieut. Carrenza, who recently made the first non-stop flight from Mexico City to Juarez, is expected to be one of the foremost aces in the air campaign. Five planes just came from the Yaqui Indian campoign in Sonora and flew to the front from Mexico City yesterday to reinforce the planes already operating, the strength of which has not officially been revealed.

Extensive Troop Movements.

Extensive troop movements continue. Trains are bringing into Mexico City soldiers from various parts of the country. Some are remaining in the capital in readiness to use wherever needed; others are being despatched to Vera Cruz, with their ultimate destination the fastnesses where Gomez and Almada and their men have sought refuge. Unofficially it is estimated that 5,000 Federal troops are at the present time moving toward Perote.

If this and previous unofficial estimates are correct, it means that the Government will soon have 15,000 troops engaged in the movement against the two chief leaders in the revolt.

Official information still places the Gomez Almada forces at a maximum of 1,500 or 2,000 men. Presidential headquarters is of the opinion that the number is considerably less than this. The forces are believed to be divided into small groups, constantly shifting about in the wild mountainous country, where it will be exceedingly difficult to locate them.

Will Aid In Drive.

Five Federal airplanes which had just arrived from the Yaqui campaign in Sonora took off again from Mexico City yesterday morning for the Perote region in Vera Cruz. They will reinforce the planes already there for the purpose of locating and bombing the Gomez-Almada rebels.

About 5,000 additional troops are being sent by train from Mexico City to Perote. The naval authorities at all ports have been ordered to exercise the utmost vigilance to prevent Generals Gomez and Almada from escaping by the sea. The Federals are seeking to surround the rebels in the mountains by overwhelming numbers, cut off their escape and destroy them from the air.

Colonel Luis Felipe Cruz, second in command of the 29th Cavalry, was killed in a recent engagement when loyal troops under his command came into action against rebel units at Tectiguacan, near Mexico City.

Four Men Are Killed As Result of Fights

PRESTONBURG, N.Y., Oct. 11.—(Canadian Press)—Four men are dead and two reported dying yesterday as the result of two gun fights in the southern part of Floyd county late Sunday afternoon and night.

W. L. Osborne, chief of police, of Martin; his son, Joe Ed. Osborn, 17, and two Mullins brothers of Jacks Creek are dead. Felix Flanery, 35 years old, a farmer of Burch Branch, who killed the Osborns, was in a Martin hospital, paralyized by a shot through the chest and spine.

Weshall, said to have shot the Mullins, was not expected to survive a wound in the chest and body, according to reports here.

COUNCIL ASKS CHIEF TO RESIGN

Windsor Aldermen Vote 7 to 5 For Dismissal From Office.

MANY CHARGES MADE.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 11.—Members of Windsor City Council at a hectic session last night demanded the resignation of Chief of Police Daniel Thompson. The vote stood 7 to 5. The meeting was enlivened by charges that the chief had permitted the operation of a bar in police headquarters during the International Police Chiefs' convention here last June and that Alderman Clyde Curry, who is Chief Thompson's accuser in the present situation, had acted as chief bartender at a real estate men's convention here in the same month at the Prince Edward Hotel.

The Thompson ouster resolution took the form of a recommendation to the Police Commission and was supported by Aldermen Garnet Edwards, its sponsor Robert Webber, Charles R. Tuson, James W. Kerr, Thomas Eansor and Charles D. Fraser.

Chief Thompson was suspended a week ago following charges made against him by Alderman Curry. His hearing was set for October 20th before the Police Commissioners. Alderman Edwards devoted much time to a discussion of the $2,000 voted by the City Council towards the general entertainment funds for the International Police Chiefs' convention and pointed out that there had been paid out approximately $12,000 aside from the civic appropriation, this money being raised by merchants and others who had advertised in a convention souvenir.

When the ouster resolution was introduced its sponsor, Ald Edwards, asserted that the resignation of Thompson now "would make for a quicker restoration of normalcy." He declared he had "nothing against the chief" but said it had been proven he had not done his duty.

"We have tried the chief for the seven years he has been here but there always has been somebody to apply the whitewash brush," Edwards declared.

JAPANSE CUSTOM

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Conversing with ancestors or entertaining their spirits is not uncommon in Japan. In the smaller villages near Tokio signal fires are lit at the graves of departed sires and the spirits are invited to come home and share in the feasts spread in their honor.

Coroner's Jury Decide Issue In An Hour Over Which Lawyers Fought For 3 Years

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (A.P.).—A coroner's jury hastily recruited from wayfarers in the cheap lodging house district decided in an hour that Russell Scott was insane, an issue over which learned lawyers and alienist's had fought for three years while the life of Scott, erstwhile Canadian financier who turned robber and killer, hung in the balance.

Scott hanged himself with his belt in his cell in the Cook County Jail last Saturday night, committeed suicide while insane, the jury decided, thereby giving to Scott in death a victory for which he fought three years in life. Five times Scott, who with his brother killed a drug clerk in a holdup, stood in the shadow of the gallows and when he took his life he was awaiting a new sanity hearing.

Yesterday's inquest was brief and at its close the last chapter was written in the legal aspects of the celebrated case by the six jurors who listened with impatience to the stories of relatives, guards and alienists, returned a speedy verdict and departed jingling lunch money in their pockets.

Scott's staunchest friends in his fight for life were present at the inquest to hear the sanity verdict for which they had fought but which proved an empty victory. They were Mrs. Katherine Scott, the slayer's wife and mother of his three children, and Thomas Scott, of Windsor, Ont., his father.

The widow, dry-eyed and without emotion, stared dully at a "Keep Smiling" sign and listlessly fingered the cracked leather belt with which he had possibly cheated the legal noose, as she declared that she believed for a long time that her husband was insane.

Alienists who had examined Scott repeatedly also testified, declaring that he was a victim of an illusion that he was being persecuted and even believed the Prince of Wales and Senator Couzens of Michigan were among his enemies.

NEW DAIL WILL ASSEMBLE TO-DAY

Will Be First Time Has Had Its Full Complement of 153 Members.

DUBLIN, October 11 (Associated Press). — The new Dail Eireann, the sixth in six years, will assemble this afternoon. Nearly all the members have arrived in Dublin, and were engaged yesterday in taking the oath of allegiance in readiness for the opening session. This will be the first time the Dail has its full complement of 163 members.

Even after Eamon De Valera's entry into the last Dail, half a dozen Sinn Fein Republicans continue their boycott of the House, but they took no part in the recent elections, and have been replaced by De Valeraites, and all the Republicans are again taking the oath of allegiance. They insist, however, that this is an empty formula.

In a statement to the press, the leader of the Fianna Fail, Mr. De Valera, announced that the attitude of his party had not changed and that they would give no allegiance outside of their allegiance to the Irish nation. Mr. De Valera desires to make it clear that the second taking of the oath does not include the oath question, which has ceased to be important. What he means by saying that his position is unchanged, he explained, is that the Fianna Fail recognizes only allegiance to the Irish nation, and will not give allegiance to any outside power or authority. The Fianna Fail's anxiety to abolish the oath and its determination to abolish it as soon as possible is in no way diminished.

It is expected that De Valera will seek an early date to have the Dail vote on the question of the oath, and his legal action against the Dail officials for excluding his deputies until they took the oath will proceed.

Will Elect Speaker.

The first business of the Dail Eireann to-day will be the election of the Speaker, which will probably be unanimous. Then two members of the Cosgrave party will propose Mr. Cosgrave's re-election as President of the Executive Council. This will be opposed by the De Valeraites. It is not necessary that they should set up an alternative, and it is thought likely they will await the outcome of the division on Mr. Cosgrave's name.

The figures appear to show that Mr. Cosgrave will have 78 votes, and the utmost the opposition can muster ,even if they are all agreed, is 73 or 74. Should Cosgrave be defeated, another name must be proposed, and if this happens to be De Valera, he also might be defeated, and the constitution prescribes that the voting must continue until somebody has received a majority. If Mr. Cosgrave is elected, it is thought that the session will be short and that no controversial legislation will be attempted.

WINS DAMAGES.

Flies First Moth Plane Over Canada

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Flying a de Haviland "Moth," the first of its kind in Canada, J. H. Holley, Winnipeg aviation instructor has arrived here from Buffalo, N.Y. where he purchased the machine.

The "Moth" was brought over to America by Sir William Cobham, noted British flier.

During the trip from Buffalo, Holley declares, the machine performed wonderfully. He was never at a loss during the trip to find a suitable place for an overnight stop due to the fact that the wings of the little machine can be folded up so that the plane could be housed in an ordinary garage.

Blinding snow storms and a near collision with an air mail plane helped to enliven Holley's trip here.

FLIERS HOP OFF FOR ARGENTINA

Costes and Labrix Last Seen Over Casa Blanca.

CLEAR WEATHER.

PARIS, Oct. 11. — Paris bade bon voyage yesterday morning to another pair of aviators, who hope to cross the Atlantic—this time with Buenos Aires, Argentina, as their goal. Dieudonne Coste, as pilot and Naval Lieutenant Joseph Labrix, as wireless operator, took off from Lebourget Field in the biplane "Nungesser-Coli" at 9.43. They passed over Poitiers, about 200 miles southeast of Paris at noon, and over the aredrome at Casa Blanca, French Morocco, about 1000 miles farther on, 9.48 last night. They hope to have breakfast at St. Louis on the Senagal coast of Africa, this morning, and then cross the South Atlantic in one hop to Pernambuco, Brazil.

If they succeed this will be the first time that a non-stop flight has been made between Africa and South America, although this is the seventh air trip between the two Southern continents.

Reports indicate that the aviators are having the advantage of a full moon with clear sky and wind helping them onward.

The Frenchmen are travelling fast for they have already made an average of more than 100 miles an hour. They have some 1500 miles to go before they reach St. Louis. The jump from Paris to St. Louis is about 4300 kilometres or 2670 miles, more than a thousand kilometres longer than the Atlantic hop from that point to Pernambuco.

Fine Weather Prevailing.

With fine October weather prevailing and with no storms in sight the French are making other efforts for the glory of aviation before winter sets in.

Leon Given and Pierre Corbu, in the "Bluebird," made tests yesterday afternoon, preparatory to hopping off for Dakar, Africa, thence to Pernambuco, and perhaps to New York, by the southern route. They expect to go on Wednesday or Thursday if the weather remains good.

Another effort to beat the long distance non-stop record of Chamberlain and Levine is on the programme for to-morrow, when Captain Arachart and Rignot plan to leave Histres, France, headed for as far as they can go into India.

FALL FARM WORK WELL ADVANCED

Threshing and Silo-Filling Nearly Over—Grain Looking Good.

BURNBRAE, Oct 11.—With the advent of frosty nights upon the scene, farm operations once more assume the usual fall routine. Until the end of the first week of October, almost summer weather prevailed with occasional warm showers and growth was rapid in the wheat fields and new seeded meadows. Some splendid fields of fall wheat are to be seen around Burnbrae now. Several farmers were able to have a field summerfallowed in the old fashioned way and the crop is away to a flying start in these fields. More fall grain than usual was sown here this year due to the early harvest and consequent time saved. Also a greater amount of after harvest cultivation was done, an important factor in controlling the weed situation.

Pasture crops have seldom been better than this last two months and the milk flow has held up well until the coming of colder nights during the past week.

Local silo owners have had a busy session during the last fortnight, but everything is about cleaned up in this line. Contrary to the dismal outlook early in the year, the corn crop proved almost up to average and most of the silos are full or nearly so. The fine weather, too, gave the silage corn a chance to mature and thus a better quality of ensilage is assured.

With just a few odd jobs of threshing to be done, Burnbrae farmers have the path pretty well cleared for a good month's plowing. If the freeze-up is only delayed until the latter part of November one of the best seasons of fall work will be over for most farmers are away ahead of other years right now.

The dairy market is the bright feature of the farm prospects to-day and with cheese selling over 21 cents and cream hovering around 40 cents, dairy farmers are fairly sure of keeping off the broad road to the poor house. The hog market just now doesn't look as promising but better prices may follow in the wake of a new year. As present there seems to be an oversupply of young pigs and few buyers are appearing.

Taking everything ito consideration the proper maxim seems to be "speed the plough and assure a bumper 1928 crop."

OLDEST HOUSE PLAN.

VIENNA, Oct 11—The oldest house plan in the world, an ancient architect's drawing discovered in Mesopotamia, has been placed on exhibition. About four thousand years old, it shows the ground plan of a large house of 17 rooms. Details are shown in accurate and closely drawn lines.

CELLULOID WINGS.

COCOA, Fla., Oct. 11.—A motorless flying craft with wings covered with celluloid has been built here by George R. White of Stony Brook, L. I. The machine looks like a giant eagle and its wings beat the air like a bird's. It is called an ornithoper and has made short flights successfully.

MAIL DECLARES INDEPENDENCE

Robermere Says Policy of Lord Northcliffe Still Holds.

PREDICTS LABOR WIN.

LONDON Oct. 11 (United Press.—"As in the time of Lord Northcliffe, so it is to-day, neither the Daily Mail nor any of its associated papers are attached to any party or party leader."

Thus Lord Robermere proclaims the independence of his newspapers in his reply to Premier Baldwin's questions as to which side he is on and to Baldwin's attempt to ascertain just what is Robermere's attitude towards Lloyd George. The Laborites, however, are rejoicing in the controversy because Robermere asserts in effect that giving votes to the flappers "makes victory for the Socialists an absolute certainty in the next election."

He adds: "Their victory may be so overwhelming and devastating as to practically destroy the Conservative party and there may not be another Conservative administration for 20 years. With this destruction, Baldwin's name will ever be associated."

It must be said that Tory headquarters laugh at this doleful prediction, saying that the girls between 21 and 25, who will be added to the register, are not going to vote for Labor but will vote the same as others and that is a preponderance in favor of the Tories.

MEIGHEN DEFENDS HAMILTON SPEECH

for the approval of its course and the mandate to carry on."

"If the Conservative government had taken that course," Mr Meighen asked, "who is there who would have said 'it is not British'?" "Who is there who would have declared it was a threat of separation or a hauling down of the flag? Yet this is the language which has been applied to me because I have advocated in future this very course we have taken."

Had No Military Force.

Mr. Meighen declared that his Hamilton speech had been predicated on the four facts he had cited. On the first, Mr. Meighen said that Canada had no military force ready to take the field in a distant war or within many weeks of being ready. We had no honest intention of having such a force, and might as well be frank about it. Assuming these conditions, it followed that so far at least, as time was concerned, there would certainly be abundant opportunity to make an appeal to the nation And surely it was worth while of itself to demonstrate to the people of a British country that their control of that country was real and not merely a sham. What was proposed was not a plebiscite, but an appeal to the people in the British way by a Conservative government in a general election to ratify its course in lending a hand to the empire.

"What I said at Hamilton," he proceeded, "was not that any Conservative Government would invite Canada to separate, but that as soon as we thought it our duty to participate we would invite Canada, the whole of Canada—not to separate, but to seal the bonds again with blood for the sake of our own security and the life of the empire itself.

"If a country under the leadership and impetus of a great party could not be brought to see the need of war then it could not be bludgeoned into a course which it resented, and I tremble for the government that would try."

In the actual event of war, what would almost certainly happen would be this, declared Mr. Meighen: That an opposition would be compelled to join hands at once and unite with the government at the penalty of political extinction. In the presence of that overwhelming demand, an opposition would find it the part, not only of duty, but of wisdom to join hands at once, and there would be an end of politics for the whole war and not for part alone. He had said at Hamilton that if the forces of separation were to succeed, they could succeed only by defeating the massed strength, the last phalanx of the Conservative party. And this was the declaration for which he had been arraigned by rival newspapers as guilty of disloyalty and treason. This was the declaration on account of which he had had to listen to the "gibes of a Lapointe and the silly claquery of a Motherwell."

HASTINGS PEOPLE HAD TRIP TO WEST

Party of Three Enjoys Journey To Rockies and Back.

HASTINGS, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. A. V. German and Miss Jessie Wilcox have just returned from an extended trip through Western Canada. The first part of their journey was by boat through the Great Lakes to Port Arthur, where they boarded the train for Winnipeg and Calgary.

Many interesting events took place during their stay in Calgary, one feature in particular being the annual Calgary stampede, the greatest in the world, which is out of range of the eastern inhabitant. After a stay of some length in Calgary, they, included in a party of nine, motored from Calgary to Banff, en route to the Rocky Mountains. The first stop was at Ghost Ranch, which is appropriately named for the weird scenery surrounding same.

For many miles, before their arrival in Banff, the majestic Rockies could be seen, and The Three Sisters were beautiful against a western summer sky, with their snow-capped peaks and clouded areas. At the Banff tourists' camp, about two thousand persons were enjoying the beauties of nature and the carefree life of the camper. During their period of stay at Banff, many interesting places were visited, such as The Cave In Basin at Sulphur Mountain; Sundance Canyon and Trail; Cascade Canyon; Lake Minewaka, Upper and Lower Sulphur Springs, and Lake Louise. Many of the party climbed the trail to the Lower Victoria Glaciers, where they witnessed a huge snow-slide.

The Indian pow-wow was in progress and the town of Banff was ablaze with the vivid-colored costumes of the early natives of the land.

The beautiful Lake Maraine and The Valley of the Ten Peaks and Emerald Lake were visited.

After breaking up camp at Banff, their journey was resumed through Johnson's Canyon, on to the Great Divide through Yoho Valley and Yoho Park, passing Takakawa Falls, which has a fall of twelve hundred feet. From Yoho Park, the road led to the Field and Golden Highway, which was opened July 1, this season.

At points, the motor road was five and six hundred feet on the mountain side above the railroad and Kicking Horse River. At Golden they found the mosquitoes and flies very thick. It was necessary to have a solution on the hands, face and neck to protect them. The Kicking Horse River and the Columbia River join at Golden.

Passing through Sinclair Canyon, they arrived at the Kootenay Park gates, where they saw large numbers of mountain goats, black bears, and other wild animals.

Their next stop was at Radium Hat Springs, where the water is 110° of heat, and a heavy, dense steams prevails in the air around the bathing pool.

After leaving Radium Hot Springs, the Windermere-Banff highway was reached, which circled back to Banff and Calgary.

Other points of interest visited were Edmonton, Hanna, Wetaskiwin, Saskatoon, and Winnipeg.

During the harvest, many other interesting sights were viewed, entirely new and so different to what the eastern visitors were accustomed, such as cutting, stooking, and field-threshing the vast fields of wheat, for which Western Canada is far-famed.
